NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—A dispatch from Kingston, Jamaica, represents that another revolution is brewing in Hayti; that the financial condition of the republic is unsatisfactory and that the exports show an alarming decrease of trade, owing partly to the decrease of production during the recent warfare. Coolies are to be imported to cultivate neglected plantations.

Comte de Paris Leaves for Philadelphia.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The Comte de Paris and party left for Philadelphia via the Philadelphia railroad on the Washington limited express at 10 o'clock this morning. They rode in a special car and were escorted by Colonel J. P. Nicholson and a committee from the Philadelphia Loyal Legion. There will be a stop at Trenton to visit General McClellan's tomb. In Philadelphia there is to be a reception by the Mayor and city officials at 3 o'clock. Afterward there will be a luncheon with George W. Childs at his country seat, Wootten, and in the evening a great reception, arranged by the Philadelphia Commandery of the Loyal Legion.

A Big Strike On the Erie Probable.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—There were many rumors in circulation yesterday in Jersey City that the Federated engineers, firemen, conductors and train hands on the New York, Lake Erie & Western Railroad intended to go on strike today. Careful inquiry, however, proved that no strike will occur so long as the committee is in treaty with the officers of the road in relation to the new schedule. Should the road refuse its demands of the men a strike is not unlikely.

The Democrats of the First Union County (N. Y.) School Commissioners' District, nominated Miss Laura Mayhew as their candidate for commissioner. She is 23 years old.

Forty thousand dollars' worth of property has been destroyed by prairie fire in the town of Lawrence, Grant County, Minn. Thousands of acres of wheat have also been devastated.

The accounts of Postmaster A. G. McGregor, of Baton Rouge, La., who resigned on the 2d inst., and disappeared, have been found correct. John O'Connor has been appointed in his stead.

Cattle Killed by Elks.

A ranchman living on the Satsop, Col., missed three head of cattle, and noticing a congregation of buzzards a short distance away proceeded to make an investigation and found all three of the animals lying dead, their bones all broken, their horns knocked off, scarcely any hair left on them, and the ground around them all torn up with elk tracks. Apparently a band of elk had come up and attacked them in an opening, hooked and butted them down, and pawed and stamped them to death.

A Tree That Owns Land.

There is a tree at Athens, Ga., which is a property holder. In the early part of the century the land on which it stands was owned by Colonel W. H. Jackson, who took great delight in watching its growth and enjoying its shade. In his old age the tree had reached magnificent proportions, and the thought of its being destroyed by those who would come after him was so repugnant that he recorded a deed conveying to it all land within a radius of eight feet of it.

Catarrh

Is a blood disease. Until the poison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for this loathsome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better. Delay is dangerous.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physicians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me of this troublesome complaint and completely restored my health."—Jesse M. Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

"When Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was almost discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and referred me to persons whom it had cured of catarrh. After taking half a dozen bottles of this medicine, I am convinced that the only sure way of treating this obstinate disease is through the blood."—Charles H. Maloney, 113 River st., Lowell, Mass.

GOLDEN WINS AN EXTRA TEN.

After Eight Innings With Twelve Hits and not an Error, the Crescents Flounder in the Bisque.

When the Crescents had finished their ninth inning at the bat, Saturday, the score stood 6 to 1 in their favor and they had a record of 12 safe hits with a total of 18 bases. They had not made an error and Doran had held the West Ends down to one little hit in eight innings. Then occurred a most unprecedented concatenation of circumstances that, combined with the tactics of umpire Golden, who was possibly inspired by a promise of ten dollars from Manager Mack of the West Ends, tied the score.

Already during the game the bias of the umpire was apparent to the experts. His name was Golden but his decisions as to balls and strikes were as tinkling brass. In the fourth inning Doran repeated his feat of the previous game by striking out George Gore, but Golden would not call the big professional out again. Harkins was also struck out but permitted to live and boasted of it. In spite of this sort of a deal, however, the Crescents held the West Ends down, and but four of the visitors reached first base in eight innings.

But in the ninth the Crescents' young infield could not stand the strain against the picked professionals. Gil Hatfield, the New York League team's noted infield player, went to the bat first. The three-thousand-dollar short stop hit a little one to the ten-dollar short stop, and Martin failed to handle it in his usual style. He was on his tip toes, and really did not know just where he was for a moment or two. Meanwhile Hatfield had reached first, and went to second on a passed ball. Gore, also of the New York league, followed and duplicated his hit of the previous game by a two-bagger over third base. Hatfield came home on the hit, and Gore subsequently went to third on another unfortunate slip of Chick Hofford's, who had been playing a phenomenal game up to this closing inning. Bowes was struck out, but was followed by Farrell, who was given his first on what Golden called four balls. Harkins was also struck out but the umpire would not allow it, and compelled Doran to put one where the batter could safely hit it. He did and another run came in. Williams was also given his first on balls by Golden, but Kennedy of Cobbleskill would not wait and fanned himself out in a ridiculous way that caused the grand stand to laugh although its Plainfield occupants were beginning to feel rather anxious. There were two out, and Bergen knocked to Lee, but the latter failed to accept the chance, and another run was scored. A pop-fly that dropped in right field too far out for Lufbery and too far in for Hatfield, was Carby's contribution to his country. It let in Williams with the run that tied the score, and as soon as he recovered his breath he went over to first base and shook the arm that did it.

The excitement was now intense. The score was 6 to 6. Bergen and Carbonell were on the bases, and Gil Hatfield was again at the bat. The crowd stood up and pressed against the ropes. Golden saw at his right and left, and behind him, a sea of faces that he naturally supposed largely represented the home team's friends. He made up his mind then and there that he had fully earned his money, and wished he was far, far away. The first ball pitched met Hatfield's bat fair and square, and out of reach of the infield. Bergen started for the home plate with the winning run, and made a bold slide. He passed Hofford before the latter got the ball that O'Rourke threw in. But Hofford turned quickly when he did get it, and touched Bergen as he was feeling with hands and feet for the plate. Five hundred men swarmed into the diamond in an instant, and Golden's decision could not be heard by the other five hundred who kept their seats. He looked at the crowd, remembered he was in Plainfield, said the man was out, and fled.

But he refused to continue the game. He said it was impossible to get the crowd off the field; and then, when he was told that the diamond could be cleared in a few minutes, said that he was afraid to go back. Meanwhile there was all sorts of scrapping and tongue lashing going on amid the crowd, but the only arrest was of a young Somervillian who interfered because the officers sought to take in his over-excitable father. He was subsequently fined five dollars. Golden then asked Manager Leggett for Manager Mack. Mr. Leggett said that he would pay him whatever was the price agreed upon, and it was not necessary to find Mr. Mack. Golden then told Mr. Leggett and Mr. Burnet that "Mr. Mack promised to pay me ten dollars out of his own pocket."

Possibly that is one reason the Crescents lost. Another reason is the costly infield errors, and another possibly that Doran breaks badly when he does break. His ninth inning Saturday was almost a fac simile of the eighth of the game before when the West Ends snatched victory from defeat in the same way. Then the record was two singles, a two-bagger and a base on balls. Saturday it was two bases on balls, three singles and a two-bagger.

The Crescents, as usual, with the exception of the unlucky inning, out played and out batted their opponents. Harkins was hammered at will, and was only left in the box because the West Ends saw no chance of saving the game and wanted to save from disgrace the pitcher who had won so many battles for them. Hofford was great, and Lally a wonder. His hit that struck the house beyond the centre field fence won him a box of cigars from Tom Keller. Lufbery never made a break, and set an example for them all. His playing, and Farrell's, was way out of Gil Hatfield's sight. The latter made two of the worst errors of the game. O'Rourke did great work with the stick, and his throw-in in the ninth inning saved the game.

Thus closed this season's games with Somerville. The tie will not be played.

GETTING READY FOR MR. MILLS.

Fervent Zeal Will Not Be Lacking When the Famous Evangelist Begins His Plainfield Work.

A great deal of interest is already manifested over the coming of the Rev. B. Fay Mills, who will begin his great revival work in Plainfield November 3. Preliminary arrangements are rapidly being consummated. The pastors of the various churches met with the laymen in the Young Men's Christian Association rooms Saturday evening, when a General Committee to take charge of the work of conducting the services was organized with the Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes as Chairman and the Rev. Asa Reed Dilts as Secretary. The following were appointed from among the members of the General Committee as an Executive Committee:

Pastors—The Rev. Dr. Yerkes, the Rev. Mr. Dilts, the Rev. Dr. K. P. Ketcham, the Rev. C. S. Mitchell, the Rev. Mr. Newell, the Rev. C. L. Goodrich, the Rev. W. R. Richards.

Laymen—E. E. St. John, J. W. Jackson, E. C. Pease, J. D. Spicer, A. L. Force.

A Nominating Committee—consisting of the Rev. Dr. Ketcham, the Rev. Mr. Goodrich, the Rev. Mr. Schenck, the Rev. Mr. Mitchell and Messrs O. B. Leonard and J. D. Spicer—was appointed to nominate Committees on Finance, Advertising, Canvassing, Music, Ushers and Devotional Services. They will report their nominations for confirmation at a meeting of the Executive and General Committees Saturday night.

The various evangelistic services to be conducted by Mr. Mills will be held, at different afternoons and evenings, in two or three different churches, including probably the First Baptist and the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian.

CALIFORNIA ON WHEELS.

A Tropical Traveling Fair Free to the Plainfield People.

"California on Wheels," the free exhibition fruit fair of the California State Board of Trade, in an elegant vestibuled train of three Southern Pacific parlor coaches, now visiting the principal cities of the United States, will arrive in Plainfield to-morrow morning at 8:20 o'clock and will halt at the central station, where it will be open free to the public from 8:30 A. M. to 8 P. M., that day only.

Gavin D. High, the press correspondent, said this morning to a PRESS reporter, in explaining the nature of the exhibition, that the cars included a display of all the interesting natural and manufactured products of the golden State, from a peanut to a baby ostrich, but the main object was to widen a market for all of those semi-tropical fruits which New Jersey did not attempt to grow. These fruits—the orange, lemon, date, banana and olive—have hitherto been imported from Southern Europe, Mexico or the South Sea Isles, but are now being grown luxuriantly and abundantly in California, and the State Board of Trade has devised the roving free fair to let the people know that fact. There will be nothing for sale at the cars, and as there are no catchpenny attachments visitors will not be allowed to spend any money even if they wish to do so. The train has thus far been visited by an average of 8,000 ladies and gentlemen a day.

Chautauquans Have a Merry Time.

The members of the New Market Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle entertained a number of friends in the lecture room of the Seventh Day Baptist church at New Market Thursday evening The Rev. Mr. Livermore explained the method of study employed, and specimen questions giving an idea as to the nature of the work were propounded. Miss Mary Titsworth won a prize in a spelling match in which members of the Circle participated. A trio and a quartette were sung, and at the close of the literary exercises Mrs. Jarley introduced one of her far-famed collections of wax-works, causing an abundance of fun. Altogether a most enjoyable evening was spent.

HYSTERICAL INVENTIONS.

A Wonderful Sweeping Machine and an Automatic Rocking Chair.

A genius with a profound thought-mill has taken up the subject of dusting and sweeping by means of suction draughts. He has a perambulating machine which, by means of fans and hydraulic pressure, gets a draught through a spiral hose with a nozzle shaped at its terminus like the trouble end of a trombone. He starts up a grand racket on the carpet till the dust flies, then turns on this blizzard machine and a condensed cyclone is immediately precipitated. He moves his hose end round like the snout of a Jersey hog, and wherever the cloud of dust arises the suction of his mechanism draws it, and it immediately goes "up the spout," so to speak. The idea is all right; the only difficulty which stands in the way is the possibility of his getting too big a draught on and shooting in stray leaves from the family textbook, odd socks or sister's bangs.

This idea, which is chronicled as an invention in the Patent Office at Washington, is on a par with the rocking chair which came out eight months ago, says the Pittsburgh Dispatch. The inventor arranged under the rockers a pair of bellows attached to a series of pipes running up the chair back to about where your neck would rest. As you rocked the chair the bellows worked and you were given hysterical breezes. It worked all right for the man who could stand shower baths, but it cost one furniture dealer I know of three good customers by neuralgia, pneumonia and croup. In another case the customer tried it and had to run a block to catch his wig. It's a good idea, though, but, like all those things, you have to get some one to think so. As for myself, I think the sweeping machine would be better employed shooting coal into a cellar, and the man with the bellows-rocker would make a fortune if he worked it up around the eaves of a roof and blew the snow into the next county instead of down the back of the neighbor who always gets under the roof at the wrong time.

EXPELLING A FROG.

How a French Duchess Was Cured of a Painful Hallucination.

The Duchess of Trois-Etoiles, one of the most aristocratic ladies of the Faubourg St. Germain, says Racket, had got possessed of the idea that she had swallowed a frog. She felt this frog—she declared she had—and its presence robbed her of her peace of mind, sleep and even of health. The Parisian physicians had the rudeness to deny the existence of this animal, ignorant, as they were, but the poor lady suffered martyrdom. A fortunate chance made her acquainted with Dr. Cabarus, a brother-in-law of De Lesseps, and to him she told her tale of woe. He felt, with a seriousness worthy of Hippocrates himself, the pulse of the fair patient, inquired after various symptoms, and when the charming aristocrat had exhausted all her store of arguments to prove her pet delusion, the youthful doctor said, after a well-feigned pause: "Madame, the frog is there, but I will remove it." He then prescribed an innocent emetic, and went to the nearest flower-shop, where he bought a small, green frog. Armed with this confederate, he presented himself once more before the Duchess, and placed a basin of water in readiness. The emetic began to take effect, the Duchess' eyes filled with tears, and the doctor took advantage of the opportunity to slip the green frog into the basin. On seeing the frog, a load was removed from the Duchess' heart. The next instant, she turned pale, and, as Dr. Cabarns supported her tottering frame, she cried, in a despairing tone: "Oh, doctor, I am not cured, for the frog has left a little one behind." "Stop!" cried Cabarus, without allowing a trace of embarrassment to be seen in his manner; "that we shall soon see." He then threw a searching glance upon the frog, which he had by this time taken in his hand, and uttered, with a certainty that settled the whole question, these words: "Madame, that is an impossibility, for the frog is a male."

THAT SPOILED IT.

How a Clergyman, Instead of Curing an Evil, Augmented It.

An eccentric clergyman in Cornwall, says London Pick-me-up, had been much annoyed by a way his congregation had got into of looking round to take stock of late comers. After enduring the annoyance for some time, he said, on entering the reading-desk one day:

"Brethren, I regret to see that your attention is called away from your religious duties by your very natural desire to see who comes in behind you. I propose, henceforth, to save you the trouble by naming each person who may enter, and I hope that the services will then be allowed to proceed without interruption."

He then began: "Dearly Beloved," but paused half-way to interpolate: "Farmer Stubbins with his wife and daughter." Farmer Stubbins looked rather surprised, but the minister with perfect gravity resumed his exhortation. Presently he again paused: "Sam Curtis and William Diggle." The abashed congregation kept their eyes studiously bent on their books. The service proceeded in the most orderly manner, the parson interrupting himself every now and then to name some new comer. At last he said, still with the same perfect gravity: "Mrs. Symonds, of the Red Lion, in a new bonnet."

In a moment he felt his mistake, but it was too late. Every feminine head in the congregation had turned round to look at the new bonnet.

The Term "Pin-Money."

The term "pin money" thus originated: "Long after the invention of pins in the fourteenth century, the maker was allowed to sell them in open shop only on the first and second of January. It was then that the court ladies and city dames flocked to the depots to buy them, having been first provided with pin-money by their husbands. When the pins became cheap and common the ladies spent their allowances on other fancies, but the term pin-money remained in vogue."

THE COUNTRY GROCERY.

What Is Usually Kept in Stock in One of These Establishments.

How surprisingly one country grocery "store" resembles another. It is as if they were all intentionally modeled after a given pattern. Dry goods, chiefly calicoes, for rural dames and damsels, always occupy the shelves on the left; crockery, tinware and barreled goods in the rear; miscellaneous foods and other articles on the shelves to the right, and near the door a glass-covered case full of "notions" of all sorts. The variety of wants supplied by such a "store" is simply marvelous. A representative of the Washington Star happened into one the other day in a village down the river, and, while negotiating for some paper and envelopes, pen, ink and postage stamps, amused himself with taking note of some of the things offered for sale.

The "notion" case alone was a small museum. Among other articles in it were tooth-brushes, cologne, carpenters' pencils, back hair combs, thimbles, sleeve-buttons, watch keys, bay rum, spectacles, shirt studs, rubber nipples for babies' bottles, crochet needles, pocket mirrors, scissors and violin strings. Also, in the same case were banjo strings, fishing tackle, knives, babies' rubber rings, jew's-harps, mouth organs, tooth-powders, violin rosin, ginger cakes, prize packages containing candy and jewelry, tin horns and a few yards of lace.

On the other shelves behind were shirts, collars and cuffs and neckties; also straw and other hats, many boxes full of shoes, blacking and brushes. Beyond the shelves full of calicoes were crockery, brass ware, tin ware, twine for making seines, lamp-shades and chimneys, glass ware, canvas for sails, lamps, coffee, grinders, carpenters' tools, molasses, vinegar and liquors, padlocks, popcorn, boxes of roasted peanuts, paints and oils, toothpicks and ice skates. Around on the other side were patent medicines, chewing tobacco, cigars, powder and shot, wash-tubs and boards, soap, bluing, school crayons, slates and books. All sorts of canned goods, preserves and pickles were in stock; also sauces, confectionery, clocks, castor oil, honey, cough drops, mustard plasters, porous plasters, glue, nails, rope and pills. There was even a supply of ready-made clothing, likewise salt meats and rat poison.

This will give a slight notion of the stock of a typical country grocery. Such an establishment must have every thing that anybody can by any possibility want, and much of the stuff it deals in lies on the shelves for years before the right customer comes along.

SHE MADE HIM NAUGHTY.

Made Him Think About Kissing Girls, and Then He Kissed Her.

They met by chance in the berry field, this bashful boy and laughing girl, says a writer in the New York Mercury. Her eyes were as black as the berries in her basket, and as brilliant as those of the cat-birds chattering in the tree above her head. Her full, red, pouting lips seemed made expressly for kisses. The boy's basket was full, and he kindly volunteered to help the bewitching little maid fill hers. Often while plucking the melting fruit from some glorious clusters her curls brushed his cheeks, but still it always seemed to be purely accidental. The little maid, too, seemed anxious to work on the same clusters on which the boy was engaged, and her sweet, young face was often temptingly near his own, as from time to time she turned to address him. At last her lips pouted, her eyes flashed and she almost succeeded in coaxing her sweet brow to wrinkle indignantly. "Don't you think," said she, "that the other day, when I was out here all alone with a certain boy of my acquaintance, just as I am with you to-day, the naughty little fellow up and kissed me. He just caught me this way," and her lips nearly touched those of the boy by her side as she endeavored to show him how it had been done. For a moment it seemed as if he would have to be as naughty as that other boy, but his bashfulness saved him. Still pouting, the little maid then placed her dimpled hands upon his shoulders, and, looking archly into his eyes, she said: "You are a dear good boy, ain't you, and you wouldn't be naughty and treat me the way that other boy did, would you?" Then the poor boy seemed to lose his head, and fifteen seconds later the little black-eyed maid was talking in this strain: "Oh, please let me go! You are smothering me with kisses, and I really believe that you are more naughty than that other boy, after all." Attached to this story there is no moral. It has been so from the beginning.

Had Faith in the Court.

One of the oldest and best practitioners at the Erie County (N. Y.) bar was arguing a case the other day, and was depending more upon his own sound logic than upon authorities for success. At a critical juncture the judge interrupted the speaker with this inquiry: "Yes; I understand; but where are your authorities upon the subject?" "If your honor please," retorted he, briskly, "I will explain the absence of authorities, with your permission, by telling a little story: A young man freshly admitted to practice had produced in court in support of a motion a wealth of authorities. After allowing the young man to read page upon page of dry decisions the judge at length interrupted, wearily: 'You are just beginning in practice,' said he; 'let me give you some advice. It does very well to cite authorities once in awhile, but you must always trust somewhat to the common sense of the court.'" It was a bold position to take, but it won him his case.

A Vegetable Chameleon.

An exploring party surveying the Isthmus of Tehuantepec reports the discovery of a flower that changes its color with the hours of the day. In the morning it is grayish white, at noon red, and towards sunset purplish or grayish-blue. Certain varieties of Ipomœa (morning-glory, etc.), according to Prof. Hermes, show a similar peculiarity, though in a less pronounced degree, at the time of the first opening of their flower-chalice.

HOW YOU MUST VOTE.

Condensation of New Jersey's New Ballot Law.

THE PROVISIONS AND PENALTIES.

How Nominations Must Be Made—The Printing and Obtaining of the Ballots. Casting the Ballot—How Secrecy Is Provided For.

According to the provisions of the New Jersey ballot reform law, passed at the last session of the legislature, the person of legal age who would exercise the rights of suffrage at any future elections must first see that his name and address is properly entered upon the registry books of the election district in which he resides not later than the Tuesday next preceding the day of election. The board of registry must first meet and organize on the Tuesday four weeks next preceding the annual election, and within the week terminating on the following Saturday the board must make by canvass or otherwise a complete list of all legal voters in said district. This list must be posted in handbill form in at least two conspicuous places in the election district, where it may be scrutinized by all. Final corrections will be made on the Tuesday preceding the day of election, and the revised registry list must be filed with the clerk of the city or township not later than the Thursday following.

PREPARING THE BALLOT.

The county clerks must publish in not more than six papers in each county, divided as equally as possible as to politics, for at least two weeks preceding the meetings of the registry board, a notice setting forth the days and hours of said meeting for each election district in the state. Personal presence on the part of the voter is not necessary. Affidavits from any voter in the district, duly setting forth the fact as to any other voter's rights to registration, whose name has not already been entered, are sufficient. Any person who shall register falsely, or procure a name to be registered falsely, may be imprisoned five years and fined $1,000.

Candidates for office must either be nominated at some convention of voters representing a political party which at the preceding general election polled at least 5 per cent. of the total vote cast in the state, or by a "petition" of legally qualified voters signed by at least 1 per cent. of the entire vote cast at the last preceding election for members of the general assembly in the state, county, district or other division in which the nominations are made. All certificates and petitions nominating candidates for state offices must be filed with the secretary of state forty days previous to election. General assembly and county candidates must file their certificates of nomination with the clerk of the county in which they are to be voted for twenty days prior to election. Other certificates of nominations must be filed with the clerks of the respective municipalities fifteen days prior to election.

All ballots are to be printed at public expense, and are to be provided by the clerk of the county if for county or state offices, and if otherwise by the municipal clerk. The nominations of each party or group of petitioners shall be printed on separate tickets, underneath the title or name of the party, on plain white paper of uniform size, quality, thickness and type, and on the back of each ballot shall be printed the words, "Official Ballot for ——" (designating in the blank the election district for which the ballot is prepared), the date of the election and a facsimile of the signature of the county or municipal clerk. Two hundred and fifty ballots shall be supplied for every fifty votes cast by such party at the preceding election for members of the general assembly.

In case of nominations by any party or petitioners that cast no votes at the preceding election, the number of ballots to be provided at public expense shall be equal to one-half the total vote cast in the election district or precinct at the last preceding election for general assembly.

The same clerks are required to provide for each election district a quantity of what are called "official envelopes," equal in number to double the number of votes cast in said districts at the preceding general election. These envelopes must be of a uniform quality of plain white paper, 3½ inches in length by 2 inches in width, with ungummed flaps. On the back of each envelope shall be printed the words, "Official Envelope for ——" (designating number of district), with date of election and fac-simile of the clerk's signature.

RECEIVING THE VOTE.

The law further provides that at each of the polling places booths or compartments, one for not less than seventy-five votes cast at the preceding election, shall be provided, in which voters may, if they so desire, procure and prepare their ballots secretly and screened from the observation of others. The door, when closed, must be so arranged as to show some part of the person standing in the booth, and the compartments must stand within a railed inclosure, to which no outsiders are admitted except the voters in the exercise of their privileges, and the officers conducting the election. The ballot boxes must be so situated that the voter may deliver his ballot to the election officer before leaving the railed inclosure. The general arrangement of the polling place must be substantially in accordance with the following diagram, which forms a part of the law:

The chairman of the county committee or the municipal committee of any political party having candidates for public office to be voted for may appoint two agents for each polling place, who shall act as challengers for their parties. Candidates nominated by petition, who may have no party organization, are also entitled to appoint two agents to represent them at each polling place. These agents are not permitted within the voting enclosure, except when a person is challenged and when the vote is being counted. They may, however, remain at all times within the polling room, together with the candidates of the various parties and the officers present to preserve order.

No electioneering shall be permitted within any polling place, and none publicly within 100 feet of the same. The voter, as he enters the railed inclosure, will be furnished by a member of the election board, stationed in close proximity, with one of the official envelopes, and he shall also be provided with at least one of the official ballots of each party. These ballots he may have secured before entering or he may find them in the booths. Having the ballots and the official envelope he must enter one of the compartments, close the door, and remain there a sufficient time (not exceeding five minutes) to inclose the ballot he desires to vote in the official envelope. He must make no mark or designating device upon the ballot or envelope, and on emerging from the booth he must hand this envelope to a member of the election board, who must deposit the same in the ballot box in presence of the voter.

Any voter who declares under oath, and establishes to the satisfaction of a majority of the election board, that by reason of any physical disability he is unable to prepare his own ballot, may take a friend, whom he may select, to the booth, whose duty it shall be to assist the voter in preparing his ballot.

Should the voter in any manner spoil his first official envelope he can obtain a second one, but no more. While the law provides that any voter can purchase of the county or municipal clerk as many official ballots as he can pay for, and the same may be distributed before election day, the official envelopes are confined exclusively to the polling room. In counting the vote the envelope containing the ballots shall be opened, the ballot removed, the names on the ballot counted and recorded, and the ballot must then, before another envelope is opened, be returned to the original envelope, and ballot and envelope shall be numbered and strung, as under the old law. If any envelope shall be found to contain more than one ballot the ballots shall be returned to the envelope, and on it written the words, "Rejected Ballots," and such envelope and ballots shall be strung on the string of rejected ballots. If any designating mark, sign or device shall appear upon either the official envelope or the official ballot such ballot shall be absolutely void, and shall not be counted for any candidate.

The law is fortified with severe penalties for a violation of any of the provisions of the act. For destroying or suppressing certificates of nominations or petitions a person may be imprisoned five years. For destroying ballots in the election booths or stealing the same a person may be fined $500 and imprisoned until the fine is paid. Any officer, under the act, who in any manner violates his duty, may be imprisoned three years. The printer who supplies the ballots, who shall misspell a name purposely or arrange the ticket except as specified under the law, may be fined $1,000 and imprisoned five years.

Any person who may mark any official ballot or envelope by any designation whereby any person may determine how any voter has voted may be fined $500 and imprisoned one year. Any member of any election board, or any clerk of the same, having any knowledge as to how a person votes, who shall reveal such knowledge to any other person, may be fined $2,000 or imprisoned five years. Any person who shall directly or indirectly offer money or any other consideration to a voter to vote or refrain from voting or registering may be fined $2,000 and imprisoned five years.

Promises of office or employment are considered just as bad, and the punishment is the same. Any person who shall contribute money to be expended in bribing voters may be called upon to pay a fine of $2,000 or spend ten years in prison. The man who shall accept any consideration for voting or refraining to vote may have to pay a fine of $1,000 or go to jail for one year. Any employers or corporation who may attempt to intimidate their workmen, directly or indirectly, can be called upon when convicted to pay a fine of $2,000 and spend five years in prison. Any person who shall do any electioneering on election day within 100 feet of any polling place, or a person who shall show his ballot after it is prepared for voting to any person in such a way as to reveal its contents, or any voter who shall offer to vote anything but an official ballot in an official envelope, lays himself liable to a fine of $25 for each and every offense.

In addition to these numerous and severe penalties the law finally provides that the court may disfranchise and disqualify to hold any office within the state for such length of time as it may deem proper any person convicted of any of the offenses mentioned.

A NEBRASKA HEROINE.

How a Woman with Nerve Governed a Western Community.

"Talk about leetle women," said the man on the cracker box, who was entertaining the insurance agent and a tree traveler, "there ain't nothin' under the sun a leetle woman can't do if she sets out tew. She jest takes hold and does by stratagee what a big woman does by main strength and awkwardness. Ain't it so, Sleepy Sam?"

The reservation Indian designated grunted "ugh!" although he did not understand a word that was said, writes Mrs. M. L. Rayne, the recorder of this anecdote, in the Detroit Free Press.

"It 'minds me of a incident which happened when I was the postmaster an' 'spress agent at this here place. Omaha warn't much more than a village, an' its main curiosity was a floatin' bridge in them days. There was a valise come in by 'spress with no kind of direction on it. Now I'd just had a queer 'sperience with a trunk that got left here, no name or nothin', but a young woman come in for it, an' I sed, sez I: 'Dentify it, my dear: if it is yours, while I open it.'

"'I will,' says she; 'there's a dozen eggs in I'm takin' to my aunt to make a omelet.'

"'Take it, my dear,' says I; 'it's yours, an' your aunt's omelet is made, but I guess the rest of your things ain't improved any.'

"Gentlemen, when I hefted the valise it was as heavy as lead."

"Dynamite?" suggested the traveler, gently.

"Bricks?" inquired the insurance man.

"Way off. I felt it incumulent on me as a Government officer to open that valise and find out what was in it, and I was getting ready tew hunt a key, when right then in walked two women. One of them was the Widow Snell, a poor washed-out, weeping woman, that always aggravated me to death a sniffin' over her dear departed Jim, the meanest and most cantankerous human this side of the Rockies. The other was a little mite of a dandified woman. I could hev' lifted her with one hand, an' her head was hardly above the counter.

"'Cap'n,' says she—yes, I fit in the war—'Cap'n, is there a valise here for me?'

"'Ain't but one valise here, ma'am, an' that ain't for you,' says I.

"'How do you know?' says she, as pert as you please. 'I'll thank you to let me see it.'

"I lifted it up and banged it on the counter.

"'Be careful,' says she, 'it might go off;' then she took a key off a ribbon at her neck and handed it to me.

"'Unlock it,' says she.

"The way she ordered me round made my head swim. Sure enough, the key unlocked it slick as a whistle.

"'You'll please tell me what's in this here valise, ma'am,' says I, in my official voice.

"'Oh yes,' says she, gettin' up on tiptoe. "there's a navy revolver, an' a seven-shooter, and an English bulldog that only holds one bullet, but shoots to kill and—'

"'These they are, ma'am, an' they're yours,' says I; 'I don't dispute your word in the least and will be much obliged if you'll just take the hull arsenal off my hands.'

"She stuck the revolvers in her belt and carried the bulldog in her hand.

"'Come, Alice,' says she, 'we'll go home now,' and she walked out and walked out past all them reserve Injuns without a look at 'em, the widow following as meek as Moses."

"What was she doing here?" asked the insurance man.

"Gentlemen, she were a visitin' her cousin, that poor, sighin', cryin' widow. It were the year thet the Bad Axe Injuns was sent up here to our reservation to make life a burden to us, till that leetle woman come up here loaded for bear. That cousin of hers didn't have gumption enough to keep them from stealing the roof from over her head. An' one night gentlemen, the little woman heard a step outside her window, and saw an Injun taking off the widow's best horse, an' she jest opens the door and steps out, an' says she: 'Stop in your tracks or you're a dead Injun,' and she held the cold muzzle of the pistol to his head. He did'nt wait for no parleyin', but just evaporated to onct.

"The Injuns liked her mightily for her pluck, an' one day as she sot on the fence drawin' pictures of the bluffs, an' the tepees, along rid a Injun and stopped to admire her. He didn't have much on but a blanket, an' was dirty and sassy, an' he fanned himself with a turkey-tail fan. Says he:

"'Got man?'

"'Yes—Chicago—git,' says she. She kinder played with the shooter in her left an' he got, an' I reckon that was the shortest courtship on record.

"That little woman stayed there till she coaxed the widow to swap the farm for town lots, and sell off all the stuff, and put the money in the bank, and she made her stop cryin' an' sniffin' over that pesky Jim Snell, an' brace up an' be somebody. When she got things a boomin' and the Injuns tamed down into decent members of sassiety she packed up her firearms and went home to Chicago an' then the funniest thing of all came out, for the widow told on her. There weren't one of them firearms loaded. She had just bulldozed the hull lot of us with empty revolvers. Fact, gentlemen, have some pop? The law forbids any thing stronger."

When everybody had popped the tree traveler asked carelessly:

"What became of the widow?"

"Married her myself," said the man on the cracker-box, rising slowly; "anybody got any thing to say in favor or against?"

Nobody had.

Freaks of Electric Wire.

A tree in Nashville caught fire from an electric wire. One limb was burned entirely off. A policeman threw water on the burning limb with a hose, and when the water struck the fire he experienced a severe electric shock.

Knows All About It Now.

"I never realized what was meant by fingers of scorn," said a young Washington man, "until I proposed to a deaf mute and was rejected."

GEN. RAUM'S REPORT

Operations of the Pension Bureau for the Past Year.

SOME INTERESTING FIGURES.

Over Five Hundred Thousand Pensioners Borne Upon the Rolls

The Average Annual Value of Each Pension $133.94—66,337 Original Claims Allowed During the Year—Condition of the Bureau When the Present Commissioner Took Charge.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The annual report of Green B. Raum, Commissioner of Pensions, for the fiscal year ended June 30 past, and including the first quarter of the current fiscal year of the operations of his bureau, has been submitted to the Secretary of the Interior. It shows that at the end of the fiscal year there were 537,944 pensioners borne upon the rolls.

There were 66,337 original claims allowed during the year, being 14,716 more than were allowed in 1889. The amount of the first payment of these claims aggregated $32,478,831, being $11,036,492 more than in the previous fiscal year, and $10,179,225 more than the first payments of the fiscal year 1888.

The average annual value of each pension at the close of the year was $133.94.

Commissioner Raum says that upon taking charge of the Pension Office last October, he discovered that a number of important changes were necessary to secure satisfactory results, which were brought to the attention of the Secretary of the Interior.

There were no satisfactory specified duties provided for the deputy commissioner or the chief clerk of the Bureau. Several thousand letters were daily received from claimants and attorneys making complaints to which no reply was made; the medical division was divided into sections for consideration of classified diseases, the power of reopening claims was exercised by heads of divisions and examiners without submitting them to the commissioner; claims were drawn from the files, from day to day, for adjudication at the discretion of the file clerks, claimants having no power to cause the settlement of their claims when complete; eighteen per cent. of the official force was assigned to duty in the field for the special examination of cases when there were 14,335 cases in the special examination division; a division had been created called the Board of Re-review, composed of about 40 persons for the re-examination of cases passed upon by the Board of Review; and matters relating to the appointment and promotion of the official force of the Pension Office and of Boards of Medical Examiners were under the direction of two divisions.

The report contains all the orders in regard to these defects in administration, and the manner in which they were remedied.

The Commissioner devoted considerable space to discussing and explaining the present system of drawing cases from the files for adjudication, and says that under the system of the completed files, the claimant has a right, upon proper certification that his claim is complete, to have it immediately placed upon the "completed files" and taken up in its order for adjudication. Claims placed upon the "completed files" are taken up within a week for action, and if found complete are immediately allowed.

$20,000 for Stealing a Wife's Husband.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Mrs. Ada Richardson has obtained a verdict before a sheriff's jury for $20,000, for the alienation of her husband's affections. Her husband is David C. Richardson, to whom she was married in 1874. The couple lived together until 1881 when he began to neglect her for Mrs. Ella T. Burt, wife of George A. Burt. Mrs. Richardson brought suit against Mrs. Burt for $25,000, with the result stated. Both women have cattle ranches in Texas and are supposed to be there now. Mr. Burt is understood to have business in Pennsylvania.

Report of the Governor of New Mexico.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The annual report of Gov. Prince, of New Mexico, has been submitted to the Secretary of the Interior. He says that the titles to the Spanish-American land grants in the territory have been finally settled. He estimates the population of the territory at from 180,000 to 185,000; although the census returns for 1890 show but 153,076. The total output of metals last year is closely estimated as follows: Gold, $1,136,320; silver, $1,891,105; lead, $354,839; copper, $64,620; total product, $4,023,884. An earnest plea for statehood is made.

Chinamen Captured Trying to Steal In.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The Collector of Customs at Port Towansend, Wash., reports to the Treasury Department under the date of Sept. 26, that Inspector Jackling on Sept. 24 captured a sloop with 20 Chinamen aboard, bound from British Columbia to a landing in that State. Two men in charge of the vessel ran her ashore near Port Haddock and escaped. The Chinamen were captured and imprisoned at McNeil's Island, awaiting extradition.

Census Figures.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The census Office announce the population of Michigan to be 2,089,792, an increase since 1880 of 452,875. The total population of Indiana as announced is 2,189,030, an increase since 1880 of 210,729. The population of Albuquerque, New Mexico, is 6,058, increase during the past decade, 3,743.

DAY ON TRIAL.

His Case Called This Morning at Welland, Ont.

WELLAND, Ont., Oct. 7.—The grand jury having returned a ture bill last night against Arthur Hoyt Day for the murder of his wife, Desire Day, the prisoner was arraigned at once and pleaded not guilty.

He was then asked if he was ready for trial and he answered in the affirmative, the case was set down for today, and at 9:30 this morning the case was opened and is now in progress.

Mrs. Day No. 2 arrived yesterday to give evidence as to the second marriage. She came to court when the case was called.

Detective Rogers of the Provincial staff, and detectives Hayden and Furtherer of Rochester, are all here assisting Chief Young in connecting the links in the chain of evidence for the Crown.

The case will be concluded to-night.

THE BALTIMORE'S COMMANDER.

Captain Schley Notifies the Navy Department of His Stay at Stockholm.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Captain Schley, Commander of the United States steamer Baltimore, in a letter to the navy department, dated Stockholm, Sweden, Sept. 21, announces his arrival at that port with the remains of the inventor Ericsson.

The remains were received and honored with the most imposing consideration by his Government.

On Sept. 18, King Oscar of Sweden, his Secretary of State and staff officers paid a visit to the Baltimore, and were received with all the honors due His Majesty prescribed by the naval regulations. King Oscar expressed himself as highly pleased with his visit and desired Captain Schley to send his congratulations to President Harrison on having such a magnificent vessel.

WILL HE FURTHER CONFESS?

Birchall's Jailors Expect That He Will Soon Admit All.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Oct. 7.—From his present actions the jail officials expect Birchall to soon confess his crime. He already acknowledges that he was an accessory and confesses that he took Benwell to Eastwood and beyond, in the direction of the swamp, where the body of the young Englishman was discovered, but denies that it was his hand that slew Benwell. He does not say much about his negotiations with the victim and his father, though he freely admits he went in to swindle both of them and Pelly.

Sale of Yearlings.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The following are among the yearlings sold at Morris Park during the morning: Chestnut colt by George Kinney-Kate Clark to S. S. Brown, $850; chestnut filly by George Kinney-Sunbeam to B. McClelland, $1,275; chestnut colt by Blue Eyes-Allegro to D. T. Pulsifer, $1,050; bay cols by Spendthrift-Janet to B. McClelland, 2,600; bay colt by Spendthrift-Torchlight to S. S. Brown, $1,200; bay colt by Spendthrift Alcina to J. H. Morris, $1,050; chestnut colt by Spendthrift-Miramar to S. S. Brown, $1,300.

Patriotic Sons of America in Session.

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—Delegations to the National Camp of the Patriotic Sons of America are here from all parts of the country. In all, 175 delegates are on hand. The ritual and constitutional committees presented their report to the meeting this morning. Concerning the objects of the order, it is stated that it is not anti-Catholic, but is nonsectarian and non-political, seeking only to guard the best interests of the country. It demands some changes in the naturalization and emigration laws.

Chicago Street Car Employes' Demands.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—A committee of five from the West Side Street Car Conductors and Drivers Association called on General Manager Parsons to-day and presented their request for higher wages and a demand that an order be issued addressed to the officers of the company not to discriminate against any organization among the employes of the road. Mr. Parsons replied that he would give the request of the men a careful consideration, and would reply as soon as practicable.

A Long Standing Suit Settled.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 7.—At the annual meeting of the Newport and Wickford Railroad and Steamboat Company, the law suit of Contractor John Beattie against the company, which has been pending nearly twenty years, was settled for $24,000, which includes the original contract and interest. It was voted to build a larger and faster steamer to replace the present one before another year.

Declines to Run for Assembly.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Sylvester Wilcox, of Mendon, the Democratic nominee for the Assembly in the First District of Monroe County, has decided not to make the canvas. Business engagements are given as the cause of his withdrawal.

The Comte's Reception Here Creating Comment.

A FOE OF THEIR REPUBLIC.

Diplomatic Investigation Said to Be Likely to Result.

Collector Erhardt Represented as Welcoming Him in the Name of the President of the United States—Little Thought Given to the Subject in Washington—The Philadelphia Reception.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—President Harrison has been apprised unofficially that the French Government is likely to make the recent welcome of the Comte de Paris in New York city a matter of official diplomatic inquiry. Collector Erhardt was represented in the papers as welcoming the Comte in this language:

"I am instructed, sir, by the President of the United States and the Government at Washington, to welcome you to these shores, and to extend to you every courtesy in my power."

As the Comte de Paris is the head of the house of Orleans and aspires to place that dynasty on a throne in France, to the destruction of the present Republican Government, the French Government's representatives at New York and Washington have been much disturbed by the character of this seemingly official welcome of the noted royalist.

President Harrison has unofficially stated that neither he nor the Government directed or instructed such a welcome to be extended to the Comte de Paris, and that an official inquiry from the French Government, which is likely to be made, will be met by an official disavowal. When spoken to about the matter this morning, Secretary Windom seemed to treat the matter as a joke, saying that while he had heard something of it he had no official information regarding it.

A BRILLIANT RECEPTION.

The Comte Dined in Philadelphia Last Night—Off for Washington To-Day.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—The reception of the Comte de Paris last night by the Union League Club was one of the most brilliant affairs of its kind that has ever taken place in this city. The rooms and corridors were crowded with members of the club and invited guests.

About 9 o'clock the distinguished party arrived at the club. The Comte entered on the arm of General Gregg, followed by the Duc de Orleans on the arm of George W. Childs, and behind them the rest of the party.

On arriving at the library the Comte and his son took their positions, the Comte having Mr. Childs at his side and the Duc de Orleans having William C. Houston, President of the Union League, at his side.

For the next half hour these two gentlemen were kept busy introducing the Comte and his son to the thousand or more guests who filled the rooms.

Among those who passed before the Comte and were presented were Gen. Daniel E. Sickles of New York, Gen. Parke of Chicago, who commanded an army corps during the war, General Alexander S. Webb, who commanded the Philadelphia brigade that broke Pickett's charge at Gettysburg; Gen. Doubleday, General Lewis Merrill, Governor Biggs, of Delaware; General Fitz-John Porter, vice-president J. N. Dubarry, of the Pennsylvania Railroad; ex-Senator Sewell, of New Jersey; Adjutant-General Hastings, of Pennsylvania, and Gen. J. W. Hoffman, whose division opened the first days fight at Gettysburg.

When all present had been presented to the Comte and the Duc, they moved about the room chatting with different persons.

When the signal for supper was given the Comte took the arm of Gen. Gregg and the Duc took that of Mr Houston, the rest of the party following.

Arrangements had been made for the Comte and his party to dine in a private room, and when they had walked through the supper room they retired to the private room.

The Comte did not again return to the supper room, but at the conclusion of the supper he and the rest of the party went at once to the Stratford Hotel, where they have a suite of rooms.

At 10 o'clock this morning a special over the Pennsylvania road left with the entire party for Washington. Tomorrow afternoon the Comte will leave for Richmond, and later will visit scenes of the battles in which he participated in Virginia.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.

THE BASEBALL CONFERENCE.

President Day Tells How the Trouble Can Be Patched Up.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The outcome of the baseball conference to be held in this city day after tomorrow is looked forward to with much interest, as it is believed that it will then be decided whether the war is to be continued throughout next season or not. President Day speaking on the subject, said that the only solution of the difficulty that will effectually do away with the rivalry and put the clubs on a paying basis once more is to consolidate the rival clubs of each city, so that there will be but one representative club. The only way this could be done was, he thought, for one League to buy the other out.

"If the Brotherhood," continued Mr. Day "is rich enough to do this they can purchase my club, and I have but little doubt that the whole National League would be glad to sell out for that matter, provided a fair price could be secured."

To Aid the Buffalo Club.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Secretary Brunnell, of the Players' League, has wired the Buffalo Club to come to Cincinnati for exhibition games with the Cincinnatis on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. Mr. Brunnell is interesting himself to help the Buffalo Club out of its financial predicament. No official statement has been made of the losses of the Buffalo Club, but it is thought they will foot up between $10,000 and $15,000.

CONNECTICUT ELECTION.

Democrats Gain in Hartford County—Republicans Ahead in New Haven.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 7.—Returns from about half the towns in the State show nearly the usual quantity of changes. In Hartford County the Democratic gains seem on these returns to outnumber the Republican, while in New Haven County it is the other way. Returns from the eastern part of the State are meagre. In general the vote was light. Figures thus far do not show any decided drift of feeling either way, such as is sometimes indicated even in these town elections.

It looks as if the voting had been almost wholly on local issues.

In this city, on account of the system of minority representation in the different boards, and vacancies on the tickets, all the Republican and Democratic tickets were elected except one. Both parties nominated two candidates for the Board of School Visitors, while the Board consists of three. Two Democrats and one Republican were elected. The Board of Selectmen chosen were: George W. Fowler, Democrat and Republican; Thomas J. Blake, Democrat; Wm. Westphal, Democrat; John A. Crilly, Republican, and Edwin J. Smith, Republican.

Is the Engagement Broken?

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 7.—A reporter called on Dr. Thomas Emory, at whose house Miss Minnie Davis was a guest when she first met Mr. Wilkinson, in regard to the report from New Orleans that their engagement had been broken off. Mr. Emory said that he had no definite information regarding the report, but that he did not believe it was true. He understood the wedding had been postponed until next June. Mr. Wilkinson's sister would neither deny or affirm the report.

BEAUVOIR, Miss., Oct. 7.—It is reported here that the engagement of Miss Winnie Davis with Mr. Wilkinson has been severed, and gossip is busily employed advancing reasons. One is that Mr. Wilkinson is waiting to recover from recent financial misfortunes.

Pastor Roberts Wants a New Trial.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 7.—Application has been made for a new trial in the case of Annie Husaboe against Pastor Roberts. Among the reasons given—there were eight of them—was that the absence of the plaintiff from the court room prevented the defence from proving that Annie had brought a similar action against Lois P. Jerdee, in Dane County, Wis., in 1873. Roberts' congregation has deferred action on his resignation until the rule for a new trial is disposed of.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The Comptroller of Currency has called for a report of the condition of National banks at the close of business on Thursday, October 2.

HER FORMAL APPEAL

No Further Doubt About Ireland's Impending Distress.

ASSISTANCE SORELY NEEDED.

All Bluster of English Papers Knocked in the Head.

Names of the Gentlemen Selected to Come to America in Ireland's Cause—The Dillon-O'Brien Trial—Serious Trouble Feared at Clonmel—Other News from Abroad of General Interest.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—All the bluster made by the Government's played out organ, the Times, to the effect that there was not much, if any, apprehension concerning the condition of Ireland during the coming winter, was knocked in the head by a resolution prepared at the instigation of Mr. Parnell, and adopted at the Nationalists' meeting in Dublin.

The resolution says that the Nationalist party is compelled by circumstances to make an appeal to its friends everywhere in behalf of the Irish tenants, and it looks especially to its friends in America to subscribe generously for the defence of a distressed people. This appeal, the resolution says, is made most unwillingly, but the desperate strait in which the Irish tenants are now placed makes it absolutely necessary that assistance should be asked from friends and sympathizers throughout the world.

They Will Come to Amerisa.

DUBLIN, Oct. 7.—The following gentlemen, selected yesterday by the Nationalists to visit America in the interest of Irish famine-threatened districts, have signified their willingness to start at any time: John Dillon, M. P. for East Mayo; William O'Brien, M. P. for Northeastern Division of Cork; Thomas Power O'Connor, M. P. for Scotland (Liverpool); Timothy D. Sullivan, M. P. for College Green, (Dublin City); Timothy Harrington and Thomas P. Gill, M. P. for Southern Division of Louth.

The Irish Trials.

TIPPERARY, Oct. 7.—The trial of Messrs. O'Brien, Dillon and others was further postponed last night until today to allow the Crown to make inquiry as to whether O'Mahony was really to sick to appear. Certificates from his physician were not considered as evidence enough. Several lively tilts between Mr. O'Brien and the prosecutor occurred.

Germany on the Lookout for Spies.

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—The German authorities continue to be absurdly vigilant, just now, in their outlook for spies. The brother of the Dutch Minister to France was taking a walk on the fortifications at Mayence, when he was arrested on the charge of being a French spy. Upon showing who he was he was released.

Serious Trouble Feared at Clonmel.

CLONMEL, Oct. 7.—One hundred hussars and 350 extra policemen have arrived at this place. Their presence here is attributed to the fears of the Government that trouble may occur between the Eighteenth Irish Regiment and the Berkshire Regiment, both commands being now quartered in the town.

Split in Nationalists' Ranks Claimed.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The Conservatives are industriously circulating a report that Mr. Parnell's absence from the Dublin conference has led to a split in the Nationalist ranks. Such a rumor has gained currency in various quarters, but cannot be traced to a trustworthy source.

The Czar's Bitter Foes.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 7.—Large numbers of arrests continue to be made of persons suspected of Nihilism. The police have discovered what is supposed to be a Russian branch of the Workingmen's International Organization, and have arrested many of the members.

Dismissing Russian Soldiers.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 7.—Russia has dismissed 12,000 men from her army and navy within the past two months, and it is stated that further discharges will be made shortly.

Flood Sufferers in France.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—Great distress prevails in the regions of Southern France recently visited by flood, and the French Chambers will be asked to do something for the sufferers.

Will Unite to Beat Tammany.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The Republican county convention last night virtually decided to unite with other factions against Tammany Hall. The Gibbs delegates were expelled by a vote of 179 to 14. Col Cruger moved that a straight ticket be run with Chauncey M. Depew for Mayor. Ex-Judge Patterson said Depew couldn't carry the city. Every practical politician, he said, knew that a straight Republican ticket would be beaten. A committee was finally appointed to consider the advisability of a coalition and report Friday night. This action is understood to mean a coalition ticket.

No Vessel Ashore on Pollock Rip.

CHATHAM, Mass., Oct. 7.—The report that a four-master schooner is aground on Pollock Rip is incorrect. There is no vessel ashore in that vicinity.

Nominated for Congress.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Thos. H. Beal, of Madison county, has been nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Twenty-sixth district.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.

A Stop Made at Osgood, Ind., at Nine O'Clock This Morning.

OSGOOD, Ind., Oct. 7.—The train bearing the President an party reached here at 9:30 this morning and a stop of a few minutes was made. The President had just finished breakfast before the train stopped. A large crowd was at the depot, and as the President stepped out on the rear platform he was heartily cheered. He shook hands with a number of those who climbed on the platform and the train pulled out amid loud cheers.

The President's decision to stop at St. Louis Saturday until 10 p. m., which was made final this morning, will cut out stops at Greencastle and Danville, which had been planned.

POLYGAMY ABANDONED.

The Laws of the United States Recognized by the Mormon Church.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Oct. 7.—The Mormon Conference last evening resolved by a unanimous vote to sustain President Woodruff in his action in abolishing polygamy. Not a dissenting voice was heard in the entire assembly of 10,000 persons.

German Day in Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 7.—The greatest torchlight parade ever seen here was the principal feature of German Day in Baltimore. Fifteen thousand persons were in the parade. The line was made brilliant by every known illumination device. Seventy enormous and elaborate floats presented a beautiful appearance. After being reviewed by the Mayor the paraders adjourned to the different halls where the festivities of the day were rounded up in a happy manner.

The Presbyterian Committee Meets.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 7.—The committee appointed to revise the Confession of Faith of the Presbyterian Church will meet in Pittsburg this afternoon. A number of the committee arrived last night, and the balance came in this morning.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The Prince of Wales has arrived in Vienna. He is travelling incognito.

Nineteen hundred emigrants from Russia have sailed for New York from Bremen.

The Republicans of the Fourth (N. Y.) Assembly district of Albany county nominated Wm. B. Leroy, of Cohoes, for Assembly.

Dom Pedro, ex-Emperor of Brazil is stopping at Cologne. He constantly means for his lost throne. His mind is affected.

James McNaughton's residence, at Maxwell, Ont., was burned last night. McNaughton and a girl eight years of age perished in the flames.

The Osborn, Mechanics, Metacomet, Comell, Slade and Seaconnet mills at Fall River, Mass., have shut down for one week to relieve the depression in the cloth market.

German Day was celebrated on a large scale in many cities throughout the United States. In Milwaukee and other Northwester cities the day was almost a holiday.

Many of the Austrian papers teem with angry articles concerning the American tariff. They contain more denunciation than criticism. The Government is making efforts to allay the excitement.

The case of Conductor John Houghtaling, charged with manslaughter in displaying criminal negligence which resulted in the wreck on the Lake Shore at Hamburg, on March 6, last, is on at Buffalo.

The President before leaving for the West appointed Chas. A. Dougherty of Pennsylvania, to be Secretary of Legation to Mexico and H. Remsen Whitehouse of New York, to be Secretary of Legation to Italy.

The members of the Knights of Labor in Altany who were instrumental in causing the strike on the Central, are going to make a fight in the courts against the fiat of the Central road against the Knights. They are to be supported by the General Council.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—For New England: Rains; winds shifting to southeasterly; slightly warmer.

For Eastern New York and New Jersey: Rain; southeasterly, shifting to westerly, winds.

For Eastern Pennsylvania: Rain; slightly cooler; westerly winds.

For Western New York and Western Pennsylvania: Rains, followed by fair weather; northwesterly winds; slightly cooler.

THE DAILY PRESS.

W. L. & A. L. FORCE, Publishers and Proprietors.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - Managing Editor.

BY THE WAY.

—One of Plainfield's oldest residents says she saw snow fall today.

—The doctors held one of their periodical reunions, with a supper at the City Hotel, last evening.

—A Missionary Concert will be held in the Crescent Avenue chapel to-morrow evening. Subject—Persia.

—The annual missionary service of the Dunellen Presbyterian Sunday school will be held Sunday evening, October 19.

—The Norwich team have a benefit at home, to-morrow, and have wired the Crescents an invitation to come on and play them again.

—On Thursday next at 12 o'clock, T. J. Gillies will sell the entire household furniture belonging to Mrs. C. B. Terry, at 183 East Second street.

—The Dark Secret was presented at Music Hall last evening in a manner and by a company that deserve the public's approval. It will be repeated this evening, and THE PRESS advises everybody to see it.

—Arrangements are being perfected for a series of highly interesting discourses in Reform Hall. The Rev. Mr. Dwight will be the speaker next Sunday evening, and Samuel A. Haines, of Netherwood, the week following.

—Quite a large audience, considering the weather, greeted Prof. Reynolds on his first evening at Reform Hall, last night. This remarkable man has a number of new experiments in hypnotism that add to the interest and entertainment of his wonderful exhibitions.

—The first rehearsal of the Melopoia will be held in the Crescent Avenue chapel this evening. All the rehearsals of this society under the leadership of Mr. Chapman, will be held in this chapel. The rehearsals of the Choral Society under Mr. Fitzhugh, will be held in Vincent Chapel.

—Mr. Holmes, late agent of Adams Express company, will continue to carry on his city express and coal busines with office in Woolston and Buckle's store, 27 North avenue. Mr. Dunavan will have charge of the city express. Drivers Ayers, Totten and Conover are now out of the employ of Mr. Holmes.

Women in Handcuffs Excite the Throng.

Two women from the borough—Mrs. Noah Drake, and the relict of the late Italian "Romeo"—caused a big rumpus this morning, in Magistrate Hardy's office, where they were sentenced to thirty days' imprisonment for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. They unloaded their minds in the foulest of language, and smashed the glass in Mr. Hardy's door. Their violence necessitated the use of handcuffs, and in their manacled condition they were hustled off to the railroad station, bound for Somerville, and followed by a curious crowd.

Another Victim of the Mad Dog.

"Belford," a high-bred pointer belonging to Samuel C. Allen, was shot yesterday because she betrayed symptoms of hydrophobia. Just twenty-nine days ago last Friday, she was bitten by the dog that bit Miss Quenzer. On Friday "Belford" began to chew at the boards of her kennel and was put in a corn crib. Dr. Long pronounced her mad, but one of Allen's friends told him otherwise and the dog was allowed to run loose. Then her owner discovered his mistake and had to kill her.

A Two Dollar Bill Covers it All.

A most competent instructor has been secured to teach a class in bookkeeping and penmanship at the Young Men's Christian Association. The class will be organized when a sufficient number of young men have signified their desire for such instruction. The $2 membership fee in the Association entitles to this, and to such other privileges as instruction in short-hand, mechanical drawing, attendance at members receptions and the use of the library.

Boys Have Now But to Ask, and They Will Receive in Abundance.

John C. Collins, of New Haven, Conn., addressed the meeting of the Plainfield Boys' Club in Central Hall, corner of North and Park avenues, last evening, and will again be present next Monday evening. He is General Superintendent of Boys' Clubs for the United States and Canada. Boys may apply for members' tickets giving them all the free privileges of the club every night this week.

A Plainfield Pastor Will Address Them.

The fourth anniversary of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Dunellen Presbyterian church will be celebrated Oct. 16. The Rev. W. C. Stinson, pastor of the church, and the Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of the Trinity Reformed church of Plainfield, will deliver addresses. A reception will be held in the Sunday school room at the close of the evening.

Is it not surprising that nearly every household in the country should be acquainted with the merits, virtues, and the healthful properties of Hires' Root Beer? For years it has been the standard drink of those who enjoy a delicious temperance beverage. It tones up the system, helps nature, and is just what all need in hot weather. A 25 cent package makes five gallons. Sold everywhere.

MORE ELABORATE THAN EVER.

The Plainfield Choral Concerts Will Have an Orchestra at Every One.

Last evening was the first rehearsal of the Choral Society of the coming season, and in spite of the weather there was a full attendance. The reports of what had already been accomplished and what was assured, were unprecedentedly favorable. At the time of the first rehearsal of last year, there had been 70 subscriptions received, netting $700; while last evening the number reported was just double, of which 52 were new patrons who had never subscribed before. Only 15 more subscribers can be accommodated.

Leader Fitzhugh made a speech and President Howland an address. The society was told that the coming concerts would be the most elaborate in style of any that were ever given in Plainfield. The chorus is full and better even than last year especially in the basso parts. President Howland, in his address, stated that the Society was beginning the most successful year in its existence, in the quality of the works to be given, the efficiency of its chorus, and also financially. There will be an orchestra at each of the three concerts. At the first concert will be given Mendelssohn's Oratorio of "Elijah," with four soloists. The first part of the second concert will consist of solos and part songs, some of which are to be accompanied by the orchestra. The second part will be Gade's "Grusaders," with three soloists. At the third concert will be rendered Haydn's Oratorio of "The Creation," with three soloists.

Owing to the limited seating capacity of the Hall, only a few more subscribers can be received. Those who wish to subscribe should do so at once or it will be too late. Names may be sent to the treasurer, H. O. Newman, 4 West Fifth street.

A Woman Adds to Plainfield Pastors' Testimony.

The meeting in Reform Hall Sunday evening was very interesting. President Harper occupied the chair, the Rev. Mr. Love conducted the devotional services, and Mr. Vanderbeek's full choir, with Miss Alice Smith as accompanist, acceptably discharged their duty.

The President announced that Mrs. Dumott, a temperance worker from Newark, had been prevented from attending, as expected, because of a sudden death in her family.

He then introduced Miss Florence G. Hawkins, who admirably read from a pamphlet entitled "The Liquor Traffic in Western Africa," by Mary E. Leavitt, and which pictured the awful devastation wrought there by the intoxicating fluid. Miss Hawkins was followed by the Rev. E. M. Rodman, who based his remarks largely on the sad story Miss Hawkins had recited, and urged that Christian nations should arouse themselves to the enormity of the evil traffic and apply an effectual remedy by exterminating it. Dr. Rodman gave most excellent counsel to all present and depicted in various forms the ruin of strong drink.

After appropriate and instructive remarks by the Rev. Mr. Love and Edward P. Williams, the attentive assemblage dispersed under the benediction pronounced by Dr. Rodman.

Something You Shouldn't Miss.

There are always more or less difficulties to encounter in running a tank drama and especially one in which a woman takes an active part. An audience always expect to see somebody leap into the water and if a woman is advertised a woman it must be. For this reason "A Dark Secret" company which appears at Music Hall again this evening, always carries more than one lady who does not object to a bath in public now and then. There are three of them in this company: Misses Belle Stoddard, Edith Fassett and Lillie Ayres, but the entire trio were ill one night in Philadelphia. None of them would risk the water, and it became necessary to dump a man into the tank. So one was dressed up and with a wig the very color of Miss Stoddard's hair. When he was thrown into the water the deception was perfect, when lo! the drowning "girls" wig came off and a glossy bald spot, looking like a lily floated on the water with a false face for a foundation.

The company is a large and able one. The show is well staged, and, in fact, nothing better in scene and story has ever been rendered at Music Hall.

A Chance for Choir Boys.

Three more soprano voices are wanted to train for the Episcopal church choir at Scotch Plains. Boys under twelve years of age, having good voices, and sufficiently fond of music to go through considerable practice in voice training and learning to read music, may apply to Mr. Embury, 60 Washington avenue, Thursday, October 9, at 4:30. All meetings for practice are held at a convenient place here in Plainfield. A conveyance is provided on Sundays, and the boys sing only at morning service.

For Christ and the Church.

The annual election for officers of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of Trinity Reformed church, was held last evening and resulted in the unanimous choice of the following people and they entered at once upon their respective duties:

President—Theo. H. Hardy.
1st Vice President—Chas. P. Gelhaar.
2d Vice President—Mrs. C. Schenck.
Recording Secretary—Miss Jennie Wyckoff.
Corresponding Secretary—Miss E. C. Benedict.
Treasurer—Miss Nellie Bogert.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew M. Vanderbeek have returned from their wedding trip, and have begun housekeeping at their pleasant new home on Grove street.

Miss Ella Laws, who has been visiting Mrs. Wm. G. E. See, a former schoolmate, at "The Elms," East Front street, returned to her home in Jersey City, yesterday.

George C. Martin and family of Eighth street and Central avenue, left Plainfield at 1:30 P. M., Sunday, for Kansas City, Mo, where Mr. Martin has just entered business and where his family will make their home for the future.

An excellent portrait of Julian Hawthorne, the famous novelist whose face was a familiar sight on Plainfield streets during his residence at Scotch Plains, adorns the pages of the current issue of the Elizabeth Town Tattle.

Dr. H. S. Jones, of the homœopathist school, has begun practice in Plainfield at the office of the late Dr. Titsworth, 106 East Front street. He is a graduate of the New York College of Homœopathy, and practiced for three years in Elizabeth before setting out on a series of travels from which he has returned to choose Plainfield for his home.

Entering Its Fourth Year of Success.

Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., celebrated its third anniversary last evening by an entertainment and "lunch-box sociable" in Amphion Hall. The pleasant features of the programme included an address by Mr. McFarland, of Trenton, piano solos by Miss Pierson, of Merristown, recitations by Miss Susie March of Westfield, and by Mr. Phillips, a harp solo by Donatto Lasine, and songs by the Eclipse Quartette—Messrs J. C. Martin, E. C. Searing, R. W. Schlereth and E. Southard. The floor manager of the dance that followed was Gilbert Sutphen Martin, Past Councilor of Franklin Council, who also led the grand march in his usual graceful style with his cousin, Miss Lizzie Sutphen.

Warren Engine Earns $30 for the Borough.

Workmen attempted to fill the huge tank on the Music Hall stage yesterday, by carrying buckets from Green brook at the rear of the building, but found the work nearly as arduous as trying to bail out the ocean, and gave up in despair. The services of Warren Engine were then procured, and after forty minutes' pumping the tank was filled. Then the Engine Company collected thirty dollars.

A $600 Soprano to Favor Us.

The first musicale of the Melopoia, to be given at the Union County Country Club's Casino, will be on the evening of Dec., 23. The first grand concert by the same society at the same place, will be on the evening of Jan. 27. Upon the latter occasion will appear Miss Howe, the wonderful soprano whose terms are $600 a night.

Not Guilty of Attempted Murder.

Henry Hess, of North Plainfield, was today acquitted at Somerville of the charge made by his wife that he had tried to poison her daughter.

The German Wrestler Won.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—A wrestling match between Ernest Roeber, champion wrestler of Germany, and Henry Volting, of the Central Turn Verein, of New York, took place in Parepa Hall last night. The stake was a purse of $500 and a gold medal, and the conditions were three falls out of five. Roeber won three straight bouts in five, twelve and three minutes respectively.

Officers of the C. V. Railroad.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 7.—The following officers were elected at a meeting of the stockholders of the Cumberland Valley Railroad: President, Thomas B. Kennedy. Directors—Thomas B. Kennedy, George B. Ruberts, J. N. DuBarry, John P. Green, Wistar Morris, A. J. Cassatt, H. H. Houston, John Stewart, W. W. Jennings, J. Herman Bossler, Edward B. Watts.

Fall Field Drill in Philadelphia To-day.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—The members of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, of Boston, about 225 in number, arrived here this morning by special train, to take part in fall field drill which is being celebrated to day.

Arranging for Gen. Grant's Monument.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The executive committee of the Grant Monument Committee met and appointed a subcommittee to visit and survey the exact location for the monument in Riverside Park. The Comte de Paris, having expressed a desire to visit, officially, the tomb of General Grant before his departure for Europe, General Collis, the chairman, was deputed to accompany him and to request the company of General Sherman.

A New Life Saving Station.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 7.—The United States Government has purchased a lot of land about midway of Wingaersheek Beach, Ipswich Bay, for the purpose of erecting a life saving station, to be in operation the present season, but there is no indication of any building operations there yet.

Compte de Paris to Mrs. McClellan.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 7.—After visiting the grave of General McClellan, the Compte de Paris sent the following cablegram to Mrs. George B. McClellan, who is residing at Tunbridge Wells, England: "I am deeply impressed by a visit to the grave of my beloved chief. I send you expressions of my sympathy and wishes for your welfare."

Congressman Vaux Accepts.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—Congressman Richard Vaux has accepted the nomination tendered him by the citizens of the Third Congressional District.

Justice and Ex-Clown.

Dan Rice, the old-time clown, is passing his summer in New York, and looks as young and fresh as a boy from school. He lectures some nowadays, and knows how to give an interesting talk, says the New York World. Occasionally he meets a venerable person who laughed at his jokes and grimaces nearly fifty years ago, and who recalls his grand old educated horse Excelsior, over which Dan himself has shed many a tear. One day a United States justice shook hands with him on the rear of a Broadway car. "Uncle Dan," said the justice, "you don't know me, and this is the first time in my life that I have ever spoken to you, but when I was a boy I crawled under your tent to see you, got caught by a canvasman, and had powdered resin sprinkled all over my hair." The justice and the ex-clown had a great laugh over the incident.

A Big Car Company Embarrassed.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 7.—The affairs of the Harrisburg Car Company of this city are in an embarrassed condition due to the recent failure of the Iron Car Company of New York. Notes of the Harrisburg Company went to protest Saturday and creditors have been asked for an extension of time. The assets largely exceed the liabilities and if the extension is granted there will be no suspension.

Benson to be Taken Back to Kansas.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—The requisition papers have reached this city from Leavenworth County, Kansas, authorizing Deputy Sheriff Pickens, of that county, to take C. A. Benson, now in the custody of the Camden police, west for the murder of Mrs Teresa Mettman. The deputy can not start, however, until the papers are indorsed by Governor Abbett, and this will delay the removal of the prisoner until this evening.

Seen by Rapid.

Mr. Rapid—Did you recognize the lady who smiled at us as we passed?

Mr. Gayboy—No, I do not remember to have ever seen her before.

Mr. Rapid—I thought not. She is your wife.—Texas Siftings.

Lavish Liberality.

Summer Boarder (wearily) — You have had veal at every meal since I came.

Farmer Furrow (cheerfully)—We kin afford it. It was our own calf; and it ain't half gone yet.—Puck.

Struck Down.

What was the matter?

Overwork, brain and nerve exhaustion, heart trouble.

People without number are straining their brains and nervous systems in the mad race for subsistence, fortune or fame by overwork, in dissipation or other cause, and exhausting their nervous and physical energies, until sleepless nights, falling powers, complete nervous exhaustion, heart failure, paralysis, insanity or death must be the inevitable end unless help from some source is received.

You, reader, are rushing blindly on to sure destruction. You are warned every day and every hour of your impending doom. How? By those strange sensations, that dull, dizzy and bad feeling head, that restlessness, irritability and nervousness; by those more or less sleepless nights, from which you wake tired and unrefreshed; by the weak, trembling, cold limbs, by the malarial symptoms, the languor and sense of nervous and physical exhaustion which grows upon you more and more. These are danger signals, and your very life depends upon heeding them.

What is to be done? The answer is plain enough. You are losing your nerve force and power, and running down in strength, energy and vitality. Whatever will restore this lost strength and vigor to the brain and nerves will put you again in sound health and strength. This is precisely what Dr. Greene's Nervura, the great brain and nerve invigorant, will do. As a restorer of nerve force, a builder up of nerve power, vigor and energy, this wonderful remedy has no equal in the world. You can have no idea until you try it of its marvellous toning, strengthening and invigorating effects, its beneficial and healthful action as a brain, nerve and blood restorative. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless, and can be obtained at any drug store for $1 per bottle.

A Marvellous Cure.

For two years I was one of the most miserable of mankind. I had indigestion and nervous dyspepsia; everything I ate disagreed with my stomach, which caused me to have a fluttering of the heart. I was very nervous at all times—cold feet and hands, sleepless nights, and, in fact, was cranky and ugly. In all, it was a miserable existence for me until I used Dr. Greene's Nervura. After trying all other remedies that I ever knew or heard tell of, and after giving up all hopes of getting cured, I concluded I would try Dr. Greene's Nervura. After taking two bottles I began to feel the effects of it, and continued until I considered myself cured. I had no more indigestion or dyspepsia; my nerves were strong; no more trouble with my stomach or fluttering of heart; no cold feet or hands: I sleep well and get up refreshed; in fact, I feel I am myself again, all due to Dr. Greene's Nervura. Any one troubled with the same disease who gives it a fair trial I am positive will be benefitted by it. CHAS. A. TITSWORTH,

243 Seventh st., Jersey City, N. J.

Dr. Greene of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York, its discoverer, is the famous specialist in the cure of nervous and chronic diseases. The doctor has devoted special attention to the treatment of all forms of chronic diseases through letter correspondence, and will give by mail his opinion and advice in any case free of charge. The perfection of this system renders a complete cure almost assured, as his success in treatment by correspondence is wonderful and unequalled. Send for symptom blank to fill out, or write him about your case.

Why the Count is With Us.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—The Government papers to-day continue in expressing the opinion that the Count of Paris has chosen to visit America at this time in order to escape the embarrassing effect of the Boulanger revelations, to the effect that the Royalists had used Boulanger as a tool to accomplish the overthrow of the republic.

RENOUNCING THEIR OLD ALLEGIANCE.

Councilmen Roberts and Smith Desert the Democrats, and Councilman Jenkins Joins Them—Water Works, Rapid Transit and Street Perfection Receive Attention at Municipal Hands.

The marked feature of last evening's meeting of the Plainfield Common Council was the unanimity with which Councilmen Roberts and Smith voted with their fellow-Republicans and against the four Democrats with whom they have been prominently affiliated, the past seven months, in working zealously for various public interests. The first important matter in which this division of the former amalgamation was noticeable was a proposition connected with the water-works question.

Councilman Newhall, Chairman of the Water Board, opened the subject by reporting concerning the letter from Chas. K. Moore, Manager of the Water Works, which had been referred to the Board at the last meeting of the Council, and which had requested that the Board meet with the Company to examine into a proposition for the speedy completion of the works and for avoiding litigation. Mr. Newhall stated that after Council had adjourned last month the Board met with Mr. Edwards, representing not only the Water Works Company and Mr. Moore, but also the Plainfield Water Supply Company. This meeting—he added—was of no account whatever. It would be an absolute impossibility to give an idea of what was said. It would probably never be heard of again. Immediately following the meeting, however, the Board had received from the Plainfield Water Supply Company, through Frank Bergen, President, the following communication:

To the Water Board of the City of Plainfield:

GENTLEMEN:—We understand that at a conference between your honorable body and the counsel for Mr. Moore and the Water Works Co., held Monday evening, it was agreed that a definite proposition from the Plainfield Water Supply Co., for the construction of water works would be the proper basis of further negotiations on the subject. We have accordingly considered the matter carefully, and have gone over the various provisions of the contract between the Water Works Co., and the City, made in December last, with a desire to agree to all of its essential provisions so far as it is prudent to do so. Many of the provisons of the contract, if legal, are of but little practical value to the City, although they would no doubt make it difficult to obtain capital to build the works, and might be used effectively to depress the value of securities issued by a Company subject to its terms. The main objects, however, sought to be attained by the contract are these:

1—The construction of water works capable of giving the City at all times a plentiful supply of pure and wholesome water.

2. The works to be constructed in a first-class manner, of the best material, and as soon as practicable.

3. Furnishing the city with 250 hydrants for use in extinguishing fires, and such additional hydrants from time to time as the growth of the city may require in the judgment of the Common Council; the charge for hydrants for a period of ten years after the completion of the works to be $15 each per year.

4. The good quality of the water to be constantly maintained, and the rates for consumers to be reasonable.

The schedule of rates set out in the contract of December 27 is for the most part fair, but a few changes of minor importance should be made. These general provisions contain substantially all that can reasonably be expected, and our Company is ready and willing to enter into a contract with the city based thereon, and to proceed at once to construct the works.

It should be added that our company has recently negotiated with the Plainfield company and Mr. Moore, and is now in position to obtain title to the property at Netherwood on which twenty wells have been sunk and a pumping station is in course of erection. All the capital required has been provided, and our charter confers unquestionable authority to construct the works without applying for any additional franchise. A committee of our Board of Directors—consisting of Messrs John W. Murray, O. T. Waring and the President—has been appointed, and will be pleased to confer with your honorable body at your convenience.

THE PLAINFIELD WATER SUPPLY CO.,
By Frank P. Bergen, President.
Sept. 19, 1890.

In response to this communication—continued Mr. Newhall—the Board immediately notified Mr. Bergen that it was ready to meet at any time the representatives of the Plainfield Water Supply Company, but up the present time the Water Supply Company had not expressed themselves as ready to act definitely in the matter.

The entire matter was referred back to the Water Board, and Mr. Newhall then presented a communication from Supervising Engineer Hering stating that all work on the construction of the water works had been suspended, suggesting that he discontinue the services of his resident engineer until resumption of the work should be made, and promising in return to claim no pay whatever till work was resumed. In conjunction with Mr. Hering's letter Councilman Newhall presented a resolution accepting Mr. Hering's proposition. To this resolution Councilman Hetfield took exception, and moved that it be referred to Corporation Counsel Marsh for his advice. Mr. Hetfield held that to permit Mr. Hering to remove his resident engineer from the city would be a direct violation, by the city, of the water-works contract, and ought not to be done. It wasn't the city's fault that work on the water-works had been suspended and that there was nothing for the resident engineer to do. A contract was a sacred thing, and if the city took a step like this it furnished a precedent for the Water-Works Company to break its contract.

Mr. Newhall said that there was no need of referring the matter to Mr. Marsh for his advice, for Mr. Marsh had framed the phraseology of both Mr. Hering's proposition and the Water Board's resolution, so that there should be no legal flaw. The proposed action was unquestionably in the interests of the city. It was simply a question of Mr. Hering's withdrawing his resident engineer and surrendering, during the water-works inactivity, his right to receive from the city $360 per month, until there was something for himself and his resident engineer to do—all of which he considered highly honorable of Mr. Hering.

It's just this way:—added Councilman Rushmore—if we insist so rigidly on sticking to the contract, and refuse to let him withdraw his engineer, to whom he has to pay $150 per month, he will demand from us every month $360, for doing absolutely nothing.

Councilman Smith also was of the opinion that the contract would not be interfered with by the action proposed.

Councilman Jenkins said nothing, but his subsequent vote found him arrayed with the Democratic trio present, and filling in the vacancy they suffered through Councilman Gallup's absence. These four votes, however, of Councilmen Hetfield, Jenkins, Moffett and Spangenberg, to refer the matter to the Corporation Counsel, were unavailing against the five of Councilmen Johnson, Newhall, Roberts, Rushmore and Smith, and the resolution of Mr. Newhall was carried.

Not only on this question did Dr. Jenkins side with Messrs Hetfield, Moffett and Spangenberg. Just as often as Messrs Roberts and Smith indicated by their votes their desertion of their Democratic former comrades, just so often did he indicate by his vote his allegiance to the standard they had deserted. The "Big Six" seemed to have lost the two others, but to have gained him irrevocably.

The next question on which this peculiar division was shown was the matter of accepting Cemetery avenue as a public thoroughfare. The Trustees of Hillside Cemetery reported that they had bought the land and opened up the street—which extends, a half-mile in length, from Park avenue to Woodland avenue, at the main entrance of the cemetery—and had spent $4,000 in preparing the roadway for macadamization. Now they desired that the city accept the avenue as a public highway, and that it be macadamized in time for Winter travel.

Mr. Hetfield objected to accepting the avenue until it had been put in perfect condition, with sidewalk and macadam already laid. Mr. Newhall suggested that after accepting the street the city would have the power to compel the owners of the land fronting on it to lay such walks as might be required. After some discussion the avenue was accepted as a public thoroughfare by the following vote:

To accept—Councilmen Johnson, Moffett, Newhall, Roberts, Rushmore and Smith—6.

Not to accept—Councilmen Hetfield, Jenkins and Spangenberg—3.

The avenue had hardly been accepted when Mr. Smith was ready with an ordinance providing that it be macadamized. Mr. Hetfield again urged objections. Cemetery avenue, he said, ought not to be macadamized until Third street and other streets in the heart of the town were attended to. Dr. Jenkins was of the same opinion, and wanted streets such as Grove, in the heart of the city, put in proper shape, before attending to the driveways of the outskirts. Grove street was in a disgraceful condition, and so were others of the most important streets; Cemetery avenue could wait.

The vote by which the ordinance was adopted on its second reading, and ordered engrossed and advertised preparatory to its final passage, was as follows:

In favor—Councilmen Johnson, Newhall, Roberts, Rushmore and Smith—5.

Against—Councilmen Hetfield, Jenkins, Moffett and Spangenberg—4.

Plainfield is therefore at last to have a perfect roadway leading to the gates of the most beautiful cemetery in the State. The money to pay for the macadamization will come out of the general instead of the street fund, as what is left of the street fund will be needed in macadamizing and repairing Third street and other thoroughfares.

The ordinance having for its object the macadamization of Plainfield avenue was also brought up by Mr. Smith, was opposed by Mr. Hetfield, and was adopted on its third reading by the same familiar vote of 5 to 4, Councilmen Hetfield, Jenkins, Moffett and Spangenberg voting no. On its final passage President Moffett went over to the "aye" side and made the vote 6 to 3.

Just what has been expended on the streets this year was explained by Chairman Smith, of the Street Committee, in a detailed report. The total outlay, from March 1 to September 1 was $11,498.55, leaving a balance of $3.501.45 of the $15,000 appropriation.

Interest in fire-alarm matters was revived by Mr. Hetfield, who presented a resolution providing for the purchase of a $300 steam whistle to be used in connection with the city's Gamewell Fire-Alarm System. A letter had already been received from the Plainfield Electric Light Company calling attention to the fact that the city's right to use the electric light poles for fire-alarm purposes ceased with the expiration of the contract for city lighting, October 31, and Mr. Newhall remarked that unless the city renewed its contract with the Company favors at the hands of the Company could hardly be expected. Of course a renewal of the contract was probable, but there was no stipulation or agreement before Council that even with a renewal of the contract the Company would furnish steam for the blowing of the fire-alarm whistle free of charge. He wanted the arrangements made known whereby the whistle was to be blown after being purchased and put on the building.

After further argument the matter was refetred to the Committee on Lights, who will arrange a steam whistle stipulation in the new street lighting contract with the Company.

The three lights which THE PRESS had said were needed on Westervelt avenue were ordered placed in position.

Edwin H. Dobbs resigned from the regular police force on account of being troubled with an old wound. His resignation was accepted, and Christian Frederickson was appointed in his place.

Wm. Mattox and Nicholas Conway were appointed special policemen.

The Plainfield Construction Company petitioned for a franchise to construct and operate a street railway from the corner of Park avenue and Randolph road, through Randolph road, Arlington avenue and Fourth street, and such other streets as the property-owners of the city might designate. The matter was referred to the Committee on Streets.

Plainfield Engine Company, No. 2, was granted the privilege of taking its apparatus to the firemen's parade at Perth Amboy Oct. 15.

A petition for a crosswalk across East Front street from the postoffice to the City National Bank was referred to the Committee on Streets with power, and the walk will probably be laid at an early date.

The City Treasurer was authorized to borrow $500 for the poor fund, and $3,000 to pay a note about to fall due.

A special meeting of the Council to adopt the Cemetery avenue macadamization ordinance on its final passage will be held Oct. 24, and the work on the roadway will then be pushed forward.

WHAT THE VILLAGERS ARE DOING.

A Scotch Plains Correspondent Records the Events of His Locality.

John Mooney, who was seriously injured, some time ago, in a machine shop at Newark, has almost entirely recovered from his wounds, and has returned to his Scotch Plains home from a Newark hospital.

The people of the Scotch Plains Baptist church are having substantial new sheds built for the shelter of church-going teams.

The villagers are beginning to talk about a wedding that is soon to occur, and are arranging all sorts of little surprises for the happiness of the young people. THE PRESS will be supplied with all due information of the event.

Mrs. John Marsh, Jr., gave her daughter Josie a very pretty birthday party Saturday evening. Thirty young people were included among the guests. The grand march to the dining room was played by Miss Lida Husted on the piano, and was led by Master Ernest and Miss Edith Marsh. The refreshments consisted of almost everything suited to the taste of the children. It was a pleasant sight to see the little ones march to the music, as well as to note the mannerly way they conducted themselves, seated at a table spread so sumptuously.

The recent entertainment in elocution given by Miss Ella Knight, of Clyde, N. Y., at Excelsior Hall, was considered very fine. She fully satisfied the expectations of those who heard her, and should she come again she would be made welcome.

Nothing Can Fail Where Women Rule.

The New Brooklyn Baptist church at South Plainfield has followed the example of Plainfield, Dunellen and New Market by organizing a Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor. The Rev. A. Armstrong, the venerable pastor of the church, warmly advocated the proposed organization and expressed great faith in it as a means of drawing the young people into active church service. Mrs. Armstrong, wife of the pastor, was chosen President. That the new society will have a flourishing existence, and that the various duties of its officers will be conscientiously performed, there can be no doubt, since all the names on the official list are those of ladies.

Smashed His Face With a Club.

James Craig, an old Grand Army veteran of Bound Brook, entered Dunham's hardware store Saturday night, according to The Evening Sun, and asked for some money. As the money was not forthcoming he drew a revolver and a knife. Policeman Sebring was called in. He drew a club and rained blow after blow on the old man's face. A crowd immediately gathered and the policeman was obliged to stop his cruel work. Craig is regarded as a harmless, half-crazed cripple. A number of citizens will appear in his behalf when the case comes up in court.

—The White House Monitor, Hunterdon county's new weekly publication, is a good local newspaper, and deserves a liberal support from the people whom it seeks to serve. Its editor is L. T. Stryker, formerly of Bound Brook.

A BRIDGE OF DEBTS.

Curious Custom Obtaining in a Thrifty Tyrolese Village.

The "credit system," as it is ordinarily known nowadays, appears to belong to an advanced state of society, and to be impracticable under simple conditions of life, but it is in use, nevertheless, in some very primitive communities. In the valley of Possey, in the Austrian Tyrol, where the Alpine inhabitants lead a simple life, practically all business and work is conducted on credit, subject to an annual settlement. On a certain day in winter the inhabitants of the valley meet at the bridge of St. Leonard's, a place which is convenient to all, and the day is devoted to balancing accounts.

The first business in order at these meetings is the payment of debts. Every one pays what he owes; some depend upon what they collect to meet debts owed to others, but the inhabitants of Possey are thrifty and honest, and there is usually money enough to go around.

The bridge of St. Leonard's, in other words, is the clearing-house of the valley of Possey.

After the debts are paid, contracts are entered into for the next year. Labor engages itself, and the farmers, crops are often bargained for in advance.

If any debtor fails to appear at the bridge and meet his dues on this "squaring-up" day, he is practically cut off from further dealings with the other inhabitants of the valley. No more credit is allowed him, and he is generally fain to re-establish himself in the good-will of his fellows by paying his debts as soon as he possibly can. To be able to hold up one's head on the bridge is the test of solvency and honor.

There is a tradition in the Tyrol that once, a long time ago, after a year of scarcity and disaster, the inhabitants of the valley of Possey met at St. Leonard's bridge. Each one owed some one else, and each one was owed by some one else. Consequently each depended upon being paid by his neighbor who owed him in order to be able to pay his neighbor whom he owed.

But as no one appeared to have any money, no one's debt could be paid. The people stood about in despair, until presently a well-to-do miller, who was known to have money, arrived.

"Good!" said Hans Melchior, the tailor. "Here is Wilhelm Gutpfennig. He will start the ball rolling. Whom do you owe, Wilhelm?"

"No one!"

"So? Well, will you lend me forty gold thalers until noon?"

The miller thought the matter over a moment.

"Yes," he said. "I believe you are honest, Hans Melchior. I will lend you the money."

He advanced forty thalers to Hans, who used it to pay his debt to Pieter the weaver, and Pieter the weaver passed it on to discharge his obligation to another citizen, and so it went from hand to hand, discharging the very moderate debts of the Possey inhabitants until it came to the last man, who happened to owe Hans Melchior just forty thalers. He paid it, of course, and with it Melchoir at once settled his debt to Gutpfenning, the miller.

Now since the miller had paid himself out of the grists as he went along and was owed by nobody, his forty gold thalers had paid all the debts in Possey, and though every one else had come to the bridge in the morning moneyless, every one went home in the afternoon solvent and happy!—Youth's Companion.

CAUSES OF BALDNESS.

Physical Conditions Which Retard or Stimulate Growth of the Hair.

Dyspepsia is one of the most common causes of baldness. Nature is a great economizer, and when the nutrient elements furnished by the blood are insufficient to properly support the whole body, she cuts off the supply to parts the least vital, like the hair and nails, that the heart, lungs and other vital organs may be the better nourished. In cases of severe fevers this economy is particularly noticeable. A single hair is a sort of history of the physical condition of an individual during the time it has been growing, if one could read closely enough. Take a hair from the beard or from the head and scrutinize it, and you will see that it shows some attenuated places, indicating that at that period of its growth the blood supply was deficient from over-work, or anxiety, or under-feeding.

The hair falls out when the strength of its roots is insufficient to sustain its weight any longer and a new hair will take its place unless the root is diseased. For this reason, each person has a certain definite length of hair. When the hair begins to slit or fall out, massage to the scalp is excelent. Place the tip of the fingers upon the scalp and then vibrate or move the scalp while holding the pressure steadily. This will stimulate the blood vessels underneath and bring about better nourishment of the hair. A brush of unevenly tufted bristles is also excelent to use upon the scalp, not the hair.—From a Lecture by J. H. Kellogg, M. D.

—I wonder if there are any written or unwritten laws upon the subject of men's headgear! Have the archæologists ever found inscribed tablets bearing reference to the hats of the ancients? Whether or not, there are one or two irrevocable maxims that seem to have come rolling down the ages. It is a fact that a cloth hat has never had a successful run when made in the shape of a sailor straw. It is equally true that a straw hat built upon the contour of a cloth derby has never been a success. Nor has a combination of sailor brim and pot-hat crown, or vice versa, in either straw or cloth, ever met with warm approval from the public.—Clothier and Furnisher.

WHEN SAM'WEL LED THE SINGIN'.

Of course I love the House o' God,
But I don't feel to hum there
The way I uster do, afore
New-fangled ways had come there.
Tho' things are finer now, a heap,
My heart it keeps a clingin'
To our big bare old meetin'-house,
Where Sam'wel led the singin'.

I 'low it's sorter solemn-like
To hear the organ pealin';
It kinder makes yer blood run cold,
An' fills ye full o' feelin',
But, somehow, it don't tech the spot—
Now, mind ye, I ain't slingin'
No slurs—ez that bass viol did
When Sam'wel led the singin'.

I tell ye what, when he struck up
The tune, an' Sister Hanner
Put in her purty treble—eh?
That's what you'd call sopranner—
Why, all the choir, with might an' main,
Set to, an' seemed a flingin'
Their hull souls out with ev'ry note,
When Sam'wel led the singin'.

An', land alive, the way they'd race
Thro' grand old "Coronation!"
Each voice a' chasin' t'other round,
It jes' beat all creation!
I allus thought it must a' set
The bells o' Heaven a-ringin'
To hear us "Crown Him Lord of All,"
When Sam'wel led the singin'.

Folks didn't sing for money then;
They sung because 'twas in 'em
An' must come out. I uster feel—
If parson couldn't win 'em
With preachin' an' with prayin' an'
His everlastin' dingin'—
That choir'd fetch sinners to the fold,
When Sam'wel led the singin'.

AN OSAGE WEDDING.

Interesting Preliminaries Before the Bride Is Secured.

There is no such thing as courtship with an Osage Indian. As a consequence aboriginal society is not thrilled by elopements, nor are unwelcome suitors torn by the family dog and kicked out of the yard by the enraged moccasin of the family representative. All this is avoided in the simple life of the Indian. The first the poor savage knows of any matrimonial intent on his part he is told of it by his relatives. He has gotten along by this time into his twentieth year; he has shaken a light and airy foot in the native dance, colddecked his seniors in the subtle poker, raced his pony on the tribal campus—but now, for the first time he is brought to bay with one of the serious propositions of life; but on this, as on every grave occasion of his career, the Indian decides nothing, but puts himself completely in the hands of his friends.

In the first place his relatives—and the term includes the third, fourth and even the fifth remove—get together and discuss his character and prospects. He has no voice and is not even in the galleries during this debate. Finally it is concluded that he better marry, and that being decided, the next question is, who to? The belles of the band then have a rapid and merciless overhauling and the discussion of their merits is warm and long. But a conclusion is come to at last and a select deputation of dusky diplomats is sent to feel the pulse of the maiden's father in the matter and learn if, under proper arrangement, he will consent to the projected nuptials. He is taciturn and reticent, but by grunt and shoulder shrug half intimates a belief that he could very probably live through the ordeal. It will be presently seen that the matter, from the standpoint of the girl's father, presents some dark and gloomy business propositions not to be lightly passed on.

Satisfied on the point of a probable willingness of the girl's family, back troops the delegation to the waiting household of the buck and recounts the interview. Next on the list a very important interrogatory claims an answer.

"How much will they give for the girl?"

The meeting is a mixed one—squaws and bucks—and numbers perhaps thirty people. When the affair of "price" is on the carpet, they first engage themselves in solemn thought and silence prevails for fifteen minutes. At last some old buck, whose age and standing give him title to consideration, commences a talk which has for its burden the merits of the intended bride and groom and the propriety of their union from a family as well as a personal point of view. He concludes his oratory in a practical way by donating three ponies towards making up the "price" of the girl. He is followed briefly by others, and the termination of each outburst is a statement of what the speaker will contribute in ponies, blankets, kettles or any form of savage wealth to the blessed end in view.

When the number of ponies and amount of other property is settled, an intimation of a certain day is given to the other side, who are at home for the occasion, and at the time intimated a procession starts from the wickey-up of the coming Benedict, leading the ponies and bearing the blankets and other bric-a-brac decided on as a just and fitting "price." This property they leave just outside the lodge of the bride's father, tying the ponies—say thirteen in all—near at hand. Should the bride's relatives regard the "price" as too small—and in deference to dusky etiquette the first proffer is generally so considered, so soon as the procession is withdrawn some old squaw of the household of the girl, perhaps her aunt, comes out and turns the ponies loose. This is significant of refusal and the groom's relatives convene again and add a couple of ponies, making fifteen in all.

Fifteen ponies is quite a "price" for a girl as the market now stands and intimates a very high grade of girl. Four, five and six is about the proper caper, and I mention fifteen simply because it was the mark reached for the daughter of one Strike Axe while I was with the Indians. This girl struggled under the disadvantage of being a graduate of Carlisle University and ordinarily, with such a handicap, would not have brought two ponies; but her father was a wealthy Indian and had a nice home-farm, and besides she had two younger and very handsome sisters, all of which counteracted the unfortunate effect of her enlightenment and notched her figure "way up."

The second offer of fifteen ponies is accepted, notice of which is given by bringing the ponies nearer to the bride's home.

Next, the groom's people cook up an immense feast and carry it to the family of the bride. Having distended their pleased stomachs therewith the bride's people cook up an immense feast and purvey it to the family of the groom, who thereupon get their ten claws into it with grunts of satisfaction.

This is the first time the game has come their way, and they play it lustily.

Next, a day is appointed for the final play; matters so far have consumed a week and it has come now to the last round and wind-up. On the day set the groom, who has taken about as much part in the affair as the balls do in a game of billiards, arrays himself as nearly like the sun as his wardrobe will permit and pulling over all a look of inspired idiocy, walks off to a little distance from the scene of action and seats him on a rock, with his back, as it were, to the future. His bride to be is loaded with gewgaws, trinkets, jewelry and good clothes until every one of her pegs is full, and mounted on a splendid pony a pistol is fired as a signal, and she is started slowly in the direction of the groom's home. At the firing of the pistol three of the grooms relatives, not of his immediate family—two squaws and one buck, start in a race for the approaching girl. The one who gets there first, who is generally very properly the buck, gets her pony, and the other two—the squaws—coming up next take the girl from her saddle, tear her finery from her in a trice, and in an instant she gleams in the sun like a statue of some bronze Diana. These squaws divide her purple and fine linen.

She is not allowed to embrace the onlookers for any prolonged period, but is quickly wrapped in a blanket and borne to the groom's home.

There she is splendidly enrobed in an outfit entirely new, which the buck has provided, and is installed in a comfortable seat on the ground, while a banquet is prepared. When the viands are ready the groom is called in, and, without noting the presence of his bride, takes a seat near her, looking inexpressibly silly. When thus seated they are made to eat their food from the same dish and that settles it—they are married tight and fast.

Recurring to the importance of the question to the girl's father, it is proper to add that in deference to Osage law and custom the old man, following the wedding, at once turns over his home to be always and forever the property and possession of his son-in-law, the old fellow being constrained to hustle around for a new one, if he has not had the foresight to do so already.

Another effect is that when a buck is wedded to a girl, by the same ceremony he is wedded to all of her sisters also, down to a baby of a year old, if one exists in that relationship. They are all his—his wives or property. At a proper age he takes them as his wives in fact without any more fuss and feathers; or, if he don't feel so disposed, he sells them to some other buck who fancies them.—Kansas City Star.

A PECULIAR WAGER.

The Novel Way in Which a Philadelphian Raised Twenty-Five Dollars.

Man's weakest point often lies in his memory, or rather, want of memory. An individual who is in business among the financiers down on Third street, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, not long ago wagered a basket of champagne that he could hustle around among his friends for a couple of hours and in that time raise twenty-five dollars by making them believe they owed it to him. The two parties in the wager, with several friends, were seated in a down-town cafe. The man who made the wager said he would have to go alone, and placed himself on his honor to act fairly and report truthfully. So off he started, and had not gone half a block before he met his friend Jones.

"Hello, Jones," he exclaimed. "I say, Jones, it's awfully unpleasant for me to ask for it, but I'm a little short, and would like to have that five I loaned you about two weeks ago."

Jones looked at him in amazement.

"Five," he exclaimed, meditatively, "by Jove, I've no recollection of borrowing a V of you."

"Well, so long as your memory is so bad, we'll let it go. Good-bye. I'll see you—"

"No, no; not at all. Here, old boy, is your five. Seems to me now that I did borrow of you, but, upon my soul, old fellow, I'd quite forgotten it. Should have paid it long ago. Awful obliged for the accommodation, doncherknow. Ta-ta."

And so the better went on. From Smith he secured ten dollars, from another five dollars, from another two dollars, and from still another three dollars, all in half an hour or so. He went back to the cafe, displayed his ill-gotten wealth, and helped to drink the basket of wine. The following evening he invited his victims to drink with him at the Bellevue. When the coffee and cigars were brought on Jones ventured the opinion that the host had made a big winning. This the host denied, and then explained that he was going to pay the bill with the money he had extorted from his hearers and told the story of his peculiar wager.

Styles of American Beauty.

There are changes taking place in established standards of beauty. For instance, the Southern type of lovely woman was formerly a creature of languorous movement, dusky hair, passionate, dark eyes; to-day she is frequently a classic blonde, devoid of high color, like a Cherokee rose, perfect in outline and energetic in movement, as are the traditional Northerners. Those American women, however, who are the most admired abroad are the conjunction of these two leading types—golden hair united to brown or hazel eyes, soft, smooth skin, with faint olive shading, little color, features sharply defined and the figure healthily rounded.

THE bicycle craze prevails in Denmark, and the ladies there ride them astride.

This Interesting Head-Piece Means Chopsticks, of Which the Use Is Hereinafter Explained.

[COPYRIGHT, 1890.]
[Special Correspondence.]

If one can not read the head-piece of this letter it argues, of necessity, that he can not read nor understand one word of Japanese, nor learn aught from the characters which are herewith printed. As all is possible, none the less, to him who will learn, I shall proceed to explain them. In the museum of wooden figures here, the scene which, more than any thing else, seems to excite the curiosity of foreigners, during our great Buddhist fair of Assaska is assuredly the one which represents Europeans eating with a fork. To the throngs this has for many a day seemed incomprehensible, and so soon as the crowd has seen these figures, they have expressed their surprise by cries of astonishment, accompanied by awkward and droll imitations with their fingers. "Sodeska! is it possible!" In short, this habit is a complete surprise to them. "A smart trick, in truth," they say, "to carry one's food to one's mouth with a tool that resembles a pitchfork more than any thing else," and they think that one is in great luck if it arrive there without slipping away and falling back into the sauce or spattering the tablecloth. "How graceful and neat," they cry out disdainfully. There is good reason to believe, too, that those awkward tools which you call forks will not long be used after you have learned something of Japanese cooking and their manner of eating. By what follows, I wish to inculcate in my readers some idea of the grace of our little Japanese chopsticks. So refined and so neat at table, when they are handled with proper dexterity and grace.

No one has accurately described their function, because no one can adequately understand it. First examine the characters at the head of this letter, to which allusion has already been made, and which serve to designate the chopsticks. You will at once see that it is easier to write and pronounce than the word fork. And now let us compare the two objects. On one hand we find barbarity in form, enormous weight, a tool difficult to handle and of doubtful cleanliness, while on the other hand, we see grace, refinement and extreme neatness. Stop to examine the two little chopsticks, six inches in length, the thickness of a lead pencil and of dazzling whiteness.

Our neighbors, the Chinese, who are less refined in their customs than we, make them of gold and silver, and times even of ivory, for use among the rich, while the poorer people in the restaurants use them made of the commoner metal. In the restaurants these little chop-sticks are used to establish a sort of lottery. They are heaped high up in a pile and in a great wooden box behind the door and marked with a cipher. Each patron of the place on entering plunges his hand into the box and draws out at hazard two sticks for his meal, and those whom fortune has favored and have drawn out two sticks with corresponding ciphers, are entitled to an additional dish.

Among us this custom is unknown, our civilization being too much refined for indulgence in these sorts of pastimes. Neither the poor nor the rich are ever served twice with the same chopsticks, were it even for the simplest meal. With us they are made exclusively of wood and invariably burned after each repast. When seated at the table each guest finds at his place a sealed envelope, containing a pair of chopsticks made of wood and immaculately white. And to show that they have never before been used they are cut from the same piece of stick and not entirely separated from the bottoms, precisely as your sulphur matches are made. When the first course has been served each guest unseals his envelope, picks up the chopsticks and separates them by breaking the wood.

By observing the following instructions one can readily learn how to use the chopsticks. Take the first stick and in the manner indicated in Fig. 1 place one end in the angle formed by the base of the thumb of the right hand and the forefinger, the middle of the stick resting lightly on the third finger, which must be slightly extended. Under these conditions the chopstick without any effort of pressure remains rigid and immovable—a part of the hand, in fact—which can only be moved when it follows that in its revolutions around the wrist. When this has been learned, seize the second stick between the end of the thumb which remains free the forefinger and the middle finger, precisely as one picks up a pen when about to write. This is the movable chopstick, in which resides all the mechanism and all the secret. It is this which by being brought closer to or moved farther from the first stick, will form the pincers to pick up every object, no matter how small it may be. The combination of these two maneuvers produces Fig. 3, and you can see how easy and graceful it becomes.

No matter how awkward you foreigners may be with your hands, it is impossible that you should not succeed in using the chopsticks at your first trial. The proof of it is that European children are the first to use them with us, and so soon as they have picked them up, they lose entirely the use of the fork, and it is only with great difficulty they acquire it again, much to the disgust of their parents. One should be able to do every thing with our chopsticks, but the supreme test of ability is to take eggs one by one from a plate and place them in a basket, situated on the floor, between the legs (see Fig. 4). In doing this it is necessary to avoid with great care the X, for then the stick becoming crossed, either crushes the egg or it falls and is broken. In one of the stores here, filled with household utensils, which one of our Emperors of the fifteenth century brought home from the temple of Nara, can be found several sorts of chop-sticks for eating and various kinds of models, which goes to prove that even at that early age we Japanese were eating with neatness and grace, while your ancestors were eating with their fingers.

A ROMANTIC CAREER.

Senator Mitchell's Rise from Obscure Poverty to Wealth and Prominence.

Hon Binger Herman, the Congressional Representative of Oregon, speaking of Senator Mitchell, says that his career has been romantic in the extreme. When very young he started life by opening a law office in a little adobe town called San Luis Obispo. Unfortunately the practice of law was conducted entirely in the Spanish language, and he debated for awhile whether he should go to some other city where the English language was used, or whether he should learn the Spanish language. He finally concluded that it would be cheaper and better for him to go to San Francisco, and he went there. He debated a long time as to whether he should thence go to Nevada, a country about which all people were wild because of the recent discovery of gold there, or whether he should go to Oregon. He finally decided to go to Oregon, and left San Francisco on the 4th of July, 1860, with just fifty-two dollars in his pocket. He stopped at a hotel in Portland where they charged twenty dollars a week for board; and, after a short stay he decided that he would open a law office there.

At that time he only had five dollars left, but his landlord trusted him for his board, and he hired a little office which had no furniture in it whatever. His last five dollar bill he spent in purchasing a book of the statutes of Oregon. He had no other library except the splendid education which he carried around in his head.

It was hard, up-hill work, as the reader may well understand, but young Mitchell got out his shingle finally, and by the end of the first year he had twenty-six out of the fifty-two cases that came before the court. He is a very handsome fellow, very affable, very polite and agreeable in his manners, and his practice rose steadily, so that it was not long before he was making $40,000 a year in his legitimate law practice. Of course, like begets like, and money begets money; and as soon as young Mitchell paid off his debts and commenced to save a little money in bank, he made investments of the money so that his fortune continued to grow. He is now far above the reach of possible want and the future of his family is also well cared for.

What a Blind Man Needs.

Schools for the blind are deficient in one important particular—they give too little attention to the practical and too much to the theoretical parts of education. I was educated in a school for the blind, says a blind man, and spent a good deal of time, for instance, in learning music, for which I had neither taste nor talent, and have always since been sorry I did not learn another trade instead of wasting my time at a piano. What a blind man needs is not so much high-grade culture as ability to make a living. He is put at a serious disadvantage by reasons of his blindness, and, as his bread is the prime consideration with him, he comes in after life to look with disapprobation on most of the educational frills now so popular in schools for the blind. To be sure, if he has time to learn any thing besides a trade, let him do it, and at all events he he should learn to read, but let him learn his trade first, and the balance if he can.—Chicago Journal.

PASTOR KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

Had the Desired Effect!

CARROLLTON, GREEN CO., ILL., Nov. '88.
I highly recommend Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic to anybody that has suffered from headache as my son did for 6 years, because 2 bottles of the medicine cured him.

Saved Her Life.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Feb. 9, 1889.
This is to certify that my mother has suffered from nervous weakness for over 25 years. We have tried innumerable remedies and physicians, she also went to Germany for her health, spending in all thousands of dollars with only temporary benefit. At last we tried Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic and Elixir of Iron, and I honestly and sincerely believe that she not only received more benefit from them than all others combined, but would have died before this without them, as she was getting weaker every day, before we began with the above medicine.
DR. ROBT. F. EHNI, 774 Chapel st.

Our Pamphlet for sufferers of nervous diseases will be sent free to any address, and poor patients can also obtain this medicine free of charge from us.
This remedy has been prepared by the Reverend Pastor Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., for the past ten years, and is now prepared under his direction by the

SOMETHING NEW TODAY

At V. and W.

Our Dress Goods stock surpasses all previous years. We have bought every thing that is new and desirable in Plain Plaids and Striped, and our prices are, as usual, very moderate.

* * * * *

Better values were never offered in Ladies' and Children's Jackets and New Markets, than we are offering this season.

* * * * *

Underwear for Ladies, Gentlemen and Children will soon have the call. Remember we keep everything in that line, and we guarantee Quality and Price.

* * * * *

We are booming our Kid Glove Dep't, and will sell a fine five button kid for 65c., and will sell a guaranteed 5 hook kid, black and colored, for $1, and will sell an 8 button length, Suede kid, colored, for $1 25, and will sell an 8 button length, Suede kid, black, for $1 48.

* * * * *

We bought very early in the season, five cases of Blankets, and will sell them at special low prices for the next ten days. Don't miss it.

* * * * *

Don't forget that we keep most every thing in the way of Crockery, Tinware, and Housekeeping Goods, and sell them at right prices. We deliver everywhere free of charge.

VAN EMBURGH & WHITE.

Genuine Welts for $3.00 Per Pair.

These are the BEST we have ever seen for the PRICE. They're just as smooth inside—will fit and wear as well as a pair of custom boots at double the money; no nails nor tacks; no wax threads nor ridges; strictly COMMON SENSE and medium opera toes.

We Have Got It at Last!

NICARAUGUA COFFEE. Our first shipment direct from the plantatton, has just arrived. NICARAUGUA COFFEE, in point of flavor, is one of the finest brought to this market. It is less harsh than Rio, much more pungent than Java, while the price at which it is furnished gives it a decided preference over both.

Consumers of Coffee will find it suited to most tastes; it only requires acquaintance of its merits to make it an established favorite.

Don't forget that we handle every kind Tea and Coffee that grows, receiving shipments of the latter, fresh roasted, twice weekly.

BLOWN TO ATOMS

Terrible Explosion at the Dupont Powder Mills

NEAR WILMINGTON, DELAWARE

Twelve Persons Killed and a Number of Others More or Less Injured.

Many Houses Wrecked By the Explosions That Were Felt In Three States—The Disaster Caused By a Workman Who Was Soldering Up Cans of Powder. Some of the Victims Blown to Pieces.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 8.—A terrific explosion resulting in the loss of twelve lives, the injuring of many people and the destruction of much property occurred yesterday afternoon in the upper yard of the extensive powder works of E I. Dupont, De Nemours & Co., on Brandywine Creek, three miles north of this city. The shock was keenly felt here and caused intense excitement. Buildings trembled and windows were demolished.

A reporter who left here for the scene of the disaster says that as he reached the Mount Salem Methodist Church, a mile from the city, he saw broken frames in the church windows and other evidences of destruction.

Following a curve in the road, he beheld an appalling spectacle. Women and children, wives and sons and daughters of men employed in the powder manufactory were madly rushing here and there seeking information about their loved ones.

The yard in which the mills stood was littered with debris of fallen buildings, and at some places where buildings had been the only trace left was empty cellars.

The little village of Dupont's Banks, immediately outside the powder yard, presented a most pitiable appearance. A hundred dwellings were either demolished or badly damaged. Buildings were unroofed, fronts of houses were blown out and wrecked.

Inside the dwellings the devastation was complete.

The soda mill, a large stone building about 200 yards from the magazines, is wrecked, the roof of the charcoal mills fell, and the buildings themselves took fire from the furnaces. Effective use of the fire apparatus at the works soon extinguished the fires.

Where the corning and packing house stood there are holes in the ground ten feet deep.

The large storage magazine containing several tons of powder and built of corrugated iron is situated about a quarter of a mile from the wrecked mills, it with another smaller mill escaped; also the glazing-room and press room.

Four of the Duponts and several clerks were in the office when the explosion took place. Every window was blown out and much of the plastering fell from the walls, but beyond scratches, cuts and bruises no one was hurt.

Two horses being driven through the yard were killed while their driver escaped.

William R. Green was working in the magazine when that blew up first. He was packing powder for the Government. It is supposed that his soldering iron became hot and ignited the powder.

There were at least seven successive explosions. Every dwelling in the neighborhood is wrecked or unroofed, and buildings within a radius of half a mile are more or less damaged.

The little town of Rockland is a complete wreck. None of its houses are left standing. Rockland is a village on the Brandywine, a mile above the scene of the explosion. It comprised a large paper mill owned by the Jessup & Moore Company, and about fifty dwellings, in which chiefly resided the mill employes. Its population is about two hundred.

About fifty families are rendered homeless there.

The injured are being gathered into the hospital building appertaining to the works, and are receiving such aid as they need.

Some of the killed were blown to pieces.

The list of dead, so far reported, is as follows:

Wm S. Green, a solderer, aged 40, leaves a widow and four children. His body was found whole but so badly blackened as to be barely recognizable. William McGarvey, laborer, aged 40, single, head blown off; Martin Dolan, aged 65, employed in the graining mill, leaves a family; Jim Dolan, a laborer, aged 60, single; John H. Harrigan, laborer, married, aged 30; Michael Harrigan, laborer; Patrick Dougherty, aged 30, single; John Newell, laborer, aged 30, leaves a family; John Herlihe, laborer; Michael Herlihe, laborer; Mrs. Rosie Dougherty, aged 30, found crushed by the roof of her house.

It is estimated that between seven and ten tons of powder were exploded, some reports say two or three times that much. The total loss will be from $200,000 to $500,000. The company is rich and will begin to rebuild at once.

Says There Is No Danger of Famine.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Minister of Commerce, speaking at Gloucester last night ridiculed Mr. Morley's statements regarding the condition of Ireland. He said there was no famine, such as had existed in 1846, and while there was a partial failure of the potato crop in some districts, the Government would not allow any suffering to result from it.

Endorsed the Republican Nominee.

BUFFALO, Oct. 8.—The Democratic Eighth Judicial district convention supported the Republican nominee for Judge of the Supreme Court, Hon. Albert Haight.

C. Y. M. N. UNION.

The Sixteenth Annual Convention in Session at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The sixteenth annual convention of the Catholic Young Men's National Union is in session here. Delegates to the number of 100 are present, representing about 50 Catholic societies, members of the Union.

In an address to the convention Cardinal Gibbons said: "Some one has said, that were he given the making of a country's songs, he cared not who made its laws. I would amend that by saying that if I were given the forming of the character of the young men of the land I would not care for the rest." He went on to talk of the prospects and duties of the Union, and referred to the plans of work that are to be discussed at this meeting, more especially the question of the formation of reading rooms and libraries.

He was frequently interrupted by applause, and when he sat down the applause was long and enthusiastic, so that he was compelled to acknowledge it again and again.

The Union was welcomed to Washington by District Commissioner Douglass in a short address to which Bishop Keane responded. The business of the convention then began and various reports were read, and applications for membership from some 25 societies were filed and referred.

The convention will be in session several days.

DINED AT WASHINGTON.

The Count of Paris and Party Entertained By Old Soldiers Last Night.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The Count of Paris and party were given a dinner last night at the Metropolitan Club by General Schofield. Secretaries Noble and Rusk, Admiral Franklin, Generals Rosecrans, Augur, Wright, Har, Casey, Breckinridge, Howard, Vincent, Butterfield and McKeever, and Colonels Coppinger and Nicholson were among the guests.

The Count and his suite will leave Washington for Norfolk this evening, and returning to Richmond will spend several days about Fredericksburg, visiting the battlefields of Chancellorsville and the Wilderness. He will then return to Washington a few days later and will visit Antietam and Gettysburg before returning to New York.

New York Congressional Nominations.

GREENFIELD, Mass., Oct. 8.—The Democrats of the Eleventh district nominated Frederick S. Coolidge of Ashburnham for Congress.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Oct. 8.—The Republican Congressional convention of the Fifteenth district nominated Clarence Lexow of Rockland County for Congress.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Oct. 8.—The Republicans of the Sixteenth district nominated General John A. Ketcham for Congress.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 8.—The Democrats of the Eighteenth District nominated G. W. Skinner for Congress.

Another Tragedy in Warren County, N. Y.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 8.—News of another tragedy in Warren County has reached here. It is reported that Franklin Colts and his son Charles, aged 16 years, of Warrensburg, visited the Luzerne Fair the last week in August. Colts returned alone, saying the boy had gone to Fort Edward to work. He brought back the boy's old clothing, bloodstained and dirty, to be washed. Nothing further being heard of the son, search was made with the result of finding the dead body of Charles under the barn. It is said that the father has been arrested.

Assembly Nominations.

G. Bradley Taylor has been nominated by the Democrats of the First Orange district at Newburg for member of the Assembly.

Lewis Varney, of Saratoga, was nominated by the Republicans of the Second Saratoga Assembly district.

James L. Dempsey, of Clinton, was renominated for member of Assembly by the Democrats of the Second Oneida district at Rome.

The Hon. E. A. Briggs was nominated for Assembly by the Republicans of Poughkeepsie.

Object to Free Masons Participating.

LOWELL, Mass., Oct. 8.—Rev. Wm. J. Joyce, of the Oblate Order, has presented at the city clerk's office the remonstrance against laying the corner stone of the city hall by the Masonic rite. The remonstrance bears the names of twenty-three clergymen and 4,640 Catholic laymen. The names of the pastor and associates of St. Peter's Church are not in the remonstrance.

Salvador and Guatemala Fighting Again.

CITY OF GUATEMALA, Oct. 8.—Advices received here say the Guatemalans and Salvadorians are fighting again on the frontier. It states war has again been precipitated owing to the inability of the Guatemalan Government to exchange prisoners with Salvador. The first named Government shot every Salvadorian soldier captured in the late war.

GUILTY OF MURDER

Arthur Day Convicted of Killing His Wife.

TO BE HANGED NOVEMBER, 18.

Speedy Work of the Law's Machinery at Welland, Ont.

Convicted on the Evidence Given By His Sister, Mrs. Quigley, of Rochester—She Breaks Down While Telling Her Story. The Defence Offered No Evidence—The Jury Out Only Two Hours.

WELLAND, Ont., Oct. 8.—The trial of Arthur Day of Rochester, N. Y., for the murder of his wife on July 27 last, was an example of speedy justice. The case was called at 9:30 yesterday morning and at precisely 10:30 last night went to the jury. At 12:45 this morning a verdict of guilty was returned and Day was sentenced to be hanged on November 18.

The principal witness against the defendant was his sister, Mrs Quigley, of Rochester. She testified in substance as follows:

I remember being at the Falls in July last. My brother asked me to go there with him, offering to pay my fare. I asked him was his wife going, and she said yes. We went to the Erie depot, where we were joined by Mrs. Day. We then found we would have to take the New York Central and so went on that road. We had dinner at the Falls. Then we took the street car to the lower Suspension Bridge which we crossed and started for the Whirlpool. When we reached the point overlooking the Whirlpool, I sat down to rest, as my feet were swollen. About twenty minutes afterward I saw a shadow pass behind me which must have been my brother and his wife. The next I saw of them they were standing on the brink about three to five minutes walk away from me in the direction where we came from.

"How were they standing?"

"One behind the other. My brother was behind Desire. I was standing looking at the river. The next time he looked he was waving to me with a black handkerchief and I walked up to where he was."

"What did he say when you walked up to him?"

All eyes in the court room were upon the witness intently. She was silent for a few moments. A pin could be heard drop. Suddenly her eyes filled with tears and she broke out sobbing and weeping.

"Well, if I must tell, I must," she exclaimed, and looking straight at the prisoner, her brother, she said: "He said 'I have shoved her over. She never moved, and never knew what struck her.'"

Then the witness broke down entirely, bowed her head on the rail of the witness-box and sobbed pitifully.

On cross examination the witness admitted that she had been arrested twice for larceny and that she once kept a house of ill-repute.

Mr. German endeavored to shake her story as to the fatal walk to the whirlpool, but she stuck to everything she had said without the slightest variation.

She was then re-examined by Mr. Johnstone as to the exact positions of the accused and his supposed victim and the witness, but no new facts were brought out.

Witnesses were then called to testify to the finding of the body; the place where it lay, and its condition.

Several witnesses, including B. C. Furtherer, of Rochester, N. Y., John C. Hayden and Mrs. Hulbert, of Rochester, gave evidence corroborating evidence previously given, and the court took a recess until 7:45 p. m.

Upon resuming, the prisoner having no evidence to offer, Mr. German addressed the jury. He claimed that the Crown had no evidence against the prisoner except that of Mrs. Quigley. Mr. German made an eloquent appeal in favor of the prisoner.

Mr. Johnson, for the Crown, said that Mrs. Quigley was testifying against her own brother and would not be likely to swear falsely to imperil him.

Judge Rose then reviewed the evidence, charging strongly against the prisoner. He told the jury they should return a verdict upon the evidence, if it was a case of suicide or accidental, the prisoner was innocent, if not, he was guilty.

Striking Michigan Miners.

ISPHEMING, Mich., Oct. 8.—A mass meeting of the three thousand striking miners will be held to day at which the miners will discuss the situation. There is some hope that a compromise can be reached. Every mine in Ispheming is now idle. The strikers are orderly. [redacted]

Want to Organize Banks.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Applications for authority to organize national banks have been filed with the Comptroller of the Currency as follows: The Dominion National Bank of Bristol, at Bristol, Va.; the First National Bank of Dushore, at Dushore, Pa.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.

THE JERSEY MYSTERY.

Lingo's Lawyers Ready for the Prosecutor's Latest Developments.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—It does not look now as if the prosecution was going to have an easy task fastening the murder of Mrs. Miller on the negro, Lingo, unless they have evidence of which the public has no knowledge. His attorneys now explain the whereabouts of the missing razor and the blood stains on his clothing. Lawyer Jess, speaking of the razor said: "We have had Lingo's razor ever since he was arrested in the Leconey case. It has never been out of our possession. We are ready to turn it over to the State at any time, and so convince them that one of the mysteries, so far as Lingo is concerned, is cleared away.

"As to the blood stains on Lingo's clothing that can be easily explained. Frank is a known professional hog killer for the farmers about Matchtown, and was bound to get more or less blood on his clothing."

Dr. Bartine, a prominent physician of Merchantville, said that from the appearance of the wound in the murdered womans neck he was of the opinion it was made with some other instrument than a razor, one not as sharp.

STRICT GUARD OVER BIRCHALL.

The Sheriff Receives Special Instructions from the Provincial Prison Inspector.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Oct. 8.—The sheriff has received definite instructions from the provincial inspector of prisons with regard to the care of Birchall.

The jailor will purchase the prisoner's food and superintend its cooking and preparation. Birchall will not be allowed the use of a knife or anything else with which he might do bodily harm to his attendant or himself. No one is to be allowed to see him except the jail surgeon and his spiritual adviser unless on the special order of the sheriff.

It is advised that the visits of his wife be restricted to once a week, and the husband and wife are not to be allowed to approach each other close enough to enable him to receive secretly anything whatever from her.

Census Figures.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The Census Office has announced the following statistics with the increases since 1880: Ohio, population of State, 3,666,719; increase 468,657. West Virginia, population of State, 770,448; increase 141,991. Iowa, population of State, 1,906,729; increase 282,114. New York State—Counties, Delaware, 45,221; increase 2,500. Orange, 96,662; increase 3,442. Rockland, 35,055; increase 7,365. Sullivan, 30,390; increase 1,601. Ulster, 86,762, increase 924. Cities in New York State—Kingston, 21,181; increase 2,837. Middletown, 11,918; increase 3,424. Newburgh, 23,263; increase 5,214.

Free Delivery to Be Established.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The free delivery service will be established at the following named postoffices on November 1, 1890: Melrose, Mass.; Plymouth, Mass.; Everett, Mass.; Peabody, Mass.; South Bethlehem, Pa.; Shamokin, Pa.; Oil City, Pa.; Sharon, Pa.; Ironton, O.; Marion, O.; Waverly N. Y.; Central Falls, R. I.; Vineland, N. J.; Jeffersonville, Ind.; Laporte, Ind.; Connorsville, Ind.; Alameda, Cal.; San Bernadino, Cal.; Owasso, Mich.; West Bay City, Mich.; Pontiac, Mich.; Nevada, Mo.; West Superior, Wis.; Durham, N. C., and Greensborough, N. C.

The Central Advances Wages.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The Central has increased the wages of their freight engineers and firemen as follows, the the advance beginning the first of this month: Engineers of over two years' experience running "mogul" or ten-wheel engines will be paid four cents a mile. All firemen on "mogul" or ten-wheel engines will be paid two cents a mile. The increase in mileage rates, it is claimed, means an advance in their wages of from 20 to 30 per cent., and places the freight men on a level with the passenger men.

Will Carry Freight Both Ways.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Circulars are now being issued both in London and Philadelphia conveying the important information that the North Atlantic Steamship line, which has hitherto maintained sailings eastbound only, is now enlarged and will be hereafter operated as a regular service both ways between London and Philadelphia.

Cholera's Terrible Work.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Horrible accounts come from the Red Sea of the condition of the cholera victims. The Arabs and strangers in that region are dying by scores. From the interior of Arabia the accounts are as fully heartrending, and the victims are said to be numbered by the thousands.

Conductor Houghtaling Acquitted.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 8.—The trial of Conductor Houghtaling on the charge of manslaughter, for carelessness in causing the accident at Hamburg, in which a number of people were killed, resulted in acquittal, the jury being out only one hour.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 8.—Prof. J. H. Hewitt, who died at his home in this city yesterday in the 90th year of his age, was a contemporary of Edgar Allen Poe, and the author of a number of songs and poems popular 50 years ago.

THE WESTERN TRIP

Tour of the President and His Party.

SPEECHES AT MANY PLACES.

An Outpouring of the People to See the Chief Executive.

He Makes an Address at Nearly Every Stopping Place—An Old Man Who Voted for His Grandfather Shook Hands With the President and Addressed Him as Ben.

DANVILLE, Ill., Oct. 8.—The President's trip is one of continuous ovations. Kentucky, Ohio, and Indiana have joined in doing him homage, and in the land of Dixie the greeting was no less warm than in the native State of President Harrison. The Chief Executive is kept busy addressing the people who flock to the depot as the train enters each town at which a stop is made.

As the train passed Notch Bend, Ind., where is situated the old Harrison Homestead, a stop was made just abreast the house in which Benjamin Harrison first saw the light, and but a few yards from the white shaft that marks the tomb of ex-President William Henry Harrison. As the President passed to the rear platform he was unaccompanied by the rest of the party, who left him to the memories that the scenes of his childhood and youth called forth. After a brief stop the train passed on, but the President was visibly affected. When the little town of Lawrenceburg was reached his voice was heavy with emotion as he addressed the crowd of old neighbors and friends that thronged to greet him.

Secretary Tracy contented himself by merely bowing to the enthusiastic crowd, and he and the President had time to shake a few eager hands that were extended as the train pulled out.

At Milan and Osgood large crowds were also assembled, but the President merely appeared on the platform of the rear car, introduced Secretary Tracy, and bowed to the cheering crowds.

At North Vernon, Ind., the crowd would be satisfied with nothing less than a speech, and the President said a few kind words to them.

Seymour, Ind., gave rousing evidence of the President's popularity in that little town, and after he had introduced Secretary Tracy, a note was handed the President, which he hastily perused. It was a request to speak to the school children, which he did in a few fitting words.

At Mitchell, Consul-General New left the party, and once more the President was called upon to pay his acknowlments to the school children.

At Washington, Ind., an old gray-haired man pushed his way through the crowd, grasped the President by the hand and addressing him as Ben, said he had voted for his grandfather and for him, and would vote again for him. He said he hoped the President did not object to being addressed as Ben. To this the President laughed and informed him that it pleased him to be addressed by old friends.

This encouraged an old lady to exclaim as she grasped the President's hand: "I feel as though I am related to you, Mr. President. Your grandfather and mine ate roast turkey and pig together, and that makes us related, doesn't it?"

The President bowed his affirmation to this logic as the train moved out.

The principal event of the day was the reception of the party at Terre Haute. A stand had been erected and beautifully decorated, and fully 10,000 people assembled to greet the party. Here the President and Secretary Tracy spoke at some length.

He Murdered Ten People.

MACON, Ga., Oct. 8.—In the Houston County Superior Court at Perry, yesterday afternoon, Thomas G. Woolfolk was a second time sentenced to be hanged for the murder of ten members of his father's family in Bibb County, in August, 1887. The case is the most notable one in the criminal annals of the State. On the night of August 7, 1887, Woolfolk took an axe, and going from room to room in his father's house, butchered every one of its inmates while they slept. They were his father, step-mother, three half-sisters, three half-brothers, one infant in arms, and an aged aunt, Mrs. West. He will be hanged October 10.

Returns from Connecticut.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 8.—Official returns from the town elections in Connecticut come in slowly. These are to a large degree local contests and are often more personal and domestic than political, though the result is always looked for with interest. Of 110 towns at present reported, 49 elect Republican town clerks and Board of Selectmen, 39 go Democratic, and 22 are divided. Last year these same towns stood 52 Republican, 32 Democratic, 22 divided.

Committee on Faith Revision.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 8.—The Committee on Revision of Confession of Faith of the Presbyterian Church effected a permanent organization by the election of Dr. William C. Roberts of Lake Forest College, Illinois, president, and Dr. William E. E. Moore, of Columbus, O., secretary. The members of the press will not be permitted to attend any of the committee meetings.

Train Robber Burrows Run Down.

The Soudan Famine.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Late reports from the Soudan confirm the worst reports regarding the famine there. Suakim is thronged with the orphans of those who have perished through war and starvation, and several acts of cannibalism are reported to have occurred among the starving Hadendowas. The hospital at Suakim is full of the sick, and a British Relief Society is busy administering to the wants of the suffering.

The Irish Trials.

TIPPERARY, Oct. 8.—An adjournment has been taken till Friday in the Dillon-O'Brien cases. Dr. Nadin, who had visited Mr. O'Mahony, informed the court yesterday that that gentleman would be unable to be present for several days yet at the quickest. Mr. Dillon says that on Friday Mr. O'Mahony would come here to reside during the trial.

THIRD WARD—Chairman—John W. Murray. Secretary—Wm. T. Kirk. County Convention Delegates—John W. Murray, Jr., F. A. Dunham, Wm. T. Kirk, Wm. Thompson, Alex. Gilbert. Assembly Convention Delegates—T. O. Doane, F. E. Marsh, Alex. Gilbert, M. M. Dunham, B. F. Coriell. Members of County Executive Committee—J. Frank Hubbard, Ernest R. Ackerman.

The fourth ward primary will be held to-night. The Assembly Convention will be held at the Town Hall, Westfield, Monday, October 13, to nominate a candidate for Member of Assembly. The County Convention will be held at Library Hall, Elizabeth, to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Senator, Sheriff and Coroners.

The Republican primary at Fanwood resulted as follows: County Convention delegates—David P. Hall, Postmaster H. Hand, Dr. F. W. Westcott. Assembly Convention delegates—John Robinson, Lewis W. Miller, Joseph Clark. Members of County Executive Committee—David P. Hall, Lewis W. Miller.

Getting Ready for the Winter's Work.

Huribut Circle, C. L. S. C., will meet to-morrow evening in Vincent Chapel, at eight o'clock, to organize for the work of 1890-91. All who desire to become members, or to be informed respecting the purposes of the circle, are invited to attend. The course of readings for the year is varied and interesting, and includes English History, Language and Literature, French Literature, Geology and American Church History.

HYMENEAL.

THIERS—PELLETRAU.

This evening at the home of the bride's parents, 306 Livingston street, Brooklyn, will take place the wedding of Miss Florence Lansing Pelletrau and Charles Rodolphe Thiers of this city. The immediate relatives and intimate friends only, of the couple, will be present at the ceremony, but a large number of invitations have been issued for a reception to follow from 8 till 10 o'clock. Messrs Emerson and Jackson, of the Crescent League, will be the ushers. Upon their return from a wedding trip, Dr. and Mrs. Thiers will be at home in the Craig homestead on Somerset street. The extensive list of bridal gifts already received, testifies how high a place the couple occupy in the esteem of their large circle of acquaintances. Their friends in the Crescent League presented them with an elegant and costly clock of onyx.

STOVER—SYMONDS.

The marriage of Herbert W. Stover, of this city, and Miss Lillian Symonds, will take place at six o'clock to-morrow evening at the home of the bride's mother, First street, Albany. The affair will be very private because of the recent death of the bride's father. The groom is a son of ex-Councilman and ex-Fire Commissioner Rowland M. Stover, and occupies a lucrative position with John W. Murray's fire insurance company, the German American. The newly-wedded couple will live in this city.

CODDINGTON—WILSON.

The wedding of William Archibald Coddington, of Plainfield, to Miss Ida May Wilson, of the Borough, will take place this evening at six o'clock, at the home of the bride's brother, Albert H. Wilson, of Woodbridge. The officiating clergyman will be the Rev. Mr. Gates, pastor of the Woodbridge M. E. church. The form of ceremony will be Episcopalian. The groom himself, attired in a Prince Albert costume of broadcloth, will escort the bride through an aisle formed by the twinings of silken white ribbon, to the altar nook that has been provided for the occasion in a bay window of the parlors. The bride will wear a handsome costume of white silk, low corsage, and will carry a bouquet of Marechal Niel roses. The wedding march, from Lohengrin, will be played by Miss Imogene Smith, of Dunellen. The pathway over which the bride and groom will pass will be strewn with flowers. The ushers will include Charles B. VanWinkle and Fred Cutter, of Plainfield. The number of guests will be limited strictly to relatives and intimate friends, owing to the recent death of the mother of the groom. A reception will follow the ceremony, and the happy young husband and wife will depart on their wedding trip. Their honeymoon will be spent amid the rare October beauties of the Berkshire Hills and other New England resorts. Their future home is Plainfield.

M'INTYRE—WOODLAND.

Miss Annie Woodland, youngest daughter of the late John A. Woodland, and sister of Henry Woodland of Grandview avenue, was married to David M. McIntyre, of Newark, at her home, 215 Somerset street, North Plainfield, today. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple boarded an early afternoon train for a wedding trip in the South.

TURN ON THE LIGHT!

Let There Be Illumination of Councilmanic Methods as Well as of Streets.

Superintentendent Moore, of the Plainfield Electric Light Company, told a PRESS reporter today that his company had offered, and offers now, to light the streets of the borough of North Plainfield with lamps of a greater candle-power, and for less money per lamp, than was stipulated in the recent offer of the proposed Edison Electric Light Company of North Plainfield. Yet the Committee on Lights reported at the last meeting of the Borough Council that they preferred the offer of the Edison Company to that of the Plainfield Company. This is a matter that ought to be thoroughly investigated at the next meeting, Friday evening. The money that is spent on street lights comes out of the pockets of the people, and that concern which will give the best service for the least money ought to receive the contract.

Lawyer Reed Has Lawyer VanNess Put in Jail.

Some time ago lawyer J. K. VanNess bought at Sheriff's sale a part of the Allen property out East Front street. He paid only a part of the purchase money, and proceedings were commenced to get the rest. The court upon application of Counselor Charles Reed issued its summons for VanNess, but he failed to appear. Then a warrant for his arrest for contempt was placed in Constable Amos Moffett's hands.

After patient waiting and watching the Constable got his hands on VanNess, and the slippery attorney was locked up in the County Jail under Warden Dodd's care.

Dr. Davis Gets Judgment for His Horse.

The first case to be tried in the Union County Courts this term was that of Dr. T. S. Davis against Mark Moore. The physician had a horse killed, some time ago, on Peace street, by Moore's driving into it, and the suit for damages resulted. The justice of the doctor's claim was made so apparent by Counselor Chas. A. Reed that he was promptly awarded a verdict for $326.85.

BANDED TOGETHER FOR EARNEST WORK.

Progress of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union—New Superintendents Chosen—What is Mapped Out for the Future.

At a recent meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union the election of the following Superintendents of Department Work for the coming year was confirmed:

Evangelistic—Mrs. Eaton; Loyal Temperance Legion—Miss Beekman; Kitchen Garden—Miss Alice Smith; Literature—Mrs. Yates; Sunday school—Mrs. Winter; Press—Miss C. R. Yates; Parliamentary Usage—Miss C.R. Yates; Parlor meetings—Mrs. P. M. Smith; Hygiene—Mrs. Coard; Unfermented wine—Mrs. Coard; German Work—Mrs. Voehl; Social Purity—Mrs. A. M. Powell; Flower Mission—Miss Mineola Tomlinson.

Reports from these several departments will be given at the Thursday meetings of the Union, which are to be held hereafter at 3:30 P. M., at the Woman's Christian Temperance Union rooms, 73 West Front street, and to which not only the members but the public generally are cordially invited.

Beginning with Oct. 16, the weekly meetings of the Union will be held Thursday afternoon at 3:30.

The regular monthly business meetings of the Union are hereafter to be held on the afternoons of the second Thursday of each month at 3:30 o'clock.

Pursuant to a call by the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, the meeting of Thursday, Oct. 30, will be set apart for prayer, further notice of which will be given later.

The W. C. T. U. Bazar, which was arranged early last Spring to be held next month, has been postponed to December, commencing on the 9th, in consideration of the November evangelistic meetings, recently announced to be conducted in this city.

A BRIGHT LIFE CLOSED.

Death Ends the Useful Career of an Ambitious Young Citizen.

The funeral of the late Lewis A. Anderson, formerly of Plainfield, and brother-in-law of Lewis M. Bird, of the Borough, took place from his late residence in New Brunswick yesterday. Mr. Anderson was born at Greenpoint, L. I., March 11, 1852, and was in his thirty-ninth year. On April 26, 1876, at the age of 24, he was married to Miss Fannie S. Bird, of Somerset county. Three children blessed their union: Louise, 12 years; George, 9 years; and Harry 6 years. The last is now suffering from typhoid fever, the same disease which caused the father's death. Mr. Anderson was a prominent member of Palestine Lodge, No. 111, Free and Accepted Masons, and at the time of his death was Senior Warden, and would in all probability have been its next Master. He was a member of Ruth Chapter, No. 12, Order of the Eastern Star. He was also a member of St. James' Methodist Episcopal church, Relief Council, Order of United American Mechanics, Washington Commandery, and Secretary of Liberty Hose Company. Every since G. B. Munn, his brother-in-law, has been unable to give his attention to his business, Mr. Anderson had taken entire charge of the Empire Machine Works at New Brunswick, and managed them with marked ability and success, devoting all his energies to this as well as anything else he undertook to do. His motto seemed to be that whatever was worth doing at all was worth doing well. His death is a severe blow to his wife and children, he having recently built and furnished a comfortable home, and was, to all appearances, just reaching life's highest enjoyment.

He was a devoted husband and loving father, affectionate and kind to his family, unselfish and true to his friends, and died leaving a host of them to mourn his untimely end.

This Year's Events in Bi Club's Tournament.

The events for the Fall tournament of the Bicycle Club to be held at The Crescent about Nov. 15 will include the following:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| 60 yards dash | Open to Plainfield | |
| Hurdle race (handicap) | " | " |
| 1 mile Safety | " | " |
| ½ mile run (handicap) | " | " |
| 60 yards relief | " | " |
| 1 mile roller skate | " | " |
| Sack race | " | Club |
| 3-legged race | " | " |
| 1 mile Safety Bi | " | " |
| 1 mile ordinary Bi | " | " |
| ¼ mile run (handicap) | " | " |
| ¼ mile run, scholars' champion, scratch. | | |
| Tug of war, Elizabeth Wheelmen and Plainfield Bicycle Club. | | |

Entry fee, 50 cents for the first event; 25 cents, each after. Those who have not already made their entries should do so before the 13th inst., as the committee must have a sufficient number to guarantee success before they can decide whether or not to go ahead.

Sacred Concert Next Sunday Evening.

Their first praise service of the season will be given by the Crescent Avenue choir, next Sunday evening. The programme will consist of:

|---|---|
| Be Merciful to Me, O Lord | Robyn |
| Saviour, when Night Involves the Skies | Shelley |
| O Lord, I Come | Braga |
| The Pillars of the Earth | Tours |
| Trio—Fountain of Life Eternal | Campana |
| Solo, tenor | Rock of Ages |

Is it not surprising that nearly every household in the country should be acquainted with the merits, virtues, and the healthful properties of Hires' Root Beer? For years it has been the standard drink of those who enjoy a delicious temperance beverage. It tones up the system, helps nature, and is just what all need in hot weather. A 25 cent package makes five gallons. Sold everywhere.

Five Months for Manslaughter.

BIDDEFORD, Me., Oct. 8.—William Minnehan was convicted of manslaughter at Alfred, and sentenced to five months in jail. Last summer, Minnehan, while drunk, took his children out in a boat. To frighten the youngest, a little girl, he held her over the side of the boat. His hold upon her gave way, and the child fell into the water and was drowned.

Big Bequest to Amherst College.

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 8.—The will of the late John C. Newton, of this city, has just been admitted to probate. The bulk of the property, amounting to $40,000, is bequeathed to Amherst College as a permanent endowment to the professor's chair, now held by Richard H. Mather, that of Greek and Art of Sculpture.

Dutch Ports Angry Over Our Tariff.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Amsterdam advices represent that the feeling in the Dutch ports is most bitter regarding the McKinley tariff, and that the Dutch Ministry is endeavoring to devise some method of retaliation. This is difficult, owing to the fact that American trade with Holland has been nearly one-sided.

Report of the Governor of Alaska.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Lyman E. Knapp, Governor of Alaska, in his annual report to the Secretary says that about 100,000 full-sized fur skins were taken by the Alaska Commercial Company during the year, and probably half as many more were captured at sea and stolen by poaching vessels. The cod fishing industry in Alaska, though far from insignificant, is only a tithe of what it should be. The people of Alaska want a delegate to represent them in Congress.

Revolution Again Feared in Buenos Ayres.

BUENOS AYRES, Oct. 8.—This city was thrown into a panic last night by rumors of a new revolution. The troops were called out, and detachments of cavalry patrolled streets. The police were armed and held in readiness to meet any emergency. Reinforcements of artillery came to the city this morning, and the naval fleet were gotten ready to co-operate with the land forces in case of necessity. Many Deputies and Senators passed the night at the President's residence.

Morley an Envoy of Peace.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Mr. John Morley, speaking last night at Swindon, ridiculed the idea that because he had been a Minister he should blindfold himself to the condition of affairs in Ireland. What pleased him more than being a Minister was his being an envoy of peace and hope from the democracy of England to the democracy of Ireland. Every word he had told Englishmen as to the happenings in Ireland was the truth, and he was glad he had helped in the exposure of the magisterial authorities.

Must Send the Chinamen Back.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The Treasury Department, in reply to a letter from United States Marshal Brown, of Tacoma, asking what disposition he should make of Chinese laborers found to be in the United States unlawfully, informed him to return to China at once at the Government's expense all such Chinese laborers.

Guilty of Manslaughter.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Phenix P. Palmer, the safe mover, who on the 26th of March last, killed lawyer John H. Atkinson, by the blow of a cart rung, was convicted of manslaughter in the first degree, as charged in the indictment last night. The penalty is from 5 to 20 years.

The Y. C. T. U. Convention.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Oct. 8.—The Rev. Thomas K. Beecher delivered a formal address of welcome before the W. C. T. U. convention, last evening, and there was also an address by the Rev. Mr. Eastman.

Guilty of Murder in First Degree.

SKOWHEGAN, Me., Oct. 8.—Micah W. Norton, charged with murdering his housekeeper, Ann Cooley, in New Portland, last April, has been found guilty of murder in the first degree.

Bread! Bread! The Cry for Bread!

A million loaves, not enough for one city! Five millions, not enough for one State! Fifty millions, not enough for this country a single day, yet often what sour, soggy stuff it is, nevertheless it is eaten, and the result is dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, impoverished blood, pimples, blotches and scrofula. For the correction of all this, and as a general tonic for the system, take Golden Medical Discovery prepared by Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo. Its action is like a charm, a "benediction that follows after prayer." A remedy for stomanchic and liver troubles, as well as a specific for throat and lung disorders. It is guaranteed to benefit or cure, or money refunded.

CITY SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

Mr. Hurlbut Bears Testimony to Principal Goodrich's Service, and Tells the State Superintendent all About the Finest Schools in New Jersey.

Because of the unavoidable absence of two of the School Trustees on the regular meeting night of the Board of Education which would have been last Monday, the meeting was held a week earlier. At that time City Superintendent Hurlbut presented his annual report as follows:

To the State Superintendent of Public Instruction:

DEAR SIR:—I have the honor to present my report of the Plainfield Public Schools, for the year ending August 31, 1890.

As has been stated in former reports, the actual work of the Superintendent is done by the Principal, who is now in charge of five schools, assisted in the management by a Vice Principal in each school building. During all the past year our efficient Principal, Miss Julia E. Bulkley, was absent on leave, engaged in a tour through Europe and the East, both for recreation, health, and the study of school methods in various countries, of which she has now brought home carefully prepared reports. The high standard of our schools was maintained during her absence by the Acting Principal, Mr Lincoln B. Goodrich.

In the Spring of 1889 we opened a new building, the Irving school, on the corner of Monroe avenue and Fourth street, in a rapidly growing suburb of the city known as Evona. The building contains rooms for twelve classes, of which six are already occupied, a larger number than had been expected before the opening. This new building has only partially relieved the overcrowding in the other schools, as it is too remote from the centre of the city to admit of the transfer of many scholars.

During the Winter an unusually large number of teachers and pupils were absent from school through the prevailing epidemic of la grippe, which for a time seriously interfered with our school work. Fortunately none of the cases proved fatal, and all the teachers were able after a time to resume their duties.

The night school, which was so successful in 1888, was reopened last Winter. But the pressure of orders in the three large factories of the city required many of the students to work during the evenings; and this fact, together with the prevalence of the epidemic, reduced the night students to such a minimum of attendance that the Board did not feel warranted in keeping the school open after February.

In the Winter a concert was given under the auspices of the High School. The money raised, together with the proceeds of a similar concert the previous year, resulted in a profit of over $160, which was expended in the purchase of new singing books. The musical training in our schools is thorough—every class receiving regular lessons from a special teacher each week, and being drilled between the lessons by the teacher of the class.

Drawing receives attention in our schools. The system is one of the best; and it is conducted by a professional teacher in charge of the department.

It is believed that one of our schools, the Washington, on Fifth street, was the first in New Jersey to receive the present of an American flag, a few years ago. Since that precedent was established, gifts of flags have been made to the other schools, until all have been provided. We think that the flag of the nation, waving upon every school-house, will be an educating influence in character and in love of country.

Our High School has always been marked by a peculiar interest on the part of its Alumni. At every public occasion, the graduates of former years are present in large numbers; the classes have maintained an organization, and meet from time to time; and many of the Alumni have presented gifts to the school. Several valuable pictures, cabinets of minerals, of flora and fauna, and of stuffed birds and animals, have in this way been received, and now ornament the halls of our High School building. Recently the class of 1879 showed its affection for its Alma Mater, by presenting the High School with a beautiful clock.

At the commencement exercises, on June 26, a graduating class of nineteen received diplomas. Three of this number enter Princeton College without conditions; one, Rutgers, on certificate without examination; one, Wellesley, on certificate; and one, the Baltimore Woman's College, on certificate. Vassar College and the State Normal School also receive our graduates upon certificate. We send our graduates to the best colleges in the land without further preparation than is required to graduate in our own High School.

The three graduates of our Training Class who received diplomas at the previous commencement after two years of faithful study and practice in actual teaching work, were among the regular teachers of the school last year and did work that merited approval. The requisite for membership in this Training Class is that the candidate shall be a graduate in our own High School, and shall be approved by the Board of Education. It will not be many years before our own Training Class graduates will supply nearly all the demand in our schools for new teachers.

Let me repeat what I have often stated before, that the high standard of our schools could not be attained by any workers less earnest, aspiring, and devoted, than the noble band of teachers in our schools, than whom no more faithful can be found.

JESSE L. HURLBUT,
City Supt. of Schools.

OCTOBER TERM OF COURT.

Mount Ararat's Champion Whipped by an Elizabeth Unknown.

(From the Elizabeth Journal.)

Monday night the fight between Frank Smith of Westfield and the Unknown of Elizabeth took place at the mills at Staten Island. Both parties left Elizabeth at 11:30 in a tug boat for the battle grounds. They were received by their friends, and at 1:15 the fighters took their corners. Time was called, the men came to the centre of the ring, shook hands and pounded away. The Westfield lad had the best of it till the sixth round, when the Unknown settled down to business, landing his left on the eye of his opponent, who showed signs of fear. The Unknown did not stop till he succeeded in knocking his man senseless to the ground. He was given time, but came up only to receive the terrible left hand of the Unknown, which knocked him clear out of time. The unknown was carried out on the shoulders of his friends with cheers and with yells. The Unknown has fought twenty-four battles and lost but one. A large amount of money changed hands.

Changes in Real Estate.

Among recent real estate transfers in this vicinity are recorded the following:

George H. Dunham and wife, of New York, to Isaac S. Randolph, of Plainfield, on Clinton avenue, Plainfield, 171x200 feet, $1,000.

Jeremiah Manning and wife and others, of Plainfield, to Julia A. Garett, wife of William H. Garett, Plainfield, land on Sandford avenue, Plainfield, 420 feet North west from East Front street, 60x 198 feet, $2,500.

Elizabeth C. Taylor and Henry A. Taylor, of Milford, Conn., to Robert L. Livingston, of Plainfield, land in Westfield Township, on Southeast side Broad street, 80x100 feet, $100.

Edward J. Mercier and wife, of Milburn, N. J., to Floyd F. Simmons, of New Providence, 19 acres and 7,500 square feet of land in New Providence and North Plainfield, $2,400.

What Carey's Organ Would Call, "Another Lie Nailed."

Carey's lawyer Bergen—who is also counselor to the Hon. John Kean, Jr., who has stopped the building of waterworks in Plainfield—seems to have been too busy to read in full in THE PRESS the brief of Corporation Counsel Marsh to the Supreme Court in defense of Mayor Male and the Board of Police for suspending the policeman with the foul mouth.

Counselor Bergen begins his reply to the defendants' brief with these words: 'In his argument for the defendants, counsel prudently ignores the act of 1885." This is entirely false. Counselor Marsh refers to that particular act more than once, and cites cases decided under it and decisions construing it.

Promised One Girl and Married Another.

A warrant has been issued by Justice Nash for the arrest of Thomas Peterson, colored, on complaint of Lizzie Courtney, who trusted her honor and happiness to his keeping, and found too late that men betray. She discovered his faithlessness only after he had gone to Brooklyn and had married another woman, and now she wants him punished for failing to keep his promise of marriage to her.

PILLS FOR DYSPEPTICS.

AT a hotel: Traveler (sitting up in bed with his watch in his hand)—Six o'clock. And they haven't come to wake me yet. I shall miss my train!

SOMETIMES a typographical error adds zest, as in one "local" which began: "Dr. Smith, who is widely known as one of the most killful of our physicians," the "s" having disappeared.

FIRST Young Lady (examining the directory in drug store)—"I can not find the name in this directory, Ethel!" Second Young Lady—"No? What shall we do?" First Young Lady—"Let us go to another drug store and examine their directory."

DURING a hunt a Lieutenant fired at a rabbit, but missed it and narrowly missed the Major of his regiment, who was in front of him. "Donnerwetter!" exclaimed the Major. "I say, Lieutenant, are you shooting at rabbits or for promotion?"

MISS WALDO (firmly and with an heroic look in her eyes)—"I shall marry Clarence, papa, come what may. My wifely influence, I am sure, will lead him to reform." Father—"I did not know he was dissipated, Penelope." Miss Waldo—"He isn't, papa, but his grammar is something atrocious."

"OH, sir," continued the Texas traveler, "you do not not know what it is to be in the hands of a desperate gang of men, to have a rope round your neck, to feel it crushing and crushing on your throat, to—" "No," interrupted the other, "but I know what it is to propose to and be accepted by a Boston girl."

GRADGRIND (to his employes)—"Nobody but me is to touch that clock. Nobody is to begin or leave off work except as it indicates the time." Foreman—"Yes, sir." Gradgrind (the next day)—"Why, the day is one-fourth gone and nobody's at work! What does this mean?" Foreman (meekly)—"You forgot to wind the clock, sir."

A COLORED dude chanced to be among the seated passengers in a Washington horse-car. A young lady of his own color entered, and he immediately arose and offered her his seat. She gracefully demurred, and said: "I do not like to deprive you of your seat, sir." "Oh! no depravity, miss," was his reply; "no depravity at all; I prefer to stand."

A PROSPEROUS quack was asked by a doctor how it was he had so many customers. The quack took him to his window overlooking a crowded street, and said: "What proportion of the people passing do you think are sensible persons with well-balanced minds?" "Perhaps one in ten," was the rejoinder. "Just so," said the quack, "and I get the nine."

A STOUT man, with a large bag and a distressed countenance, came to a ticket-seller's window one day, and said, excitedly: "Tell me what time the three-fifty train leaves?" The ticket-seller looked at him with a fixed and solemn gaze a moment, and then answered: "It leaves at ten minutes of four." "Ten minutes of four!" exclaimed the stout gentleman; "what a fraud these railroads are! Actually misleading people five minutes in their time-tables for the fun of seeing them left!"

AFTER shopping for the greater part of a recent afternoon, a well-known Brooklyn lady, with a letter in her hand, entered a drug store. She asked for and received a postage stamp. "Any thing else to-day, ma'am?" inquired the clerk. "No, I think not," she replied; "please send it to the house." "I—I beg pardon, ma'am," stammered the clerk, "but what is it you wish to have delivered?" "Why, the—the—" Then, suddenly refreshing her mind, she quickly added: "Oh, well, never mind it," and took the postage stamp and walked out.

STATISTICAL SHREDS.

OF every million people in the world 800 are blind.

JUST 250,000 women are married yearly in England.

OVER 10,000 Irish people settle in England every year.

THERE were 86,981 paupers in London in the third week in July—4,215 indoor and 82,766 outdoor.

THE census of St. Petersburgh, taken in July last, shows a population of 853,882. In December, 1889, the population was 1,003,315.

OVER 110,000—to be exact, 111,589—emigrants embarked during the last quarter from the various ports of the British Isles. These include 35,468 foreigners.

THE mortality of the globe is said to be 67 every minute, 97,790 every day, or 35,630,835 every year. The births amount to 100,000 every day, 36,792,000 every year.

IN 1860, when the population of England and Wales was a little below 20,000,000, there were over 800,000 paupers. Now, with an estimated population of 29,000,000, the number has fallen to 685,000.

THE proportion of insane to sane persons in the United States is one in every 262; in Scotland it is one in every 574; in the agricultural districts of England it is one in 820; in London the proportion is one in 400.

OF the entire human race 506,000,000 are well clothed, that is, they wear garments of some kind; 250,000,000 habitually go naked, and 700,000,000 only cover parts of the body; 500,000,000 live in houses, 700,000,000 in huts and caves and 250,000,000 virtually have no shelter.

ACCORDING to the results of an inquiry instituted by the French Government, there are at present in France 3,000,000 households in which there has been no child; 2,500,000 in which there was one; 2,500,000, two children; 1,500,000, three; about 1,000,000, four; 550,000, five; 330,000, six, and 200,000, seven or more.

FRANCE has 38,000,000 of population, 11,995 doctors, while it graduates 624 medical students in one year. Germany has 45,000,000 of population, about 30,000 doctors, and graduates 925 students in one year. The United States has about 60,000,000 of population, nearly 100,000 doctors, 13,091 medical students, and graduated 3,740 students in one year.

SEMI-NEWSY AND WHOLLY NICE.

GLOVES with webs between the fingers are a recent invention, intended to aid swimmers is getting a better purchase on the water than the bare hand gives.

COWHIDE horse-shoes are reported to be growing in favor in England and other parts of Europe. They have the advantages of lightness, great durability, superior adhesion and avoidance of split hoofs. The Japanese are said to have used straw horse-shoes for centuries, the straw being treated by an unknown chemical process.

THE legend as to the origin of woman is different with various nations. Not more than four nations accept the legend that she was made from a man's rib. The Japanese believe that she grew on a tree, the Laplanders that she was once a rabbit, the Persians that she fell from the heavens, and the Australians that she was first a toad-stool.

A PATENTED weather prognosticator sold in Prague is a landscape colored with the salts of cobalt. These colors are very sensitive to moisture and are made still more so by mixture with gelatine. With increasing moisture in the atmosphere, the blue heavens of the picture assume a dirty red hue, and the green grass and foliage, the yellow background, etc., are also strikingly changed in color.

A SWEET girl graduate, says an exchange, thus described the manner in which a goat butted a boy out of the front yard: "He hurled the previous end of his anatomy against the boy's afterward with an earnestness and velocity which, backed by the ponderosity of the goat's avoirdupois, imparted a momentum that was not relaxed until he landed on terra firma beyond the pale of the goat's jurisdiction."

AN apiary on wheels is one of the latest innovations in California. After the foot-hills have been pastured the bee herder moves his bees to a higher elevation, where the industrious insects gather the nectar stored in the blossoms of wild clover, chapparal and other plants, and when these have been relieved of their saccharine matter the bees are again moved to a higher elevation, where flowers peculiar to their region yield up their sweets to them.

A KANSAS CITY street-car conductor has found an easy way to beat the bell-punch. He goes off to some secluded spot at night, notes the number indicated by the register, pulls the machine till it has counted off the entire ten thousand and begun at one again, after which he rings till the register indicates one hundred less than when he began and stops. He is then in a position to ring fares honestly all next day, and be five dollars ahead of the company at night.

A SURGEON on a Cunard liner has been noting the peculiarities of cigar lighting practiced by men of different nationalities. "If a party are sitting down for a smoke," says he, "the Frenchman will scratch a match, wait till the brimstone has exhausted itself, and, with a smile and gracious bow, will pass it to his nearest neighbor before lighting his own weed. The German, after igniting the match, will first light his own cigar, and then offer the match to his friend. But the oddest character of all is the Englishman. His weed ready for use, he will strike his match, light his cigar, and, without a thought of the others, will deliberately drop the lucifer into the nearest receptacle."

WELL-KNOWN LITERATI.

GENERAL LONGSTREET is understood to be engaged upon a history of the civil war and especially of the campaign in which he had a share.

THE many who have enjoyed the writings of Mrs. Rose Terry Cooke will regret to learn that in these later days of her life she is an almost confirmed invalid. She is confined to her home at Pittsfield, Mass., and suffers much pain from rheumatic troubles.

GEORGE MEREDITH, the novelist, looks younger than his years, which are sixty-two. In addition to his novel writing he is a "reader" for a big firm of publishers in London. He is the most indulgent of readers, and often enters into correspondence with the ambitious authors and gives them advice.

THE backyard of Lord Tennyson's home is said to be strewn with clay pipes that he has used and discarded. The poet is a prodigious smoker, and, like Carlyle, he prefers the humble clay pipe, rarely smoking a cigar. He is now over eighty years old, and looks more like a farmer than a man of letters.

AMONG the presents received by Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes on his eighty-first birthday was a gold-lined silver spoon, the handle of which bore a witch on a broomstick, the word Salem and the emblematic witch pins crossed, which a lady brought as a token of his latest poem, the "Broomstick Train."

HENRIK IBSEN, who continues his quiet and reticent life at Munich, has recently begun to write a new drama. His son, Dr. Sigurd Ibsen, is also engaged in literary work at present, the subject being a book on the relations between Norway and Sweden. Dr. Sigurd Ibsen is a notorious malcontent with regard to the existing state of affairs.

THE real name of Mrs. Alexander, the popular novelist, is Mrs. Hector. She gave up writing some years ago to please her husband, who, she says, "thought a writing woman an abomination." Since Mr. Hector's death, she has resumed her pen. "The Wooing O't" is her most famous work, and the one which first brought her favorable notice. Mrs. Alexander lives in London, where, she says, she can always write better than anywhere else.

PROF. JACOB GRIMM, the author of the most learned German grammar and, jointly with his brother, the best German dictionary, says: "Among all the modern languages none has, by giving up and confounding all the laws of sound, and by cutting off nearly all the inflections, acquired greater strength and vigor than the English. Its fullness of free middle sounds which can not be taught, but only learned, is the cause of an essential force of expression such as perhaps never stood at the command of any other language of men."

Indigestion

Is not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:—

"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."

POETIC MELLIFLUENCE.

Love's Dawn.

In wandering through waste places of the world
I met my love and knew not she was mine.
But soon a light more tender, more divine,
Filled earth and heaven; richer cloud-curtains furled
The west at eve; a softer flush impearled
The gates of dawn; a note more pure and fine
Rang in the thrush's song; a rarer shine
Varnished the leaves by May's sweet sun uncurled.
To me, who loved but knew not, all the air
Trembled to shocks of far-off melodies,
As all the summer's rustling thrills the trees
When Spring's suns strike their boughs, asleep and bare.
And then, one blessed day, I saw arise
Love's morning, glorious, in her candid eyes.
—John Hay, in Century.

The Ballad of a Bivalve.

A plump little oyster that lived in the sea,
As pretty and pert as an oyster might be;
And all through the summer he chuckled and smiled
To see all his neighbors from ocean beguiled,
The perch and the blue-fish, the bass and the shad
Were lured from their lairs in a fashion most sad;
But the oyster remained in his usual place,
And remarked: "'Tis as plain as the nose on my face
Men are 'fraid of me,
As they well may be;"
And he chuckled and snirked in bivalve glee:
"Te-he!"
Such a jocular oyster he!

"The fish and the crabs and the scallops," quoth he,
"Are not war-like and savage of aspect like me.
Our enemies come with their nets and their hooks,
And attack them because of their amiable looks.
As for me, I have nothing to do all the day
But laugh and grow fat in a jovial way:
At all my companions my fun I can poke,
For they say that men eat 'em—well, that is a joke."
Oh, he seemed as free
As the rolling sea;
So he laughed and giggled outrageously:
"Te-he!"
Such a rollicking oyster he!

But the days of the summer were not long lived,
And the months with the R's in 'em soon arrived;
Then that little oyster, whose points were true blue,
Discovered himself in a deuce of a stew;
'Twas awfully lonesome and comfortless there,
And he wished that he wasn't so plump and so fair.
No kith or kindred could hear him moan—
'Twas a church fair supper—he was alone.
They drew lots, you see,
For they couldn't agree
To divide that bivalve once so free.
Ah, me!
Such a dolorous oyster he!
—Harry B. Smith, in America.

Speak the Truth.

Speak the truth, boy—promptly, boldly,—
Though the speaking cost you pain,
And your best friends treat you coldly,
In their anger and disdain.
All are faulty, and confessior
Half atones for error done,
While of truth you hold possessior
You've a friend—a trusty one.

Speak the truth! If you have wandered
Blindly from the path of right,
And in your delusion squandered
Time in chasing vain delight,
Strive by every wise endeavor
To regain what you have lost;
Yield to vile deception never,
Speak the truth at any cost.

Speak the truth! No man sleeps sweetly
While a lie lurks in his breast;
Peace of mind is wrecked completely,
Stung is conscience, dead is rest.
Miserable is the sinner
While the truth remains untold,
Nor is he of peace a winner
Till he speaks out free and bold.

Speak the truth and fear no evil—
Truth is noble, truth is grand,
Lies are fathered by the devil,
And will die while truth will stand.
Lies, like reefs, will wreck and blight you
Ere your bark can reach the shore—
Truth, the beacon grand, will light you,
And conduct you safely o'er.
—Francis S. Smith, in N. Y. Weekly.

Slander.

A friend's fair fame is a fragile thing,
And, stabbed by a word untrue,
Though the wealth of worlds to your aid you bring
You can not remove the slanderous sting.
Nor the wrong you have done, undo.

So 'tis better to speak a kindly word
Than to smile with knowing smile,
When the tongue of slander by malice stirred,
Pours out the tale which were best unheard,
That is filled with fraud and guile.
—Beth Day, in Housekeeper.

My Summer Trip.

I've been abroad this summer!
I went by the "Hammock" line;
I made a most beautiful voyage,
For the weather was always fine.

My companion, a bright little squirrel,
Who chattered and winked at me.
The sea birds were red breasted robins,
The sky was the deep blue sea.

The "wind that blew over the ocean"
Touched Victoria's wide domain;
It carried me down into Venice;
It took me to storied Spain.

I saw the most wonderful castles—
I never could tell you all
The beautiful pictures of dreamland
That came at a moment's call.

I boarded the vessel in August,
One sunshiny day at three,
And of all the summer excursions
This seemed the best to me.

For though I kissed the baby,
And hugged her to me tight,
I was always back at twilight,
To kiss her again good-night.
—Mrs. A. S. Roe, in Table Talk.

Katy Did.

Katy sang a merry song,
Katy did! Katy did!
Through the summer evenings long,
Katy did!
When the sun had left the west
And the birds had gone to rest,
Then she sang her very best,
Katy did, did, did!

Katy brought us tidings true,
Katy did! Katy did!
In the twilight and the dew,
Katy did!
For she said the frost so still
Would be creeping o'er the hill,
And the nights would grow more chill,
Katy did, did, did!

Soon, she said, he would be here,
Katy did! Katy did!
Turning meadow, crisp and sere,
Katy did!
Then, she said, the chestnut's burr
Would be open with a stir,
And she gave her wings a whir!
Katy did, did, did!

So she gave us warning fair,
Katy did! Katy did!
That we might for him prepare,
Katy did!
Fill the storehouse and the bin,
Gather all the apples in,
Thus our praises she did win,
Katy did, did, did!
—Helen Whitney Clark, in Golden Days.

PICTURESQUE VAGS.

Exhibiting Animals Nowadays Made a Precarious Business.

No Room for It in New York City—An Odd Scene in a Court-Room—Where Bears Come From and How They Are Trained.

[COPYRIGHT, 1890.]
[Special Correspondence.]

Charles Lamb, in one of his dainty essays, lamented the decay of beggars in the metropolis. What he termed the "all-sweeping besom of societarian reformation" was driving their picturesque tatters and lineaments trained to supplication from accustomed nooks and corners. A pathetic and graceful plea he put in to save the beloved vagrants. His sympathetic pen set out a rather seamy subject in soft and pleasing lights; its crude colors were shaded down with the conceptions of a gentle fancy; and the effect was charming, even to those irascible persons who regarded beggars as a nuisance, and welcomed their proposed extirpation. Elia declared the vagrant to be "the only man in the universe who was not obliged to study appearances;" that the ups and downs of the world concerned him not; that nobody expected him to go bail or surety; and that, in short, he was the only free man among us. In vain the beggar was invested with poetical associations that no one had discovered but the quaint essayist. The flat had gone forth that the tatterdemalion must take himself and his physical and vocal importunities hence, and Charles Lamb in his daily walks to the bank began to miss many a familiar figure. One can imagine him returning to earth and lifting up his hands in horror to learn how precarious the ordinances of modern society have made the ancient trade of mendicancy in all its forms; how it has been hedged about by prohibitions and permits; and how the edicts extend even to instruments of melody and to dumb animals that afford mirth and innocent amusement to little children.

The writer well remembers a scene in Jefferson market police court, New York City, one Sunday morning. The benches were filled, as usual, with the friends of the slatternly and unkept prisoners who filed out from the stone cells to answer the same old charges of intoxication, disorderly conduct, assault and battery, etc. Fines were settled and outcast offenders were sent back to serve a day in durance vile for every dollar unpaid. Still the court-room did not thin out. Everybody was waiting to see what disposition was to be made of the case foreign to his experience. The prisoners—there was a whole tribe of them—made a picturesque group. There were three well-built, sturdy men, dressed in rough corduroy and wearing long boots. Each had a shock of black hair, blunt, vacuous features and a woolen comforter tied around his neck. Then there were as many olive-cheeked, sloe-eyed women, with squat figures and large feet shod with coarse boots. They wore bright-hued shawls over their heads and massive gold ornaments in their ears. Four or five open-eyed children, who were small editions of their fathers and mothers in features and dress, completed this motley party. The magistrate surveyed them with an amused smile, and, turning to an officer, asked him what was the charge against these people.

"Leading bears through the streets, without a permit, your honor," was the reply, and everybody tittered at the enormity of the offense.

"Don't you know," asked the justice, with an affectation of sternness, of the oldest of the men, "that you have no business to turn the streets of this town into a circus?"

The prisoner addressed—he was a Savoyard—shook his head and then poured forth a torrent of patois, gesticulating wildly as he told the story of his wrongs in free America. Then there was a loud demand for an interpreter, and while one was being found the seedy lawyer, who had invited himself to defend the prisoners, told the magistrate that the Savoyards, who had dropped into the city no one knew how, were attempting to give a performance with their bears on a West street dock when arrested. Not one of them could speak English. The lawyer said their ignorance of the customs of the country was a sufficient defense, and he asked that they be allowed to go their way without fine.

By this time an interpreter had been found, in the person of a rag-picker, whose features still showed the traces of a night's debauch, for which he had paid into the city treasury the sum of five dollars as the price of his entertainment on the flagstones of a cell. With many a vernacular struggle he drew from the oldest Savoyard the story of the band. They had come over in the steerage of an Italian steamer from Genoa, bringing the bears with them. Previously they had heard dazzling tales of the fortunes to be made in America by exhibitions of performing bears, and how the natives, having more money than they knew what to do with, showered gold upon those who amused them. The Savoyards had no sooner landed than they prepared to gather the first fruits of their harvest. The three bears, after standing on their heads in a row, had just begun to dance a clumsy jig to the wild shouts of the natives, when a man in a blue coat and waving a heavy stick gave the party to understand, bears and all, that they must come with him. The tin cups had not even been passed round for the money.

"Are the bears in court?" asked the magistrate, with mock solemnity.

At this there was a general roar of laughter, and when it subsided the officer said the bears had been put into a stable on Barrow street, pending disposition of the case. The old Savoyard, in his grating patois, began to exclaim against the outrage of taking away his bears and locking the party up in cold cells all night. He thought it was a free country, where the foreigner met with kindness. As it wasn't, they would all go elsewhere if the judge would give them the bears. His honor said that unless the Savoyards had money sufficient for their present wants he would be obliged to ship them back to Italy, together with their animals. One of the prisoners produced a bundle. It was a knotted bandanna, and when he untied it a store of silver coins was disclosed. The magistrate thereupon decided that they must pay for the first experience in a free country the sum of five dollars, and he directed the policeman to see the men, women, children and bears over the Harlem river, at which the officer made a very wry face. Five dollars to these Old World vagrants sounded like a fine of cruel proportions, and there were tearful and excruciating lamentations before they paid it.

The bear which these people exhibit for bread is usually the cinnamon variety, found in the Pyrenees or Vosges mountains. Not being essentially a carniverous animal—that is to say, feeding on fruit, honey, vegetables and smaller animals—he is easily managed, and if taken young learns a few simple tricks, such as climbing a pole at the word, footing a measure to the strains of an accordeon, counting up to ten with a movement of his paw, marching with a stick for a gun, catching a pole and making a salaam. He is by no means an intellectual animal, and it is only by a great expenditure of patience and constant prodding with an iron-shod staff that he acquires the tricks which so amuse the children. Old bears are not in demand for show purposes. In their natural state they serve to guide the mountaineer to the cave where their cubs are housed. It becomes an easy affair to capture the little fellows after the big ones are trapped. The cost of a cub is trifling to the French or Italian stroller. A few dollars will buy one in almost any town in the Mediterranean districts. In America the dealers make you pay dearly for the privilege of possessing a cinnamon bear. Out of curiosity the writer asked a well-known Park row dealer in wild animals what the market price of a young cinnamon bear was. "It will cost you $300," he said, "and you can't get one cheaper in this country."

The common black bear of America is sometimes carried around the country by the French Canadians. They cross the line in the spring and exhibit through the New England and New York country places, working their way to the factory towns, where they have compatriots. In the wilderness the black bear is almost as timid as a wild duck. You may hear him breaking through the bush in a lumbering run as you approach, and he will never face you unless he is come upon suddenly, or is rendered desperate by hunger. The dam, if her young are in the vicinity, is apt to show her teeth to the intruder—she has forty-two of them. In confinement the American bear—like a true lover of liberty—often grows morose and vicious. He does not prove so tractable as the brown bear of Europe. Not long ago a sinewy French-Canadian was earning a pretty penny by giving wrestling exhibitions with his bear, an unusually big black one.

Birds that can tell one's fortune have made their appearance in recent years, and the gentle creatures bid fair to eclipse the popularity of the monkeys. They are usually the property of a calm-eyed philosopher who has long ago awakened to the folly of shouldering his way through the hurly-burly to snatch an existence. With his infinite patience he teaches his little pets—they are canaries or small green paroquets—to hop off a perch on which they sit unconfined together, and, flying to a little cabinet, to select an envelope. Returning to their perch they allow the fortune-seeker to take the fateful decree from their bill. According as you are a gentleman or lady—that is what the bird proprietor calls you—these cunning creatures pick out a missive relating to good luck in worldly affairs or to matrimony.

ELECTRICITY'S ECCENTRICITIES

A large chestnut tree measuring eighteen feet in circumference at the base was struck by lightning near Frederick, Mo., and split in the center from top to bottom. There was no storm at the time.

A tree in Nashville caught fire from an electric wire. One limb was burned entirely off. A policeman threw water on the burning limb with a hose, and when the water struck the fire he experienced a severe electric shock.

Gottfried Lawrence, of Greenwood, Pa., was struck by lightning and instantly killed. The queer fact in connection with his death is that he was sitting between two other men and neither of these two men were injured in the least.

John Fess, of Medaryville, Ind., was struck by lightning, every bone in his body being broken. Downey Knotts, seated on the wagon seat beside him, escaped unhurt, and so did the horses Fess was driving, but a dog trotting under the wagon was killed.

During a thunder-storm a thunderbolt came down out of the clouds into the back yard of Peter Shugarts, of Clayville, Pa., and struck his pump. It was a new wooden pump, and the lightning knocked it into splinters and ran down the sucker rod until it reached the water, when it jumped off.

Lightning struck the house of Fred Kapper, in Houghton County, Mich., and the bolt passed within a few feet of his wife, who for years had been a sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism. She was violently shocked, and felt, as she says, "as if ten thousand pins had punctured my flesh." Since that moment her rheumatic pains have left her.

While services were being held in a church in Twiggs County, Ga., there came a vivid flash of lightning, accompanied by a quick and terrific peal of thunder. The lightning struck a tree thirty yards from the church, under which thirteen negroes were gathered. One was instantly killed and ten wounded. The entire party was hurled to the ground senseless.

During a recent thunder-storm in Philadelphia, the lightning indulged in some strange freaks in the vicinity of Chestnut and Twelfth streets. Balls of fire darted through the air, and two of them passed through a window into the fourth floor of Darlington, Runk & Co.'s dry goods store and exploded, creating intense excitement. Another ball entered the establishment of the S. S. White Dental Company and shattered an electric light.

During a thunder-storm in a Colorado lumber camp a Mexican was struck on the head by lightning, which run down one side of his face, over the shoulder, transversely across the breast, down around one leg and out through the shoe top. His face was badly burned, and the course of the current over him was marked by a red brand. His clothes were torn from him and the sole of the shoe completely torn off. He lay apparently dead, and was left at the place until the storm was over. After lying in the rain for two hours he was resuscitated, and is now as well as ever except for the burn.

RICH ARCHÆOLOGICAL FINDS.

An urn containing a mixture of dark mold and fragments of bone was brought to light recently by the workmen engaged in making a railway cut near Botley station, Hants, England. It is believed that the vessel is a Celtic cinerary urn.

A farmer of Joanna, near Reading, Pa., in digging an excavation unearthed a large iron plate three feet square, bearing date April 4, 1570. Two Indians are represented on one side of the plate and a pair of anchors on the reverse side. The plate also bears an inscription in German. It is believed that the iron plate was part of a stove made in Germany or Holland 320 years ago.

While prospecting for borax recently in Salt Well valley, Cal., Dr. Woodin found some petrified bones of an extinct animal. The ball part of the hip joint is nearly as large as the crown of a Derby hat. The corresponding bone of an ox is about the size of a hen's egg. The size of the extinct animal may be inferred from this comparison. Other parts of the skeleton of the same animal were found.

An interesting Indian relic was found recently near Clark's station, Wilkes County, Ga. It is an earthen pot that will hold a little more than a gallon, burned hard, and in almost a perfect state of preservation. Some think it was shaken in a willow basket, as the small indentations all over the outside indicate. Portions of the outside are blackened from being used on the fire. This pot was buried under a field that has been in cultivation for perhaps half a century, and the washing of the soil discovered it.

The excavations in a hill on the plain of Marathon by the Archæological Society of Athens have resulted in the discovery of charred bones, believed to be the remains of the one hundred and ninety-two Athenians who fell in the famous battle. Several years ago Dr. Schliemann made excavations at the same place, but he met with no success, and renounced the work. The charred bones were found at a depth of thirty-nine feet, near the base of the hill. In addition to the remains urns were found, which according to a custom of that time were buried empty. At a later date the ashes were placed in them. The excavations are to be continued.

Dr. J. F. Snyder, a Virginia, Ill., archæologist, has just returned home from Schuyler County, Ill., where he opened an Indian mound. The corpse was in the tumulus of a chief. The corpse had been laid with the head to the east. On the forehead of the decayed skeleton was found a crescent-shaped ornament of thin, hammered copper. On the breast had been placed a large sheet of mica, that no doubt had served as a mirror. On one side of the skull was a small pottery vase of peculiar form. In one hand was a small stone axe and in the other several arrows and spearheads of flint, a few bone awls and fragments of a large seashell.

RUBE BURROWS' END

Tragic Death of the Notorious Train Robber.

HE ESCAPES FROM THE JAIL.

After Cunningly Getting the Drop on His Two Guards.

He Then Boldly Enters a Hotel and Demands the Return of Money Taken From Him by One of His Captors, Who He Wounds and Is Then Himself Shot Dead.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 9.—The killing of Rube Burrows at Linden, Ala., early yesterday morning, by one of his captors, J. C. Carter, has rid the country of one of the most daring outlaws and train robbers that has terrorized a portion of the South in years.

It is now learned that Burrows was captured about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon near Myrtle, Monroe County, Ala. John McDuffee, a farmer, succeeded in leading him into a trap, though he was not secured without a struggle.

The rewards offered by the several States, railroad and express companies for the capture of the outlaw amounted to $7,500.

Burrows was making his way back to Lamar County. He had passed through Monroe and had been in Marengo during the past few days. Detectives and deputy sheriffs have been close upon his heels since Sunday. Tuesday McDuffee came upon Rube, who had stepped into a negro's house out of the rain.

McDuffee had along with him two negroes, who agreed to assist him in the capture. Rube had placed his rifle in the corner of the room, but still retained his trusty revolvers. The colored men engaged him in conversation. He did not suspect that they were against him, and in an unguarded moment the two pounced upon him, each one seizing a hand to prevent his shooting. He fought the darkies desperately, but McDuffee and others soon came on the scene and after a struggle succeeded in subduing and securely tying the desperado.

McDuffee rode triumphantly into Linden with his prize. He had Rube strapped hand and foot in front of him on his horse, his head on one side and feet on the other side of the horse. Rube suffered greatly from his uncomfortable ride, as the farmer, who feared his prisoner and the big reward might slip through his fingers, had strapped him on the horse as securely as though he were in a vise. The robber had only $178 on his person.

Burrows was at once placed in the Sheriff's office inside the jail under guard of McDuffee and a negro.

J. C. Carter, the other captor was at the hotel with the money found on Burrow's person when he was arrested. The outlaw's hands and feet were tied, and every precaution was taken to prevent his getting away.

Early yesterday morning he complained of hunger, McDuffee answered that he had nothing to eat. A pair of saddle-bags, which had been taken from the prisoner, was lying in the room. Looking toward them in a careless sort of way the outlaw observed: "I have some crackers in my saddle-bags if you will hand them to me."

McDuffee suspected nothing, and handed the saddlebags over without opening them. Burrows, instead of crackers, drew forth a pair of pistols, and, covering McDuffee and the negro, ordered them to untie him, which they did, and, keeping them in front of him, he walked out of the front dooor. He then asked for his money, and started toward the hotel to recover it of Carter, who had it.

The latter, of course, was greatly surprised to see Burrows, whom he supposed was bound hand and foot in jail. Burrows drew his revolver and demanded his money. Both then opened fire, and Burrows was killed, while Cartere received an ugly wound in the breast. The affair has created intense excitement. Carter is the hero of the hour. The extent of his injuries is not known at present.

Another account says that Burrows went to the hotel, but did not find Carter there. He was sleeping in a room in the rear of the store of a merchant. Burrows went there at once, and with the aid of a negro who he had compelled to accompany him, made the negro knock at the door and tell Carter he was wanted at the jail. When Carter appeared he demanded his money. Carter at once drew his pistol and both men shot at the same moment. Carter was wounded in the breast and Burrows was shot through the bowels. As Burrows fell he aimed his revolver at the negro and sent a ball through his shoulder. Burrows died at once. Carter is fatally wounded and the negro only slightly.

Effected a National Organization.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The marble cutters in session here effected a national organization, electing these officers: President, A. B. Smith, of Allegheny, Pa.; vice-president, B. J. Flannagan, of Chicago; treasurer, John McVey, of New York; sergeant-at-arms, H. J. Allen, of New York. Executive Board: W. T. Keating, of New York; B. J. Flannagan, of Chicago; L. B. Rees, of Louisville; E. J. Keenna, Milwaukee, and George Hemming, of Brooklyn.

Report on Kemmler's Electrocution.

ALBANY, Oct. 9.—Dr. Carlos F. McDonald, who had charge of the Kemmler electrocution, has submitted a long report on the case to Gov. Hill. He says that the plan is a success, that death was instantaneous and that the apparent revival of Kemmler after the first shock was due to muscular reaction solely, and that the intent and purpose of the law was carried out.

THE POWDER EXPLOSION.

Workmen Busy Clearing Away the Ruin —Correct List of the Dead.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 9.—Work of clearing away the ruins caused by the powder explosion is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible. The destruction in the neighborhood is almost complete, and the only wonder is that so many people escaped.

Charles Dupont, one of the younger members of the firm, said that it was impossible to give a clear statement of the disaster. There had been seven explosions, and about half a dozen of the twenty buildings in the upper yard had gone up. The only people who could give any account of the affair, he said, were dead. "All the members of our family," he said, "were cut more or less, but none were seriously injured."

Joseph A. Buck of Rockland was an eye witness of the explosion. "While I was looking at some men handling kegs of powder," said he, "I felt the earth slipping from under me. I beheld sheets of flame and vast clouds of smoke. Reports like the firing of thousands of cannon followed in quick succession. High masses—buildings and earth—were thrown hundreds of feet in the air. Their fall was accompanied by fearful crashes. From where I stood it was impossible to tell in what order the mills were blown up, but it was the big middle magazine building that exploded first. I rushed to the nearest tree and hid myself from the destruction. The tree shook as if in a hurricane. I heard the sound of some heavy material fall to the ground. I looked twenty yards ahead of me and saw a stone, no doubt part of the foundation of one of the buildings. It was about two feet long and a foot wide. The distance from where I stood to the scene of destruction was about a mile. I was half blinded and choked by the smoke."

The following is a corrected list of the killed:

William McGarvey.
William R. Green.
Michael Harrigan.
Patrick Dougherty.
Owen Newall.
John H. Harrigan.
James Dolan,
Martin Dolan.
John and Michael Kelsher.
Mrs. Rose Dougherty.

The forty wounded are being tenderly cared for by the neighbors and most of the dead were buried to-day. The several hundred people rendered homeless by the explosions are being taken care of by their friends and will be looked after until their wrecked homes can be restored.

DEMANDED HIS MONEY.

A Dover, N. H., Man Lured from His Store and Shot Five Times.

DOVER, N. H., Oct. 9.—A man believed to be Harry, alias "Tegge" Holland, who has but recently been released from Alfred jail, called at the second-hand store of Edward Carr last night and induced Mr. Carr, under pretext of having goods to sell, to accompany him to his home. When part way there Holland drew a revolver and demanded Carr's money, and upon the latter hesitating fired five shots at him, all taking effect, one in the neck, one in the nose, two in the arm, and one in the hip. Holland then made his escape.

Carr was assisted to Dr. Lothrop's office, where four of the balls were extracted, that in the nose not having yet been removed

The doctors think he has but slight chance of recovery.

Bids Opened at the Navy Department.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Bids were opened at the Navy Department for furnishing a pumping plant for the dry dock at Boston. The Holly Manufacturing Company of Lockport, N. Y., bid $156,400; Southwalk Machine Company of Philadelphia bid $49,890, and Samuel F. Pope & Co. of Chicago bid $34,197, the last two bids being for a different type plant and pump. The bids will not be awarded for several weeks.

Day to Die December 19.

WELLAND, Ont. 9.—On the opening of court here yesterday, Mr. Johnstone, Crown counsel, pointed out that murderer Day had been sentenced to be hanged on "Thursday, Nov. 18th," and that Nov. 18th falls on Tuesday. His lordship stated it was his intention to sentence him to be hanged on December 18th, and the date was changed accordingly.

Connor and Kemp to Row In America.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—A special cable message from London says: William O'Conner, the champion oarsman of of America, posted £160 as the first deposit in his match with Kemp, which was arranged in Australia. The match is for £500 a side, and is to be rowed in America in March.

The Proposed Advance on Shoes.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—It is now stated that the advance for shoes, decided on by the meeting of the manufacturers, representing all parts of the country, which was held in this city yesterday, would be at least from 25 to 50 cents a pair.

The Presidential Party Spends Another Delightful Day.

BIG RECEPTION AT GALESBURG.

Thousands of People Turn Out There to Welcome the Chief Executive.

He Reviews His Old Brigade, Makes Speeches, Lays a Corner Stone, Attends a Banquet and Hurries on His Trip—A Ride of a Few Miles Enjoyed in the Locomotive Cab.

GALESBURG, Ill., Oct. 9.—The Presidential party spent another delightful day and no one on the train shows any signs of fatigue. The President arose early and was escorted to the railroad station at Peoria by the Mayor and City Council of that city, the G. A. R. posts, and a company of the Illinois National Guard. Five thousand people were present at the station, to whom the President made a brief speech.

Just before the train reached Galesburg it was stopped, and the President, Secretary Tracy and Judge Rice mounted the engine and took seats in the cab with Engineer Frank Hilton, who was a member of the 102d Illinois regiment. Secretary Tracy was allowed to ring the bell several times, and the President opened the whistle valve occasionally. After a run of five miles the train was stopped and the party re-entered the car.

At the station here the President was met by Mayor Stevens and a local committee, who acted as his escort to the Union Hotel. There was an enormous crowd at the station and lining the streets, and the progress of the procession of carriages was marked with continued cheering. At the hotel the President was taken to a private parlor, and in a short time arrangements were made for a brief reception to distinguished local citizens. Gen. Post made the introductions.

At 10:50 the party were driven about the public square to the reviewing stand which had been erected facing Main street. The crowd was packed so densely in front of the stand that it was with difficulty the head of the procession forced its way through.

Here the President reviewed his old brigade. There passed in review the veterans of the Twentieth Army Corps, 2,500 school children of Central Illinois, and thousands of citizens. At the conclusion of the parade the party repaired to the speakers' stand in front of the Court House, where, in an hour's reception, distinguished citizens from all parts of the State and West greeted the President.

The President was welcomed by the Mayor and made a long speech in reply. His remarks were again and again interrupted by applause.

At the close of the President's speech Secretary Tracy was introduced and spoke briefly, thanking the people for their magnificent reception and welcome.

Congressman Grosvepor of Ohio spoke briefly, after which the meeting came to a close. The party then repaired to Knox College, where the corner stone of the alumni hall was to be laid by the President. Dr. Newton Bateman, president of Knox College, pronounced the invocation and Prof. Milton Comstock read a sketch of the origin and growth of the college. Prof. J. A. Adams then introduced the President, who made a short speech. Then the corner stone was placed in position, and the President with a trowel carefully closed it and covered the seams with mortar. Great applause greeted this performance, which brought the ceremonies to an end. The party now repaired to the hotel for dinner, and at 3 o'clock the reunion of the First Brigade, the President's old command, was held at the Opera House.

Here the President made an address to the old soldiers and a hearty good time was had.

The President determined at a late hour not to remain all night, as he desired to stop at Burlington for an hour, so in the evening he was escorted to the train by a mammoth procession and bid the city goodby.

County Nominations.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 9.—The Chenango County Democratic convention nominated this ticket: For Member of Assembly, A. B. Robinson of Green; County Treasurer, Holdridge T. Owen of Norwich; Superintendent of the Poor, Derby Breed of Smithville; Justice for Sessions, W. T. Priest of Pharsalis; School Commissioner, First District, Elmer A. Kinney of Norwich; Second District, Albert B. Marion of McDonough.

Indicted for Violating Census Law.

CONCORD, N. H., Oct. 9.—In the United States Court the grand jury reported an indictment against Daniel Sanborn, of Fremont, for refusing to answer a census enumerator. He is 62 years of age, and personal dislike for the official is said to have been the reason for refusing to answer his interrogatories.

BASEBALL CONFERENCE.

Will the Meeting To-day in New York Bring About a Compromise.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The conference of baseball men at the Fifth Avenue Hotel to-day will, it is thought, reach an agreement that will harmonize the game next season. All the League clubs have representatives in attendance and the American Association and Brotherhood have delegates within easy reach in case their services are needed. By this means all unnecessary delays will be avoided and the work of the conference expedited. Few of the magnates expect to see the compromise effected at the present session, but within another week they are confident that steps to accomplish this purpose will be under way.

From what could be learned from the gossip in the hotel corridor before the conference was begun it seemed that the majority of the League and the Players were opposed to the consolidation scheme. They think the avoiding of conflicting schedules will enable them both to live, but it will never revive local interest. The patronage would be just as evenly divided as this season. There is therefore only one real way out, and that is through the consolidation of the three organizations and the reconstruction of the circuits.

The subject has to be handled very delicately, and while a few of the League men still favor the continuation of hostilities the majority of them are weary of the war. On the other hand the Players' are most considerate in their talk of the compromise. Even Ward, who was so opposed to playing with the men who deserted the Brotherhood at the beginning of the season, said to-day that this should not prevent the settlement of the difficulty.

The prize for coming the greatest distance was awarded to Hoysradt Hose, of Hudson; for the best appearance, Citizens Hose, of Catskills; for the largest number in line, Pioneer Hose, of Catskill, and Pioneer Engine Company, of Ellenville. Star Hose running team, of Hobart, won the prize for hose race. Upwards of 5,000 visitors were present.

The Situation on the Erie.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Everything remains quiet on the Erie railroad. Last night was set for the strike in case the demand made by the employes of the road upon Second Vice-President E. E. Thomas for shorter hours was not granted. Mr. Thomas sent a letter to Chairman Youngston of the delegation of employes, informing him that he would positively give the men an answer sometime during to-day. It is understood that the Board of Directors is in favor of meeting the men on a fair basis.

Mule Spinners Elect Officers.

LATE NEWS BY CABLE

Balfour and Threatened Famine in Ireland.

HE MAKES LIGHT OF THE MATTER

The English Government, He Says, Is Prepared to Look After the Poor.

A Grand Reception Welcomed Polly on His Return from Canada—Minister Reid Explains to France the Count of Paris' Reception in America Has No Political Significance.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Balfour in a letter to the Central News says that while there is serious failure of the potato crop in portions of Ireland, the Government poor department will be amply able to take care of those in distress without outside assistance.

Mr. Balfour's statement was issued as the result of pressure from his friends, who desired to use it as a cue for campaign work. Mr. Balfour is expected to go into the matter more in detail in his forthcoming speeches. It may therefore be taken as settled that the Government officially rejects the idea that any distress exists except such as can be alleviated easily and by ordinary measures.

Polly's Welcome Home.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The little town of Saffron-Walden, in Essex, is the scene of much rejoicing over the safe return of young Polly from Canada, where he is popularly believed to have had a narrow escape from the fate which overtook his companion, Benwell. The streets of the place were decorated with flags and arches, and the numerous friends of the Polly family are giving the returned wanderer a hearty welcome.

The Tariff to Be Discussed in France.

PARIS, Oct. 9.—The Budget Committee of the French Chamber of Deputies will meet on Monday next and the Chambers will convene on October 20. The proposed new tariff will be the leading subject of discussion. Public opinion in France favors retaliation against the United States.

Minister Reid Makes Explanation.

PARIS, Oct. 9.—Minister Reid has explained to the French Government, by directions from Washington, that the reception of the Comte de Paris in America has no political significance whatever, and that the United States has the friendliest feeling toward the French Government.

Relief Should Be in Food.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Leading Irish Nationalists join in the opinion that relief for the famine-threatened regions should come in the form of food. Mr. T. D. Sullivan is quoted as saying that not one dollar of money contributed for relief should go into the hands of the landlords.

The Bismarck Memorial Fund.

BERLIN, Oct. 9.—The Bismarck memorial fund has now reached $20,000. The Berlin Volksblatt insists that the cash shall be handed to the Prince instead of being used for the procurement of a bust or other artistic memorial.

Further Trouble in Buenos Ayres.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—A special cable despatch from Buenos Ayres says there is no reason for fearing further trouble as both city and country are tranquil.

Mr. Jonasson Acquitted.

BERLIN, Oct. 9.—Mr. Jonasson, of New York, who was accused of lese majeste, in having spoken insultingly of the Emperor, has been acquitted.

THE VISITING IRON MEN.

They Will Spend the Balance of the Week at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 9.—The members of the British Iron and Steel Institute, Verein Deutscher Eisenhenttenleute and the American Institute of Mining Engineers arrived here at 9 o'clock last night and will remain the rest of the week.

A movement was started a few days ago among the employes of the iron mills to take part in the reception of the visitors, as many of the latter are desirous of inquiring into the condition of American iron workers for the purpose of comparison.

A delegation of 25 members of the local committee went to Altoona in the morning and escorted the distinguished delegates to this city.

To-day and to-morrow will be given to sessions in Carnegie Hall and short excursions about the city. The Edgar Thomson Steel works at Braddock and Carnegie homestead will also be visited Friday. On Saturday the delegates will be taken to the coal and coke regions and other points of interest.

The Salford Harriers in Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 9.—The Salford Harriers arrived here Monday evening and are being entertained by the Buffalo Athletic Club, whose guests they are until the athletic games on Saturday. Secretary Hardwick of the Harriers said that his men were becoming acclimated and would make a better showing hereafter.

Young Sprague Kills Himself.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 9.—William Sprague, Jr., son of ex-Gov. Sprague of Rhode Island, committed suicide by inhaling chloroform yesterday afternoon. The deceased came from Chicago, and secured employment with the Seattle "Journal." Despondency was the cause of his suicide.

NAMED FOR CONGRESS.

Nominations Made in a Number of Districts.

AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 9.—Captain E. K. Burnham of Newark, Wayne County was nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Twenty-seventh District. Captain Burnham is also the nominee of the Union League, a union of farmers, veterans and Union Labor, for Congress.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 9.—The Republicans of Nineteenth Congressional District nominated Edward A. Durant for Congress.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 9.—The Republicans of the Twenty-third Congressional District, at Boonville, nominated the Hon. James. S. Sherman for Congress.

SOUTH FRAMINGHAM, Mass., Oct. 9.—George F. Williams, of Dedham, was nominated by the Democrats of the Ninth District for Congress.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 9.—The Kings County Republicans made the following Congressional nominations: Second District, James Gresham; Third District, William C. Wallace; Fourth District, Andrew J. Perry; Fifth District, John E. Smith.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The County Democracy of the Tenth District nominated Gen. Francis A. Spinola for Congress, and in the Seventh District nominated William T. Croasdale, the editor of Henry George's paper, the Standard, for Congress.

In the Seventh District Tammany Hall renominated Hon. Edward J. Dunphy for Congress.

Timothy J. Campbell was nominated for Congress by the County Democracy of the Eighth District, and endorsed by Tammany Hall.

Ashbel P. Fitch was nominated for Congress in the Thirteenth District last evening by Tammany Hall and endorsed by the County Democracy.

Hon. Roswell P. Flower was renominated for Congress by the County Democracy and Tammany Hall in the Twelfth District.

John Dewitt Warner was nominated for Congress in the Eleventh District by the County Democracy and endorsed by Tammany Hall.

Amos J. Cummings was renominated for Congress by the Tammany Hall organization and endorsed by the County Democracy.

An Election Contest Settled.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 9.—The Supreme Court has decided the famous contested election case of Talcott, Democrat vs. Philbrick, Republican, for the position of Alderman in the Seventh Ward. It is the first case made under the new secret ballot law. The court sustains the finding of the lower court and seats Talcott and unseats Philbrick.

Secretary Tracy for the Senator.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—It is believed in inner Republican circles that Messrs. Platt and Hiscock are pushing Secretary Tracy for Senator in place of Senator Evarts.

BY THE WAY.

—Members of the short-hand class of last Spring are requested to meet Mr. Robinson at the Y. M. C. A. rooms this evening.

—A young daughter of Israel Lewis lost a portion of a finger by crushing her hand in the cog-wheels of a clothes wringer yesterday.

—Mr. Mulford will be in attendance at Central Hall, corner of North and Park avenues, this evening, to enroll the names of boys who wish to go to the Boys' Club.

—The workers' training class for ladies will meet at the Y. M. C. A. rooms Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The review of the book of Exodus will be the subject. All ladies interested are invited.

—The auditorium of Reform Hall being rented to Prof. Reynolds for the entire week, the regular meeting of the Reform Club will this evening be held in the basement parlor, beginning at 8 o'clock.

—The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Trinity Reformed church will celebrate the fifth anniversary of their organization to-night, by a sociable in the lecture room of the church.

—Thomas Peterson, who was arrested yesterday on a serious charge preferred by Lizzie Courtney, as told exclusively in THE PRESS, has waived examination and furnished bonds to await the action of the Grand Jury.

—The Crescents will play the Ridgewoods, of Brooklyn, next Saturday, and the entire receipts of the game will be given to the players. Of the two games already played between these two teams, each have won one.

—Sunday, October 12, being the day appointed by the State Councilor of the Jr. O. U. A. M., as a day of thanksgiving, Franklin Council will go to the M. E. church in a body and listen to a sermon by the Rev. Chas. B. Mitchell, at 7:30 in the evening.

—B. E. Rainey, of New Brunswick, is at the City Hotel for the purpose of introducing the Excelsior Slate Paint, an excellent preservative for shingle, gravel, felt and metal roofs. It has already been applied to over 500,000 buildings in the United States. His adv. appears in another column.

—Prof. Reynolds had some of the best people in town at his mesmeric and hypnotic exhibition in Reform Hall last night, and gave an entertainment that afforded merriment to all. Some of the new features of his exhibition are even more interesting and wonderful than the old. He has had good subjects nearly every night. Last evening three young women submitted themselves to his influence, and did all sorts of mirth-provoking things. The conversation of one through an imaginary telephone caused much laughter.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Anna Sperling, daughter of Mrs. Rachel Sperling, died Tuesday in the 27th year of her age, at her home, corner of Fourth and Sycamore streets.

The friends of Magistrate Hardy, of the Borough, are expecting him home to-night with all sorts of big fish and tall stories. When he awoke this morning he found the day so delightful, and the outdoor atmosphere so invigorating, that he could not resist the impulse to go fishing. He scorned the idea of riding, a day like this, and, in company with Frank Coe, a Patersonian friend, set out afoot on a nine-mile tramp to the Passaic River, where he has been tempting the finny denizens all day.

Plainfield Backed Elliott, and Won.

A select gathering of noted sportsmen from New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Plainfield, and elsewhere assembled on the grounds of the Cartaret Gun Club, yesterday, to witness the great live pigeon match between J. A. Elliott, of Kansas City, the present champion wing-shot of the United States, and Edgar Murphy, well-known to many of our citizens. The match was at 100 birds each, $1,000 a side. Several members of the Middlesex Gun Club were present by invitation, including Chas. Smith, or, as he is better known, "Dutchey," who was a heavy backer of Elliott, and of course won, as the score stood 94 to 93 in Elliott's favor. The match was said by the marksmen present to be the grandest shoot ever witnessed in this country.

The New Election Boards Hard at Work.

The election boards in Plainfield, as in other places, met in their respective districts, Tuesday morning, in accordance with the new election law, and organized for work.

The work of canvassing the different election districts, for the house-to-house registration, has been begun, and as the work must be completed by midnight of Saturday the canvassers have to proceed at a lively gait.

Such being the fact, it is probable that residents called on will do all in their power to assist by giving as quickly as possible all information desired.

Is it not surprising that nearly every household in the country should be acquainted with the merits, virtues, and the healthful properties of Hires' Root Beer? For years it has been the standard drink of those who enjoy a delicious temperance beverage. It tones up the system, helps nature, and is just what all need in hot weather. A 25 cent package makes five gallons. Sold everywhere.

HYMENEAL.

HAND—HOSSINGER.

A large gathering of friends and relatives assembled at the residence of Mrs. Frank Hossinger, of Scotch Plains, last evening, to witness the marriage of her daughter, Annie, to Edward L. Hand.

The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Dr. J. H. Parks, of the Scotch Plains Baptist church.

The bride was handsomely attired in white India silk, and was attended by Miss Emmie Schriener as flower-girl. The "best man" was J. E. Flannery.

A wedding dance and banquet followed the ceremony, and the guests maintained a whirl of festivity till early morning. The happy young couple received many valuable presents, and were showered with congratulations and good wishes.

Dr. Ketcham Preaches at New Jersey's Banner Church.

In connection with the meeting of the Presbytery of Elizabeth at Lamington, Somerset county, yesterday, was celebrated the 150th anniversary of the Lamington Presbyterian church. Displayed on one side of the church walls was the list of its pastors, who during the entire century and a half numbered only seven, showing that the term of each must have been long. Opposite this record was a list of the 17 who have entered the ministry from the Lamington church. This is the banner record of the State, if not of the country. During the afternoon the Rev. Dr. Mancius H. Hutton, of New Brunswick, delivered a masterly oration, and the Rev. Dr. K. P. Ketcham, of the First Presbyterian church of Plainfield, preached a highly interesting sermon on "The Influences of the Country Church," both of which the visiting clergymen asked to have published in pamphlet form.

In the evening the Rev. Dr. Kempshall, of Elizabeth, gave a biographical sketch and eulogy of the Rev. Dr. John McDowell; the Rev. Dr. Teal, of Elizabeth, on the Rev. Dr. Wm. McDowell; the Rev. John T. Kerr on the Rev. Dr. Blauvelt, who was Lamington's pastor fifty-six years; and the Rev. I. A. Blauvelt, of Roselle, on the Rev. Dr. Sutphen, at one time pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church.

Nearly all of Lamington's pastors have been prominent figures in church history and public life, and the clergymen of the Presbytery thoroughly enjoyed devoting the day to a study of their lives and methods. Besides Dr. Ketcham the Rev's W. E. Honeyman and W. R. Richards attended from this city.

Preparing for the Coming of the Great Evangelist.

The Nominating Committee working in connection with the coming of Evangelist Mills met at the Young Men's Christian Association rooms last night and made the following nominations:

Committee on Finance—J. W. Jackson, L. W. Serrell, C. T. Kissam.

Advertising—O. B. Leonard, G. W. Rockfellow, F. C. Lounsbury, Seely Edsall.

Canvassing—W. D. Murray, John Lindsay, W. B. Codington, J. H. Manning, E. E. Anthony.

Music—C. W. McCutchen, D. E. Davis, D. E. Titsworth.

Ushers—Geo. B. Cornwell, O. W. Dunham, J. W. Gavett.

Devotional—C. B. Mitchell, K. P. Ketcham, J. D. Spicer.

Those of the committee present were the Rev. Dr. Ketcham, the Rev. C. L. Goodrich, the Rev. C. B. Mitchell, O. B. Leonard and J. D. Spicer. The Rev. Cornelius Schenck was absent through illness. The committee will present its nominations to the General Committee and Executive Committee at the joint meeting Saturday evening for confirmation.

Plainfield Methodists Say Let the Women Vote.

The vote of the Plainfield Methodist Episcopal church on the question "Shall women be eligible to election as delegates to the electoral and general conferences of the Methodist Episcopal church?" was in favor of all church members, whatever the sex, being eligible as delegates. The result of the voting on this question among the congregations throughout the State will be reported to the local conferences, and will have an influence on the action of the conferences in the matter. In this connection the Newark Advertiser remarks as follows:

Votes are being taken in the Methodist churches of this city to determine whether they desire to have women eligible for membership in the General Conference. The answer in every case is overwhelmingly negative, and the curious fact is that a majority of the voters are women. It is another illustration of the total indifference of the gentler sex to the right of suffrage. The ladies do not vote because they dot want to vote. Nothing else hinders them.

A Good Time for All Boys, and It Doesn't Cost Them a Cent.

Eleven boys enrolled their names on the books of the Boys' Club last night. The rooms were in charge of H. B. Wells and Wm. T. Broadway, who told the young people what advantages the organization would give to them. Next Monday night General Superintendent Collins will again be present, and will bring with him the Plainfield Superintendent. Books and games will be distributed the same evening. Meanwhile, the rooms are open every night, giving boys an opportunity to enroll their names and receive the membership tickets which convey so many privileges, free of charge.

Rankin Gets It.

The Republican delegates of Union county, at Elizabeth, this afternoon, nominated Mayor John C. Rankin for Senator, and James Clark, of Rahway, the present Deputy, for Sheriff.

BEHIND CLOSED DOORS.

Freeholders Begin the Examination of Engineer Dunham's Books.

The Committee of the Board of Freeholders which is to investigate the books of Engineer Dunham, to report upon the criticisms made in The New York World, held its first session at Elizabeth yesterday. The committee comprises Freeholders Trahon, Jones, Doty, Roll, West, Wright, and Director Hubbard. Engineer Dunham also was in attendance, and the clerk of the Board, Charles A. Reed.

The committee met in the Freeholders' room. The representatives of the local press had made inquiries of individual members of the committee, and were given to understand that it would be a public investigation so far as the admission to reporters was concerned. The committee intended to begin proceedings at 11 o'clock, but it was nearer noon when they organized. The door was closed, but a Journal reporter went in. Some surprise was manifested, and when the reporter asked if he was an intruder. Chairman Trahon put the matter to vote, and it was resolved to exclude the press.

Director Hubbard said that in a sense the investigation was a matter in which the public had an interest, and so far as the public's interest went the investigation would be made public in the findings of the committee which would be submitted to the Board. Mr. Roll took a similar view, and the reporter retired.

WARBLINGS FROM WARRENVILLE.

The Dominie Takes Unto Himself a Wife —A Happy Visit is Ended—Wagon Thieves Rebuffed.

The Rev. Frank Hertel, of the Warren Congregational church, has returned home from his Western trip, and has brought from the town of Macomb, in the far-off State of Illinois, a charming bride to share the comforts, and increase the happiness, of the parsonage. The cosy little home seemed far more bright and cheerful than the old bachelor quarters, Friday evening, when a cordial reception was given to the pastor and his wife, and a banquet was prepared by the ladies. The event was highly felicitous. John H. Carney, of North Plainfield, added to the pleasure of the people by his funny original recitations.

Miss Emma Hopper has returned to her home at Long Island City, after a very pleasant visit at the home of her cousin, Mrs. G. E. Whitten.

Thieves visited John Miller's farm Monday evening for the evident purpose of stealing Mr. Miller's best, brand new buggy, but fortunately Mr. Miller had removed one of the wheels that afternoon and had left it locked up in one of the buildings, so that the buggy was too much of a white elephant to move.

BEN BOLT.

Plainfield's New Pastor Ordained a Presbyterian.

The Rev. Mr. Newell, who has been preaching at Hope chapel the past four weeks, was yesterday examined by the Presbytery of Elizabeth for ordination to the Gospel ministry. His examination was highly creditable to him, and the Presbytery with entire unanimity proceeded to ordain him, last evening, in the Lamington church. The Rev. Mr. Green, of Crasford, presided, and proposed the constitutional questions; the Rev. W. E. Honeyman, of North Plainfield, made the ordaining prayer; and the Rev. W. R. Richards, of the Crescent Avenue church, gave the charge to Mr. Newell; after which each member of the Presbytery took Mr. Newell by the hand and welcomed him to the ministry.

A Treat For Plainfield Machinists To-night.

Among the features of the programme for the reception to be tendered the machinists of the city at the Young Men's Christian Association rooms to-night will be a gymnastic exhibition by Prof. Logan and members of the Orange Y. M. C. A.; hand and staff solos by Prof. F. Milner, of Jersey City, who will also play on the verephone, or tumbleronicon; and zither solos by a musician from Brooklyn.

A Hotel Burned by Thieves.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 9.—The hotel of John McCabe, at West Martinsburg, Lewis County, and the outbuildings were destroyed by fire late yesterday afternoon. From the fact that a pair of trousers containing a wallet in which were $105 of Mr. McCabe's money were found missing and concealed in another building, minus the money, it is supposed that the fire was caused by an incendiary, who stole the money and set fire to the hotel to hide the theft. Loss, $3,000; insurance, $1,000.

Pauline Hall's Jewels Stolen.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 9.—The chief of police was notified last evening that $2 diamonds and other jewels, valued at $15,000, the property of Pauline Hall, the comic opera singer, were stolen from Jacob's Theatre, where Miss Hall is playing. Among the jewels stolen are a diamond cross, the gift of the Empress of Russia and a diamond bracelet presented by Queen Victoria.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9.—Pauline Hall's stolen jewels were all recovered in a pawnshop in this city, late last night, by Detective Stainsby.

The Acton-Lewis Agreement.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—The article of agreement between Joe Acton, the "Little Demon," and Evan Lewis, the "Strangler," for a wrestling match for $500 a side stipulates that Lewis agrees to throw Acton twice within an hour. Failing to do this he will lose, or in case that Acton should secure a fall he loses also. The match will take place in this city between November 1 and 15.

Good Record for Indian Scholars.

MOHAWK LAKE, N. Y., Oct. 9.—At the eighth annual Indian Conference here the Rev. C. W. Freeland, of Hampton, who has for several years been inspecting returned students on the reservations, said that of 110 from Hampton only four had turned out failures, a percentage not larger can be found in many Eastern schools for white children. Ex-President McCosh of Princeton read a paper to demonstrate the capacity of the Indian for civilation.

McAuliffe and Myer Matched.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 9.—Jack McAuliffe and Billy Myer have been matched to fight before the Metropolitan Athletic Club of this city sometime during next January for $2,500 a side and a purse of $5,000 and the lightweight championship of the world. Five ounce gloves are to be used and the men are to fight at 133 pounds. McAuliffe is to be allowed $250 for expenses.

EXCELSIOR SLATE PAINT!

Something Useful and Beneficial Now in Your City.

The component parts of this Paint are of a powerful, penetrating and preserving nature, combined with a large per cent of PURE GROUND SLATE; and when applied hot to new or old shingles, penetrates them, entering the cracks and pores of the wood and gradually hardens, shutting out all moisture and rendering the shingles impervious to weather, and fireproof against sparks or cinders from chimneys or burning buildings. It can be applied to old shingles, metal or felt roofs that leak, and obviates the necessity of renewing them. It will form an elastic coating over tin roofs, and will not crack or scale. It will stop leaks around gutters and chimneys.

It has the highest recommendations from railroad companies, mill corporations, and the best building owners in every State where it has been introduced.

It is cheap, and is applied by skillful workmen, who perform all work with neatness and dispatch. Call for additional particulars at the City Hotel. 10 9 3

CORPORATION NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the following ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time, and ordered engrossed, preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

J. B. COWARD, City Clerk.

Plainfield, N. J., October 6, 1890.

AN ORDINANCE

To macadamize Cemetery avenue, running from Park avenue to Woodland avenue.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield by their Common Council do enact as follows:

Section 1. That said avenue from the southerly side of Park avenue to the northerly side of Woodland avenue for the width of sixteen feet, that is to say for the distance of eight feet, on either side of the centre line of said avenue be permanently improved with broken stone for the depth of six inches, of good quality and proper sizes, the same to be properly laid, compacted and rolled, so that when completed the surface shall be smooth and even and shall conform to the grade of said avenue as now established thereon, to be done under the direction of the street commissioner and to be paid for out of the money raised by tax for the improvement of streets as provided by the act of the Legislature, entitled "an act to authorize cities to make improvements in the road beds of the streets at the general expense."

Fees $3.60.

AN ORDINANCE

To macadamize Plainfield avenue from the south easterly side of West Seventh street to the southerly boundary of the city.

Whereas the owners of property fronting on Plainfield avenue between the south easterly side of West Seventh street, and the southerly boundary line of the city have subscribed for the macadamizing and otherwise improving of Plainfield avenue as hereinafter directed, and have agreed to day or caused to be paid for the work and macadamizing and otherwise improving of said avenue and the cost and expenses incurred for the same, the sum or two thousand dollars, therefore

The inhabitants of the City of Plainfield by their Common Council do enact as follows.

SECTION 1. That Plainfield avenue from south easterly side of West Seventh street to the southerly boundary of the city for the width of sixteen feet, that is to say for the distance of eight feet on either side of the centre line of said street, be macadamized for a uniform depth of six inches with crushed stone of good quality and proper sizes the same to be properly laid, compacted, and rolled so that when complete the surface shall be smooth and even and shall conform to the grade of said street throughout, as said grade has already been established for said street by ordinance, said macadamizing to be done under the supervision of the Street Commissioner, who shall have power to do all necessary grading of said road bed wherever required to bring the same to conform with said grade as already established.

SECTION 2. In order to protect said street and the macadamizing thereof from surface water the gutters of said street on both sides thereof from said south easterly side of West Seventh street to the city line as aforesaid, shall be protected by tailings or larger pieces of crushed stone, and wherever necessary in the judgment of the Street Commissioner, proper culverts of flag stone shall be constructed for the proper carrying off of said surface water, said work to be done under the supervision of the Street Commissioner.

SECTION 3. That the owners of property fronting on said Plainfield avenue shall pay or cause to be paid into the City Treasury the aforesaid sum of two thousand dollars on the completion of said work, said owners having agreed so to do and after applying such sum toward the cost of said work and macadamizing as hereinbefore directed, the remainder of such cost shall be at the general expenses of the city and be paid as provided by chapter 223 of the laws of New Jersey for the year 1884.

SECTION 4. All ordinances or parts of ordinances conflicting herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Adopted by the Common Council October 6, 1890.

Approved by the Mayor October 7, 1890.

JOB MALE, Mayor.

Attest: JOSEPH B. COWARD, City Clerk.

Fees, $6.30.

HOPE FOR PLAINFIELD YET.

Ripleyville's Benefactor Tells How the Central Railroad Has Helped Develop the Westfield Station Driveways and Effect a Union Between Two Important County Roads; and Shows the Company's Desire to Keep All Promises, Even for Removing Ugly Freight House Obstructions.

At a recent meeting of the Town Committee of Westfield, Chauncey B. Ripley, one of Union County's most liberal-hearted, progressive, and public-spirited citizens, presented the following interesting repotr of what he and his co-workers are doing for the benefit of the people:

To the Town Committee, Westfield, N. J.:

—SIRS: I submit to you herewith a statement of the improvements made by me around the station of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, and on South avenue, respecting which you heard my application nearly eighteen months ago, when you passed a resolution in the matter. The work was completed the latter part of last September, having been delayed, as members of your committee are aware, because the supply of stone from the Railroad Company was insufficient. The weather was very unfavorable for road work, especially on South avenue from Westfield avenue to Central avenue, much of the season last year; and because of the earth running down, and the banks caving in, some portions of the road had to be built up and put in order more than half a dozen times, and at a great additional expense. Besides that hinderance, expecting stone, as I was, every week through the year, I kept the road, or tried to keep it, constantly in order, so that it would be ready to receive the stone whenever it came. The company's agents made many promises, but seldom kept them. Sometimes they would send stone and require the cars to be unloaded at once, often failing to give me word of the arrival until just as I was taking a train to New York. Mr. Peddle did the best he could, there being others in authority besides him, and new emergencies arising, over which he had no control. The company did not "go back on me," but gave me, after waiting a year and a half, the necessary stone, which proved to be about twice the quantity of the most extravagant estimating; being 102 car-loads, or 816.1 cubic yards. The freight alone, on the stone furnished to me, amounts to $720.12. The value of the stone at Glen Gardner is $693.69. Therefore the total contribution of the Central Railroad Company is $1,418.81.

In addition to the contribution of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, of the stone and cartage referred to above, that company has also put in at my solititation and during the same period, about 150 feet of 12-inch iron pipe, along South avenue, at the junction of the avenue and the passenger station drive, which I estimate to have cost them $175; also iron pipes at the junction of the freight station drive and South avenue, estimated fairly at $50: also drain pipe near the passenger station, on South side, across the West park, of say 200 feet, estimated at the sum of $30. The total help of the Central Railroad is therefore $1,413.81 plus $175 plus $50 plus $30; or $1,668.81 in all. Our citizens should recognize this liberality in verification of a declaration of one of its officers to the subscriber, when applied to for aid in this improvement, which declaration was as follows: "The company will spare no pains in making the approaches to its stations first-class."

Union county, through the aid of our Freeholder, James T. Pierson, and the members of the committees of which he was the chairman, has aided me in the renovation and sinking of bridges at the junction of Westfield and South avenues, Summit and South avenues, and Ross place and South avenue, amounting to not less than $500. Citizens who are interested in moving freight from the freight station have contributed say $300. Add these latter sums to the above $1,668.81 contributed by the Railroad Company, and we have, entirely free of cost to the township, $1,668.81 plus $500 plus $300, or a total of $2,268.81. This is a much larger sum than anyone supposed the road would cost. The road if built by the county contractors would have cost $5,241.60, if stoned only 16 feet wide. But our road is stoned 18 feet wide, and that adds ⅛ to the cost, so that at that width it would have cost $5,241.60 plus ⅛ of that sum; or $655.20 more; making a total of $5,896.80. The county roads cost last year over $10,000 a mile, 16 feet wide. This year they cost less. The road in question, with the arms extending around the stations, is over half a mile in length. Our road is improved and made good from fence to fence, full width, 66 feet. Our road district and citizens have put down walks along the entire length, and have laid good crossings, costing enough to raise to $6,200 the total given above.

The following is a statement of the cost of preparing the road bed for the crushed stone and putting it on and keeping the road in good condition for the time:

Paid George B. Brown, Robert Woodruff, S. D. Winter and others in May, 1889, for grading and for moving and putting on stone..... $ 175 00

| | $ 558 00 |

Respectfully submitted,
CHAUNCEY B. RIPLEY.

Dated October 6, 1890.

The Town Committee received the above report and placed it on file, directing that a draft of $500 be drawn by the treasurer in favor of Mr. Ripley.

The entire cost of the road referred to is nearly $4,000. The contributions from the Central Railroad Company, the citizens of Westfield, the Township of Westfield, and Union county, are about $3,000. The balance of the cost, which is not far from $1,000, falls upon Mr. Ripley, who constructed the road. The chief value of the road as an improvement is in the fact that it affords excellent approaches to the passenger and freight stations on the South side of the Central Railroad's track and unites the county road leading to Plainfield with the county road leading to Rahway, but it is also worthy of note just here that the facts reported by Mr. Ripley concerning the Central Railroad Company indicate that if one only has patience to wait long enough that busy concern eventually gets time to fulfill its promises. Now that the company has kept its assurances of long ago to the people of Ripleyville and kept them with so much generous abundance as Mr. Ripley has stated, the Crescent City may again take heart and look for the removal of the freight house nuisance and the consequent development of our town on the South side of the tracks. If the railroad people are so ready to help boom Westfield's South side, Plainfield, possessing the queen station of the road, has certainly cause for hope.

NORTH PLAINFIELD'S TAX BILLS.

Assessor Cooley Explains One Reason Why Borough and City Ought to be Consolidated.

The Commission on Taxation, which has been pursuing its inquiries in various parts of New Jersey, paid a visit to Somerville yesterday, and put the various Township Assessors of Somerset county through Senator Everitt's fire of examination. Some of the facts that came to light will no doubt be a surprise to those people in the State who have been laboring under the impression that assessment values in Somerset were exceptionally high. The fact is that great inequalities exist and the bases on which assessments are levied in different townships vary from the full or "true" value required by the constitution of the State to less than two-thirds value. In North Plainfield the assessor does very much as they do in Camden: he gets the true value and then chops off 60 per cent. and assesses only 40 per cent.

Even in Camden, where the assessments are notoriously below the true value, the assessors only admitted to a deduction of 40 per cent. But the assessor of North Plainfield has much to contend with,—remarks the New York World, in comment—and no doubt has good reasons for keeping his assessments down to 40 per cent. of value, for he said that was the rate of assessment in the city of Plainfield, in the adjoining county of Union, and if he assessed property in his township at anywhere near its full value or, in fact, any higher than he did in view of the state of affairs existing in Plainfield City, he could not live in the place.

Senator Everitt plied his questions in the line of inquiry pursued in every county so far with much adroitness and almost won the assessors to his pet ideas. He believes that the State school tax system should be abolished and every county be compelled to raise her own school moneys.

It has been a well-known fact for years that Somerset county pays a State school tax of $5,000 to $6,000 more than she receives back in the redistribution of the same fund by the State; and it has been generally claimed, and not disputed—the tax being paid in on the basis of ratables and redistributed on the basis of school population—that Somerset county's ratables must be pretty near up to true value. But it is held by the World correspondent that the claim can be successfully disputed after yesterday's investigation. If Somerset's ratables were up to full value she probably would have to come to the rescue of the counties poorer in purse and richer in progeny to the tune of several thousand more every year. Indeed, the nearer the Commission gets to the end of its investigation into the methods prevailing in the several counties, cities and townships the more convinced everybody seems to be that the wiping out of the State school tax and throwing upon every county the responsibility of raising its own school moneys would remove one of the greatest incentives for undervaluation. And as this idea gains popular favor so does that of State and County Boards of Equalization, and the idea of valuing real estate for assessment once in every four or five years.

Another matter is the taxation of bank stock. There are scarcely two townships in the State, let alone two counties, where the same method is adopted in assessing bank stock. It seems to be the popular idea that the stock should be taxed to the bank at par value and at the rate prevailing in the place where the bank is located, the entire tax to go to that town or city. This would no doubt result in a protest from the townships where stock is owned of banks situated elsewhere in the State, but the lawmakers from localities where the banks are situated would outnumber those from localities where there are no banks to such an extent that the protest could scarcely be heard.

An instance of the way bank-stock is now taxed was revealed by Assessor Reger, of Bridgewater Township. He said he assessed the stock of the First National Bank of Somerville at $200 per share, its market price being over $300. Asked why he assessed at only $200, he replied that he had consulted with the bank officers and they had told him that if the affairs of the bank were wound up to-morrow the stock would not realize more than $225 a share. And Mr. Reger thought that if that was the case $200 per share was a fair assessment value. It was remarked, however, that this should be pretty valuable stock, as it pays 18 per cent. on its capital annually.

When it came the turn of Assessor Cooley, of North Plainfield, to be questioned, Senator Everitt presented the following query:

"How do you assess property: at its true value, or some percentage less?"

"We strike"—was the answer—"what we consider the fair selling value, and then fix the assessment value at from 40 to 50 per cent. of that."

"Do you mean to say that you assess property at only 40 or 50 per cent. of its true value?"

"Yes; North Plainfield (which is in Somerset county) and the City of Plainfield (in Union county) are to all intents and purposes one place, and as they assess property in Plainfield at only 40 per cent of its value, for me to assess any higher would operate against us. In fact, no man could live in the town if he assessed property anywhere near true value."

Judge Williamson gave a forcible illustration of the injustice of assessing property at any percentage under true value.

"Why," he exclaimed, "I can invest in property worth $100,000, and by placing mortgages on it for $65,000 can avoid the payment of a single dollar of tax. How? Why, when the assessor comes around he finds property worth $100,000; he assesses it for $65,000 and I get a $65,000 deduction because of my mortgages, and the mortgagee has to pay the whole tax. I know lots of people in this town worth from $30,000 to $50,000, some of whom don't pay a dollar's tax and others only on $6,000 or $7,000. They mortgage their property for the express purpose of evading their taxes. All property should be assessed at full value, so that the mortgagor would be obliged to pay taxes on his equity in any mortgaged property."

Much Property Changes Hands.

Among the recent real estate transfers of this vicinity are recorded the following:

Elizabeth N. Goddard and husband to Emily A. Swanson, all of Plainfield, land in Plainfield, at West corner of Ninth street and Second place, 129x75., $3,000.

Bread! Bread! The Cry for Bread!

A million loaves, not enough for one city! Five millions, not enough for one State! Fifty millions, not enough for this country a single day, yet often what sour, soggy stuff it is, nevertheless it is eaten, and the result is dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, impoverished blood, pimples, blotches and scrofula. For the correction of all this, and as a general tonic for the system, take Golden Medical Discovery prepared by Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo. Its action is like a charm, a "benediction that follows after prayer." A remedy for stomanchic and liver troubles, as well as a specific for throat and lung disorders. It is guaranteed to benefit or cure, or money refunded.

SCHOOL AND CHURCH.

—There is a Friends' Mission at Ramallah, in Palestine, ten miles north of Jerusalem.

—There are more than fifty Congregational churches in Southern California. Many of them have over one hundred members.

—The natives of Africa along the Niger used to worship the animal called the iguana; now they eat it. The missionaries have brought about the change.

—According to the recent census of Switzerland, the Republic contained 1,700,000 Protestents, 1,200,000 Catholics, 8,300 Jews, and 10,700 adherents of no religion.

—Dr. William Lomax, of Indiana, has given his entire estate, amounting to over $100,000, to the Indiana Medical College, of Indianapolis, the only condition being the payment of a small annuity to the donor and his wife during their lives, and the reservation of their homes to them.

—Africa has now within her borders 10 American, 12 British and 13 Continental missionary societies. There are more than 700 ordained missionaries and more than 7,000 native preachers. It is estimated that there are, both white and native, about 175,000 communicants and 800,000 adherents.

—Clark University will next year begin a course in the history and principles of education, consisting of lectures and conferences, courses of reading, etc. It is designed for those who wish to qualify themselves to fill chairs of pedagogics in colleges and normal schools, and for superintendents and principals.

—The teachers' guild in London has over four thousand members. It proposes to ask Parliament to pass a statute for the registration of teachers that shall require as a condition of registration, after three years, satisfactory evidence of a knowledge of the history, theory and practice of education, and like evidence of practical efficiency and experience as a teacher.

—One of the most significant signs of the educational times is the disappearance of the elderly college president. Young men are pressing forward, and the older gentlemen are very content to step aside for some more easy-going place. The truth is, the presidency of a college is largely a place for the exercise of business shrewdness. The young men may be less venerable, but they make things rush.—Chicago News.

Struck Down.

What was the matter?

Overwork, brain and nerve exhaustion, heart trouble.

People without number are straining their brains and nervous systems in the mad race for subsistence, fortune or fame by overwork, in dissipation or other cause, and exhausting their nervous and physical energies, until sleepless nights, failing powers, complete nervous exhaustion, heart failure, paralysis, insanity or death must be the inevitable end unless help from some source is received.

You, reader, are rushing blindly on to sure destruction. You are warned every day and every hour of your impending doom. How? By those strange sensations, that dull, dizzy and bad feeling head, that restlessness, irritability and nervousness; by those more or less sleepless nights, from which you wake tired and unrefreshed; by the weak, trembling, cold limbs, by the malarial symptoms, the langnor and sense of nervous and physical exhaustion which grows upon you more and more. These are danger signals, and your very life depends upon heeding them.

What is to be done? The answer is plain enough. You are losing your nerve force and power, and running down in strength, energy and vitality. Whatever will restore this lost strength and vigor to the brain and nerves will put you again in sound health and strength. This is precisely what Dr. Greene's Nervura, the great brain and nerve invigorant, will do. As a restorer of nerve force, a builder up of nerve power, vigor and energy, this wonderful remedy has no equal in the world. You can have no idea until you try it of its marvellous toning, strengthening and invigorating effects, its beneficial and healthful action as a brain, nerve and blood restorative. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless, and can be obtained at any drug store for $1 per bottle.

A Marvellous Cure.

For two years I was one of the most miserable of mankind. I had indigestion and nervous dyspepsia; everything I ate disagreed with my stomach, which caused me to have a fluttering of the heart. I was very nervous at all times—cold feet and hands, sleepless nights, and, in fact, was cranky and ugly. In all, it was a miserable existence for me until I used Dr. Greene's Nervura. After trying all other remedies that I ever knew or heard tell of, and after giving up all hopes of getting cured, I concluded I would try Dr. Greene's Nervura. After taking two bottles I began to feel the effects of it, and continued until I considered myself cured. I had no more indigestion or dyspepsia; my nerves were strong; no more trouble with my stomach or fluttering of heart; no cold feet or hands: I sleep well and get up refreshed; in fact, I feel I am myself again, all due to Dr. Greene's Nervura. Any one troubled with the same disease who gives it a fair trial I am positive will be benefitted by it. CHAS. A. TITSWORTH,

243 Seventh st., Jersey City, N. J.

Dr. Greene of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York, its discoverer, is the famous specialist in the cure of nervous and chronic diseases. The doctor has devoted special attention to the treatment of all forms of chronic diseases through letter correspondence, and will give by mail his opinion and advice in any case free of charge. The perfection of this system renders a complete cure almost assured, as his success in treatment by correspondence is wonderful and unequalled. ## THE WEDDING RING.

Its History Runs Back to the Beginning of Recorded Time.

In Ancient Days It Was Used as an Emblem of Betrothal—The Important Part It Plays in the Marriage Ceremony of the Present.

It is an incontrovertable fact that every woman feels a certain interest in the subject of wedding rings. And, indeed, it is natural enough that this should be so. Type and symbol beyond aught else of the most important crisis in a woman's life, the wedding ring must necessarily be fraught with fascination for wife and maid, for old and young alike.

Every one knows that rings were worn in old Bible days, though what part they originally played in the nuptial ceremony is not so clear. But at any rate they form an important portion of the wedding service among the modern Jews, the regulations in force among them on this head being very strict. The ring must in every case be examined and certified by the officiating rabbi of the synagogue, to make sure that it is of the prescribed value, and the simple operation of placing it upon the finger is so binding that this alone, apart from any other portion of the ceremony, is considered to constitute a legal marriage.

In point of fact, however, it is not from the Jews, but from the Romans that the nations of modern Europe derive their wedding ring. Among the ancient masters of the world, rings were commonly used as part of the rite of betrothal. But it is worth while to notice that there was one special difference between the ancient and the modern use of rings in this respect. In their original employment they were really not wedding but betrothal rings; that is, they were given and taken as the public expression of a man's promise to a woman that he would marry her. As a learned writer has told us in regard to the early Italians, "a man who wished to pledge his faith to a woman, placed a ring upon her finger, which is at the present day preserved for the benediction of marriage."

Two points are thus to be remembered—that in the old days there were two distinct ceremonies—the betrothal and the actual wedding—both of which were equally essential to the full solemnization of a marriage; and also that the ring was originally used, not for the second ceremony, but for the first. Such was the custom during the pagan era; and so it remained throughout the early centuries of Christianity. Marriage even then, and for a very considerable period afterwards, was regarded in the light of a civil contract only, and was entered into before a magistrate; while the ring itself was used as the symbol of promise in the preliminary rite of betrothal.

Gradually, however, these two ceremonies became merged into one by the loss on the part of the betrothal of its first formal character. For some time after this, and in consequence of it, there was no small uncertainty in the use of the ring, which was not unfrequently left out of the business altogether. But, after awhile, it reasserted its importance, and once more came into general use. Moreover, it now began for the first time to limit itself habitually to the single hoop of plain gold—a form which has become inseparably connected with all our modern notions of what the wedding ring should be.

It will thus be seen,—to the surprise, doubtless, of not a few readers—that the wedding ring is not a Christian institution at all, but rather one which we have inherited, along with so much else in our ceremonial, directly from classical antiquity. This leads the writer to mention a curious point in connection with its common employment. In pagan Rome the betrothal ring was worn on the third finger (the one next to the little finger) of the left hand, as it is today. This position is said to have been chosen from the belief—unfounded, of course—that there was a vein or nerve running directly from that finger to the heart, a belief that was accepted, not alone by the ignorant masses, but also by the learned men—the doctors and philosophers of the time. But in early Christian days a good deal of confusion seems to have prevailed upon the matter, as a result of which the ring was often placed and worn upon the woman's right hand. In the old Saulsbury Manual is found specific reference to this fact in a very singular passage, which throws some interesting light on the subject of the wedding ceremony in general. From this we learn that the bridegroom was to receive the ring from the priest, who had blessed it (and this blessing, it may be remarked, is still hinted at in the marriage service of the English Episcopal church); and then holding the right hand of the bride in his own left hand, he was to recite the words: "With this ring I thee wed." Then he was to place the ring on the right-hand thumb, saying: "In the name of the Father;" then on the first finger with the words: "and of the Son;" then on the second finger, adding: "and Holy Ghost," and finally, with the words closing: "Amen," on the third finger, where it was to remain. But in course of time uniformity was established in favor of the left hand, and there is no longer room for question concerning this important point. Of course, no one acquainted with the marriage service of the English Episcopal church needs to be told that it is absolutely necessary, according to the rites of that church, that a ring should be employed. But beyond the simple ordinance that a ring there must be, the church makes no specific conditions, so that (curious as it may appear) a ring of any size or weight, material or pattern, will serve the purpose perfectly well. It is naturally enough not often that one has to chronicle any departure from recognized custom in this regard; but such departures do from time to time occur. A story is told of two paupers "who came to church and requested to be married with the church key, as the parochial authorities had not furnished them with a ring." The clerk, it is said, not unnaturally, felt "some delicacy" about this, and finally found another way out of the difficulty. He fetched an old curtain ring from his own house and with this extraordinary article the loving couple were duly united in the bonds of holy matrimony. But, though this particular clerk saw fit to hesitate, the church key has been employed, and that more than once, in place of the ring during the last hundred years. Even the Duke of Hamilton "was married at May Fair with a bed-curtain ring." Nor does this by any means exhaust the list of eccentric makeshifts. To give my one other instance, it is a matter of history that a lady was once married with a ring of leather cut transversely from the finger of the bridegroom's glove.

Thus the plain gold hoop now sanctioned by long usage and surrounded as it is by untold associations, is by no means so essential to the marriage ordinance as most people suppose. Indeed, it is only during more recent years that it has been accepted as the only proper form of wedding-ring; for in former days rings used for marriage were frequently chased, or set with stones, or inscribed on the inside or outside with names, initials, or mottoes. One might give a long list of these mottoes, or posies as they were called, but it would hardly be found interesting or instructive; for they were not as a rule distinguished by great poetic ability or marked originality of thought.

So it appears that the wedding-ring, like all things human, has its history and its romance. Nowadays it may indeed be said that its adventures are well-nigh over. Perhaps so. But, be that as it may, the writer feels safe in prophesying that so long as hearts beat in unison to the same hopes, the same aspirations, the same desires, so long will the wedding-ring keep its hold upon us all, as the enduring symbol of faith and sacrifice and love.—Detroit Free Press.

THE PROFESSOR AHEAD.

Scholastic Jokes That Worked on the Boomerang Principle.

A teacher's standing, says the Lewiston (Me.) Journal, frequently depends more on his ability to deal with human nature than with the intricate problems of the text-books, and this applies to colleges as well as primary schools. A well-known professor of one of our Maine colleges has always been dreaded more by the incoming freshman class than any other man on the faculty. This feeling wears away somewhat during the last part of the course, but there is always an awe-inspired atmosphere as thick as a Down-East fogbank in this man's class-room, be it filled with quaking freshmen, or self-satisfied seniors. Jokes have, however, frequently been tried on him, since college boys are very brave when they think their tracks are covered, but the jokes have usually been found to have a double back-action kick, like an old flint-lock musket.

With the expectation of getting an "adjourn" from his recitation the next day, some scamp one night broke into this professor's class-room and painted every seat in the room with fresh paint. When the class assembled the next day, the professor said very blandly: "You can sit down, gentlemen, or stand up, just as you please. Mr. A——, will you please demonstrate—," etc.

The class stood for the full hour, its members finding relief by standing first on one foot and then on another.

On another occasion when the mercury had dropped below zero another attempt was made to get an "adjourn." The stove and every window was removed from the recitation-room, but the professor was found there at the usual hour seated comfortably in his chair with overcoat, winter cap and woolen gloves on, and without discomfort to himself conducted a recitation of an hour's length, with heaven's breezes wandering uninterruptedly through the room.

A Legend of Vassar College.

"The old legend at our college," says a Vassar girl, "is that in former times the words 'Vassar Female College' were done in stone on the front of the building. One night, so runs the tale, there came a great storm, and the F and E were taken off, leaving it 'male.' This the elements knew to be incorrect, so a second storm obligingly took off the M. The 'Vassar Ale College' was, however, too suggestive of the manner in which the founder made his money, so the trustees had 'ale' chipped, and to-day it reads simply 'Vassar College.'"

RESCUED FROM SLAVERY.

Congo and Angola Blacks Who Live Far From Their Old Home.

Scattered along the coast of West Africa in Sierra Leone and Liberia are a number of settlements known as Angola town and Congo town. The ancestors of the people who live in these little hamlets, were born hundreds of miles south of the places where their children are found to-day. They were natives of Angola and the Congo region. Many of them belong to the great Bantee family, and they know very different languages from those of the negro tribes among whom they now live.

These handfuls of Southern African people scattered among the inhabitants of Liberia and Sierra Leone are more fortunate than many thousands of their friends who toiled away their lives as slaves on the plantations of the West Indies and Brazil. For these settlements were made by rescued slaves, who were taken by the cruisers of the civilized nations from the holds of slave vessels. They were bound for the West Indies or Brazil, for very few of the Congo or Angola blacks were brought to this country. Probably ninety-nine in a hundred of the black residents of this country came originally from the west coast, between Senegambia and Cameroons, while Brazil received most of her hundreds of thousands of slaves from Congoland and Angola.

So these more fortunate captives, who were rescued before they had been taken far from their native land, were settled far north of the Congo at points where they could be protected against slavers. There they have lived ever since, and not a few of the children born in their new homes still talk the languages of the southern tribes. Many of them have been Christianized, are tolerably industrious, and their lot has been quite fortunate, considering the terrible fate they so narrowly escaped.

Awhile ago Mr. H. Chatelain visited the Angola settlement at Sierra Leone. He says in the African News that the style of the houses, the methods of the field cultivation, and the features of the people carried him at once back to Angola, where he had long resided. In one house he found an old man, to whom he spoke in Kimbunder, one of the languages of Angola. The old man was surprised and overjoyed, and, opening his shutters, called out to his neighbor to come and see the man who had been in Angola and spoke Kimbunder. They crowded around, and were greatly surprised to see a white man who could talk with them in a language they had not heard from others since they were shipped from Loanda as slaves.

Chatelain found that they had entirely discarded their old belief in charms and fetiches, and have espoused the faith the missionaries taught them. Some of these people wished to return with their white friend to the old home of their fathers, but he could not take them. There are thousands of these people in the West Indies and Brazil who have vivid recollections of Angola and Congoland, but never expect to see their native shores again.

The people of Paynesville, Liberia, are nearly all released slaves of Congo origin. About two years ago many of them were seized with a craze to return to the Congo. The Congo State was glad to encourage this immigration, for the Liberian Congoese are industrous, and have made considerable progress. About fifty of them went back and settled near the mouth of the river. The Congo Government gave them ten acres of land each and rations for a year. They are not pleased, however, with the change they have made, and have written discouraging letters to Liberia that have stopped further immigration. Bishop Taylor reports the Paynesville Congoese as saying, after they had heard from their friends: "We no go to Congo no more. Liberia is the home dat God give us, and we stop here till He calls us."—N. Y. Sun.

Why He Praised Them.

"There is considerable to be said in favor of the cigarette, notwithstanding the abuse that it receives," remarked the portly traveling man to the hotel clerk. "Now, there are circumstances under which cigarettes may make a man comfort able and easy."

"Are you an example?"

"I am."

"I never see you smoking them."

"Certainly not; I sell them."—Washington Press.

The Wrong Man Found.

Citizeness—Did you go and thrash that editor for printing those things about you?

Citizen—I went to the office, but I couldn't find him.

"Whom did you find there?

"No one, but a great big bull-necked fellow who pretended he was responsible for that article, but I knew from his looks that he couldn't write."—N. Y. Weekly.

At the Summer Resort.

Mr. Firstspring (wishing to take a stroll)—Miss Threesummers, are you engaged for the present?

Miss Threesummers—Yes, just for the present; but not so conclusively as to interfere with the future. Any proposal you wish to make will be duly considered.—Chicago Post.

—Deaf and Dumb Beggar—(at unexpectedly receiving a quarter)—"Oh, thankee, thankee." Benevolent Passer—"Eh? What does this mean, sir? You can talk!" Beggar—(in confusion)—"Y-e-s, sir. Ye see, sir, I'm only holdin' this corner for th' poor deaf and dumb man wot belongs here." Benevolent Passer—(quickly)—"Where is he?" Beggar—(in worse confusion)—"He's—gone to th' park t' hear de music."—N. Y. Weekly.

—Herbert's father was fanning him last night, and when he thought the child was asleep he quietly stopped. In minute or two the boy opened his eyes and looked at his father. "Papa," he said, "fannin' is somephin' that makes you feel warmer when you don't get any bf it, ain't it?" The father started the fan again.—Washington Star.

PERSONAL AND LITERARY.

—Ludovic Halevy announces his retirement from literary work. He is tired and will write no more unless he concludes to finish an uncompleted novel.

—Salmon P. Chase's old law sign has been discovered, covered with dust and cobwebs, on a building formerly occupied by lawyers on Third street, near Main, in Cincinnati.

—Bertha von Hillern is still an ardent pedestrian, though most of her time is now devoted to work in her studio in the Virginia Mountains. She is a devout Catholic, and frequently walks eleven miles to church and back again.

—Princess Helen Cusa, whose husband died in Madrid lately leaving her a fortune of 3,000,000 francs, has determined to devote her whole income to charitable purposes. She has become a nurse in the children's hospital at Jassy.

—Sir Edwin Arnold's new epic, now finished, "The Light of the World," was conceived before he wrote "The Light of Asia," and for all inspiration and correct localization he traveled extensively through the Holy Land. His new epic is in blank verse, relieved with occasional lyrics.

—Mr. Gladstone estimates his library to contain from 22,000 to 25,000 books, arranged by himself into minute divisions and sections. He thinks that about one-forth of the volumes may be theological. He has about twenty editions of Homer, and from thirty to forty translations, whole or in part.

—A complete list of the Sultan's wives shows that he has five first-class wives, valides; twenty-four second-class or morganatic wives; and some two hundred and fifty third-class partners, variously described as "favorites" and "slaves." The care and attendance of the female establishments require the service of 5,000 persons, who are the only people in Turkey who receive their full pay with regularity.

—From Cairo, by way of Germany, is reported the discovery of a Coptic manuscript which contains much new light upon the Council of Ephesus in 431. It consists of a series of letters written from Ephesus by Cyril, Patriarch of Alexandria, to his agent at the court of Theodosius II., and a report by his agent, Victor the Younger, on the result of his negotiations.

—The American Humane Education Society offers two prizes of $250 each for best essays on this question: "In the interests of humanity should vivisection be permitted, and, if so, under what restrictions and limitations?" One prize of $250 is for the best essay advocating vivisection, the other of $250 for the best essay opposing it. Essays must be received before January 1, 1891, by George T. Angell, 19 Milk street, Boston.

—Editor Dana was selected as judg to pass upon the competitive poems submitted by the Indiana amateur journalists, and this is his report: "I have examined thoroughly the eight poems submitted in competition for the title of poet laureate, and it is my duty to say that there is not one of them which merits such an honor. They are all commonplace in thought and mediocre in treatment. I do not find an original idea in them all, and the one quality, which oppears pretty evenly, is facility in phrase-making and line-making." The amateur poets are indignant.

HUMOROUS.

—Mother—"What did you learn at Sunday-school?" Tommy—"The lesson was all about a man's health." Mother—"What did it say about it?" Tommy—"It said: 'Jacob's well.'"—Lawrence American.

—Lady (to Tramp)—"Poor man; I suppose that in your hard life you meet with a great many stumbling blocks?" Tramp—"Yes, madam, but the chopping blocks are what I most dread."—Boston Herald.

—The Czar—"Vodsky, what is thatski?" Vodsky—"That is one of those Americanovitch slotskimachiniskis." The Czar—"And what does the thingovitch do?" Vodsky—"You drop a diamond in the slotovitch and try your weightski."—N. Y. Sun.

—"Well, of all the ways of makin' a livin'," said Binks, "I think literature's about the easiest." "The easiest?" "Yes. I've watched the fellers that do it. All a man's got to do is to sit down an' slide his pen over the paper."—Washington Post.

—Dinah—"Wat's de matter dere, honey?" Small Daughter (dressing for a party in Blackville)—"Dere's so many holes in my shoes dat my new red an' blue stockings shows right froo." Dinah—"Well, go wifout stockings, an de holes won't show."—Good News.

—Some scientific men have come to the conclusion that the man of the future will be without hair and without teeth. That will be the final development of the species. Fortunately, we who are now on the planet will not live to see that happy time, and we need not give ourselves much concern about it.—London Edition Herald.

—"No," said she, "I—I can only be a sister to you." "Very well," said he, "I must be going! I had expected a different answer, but—well, good-night!" "George," she faltered, as he started out into the night, "George!" "What is it?" he asked crossly. "Aren't you going to kiss your sister good-night?" He did not go.—Lawrence American.

—Upon one occasion Mr. Spurgeon told his students the following story: When I was in Arran I heard of a minister who preached in a certain church, and at the close of the service was strongly urged to promise his presence for a future supply of the pulpit—the collection after his sermon having been unusually large. "Dear me," said the minister, with becoming pride, "what might your ordinary collection amount to?" "Last Sunday it was twopence halfpenny." "What is it to-day, then?" asked the minister, expecting to hear a large sum. "Eightpence halfpenny," was the reply. "Woe is me," moaned the preacher within himself, "for I gave the sixpence myself!"—Pick-Me-Up.

Saved Her Life.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Feb. 6, 1889.

This is to certify that my mother has suffered from nervous weakness for over 20 years. We have tried innumerable remedies and physicians, she also went to Germany for her health, spending in all thousands of dollars with only temporary benefit. At last we tried Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic and Elixir of Iron, and I honestly and sincerely believe that she not only received more benefit from them than all others combined, but would have died before this without them, as she was getting weaker every day, before we began with the above medicine.

DR. ROBT. F. RENI, 776 Chapel st.

Our Pamphlet for sufferers of nervous diseases will be sent free to any address, and poor patients can also obtain this medicine free of charge from us.

This remedy has been prepared by the Reverend Pastor Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., for the past ten years, and is now prepared under his direction by the

SHOT BY A MADMAN

Mary Anderson's Crazy Lover Kills a Doctor.

A BROOKLYN ASYLUM THE SCENE

Two Shots Fired from a Revolver in Each Hand.

He Then Started to Search for Another Victim and is Arrested in New York.

Several Letters Taken from His Pockets Addressed to Mary Anderson, and one Rambling About God and Love.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Last evening James M. Dougherty, the insane lover of Mary Anderson Navarro, entered the office of the Kings County Insane Asylum and asked to see the Superintendent, Dr. Fleming. The Assistant Superintendent, Dr. George F. Doyd, recognized him as having escaped from the asylum a fortnight ago and sought to engage his attention.

Dougherty had a loaded revolver in each hand and fired them almost simultaneously and Dr. Lloyd fell to the floor and instantly expired, one bullet lodging in his throat and the other entering the head.

Dougherty then left the asylum and started for the Kings County Hospital with the avowed intention of killing Dr. Arnold, one of the surgeons there, but fortunately that gentleman was out.

From the latter place his steps were lost until he was arrested at the New York terminus of the bridge as he was alighting from a train and taken to the Oak Street Station.

Dougherty still had the two revolvers and in his pockets with a number of manuscripts and several letters. One of the letters was addressed to "Mrs. Mary Anderson Navarro," and read:

"MY MARY: I must now bid you good-bye. I wish you all happiness. You deeply wronged me, but I understand the extenuating circumstances and freely forgive you. Its ever thus, I am hurt by those I love. I have no wish to leave you now, Mary, be good, happy and true."

Another letter rambles incoherently about God and love as follows:

"I use the term it to represent our God, instead of he or she as I do not think God's sexual. Make in the future phase of existence this may be granted. If there be mating in it I intend to be awful good to you. Sometimes I was afraid of you. It was a sort of hero worship. You were my heorine and are so yet. I did love you: if I loved, I hate. In concluding, Mary, I advise you to study spiritualism. It is full of frauds. This is human nature. The other life is very near to us. I can hope to meet you there. I wish you would attend to my manuscripts. There is no friend to take interest in my discourses and they would help the world if diffused. I arose so poor and lowly that none takes note of them. These, the children of my brain, my orphans. I would wish to live on, and now farewell. JIMMIE."

Oct. 1, 1890.

Other letters were addressed to his mother, Mrs. Margaret Dougherty, Olean, N. Y.; Mr. Lewis, Spader, N. Y., and Charles O. Pierson, Room 59, War Department, Washington, D. C.

Dougherty was confined in the Kings County Asylum twenty-two months and escaped on September 26. It is learned that last Thursday he bought two revolvers at No. 43 Bowery to kill Dr. Fleming, and he admitted at the station house that he went to Brooklyn to kill, and fully expected to be killed himself.

CONFESSION OF FAITH.

The Presbyterian Revision Committee as Different of Opinion as the Synods.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 10.—The Committee on the Revision of the Westminster Confession of Faith, has selected Dr. R. R. Booth, of New York, and Elder M. H. Stratton, of New Jersey, to take the places of the two members who resigned last Wednesday.

Dr. Moore expressed the opinion today that the committee will adjourn next Monday. This is necessary in order that some of the members may attend the session of their Synods. Consideration of the third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh chapters occupied the morning. No formal action has been taken and it is not likely that there will be a vote at this meeting of the committee. The members have been permitted to discuss matters freely. The opinions expressed differed as widely as those of the Synods they represent. It is feared this will cause confusion when action is taken, and the president thinks it is advisable to give plenty of time for discussion before attempting to vote.

Strikers Must Not Intimidate.

LYNN, Mass., Oct. 10.—An injunction has just been issued by Judge Mason of the Superior Court against the members of the Cutters' Union who are managing the present strike, and ordering all further intimidation of workmen at Rumsey Brothers' shoe factory to cease. They are enjoined from preventing any one from approaching the factory for work by intimidation or persuasion or from doing anything tending to injure Rumsey Brothers' business.

Anthracite Coal Men Meet.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 10.—At the meeting of the Anthracite Coal Trade held here yesterday for the purpose of discussing the question of further restricting the production, no definite conclusions were reached and they adjourned to meet in New York on the 18th instant.

Their Cases Again Postponed.

BOSTON, Oct. 10.—The cases of Walter Potter and W. D. Lovell who are charged with fraudulently disposing of seventy $1,000 bonds, the property of Charles Richardson of Philadelphia, President of the Edge Hill Furnace company have again been postponed to the 23d inst.

EXTRA SESSION TALK.

Will the President Re-convene Congress Next Month?

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—There is a good deal of talk here regarding the probability of an extra session of Congress. One report is that President Harrison will call an extra session November 11 to pass the Federal Election law. The same authority says that before he left the city Senator Aldrich had an interview with the President, and during that call President Harrison told the Senator that he wanted the bill passed and before the second session began, and it was understood that the extra session would be called.

A despatch received last night in this city from the Presidential train said that the Washington despatch saying that the President had determined to call a special session of Congress was shown to Private Secretary Halford by a newspaper correspondent. Mr. Halford after reading it said: "That is not true. No decision has been reached."

Of course, the report of an extra session came like a surprise, and by many was looked upon as being hardly probable, yet inquiry on the Senate side of the Capitol showed that it is almost an accepted fact there, and that preparations are being made for the convening of the Senate early after the November election. Several of the Senators' clerks and a large number of the Senate employes are here working with the idea of an extra session, but still there are many who will not believe the report.

LOOKS BAD FOR LINGO.

Circumstantial Evidence Before the Coroner Strong Against Him.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 10.—The verdict of the coroner's jury in holding Lingo responsible for the murder of Mrs. Miller seems to meet with general approval. There is no doubt now that he will be indicted.

Prosecutor Jenkins says he has enough facts to convict the prisoner. They have been gathered by the detectives who have been working lately under his direct supervision.

The testimony before the coroner was circumstantial, but pointed very strongly to Lingo as the guilty party. The Du Hadway children and Insurance Agent Wilder testified to seeing him in the neighborhood at about the time the murder is supposed to have been committed.

County Physician Izard told of the appearance of the body and said that the underclothing showed fresh blood stains, and that the post mortem disclosed that the woman had been ravished.

England's Exiled Soldiers in Distress.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Much sympathy is aroused here by the published statement from Bermuda that the Second Battalion of the Grenadier Guards, who were exiled to that island for insubordination, are being ravaged by disease. Many of the men have families in this city whom they had to leave behind, and to whom they hoped to return in a short time. They were also great favorites with the public, and considerable indignation is expressed against the Government for failing to properly protect the health of one of the finest battalions in the British army.

Accident to the Newark.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—The new cruiser Newark, which left Cramps ship yard yesterday morning on her initial trial trip, returned to her dock later in the afternoon with a section of her machinery broken. Just before she reached Wilmington an unusual jarring was noticed. The machinery was stopped and an examination disclosed that the rocker shaft bearing on the forward engine was cracked. Those who were on the Newark say that her speed was very great and that she promises to be one of the fastest vessels ever launched.

Against an O'Reilly Memorial.

BOSTON, Oct. 10.—The following has been received by the Mayor:

To the Honorable Aldermen and Councilmen of Boston:

The undersigned citizens of Boston most earnestly and emphatically protest against the appropriation of public funds for, or allowing the erection of any memorial in any public grounds or building of the city, in honor of the late John Boyle O'Reilly, editor of the Boston Pilot, and the implacable enemy of the public schools.

The communication has about 1,000 signers.

Deaf Mutes Protest.

BOSTON, Oct. 10.—The declaration of Dr. Graham Bell that the offsprings of congenital deaf and dumb parents are almost certain to inherit these defects, and for which reason he urges Congress to pass a law preventing their intermarriage has caused a protest to be issued by several prominent mutes in this city.

Released from the Charge of Murder.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 10.—Ezekial Jolly, charged with complicity in the Black River murder mystery, has been released, as the charge against him has been dismissed.

A FIRM REFUSAL

The Erie's Answer to the Men's Demands.

EMPLOYES ADDRESSED DIRECT.

The Road Cannot Afford to Increase Wages, President King Says.

Where the Pay Is Less Than on Other Roads it Will Be Raised, But the New Schedule Submitted Is Declined—The Men Will Hold a Meeting To-Day and Decide on Their Course of Action.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The New York, Lake Erie & Western Railroad, through President King, has made known, by means of a brochure addressed to all its employes, its reply to the demands of its engineers, conductors, firemen and trainmen made some time ago.

These demands numbered 83 and related to a schedule of pay and regulations to govern employes of the road. They came from the "federated body of employes of the system."

The demands are refused.

The reply says: "The company is unable to advance wages generally. It does not expect or desire to pay less wages for similar services than those paid upon competing and adjacent roads, but on the other hand, as it cannot obtain higher rates for transportation, it cannot afford to pay rates higher than those of its competitors.

"And the fact is that the present rates are, almost without exception, higher than the average paid by them. In the few instances where it is not the case the company will readjust its rates.

"So far as the management of the corporate business and the employment and discipline of the company's officials are concerned, those matters are committed by law to the wise discretion of the officers and directors in office when questions regarding the same may arise."

The committee of employes has professed itself confident of getting a favorable answer, and the reply was received with expressions of surprise. Up to yesterday noon the cry of the committee was, "Every demand or none!" When a reporter met some of the committee this morning a reaction had set in. The company hadn't sent the committee in particular an answer, but had sent its answer to all employes. Chairman A. B. Youngson, of the committee, said that a meeting would be held some time to-day and then it would be decided what would be best to do.

Although there was no formal meeting of the committee up to noon, there was a most serious gathering at the hotel and also gatherings of lodges in in Jersey City. It is the usual course in such cases to send for the chiefs of the several brotherhoods interested. They may be looked for by Saturday or Sunday, and will probably call on the officers of the road. The General Grievance Committee of a brotherhood on any system can inaugurate a strike on its own responsibility, but if it wants the support of the other brotherhoods in general it must submit the matter to the grand officers and follow their instructions.

NOTICE TO BONDHOLDERS.

Uncle Sam Will Redeem 4 1-2s 1891 With Interest to August 31.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Secretary Windom last evening issued the following circular about the redemption of 4½ per cent. bonds:

Public notice is hereby given that until further notice the bonds of the 4½ per cent. loan of 1891 will be redeemed with interest to August 31, 1891, on presentation at the Treasury Department in the city of Washington, D. C.

Bonds forwarded for redemption should be addressed to the "Secretary of the Treasury, Division of Loans, etc., Washington, D. C.," and the registered bonds should be assigned to "The Secretary of the Treasury for Redemption."

Assignments must be dated and properly acknowledged, as prescribed in the note printed on the back of each bond.

When checks in payment are desired in favor of any one but the payee, the bonds should be assigned to the "Secretary of the Treasury for redemption for account of" (here insert the name of the person or persons to whose order the check should be made payable).

Mr. Parnell in Ill Health.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Mr. Parnell's physicians have positively forbidden him from addressing public meetings at present, and the utmost that they will sanction in the way of political activity at present is that he may meet his colleagues privately in conference.

Progress of New York's Recount.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The police census enumerators have turned in 899 of the election district returns for this city, the figures aggregating 1,576,231. There are still 48 districts to be reported.

LOOKING FOR PEACE.

Result of the Conference of the Baseball Magnates in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The conference of baseball magnates at the Fifth Avenue Hotel did not come to any definite settlement of the difficulty, but matters looking to a speedy patching up of the war was arranged. There were present delegates from the two leagues and Association, and the meeting lasted until 1 o'clock this morning.

President Byrnes, after the meeting closed, announced the proceedings as follows:

"The three committees had each presented its views of the situation and that a common ground was found from which to start, but that in view of the fact that neither the Players' League nor the American Association was fully or authoritatively represented, it was decided to defer any further consideration of the subject until the committees of those two organizations could confer with their respective bodies. Therefore it was decided to adjourn the conference until Oct. 22, at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. A resolution was adopted, which in the meantime will preserve a sort of armistice in baseball. It is that between Oct. 9 and 26 no negotiations or contracts will be entered into with any player by any of the clubs."

THE DUPONT HORROR.

Remains of Some of the Victims Gathered Up in Buckets.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 10.—Two more victims of the powder mills explosion will be buried this afternoon—Mrs. Rose Dougherty and Patrick Dougherty.

Seven buckets full of the ghastly remnants of the bodies of the six men missing have been picked up. A part of a face and head supposed to be Dolan's was found.

Four ribs were found twenty feet up in a tree, and other portions on the other side of the Brandywine.

A common funeral will be given to these remains.

It is now stated that a teamster named George Lutton, who with his team of four horses was seen about the powder yard just previous to the explosion, has not been seen since; neither have his horses.

Found Girls Strangled to Death.

CUMBERLAND, Ont., Oct. 10.—The dead bodies of Mary and Eliza McGonogle, aged 14 and 12 respectively, were found last night by a searching party who had been looking for them since Tuesday evening. The girls had been outraged and strangled to death. Narcisse Larocque, who was seen following the girls on their way home from school Tuesday afternoon, is under arrest on suspicion. The girls lived a mile and a half from the village where they attended school.

The President Wont Visit Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—George R. Davis, Director-General of the World's Fair, has received a telegram from the President in reply to one asking him to arrange his Western itinerary so as to make a visit to Chicago on the return East, informing him that the limited time of the Western trip and the impossibility of changing the present itinerary without injustice rendered it impossible for the President to visit Chicago on this occasion.

Souci Held for Extradition.

CONCORD, N. H., Oct. 10.—Vital, alias John Souci, who was arrested in Nashua recently for breaking jail at Beauharnoise, Can., was brought here last evening and arraigned before United States Commissioner Foster on a charge of horse stealing, and committed to jail to await the arrival of extradition papers. Canadian officers say Souci is a desperate man and is wanted for several crimes committed in the Dominion.

Movements of the Count of Paris.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 10.—Count de Paris and suite arrived in the city last evening on the James river steamer Ariel, and quartered at the Exchange Hotel. To-day, accompanied by Col. Archer Anderson and Capt. Phil Haxall, they started to visit Mechanicsville, Seven Pines, Cold Harbor and other old battlefields. This evening the Count has agreed to attend a reception at Col. Anderson's house.

Rube Burrows' Remains.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 10.—The dead body of Rube Burrows reached here at 3:30 a. m. and was gazed upon by hundreds of eager sight-seers as it lay in the plain pine box enclosing it. It was subsequently taken to Lamar County and delivered to his father at Sulligent Station. The old man wept at the sight of his boy's remains, and his sister went into hysterics, crying that he was shot down like a dog. The body was clothed in the same dirty suit he had on when captured.

WITH THE PRESIDENT

Another Delightful Day Spent By the Tourists.

BIG CROWDS TO ENTERTAIN HIM.

An Entire Day and Evening Spent at Ottumwa, Iowa.

The President Meets His Brother and Sister and Dines With Them—He Visits the Coal Palace, Reviews a Large Procession and Shakes Hands With Many Hundreds of the People.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 10.—The President and his party look bright and fresh this morning, and all express themselves extremely delighted with their journey. The reception at Ottumwa, Iowa, was on a magnificent scale and the President has spoke in flattering terms of the apparent prosperity of the city. On the arrival of the Presidential train, Colonel H. G. Ballingall, the president of the coal palace, attached to the Iowa Industrial Exposition, escorted the President to a carriage which was in waiting for him. The President's brother, John S. Harrison, of Kansas City, and his brother-in-law, T. J. Devins, were at the station. They got in the carriage with Colonel Ballingall and the President, and together they were driven to Mr. Devins's house, where the President took breakfast with his sister, his brother and his brother-in-law.

At 10 o'clock the President was escorted to the coal palace by the committee, where he was joined by the other members of his party. Arrangements had been made to give them a private view of the interior of the palace. Then the President returned to the home of his sister for luncheon.

Between 10:30 and 11 o'clock the sun came out, and at noon the President was escorted to the reviewing stand, where he reviewed the parade. When the procession had passed the President was taken again to the coal palace, where elaborate preparations had been made for his reception. The President took a seat on the stage. His appearance was greeted by applause from the crowd, which packed the palace. Hon. P. J. Ballingall called the assemblage to order and introduced Governor Horace Boies. The Governor, in a brief speech of welcome, introduced the President to the audience. The President spoke briefly.

The President went through the coal palace with Governor Boies, followed by the members of the President's party under escort of the local committee. A complete tour of the building was made, the lower floor being examined first and then the galleries. When the President appeared in the gallery, the visitors assembled on the lower floor gave him three cheers. The President expressed his pleasure and surprise at the unique and beautiful exhibit. He was then escorted to the main entrance, where a carriage was in waiting to take him to the home of his sister, Mrs. Devins, where he took luncheon. Prominent citizens of the city took the other members of the Presidential party to their homes and entertained them at luncheon.

Just as the President left the coal palace there was a light shower of rain, but though the skies remained cloudy and threatening, the rain soon ceased and all the arrangements for the parade were pushed forward rapidly. The line of march was through the principal streets of the city. An amphitheatre had been built on the hillside at the Adams School building. Three thousand children were seated there, each with a flag in hand. At a given signal the sea of flags waved homage to the President, while 3,000 childish voices sang a national air. The Presidential party drove through the inclosure near the school children, the rest of the parade keeping on Second street. When the head of the procession reached the public square the President and the other distinguished guests and Governor Boies left their carriages and took places on the reviewing stand, where the President stood and reviewed the parade. An immense crowd surrounded the reviewing stand and the streets through which the procession passed were lined with a dense crowd.

The President was then escorted to the residence of Mr. Fenton, where he dined. After which, with Secretary Tracy, the President gave an informal reception.

The President and the Secretary then went to the coal palace, where a public reception was held.

The President stood on the speaker's platform and shook hands for fifty minutes with the crowd.

They passed before him, men, women and children, at the rate of fifty a minute, and the President had shaken hands with at least 2,500 when at 8:50 p. m. the line was cut off. The President was then escorted back to his car, and twenty minutes later the train pulled out.

To Test the Weekly Payment Law.

BUFFALO, Oct. 10.—A case is up today before the Rochester General Term to test the weekly payment law, as to whether the salaried employes of the city of Buffalo come under the provisions of the Weekly Payment bill. The test is being made in the case of a clerk in the Mayor's office. A decision of the General Term is sought by the laborers throughout the State, and it will be of much more value than the Special Term decision by Judge Andrews of New York.

Cigarmakers Threaten to Strike.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Fifteen hundred Cuban and Spanish cigarmakers are notifying their employers that unless an increase of $2 per 1,000 is granted to them before Monday next that they will go on strike.

VIOLATED THE LOTTERY LAW.

The Weekly Edition of the Atlanta Constitution Seized.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The postal authorities at Atlanta, Ga., have seized this week's weekly edition of the Atlanta Constitution which contained a prize distribution offer to its subscribers to be settled by a Christmas drawing.

The objectionable feature consisted in the announcement that it would distribute prizes in its Christmas box.

The postal authorities claim that this violates the recently passed anti-lottery law.

When the law was passed the Constitution announced that the newspapers ought to assist the Government in executing its provisions, and promptly stopped the publication of its regular lottery advertisements, not thinking that the law was intended to cover such features as that for which to-day's edition was seized.

OUR TARIFFS TOO HIGH.

The Italian Chicago World's Fair Exhibit Committee Dissolved.

ROME, Oct. 10.—The Italian Committee on Chicago World's Fair exhibits has been dissolved. The reason given is that few Italian houses care to send displays to America in the face of the high duties imposed by the McKinley tariff.

"Teggs" Holland Arrested.

DOVER, N. H., Oct. 10.—"Teggs" Holland, who attempted to rob Edward M. Carr on the highway Wednesday night and shot the latter, was arrested in a swamp near the water works pumping station during the morning. No revolver was found on him, and he says he has had none for two days. Holland was taken into Carr's presence and fully identified by the latter, then removed to the jail followed by a large and angry crowd.

Big Manufactories to Be Built.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 10.—The Manufacturers' Record reports the closing of a contract for the construction of large steel works, including three furnaces, rolling mill, etc., at Tredegar, Calhoun County, Ala., to employ when completed over 3,000 hands; a large tinplate mill to be built at Savernake, Va.; a $200,000 rolling mill at Cardiff, Tenn., and a $1,100,000 company to establish manufacturing enterprises at Roanoke, Va.

Trotting Record Broken.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Oct. 10.—Fully 15,000 people cheered themselves hoarse when the great stallion Nelson flew under the wire and it was known that for a second time he had broken the world's trotting record. He was driven by his owner, C. W. Nelson. Time: First quarter, 33 seconds; half, 1:04½; three-quarters, 1:36½; under the wire in 2:11½; thus lowering the world's record by a quarter of a second.

Nominated for Assembly.

RONDOUT, N. Y., Oct. 10.—E. B. Walker, of Kingston, was nominated for Assembly by the Republicans of the Second Ulster district.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The Amherst eleven beat the "Aggie" team at foot ball at Amherst yesterday, 52 to nothing in 45 minutes.

Light snow fell at intervals yesterday at Sisson, Cal. There has been a heavy fall of snow on Mount Shasta.

La Grippe has struck Burlington, Ia., again. A number of people are down. Two deaths from the disease are reported.

Mrs. Mary T. Birt of New York city was unanimously re-elected President by the Women's Christian Temperance Union at the State Convention in session at Elmira.

The steamship Kansas, at Boston from Liverpool, reports that on October 3, latitude 48.21 North, longitude 46.49 West, she passed an iceberg 300 feet high and 600 feet long.

Isaac Murphy, the great jockey, is seriously ill with pneumonia and inflammation of the bowels at his home in New York, and his friends are greatly alarmed at his condition.

The miners of the Monongahela district will demand an increase of half a cent per bushel this month. If the operators refuse the demand a strike will ensue which will affect over 6,000 miners.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—For New England: Fair weather; warmer; variable winds, becoming southerly.

For Eastern New York: Warmer; southerly winds; fair weather; rains in northern portions to-night.

For Eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware: Warmer; fair weather; southerly winds.

For Western New York and Western Pennsylvania: Warmer; southerly winds; fair weather.

THE DAILY PRESS.

W. L. & A. L. FORCE, Publishers and Proprietors.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - Managing Editor.

BY THE WAY.

—The class in short-hand will be organized at the Y. M. C. A., to-night.

—Forty-two boys enrolled themselves as members of the Boys' Club last night.

—The weekly conference for Christian men will be held at the Y. M. C. A. to-night.

—W. E. Johnson, sexton of the Methodist Episcopal church, has removed from Plainfield avenue to 54 Manning avenue, North Plainfield.

—A performing bear, led by two swarthy Italians, and followed by a crowd of boys and girls, made lively the residence streets today.

—Bids will be received at the office of John Ulrich, 65 North avenue, to-morrow, for the removal of the building on East Second street, formerly occupied by the Crescent League.

—The co-partnership of Hetfield Bros., was dissolved yesterday by mutual consent. Walter L. Hetfield withdraws from the firm and John M. Hetfield will continue the business.

—Tunis J. Carey has furnished bonds for Thomas Peterson's appearance in case the Grand Jury finds an indictment against the young man on Lizzie Courtney's serious charge.

—The second ward has proved itself the Banner Ward again. Its election officers completed their house-to-house registration yesterday afternoon before some of the other ward officers had even commenced. There were 561 names of voters listed.

—The eleventh annual reunion of the Veteran Association of the First Regiment of N. J. Volunteer Cavalry will be held at Trenton, Oct. 16. The presence of old comrades from this city is earnestly desired. Those desiring to attend may obtain information from C. F. Croselmire, Secretary, 115 Chestnut street, Newark.

—It would be difficult to find a quartette equal to the Dudley Buck for taste and training. Its singing is a revelation of the possibility in shading and expression for four well-matched and perfectly handled male voices. It will appear in concert, with Roberts the reader, and Glose the pianist, at Music Hall, next Thursday evening.

—The audiences at the mesmeric entertainments of Prof. Reynolds at Reform Hall this week have been highly appreciative, and the subjects of this master of hypnotism have been exceptionally good. A thoroughly interesting performance, with special features, will be given to-night and to-morrow night, with a matinee Saturday afternoon.

Two Votes Left in a Ward That Once Elected Him to the Council.

An election was held in the Fourth Ward, the other evening, to fill a vacancy in the County Executive Committee that occurred by the expiration of the term of Mr. Carey, a former policeman. It was the same ward where he was once elected a Councilman by the efforts of J. B. Miller and other leaders whom he subsequently rewarded by persecution.

Mr. Carey was a candidate to succeed himself on the City Executive Committee the other evening, yet he got but two votes. These two votes, it is said, were cast by a man by the name of Titsworth who nominated him, and a man by the name of Mitchell, who works at Potter's or Pond's. Even the support of the Art Gallery politicians seems to have fallen away from the man with the foul mouth.

Found a Victim With a Willing Heart and Ready Purse.

Victor Hedrich, who runs a barber shop on Liberty street, is a generous-hearted man, as is evidenced by his kindness, yesterday, to a stranger who went to him for aid. The man wanted to borrow three dollars to pay his car fare to the bedside of a dying brother, and Mr. Hedrich believed him and lent the money. This morning the man sent a friend, another stranger, on a similar errand, and got two dollars more. Now Mr. Hedrich learns that he has been duped, and has joined the countless thousands who mourn, according to Robert Burns, at man's inhumanity.

Another Lamp Needed at the Station.

The necessity for a lamp on the platform at the North avenue railroad station where the express wagons back up to receive and deliver their loads grows nightly more apparent. Last night a boy fell off the platform to the stone pavement below, sprained his wrist, and gashed his forehead. Only a few nights ago Mary Dougherty, a Front street servant, walked off the platform, in the darkness, and was stunned so that she had to be taken home in a hack. Immediately afterwards an elderly gentleman fell in the same place and broke his eyeglasses.

Comrades, Enjoy Themselves.

Major Anderson Post had it first open-house entertainment at its rooms, last evening, and there was a large attendance of Grand Army men from the other Plainfield post with their wives, and also a visiting delegation from the New Brunswick post accompanied by a drum and fife corps.

Mrs. Asa Collier and Miss Anna Bolce sang, Miss Livermore recited, Miss Jessie Utter played and Comrade Titsworth also favored the audience with a song. There was a bountiful spread of refreshments, too.

MACHINISTS ENTERTAINED.

A Reception at the Y. M. C. A. Rooms, Where the Best Was That Which Was Contributed.

The reception given last evening by the Young Men's Christian Association to the machinists of the city, was perhaps more heartily enjoyed than has been any previous social gathering held at the rooms. After spending some time in social intercourse all were invited to the hall, where the following programme was most acceptably rendered:

Zither Solo.....Gustav Schwarz
Hand-Bell Solo.....Prof. F. Milner
Feats on horizontal bar.....Prof. E. W. Logan, and members of the Orange Y. M. C. A.
Tumbleronicon Solo (musical glasses).....Prof. F. Milner
Zither Solo.....Gustav Schwarz
Club swinging.....Prof. Logan, Instructor in Orange Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium
Hand Bell Solo.....Prof. Milner
Tumbling.....Prof. Logan and others
Address.....President Murray
Zither Solo.....Gustav Schwarz

Mr. Murray, in his address of welcome, took occasion to speak of what the Association seeks to do for the social, intellectual and spiritual welfare of young men, and extended a cordial invitation to all to visit the rooms at all times. While the programme as a whole was enthusiastically received, the zither solos of Gustav Schwarz are deserving of special mention.

The Reception Committee served the refreshments prepared by the Ladies' Nine.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. Wm. G. E. See, of East Front street, is spending a few days at Tarrytown, N. Y.

Miss Ida L. Vermeule, of Chatham street, left this morning for a few weeks visit with friends in New York.

Miss Carrie Dewey has been out of town attending the wedding of her niece, Miss Lily Douglas, at Middletown, N. Y.

Walter Selby, one of Omaha's successful real estate agents, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. L. VanEmburgh, of East Second street.

Miss Jessie Munger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Raymond Munger, arrived from Europe, yesterday noon, after a very stormy passage.

Irving West, of this city, was an usher at the wedding of Miss Ida M. Gardner of Lansingburgh, N. Y., to Tristram Coffin of Poughkeepsie, yesterday.

Randolph M. Steele and Francis E. Marsh, executors of the estate of Manning Steele, have transferred to Alice E. Abbott, land on Central avenue, 299x150 feet, for $1.

Wm. D. Murray, President of the Y. M. C. A., has been induced to accept the position of Superintendent of the Crescent Avenue Sunday school, in place of Henry B. Newhall, who has resigned after fourteen years' service. Mr. Murray's acceptance will be welcome news to teachers and scholars.

At the county Republican convention held in Elizabeth, yesterday, Dr. J. A. Allis of this city was most highly honored by receiving a vote for Coroner that came within four of nominating him. The unusual compliment to so young a practitioner, evidences Dr. Allis' rapid strides in personal popularity.

At Seminary Hall, Friday evening, the 31st inst., there will be an entertainment under the auspices of the Guild of the Church of the Holy Cross. Miss Murphy, the rector's daughter; Mrs. George C. Evans, of Washington avenue; and Messrs Walter M. McGee and William L. Saunders, will render the farce, "A Billous Attack;" clever Marshall Wilder will tell stories; and there will be vocal and instrumental music.

Mr. and Mrs. Moses H. French, who for fifty-three years have lived at their Washington Valley Mills, removed yesterday, with their daughter, into their Borough property, 38 Craig place. The first year of their marriage Mr. and Mrs. French moved five times, finally into the house where they have lived more than half a century. Mr. French has disposed of his business to his son, N. Whitfield French, of Fourth street.

G. W. VanBoskerck, father of Mrs. Wm. Bloodgood, of Netherwood, with his family of Westfield, moved to this city last week, with the intention of making it their future place of residence. "By the change," says the Leader, "Westfield loses one of its oldest and best residents, Grace church one of its stanchest and most active supporters, and society in general one of its most prominent and highly respected members. While sincerely regretting their departure, we can but wish them the utmost satisfaction and contentment in the new home."

Personal Purity.

The Rev. A. H. Lewis will speak on the subject of Personal Purity at the young men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A., Sunday at 4:15 P. M.

Dr. Lewis has been long impressed with the importance of work along social purity lines, and is well qualified to speak to the men of the City upon this important subject. There will be especially good singing at this meeting. All men will be welcome.

$4,000 for Music This Winter.

It is estimated that the Plainfield people have subscribed $4,000 for their musical entertainments during the coming season. There is not another seat left in Music Hall for the Choral Society's concerts, although applications are still arriving. The Melopoia's treasury is also full.

JACKSONIAN SENTIMENTS.

North Plainfield to take a Firm Stand.

Ex-Borough Counsel, John H. Jackson, is quoted as saying: "North Plainfield, the richest and most enterprising township of Somerset county, intends to take a firm stand in the Senaterial fight this Fall. It is not going to become an obstructionist, but is going to be independent and intends to let its independepce be felt, not by insisting upon the nomination of any particular person, but by demanding that no party hack or mere self-seeker shall receive the nomination to office, no matter what politician asks it. Its delegation will go the Convention unpledged to any nominee, but pledged to stand firm by this principle, that no one will receive its vote whom it does not consider in every way the most proper candidate for the office. It is thought that in the numerous candidates who will likely be named in the Convention and have followers there that the solid vote of this delegation adverse will prevent the nomination of any one of them, and that thus the neglect heretofore heaped upon North Plainfield may result in to some extent elevating the Senatorial canvass and forcing the Convention to nominate some one whose real merits, according to the Jeffersonian test, entities him to be a candidate for so important an office. At least the attempt will be made and if it results in a failure, it will be a failure in a good cause."

The Trinity People Have a Pleasant Time.

The fifth anniversary of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Trinity Reformed church was celebrated last evening by a highly enjoyable sociable. The large cheerful lecture room was decorated with jardinieres of cut flowers, furnished by the young ladies, and presented a very attractive appearance. The evening was spent very happily. An excellent five-minute talk was given by E. E. Anthony on Christian Endeavor work. Master J. Bartindale, who possesses a fine boyish voice volunteered a solo, and sang so acceptably that he had to again later in the evening. He was accompanied, on the piano, by Mrs. T. H. Bartindale, his mother. Harvey Dayton read Mary Ann's funny story of the Haythen Chinee. The Secretary of the Society, James Connelly, read his annual report, showing gratifying growth and progress. Miss Maude VanDyke recited "Who'll Buy?" A reading by Miss Fannie Mattison was greatly enjoyed. There was hearty singing by all, during the evening, led by H. J. Martin, and accompanied by Miss Alice Smith as pianist. Lemonade and cake were provided in abundance.

Thought the Baby Was Killed.

A baby carriage was trampled to pieces by a horse on Peace street, near the railroad bridge, last evening, and those who saw the accident cried out "The baby's killed!" There was no baby in the carriage, however, as the mother, Mrs. David B. Nestor, had taken the child out of the vehicle and had deposited several purchases of dry goods and groceries in it instead. She was trundling it along East Third street when the child by her side stumbled, and to save the little one from a fall she released her hold on the handle of the carriage and made a grab at the youngster's arm. The carriage rolled merrily onward just in time to get in the way of one of Michael Higgins's stages. The horse had his feet tangled up in the perambulator before his driver could bring him to a halt, and in an instant fragments of the smashed wheels and framework were distributed freely about, with remnants of the packages from the stores. Mrs. Nestor scolded young Higgins, the driver, and said she'd have him arrested.

A Plainfielder Dies of Heart Disease.

Benjamin F. Lowe, seventy-eight years of age, and father of W. E. Lowe, of Plainfield, was found dead on the floor of his room at the Grand Union Hotel, New York city, yesterday morning, and Deputy Coroner Weston decided that he had succumbed to heart disease. Mr. Lowe, who was an insurance agent, retired with a comfortable fortune in 1875. He went to the Grand Union Hotel in July because the house of his son, on Park avenue, where he had been residing, was undergoing repair. He had another son in Colorado, and a daughter in one of the Southern States. Mr. Lowe was born in Boston, Mass. His body was removed to Plainfield yesterday.

King's Daughters to Give an Afternoon Tea.

The Watchful Circle of the King's Daughters will hold an afternoon tea and cake sale at Miss Scribner's and Miss Newton's school, LaGrande avenue and Washington street, to-morrow afternoon from two till six o'clock. Admission will be free, and everybody who goes will have a nice time.

The Officers From This City.

City Clerk Coward was one of the secretaries of the Republican convention at Elizabeth, yesterday; F. A. Dunham was appointed to escort Major Hicks to the chair; Geo. W. Moore was one of the committee on rules, and John W. Murray was one of the committee on permanent organization.

Is it not surprising that nearly every household in the country should be acquainted with the merits, virtues, and the healthful properties of Hires' Root Beer? For years it has been the standard drink of those who enjoy a delicious temperance beverage. It tones up the system, helps nature, and is just what all need in hot weather. A 25 cent package makes five gallons. Sold everywhere.

Falsehoods They Stuff Their Susceptible Countrymen With.

When the series with the Crescents was first arranged the Crescent's managers guaranteed that the West End team should have courteous treatment, and that sufficient police force would be provided to suppress any annoying language or behaviour upon the part of the spectators. Saturday's game simply demonstrated the truth of what the West End members have so often declared, viz.: that the Crescents dont want to control their crowd. But, then, after the O'Rourke episode, the West Ends might have looked for anything.—Somerville Gazette.

All the disorderly persons arrested by the police, Saturday, were from Somerville, and if it had not been for the protection of Plainfield friends more would have been put in the jail. There should have been a guarantee that Plainfield would receive courteous treatment from the West End heelers.

The Plainfield Press charges that Manager Mack of the West Ends had bought the umpire with a promise of ten dollars, and then proceeds to give the lie to its own charge by admitting that the umpire's decision at the critical stage of the game was against the West Ends. This insinuation against "the boss manager of the boss club" is in perfect consonance with the usual policy of that journal towards the West Ends.

THE PRESS did not charge Manager Mack with anything of the sort. It merely stated that Umpire Golden said, "Mr. Mack promised to pay me ten dollars out of his own pocket." This, Mr. Mack has confessed himself, is true. That's all.

Nominated for Congress.

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., Oct. 10.—A. J. B. Ross of Essex was nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Twenty-first District. He accepted the nomination.

LOWELL, Mass., Oct. 10.—The Prohibitionists of the Eighth District have nominated N. A. Glidden for Congress.

Fatal Crossing Accident.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Oct. 10.—A special train conveying Superintendent Othausen ran into a farmer's wagon at Dryland Crossing of the New Jersey Central Railroad last night, killing Frank Sell, aged 23 years, cutting the horses to pieces and demolishing the wagon.

$30,000 Fire in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—Fire last night destroyed the chenille manufacturing establishment of Edward Jones on Frankford avenue. Loss about $30,000.

To the Members of Franklin Council No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M.

All the members are requested to meet in the Lodge Room at 7 o'clock P. M., Sunday, Oct. 12 to attend divine services in the M. E. church.

EXCELSIOR SLATE PAINT!

Something Useful and Beneficial Now in Your City.

The component parts of this Paint are of a powerful, penetrating and preserving nature, combined with a large per cent of PURE GROUND SLATE; and when applied hot to new or old shingles, penetrates them, entering the cracks and pores of the wood and gradually hardens, shutting out all moisture and rendering the shingles impervious to weather, and fire-proof against sparks or cinders from chimneys or burning buildings. It can be applied to old shingles, metal or felt roofs that leak, and obviates the necessity of renewing them. It will form an elastic coating over tin roofs, and will not crack or scale. It will stop leaks around gutters and chimneys.

It has the highest recommendations from railroad companies, mill corporations, and the best building owners in every State where it has been introduced.

It is cheap, and is applied by skillful workmen, who perform all work with neatness and dispatch. Call for additional particulars at the City Hotel. 10 9 3

THE COMING OF MR. MILLS.

A Dunellen Pastor's Fervent Letter on the Work of the Great Evangelist—The Radiant Glow of the Revival Fire Soon to stir Plainfield's People.

Mr. Mills, the noted revivalist, will conduct a series of revival meetings in Plainfield during the month of November. Since Mr. Mills left his pastorate of the Congregational church, in West Rutland, Vt., he has become widely known as one of the most successful soul-winners in the field of evangelistic labors. He comes to Plainfield through the joint solicitation of the evangelical churches in this city. To use his own language, he comes to Plainfield "as the officer or agent of the churches, who, being outside the local organization, is called by the church, to minister on special occasions, with the design of stimulating the faith of believers and leading the unconverted to repentance."

Of course—comments the Rev. W. C. Stinson, of the Dunellen Presbyterian church, in a letter published in the monthly bulletin issued by the Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavor in Dunellen and New Market—the churches of Plainfield are preparing to receive a gracious outpouring of the Holy Spirit. They are thinking very much over this series of meetings. Blessed results undoubtedly will attend this revival period. Now, the question very naturally arises amongst us in this community, may not we also receive some benefit from Mr. Mills' presence in Plainfield? May we not hope and pray that the revival fire kindled among the churches of our adjacent city will spread to this part of the Master's field. Would that we could secure Mr. Mills to labor amongst us for a few weeks, but such a rare blessing can hardly be expected of one whose splendid powers are so eagerly sought for in the great centers of population. But there is no reason why we of New Market and Dunellen may not profit by his ministrations in Plainfield.

What is the work of Christian Endeavor? Ultimately, the conversion of souls. The immediate aim of our organization is to train young Christians to work for the Lord Jesus. What is that work? The conversion of others. By saving others, we save ourselves. Mr. Mills' coming to Plainfield will be our day of opportunity, our nick of time, for renewed personal life and endeavor. God grant that no soul amongst us will allow this opportunity to pass by unheeded. Let us hope, pray, and work for this end—that our societies and churches in New Market and Dunellen may not only catch the radiant glow of the revival fire in Plainfield, but that sparks may fall amongst us, so that instead of being ecclesiastical ice houses, we may be heat-imparting furnaces, burning with an anthracite glow. One word more. We are looking for the coming of Mr. Mills. Are we looking for the coming of the Lord Jesus? What can we do without the Saviour? Have we sent for Him? Let us see to it that the Lord is in the fire.

Seven Years for Curtiss.

George W. Curtiss, who pleaded guilty to the theft of $6,000 worth of goods from the New England Company, an importing firm at Broadway and Leonard street, was yesterday sentenced to seven years in State Prison by Judge R. B. Cowing.

Curtiss is a young man. He is the step brother of John F. Plummer, formerly of Netherwood, and was for thirteen years in the employ of John F. Plummer & Co. as a confidential clerk. When that famous firm went under Curtiss obtained a situation with the New England Company at $1,800 per year. He remained with the firm but a short while when his speculations were discovered.

His method of robbing his employers was by sending out goods on memorandum to firms whom he knew did not want them and subsequently disposing of them to other firms at figures below their value.

Curtiss for many years was a resident of the Seminary, West Seventh street. He was a frequenter of the best society of the city, and led the germans at Netherwood Hotel. His bringing up as a clerk was under Wm. S. Darling who is accused of having absconded with a half-million dollars belonging to the late firm of Plummer & Co.

Good Speeches and Singing at To-Night's Convention.

Fifty delegates from the Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavor in Elizabeth, and delegates from various other of the societies in Union county, including Rahway, Westfield and Cranford, will attend the convention of the Union County Christian Endeavor Union to be held this evening in Trinity Reformed church, this city. A large and enthusiastic gathering is anticipated. The Rev. W. H. Shermer of Elizabeth, the Rev. Geo. H. Payson, of Rahway, and the Rev. John T. Kerr, the State President of the Society, will be the principal speakers. A fine programme of music has been arranged by the society of the Trinity Reformed church.

No Doubt of its Benefit to the Borough.

Mayor Male and Councilmen Roberts, Smith and Johnson, constituting the Street Committee, met the North Plainfield Borough officials yesterday, and went over the proposed route of the extension of Peace street. The Plainfield officials were of the unanimous opinion that property owners of North Plainfield would be much benefited if the street was extended through to Mountain avenue. A report will be made at the next meeting of the Common Council.

ENFORCING THE DRUG LAW.

Druggists Selling Impure Articles Would Better Beware.

A careful inspection of the drugs throughout the State is being made under the direction of the State Inspector George McGuire. This has been going on for two or three years, but where impure drugs were found the guilty parties were only given a warning. The crusade has begun in earnest in Atlantic City. Last week some tincture of nux vomica was analyzed and found to contain only three-quarters of one per cent. of dry matter, whereas, according to the standard laid down in the United States pharmacopœa, two per cent. is required. The druggist in Atlantic City from whom it was bought was arrested and tried last week, and being found guilty, was fined $50. This is only the beginning of what is to come, for there are three cases of the same kind already ready for trial, and more will follow. The trial last week is the first one under the present drug law.

Five Votes Enough for Every Action Except Final Adoption.

In the hurry of the majority to pass along towards final adoption the ordinances to macadamize Cemetery avenue, and Plainfield avenue, a vote of 5 to 4 was considered sufficient. The two ordinances have since be advertised, one as ordered to a third reading and the other as adopted. But the charter says "no ordinance shall at any time be enacted or passed, altered or repealed, except by a concurrence of at least six members of said common council."

Consequently a member of the council expressed his belief to a PRESS reporter this morning, that all action of Monday evening in relation to the passage of these ordinances, was void. He is wrong. The vote was 5 to 4 on the motions to pass to, and to adopt on, the third readings. When it came to the final passage or enactment, Councilman Moffett changed his vote to the affirmative, as reported exclusively in THE PRESS, and the vote was 6 to 3.

All the Gate Money Goes to the Players.

To-morrow's game of the Crescents will be against the same team of Ridgewoods that defeated the Plainfield team before by a score of 8 to 3. The Crescents have since won by a score of 4 to 3, but without Livingston against them. To-morrow Livingston will pitch. The entire receipts at the gate will be given to the Crescent players. The teams will be:

Ridgewoods—Ryman, right field; Heiser, left field; Gatens, second base; Evers, short stop; Fritz, catcher; Landman, third base; Leinbach, first base; Livingston, pitcher; Gillis, centre field.

Crescents—Hatfield, right field; Martin, short stop; Luftbery, second base; McIndoe, left field; Lever, centre field; Gregg, pitcher; Jones, catcher; Lee, third base, and a new man on first.

Mr. Schepflin Gets the Medal.

The Dunellen Bowling Green Club held their annual contest for the Stevens gold medal, yesterday, on New Jersey's only bowling green, C. Schepflin's lawn. After some very exciting playing, the medal was won by C. Schepflin, who having won it three times in succession, now holds it as his individual property.

The following is the score:

First Tie—C. Schepflin, 21, Mayor Haynes, 13.
Second Tie—Jas. Smith, 21; F. P. Haffner, 20.
Third Tie—Wm. Elliott, 21; Geo. Haynes, 14.
Fourth Tie—Jas. Smith, 18; Wm. Elliott, 21.
Final Tie—C. Schepflin, 21; Wm. Elliott, 18.

A Shorter Seashore Route for Plainfield.

The officers of the Raritan River Railroad have assured the Board of Trade of New Brunswick, in answer to a request to extend the line to Bound Brook, that they have favorably considered the matter, and will soon take action in the premises. If the proposed plan is carried out, the road will connect with the Pennsylvania Railroad at New Brunswick, the Central at South Amboy, and the Lehigh Valley road at Bound Brook; and Plainfield will have a shorter route to the seashore.

A Benefit to the People as Well as the Borough.

If the Council of North Plainfield, this evening, give the contract for lighting the streets of the borough to the Edison electric company, the people also will be benefited. Competition will in time bring lower rates to the private consumer. Then, too, the coming in of another company may result in a system with underground wires. The Borough Councilmen have an opportunity to make a name for themselves.

One Joke That Noah Didn't Tell the Kangaroo.

When Miss Wood, teacher at the Irving public school, asked her class, the other day, who it was that built the ark and ran the menagerie connected with it, one well-versed little tot was quick to answer "Noah!"

"Pleathe, ma'am,"—lisped an eager baby voice—"that'h yite, but 'tithn't all yite. 'Toth why? 'Toth hith other name wath Barnum."

"That Miss Jones is a nice-looking girl, isn't she?"

"Yes, and she'd be the belle of the town, if it wasn't for one thing."

"What's that?"

"She has catarrh so bad it is unpleasant to be near her. She has tried a dozen things and nothing helps her. I am sorry, for I like her, but that doesn't make it any less disagreeable for one to be around her."

Now if she had used Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, there would have been nothing of the kind said, for it will cure catarrh every time.

WRITERS AND WRITINGS.

TOLSTOI has nine children.

MRS. DE MAITRO, the sister of Robert Louis Stevenson, is a contributor to the London magazines and one of the wits of the Literary Ladies' Dinner Club.

ABOUT twenty years ago the Japanese author, Kioyte Bakin, completed a novel upon which he had been at work for thirty-eight years. It comprises 106 volumes, and is said to illustrate all classes of Japanese society and life.

THE desk at which Oliver Wendell Holmes writes his poems is far from being the ideal escritoire of a poet. It is a very prosaic roll-top desk of polished black walnut, kept with all the neatness and precision of the professional book-keeper.

IT is an interesting rather than a surprising fact that Mother Goose was a real person, and not a myth. She lived in Boston, where she married Isaac Goose in 1693, he being a widower with ten children. She soon supplied six more. After they were all able to swim by themselves, she acted as nurse to her grandchildren and furnished T. Fleet, Printer, Pudding Lane, with those popular rhymes which he printed and sold under the title of Mother Goose Melodies for Children.

IN view of the great and ever-increasing volume of literature poured out upon the reading public year by year, the Critic Lounger says that "the man who wants to make a fortune beside which the earnings of the Bell Telephone Co. will sink into insignificance, has only to invent a type-reading machine—and sell it cheap; something that will enable us to read a page in the moment now given to a line, a chapter where we now can compass but a page, and a whole book in the time now devoted to a chapter. Fame, too, as well as boundless wealth, would be his meed."

A "BLOOD-AND-THUNDER" story writer says in the Epoch: "I am running three stories in serial form at present. In the last chapters that were published I left my first hero suspended over the brow of a precipice, with the villain just cutting the rope; my second hero had just been dropped into the Atlantic and a monster shark is within ten yards of him, and my third hero was falling from a balloon. Now before next Saturday comes round I have to rescue all three of these fellows from their respective predicaments and leave them again in still more terrible straits. And yet this doesn't count as art. Why, the work is hard enough to bankrupt any dozen ordinary imaginations."

"IN a novel by my friend Payn," says William Black, "I came upon a striking passage, in which the heroine was described as being buffeted about by a terrible gale, insomuch that her raven-black hair streamed out to windward. With the light heart of an amateur reviewer, I wrote to Mr. Payn and drew his attention to the fact that, as a general rule, any thing blown by a gale would stream out, not to windward, but to leeward. But the answer came sharp and prompt. The description was perfectly correct; the heroine (said the author of her being) had been taking a great deal of iron tonic, her hair had become electrically charged, and had floated out toward the North, irrespective of the wind currents of the storm. So I object no more."

TIDINGS FROM T'OTHER SIDE.

NINE water companies supply London with water.

THE Paris Figaro pays yearly a dividend of over £100,000.

THERE are over one hundred miles of streets paved with wood in London.

THE monument that Great Britain has just unvailed over her dead at Waterloo is a mass of masonry thirty feet long, fifteen wide and thirty high.

IT is said that there is room for just one hundred more great men in Westminster Abbey. And it is interesting to speculate what England will do with her dead worthies when the old Abbey is full.

THE increase of about 1,000,000 people in thirteen years in Spain is attributed in a great measure to the success that has attended the changes in the hygienic condition of the large cities and towns.

HOW MANY fountains did Sir Richard Wallace erect in Paris? "I find," says a correspondent, "that there are no fewer than ninety-one, and that the Eleventh arrondissement alone possesses eleven. The Fifteenth and Seventeenth have ten, the Second and Ninth only one. As to the other arrondissements the number varies between two and five."

THE municipal statistics for the Paris exhibition year have just been published, and present many points of interest. The General Omnibus company transported 217,335,755 passengers, the Northern Tramway company 2,631,600, the Southern 29,101,000, and the boats on the Seine 32,885,000 persons. Over 48,000,000 travelers arrived in Paris at the different railway stations, and 49,000,000 left it. The St. Lazare station alone shows a total of over 15,000,000.

ALL the street railroad tracks in Liverpool, England, are owned and kept in order by the city. The companies which use them pay ten per cent. of the cost annually for the privilege. No private company is ever permitted to tear up the street pavements for any purpose. When it is necessary, for the purpose of repairing water mains, introducing gas, or water pipes, etc., the work is always performed by the city, and the cost charged to the person for whom the work is done.

IN Bath, as in many other towns, some of the leasehold property is held on the life of the Prince of Wales. The favor in which his Royal Highness is regarded in this respect has, rather late in the day, aroused the apprehensions of the insurance companies. Not only are they refusing to take any more insurance on the life of the Prince, but, fearing a run on their resources to meet the claims of leaseholders who have insured against loss, they are creating a reserve fund against the death of the Prince, and also of the Queen, whose life has likewise been identified with many leases.

HAP, MISHAP AND HAPPENINGS.

DOLLS that can turn somersaults are in the market, with their heels in the air.

THE latest fad of New York society women is a rivalry in securing the handsomest metallic bedsteads.

BLUE is the Chinese mourning color. When you see a Chinaman wearing a blue coat or with blue braid plaited in his queue you may take it for granted that some relative or friend is dead.

THE Maine Indians find considerable difficulty in procuring birches of sufficient size to furnish material for building their bark canoes, and are substituting canvas, which costs less and will bear rougher handling.

IT is reported that three nails of the true cross have been found in a very singular place, namely, in the ruins of the theater at Zurich, which was burned down. They were in a little ivory casket, of admirable workmanship, together with a manuscript of parchment, and were bricked up within a little cavity of the sub-structure. It is presumed that these relics were hidden by monks during the Reformation.

HENRY MCCABE, of Paw Paw, Mich., has a hen which regularly lays colored hand-painted Easter eggs, of assorted sizes. But she accomplished the feat of her life Tuesday, when she sprang a twin soft-shelled egg that resembled the Siamese twins, as the two eggs were united by a ligament of the same material as the shell. McCabe will put this egg, or these eggs, into an incubator, hoping to get Siamese twin chickens.

A POMONA man came up recently from Redondo. He changed his seat very often, opened the windows, squirmed about uneasily, and finally kicked because he supposed there was a corpse in the baggage car. Arrived at Los Angeles, he reached into his coat pocket for his handkerchief and found five or six fish, which he had carefully placed there three days before to be used for bait. They were of the variety known as melt, and they were "true to name."

A RICH man in St. Petersburg died, leaving orders that his sealed will should be opened twelve months from his death. When opened it contained another sealed packet, with instructions that it must not be opened for one year. The will had seven seals, the last of which has only just been broken, although the testator died six years ago. The money went to his nieces and nephews, a fourth to be invested till 1910, and then handed to the nephew who was blessed with the most numerous family.

POSTMASTER NOFSINGER, of Kansas City, says that he has any number like this to answer, and that he does not regard this one as any thing unusual at all:

September the 10 1890

Mr. Post Master Kansas Sitty Mo

Dear Sir I would like to Establish a gold fish traid in your Sitty and not being acquainted I wod be Ever so thankful to you if you wod send me the names of aney persons that deals in them or ane one that is likely to handle them Such as flouriest or fanse Druggest. yours

A SINGULAR phenomenon was observed at the farm of J. A. Chase in Sebec, Me. The sun was gradually going down in the west, and as it approached the horizon what appeared to be a small cloud was seen nearly under it. This soon burst into thousands of globular forms, which were brought apparently by the air current in the direction of Mr. Chase's farm, and were distinctly seen by himself and the other members of his family. As they fell upon the earth or touched other substances they disappeared in a light smoke. While floating in the air they exhibited all the brilliant hues of the prism or rainbow. The children caught them in their hands, but there was no residuum.

A QUEER LOT.

A BLACKBERRY bush at Grand Lodge, Mich., is preparing for a second crop this season.

A KANSAS bantam which was hatched March 17 has laid twelve eggs and hatched from them twelve chicks.

A SIX-YEAR-OLD boy, while fishing in a Wisconsin stream, was pulled out of a boat and nearly drowned by an immense fish.

IN the city directory of Dubuque are found the names of Longbody, Longnecker, Longbacker, Longman, Longheel, Longspray, Longhead and Longfoot.

A STRANGE freak of nature in connection with the recent tornado appears in South Lawrence, Mass. In the district torn by the storm lilac and pear trees have begun to blossom.

THERE is an inmate of the Georgia State Lunatic Asylum who imagines in his insanity that he is a grain of corn. He will not go into the yard, fearing the chickens will eat him.

INTO a peach tree on his place at Napa, Cal., Rev. Richard Wylie has grafted different varieties of stone fruit until now he gathers from it almonds, plums and three kinds of peaches.

A HUGE catfish was found alive imbedded in a hollow log in a mill dam at Martindale. It swam in a small hole when a little fish and was unable to find its way out and grew in the log.

MRS. PENSCHOWER, of Cloverdale, Cal., has raised a sunflower this year that breaks all records. The stalk is six inches indiameter at the ground, it stands twelve feet high, and the flower measures nine feet around the outer edge.

NEAR Red River P. O., Washtenaw County, Mich., is a spring some forty feet back from the river, which has the peculiar quality of petrifying every thing over which the water flows. Beautiful specimens of petrified moss, acorns, sticks, etc., can be picked up all about the place.

As a Belfast lady was combing her hair in a room in the second story, a little bird flew in at the open window and, alighting on a wash-bowl which contained water, proceeded to take a bath. When it had completed its ablutions in bird fashion, it shook off the superfluous moisture and flew out of the window, paying no attention to the occupant of the room.

Indigestion

IS not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:—

"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."

THE FLOOR-WALKER.

His Lot Is Not as Easy as Is Generally Supposed.

Duties of the Man Who Meets You at the Entrance to Every Dry-Goods Store—A Calling That Requires a Cool and Diplomatic Head.

"A man needs to be something of a judge of human character, something a little above the average, to thoroughly fulfill the duties of a floor-walker," said one of those tireless beings who stand in the front of all large stores and answer innumerable questions all day to a Chicago News reporter.

"Yes, I feel safe in saying that a man has to possess more than ordinary intelligence to be a competent floor-walker. Every man can't do it. It takes years of the hardest kind of work to acquire that insight into the business that will make a man almost unerring in his judgments of men, goods and prices. And such a knowledge must the floor-walker have if he aims to satisfactorily perform his work. He must have at his tongue's end the exact location of every department of the store, no matter how vast the emporium may be. He must be able at a glance to determine the correct value of goods sold, and, without hesitation, be able to settle disputes. Such are the incidents which make up the day in the life of the average floor-walker.

"A floor-walker's position," continued he, "seems to the unobservant to be a nice one indeed. The crowds notice the well-dressed men standing around giving directions here and there, and apparently enjoying rather an easy time compared to the clerks. That is as far as the observance of the crowd goes, and, as is usually the case with opinions formed by the public, is incorrect. They don't see the daily hardships and trials we are compelled to endure, the actual work we do, and the responsibility that rests upon us. Overlooking the hard things, they see us as we occasionally stand on a dull day having nothing to do, and foolishly imagine that that is a fair example of the way we work.

"The average floor-walker is an ordinary sort of person. Commencing life probably as a cash-boy, he has, by assiduous application to work, raised himself to something better. But he has spent years in the business, and knows nothing else. Commencing work at eight a. m. and finishing at six p. m., he finds the day long enough. He has many things to look after, and, if he attends to his duties, is thoroughly tired out when night comes. Let me show you what a head floor-walker has to do. He has charge of the cash-boys—no light work, that. He hires and discharges them, and is supposed to attend to them properly. Besides this he must stand at the head of the aisle or floor where he is placed and direct customers to any department they may ask for. This necessitates the floor-walker being thoroughly acquainted with the entire location of the house.

"Then he must, in a sort of way, be the head of the department in which he is placed. It is true the clerks are not under him, but he is, nevertheless, supposed to keep an eye upon them. If a customer is not being waited upon he is to see that she is attended to as soon as possible. Very often a disagreeable person will insist on getting into a row with the clerk over the sale of some article. The floor-walker is supposed to be diplomatic enough to settle the affair up without letting it go any further. Suppose the row is about the price of some article. The floor-walker must be discreet enough to make a satisfactory arrangement without hurting the interests of the house or losing the customer. It is the floor-walker who is appealed to in all such cases, and he must be able at all times, no matter what may be the trouble, to afford a solution of the problem. And then, sometimes a clerk will become impudent to a customer, and it is then the duty of the floor-walker to report the clerk to the manager. If he fails in this and the customer makes the complaint the floor-walker is held responsible. So it goes, one thing and another, to keep the floor-walker's wits active.

"One of the greatest tests that marks the successful floor-walker is his thorough knowledge of business. That is, in every sense of the term. Beyond fulfilling the duties assigned him he should be a practical business man, and act just as though it was his own store and he was doing all he could to promote the growth and welfare of the concern. He must be thoroughly acquainted with the prices of any thing in his department, and able to tell at a glance whether or not the clerk is dealing fairly with the customer and the house. Now, for instance, this cash-boy brings me this pair of gloves that has just been sold; I will sign the check, and then the money, gloves and check will be sent to the wrapping counter. It was my business to know positively before I signed that check that the proper amount had been charged for that pair of gloves.

"This is a business that requires a cool head, a mind adapted to business, and nothing else. If the floor-walker attends to his business he picks up a list of acquaintances that are invaluable to him. He should be able to have his particular customers, and be able to recognize them when he sees them. These are the points which constitute a good floor-walker."

A Rat Sacrifices a Leg.

A rat got caught by the leg in a store and squealed loudly for mercy, says a Maine exchange. The proprietor of the store watched the rat, which continued to squeal. Finally another rat crept cautiously out and walked up to his unfortunate companion and evidently took the situation in, for they seemed to talk with each other and arrived at the conclusion that the captured rat's chances were desperate, for the second one began to gnaw the unfortunate rat's leg off, allowing it to escape, which it did, limping away on three legs, the other leg remaining in the trap. It almost seemed as if they had deliberated over the case and had reached the only possible means of escape.

HE WAS DISAPPOINTED.

How Commodore B. Unexpectedly Met His Nemesis at Nice.

It was in the harbor at Nice in the autumn of 1874, and the Lancaster (ten guns) had just dropped her anchor after a long cruise down the coast and back. Her captain, according to the New York Times, was Commodore ——, one of the old school and the ablest sailor that ever went to sea, so the others said. He was a chevalier "whose gaitered legs had trod the primrose paths of dalliance" quite as handsomely as they had trod the quarter deck for half a century.

The Commodore was excessively fond of the ladies. He was possessed of, or by, a wife, but there were things of a disagreeable sort between them, so rumor said, and they did not commune sweetly by any manner of means. The Commodore was a brave man, but he lived in mortal dread of Mrs. ——, who had a bad habit of following her liege lord about from place to place, to appear suddenly just at the wrong time, when the Commodore was bent on other and more absorbing pursuits.

"Quartermaster," said the Commodore, warming to the prospect of the wine and women of Nice, when once the anchor was down, "keep a sharp eye on the wharf, and if you see any ladies, notify me promptly." "Aye, aye, sir," responded the Quartermaster, who, knowing his vulnerable spot, never lost sight of the wharf thenceforth.

The Commodore had scarcely reached his cabin, chuckling at the thought that Mrs. —— was five thousand miles away and that he was heart whole and fancy free, when down the hatch rushed the Quartermaster, touching his cap, with: "There's a lady on the wharf, sir."

"Very good," replied the Commodore in a breath, running nimbly up the ladder, glass in hand, to fix his eye on a figure in white, standing at the end of the wharf. A moment passed, and another. Then the glass dropped into the Commodore's open palm. He turned, and there was a smothered look on his face, a wierd glitter in his eye. "What d'ye mean," he roared, striding fiercely toward the Quartermaster, who trembled with astonishment and fright: "What d'ye mean by tellin' me there's a lady on the wharf. That's my wife, you lying scoundrel, you ——."

And the unhappy Commodore buried himself in his cabin.

PRETTY GIRL CASHIERS.

Their Presence at Restaurants Purely a Matter of Business.

If I was about to open a restaurant I would on no account hire male cashiers, but, for purely business reasons, would engage the prettiest girls I could find, said an old business man to a New York Star reporter. The majority of restaurant patrons are unmarried men, and personal observation constrains me to believe that almost all of them prefer to take their meals in an establishment where cashiers belonging to the opposite sex are employed. There is a certain big restaurant down-town which has several entrances, necessitating the keeping of quite a large staff of cashiers, who are nearly all females.

I have frequently noticed that the greatest number of customers enter and leave at the door where the most attractive young maiden is on duty. Two of the entrances to the restaurant are on one street, and about 7 o'clock p. m. this young damsel who is stationed at one of them goes off watch and her place is taken by a good-looking young fellow, with quite a fascinating mustach. Now if it was the ladies' entrance it would probably make no difference; few ladies, however, enter at that door, and hence, the moment he takes charge the number of people entering and leaving there greatly declines.

At the same time the number of those going in and out at the other entrance increases enormously, for presiding at the cash and cigar counter there is an extremely pretty, graceful young maiden with a very nice lisp. She not only takes in more checks than the mustaches at the other entrance, but does a better cigar trade. Many men who never care for smoking will purchase a cigar of her for the opportunity of exchanging a few words of conversation. They, of course, have to make a few inquiries concerning the brand and flavor, and that's how the opportunity comes in.

The Search for Pretty Wives.

Girls to be successful to-day must have something more than pretty features. The men who are worth marrying are looking for something else than pretty faces, coy manners or fetching gowns. They are recognizing full well that woman are progressing at a pace which will quicken, rather than slacken. They realize that the woman of to-morrow will be brighter in mind than her predecessor of to-day. Hence they are looking for wives who will be the equal of their neighbors. Beauty is being considered an adjunct to common sense. "I want a wife who knows something, who is worth having for what she knows; not one of these social butterflies," said one of the greatest "catches" of the New York season at the winter's close. And he expressed the sentiments of thousands of the young men of to-day. The scent for pretty wives is over, and the looking for bright young women has begun. And the girl who to-day trains her mind to knowlege will be the woman of to-morrow.—Ladies' Home Journal.

The Fly Too Big a Fool.

Put a fly on the window and up he goes toward the top; he can't be made to walk downward. A St. Louis inventor hit upon an idea. Why not use that habit against them? Forthwith he made a window screen divided in half. The upper half lapped over the lower, with an inch of space between. As soon as the fly would light on the screen he would proceed to travel upward, and would thus walk straight out of doors. On reaching the top of the lower half he would be outside. Not being able to walk down he had no way to return to the room. By this means a room can be quickly cleared of , which always seek the light.

ART OF PIANO-MAKING.

Nearly Six Years Necessary for Perfect Construction.

Work Requiring a Large Expenditure of Time and Labor—The Actions of the Keys and Levers of Vital Importance—The Sounding Board.

Few people are aware of the amount of time and labor required to produce a piano. From the time the first log is sawed in the forest until the finishing touches and final overhauling are given to the completed piano from four to six years must pass. That is, every piano turned out from the factory or store today was begun four or five years ago, and ever since that time has been going through the various stages of preparation and construction. One of the large manufacturers when asked by a Brooklyn Eagle reporter as to the process of construction cheerfully gave the desired information, at the same time leading the way through the manufactory.

"This is in reality the second factory," said he, "for all the material comes here in a partially completed state. In the first place, an experienced lumberman is employed by every manufacturer to select the logs and see that the grains of the different woods are straight and true. After these have been sawed the lumber is piled under weather proof sheds, where it remains from three to five years, according to thickness, until it has become thoroughly air dried.

"When the case has been cut out in the Massachusetts factory it is shipped here and comes first into the varnishing department, where it remains from three to four months in order that the pores of the wood may be thoroughly filled. That is really the secret of the fine polish on a finished piano. While this work is progressing in the varnishing room, other and important work is being done on the interior of the piano. The sounding board, which is also seasoned and tested in the first factory, is again thoroughly tested here. Every grain of wood and every joint is thoroughly investigated before it is put into the case. Here the skill of the piano maker begins and only the most careful and competent workmen are intrusted with the responsibility of this department. Numerous mechanical and scientific arrangements are necessary to obtain satisfactory results with the sounding boards.

"Then the actions, keys and levers are attended to in another room. These portions of the piano are of the most vital importance, as it is upon the exact adjustment of the many levers and center points that the power and delicacy of the touch depends. Unless great care and attention is bestowed upon the details in this department the piano must prove a failure. The next stage reached is where the hammers, keys and actions are placed in their proper positions in the frame, when the piano first gives forth sound as a musical instrument. The principal object sought here is a powerful blow of the hammer upon the strings, to be produced by a light touch of the performer. The workmen in this department must have skill and experience, for the delicate and costly materials and mechanisms they handle and place in proper working positions make this branch one of great trust.

"In still another department the carvers are at work, chiseling out legs and other ornamental portions of the piano. These, too, have to go through a course of sprouts in the varnish room. After the keys, levers, hammers, sounding board and case have been properly put together, the piano goes to the fly finishing department, where all those parts which have been finished separately are placed in their respective positions. That is, the top, lockboard, legs, pedals and music rack are here adjusted.

"Now that the piano has been put together, it remains in the fly finishing department from three to five weeks and receives a preparatory course of tuning before going into the hands of the action and tone regulators. These first tunings are of great importance, and on them much of the future excellence of the piano depends.

"Then the instrument goes to the tone regulating department, probably the most important branch of all. Failure here is fatal, and must result disastrously as far as the production of a true musical instrument is concerned.

"Of course you think this is the finishing point, but it isn't. Before it goes to the ware-rooms the piano goes into the hands of workmen of the very highest grade, who minutely examine every portion of the instrument. Every string and hammer, every center lever and spring, every screw and pin must undergo a rigid inspection, and not until all these have been ascertained to be adjusted properly and the instrument is found to be in a perfect condition is it passed over to receive its final polish and be placed in the ware-room."

Reducing the Quantity of Cloth.

The gratifying intelligence that less cloth will be required for gowns during the coming season than heretofore calls attention again to the powers and possibilities of the fashionable modiste in the way of using cloth. In the old days, when lightness in costume was not demanded of dressmakers by their customers, it was not uncommon for them to crowd the material into gowns for the simple purpose of increasing the cost and their own profits. A dress was ripped up on one occasion to be altered by a former assistant of the fashionable dressmaker who had made it. The cloth was folded in and out in perplexing fashion in a way that seemed to do no good. The material was drap d'ete, a costly and very heavy goods. "I remember," said the seamstress quietly, "madame made me put in all the cloth she had in this dress because she did not want any remnants remaining."

Saturated with Nicotine.

The body of a Russian who died in McKeesport, Pa., a few days ago from cigarette smoking, was found to be as yellow as a sunflower because of the nicotine with which it was saturated.

WRITTEN EXCUSES.

Funny Items from the Scrap-Book of a School-Teacher.

I once taught a country school in the backwoods, writes J. L. Harbour in Wide Awake, and as was the custom then, I required a written excuse when pupil was absent for one or more days. Some of these excuses I have kept and they afford me a deal of amusement after all the years that have come and gone since then.

Here is an excuse brought one day by a tall, red-haired boy of seventeen:

"Dere Cir—Pleze to eggcuse Henry for absents yisterday. We made sourkrout and he had to tromp it down. Also he had to Help bucher 2 pigs.

"Respeckful yuers, His pap."

"Did your father write this excuse himself?" I asked.

"No, sir," replied Henry, "I writ it for him 'cause he can't spell very good."

I am glad to add that Henry's spelling improved while I had him in charge. Another boy brought me this excuse:

"Kind Teacher: Ab could not come yesterday on account of tearing his pants very bad just before starting, so it took me most all day to mend them up."

A boy of about ten years who had been absent two weeks brought me the following:

"John Henry had a soar tow, also a soar throte and a soar finger. Plecse egscuse."

A girl of about fourteen whose mother affected a degree of culture and great mental superiority over her neighbors, brought me the following note:

"Dear Sir: I trust you will pardon Alcione's wholly unavoidable absence yesterday. Circumstances are not always controllable by our finite minds, as you are no doubt aware. We are all subject to immutable laws and are constantly doing what we would not—alas! Therefore Alcione's unavoidable failure to attend yesterday's session. I trust I may not soon have to indite a similar unexpected circumstance. Believe me to be

"Yours truly and respectfully,
ANASTASIA C. H—."

Simpler and more directly to the point was the excuse brought me by a tow-headed little girl of about eight years, whose mother wrote:

"Phebe could not be there or she would of went. I thought she et too much sossage for breakfast. She shan't do it agen. Pleese excuse her."

A boy of sixteen who came very irregularly always brought this excuse from his father:

"Excoose Bill."

That was all there was of it, but as I knew it came from his father I always "excoozed Bill" accordingly.

A DIGNIFIED PORTER.

Wonderful Cheek of One of Duke Pullman's Colored Noblemen.

A gentleman who was traveling on a sleeping-car, and who was to alight at about three in the morning, says the Boston Courier, gave the porter explicit directions to wake him at the proper time, and went to sleep. About midnight the porter came and aroused him.

"Excuse me, sah," the porter said, "but I forgut whare you's goin' to get off."

The passenger, not much pleased at this interruption, repeated his directions, and then again addressed himself to sleep. He slept until a few minutes of the arrival of the train at the point where he was to stop, when he fortunately awoke. Looking at his watch he discovered that he had barely time to get dressed, and he scrambled into his clothes with a celerity which saved him from missing his station, all the time saying to himself things concerning the porter which were by no means complimentary to that individual.

As the train drew into the station, where is made a stop of only a moment, the gentleman hurried out of the car, and as he did so he passed the porter sound asleep on a seat in the smoking-room. With a poke of his valise the passenger awakened him.

"I say," he demanded, "why didn't you call me as I told you to? I came very near sleeping over."

The porter drew himself up with sleepy dignity, suppressing a yawn, and rubbing his eyes open.

"On dis car," he returned, with the air of one who has been grossly insulted, "dar ain't none of the passengers 'lowed to wake up the porter, an' you'll have to wait till dis individual wakes up of himself before you can get any such question answered."

With perfect coolness he laid himself down again, and the passenger hurried out of the car without waiting to continue the conversation.

THE GERMAN IDEA.

One of the Funny Incidents of Edwin Booth's Continental Tour.

Edwin Booth, when last in this city, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, told a good story connected with his professional visit to Germany. In Berlin he was billed to present "Hamlet," and during the performance, in the first interview with the players, he was utterly astounded to see the First Actor come on the stage made up as a very old man, with a long flowing white beard, which reached to his waist, making him look like the traditional Hebrew patriarch. Being unable to speak German and the performer having no knowledge whatever of English, Mr. Booth could not ascertain the reason of this extraordinary make-up. He was unable, however, to master his curiosity in regard to it, so after the representation he procured an interpreter and proceeded to interview the performer on the subject.

"Why on earth," asked Mr. Booth, "did you make up so old for the First Actor? In America he is always played as a young man, and I can not understand why he should be represented otherwise."

"Oh," replied the German, "Shakespeare himself is my authority, for does he not make Hamlet address the First Actor as old friend?"

Mr. Booth smiled and proceeded to explain that in English a man might be called an old friend and yet be young, but the German utterly failed to get it through his head. Mr. Booth afterward ascertained that not only in Berlin, but throughout Germany, where Shakespeare's plays are done more frequently than in either England or the United States, the First Actor had invariably been made up as very aged because Hamlet styled him old friend.

THE ERIE TROUBLE

A Rumor That a General Strike Will Be Ordered.

TO BE TIED-UP THIS EVENING.

None of the Labor Leaders, However, Will Confirm the Report.

They Say That Such a Move is Not Improbable, and That They Are Not Going to Submit Quietly to the Road's Actions—The Company's Officials Do Not Expect Any Serious Trouble.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 11.—A rumor was current here this morning that the grievance committee of the Erie Railroad men had decided to order a strike on its entire system from New York to Chicago, and that the order would be given at 6 o'clock this evening.

Not one of the leaders in the management of the affairs of the men could be found who would concur in the report, but several said that such a move was not improbable.

"We are not going to drop this matter without entering some decided protest, you may be assured," said one of the prime movers this morning.

"The Erie people, I fear, had the Central strike in view when they made the decision denying our demands, and thought such a move in 'style.' Our demands are just, and we are in a position to force the road to yield if we so decide. The Erie is in no position to fight us, and I am sorry for them if they think they can follow the example set by Vice-President Webb of the Central."

Among the men to day the sentiment appeared to be decidedly in favor of a strike. The local leaders, it is given out, have telegraphed for the head officers of the federation to come on at once, with a view of getting their sanction and support should a fight be determined upon. Some of these officers are expected to-day, when it is believed an effort will be made to get the road to recall their refusal to all the demands and look more closely into the main grievances. Arbitration will likely be suggested.

Should the road remain obstinate serious trouble is likely to follow.

Labor leaders on the outside are watching the affair with much interest, and some predict that should the Erie men strike the Knights of Labor who were refused support by the federation s in their recent trouble on the Central would be only too anxious to jump into the places made vacant by the strikers. At the best, if a strike is ordered, a nasty fight can be looked for.

The officials of the road declare that there will be no trouble. They say that all the fuss is being made by a few agitators and that the men on the whole are satisfied with their treatment. The wages, they declare, are as high as on any other line, the hours as short, and the discipline not at all unreasonable. Should a strike be ordered, however, they say the places of the men will be filled in a few days without any serious inconvenience to the operation of the road. An order to tie-up would call out about 15,000 men.

Rates to Remain as They Are.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The Trunk Lines Association held a meeting yesterday in response to a call for the purpose of advancing rates on all east bound freight. The call was issued by Sir Joseph Hickson of the Grand Trunk, John King, president of the Erie, and Charles F. Meyer, president of the Baltimore & Ohio. All of the presidents of the Trunk lines, with the exception of the Reading and New Jersey Central were present. President George B. Roberts of the Pennsylvania presided. After discussion it was decided to allow the question of increased rates to remain as at present, and to invite the Western roads to confer at some future meeting.

Will Not Double the Stock.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—An official denial has been given by the Pullman Co., to the reported intention to double the capital stock. The officers say the report was intended to influence the stock market. Nothing but routine business is to be transacted at the annual meeting of the stockholders next week.

Three Firemen Injured.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 11.—The building No. 967 Liberty street, occupied by D. J. Rex, box manufactory; Dean & Neibaum, flour merchants, and several other firms, was damaged by fire and water during the morning to the extent of about $15,000. Chief Evans and two firemen were injured at the fire.

A Recount for Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Police Commissioner Feyden of this city will order a recount of the population, as he believes that the Federal enumerators have missed several thousands of people. The Health department estimates the population at 880,000, and the census showed it to be 804,000.

The Oldest Veteran Dead.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Ia., Oct. 11.—Capt. Peter Foster, the oldest member of the Grand Army of the Republic in the United States, is dead. He was 96 years old and fought in the war of 1812, the Mexican war and the Civil war.

McGonegal Engages Extra Counsel.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Dr. Henry G. McGonegal, who was convicted a week ago of manslaughter in causing the death of Annie Goodwin, the cigarette girl, by malpractice, was granted a stay of sentence pending a motion for a new trial on Wednesday next. He has engaged an additional lawyer, Charles W. Brooks. McGonegal was remanded to prison.

THE CZAR CAUGHT IN A TRAP.

Report That He Was Injured By an Explosion of Dynamite While Hunting.

WARSAW, Oct. 11.—A rumor has been current here for several days that appears to be well founded. It is to the effect that the Czar was badly wounded in the foot by the explosion of a dynamite shell while hunting in the forests of Skierniwice, some forty-two miles from here. The Emperor evidently stepped into a trap.

The account says that Gen. Von Werder, an aide-de-camp of the German Emperor, who accompanied the Czar, was also wounded by the same explosion.

After the above story had obtained general credence, the official organ here came out on October 9 with the following statement: "On October 4 the Adjutant-General of the German Emperor was wounded above the knee by a cartridge fired by Dr. Hirsch. Pros. Kosiuski, when called to Spala, where the General was lying, pronounced the wound as not dangerous. The Emperor was not present when the accident happened."

In spite of the denial it is believed that the Czar was present, and that the original version is correct.

WILL EVA TESTIFY?

Ray Hamilton's Widow Cited to Appear Before the Surrogate.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 11.—Deputy Sheriff Albert Vanderfelt has served a notice on Mrs. Eva Hamilton, widow of Robert Ray Hamilton, requiring her to appear on November 19 in the Surrogate's Court in the matter of the filing of the will of Robert Ray Hamilton.

The official notice was addressed: "Evangeline L. Steele, otherwise known as Evangeline L. Mann, and also Evangeline L. Hamilton." There is much speculation as to whether Mrs. Hamilton, who is a State convict, serving a term for assaulting Nurse Donnelly, can appear in the Surrogate's Court.

Farmers Threatened.

MONTREAL, Oct. 11.—Mgr. Laflecher, bishop of Three Rivers, has issued an order by which farmers are to pay $7.50 per 1,000 bundles of hay to their cure. They are to be refused the sacrament if they neglect to donate. The bishop says that not enough grain, from which they derive their tithes, is raised to enable the cures to live. This is a new departure, and has caused a great sensation among the farmers in the province. It means a large revenue for the church. The same order will be issued by all the bishops. Formerly the habitants were exempt from tithes on hay and paid only on grain. The effect was to induce farmers to give their attention to hay growing, and so evade the tax.

Railroad Magnates Not in Harmony.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 11.—The Board of Presidents of New England railroads, organized at Commissioner Funk's office some time ago, has been dissolved owing to a lack of harmony between the two standing committees known as the New England Passenger committee and the New England Freight committee, composed of the General Passenger and General Freight agents. The organization included the Boston & Albany, New York & New England, Boston & Maine, Fitchburg and Central Vermont roads.

The Union Veterans' Legion.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—A despatch from Ft. Wayne, Ind., says that the last day's session of the National Encampment of the Union Veteran Legion was taken up mostly in amending the rules and by-laws of the organization. The time for election of officers in all subordinate camps was changed from December to August. Reading, Pa., was the place selected for holding the next encampment, and the time was set for October 8 and 9, 1891.

The Appropriation Not Allowed.

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—The loan order for $670,000, which passed the Board of Aldermen Monday, has been defeated in the Common Council, though the bill is urgent. Several members attacked the school appropriation of $348,000. Although assurances of fealty to the public school were expressed the accusation was made that there has been unfair discrimination in the appropriations and the measure was defeated.

The Vesuvius's Turning Trials.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 11.—The dynamite cruiser Vesuvius had her low speed turning trials yesterday. They were held outside instead of in the harbor, as has heretofore been the practice with Government vessels. The maneuvers consisted of turns of 360, 180 and 90, to both starboard and port. The results are not completed, but are believed to be satisfactory. Turning trials at full speed will be had to-day if the sea is smooth enough, and the cruiser will then leave for New York.

New York Cigarmakers Win Their Strike.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The strike among the Cuban cigarmakers is about over, and on Monday the strikers will all be at work, their demands for an increase of $2 a thousand having been complied with by the greater number of the manufacturers

SEEING THE SIGHTS

The President and Party Now in Missouri.

LAST NIGHT IN KANSAS CITY.

The Return Home to Be Begun from St. Louis This Evening.

A Big Reception at Topeka, Kas.—Met at the Station By Governor Humphrey—Another Big Parade Reviewed—Visits the Fair Grounds—A Night Spent With His Brother in Kansas City.

TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 11.—An enormous crowd filled the streets of Topeka in the morning, anticipating the arrival of the President. On either side of Kansas avenue the veterans were drawn up in line, each division marked by a banner telling the State from which the ex-soldiers gathered under it had served. Beyond the line of veterans the school children were assembled with flags in their hands. The windows of all the buildings on the line of march were filled with spectators, and many of them were beautifully decorated. The President arrived at 10:40. Senator Ingalls and distinguished citizens of this city had boarded the train at North Topeka and taken charge of the President. The crowd at the station formed a hollow square, held in place by a company of the State guard.

The President left his car under the escort of Governor Humphrey and took his seat with the Governor in an open carriage drawn by four sorrel horses. The company of militia formed before and behind the President's carriage, and preceded by Marshall's band of fifty-three pieces the procession started up Fifth street, the other members of the President's party and the local committee following in carriages driven two abreast. In the carriage with Secretary Tracy were Senator Ingalls, Mayor Cofran and Chief Justice Horton. Six companies of regular cavalry from Fort Riley, under General Forsyth, drawn up on either side of Fifth street, fell in line behind the carriages and formed guard of the procession. The President's passage through the streets of Topeka was enthusiastically received. He was cheered continually along the line. Second only to the ovation given to the President was the reception accorded Senator Ingalls. He was cheered by the veterans from the beginning to the end of the march to the State House.

Arriving at the State House the carriages of the President's party were drawn up in line along Tenth street to review the parade. The President stood up hat in hand and bowed to the passing procession. They came by States in alphabetical order, California leading and Colorado coming next. When the Illinois contingent came abreast of the President's carriage the first demonstration occurred. Rev. Allen Buckner, "The Fighter Parson," rode up and down the line crying: "Illinois, the home of Lincoln, the home of Grant—three cheers for the President of the United States." They were given with enthusiasm. The members of the First brigade, the President's old brigade, came as a separate division and cheered as they went by. The Iowa delegation halted and cheered. When the Indiana division arrived at the place of review, Major George Noble stopped in front of the President's carriage and a dozen times led the veterans in a ringing recognition of the Chief Executive. The banner of the Indiana delegation was brought around behind the President's carriage and held there during the rest of the parade.

"Hello, Ben, how are you, Ben?" cried a grizzled veteran, and the President smiled as he returned the salutation.

The New York delegation cheered Secretary Tracy with enthusiasm. There were fully 30,000 veterans in line, and following them were 6,000 school children bearing flags and banners. The review began at 11 o'clock, and it was 12:20 when the last of the children passed in review. The President's carriage was then driven to the Copeland House, where luncheon was served.

Just before lunch, ex-Representative William Warner, of Kansas City, introduced the President to the individual members of the Kansas City Business Men's Association, who had come to Topeka to meet and to act as his escort to their city.

After luncheon the President and party were escorted to the Fair Grounds, and while there the President made a short address. The party were then driven to the train, and at 4 o'clock the start was made for Kansas City, which was reached at 5:45, several minutes late.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 11.—An enormous crowd awaited the President's coming, and it was with great difficulty that two companies of the Third Regiment, under Col. Wood, kept the struggling crowd within reasonable bounds, so that the President could get to his carriage.

Arriving at the new Coate's House, the members of the Presidential party retired to their rooms for a few minutes, and were then escorted to the private dining room, where a course dinner was served.

The President sat at the head and Secretary Tracy at the foot of the table.

The President excused himself after the second course. In leaving, he said that he was sorry to cause even this temporary interruption, but all would understand his desire to pass a few hours under his brother's roof. He very much appreciated, he said, the hospitality of the business men of Kansas City.

The return home will be begun from St. Louis to-night.

JUDGE MILLER PARALYZED.

Stricken Down in the Street While on His Way Home.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The Hon. Samuel F. Miller, senior Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, was stricken with paralysis about 2:30 yesterday afternoon, while walking on the street.

Justice Miller was returning from the Capitol, and had just alighted from a street car at Thomas Circle, when he first experienced a numbness in his left side. He was within 100 yards of his residence, and realizing his trouble, endeavored to reach it by quickening his pace. His left leg refused to perform its functions, and became more and more useless. This numbness finally extended to the entire left side.

The justice, a man of determination, with a mighty effort, attempted to drag himself along. He perhaps would have succeeded; but at this point he had to cross a street car track paved with cobblestone. Upon these he stumbled, reeled, and almost fell. He recovered himself, however, and seemingly aware of approaching unconsciousness, again put forth another effort to reach his doorway, now only 20 yards distant. Unconsciousness overcame him, however, at this moment, and upon the rough cobblestone of the carriage-way leading to his residence, the justice fell, his whole left side paralyzed. He fell flat upon his face, which was badly cut by the rough stones.

All this time his body servant had stood in the doorway, not noticing that Justice Miller was approaching, and not until the Justice fell was he aware of his presence. He immediately hurried to his assistance, and with the help of others lifted Justice Miller up the terraced steps leading to his residence. When picked up he was totally unconscious. After being conveyed to his room he partially regained consciousness, and later on after the physicians who had been summoned had administered medicines, he wholly recovered consciousness. His left side, however, still remained numb, and his left limbs were useless. His articulation, while it could be understood, was thick and heavy.

At a late hour the chances are greatly against Justice Miller's recovery. His mind, which had been clear during the afternoon, became somewhat clouded toward night and his general condition such as to alarm his family and friends. Shortly before 11 o'clock a sedative was administered and he dropped into a deep slumber, but his breathing was labored.

To Raise a Famine Fund.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 11.—A mass meeting was held in this city last night to raise funds in aid of the famine stricken people in Ireland. The call for the meeting was issued by Mayor Dwight at the request of a committee from several charitable institutions. The Mayor presided, and speeches were made by Senator Joseph R. Hawley, the Hon. E. S. Cleveland, Editor E. A. Burrow of the Times, Cornelius O'Neil, General Thomas McManus, John W. Coogan, Hon. Sylvester Barbour and Dr. Morrissey. A telegram from Arthur Dudley Vinton, secretary of the American committee for the relief of famine in Ireland, was read by Mayor Wright expressing sympathy with the purpose of the meeting. The hall was not filled. Each person received an envelope on entering, and these were collected after the speaking was concluded and found to contain a total of $525.

Reception to Minister Phelps.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 11.—After an informal dinner at the residence of Judge Jonathan Dixon, of the New Jersey Supreme Court, at Jersey avenue, this city, Minister Phelps was tendered a reception at the Union League Club. Among those present were General E. Burd Grubb, United States Minister to Spain; ex-Congressman John Kean and George A. Halsey, of Newark, and Thomas A. Dudley, of Camden. Speeches were made by President Ridgeway, of the club, General Grubb and ex-Judge John A. Blair. Minister Phelps responded to the speech of welcome.

Insurance Companies Needn't Pay.

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—In the Superior Court the jury has returned a verdict for the defendants in each of the seventeen cases brought against that number of insurance companies by Moses and Alfred Jacobs, to recover $32,000 upon policies placed upon the stock of goods in the store of the latter burned in December, 1886, at Lewiston. The defence was that plaintiffs made a fraudulent statement as to the quantity of goods on hand at the time, and that they set fire to the building to get the insurance.

Both Conventions Endorsed It.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The County Democracy county convention last evening endorsed the ticket for municipal officers presented by the People's Municipal League. The ticket was also endorsed by the Republican county convention.

Engineers Demands Granted.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—The demands of the locomotive engineers of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad for an increase of pay and abolition of the "classification system" were granted by President Hughitt.

BALFOUR AGGRIEVED

At the Flight of Dillon and O'Brien from Ireland.

A SEVERE BLOW TO HIS PLANS.

The Government is Mortified Over Their Escape.

The $10,000 Bail Which the Men Were Under Will be Paid by the League—Mr. Gladstone on Our Tariff—A Deplorable Error in His Estimation—Blown Out of Existence.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The flight of Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien is the great sensation of the hour. All concur in the belief that they are on their way to the United States, but by what route no one seems to know. Some say they have gone to France and will embark from there while others believe they are already on the ocean. None of the outgoing transatlantic steamships from English ports has booked the men for passage.

When the conspiracy cases against them were called at Tipperary yesterday, and it became known that they had left, the court was thrown in great excitement and declared the bail forfeited, and warrants for their apprehension issued.

The Star indulges in some severe sarcasm aimed at Chief Secretary Balfour, whom it twits with not being able to shadow prisoners effectively. The $10,000 bail which the absentees have forfeited will be paid by the League. The Conservatives declare that this money comes from America, and is being applied to another purpose than the one to which its contributors designed. It is now believed that the illness of Mr. O'Mahoney, one of the accused, was feigned, in order to secure an adjournment of the case and give time for the ripening of the plot for the escape of Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien.

Secretary Balfour is deeply aggrieved over the affair, and has ordered an investigation in order to fix the blame for the escape upon some of his "shadowers."

It is taken for granted that there is a traitor in the camp, for it seems impossible for the fugitives to have gotten away without collusion on the part of some detective. The system of espionage was too thorough to admit of any other explanation. So closely were the spies instructed to follow the accused that the constables detailed to keep an eye upon Mr. O'Brien were known to have watched the window of the bedroom occupied by himself and wife, refusing to go away when requested by Mr. O'Brien. To have escaped such vigilance may indeed be regarded as miraculous, except on the theory that that from one motive or another the escape was connived at.

The flight of the two principal objects of the Government's prosecution is regarded by the leading Nationalists as a severe blow to Mr. Balfour's plans, which undoubtedly aimed at keeping them away from America at all hazards until after Parliament convened. Mr. Harrington is quoted as saying that Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien will be worth a great deal more in America to the Irish cause now, as fugitives from British injustice, than they would have been as simple commissioners in behalf of the Irish people.

The escape has created great admiration and enthusiasm in the ranks of the Nationalists both in England and Ireland, while the Government is confused by the readiness with which officers, cautioned to be especially on the alert, have been hoodwinked.

The Government has caused all outgoing steamers at the various ports of the Kingdom to be searched by detectives, but no trace of Dillon and O'Brien has been found, and the authorities are convinced that the fugitives are already on the ocean. It is thought possible that they are aboard a yacht, waiting to join a steamer outside of Queenstown.

Mr. Gladstone and the Tariff.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Mr. Gladstone sent to a Nottingham correspondent from Hawarden yesterday a postal card giving his opinion of the new United States Tariff law. He says: "The Tariff act is, as you will suppose, in my eyes a deplorable error, attended with severe and cruel consequences to innocent persons. I shall certainly desire to find an opportunity of offering remarks upon it in Midlothian."

Suffrage Agitation in Belgium.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The Workingman's Universal suffrage agitation in Belgium is assuming such an acute phase that the military have been ordered held in readiness for any outbreak. The latest proposition is to hold a Workingman's Congress at the same time as the setting of Parliament, on the ground that the suffrage laws exclude workingmen from representation in the latter body.

A Victory for Striking Cartmen.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 11.—A settlement of the strike of the cartmen in this city has been practically settled at a conference between the men and the employers and to the advantage of the men. The result of the conference was received with loud cheers by the men, who were holding a meeting at the time the settlement was reached.

He Had Himself Tarred and Feathered.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Young Pryor, the man who was found early yesterday morning on Cumberland street covered with a coat of tar and feathers, which he claimed had been administered by two men who sprang from a coach and knocked him down, chloroformed him and then applied the White Cap coating, has confessed that he engaged two men to do the work so that he could become a museum freak. The men have been arrested.

GATHERING THE REMAINS.

The Bodies of the Victims of the Dupont Explosion Picked Up in Small Pieces.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 11.—The coroner's jury in the Dupont Powder Mills disaster went to the works yesterday afternoon and viewed the remains of the bodies of six men—John Harrigan, Michael Hurleha, John Hurleha, Martin Dolan, James Dolan and John Newell. The remains of their bodies will about fill a bushel basket. There is an arm, a hand and a part of a face. The other pieces are small blackened pieces of flesh. The remains were in an icebox in a storehouse. Members of the families of the six men have identified as many as six separate pieces, and they will be buried to-morrow at St. Joseph's Church.

After viewing the remains the jury adjourned to meet on Monday evening to hear evidence. The funerals of Patrick and Mrs. Rose Dougherty took place this morning. Interment was made in St. Joseph's Cemetery. Four members of the Dupont firm attended.

Tammany Nominates Grant.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The Tammany Hall County Convention met last night and nominated a full city ticket, as follows: For Mayor, Hugh J. Grant; for Comptroller, Theodore W. Myers, the present incumbent and nominee of the fusionists (a County Democrat); for President of the Board of Aldermen, J. V. H. Arnold; for Sheriff, Police Justice John J. Gorman; for District Attorney, Delancey Nicoll, of Sharp trial fame; for County Clerk, Judge Leonard A. Giegerich; for Coroner, M. J. B. Messemer; for Superior Court Judges, John J. Freedman (the candidate of the fusion ticket) and David McAdam; for Judges of the City Court, James M. Fitzsimmons and Joseph A. Newberger, a County Democrat.

Secretary Blaine Going to Ohio.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The demand for Secretary Blaine in Ohio, and especially in Major McKinley's district, has been more than the Secretary could withstand. He will leave for Ohio next week, and will be accompanied by Representative Dalzell of Pennsylvania. It was stated this morning on reliable authority that he will talk for the benefit of Mr. McKinley, and perhaps one or two other Republicans.

Ministers Expelled for Forgery.

LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. 11.—The Rev. H. C. Mower was expelled from the United Brethren Conference at Mountville and the Church for immorality and fraudulent transactions, and the Rev. P. H. Garrett was expelled for conduct unbecoming a Christian minister. Mower committed a number of forgeries and fled from this county. Garrett was also implicated in the forgeries.

Afraid of an Epidemic.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The publication of statistics by the health authorities, showing that there have been 849 cases of scarlet fever and 350 of diphtheria in London during the past fortnight, has caused a decided sensation. Considerable alarm is felt lest the diseases become epidemic, and unusual precautions are being enforced.

PRESIDENT MARTIN, OF PLAINFIELD.

Reports Addresses and Election, at the Conference of the Union County Christian Endeavor Union.

The Rev. Mr. Schenck's church on East Second street, was well filled, last evening, by delegates and friends of the Christian Endeavor Societies of Union county, who had met in annual conference. The President of the County Union, the Rev. J. D. Lowden, of Elizabeth, presided, and the meeting was opened with prayer by the Rev. Mr. Goodrich and scripture reading by the Rev. Mr. Buckle.

Secretary H. E. Gayle, of this city, read the report of the last annual meeting as published at the time in THE PRESS. This was followed by three-minute reports from presidents of societies throughout the county. W. B. Hamilton, of Elizabeth, read a well written paper on "The Missionary Committee, Its Opportunities;" the Rev. George H. Payson, of Rahway, spoke impressively and earnestly for "The New Pledge;" the Rev. W. H. Shermer delivered a grand and inspiring arument on the "Manliness of Christianity;" and the Rev. John T. Kerr, President of the New Jersey Union, told of "The Society in the State."

An Enrollment Committee was appointed consisting of, W. T. James, Elizabeth; Joseph Moon, Plainfield; Wm. Freeman, Rahway; H. Foster, Dnnellen. A nominating Committee was also appointed, consisting of, E. E. Anthony, Plainfield; John Williams, Rahway; T. E. Cannuff, Elizabeth; E. M. Cave, Dunellen: and the following officers were elected:

President—H. J. Martin, Trinity Reformed church, Plainfield.

First Vice President—A. C. Ridley, First Baptist church, Elizabeth.

Second Vice President—Albert Wilson, First Baptist church, Rahway.

Third Vice President—M. B. Foster, Cranford Presbyterian church.

Secretary—Carter Vanderveer, Third Presbyterian church, Elizabeth.

Treasurer—Miss Florence Petrie, First Presbyterian church, Plainfield.

The conference was an entire success, and filled with interest and enthusiasm. The exercises closed with a benediction by the Rev. Frank Gardner, of Elizabeth. A feature of the evening was the choir singing by Miss Bessie Blair, Miss Fannie Mattison, H. J. Martin and B. T. Barnes, led by organist A. L. Titsworth. During the meeting a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the Trinity Society for the Christian reception the conference had received. President Martin accepted the office flatteringly tendered him in a happy speech. There was not a person present that doubted he would make an efficient officer and be a strength and credit to the Union.

Refreshments were subsequently served in the lecture room of the church to the visiting delegates and members by a committee of young ladies of the Trinity Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

W. J. Knight, of the General Theological Seminary, will conduct the services at the Church of the Heavenly Rest, to-morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wright Stover—nee Miss Lillian Marvin Simons—will be at home, on Tuesdays, the 21st and 28th insts, at 40 East Ninth street.

The Rev. George N. Karner, formerly of this city, whose wife is the daughter of Abram L. Cadmus, will preach in the Rev. Dr. Ketcham's church to-morrow morning.

J. J. Gardner, father of Mrs. S. A. Mac Donald, of this city, died at his late home, Sayville, L. I., and will be buried from there to-morrow afternoon. Interment will be made in this city, Monday, at 2:30 P. M.

Owing to the illness of the Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, the Rev. Dr. Lewis, of the Seventh Day Baptist church, will supply the pulpit at both the morning and evening service.

Trying to Save a Locked-Jaw Patient's Life.

Dr. C. M. Field performed a very delicate and difficult operation, this morning, in hope of saving the life of Patrick Kelley who has been dying all night of lock-jaw. Kelley fell out of a tree on Central avenue, Thursday of last week, as told exclusively in THE PRESS of the next day. His arm was so badly shattered that lock-jaw eventually set in. Dr. Field opened the man's shoulder and carefully feeling his way with his knife through the net work of ligatures, cords and arteries, cut just the particular one he was after.

—A regular meeting of the Plainfield Bicycle Club will be held next Monday evening.

—The annual offering for the Board of Education, will be taken in the Crescent Avenue church, to-morrow morning.

Fine Art Store.

On exhibition and at private sale, a large collection of imported steel engravings, etchings, pastel and oil paintings, etc., etc., by the first masters. Also a fine collection of bronze statuary. This is the finest collection of fine arts ever offered at 29 East Front street. In fact, there is nothing finer imported, and they will be offered at greatly reduced prices. Pictures framed in all the newest styles to order. A cordial invitation to lovers of art to examine for themselves.

TERMS OF THE DEAL.

$15,000 in Cash and $15,000 in Stock Promised by the Water Supply Co., for the Driven Wells, the Walls of the Pumping Station and the Contract of the Water Works Co.

Today for the first time, the people are permitted a look behind the scenes where the contract to furnish them with water is being juggled and traded. Through the enterprise of THE PRESS the whole community is permitted to read the terms of the bargain and sale whereby the Water Supply company hopes to secure for itself the possessions of the Water Works company.

You have been told in contradiction of articles on the subject already published in these columns, that the contract was so unfavorable to the contractors that capitalists would not invest money in carrying it out, and it has also been intimated that the work already done would all have to be done over again.

Yet you will see by the following agreement that the instigator of just such tales is one of those who are willing to give $30,000 for the worthless plant and the discouraging contract. More than that, one of the members of the Water Supply company tells a PRESS reporter that if they get the contract they will carry out its every provision. An unbiased engineer in the person of Mr. Bush, of Jersey City, has in the interests of the Water Supply Co., gone over the work already done, and reports the wells satisfactory and sufficient.

All this proves that Contractor Moore was doing his work well, and that the contract was not a suicidal one to assume. But others wanted it, and caring nothing for the people's convenience nor the city's interests, organized a campaign of rule or ruin—with ruin somewhat in the lead just now.

Contractor Moore was coaxed to break his faith with the people and his friends, and then threatened. All sources for securing capital were stopped by Supreme Court proceedings that cast a shadow on the legality of the contract. Even his private affairs were brought into public print. But he seems to be filled with sand, and the following terms that were undoubtedly dictated by him, prove that he was courageous enough to win against all the forces brought to bear against him.

This agreement, made this thirteenth day of September eighteen hundred and ninety betwen Charles K. Moore of Fanwood, New Jersey, and the Water Works Company of Plainfield, party of the first part, and the Plainfield Water Supply Company of the second part:

Witnesseth, That the said party of the first part hereby agrees to convey or cause to be conveyed to the said party of the second part, the strip of land twenty-five feet wide by one thousand feet long lying along the Northerly side of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, a short distance East of the Netherwood station, on which twenty driven wells have recently been sunk, and also the lot of land one hundred feet wide extending from said strip to North avenue, on which a stone pumping station is now in course of erection, by a good and sufficient deed of conveyance, and to assign, transfer and convey all the personal property on the said land heretofore purchased by said Moore or by said Water Works Company for use in the construction of said pumping house or station, and all doors, windows, window frames, stone, bricks or other material intended for said pumping house or station heretofore purchased or contracted for wherever the same may be.

And it is hereby further agreed that the said party of the first part shall assign, transfer and deliver to the said party of the second part, all surveys, estimates, drawings, plans and other papers made by the said Moore or the said Water Works Company or under his or their authority in projecting, or for the purpose of constructing water works in or near the City of Plainfield, New Jersey; also all lists of the names and residences of persons and corporations who have agreed to take or purchase water from the said party of the first part; also a certain contract or agreement made by and between the said Water Works Company and the inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, dated December twenty-seventh last; for the construction of water works; such assignment of said contract to be made to such person or party as the said party of the second part may nominate, in case the said party of the second part shall desire such assignment to be made. Said Charles K. Moore to join in said assignment in case he has any interest in said contract. Said assignment to be made subject to the consent of the authorities of the City of Plainfield if necessary.

And the said Charles K. Moore hereby agrees to assign a certain contract for the construction of water works in and near the City of Plainfield, made by and between him and the said Water Works Company on or about the thirteenth day of February last, to such person or party as the said party of the second part may nominate in case said party of the second part shall desire such assignment to be made.

And the said party of the first part agrees to apply to the authorities of the City of Plainfield for the rescision of the said contract made December twenty-seventh last and for the surrender of the bond given to secure its performance; and will urge and recommend the making of a contract between the said City and the said party of the second part for supplying the said City with water.

In consideration of the above the said party of the second part hereby agrees to pay to the said party of the first part the sum of thirty thousand dollars as follows, twenty-five hundred dollars when the deed for the said lands above mentioned shall be delivered, said deed to be made out to the said party of the second part, or to such person as Frank Bergen shall nominate; said deed to be delivered at the time of the execution of this agreement; the sum of twelve thousand, five hundred dollars in cash, on the execution of this agreement, of which the sum of eleven thousand dollars the said party of the first part hereby directs to be paid to the National State Bank of Elizabeth in satisfaction of the following promissory notes now held by said bank, namely, a note of five thousand dollars dated July nineteenth last made by Charles K. Moore to George Kyte; a note of three thousand five hundred dollars made by Charles K. Moore to the order of James Moore now held by the said bank and which will mature on September fifteenth instant; and a demand note of twenty-five hundred dollars dated this day, made by Charles K. Moore to the order of John Kean, Jr., the balance of the said sum of twelve thousand and five hundred dollars to wit: the sum of fifteen hundred dollars to be paid in cash. The balance of said sum of thirty thousand dollars to wit the sum of fifteen thousand dollars to be paid in full paid up capital stock of the said party of the second part, to be issued and delivered to the said Charles K. Moore at the office of Frank Bergen in the City of Elizabeth, New Jersey in manner following: To the amount of fifty-nine hundred dollars upon delivery to the said Bergen of a receipt in full from the Hydraulic Tube Well Construction Company for sinking, constructing and connecting the said wells, and for the appurtenances thereto; to the amount of five thousand dollars upon the execution of this agreement, and the balance, to wit, to the amount of four thousand and one hundred dollars upon delivery to the said Bergen of receipts and affidavits showing that no claims exist for which a lien may be placed upon the said pumping house or station or upon said wells, or on the other property hereby agreed to be conveyed.

It is hereby further agreed that the said party of the first part, either as a corporation or otherwise, hereby reserves the right to collect from the city of Plainfield the sum of six thousand dollars heretofore paid to the said city by the said Charles K. Moore, said right to be reserved and protected, in any assignment that may be made, of either of the said contracts of December twenty-seventh or of February thirteenth last, unless the authorities shall insist upon the relinquishment of such claim as a condition of the recision of the contract of December twenty-seventh, and the making of a new contract with the said party of the second part.

In witness whereof the said Charles K. Moore has hereto set his hand and seal; the said The Water Works Company of Plainfield has caused its corporate seal to be hereto affixed, these presents to be signed by its President and attested by its Secretary, and the said The Plainfield Water Supply Company has caused its corporate seal to be hereto affixed, these presents to be signed by its President and attested by its Secretary the day and year first above written.

A Talk on an Avoided Subject.

The Rev. A. H. Lewis, D. D., will speak on "Social Purity" on Sunday at 4:15 P. M., at Association Hall, 8 and 10 East Front street. As this is a subject of vital importance it is hoped that a large number of men will avail themselves of the privilege of listening to a subject that affects their best interests.

—The next regular meeting of Plainfield Council, Royal Arcanum, will be held on Monday evening.

Is it not surprising that nearly every household in the country should be acquainted with the merits, virtues, and the healthful properties of Hires' Root Beer? For years it has been the standard drink of those who enjoy a delicious temperance beverage. It tones up the system, helps nature, and is just what all need in hot weather. A 25 cent package makes five gallons. Sold everywhere.

—Mrs. Frederick Knowland advertises her Seventh street house to rent, furnished or unfurnished. She will spend the Winter at the old homestead, Logan's Ferry.

—Don't carry home your purchases. The originators of low prices in Plainfield, will deliver tea, coffee and groceries to any and all parts of the city to-night till nine o'clock. United Tea and Coffee Growers' Association, 29 West Front street.

Autumnal.

Now the frost is on the "punkin" and a blight is on the vine,
And a sort of imp condition tackles nature thro' an' thro',
It's rot and rust all over in the vegetation line—
But all is lovely with the stock at 3 Park avenue.

EXCELSIOR SLATE PAINT!
Something Useful and Beneficial Now in Your City.

The component parts of this Paint are of a powerful, penetrating and preserving nature, combined with a large per cent of PURE GROUND SLATE; and when applied hot to new or old shingles, penetrates them, entering the cracks and pores of the wood and gradually hardens, shutting out all moisture and rendering the shingles impervious to weather, and fireproof against sparks or cinders from chimneys or burning buildings. It can be applied to old shingles, metal or felt roofs that leak, and obviates the necessity of renewing them. It will form an elastic coating over tin roofs, and will not crack or scale. It will stop leaks around gutters and chimneys.

It has the highest recommendations from railroad companies, mill corporations, and the best building owners in every State where it has been introduced.

It is cheap, and is applied by skilful workmen, who perform all work with neatness and dispatch. Call for additional particulars at the City Hotel.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS FOR THE BOROUGH.

North Plainfield Willing to Pay $400 Extra Each Year for the Sake of the Better Service Promised by Competition.

The Plainfield Electric Light Company is to have a rival, and both city and borough anticipate a speedy improvement in public and private lighting service. The bringing of a new company into the borough will require an extra cash outlay on the part of the Borough Council, but it is expected that because of consequent competition benefits will accrue of sufficient importance to outweigh all objections against the seeming extravagance, as the following report, submitted by the Committee on Fire, Water and Lamps to the Borough Council at last night's meeting, would tend to show:

To the Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield:

Your Committee on Fire, Water and Lamps, to which was referred the matter of electric lighting for the streets of the Borough, beg leave to report as follows:

Two formal propositions have been made to light the streets of the borough, and a third proposition of an informal character has also been received.

The first proposition in point of time is that made by the Edison General Electric Company of New York. This company offer to erect an electric lighting plant in the township of North Plainfield, to be operated by water power, and to enter into a contract with and furnish a satisfactory bond to the Borough of North Plainfield for one year or a term of years, to furnish, erect and maintain in first class manner, and light all and every night 200 twenty-five candle power lamps (their first offer was of twenty candle power lamps, but they will now agree to furnish twenty-five candle power lamps), for the sum of $3,600 per annum or at the rate of $18 per lamp.

This company also offer to bind themselves to sell the said plant to the Borough at a reasonable price and within reasonable time, if the Borough so desires.

The second proposition in point of time comes from the Plainfield Electric Light Company, which offers as follows: To enter into a contract with and furnish a satisfactory bond to the Borough of North Plainfield for one year or a term of years, to furnish, erect and maintain in a first class manner and light all and every night the following lamps:

Two hundred twenty-five candle power lamps for the sum of $3,200 per annum, or at the rate of $16 per lamp, and if it is desired to have the lamps furnished of less than twenty-five candle power, then a lower price will be made.

The third proposition in point of time is from the Fort Wayne Electric Light Company, but it is informal and presents no definite figures, the representation of this company claiming that no honest offer can be made at a rate as low as sixteen dollars per lamp.

In regard to the third proposition your committee would recommend that it be left without consideration for the reason that it is of so indefinite and informal a character as to preclude action upon it.

As to the second proposition—that of the Plainfield Company—your committee would state that while it appears upon its face to offer the cheapest system of lighting now under consideration, yet there are several features in connection with this offer which do not recommend it to your committee.

In the first place, this company once had a street lighting plant within the borough, and its conduct in relation to the same was not such as to win the confidence of our citizens.

In the second place, its present offer is made only after it has learned that a proposition had been made by another company, and after the terms of that offer had been published; and the prices now offered by the Plainfield Company, are so far below the market price as to indicate that the offer is made for the real purpose of preventing the establishment of a competitor, instead of furnishing the Borough with a satisfactory light. This idea receives additional force from the fact that your Committee and the Council have always been open to the public, and that the Plainfield Company was at liberty to present an offer at any time in the past, had it so desired, any statement it may make to the contrary notwithstanding.

The offer of the Edison Company is at a price $400 per year higher than that of the Plainfield Company, but in considering that question your Committee take into consideration the following facts:

The Edison Company's offer, if accepted, will result in the erection and maintenance within the township of an electric station and plant which will cost a large sum of money and will produce a considerable revenue to the township in the way of taxes, which, your Committee think, will reduce the $400 difference nearly, if not quite, one-half.

The Edison Company would be entirely subject to our own control, while the Plainfield Company is subject to the power of the City of Plainfield to such an extent that adverse action of the city may seriously affect its usefulness in the Borough.

It would be impracticable for the Borough to acquire the ownership of the Plainfield company in any event, while it might readily become the owner of the proposed Edison company, if such a result were deemed wise.

Monopoly is always undesirable to all except the monopolist, and it will hardly be desired that with competing companies located in the City and in the Borough respectively, the public welfare, as well in relation to private lighting as to street lighting, will receive much more consideration than would be the case if one company had a monopoly of both places; in other words, that we will receive more for our money.

Your committee would further report that it has heard expressions of opinion upon this subject from a large number of borough citizens and taxpayers, and that the public feeling in the borough is largely in favor of a competing company with its plant located within our own township.

It may be well to add that either company will agree to have its light in operation by January 1, 1891. So far as the question of the advisability of adopting a system of electric street lighting is concerned, your committee is already of the opinion that the naptha light should go. Either of the propositions above considered provide for a much better light, both in quality and quantity, and the time has come when the present number of lamps must be increased to keep pace with the growth of our borough.

Therefore, as a result of careful investigation and consideration of the questions submitted, your committee would recommend:

First—That one or the other of the two propositions above considered, be accepted.

Second—In view of all the circumstances, and with the belief that the financial and physical welfare of our citizens and taxpayers will by such a course be the best served, your committee recommend that the proposition of the Edison Electric Co. be accepted.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

C. P. SEBRING,
N. B. SMALLEY,

of the Committee on Fire, Water & Lamps.

Councilman Emmons, the third member of the Committee, did not sign the report, and stated his reasons for withholding his autograph.

I think, he said, that the price ought to have something to do with this question. The fact that the Plainfield company offers to give for less money the same service that the Edison company promise, causes me to differ from the others of the committee. Furthermore, I am not impressed with water power for electric lighting; and understand that the water power is insufficient. I also think that the representative of the Ft. Wayne Company has been misrepresented. Instead of his questioning the honesty of the Plainfield Company he said that he didn't see where there was any money in such a low bid. The Plainfield company is ready to go ahead and have the streets all lighted January 1, when our present contract expires. I don't think the Edison Company can be ready by that time, and I understand, from what experts tell me, that it is impossible for the proposed system of the Edison company to give indoor lighting.

Councilman Sebring said that the Superintendent of the Edison Company had already answered the charge against inside lighting and had pronounced it utterly false. As regards the Ft. Wayne quotation, both Councilmen Sebring and Smalley said that the words in the report were just what the Ft. Wayne man had said. As there seemed to be objection to putting such charges on record, however, the quotation was stricken out, on motion of Councilman Hegeman.

Mr. Smalley presented a resolution, which was seconded, that the proposition of the Edison General Electric Company be accepted and that the Committee on Fire, Water and Lamps, with the assistance of the Borough Counsel, be authorized to prepare a contract with the Company and submit it to the Mayor and Council at an adjourned meeting, Monday, October 13. Mr. Emmons moved to amend by striking out the name of the Edison Company and inserting the name of the Plainfield Company. A long discussion followed, in which all but Mr. Emmons held the view that the Plainfield Company was willing to sacrifice money for the sake of keeping out competition, and that the introduction of a rival company, even at an originally higher figure, would be cheaper and better in the end.

The proposed amendment was lost by the following vote:

In favor—Councilman Emmons—1.

Against—Councilmen Buckle, Hegeman, Sebring, Needham, Smalley—5.

The original resolution was then carried by the same vote of 5 to 1, Councilman Smalley voting no.

The contract that will be submitted Monday night will be thoroughly discussed, and perfected in every detail—even to the matter of using sightly poles—before final adoption.

One other important matter that took place before adjournment was the adoption of a motion to have a contract drawn up for the Council's consideration between the Borough and Jas. S. Lunger and J. P. Emmons for the erection of a lock-up. The bids of Messrs Lunger and Emmons were the lowest submitted—Lunger's $319 for the carpentry work, and Emmons $585 for the masonry work.

They May be Corpses in the Morning.

Two young sportsmen looking for game trespassed on Daniel Randolph's land, near the Campbell club house, today and were ordered by Mr. Randolph to vanish. Instead of going peaceably away, however, they struck him over the head with the butt end of a gun, and felled him senseless to the earth. When the old man recovered consciousness he was covered with blood, and horrified his wife and daughters by staggering into the house in that condition. In spite of the women's protests, Mr. Randolph this afternoon took his gun and set out in search of the trespassers, determined to shoot them on sight.

The 4 o'clock meeting on Sunday of the W. C. T. U., will be in charge of the Rev. Mr. Honeyman. The 9 o'clock on Sunday and the Saturday evening at 7:30 will be held as usual. The coming week, please take notice that the usual Tuesday prayer meeting has been changed to Thursday, and the hour is 3:30 instead of 3 o'clock, as heretofore. All are welcome.

—"Cut" prices will again prevail at Edsall's to-night.

—To-morrow being the day appointed by the State Councilor of the Jr. O. U. A. M., as a day of thanksgiving, Franklin Council will go to the M. E. church in a body and listen to a sermon by the Rev. Chas. B. Mitchell, at 7:30 in the evening.

—To-night will be the last opportunity the Plainfield people will have this season of witnessing the laughable and interesting exhibitions conducted by Prof. Reynolds, the mesmerist and hypnotist, at Reform Hall. The entertainment is thoroughly enjoyable, and the house ought to be crowded.

"That Miss Jones is a nice-looking girl, isn't she?"

"Yes, and she'd be the belle of the town, if it wasn't for one thing."

"What's that?"

"She has catarrh so bad it is unpleasant to be near her. She has tried a dozen things and nothing helps her. I am sorry, for I like her, but that doesn't make it any less disagreeable for one to be around her."

Now if she had used Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy, there would have been nothing of the kind said, for it will cure catarrh every time.

LONDON'S NOTABLES.

Well-Known Englishmen Seen in Hyde Park.

Sir George Chetwynd, Lord Curzon, Lord Dudley, Sir John Astley and Many Others Who Are Known All Over the World.

[COPYRIGHT, 1890.]
[Special London Letter.]

The vast size of London is in no way more plainly shown than by the number of men who rise to the surface of its social sea for a period, and after a short summer of notoriety disappear and leave not a ripple behind them. London is the capital of a mighty nation, and its social world is the social world of Great Britain and its colonies. No other city can claim this, not even Paris, although the latter comes nearer to it than any other.

A seat in Hyde Park in the Row costs but a penny, and yet the show provided for that small sum exceeds any thing the most generous caterer to public amusement can show. All the world's a stage, we hear, and all the men are players. On this mimic and microscopic stage, not twenty feet wide and half a mile long, can be seen a multitude whose histories would, if written, fill more books than have yet been written, and outrival the strongest works of fiction that have yet been presented.

Here comes Sir George Chetwynd. Well-dressed, good-looking and debonair. His history shows that he knows the seamy side as well as the sunny side of life. His face recalls the fracas between Lord Lonsdale (he of the Violet Cameron opera troupe fame), and Sir George, over the disputed question of a photograph of the Jersey Lily which the Baronet had in his possession and declined to give up.

Behind him walks a man of a very different stamp—Lord Curzon. The future heir to a wealthy earldom, he has taken to politics, and leads a quiet and cleanly life. A quiet, well-mannered man, he takes walks abroad with comfort, sees his friends, watches his wife driving a four-in-hand as only Lady Curzon can drive one, and goes home to his luncheon with comfort and contentment. He floats on a calm and peaceful sea, financial world, where his ready wit and tact have given him a chance to show that a man can play two parts and be a successful speculator as well as a successful actor. I suppose no man is better known in London, and his face is as familiar as that of the Prince of Wales. He is tall and has a quick, nervous way of walking.

An aroma of tobacco, a gray beard and red tie are the chief characteristics of that jovial-looking gentleman leaning against the rails over there. One American owes a great deal to him, that is Weston, the walker, for the jovial man with the gray beard is Sir John Astley, better known as "the Mate." He has lived a life of sport. Horse-racing was his hobby for years, but his fallen fortunes do not allow him to pursue them.

Another bud who in New York was known as Mr. Glynn and was a great favorite. Now he is Lord Woiverton and a great swell, while behind him walks the Duke of Roxburghe, a man of parts and "bearded like the pard," as Shakespeare says. A respectable man, though he is a Duke, and a kindly man withal, much liked and looked up to. He breeds his cattle, looks after his affairs as a man with a high position and a moderate income should do, and will die of a ripe old age without an enemy.

The stroke of a clock—no, two strokes. Two o'clock. The crowd grows thinner every moment; luncheon? Yes, and in a few moments the sparrows and the ticket-collectors are left to sole possession. Draw down the curtain; the show is over for the day and the puppets are taking a rest. THE PERIPATETIC.

She Deserved It.

In a Jewelry Store.—"I love you," said the bronze figure of Venus to a Jurgensen above her. "Because you have such an open face." And the watch ran down and kissed her.—Jewelers' Circular.

FOR THE BABY.

Some Valuable Suggestions Concerning Warm, Sensible and Comfortable Clothing.

Ill-fitting and uncomfortable clothing is responsible for much of the ill nature displayed by men and women, and has made many a baby cross and fretful, that suitably clothed would have been happy and contented.

The material of a baby's clothes should be soft and fine. When the cost must be carefully counted, it is wise to discard all trimming and put the money thus saved on the quality and quantity of material. Plenty of garments are necessary, for a healthy, playful child and dirt seem to have a mutual attraction for each other.

Pretty percales, soft cambrics and flannels, in these days of low prices, can be bought very reasonably. Neatly made, and when the time can be allowed, finished by hand, they are dainty enough to satisfy any one.

When laundried, no starch ought to be put in any of baby's clothes. Indeed, soft, graceful folds are now so much admired that stiff starched dresses and skirts are things of the past for any one.

A wrapper of white cambric, like Fig. 1, is a most useful garment for a baby. It is cut in two pieces only. The seam is in the middle of back. A hem an inch wide should be allowed for around the bottom and up each side of the front. A narrow frill of soft lace is put around the neck and the bottom of the sleeves. A row of feather-stitching ornaments each side of the front. It is worked just inside the hem with crochet cord, No. 12. The wrapper is buttoned with small, white, pearl buttons.

Percale with a white ground, over which there is a small figure of blue or pink, will make a pretty wrapper, simply finished with a hem. Such a garment will be found very convenient to put on baby in the morning until ready for its bath.

In winter, when additional warmth is desirable, a blue or pink flannel wrapper will prove to be a thing not only of beauty but comfort also. When flannel is used, the edge should be finished with a binding of narrow ribbon of the same color as the material.

FIG. 2. DIAGRAM FOR CUTTING.

The diagram (Fig. 2) shows exactly how the wrapper is cut. The front edges are straight and the back seam is bias. It is best to first cut a paper pattern the exact size wanted, then there is sure to be no waste of material. Unless the goods are very wide, twice the length of the wrapper will be required. The sleeves can be cut out of the pieces that come off of the sides and should be loose enough to slip on easily.

A pretty sack (Fig. 3) can be cut by this same pattern, by making it shorter and rounding the corners. Flannel or cashmere are suitable materials.

Cream white flannel makes a very dainty sack. It can be finished with a narrow roll hem and an edge crocheted of cream white two-threaded Saxony-yarn. Cashmere in any pale shade looks well in these little sacks, and another pretty finish is a small scallop buttonhole stitched with silk of the same shade as the cashmere.

An apron for a child two or three years old can be cut by this same pattern. Fold the print or gingham in the center of the width and place the straight edge of the pattern on the fold. This will make the apron bias at the back. Larger or smaller gores will have to be put on at the lower part of the back, according to the material used.

The apron is hemmed around the bottom, and the neck finished with a narrow ruffle. Buttons and buttonholes close it at the back. The bias edges on which the buttons are sewed and in which the buttonholes are worked are faced with a straight strip of the material. This prevents them pulling out of place when laundried. Such aprons are easily made and serve to protect the dress.—Margaret Ryder, in Country Gentleman.

Remedy for Roaches.

Take three pounds of oatmeal, or meal of Indian corn, and mix it with a pound of white lead; moisten with treacle so as to form a good paste, and put a portion down at night in the infested building. Repeat for a few nights alternately, and in the morning remove the paste and the corpses to a convenient place.

PASTOR KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

Had the Desired Effect!

CARROLLTON, GREEN CO., ILL., Nov. '88.
I highly recommend Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic to anybody that has suffered from headache as my son did for 5 years, because 2 bottles of the medicine cured him. M. McTIGUE.

Saved Her Life.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Feb. 8, 1888.
This is to certify that my mother has suffered from nervous weakness for over 20 years. We have tried innumerable remedies and physicians, she also went to Germany for her health, spending in all thousands of dollars with only temporary benefit. At last we tried Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic and Elixir of Iron, and I honestly and sincerely believe that she not only received more benefit from them than all others combined, but would have died before this without them, as she was getting weaker every day, before we began with the above medicine.
DR. ROBT. F. ERNI, 776 Chapel st.

Our Pamphlet for sufferers of nervous diseases will be sent free to any address, and poor patients can also obtain this medicine free of charge from us.
This remedy has been prepared by the Reverend Pastor Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., for the past ten years, and is now prepared under his direction by the

ROASTED TO DEATH

Four Persons Lose Their Lives in a Burning Hotel.

A KEROSENE LAMP EXPLODES.

The Guests Awakened by the Noise of the Fire Engines.

Several Men Saved by Using the Fire Escapes—A Mother Jumps to the Pavement With Her Babe—The Woman Lived but a Short Time and the Child Escaped Uninjured.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Three men lost their lives and a woman was fatally injured at a small fire which occurred shortly before 2 o'clock in the morning in J. R. Putnam's European Hotel, at Nos. 163 and 165 East Adams street.

The dead are: Edward Payton, colored, 26 years of age, porter of the hotel; unknown man, apparently about 35 years of age; unknown man, 26 years of age, of slight stature.

Injured: Mrs. Minnine Robinson, jumped from the fourth story to the sidewalk; legs broken and side crushed. Her injuries are fatal.

The fire was caused by the explosion of a kerosene lamp in the hall of the fourth floor. The burning oil set fire to the stairway and soon a sheet of flame burst from the rear windows. An alarm was immediately turned in and a second one followed five minutes later. The guests of the house were awakened by the noise of the fire engines and rushed from their rooms to find the hallway filled with dense smoke.

The scantily attired inmates groped about to find a way of escape. Several were cool-headed enough to resort to the fire escape that runs down in front of the building. These were mostly men, and they got out safely. In the hallway, struggling and blinded by the smoke, were several women. Mrs. Robinson, with her child, was among them. She became crazed with fright, and rushing to the window, leaped to the pavement with her child in her arms. Her body was frightfully mangled, and she was just alive when the patrol wagon took her to the hospital.

During her fearful flight through the air she held on to the the baby, and wonderful to relate, the little one was entirely uninjured. When the mother fell her body acted as a cushion to break the fall for the child.

At 2 o'clock the fire was under control and the firemen began to search the house. In a room on the fourth floor Edward Peyton, the colored porter of the hotel, was found burned to a crisp. The search was continued and the firemen soon found in another room on the same floor, the charred bodies of two unknown men, who had been caught in the trap and burned to death. The bodies were taken to Klaner's morgue. The total loss on building and contents will not exceed $3,000.

A later dispatch says that Mrs. Minnie Robinson died at the county hospital from the injuries she received in jumping from the window in her room. The two unknown men who were burned to death were identified to-day as Thomas B. Dowler, of New Orleans, and H. Kirk Salms, of Calumet, Mich. Dowler was a professional gymnast, and was formerly a teacher of athletics in New Orleans. Of Salms little is known, but he was supposed to be a traveling salesman.

GILL ARRIVES.

The Irish Nationalist Tells About the Disappearance of Dillon and O'Brien.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Among the passengers on the steamer Alaska was Mr. T. P. Gill, M. P., who comes to make advance preparations for the American tour of Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien.

Concerning the disappearance from Ireland of Dillon and O'Brien, Mr. Gill said that the charges against them having been brought, and their trial delayed solely for the purpose of preventing their coming to America, they resolved to come whether or no. Accordingly they left in a yacht belonging to a prominent member of Parliament, and made their way to Havre, whence they will sail in a French steamer for New York, arriving here probably next Sunday.

As to the reported famine in Ireland, Mr. Gill said the outlook for the potato crop was bad and it would probably be a failure, but at present there was no great suffering among the people.

Six Men Injured.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Six men were injured, two of them quite seriously, at the works of the Illinois Steel Company. A number of men were raising a huge iron truss when the guy-pole snapped in two and the truss fell to the ground with a crash. Most of the men saved themselves by jumping, but six were struck by the heavy piece. One of the injured may die, as it is feared he has suffered fatal injuries. The following is a list of the injured: Frank Smith, shoulder blade and several ribs broken, he may die; Mike Nowark, severe scalp wound; John Cross, Patrick Navils, Michael Toole and John Dieter, slight scalp wounds bruises.

The Tuberculosis Scare.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 13.—The tuberculosis excitement in this city and vicinity has developed into a scare. The post mortem examination of the cattle killed Saturday afternoon does not back up the diagnosis. Three cows were slaughtered at Charles Rowell's, River Road, under the supervision of Expert Smith, of Rochester. In the first one killed the doctor claimed that he found small tubercles in the lungs, but the development of the disease was only beginning to develop. In the other two animals no tubercles were found.

TRAGIC SUICIDE.

A Wealthy Young Clubman Blows Off the Top of His Head.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Walter A. Kernochan, a wealthy young club man, committed suicide in his room in the Delta Chi Club, at 5 a. m., by blowing off the top of his head with a revolver.

Kernochan returned to the club, where he resided, about midnight, having spent the evening in making social calls. Shortly afterward he retired to his room. At 5 o'clock the policeman patrolling the beat in front of the club house heard a pistol shot and at once sought admittance to the club. Several of Kernochan's clubmates who, like himself, occupied apartments in the building, also heard the shot and all rushed to Kernochan's room. The dead body of the young man, still clad in the full dress suit he wore when he came into the club at midnight, was found lying across the bed.

Kernochan was 27 years of age, and three years ago inherited a large fortune from his father, John A. Kernochan, a well known capitalist of Pittsfield, Mass. Of late young Kernochan has been a hypochondriac. He imagined himself afflicted with numerous physical ailments and employed several doctors to treat him.

The suicide was a member of the Calumet Club and the New York Jockey Club. He left no letter to give a clue to the cause of the deed. Some of his friends say he has lately been troubled with insomnia, which may have affected his mind.

THEY REACH CHICAGO.

The Members of the Iron and Steel Institute Welcomed This Morning.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—An elaborate programme was arranged for the entertainment of the members of the Iron and Steel Institute and the Verein Deutscher Ingenieure who arrived at the Union depot at 9 this morning. They were met at the station by deputations of the general reception committee and the transportation committee, who escorted them to the various hotels where quarters had been bespoken. At 10:30 o'clock Mayor Cregier formally welcomed the visitors, the ceremony taking place in parlor "W" of the Palmer House.

After the reception the visitors were driven through Michigan avenue, Grand and Drexel Boulevards, Jackson and Washington Parks to the Washington Park Clubhouse, where luncheon was served. On their return to the city an exhibition of the police patrol and fire departments was given on the Lake front. To close the day the guests will be tendered a reception at the Auditorium Hotel this evening.

To-morrow will be devoted to sight-seeing and the ladies of the party will be entertained by the ladies of Chicago.

Petitioning for a Reprieve.

TORONTO, Oct. 13.—A London dispatch says some of Birchall's friends in England are endeavoring to get parties here to get up a petition for a reprieve. Up to the present time the Judge's report of the trial has not reached the Department of Justice at Ottawa, nor have any requests in favor of a reprieve been received. The step for a reprieve or commutation of sentence may be taken at any time up to the date of execution, provided sufficient time is allowed for its consideration.

Shot His Sweetheart and Himself.

BURLINGTON, Iowa, Oct. 13.—August Schultz, a prominent young farmer of Franklin township, went to the home of his sweetheart, Lucy Boegeman, yesterday, and asked her to marry him. She refused, and he shot her in the breast and instantly blew his own brains out. Hopes are entertained for the young lady's recovery. The young man for some time had been madly in love, and his affection was not reciprocated.

Wholesale Jail Delivery.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 13.—Shortly before noon eight prisoners, mostly bums and common drunks, confined in the city prison, escaped from the south cell tier by prying a part of the bars of the cage. The men were taking their exercise in the corridor, when, by climbing to the top of the cage, they made their exit to the floor below and rushed out to liberty. None of them were recaptured.

A Judge Instantly Killed.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 13.—Judge J. L. Dewitt, of the Common Pleas Court for Sandusky and adjoining counties, was run over by a train near Sandusky and instantly killed. Judge Dewitt was hunting and stepped from the track to avoid a train and was struck by a train on the other track. He was a man of fine abilities and was universally beloved.

Washington Races.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The fall meeting of the Washington Jockey Club will begin here on October 21 and promises to be the most successful since the organization of the new club. The races will continue eight days. Two days additional will be scheduled if conditions are favorable.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

Brief Session of the Supreme Court this Morning.

ANOTHER VACANCY TO RECORD.

The Familiar Face of Its Oldest Member, Justice Miller, Missing.

A Number of Important Cases to be Pressed for Hearing—The Electrocution Law to be Brought Up Again—Ex-Commissioner Tanner Denies that He Wrote a Letter About Mr. Raum.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The October term of the United States Supreme Court began this morning. The familiar face of its oldest member, Justice Miller, was missing. In the last four years or more there has never been a full bench save for a very brief period last spring. Justice Woods' long illness kept him away for many months. Then came Chief Justice Waite's death, followed by the long illness and final demise of Justice Matthews, so that it was not until the last vacancy caused by Justice Matthews' death had been filled by the appointment of Justice Brewer that the justices, after a long interval sat without one vacancy.

The session this morning was brief. The most important of the cases which come over from last term are those between Colorado mining corporations involving a construction of some very important mining questions.

This term of the court it is expected will be a busy one. A number of interesting cases will be present for hearing. Notice has already been given that an effort will be made to impeach the constitutionality of the New York electrocution law on the ground that "it is a cruel and unusual punishment.' The Japanese Jugigo is the man in whose behalf this point will be raised.

Another case which will attract attention will be an appeal brought here to secure the release of one of the Chicago Anarchists now in prison under a heavy sentence.

The liquor laws of various States, however, will furnish the largest number of cases of general interest. The Court will early be given an opportunity to reaffirm the doctrines laid down in the "original package" decision.

JUSTICE MILLER.

Brief Sketch of the Great Jurist and Constitutional Lawyer.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Mrs. Harrison, Chief Justice Fuller, Attorney-General Miller and other Cabinet officers and the justices and officers of the Supreme Court have been among the day's callers at the Miller home.

One of Justice Miller's associates on the Bench, in speaking of his colleague, said that the laborious work of the Circuit Court the past summer had told upon him. Only about two weeks ago, on his return from the West, he remarked to several of the justices that the work of his circuit was too hard for him, and he had determined never again to undertake it. He was tired out on his return, and felt that he never again would do the work and do himself justice.

Justice Miller was born at Richmond, Ky., April 5, 1816, and was consequently in the 75th year of his age. He was educated at the University of Transylvania, from which he graduated with honors.

He studied medicine and practiced as a physician for several years, when, becoming tired of medicine, he abandoned medicine to study law.

He attained a prominent place as a lawyer in a very short time. He left Kentucky in 1850 and settled in Iowa, where he became a Republican leader. He steadfastly refused to accept any office although repeatedly asked to do so, and continued to practice law till 1862, when he was appointed an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court by President Lincoln.

He has been the senior Justice for many years, Justice Field, appointed also by President Lincoln in 1863, standing next to him in seniority.

Presidents Grant and Cleveland both contemplated promoting Justice Miller to be Chief Justice of the United States but were influenced not to do so for party reasons.

Since he first took his seat on the Supreme bench Justice Miller was regarded as a strong man. His reputation as an authority on constitutional law was almost as great as was that of Chief Justice Marshall.

Three Murder Cases.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Three murder cases will occupy the attention of the Court of Oyer and Terminer which opened here to-day, viz: John O'Connor, charged with the murder of John Walker, of Cohoes; John O'Brien, who killed William Metts at Karners, and William Taylor, charged with murder ing his wife at West Troy. It is probable that the case of O'Connor will be called first.

"JACK THE KISSER."

Country Girls Relentlessly Persecuted by A Mysterious man.

NEWBURG, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Excitement has been occasioned recently at and near Highland Falls over the antics of a "Jack the Kisser." The man is described as being rather tall, with a dark mustache and side whiskers, and as wearing a pair of light trousers, Prince Albert coat and a white slouch hat. He first appeared early the other evening when he stopped the young and pretty daughter of a West Point officer on the back road as she was walking from the Falls to her home at the officers' quarters at the post.

Seizing the young woman about the waist, the man attempted to kiss her and made other improper demonstrations. She was equal to the occasion, however, and beat her assailant off with her umbrella, which was broken in the struggle.

The villan finally made his escape in a wagon. The same evening he stopped two other ladies on the same road, but they ran and escaped. It is said that on another occasion as a lady was returning home from Highland Falls from a call on a friend she was followed for some distance by this man, but he did not get near enough to insult her.

Another effort resulted more successfully to the crank. This incident is stated to have occurred near Fort Putnam at West Point. There two terrified young women when cornered one evening allowed the stranger to hug and kiss them.

FIVE DROWNED.

While Trying to Effect a Landing Their Craft Capsizes.

KINKORA, N. J., Oct. 13.—Five persons were drowned in the river near the sluice and Knickerbocker ice houses at this place yesterday by the capsizing of a boat. The names of the drowned are: Solomon Fletcher, aged 32; John Fletcher, aged 22; Angelo Fletcher, aged 24, brothers; Cheafus Merry, aged 43, and Alonzo Cannon, aged 22. All five lived here and were employed at Murrell Dobbins' brick yard.

The men were bringing 23 large pilings, each about 14 feet long from Silver Lake Ice house, in an open boat with a single sail. In attempting to make land between the ice houses and the sluice the bowsprit of the boat struck one of the logs of the former. The shock of this and the swift current of the waters of the sluice caused the boat to careen and the heavy pilings to shift to one side, overturning the craft. The men sank at once and the attempts made to save their lives by onlookers were unavailing. The bodies of Angelo Fletcher and Cheafus Merry were recovered.

Silent Cells in Sing Sing.

SING SING, Oct. 13.—The increase in the number of condemned murderers to die by electricity has necessitated the fitting up of four more "silent cells" in Sing Sing Prison. They are being constructed under the direction of Yardmaster Hilbert. There are at present only four cells for the five condemned murderers. Those awaiting execution are Charles McElvaine, to be executed the week beginning November 14 next; Wood, Slocum, Jugigo and Trezza, whose dates of sentence are not yet fixed.

New Jersey's Racing Season.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—After the close of the legitimate racing season in New York State the sport will be transferred to the State of New Jersey on October 17, when the fall meetings of the New Jersey Jockey Club and the Linden Park Blood-Horse Association will begin. The first part of the former club's meeting begins on that day and will be continued to Friday, October 24. Then the Linden Park Blood-Horse Association will hold a meeting to last to Monday, November 3.

Religious Bequests.

RUTLAND, Vt., Oct. 13.—In the will of the late Frederick Billings, of Woodstock, bequests are made as follows: To the American Board of Missions, $15,000; to the American Home Missionary Society, the Vermont Domestic Missionary Society and the American Missionary Association, $10,000 each; to the Congregational Church in Woodstock, $15,000.

Intense Heat in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 13.—Yesterday was an extraordinary day here. It seemed as if a hot cloud hovered above the city. The heat was oppressive, and the thermometer registered 90 degrees in the shade. Two prostrations from heat were reported during the day. This high temperature is all the more remarkable from the fact that it has been so cold for the past fortnight that fires were indispensable.

Found a Man Hanging to a Tree.

HOBOKEN, N. J., Oct. 13.—An unknown man was found hanging to a tree by some men who were shooting in Meek's Woods. They reported the suicide to the police. The man was about 60 years old, and had gray hair, whiskers and mustache. He was dressed in a black suit of clothes, and wore two linen shirts. The body is unidentified yet.

Looks Like Murder.

DANBURY, Conn., Oct. 13.—The dead body of William Walter, a hatter, was found at noon lying in the water of Beaver Brook, three miles east of here. He was last seen on Friday. Bruises on the body raise the suspicion that he was murdered. Walton's father is an Episcopalian minister at Grand Rapids, Mich.

Van Heest Will Fight the Winner.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 13.—John Van Heest, who recently fought a draw with Tommy Warren at Bradford, Pa., says he is willing to fight the winner of the Warren-Beecher fight at New Orleans at one of the clubs there for a fair purse. He will weigh 118 or 120 pounds.

BRITISH DETECTIVES BAFFLED

Scouring Queenstown Harbor in Boats to Capture Dillon and O'Brien.

The Wife of a Member of Parliament Found in a Pool of Blood—The Tipperary Trial Cannot Proceed—The Prince of Wales Annoyed—The Appointment of Cardinals Postponed.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 13.—It has transpired that at the close of the military manœuvers in Volhynia the Grand Duke Nicholas, chief in command of the army, suddenly became insane. His mental derangement is the result of disease from which he has long been a sufferer, and the effects of which were aggravated by the strain incident to the manœuvres. The physicians pronounce his case a hopeless one.

O'BRIEN AND DILLON.

Government Detectives Do Not Think They Have Left Ireland.

QUEENSTOWN, Oct. 13.—Government detectives have been patrolling the harbor all day in boats, and searching all the tugs and tenders with passengers for the steamers Umbria and Wisconsin aboard. Mail trains arriving from Cork are also searched.

It is evident that the authorities do not think Messrs. O'Brien and Dillon have yet succeeded in leaving the country, and hope to intercept them. The steamships themselves have also been thoroughly searched. Mr. W. J. Lane, M. P., for East Cork, and Mr. John Deasy, M. P., for West Mayo, boarded the Umbria here. Their movements aroused much curiosity.

FOUND IN A POOL OF BLOOD.

A Member of Parliament's Wife Tries to Kill Herself.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The wife of Mr. Arthur O'Connor, M. P. for East Donegal, was found late last night lying in a pool of blood in an unfrequented part of one of London's suburbs.

It was evident that she had jumped or fallen from an overhead railway station near the spot. She was severely injured, and has remained unconscious ever since found.

The lady was not long ago under treatment for mental aberration, but was thought to have been restored to her normal condition.

It is supposed that in a sudden fit of insanity she wandered away from home, and either attempted suicide or accidentally fell from the station.

Kaiser William's Views.

BERLIN, Oct. 13.—The interview with the Emperor, reported in a Parisian newspaper, is not credited in Berlin. The Emperor is well-known to be ardently desirous of regaining the German provinces now held by Russia, and whose inhabitants are as much attached to Germany as those of Alsace-Lorraine are opposed to her rule. Though the interview published by "Gil Blas" is supposed to be an invention, it doubtless represents nearly enough the Emperor's views. Since his visit to Russia he has expressed more than once a deep interest in his fellow countrymen of the Russian Baltic provinces, and he is said to have made a remark, during his visit to Austria, implying that the union of Germany was imperfect, while these provinces remained under Russian dominion.

Stanley's Return to London.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The date of departure of Stanley and wife for America has not yet been definitely settled. In Brussels Stanley was the hero of the hour, and the Ministers of State and other notabilities of the city vied with each other in calling on him and doing him honor at his hotel as soon as it was known he had arrived. At Ostend, where he went on the invitation of the King, he was received with special honors by the municipality, and at once proceeded to the royal chalet, where he had an interview with King Leopld, their talk lasting over two hours, and in the evening Mr. Stanley dined at the royal table.

Socialist Congress.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The great Socialist Congress at Halle convened to-day. The sessions are held in the Hofgaeger restaurant, which is elaborately decorated within and without, and floats a huge red flag from the housetop. The delegates have met with an enthusiastic reception, and the outcome of their deliberations is awaited with intense interest. The police do not seem to be taking any unusual notice of the meeting, and the local military garrison has been ordered to remain confined in the barracks.

The Prince of Wales Annoyed.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The Prince of Wales is said to be much hurt by the suggestion that he abstained from visiting the National Musical Festival of Wales on the ground that he apprehended an exhibition of disloyalty, and has refused, it is reported, to have any communication with Lord Pearlyn, who gave currency to the statement, and who was formerly a close personal friend of the Prince.

Will Buy a Home for Mrs. Fremont.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—A committee has been formed to raise from the women of California a fund of $6,000 for the purchase of a suitable home for Mrs. Jessie Benton Fremont and her daughter. About $1,000 has already been subscribed.

Mrs. Hendricks' Present.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 13.—The Thos. A. Hendricks Club of this city received a portrait, in oil, of the late Vice-President, the gift of his widow.

WILL PLAY NINE GAMES.

Brooklyn and Louisville Arrange the Schedule for the Championship Series.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 13.—President Byrne and Mr. Parsons met here last night and made an agreement to govern the coming world's championship games. It was agreed to play a friendly series of games not to exceed nine in number. It was also understood that the club winning a majority of such games shall be entitled to be called the world's champions of 1891. The umpires agreed upon to officiate are John McQuaid, selected by the Louisville club, and Wesley Curley, selected by the Brooklyn club.

The following is the schedule of games: In Louisville, Thursday, Oct. 16; Friday, Oct. 17; Saturday, Oct. 18; Monday, Oct. 20; Tuesday, Oct. 21, to be left as an open date. In Brooklyn Thursday, Oct. 23; Friday, Oct. 24; Saturday, Oct. 25, and Monday, Oct. 26. If the ninth game is necessary to decide the series the place and date will be determined hereafter.

Rube Burrows Made a Will.

GREENVILLE, Ala., Oct. 13.—A great deal has been said and written concerning the last will and testament of Rube Burrows, which was said to have been written in Brewton some weeks ago. J. E. Greene, an attorney at Brewton, Ala., states that he had written Burrows' will and that it would be made public in due time. The will leaves all of his property, which is in three States, Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi, to his son and daughter. The estimate put upon the property is $20,000.

A Married Man in Trouble.

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 13.—John Bradenburg, a well-to-do mechanic, a few months ago won the affections of Miss Ida Schwatzler, and their wedding day was fixed. When the hour approached he did not appear. After months of weary waiting the missing bridegroom was found with his wife and seven children in the vicinity of Lancaster. The condition of his would-be bride led to his prosecution, and he was yesterday arrested on a charge of adultery.

An Embezzling Postmaster.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—John D. Nichols, ex-assistant postmaster at Berrian Springs, Mich., pleaded guilty to embezzling postal money orders and will receive sentence this week. He is the son of one of the most prominent men in that town. His father has made up the loss and strong influence is being brought to bear to have his sentence made easy.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The German Empress is expected to again become a mother in February.

The cholera epidemic continues at Barcelona. A special hospital has been erected there for the sufferers.

The steamer John E. Tygert was burned to the water's edge while lying at her dock in Baltimore.

In a quarrel over the hire of a team at Kennett Square, Pa., John Wilson, colored, killed Timothy Shay with a pitchfork.

Charles H. Merritt, president of the David Maydole Hammer Co., died at his home in Norwich, N. Y., yesterday, aged 76 years.

The Empress of Austria has planned another tour along the Mediterranean coast, returning to Vienna about Christmas time.

The Comte de Paris and suite attended mass in Richmond, visited the Capital and other places, and were warmly received everywhere.

Hon. Joseph F. Daly, of New York, Associate Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, was chosen Chief Judge of that court in place of Judge Larremore resigned. Judge Daly is a brother of Augustine Daly of Daly's Theater.

Maurice J. Carney, of Lynn, Mass., was adjudged guilty of intimidating workmen and fined $50 and costs. The cases of assaulting non-union workmen were continued for a week. Goenstein, who was struck in the abdomen by a stone, is slightly improved, but physicians say the injury may prove fatal.

Ex-Judge Gunning S. Bedford, of New York city, who has long been an active worker in the ranks of the County Democracy has boldly declared his affiliation with Tammany. His example, it is rumored, will be followed by several prominent members of the Counties, their antipathy to that organization being on account of the People's Municipal League nominations, which they term the hybrid ticket.

—The Borough Common Council will meet this week Friday evening for the purpose of considering the proposed street lighting contract with the Edison General Electric Company.

—To avoid baldness and produce a luxuriant growth of hair Randolph recommends his Quinine and Glycerine Hair Tonic, the merits of which are set forth in the advertising columns of THE PRESS.

—Fred. Long, of the Borough, will be tried before Magistrate Hardy, to-night, on complaint of Marshal Rutledge. Long is accused of resisting arrest for drunkenness and trying to throw Rutledge into the brook.

—The Pierson Hardware Co., desiring to place their business on a cash basis, are now offering their goods at a reduction of 10 per cent. Parties in need of stoves and house-furnishing goods, would do well to give them a call.

Closing the Season With a Fine Exhibition.

The chilly weather of Saturday kept a large number of base-ball lovers away from the players' benefit. The visitors were the Ridgewoods, but they were not in it. Livingston was knocked ont of the box by the Crescents, and the Plainfield team played a brilliant game in the field.

Lee and Martin made one-hand catches of hot liners. McIndoe hammered one way over the fence, and Jones got a three-bagger. The game should have closed at the end of the seventh inning, 6 to 1 in favor of the Crescents; but another inning was played in the dark, and two runs were made by the visitors through the inability of the infield to see the ball. The score:

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Friends of Harry G. Adams will be pleased to know that he is in the city for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Mallinson and amily, are home from a pleasant visit at Mamaroneck.

A. W. Haviland and family, of Rockview avenue, are at home again after a Summer spent at St. Andrew's, New Brunswick.

Henry George wants to find the Plainfield man who wrote and asked him to discuss free trade, on the last Friday of this month, in this city. Mr. George consented, but has forgotten who it was extended him the invitation.

Louis Bleecker Mumford, the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Mumford of Arlington avenue, died at 10:20 o'clock this morning. He was twenty-two years of age yesterday. The cause of death was consumption. He was able to be out with his father on Saturday last.

A Remarkably Fine Programme.

The Dudley Buck quartette, which is to appear at Music Hall, Thursday evening, is composed of the following soloists: H. E. Distelhurst, first tenor, soloist All Souls' Unitarian church, New York; Chas. Stuart Phillips, second tenor, soloist Central Congregational church, Brooklyn; Everitt S. Swaim, first bass, soloist Ross Street Presbyterian church, Brooklyn; Frederic Reddall, second bass, soloist Lafayette Avenue Presbyterian church Brooklyn. The New York Sun said of it the other day: "The Dudley Buck Quartet shared the popular favor, and when they gave 'Robin Adair' with variations one gentleman in the dress-circle attracted general attention by the enthusiasm of his praise."

But besides this great entertainment in itself, Charles Roberts, the reader, and Adolph Glose, the pianist, will also have a part in next Thursday evening's programme.

OBITUARY.

William E. Jones.

The death of Wm. E. Jones, Director of the Somerset County Board of Freeholders, occurred at his home on Somerset street, North Plainfield, at 9:35 o'clock this morning. He had been ill several weeks, from cancerous affection of the liver; and his death, though an event which brings sadness to the entire community, was not unexpected.

Wm. E. Jones was born in Herefordshire, England, December 10, 1825. At the age of twelve he was brought to America by his parents, his father having met with financial reverses through the Crimean War, and being desirous of starting anew in a new country. After spending two or three years in New York the family removed to Somerville, and, later, to Mt. Bethel, where William found a wife in Amanda Kirkpatrick, a daughter of an old Somerset family. In 1866 William received a legacy from an uncle and removed to Plainfield. Two years later he was elected a member of the Board of Freeholders, on the Republican ticket, and has been a member of the Board almost continuously ever since, having been a candidate at every election, and having been defeated but twice [by Martin W. Schenck and Chas. Shepard], in twenty-four years. He was Director of the Board during several terms, and held that office when he died. Early in life he was a Whig, but soon identified himself with the Republican party, and was one of its stanchest adherents. He was a member of Noah Dove Encampment, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and of the Exempt Firemen's Association. In the old Fire Board days he was its President two years. His wife died five years ago. He leaves a son, Frank, of the firm of Powlinson & Jones, and a daughter, Sarah D., who is the wife of Mr. Powlison. The funeral services will take place Thursday afternoon; from his late residence, at 2 o'clock, and from the First Baptist church at 2:30. The Rev. Dr. Yerkes will preach.

Nicholas Gisser.

Nicholas Gisser, wholesale and retail butcher, well known throughout Plainfield and the surrounding country, died at his home on South avenue, Netherwood, Sunday. He had long been a sufferer from asthma. He was sixty-two years of age. The funeral services will take place from his late residence, to-morrow at 2 P. M.

THE GREAT EVANGELIST.

Plainfield Pastors Planning with Laymen for the Coming Revival.

The General and Executive Committees, with the Committees on Finance, Advertising, Music, Devotional Services, and Ushers, having charge of the arrangements for the coming of Evangelist Mills, all met together in the Young Men's Christian Association rooms Saturday evening. The work of the various committees was discussed, and suggestions were made as to the best methods to be employed. A letter of counsel from Mr. Mills was read. The several committees will begin their work at once. It was unanimously decided to hold union prayer meetings the Tuesday, Thursday and Friday nights of the week preceeding Mr. Mills's first meeting. The one to be held Friday night will be at the Seventh-Day Baptist church, as Friday is the regular prayer meeting date at that church. The place for holding the other two is left with the Devotional Committee. The revival services will begin in the First Baptist church Monday evening, November 3, and will close probably in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church. No specific period for Mr. Mills to remain has been set. In a letter of instruction the great Evangelist says:

"Permit me to say that while you cannot over-estimate the desirability of careful preparation, the church and pastor will receive the greatest benefit who are best prepared spiritually for the work, and ready to make the greatest sacrifices for its success.

"Be sure your own hearts are right in the sight of God. In the closet, the home, the prayer meeting, the Sunday school and the pulpit, let there be heart-searching and complete consecration. Pray for me. Ask God to give me humility, that 'he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together.' God's 'Set Time to Favor Zion is Come,' when His people care more for their own and their neighbors' spiritual interests than for money, formality, pride, prejudice or convenience.

"I pray God that I may come to you in the fullness of the blessing of the Gospel of Christ. Now I beseech you, brethren, for the Lord Jesus Christ's sake, and for the love of the Spirit, that ye strive together in your prayers to God for me, * * * that I may come unto you with joy, by the will of God, and may with you be refreshed.' In weakness and in fear and in much trembling, and yet with confidence in God and great expectations, I remain,

"Yours in the Master's service,

"B. FAY MILLS."

—One hundred and thirty-eight were present at the men's meeting addressed by the Rev. Dr. Lewis, at the Y. M. C. A. rooms, yesterday.

—350 choice building lots will be sold at noon of Tuursday, in Westfield. Location and other information will be found in the advertisement elsewhere.

—Mr. Wachenhusen, canvassing for Dr. Talmage's "From Manger to Throne," has made many friends during his two years' residence in Plainfield. Everywhere the book and the canvasser are cordially received.

NOT A VOTE AGAINST THEM.

Marsh for Senator, and Hicks for Sheriff, the Unanimous Choice of the Union County Convention.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Oct. 13.—At the Union County Democratic Convention here today the Hon. Fred C. Marsh of Elizabeth, was nominated for State Senator, and Wm. H. Hicks for Sheriff. Both nominations were made by acclamation, and were the unanimous choice of the Convention.

THE MAN REED HOPES TO BEAT.

The Democrats Think W. J. Keys Can Unlock the Senatorial Situation.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., October 13.—At the Somerset County Democratic Convention here today the morning was spent in organization and in settling the claims of two contesting delegations from Branchburg.

Lewis R. Blackford, of North Plainfield, was elected permanent chairman. His opponent was John T. VanCleef, of Bridgewater. A. C. Thomae, of Franklin Township, was made secretary.

The noon recess was spent in considering the Senatorial situation. Among those prominently mentioned were County Clerk Andrew Lane of Hillsborough, James J. Bergen of Bridgewater, W. J. Keys of Hillsborough, H. M. T. Beekman of Branchburg, and George E. Pace of Franklin. There was a decided tendency to nominate Lane, a Neshanic miller, against the protests of some of the most active Democrats in the county.

On re-assembling this afternoon W. J. Keys of Hillsborough was nominated on the first ballot for Senator.

The ballot was 47 for Keys, and 18 for Lane. Bergen, Beekman and Pace withdrew from the race.

Will Try to Fly the Fanwood Kyte.

WESTFIELD, N. J., October 13.—Geo. Kyte, Freeholder from Fanwood, was nominated for Assembly at the Third District Republican Convention here today.

RAHWAY, N. J., Oct. 13.—Stephen B. Muller, of Summit, was today made the Republican nominee for Assembly in the Second District of Union county.

Democratic Delegates from Plainfield.

The Democrats of the Third and Fourth Wards held their primaries Saturday night to elect delegates to the County and Assembly conventions, the first to be held at Elizabeth today, and the latter at Rahway to-morrow. The following is the result of the primaries:

THIRD WARD—Chairman, Auguste Saltzman. Secretary, Theodore S. Miller. County convention delegates—A. Saltzman, Joseph Shepherd. Assembly convention delegates—Theo. S. Miller, Stewart Milligan. Member of County Executive Committee—Auguste Saltzman.

FOURTH WARD—Chairman, Vincent L. Frazee. Secretary, Elmore D. Moffett. County convention delegates—Elmore D. Moffett, W. L. Force, Edw. C. Searing, Peter Flynn, Jr., Daniel McCarthy, Frank Fine. Assembly convention delegates—Timothy McCarthy, Geo. R. Rockafellar, Daniel Hogan, Jr., Nief Apgar, Joseph T. Sullivan, Ira G. Hurlbut. Member of County Executive Committee—Vincent L. Frazee.

A Woman Pleads for Reform.

One of the most interesting meetings ever held in Reform Hall was that of last evening. The first speaker introduced was Mrs. C. S. Whitney, of New York, whose life is devoted to religious work, and whose remarks caused profound attention. With pleasing manner and fluent and appropriate language she pleaded for individual devotion to the will of God in all things, doing whatever and going wherever He commands for the reclamation of mortals from sin to salvation, and thereby discharging a debt we owe to God and humanity. She also presented as living truths the evils of liquor drinking and the blessings of total abstinence.

The Rev. Mr. Dwight followed, making feeling allusion to the excellent remarks of Mrs. Whitney, and adding thereto several touching incidents coming under his personal experience, as a Western pastor, of the sad havoc wrought by the demon of strong drink. Close attention was given to his speech from commencement to close.

The President announced that Mrs. Whitney would be glad to meet visitors Monday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, in the basement parlors of Reform Hall, and that a meeting under her leadership would be held in the main auditorium Tuesday evening of this week, at 7:30 o'clock, to which all were cordially invited.

He also gave notice that next Sunday evening the speakers would be Samuel A. Haines, of Netherwood, and his subject: "Facts: What Shall We Do with Them?"

President Harper presided, the Rev. Mr. Dwight read the Bible lesson and offered a fervent prayer, and the music was rendered in choice style by a full choir lead by Mr. Vanderbeek, with Miss Doremus as accompanist. With the benediction pronounced by Mr. Dwight, the meeting closed.

His Fall was Fatal.

In spite of the operation described in these columns of Saturday, Patrick Kelley died that evening at 8:30 o'clock. He was just in the prime of life and leave a wife and seven children. THE PRESS has already told of the accident that cost him his life.

He was employed by George H. Burgess of Central avenue. Thursday, the 2d inst, he was trimming the trees about the grounds. A heavy limb he was sawing broke before he expected it to, and in its fall it knocked the ladder on which he was stading, from under him. Kelley fell twenty-five feet to the ground and sustained a compound fracture of the elbow joint. The bones were shattered into fragments. Drs. Boone and Hedges attended him.

Locked-jaw subsequently set in, and on Saturday morning Dr. Field performed an operation, but without result. The funeral will be held at the unfortunate man's late home on Central avenue, tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, and at St. Mary's church at 9:30 with high mass.

A YELLOW LUNCHEON.

Sir Ambrose and Mrs. Shea Entertained by Mrs. Gilbert.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Gilbert, at their home on Eighth street and Central avenue, recently gave a luncheon to Sir Ambrose (Governor of the Bahamas), and Lady Shea. Covers were laid for sixteen, including Mrs. Herring, Mrs. Ludlum, Mrs. Munn, Mrs. Clinton Randolph, Mrs. Hugh Hastings, Mrs. Rowland Cox, Mrs. Charles Wadsworth, Miss Randolph, Mrs. Randolph, Mrs. James Grindlay of Utica, Miss Neilson of Montreal, and Mrs. Wm. B. Wadsworth.

Most of the guests had been entertained at the Government House, Nassau, and the luncheon was delightfully informal. Marcsi served, and yellow was the prevailing color—tea rose buds tied with yellow ribbon, large bowls of nasturtium upon the table, with marigolds for decoration around the dining room.

There were frozen oranges, with leaf and blossom attached; and, prettiest of all, several tea rose buds, real leaves, real stems, and real outer petals, with the inside of the bud taken out, and frozen creams, the exact color, filled in, made a course "fit to set before the Queen," and so real that every one exclaimed at the perfection of art thus offered them.

A steady downpour of rain prevented a driving party which was to have preceded the luncheon, much to the disappointment of hostess and guests of honor, especially as Sir Ambrose and his party sailed the following day for their Southern home.

All Will be Very Welcome.

The Congregational Chautauqua Circle will hold its first meeting of the season in the church parlors, to-morrow evening, at 8 o'clock. All who are interested, whether members of the circle or even of the congregation, will be very welcome.

CORPORATION NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the following ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time, and ordered engrossed, preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

J. B. COWARD, City Clerk.

Plainfield, N. J., October 6, 1890.

AN ORDINANCE

To macadamize Cemetery avenue, running from Park avenue to Woodland avenue.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield by their Common Council do enact as follows:

Section 1. That said avenue from the southerly side of Park avenue to the northerly side of Woodland avenue for the width of sixteen feet, that is to say for the distance of eight feet, on either side of the centre line of said avenue be permanently improved with broken stone for the depth of six inches, of good quality and proper sizes, the same to be properly laid, compacted and rolled, so that when completed the surface shall be smooth and even and shall conform to the grade of said avenue as now established thereon, to be done under the direction of the street commissioner and to be paid for out of the money raised by tax for the improvement of streets as provided by the act of the Legislature, entitled "an act to authorize cities to make improvements in the road beds of the streets at the general expense."

Fees $3.50.

AN ORDINANCE

To macadamize Plainfield avenue from the south easterly side of West Seventh street to the southerly boundary of the city.

Whereas the owners of property fronting on Plainfield avenue between the south easterly side of West Seventh street, and the southerly boundary line of the city have subscribed for the macadamizing and otherwise improving of Plainfield avenue as a boulevard between said streets, have agreed to day or caused to be paid for the work and macadamizing and otherwise improving of said avenue and the cost and expenses incurred for the same, the sum of two thousand dollars, therefore

The inhabitants of the City of Plainfield by their Common Council do enact as follows.

SECTION 1. That Plainfield avenue from south easterly side of West Seventh street to the southerly boundary of the city for the width of sixteen feet, that is to say for the distance of eight feet on either side of the centre line of said street, be macadamized for a uniform depth of six inches with crushed stone of good quality and proper sizes the same to be properly laid, compacted, and rolled so that when complete the surface shall be smooth and even and shall conform to the grade of said street throughout, as said grade has already been established for said street by ordinance, said macadamizing to be done under the supervision of the Street Commissioner, who shall have power to do all necessary grading of said road bed wherever required to bring the same to conform with said grade as already established.

SECTION 2. In order to protect said street and the macadamizing thereof from surface water the gutters of said street on both sides thereof from said south easterly side of West Seventh street to the city line as aforesaid, shall be protected by tailings or larger pieces of crushed stone, and wherever necessary in the judgment of the Street Commissioner, proper culverts of flag stone shall be constructed for the proper carrying off of said surface water, said work to be done under the supervision of the Street Commissioner.

SECTION 3 That the owners of property fronting on said Plainfield avenue shall pay or cause to be paid into the City Treasury the aforesaid sum of two thousand dollars on the completion of said work, said owners having agreed so to do and after applying such sum toward the cost of said work and macadamizing as hereinbefore directed, the remainder of such cost shall be at the general expenses of the city and be paid as provided by chapter 221 of the laws of New Jersey for the year 1884.

SECTION 4. All ordinances or parts of ordinances conflicting herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Adopted by the Common Council October 6, 1890.

Approved by the Mayor October 7, 1890.

JOB MAIR, Mayor.

Attest: JOSEPH B. COWARD, City Clerk.

STATEMENT OF THE PLAINFIELD CO.

Manager Moore Claims Certain Borough Councilmen are Prejudiced, and That His Bid Has Been Treated Dishonestly.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—We have read the published report of two of the members of the Committee on Fire, Water and Lamps for the Borough of North Plainfield, and feel that the statements made concerning this Company are prejudiced and misleading.

The statement is made that our bid is far below the market price. It is very evident from this that the gentlemen have not made any very diligent inquiry, or otherwise they would have ascertained the fact that we had already established a local market rate for incandescent street lighting, as may be clearly evidenced by our contracts with the City of Plainfield, extending over a period of three years, during which time the following rates have been in effect:

For the City of Plainfield proper, $14.60 for each lamp, per annum, and for the suburbs, including Netherwood and Evona, $17.50 each, per annum, or what is an average of not over $16 for each 25-candle power lamp per annum.

This Company voluntarily established the foregoing rates and is satisfied with them, notwithstanding the adverse opinions of interested individuals or companies.

The Committee could easily have ascertained the local market rates for incandescent street lighting, at any time, by applying to this Company or to the Clerk of the City of Plainfield.

It is unfair to assume that this Company would have made rates to the Borough in excess of what has already been established in the City of Plainfield, particularly as the general conditions are as favorable in the one place as the other, as to points of distance from the electric light station, existing pole lines, etc.

The so-called desire for competition on the part of the Committee, is certainly not indicated by the course they have pursued.

When competition is really desired in the construction of public improvements, it is usual to advertise properly for bids in the form of sealed proposals.

We do not understand that this course has been pursued, but, on the contrary, negotiations have been carried on with one particular company for some time and with comparative secrecy.

Before any bids were published, we endeavored to get a hearing with the Committee and submit our bid, but our efforts were not encouraged, and we were led to infer that the Committee had already gone so far as to be obligated to another company.

After that, we felt at liberty to present our proposal to the Mayor of the Borough. Our price was based entirely upon our rates for the City of Plainfield and in nowise influenced by any published bid as inferred by the report. Copies of our proposal were also furnished to each member of the Common Council. It is quite evident that the competing company has had access to our proposal before the proper time, and have been given an opportunity to change their bid so far as to substitute 25-candle power lamps.

Notwithstanding the fact that our lighting station is located in the City of Plainfield, we could furnish ample security to insure a continuous and satisfactory service to the Borough of North Plainfield. We fail to see how the term monopoly applies to the Plainfield Electric Light Co., since it must now be admitted that we are already furnishing incandescent street lighting at rates that defy competition.

PLAINFIELD ELECTRIC LT. CO.
By W. H. MOORE, Manager.

Miss Carter Will Address Them.

The Autumn meeting of the Upper Division of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions, representing this diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church, will take place in Holy Cross church, this city, next Wednesday. Delegates are expected from all parts of the State, and Miss Sybil Carter, whose missionary labors have led her to almost every portion of the globe, will address the meeting.

His Youth Saved Him from Heavy Punishment.

Thomas Peterson, the colored young man who was arrested on a serious charge made by Lizzie Courtney, was given a hearing before Justice Nash Saturday. As it was shown that the offense was committed when Peterson was under the age when the law holds him responsible, the case was dismissed; but he was warned that he might have been sent to prison for five years and heavily fined had not this legal loophole appeared.

—John Dorrigan was fined $10 by Judge Codington, this morning, for abusing a neighbor with his tongue.

Spare our loved ones. Hear the pleading
That goes up from aching hearts.
But grim death, our plea unheeding,
Pierces with his fatal darts
Those who with us fain would tarry,
Those we long so much to keep,
And ere long their forms we carry
To the grave so dark and deep.

Pleading with death avails nothing. We must do something to ward off the dart he aims at those we love. We must protect them from him. When the hacking cough, the hectic flush, or a pain in the side or chest gives indication of a consumptive tendency, act promptly. Go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This remedy allays the inflammation of the delicate lung-tissues. It heals the irritated parts. It strengthens the blood, and tones up the debilitated system, and in this way death can be forced to relinquish his hold upon our friends. It is guaranteed to cure, if taken in time and given a fair trial, or money paid for it will be refunded.

Dunellen Doings.

C. Schepflin has gone South for three weeks.

Frank Covey and Miss Hannah Johnson, both of Dunellen, were married at the home of the bride, Saturday evening, by the Rev. Mr. Seran, pastor of the Methodist church. The fife and drum corps serenaded the wedding party.

Chas. Carpenter is again employed by the Central Railroad, as operator in the main office

Jackson avenue has been macadamized, and the sidewalks have been improved.

All three of Mr. Welsh's new houses are now occupied.

Mr. Hand expects to build a house on his lot adjoining Mr. Merrell's.

The anniversary of the Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church will be celebrated next Sunday evening.

The fourth anniversary of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor will be held at the Presbyterian church Thursday evening. After the exercises refreshments will be served.

J. H. Dryden and family have moved to New York for the Winter.

Mr. Bush has recovered from his illness and is now at his old place in Dealaman Brothers' store. He has worked in the same store for more than twenty-five years.

Mr. and Mrs. Churchill have been visiting friends in Brooklyn during the past week.

Miss Fannie Smith and Miss Minnie Swackhamer are teaching in the new school building.

ARGUS.

Marriage of the Great-Granddaughter of Plainfield's Postmaster of Old.

The chief society event of last week in Middletown, N. Y., was the marriage of Miss Lillian C. Douglas, daughter of Chas. A. Douglas, cashier of the First National Bank of Middletown, and great-granddaughter of the late Postmaster Dewey, of this city, to George M. Millspaugh, of the hardware firm of William Millspaugh & Son. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride, which was elegantly decorated for the occasion with flowers and autumn foliage. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. A. F. Pierce, pastor of the First Congregational church.

The maids of honor were Miss Adaline Puffer and Miss Josephine Bruce, of Medford, Mass. The best man was W. K. Stansbury, of Detroit. The bride's costume was of white faille Francaise, trimmed with point-lace and ostrich feathers, and with diamond ornaments. There was a large attendance of distinguished society people, among whom was the bride's aunt, Miss Carrie Dewey, of this city. The wedding gifts were numerous and handsome. The collation was served by Maresi, of New York. The wedding journey will include Niagara Falls and points of interest in the West.

Rice's Beautiful Evangeline.

"Evangeline," with its two score of Acadian maidens, its merry but miserable ruffians, its demure heroine, its dashing hero, its Dutch captain, its Irish policeman, its lone fisherman, its cunning notary, its coquettish chaperon; in fact, "Evangeline," with all its glorious halo of stage triumph, magnificent scenery, superb costumes, and dazzling brilliant effects, will be seen at the Music Hall, Wednesday evening.

Richard Harlow will play Catherine, and none other than Joe W. Harris will fill the role of the lone fisherman. Bernard J. Reilly, the favorite comedian, will play LeBlanc, while two exceptionally talented and beautiful young ladies, Miss Lillian Walters and Miss Geraldine McCann, are in the parts of Gabriel and Evangeline, and will make themselves favorites with our public. As singers, as well as actresses, both ladies have already achieved a wide success, and a great deal is expected of them. The chorus is especially fine, the majority of them having been secured this Summer from the leading comic opera companies under a two years' contract.

Nothing Has So Stirred the People in Years.

The talk of the town since Saturday, has been the Water Works company, that has a contract from the city, and the Water Supply company, that has a charter from the legislature.

Meanwhile all work is stopped, and it is even betting that Plainfield won't have water in five years. Public indignation is yet but rumbling, still it grows hourly in the deeps and will burst forth with a mighty noise in time.

Doesn't Think Charley Reed is a Winner.

(From the New York Herald.)

The Republicans can win in Somerset county, New Jersey, with either Charles Place or Louis Schenck, but a son-in-law of Alvah Clark, the former Democratic Congressman, appears to have the "pull" on the Republican nomination. His name is Reed, and his hopes are that the Democrats may nominate Andrew J. Lane, a farmer, who will not get his party's support and who does not deserve it.

—The best quality at cheap prices is Edsall's motto. His new advertisement today will be read with interest.

The Same After All.

The Summer Girl has gone her way;
The bathing suit is laid away
To shine again another day.
And now the Winter Girl has come.
So changed is she that we are dumb;
And yet she keeps on chewing gum.

GOSSIP'S GIDDY TONGUE.

ROSE ELIZABETH CLEVELAND has gone abroad for an extended visit.

JOHN SWINTON has returned to New York from his European trip, and will soon make a tour of the West.

A WELL-KNOWN Countess in England recently paid a board bill for herself and twenty-three cats, over forty goats, two dogs and a monkey.

HARVEY WATTERSON, the hale old father of the Kentucky editor, is a privileged member of the Courier-Journal staff. He has a well-knit frame, a ruddy face and earnest gray eyes. Every thing in his appearance indicates that he is good for many years of life yet.

IT is not generally known that Cyrus W. Field is a successful poulterer and if the worst comes to the worst could sell enough eggs to make both ends meet. At his country estate at Ardsley, on the Hudson, he has 2,000 chickens and 600 ducks. His flocks yield over 3,000 dozen eggs yearly.

MISS ALICE LONGFELLOW, daughter of the poet, is said to be the best amateur photographer in America. Her favorite field of operations is along the Massachusetts coast, and her snap shots there taken in the stormiest weather are attracting the attention of publishers, and her illustrated storms will be a feature of a new book of sea songs.

THE approaching marriage of the beautiful daughter of the Baron de Mohrenheim to the young Vicompte de Seze is made unusually interesting by the connection of both families with the revolution of 1796. It was the grandfather of M. de Seze who defended Louis XVI. before the national convention, and it was the great-aunt of Mlle. Mohrenheim's mother, Mme. de Korff, who lent her carriage to the King and Queen when they endeavored to escape to Varennes.

JUSTICE BRADLEY, of the United States Supreme Court, does not remember his first fee as a lawyer. "I did," he says, "a lot of small jobs before I got big ones. I taught while I was in college, and while I was studying law at Newark, N. J., I edited for a short time a newspaper there. I was sent by it to Trenton as its correspondent, and there by reporting the Legislature I acquired a good acquaintance with men all over the State, which helped me in my practice. I practised at the bar thirty years, and I was admitted in 1840."

THE Shah became a father at the age of sixteen years, and all his children are well advanced in life. He has eight daughters, all married. His eldest daughter is called the Glory of the Kings, the second the Light of the Empire, No. 3 is the Pride of the Empire and No. 4 is the Purity of the Empire. All these daughters have married rich husbands, and the Shah has promptly seized the possessions of his sons-in-law, with one exception. This son-in-law is chief priest of the Teheran, and he holds his father-in-law in check through religious influences.

A PRETTY surprise was prepared for the Archduchess Valerie, on the eve of her wedding, by her parents, the Emperor and Empress of Austria. In the evening, the party went out upon a balcony at the Imperial villa at Ischl, and presently, in the still night, rose sweetly the notes of a tender love-song, the words and music of which had been composed by the young bride. Her eyes overflowed with grateful tears as she looked from her father to her mother. The Emperor afterward went below and gave each singer a handsome diamond scarf-pin, thanking them at the same time for their rendering of the song.

NEW NOVELTIES IN JEWELRY.

A SCARF-PIN, formed by a gold rope artistically coiled around a silver sounding plummet, is an appropriate gift to a yachtsman.

A GERMAN watch-maker in the Black Forest has constructed a clock which he warrants to run without winding until the year 9999.

THREE diamond owls, diminishing in size and cleverly represented as sleeping on a gold bough, make a lace-pin of attractive appearance.

A GOLD mosquito with emerald eyes and having its proboscis thrust through a fine white pearl, is a scarf-pin quite suggestive to the summer boarder.

A NOVELTY in gentlemen's charms is a square block of crystal, which evidently represents a chunk of ice, suspended between the sharp points of a diminutive ice-tongs.

A CURIOUS clasp for a bracelet is a plaque in which there is a representation of a city, with a diamond as the setting sun in the distance and a castle on a slope in the foreground.

A STACK of four silver dollars containing a watch movement produces much astonishment whenever shown. The face of the time-piece, which is only two-thirds of an inch in diameter, is set in the center of the uppermost coin.

ANOTHER novelty is a little sword used as a lace-pin. The scabbard is attached by a small gold chain, and after the sword is inserted in the material for which it is intended the end of the scabbard is partially drawn over the point to retain the ornament in its place.

ARTISTIC workmanship and originality of design are shown in a silver jewel-box with the cover etched to represent a pearl-diver about to make a plunge after the gem. The sides of the case contain marine pictures in keeping with the ornamentation of the cover.

DIAMOND epaulettes are comparatively new. These take the form of bows and buckles, and sometimes have the effect of Psyche wings. Parures of diamonds are all fashioned so that they can be broken up and used as separate pieces. In their original shape they form festoons that are clasped on the breast and shoulders by diamond flowers.

SOME of the Paris jewelers lately manifest a curious taste for frogs as a subject of design. They are usually made of bright green enamel with pink toes. They are worn as cravat pins and pendants for short watch chains, and are also used for ornamenting the corners of purses and cigarette cases. They are also made up as brooches in connection with diamond bullrushes.

Hires' Root Beer is here again, and we think it time to call the attention of our readers to that well-known brand. It is made from the genuine roots, barks and berries. Not like a great many others that are doctored imitations of it. One 25 cent package makes five gallons. No trouble to make. Directions simple, and, if followed, the most sparkling, cooling and refreshing drink in the World yet produced. It is time to lay in a stock, and we recommend an order from your wholesale house at once.

THIS "TALE OF WOE."

Hub Smith, the Popular Song Writer, Is a Jolly Bachelor.

The Rapid Rise of a Washington Department Clerk—His Erratic Methods of Work—The Origin of "Listen to My Tale of Woe."

[COPYRIGHT, 1890.]
[Special Correspondence.]

Hubbard T. Smith is not yet very widely known perhaps, but everybody knows his music—knows it and whistles it. His "Listen to My Tale of Woe" has probably been sung and whistled and tooted and played more than any other song that has been written since the earlier Sullivan operas. Indeed, it is an open question whether it has not been played in more lands than even Sullivan's most popular airs, for it is arranged for bands all over Germany, Scandinavia, and other parts of Europe, and in Australia it has had a long and very popular run. One of Mr. Smith's friends, recently returned from Japan, says it is played by everybody in Tokio who can play any instrument, and is whistled by everybody who wears a puckering-string in his lips. But this is only one of Mr. Smith's popular songs. Up to date he has produced two hundred and thirty-five pieces of music, most of which have been published, many of which have been sung with telling effect on the comic stage. Among these are such as "Hush-a-Bye," the lullaby which Francis Wilson has so successfully interpolated in the "Gondoliers;" "The Song That Breaks My Heart," sung in "The City Directory," and a dozen other popular farce comedies; "The Little Pie," which always makes such a hit in "Bluebeard, Jr.;" "Swinging in the Grapevine Swing," which is one of the attractions of Donnelly & Girard's "Natural Gas," and a long string of this sort.

Mr. Smith is a department clerk in this city, a man of not more than thirty years, nervous, active, full of fun and not ambitious beyond his powers, unless some of his attempts on the stage be taken as an evidence that he would like to be a great comedian, which he is not. But he is as full of jingle some music as a watermelon is of sap. Set him at a piano, and if the mood be on him he will improvise catchy airs by the hour, many of them as strikingly original as that of the "Tale of Woe," of which nobody has thought of saying such things as everybody says of Sullivan's music—that it is only recast from old and forgotten airs found in ancient music books taken from the British Museum.

"I can not remember when I could not play the piano," said Mr. Smith, the other day, "though with the exception of two or three lessons taken when I was ten years old I never received any musical instruction; and to this day I know absolutely nothing of the theory of music. I had a quick ear, and even when a small boy could catch and play without any pains pieces of music that teachers give to advanced pupils. I also from my earliest recollection had the knack of improvising, and if I chanced on a theme that pleased me I would play it over and over until it became fixed in my memory, give it a name and add it to my repertory. I do the same to this day, with the difference that now I write out and publish the improvisations."

This, together with his general jollity, accounts for the fact that Mr. Smith, ever since he came to Washington, has been in demand in society, for he could always entertain with something new. His repertory was boundless, since if on taking his seat at the piano he did not happen to think of one of his set pieces he would sail out on some uncharted sea with as much confidence as the conventional pianist strikes into one of his worn and wearing stock-pieces which society generally enjoys mainly because they furnish good cover for confidential chat.

Going back to the beginning of his success as a song-writer, Mr. Smith says: "I was playing over a number of my stock pieces one evening for a friend, when I struck one that pleased him, and he asked me to have it written out for him. Accordingly I secured the services of a musical friend, and we found so much pleasure in the task that we wrote out perhaps half a dozen. I had them published more for the fun of writing: 'With compliments of the composer' across the title page, than any thing else; and for this fun I paid half the cost of publication, receiving in return nothing but one hundred copies of the printed music. To my surprise and delight they became quite popular, and I was encouraged to further efforts. In the publication of the second lot I fared better. I received one hundred copies of each piece and did not have to pay any of the cost. That gave me the fever bad, and I went into writing songs, polkas, waltzes and all sorts of things at a terrific rate, and received a stated sum for each manuscript. That was in the summer of 1884. Among the first of those for which I received compensation was: 'Listen to My Tale of Woe.' It did not have immediate success. Indeed, it had very little success until Francis Wilson and Marie Jansen took it up."

These were the circumstances under which the song was written. Away back in Eugene Field's early days of newspaper work he wrote (I believe for a St. Louis or a St. Joe paper) a bit of verse entitled "The Little Green Peach." It went the rounds of the papers and dropped out of sight, preserved only in a scrap book here and there (one of which, by the way, was Slason Thompson's scrap book, and that is how the verses came to be preserved in the collection which Mr. Thompson many years later published under the title of "The Humbler Poets"). After many years the verses were started on the round of the press again, this time with no credit mark upon them. Mr. Smith found them in this form and put them into a scrap book which he kept for the same reason that most people keep diaries, and that is no reason at all. One day in 1884 he was looking over this scrap book when, in reading the lines of "The Little Green Peach," he was struck by a tune that seemed to fit them and stepping to the piano he played the tune. Then he played it again and again, and the more he played it the more he liked it. Finally in a sort of ecstacy of enthusiasm he hopped upon his bicycle and rushed away to the house of a friend.

"I've got it," said he to the friend, who thought he was crazy. "I've got a tune now, and a good one. Listen to this," and he sat down at the piano, but could not think of a note of it. He felt worse than humiliated; he felt that he had lost fame and fortune, and so, in a sense, he had. He "struggled and guggled," but nothing would put the tune into his head. Finally he gave it up as lost and sat down with his friend to drink a bottle of beer which had been brought in by a servant. The subject of conversation was changed and Mr. Smith had well nigh forgotten his loss when suddenly he slammed his glass down, jumped up like a tennis ball, rushed to the piano and played the tune. For almost an hour he played it over and over and over, until his friend, who was at first delighted with the air, told him that if he played it again he would turn in the police alarm. The music was published precisely as it was played the first time. As soon as it became popular a number of persons came forward to claim the authorship of the words, but Mr. Smith detected the falsity of their claims, for none of them referred to the fact that the words had been slightly changed to suit the music and the catchline "Listen to My Tale of Woe," wholly added by Mr. Smith. Eugene Field, however, in response to a request from Marie Jansen, gave her a handsomely engrossed copy of the original verses with a humorous dedication by "the author," and Mr. Smith in the next edition placed Mr. Field's name by permission on the title page.

After his success in song-writing, Mr. Smith ventured upon an opera. Mr. Albert Riddle wrote the libretto and the piece, under the title of "The Debutant," was presented at Ford's Theater (Harris Bijou) in this city. Mestayn made an offer for the opera, but some financial misunderstanding caused a split all round and Riddle withdrew the libretto, while Smith took the music. The score has since been sold to Ellis & Co., and Mr. Bayly, the managing partner of that firm, says it has in it more catchy music than any light opera he has ever heard. He is, I understand, having a new libretto written for it.

I asked Mr. Smith what he regards as his best production.

"Francis Wilson," he answered, "says 'Hush-a-Bye' is the best from a musical standpoint, but my own favorite is a plaintive little ballad entitled: 'My Mother's Songs.' It is also the favorite of the musical members of the Columbia Club. This song has never been published or sung on the professional stage.

In his music-writing Mr. Smith is as erratic as genius usually is. Sometimes a month, or even two months, will elapse without any attempt on his part to write a note. He says that at such times his mind shuts up and there is no music in him. He does not go near a piano and never thinks of music. Then all at once the fever lays hold on him and he goes at composition as if there were only a few moments left between them and nowhere. During these "spells" he rattles off manuscripts at a tremendous rate. In one day not long ago he composed ten pieces, wrote them out and sent them to the publisher. One of them was "Swinging in the Grapevine Swing," which has become popular.

"I can not force myself to compose," he says; "I have tried it time and time again, and the results have always been very unsatisfactory. I have a little rose-jar on the mantel at home, and when I chance across a bit of poetry which I think will go well to music I clip it out and put it in the jar. Then when the fever comes on I read my collection over and get to work. Sometimes when at a loss for words I write them myself, although I never dare dignify them with the name of poetry. Some of these, however, have been surprisingly successful, and I am quite willing to plead guilty to the authorship of them—for example: "The Song That Breaks My Heart" and "Hush-a-Bye."

Mr. Smith has also written two operettas, "The Lottery Ticket" and "A New Year's Reception," several burlesques, not especially noteworthy, a melodrama and a farce comedy. The latter, entitled "Paradise Flats," was successfully presented in Washington a few weeks ago under the auspices of the Columbia Club. This farce comedy, which the author regards as his best dramatic production, is based upon the somewhat novel experiences of Mr. Smith's manner of living, especially on a dinner given at Paradise Flats, as his bachelor home is called, in honor of Miss Bate, the charming daughter of Senator Bate, of Tennessee. Senator Bate and his amiable wife figure in the play as Uncle Larry and Aunt Jane respectively, Miss Bate as Susie and Miss Marshal and Miss Clare, of this city, as Fannie and Clara respectively, while the author's two chums, Charles M. Staley and Robert W. Jennings, are the originals of Charlie and Rob. The character of China is the housekeeper of the bachelor quarters, and though the play she is a very comic person, she is not over-pictured.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

TWO HANDY DEVICES.

A Standard Catch-All and a Draped Toilet Table.

This pretty convenience for a "catch-all" or work-bag can be easily made. The frame is a simple double X connected by the necessary cross-pieces, and painted white with enameled paints. Twenty-two inches for the standards, and sixteen inches for the cross-pieces, will give a good proportion for the frame.

The bag is made of two widths of silk three-quarters of a yard long, joined in a seam, then doubled across the length and sewed up at each side. The upper edge of the bag is then shirred over the slender wooden cross-pieces which sup port the frame at the top, and over a thick cord at each end, about ten inches long. Cord is used at the ends instead of cross-pieces of wood, so that the "catch-all" can be folded together when moved. Bows of satin ribbon with fringed ends ornament the upper ends of the standard sticks, which are finished with small gilded wooden balls.

Smaller bags can be sown inside of the large one when it is to be used as a work-receptacle or for a baby-basket. The bag can be of light or heavy material, according to the uses to which it is to be put; and any goods except plush or velvet may be used.

Any table may be utilized for this purpose, or a frame made of the required size. The design, as illustrated, is one of the most elegant, as may be seen upon reference to the illustrations in our series of beautiful home interiors which accompany the articles now being published in this magazine, where similar furnishings to this and the pretty standard "catch-all" may be recognized.

Cover the table first with Canton flannel and then with white or cream silkoline, drawing it smoothly over the underlining. Make the valance of geranium-figured white India silk or silkoline. The latter is much the cheaper, and comes in lovely patterns of colored flowers stamped on plain grounds. The valance should be several inches longer than the distance from the top of the table to the floor, in order to allow for draping; and a fullness of about one-quarter its width allowed for rounding the corners. Tack the upper edge on in fine occasional plaits, and drape slightly, as shown in the illustration. The finishing ruffle at the top is of plain white finished with white silk gimp fringe, and is about six inches deep, including the fringe, and must be gathered and sewed to the edge of the table in a reversed manner.

The drapery at the back is composed of two breadths of white India silk or silkoline, each two yards long, hanging without looping from their support, and drawn out to the width of the table at the bottom, and tacked at either side to keep them in place. The inside curtain draperies are of pale pink India silk or silkoline, edged with the gimp fringe, and hung from the frame which supports the back drapery, and looped at the sides.

The outer drapery may be hung upon a frame supported from the back of the table, or from a coat-hanger hung against the wall. Over the cross-pieces at the top, or the coat-hanger, which-ever is used, let the drapery hang forward in an easy looping, and bring it down and forward at the sides, in curtain effect. This drapery is a single breadth of figured silk or silkoline about five yards long, according to the height of the table.

The glass on the table is in a standard silver frame with candelabra attached—a very elegant toilet-convenience. The amateur furnisher can supply its place with a mirror hung against the wall at the back, or a similar mirror may be procured. The cross-pieces at the top, from which are draped pink and white ribbons, can be simply ornamented wooden handles. In the original they were enameled white, with gilt heads. —Demorest's Monthly.

"I AM NOT WELL ENOUGH TO WORK."

This is a daily event in mills, shops, factories, etc. It is the point where Nature can endure no more, and demands a rest. Then the poor sufferer, worn with toil, and broken in health, stands aside to make room for another. "Quick consumption" they called it.

To this class of women and girls we proffer both sympathy and aid. When those distressing weaknesses and derangements assail you, remember that there is a Remedy for all of them. We have on record thousands of such cases, that have been restored to vigorous health and lives of usefulness. Send stamp for "Guide to Health," a beautiful illustrated book.

OPPOSING A MAYOR

A Catholic Priest's Circular Creates a Sensation.

ONE OF HIS FLOCK DENOUNCED.

He Advises His Parishioners to Cast Their Ballots Against a Catholic.

A Big Row Over the Cotton Centenary Celebration at Pawtucket—Mayor Carroll Opposed for Taking Part in the Religious Exercises—A Notice Issued by a Priest Makes a Stir.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 14.—Rev. Father Halligan, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church of Pawtucket, will use his influence against the re-election of Hugh Carroll, one of his parishoners, as Mayor. Rev. Father Halligan issued a sort of a pronunciamento forbidding all Catholics to take part in the exercises of Sunday School day during cotton centenary week, on the ground that communicants in the Catholic Church could not rightfully participate with Protestants in religious exercises.

Mayor Carroll on this occasion, however, considered his civil duty as paramount to the request of his spiritual adviser and carried out the part assigned him on the programme. He delivered an address on Sunday School day and participated with Protestants in the exercises.

A note signed by Father Halligan has been issued as follows:

"Well, the cotton centennial has come and gone. The week for free rum, turkey and 'fixins' for men and ice water for children is now a matter of history. If Samuel Slater has not been deified the aureola of sanctity has certainly been woven around his brow. The poverty of the Irish has been dressed in a garment of cold type. After a surfeit of hunting, music, speeches and grumblings, we pause and say, 'What next?' Why, election!"

The circular then advises honest Democratic voters to go to the primary meetings and send delegates to the City Convention who will cast their ballots for a man who has the courage of his convictions.

Father Halligan's attack upon the Mayor has caused a great sensation. It is anticipated that there will be a great falling off in the vote for Mayor Carroll over last year's figures should he be renominated.

NEIGHBORS AT WAR.

Burning Down Farm Buildings and Shooting at Each Other.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 14.—A family feud is raging at Evans Falls, a small settlement near the foot of North Mountain, that has many of the Kentucky characteristics.

James Moss and his son were arrested some time ago for assaulting R. H. Evans. A bridle path ran across the Moss farm and Moss notified Evans not to use it, but he persisted in doing so and was shot at and then beaten.

Since then the two families have been at war. Evans caused the arrest of Moss and his sons, and the same night some one fired a load of shot at him through a window in his house, slightly wounding him.

A day or two later the barns of Moss were burned down. Then Evans' house was set on fire, but the flames were extinguished.

One of Moss' sons while at work in the woods was shot at, the bullet knocking his hat off. Three nights ago Evans' house was again fired and totally destroyed, with all its contents.

Since then Evans has been hanging around the Moss house with a Winchester rifle, vowing to shoot the first member of the family who appeared. It is a sparsely settled district, but all the people in the neighborhood are taking sides with one or the other family and further trouble is anticipated.

Sargent and the Erie Trouble.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Grand Master Sargent of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, president of the Supreme Council of the Federation of Railway Employes, when asked if it were true that a meeting of the Supreme Council had been called to consider the existing difficulty on the Erie road, replied: "It is not. Of course I cannot say what may happen, but there has been no request made to me yet to call a meeting of the council. We will go about investigating it under our rules. It is not an easy matter to engage the Federation in a strike."

The King of Horse Thieves Sentenced.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Oct. 14.—In the Superior Court William McKenna of Lawrence and Haverhill, known as the king of horse thieves, was sentenced under the habitual criminal law to twenty-five years in State prison.

Her Twin Babies Burned to Death.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 14.—Ann Aldrict, of 112 Sullivan street, went to the grocer's in the morning, leaving her month-old twin babies in a crib near the kitchen stove. She returned in ten minutes and found the babies burned to death.

Fell Five Steps and Died.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 14.—William McCarthy, aged 61, of No. 94 Chestnut avenue, started to go upstairs, but he missed his footing when half way up and fell down five steps. His skull was fractured and he died soon afterward.

Death of Prof. Austin Phelps.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Oct. 14.—Prof. Austin Phelps of Andover, father of Elizabeth Stewart Phelps, died after a long illness at his Bar Harbor cottage.

HER HEART HIS TARGET.

Jealous Charles Bennett Vainly Tries to Murder His Sweetheart.

BURLINGTON, N. J., Oct. 14.—Charles Bennett while in a jealous rage tried to kill his sweetheart, Elsie Holden, a young and pretty woman. He would probably have succeeded had not a friend thrust aside the hand containing the revolver, and the ball went wide of its mark.

About four years ago Miss Holden left England with the intention of making her home with relatives in this country. Charles Bennett was a passenger on the same steamer and was also seeking a home in America. He met Miss Holden, and at once became infatuated with the handsome face and stately figure. Before reaching New York he secured an introduction to her, and learning she was going to Burlington determined to accompany her.

They arrived in this city, and Bennett obtained board at the home of Miss Holden's relatives. Everything ran smoothly for awhile. Their love was mutual, but Miss Holden soon had other admirers.

Bennett noticed this, and several times threatened the life of his sweetheart if she did not desist in her flirtations, but she did not heed him. He went to her this morning and again threatened, and this time tried to kill her. He was taken to the Mount Holly jail.

EX-MAYOR BEATTY ARRESTED.

The Well-Known Organ Manufacturer Indicted by Federal Authorities.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 14.—Daniel F. Beatty, formerly Mayor of Washington, Warren County, was indicted by the Federal Grand Jury, in session here, for the fraudulent use of the mails.

Mr. Beatty is a manufacturer of organs, and is charged with sending circulars throughout the country offering organs at ridiculously low prices, and after the receipt of the money refusing to fill the order till a further sum would be forwarded, claiming that he had run out of the cheaper instruments. He will probably be tried in a few days.

Arrested for Bigamy.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Harry W. Crawford was arrested here charged with bigamy, on complaint of a woman from Newark, N. J., who claims to be his wife. Her former name, she says, was Laura A. Lane. Crawford came to Port Ewen, Ulster County, two years ago, and being of good address, rapidly gained the confidence of the people of that place. He found employment as travelling salesman for Staples & Co., of Rondout. Last August Crawford was married to Leona Dubois, a highly respected young lady. His wife number one has just appeared upon the scene.

Caught a Hartford Paper.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 14.—The first newspaper in this section caught by the anti-lottery advertising law is the Hartford Evening Post. Postmaster Kinney has ordered that the entire mail of the paper be stopped because its Saturday edition contained a half column advertisement of the Louisiana State Lottery. The publishers were notified of this action, and were advised that the paper would be excluded from the mails hereafter unless the advertisement was omitted.

The Famous Snow-Alley Case Again.

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—Chester Snow has reopened the famous Snow-Alley case by bringing further suit against Hon. John B. Alley for $100,000 on account of seventy-five bonds of the Postal Telegraph Company. There have been six trials in this case, but Colonel Ingersoll succeeded each time in getting a new trial except the last time, when a settlement was made which it was supposed would end the litigation.

O'Connor Coming Home.

TORONTO, Oct. 14.—A dispatch from Queenstown says that O'Connor, the Canadian oarsman, sailed from that port on the steamship Umbria for New York. O'Connor says that after resting a few days at Toronto, where he proceeds from New York, he will go to San Francisco to train for the purpose of reducing his weight. In training he will use two New York boats, which he will take with him.

Republicans Nominate a Straight Ticket.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The committee of the Business Men's Republican organization appointed to nominate a ticket met at the Fifth Avenue Hotel last night. The committee unanimously recommended a straight ticket. They selected candidates for nomination and will call on them to-day. Until they have been seen their names will not be made public.

Voting Under the New Ballot Law.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 14.—The charter election under the new Ballot law is going on to-day, and is likely to have an important bearing on the November contest.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The President Returns from His Western Trip.

TRAVELED OVER 3,000 MILES.

He Made Thirteen Speeches Yesterday and Looked Wearied.

He Calls at the Residence of the Late Justice Miller—Particulars of the Great Jurist's Death—The Supreme Court Meets and Adjourns Immediately—Mourning for General Belknap.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The President and party arrived here this forenoon. One of the President's first acts was to call at the residence of the late Justice Miller and tender his sympathy to the bereaved family.

After leaving the Miller residence the President denied himself to all callers, and it was stated would take a day or two to rest after his long and arduous journey.

The President looked somewhat wearied and remarked concerning the remarkable October weather. He made thirteen speeches yesterday, and upon reaching this city had travelled over 3,000 miles. With one exception the President has slept on his car every night since leaving Washington.

JUSTICE MILLER DEAD.

He Passed Away Peacefully, Surrounded by His Family.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The venerable Samuel F. Miller, Justice of the United States Supreme Court, died at 10:52 last night. His family were around his bedside and a most affecting scene occurred when Dr. Cook announced that the great jurist was no more.

He was unconscious to the last and the end was a happy release to the mournful circle by whom death had been momentarily expected since the first attack on Friday night. The body will be taken to Iowa for interment and the arrangements for the funeral will be announced this afternoon.

A few minutes before Mr. Miller died the phlegm in his throat gradually accumulated and his frame quivered. It was evident that the end was fast approaching, and the members of his household who were not in the sick room were hastily summoned to his bedside. Besides Mrs. Miller and her son Irvine, there were present Dr. Cook, J. W. Woolworth, an old friend of Justice Miller, who had just arrived from Omaha; the family servants and Chief Clerk McKenney, of the Supreme Court.

Soon after death the face of the Justice, which had become somewhat drawn during the last day of his illness, changed to a perfectly natural condition, and he looked as if in a quiet sleep.

To-day the Supreme Court met as usual at 12 o'clock, and after the announcement of the death of Associate Justice Miller by Chief Justice Fuller the court adjourned. The Justices will consult with Mrs. Miller as to the time of the burial and the funeral arrangements.

GEN. BELKNAP'S DEATH.

The War Department Pays the Usual Marks of Respect.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The discovery of the dead body of ex-Secretary of War Belknap in his room in the morning is still the talk of the city. The deceased has been in ill-health for some weeks past. It is understood that paralysis was the immediate cause of his death.

The news of the sudden death was received at the War Department with genuine sorrow. General Belknap was a very popular official when he was at the head of the War Department.

The usual marks of respect were paid to his memory by the War Department. The Department will be closed on the day of his funeral. It will also be draped in mourning for thirty days.

A strange thing in regard to General Belknap's death was the fact that he sold most of his valuable Washington real estate on Friday. It had been put up at auction a number of times, but never sold.

Gen. Belknap was a man of culture and superior social charms. He was fond of society and was often seen at the play or the opera and always escorting a party of ladies.

Mrs. Belknap, who was summoned from New York, arrived last night. The body, it is understood, will be buried at Keokuk, Ia., the General's former home. He leaves only a small estate. There are two children, an unmarried daughter and a son who resides in Chicago.

To Freeze Out Chinese Laundrymen.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 14.—The laundrymen of the United States and Canada are in session in this city. President Doremus' report shows that there are 6,000 laundries in the United States, employing 93,000 men. There are 250,000 Chinamen in the business. A plan is to be formed by which the laundrymen hope to freeze the Chinese out.

RUN DOWN BY A SCHOONER.

The Crew Barely Had Time to Escape from Their Vessel.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Oct. 14.—Capt. J. A. Hart and crew of five men, of the schooner Josie Whitehead, arrived in port last night. The Whitehead now lies sunk in Vineyard Sound, about one mile off Nashamena, and her crew had a narrow escape from drowning.

The Whitehead hails from St. George, Me., and was bound from Port Johnson to Salem with 400 tons of coal. Capt. Hart was running into Vineyard Sound all right, and everything was going well, when at 8 p. m. a two masted schooner loomed up before them and ran square into them. Without waiting to see what damage had been done, the stranger kept on her course.

Captain Hart went into the forecastle and found that he stood in water to his knees, and seeing he could not save his vessel he ordered the men into the boats as quickly as possible. The boat was cut away from the Whitehead. The men had gone but a short distance when the schooner sank.

The crew saved nothing except the clothes they wore, one managing to reach the island Nashamena and, after hunting about, found the house of Capt. Peter Davis, who brought them to this city and the captain communicated with the owner. The vessel is valued at $6,000.

Arrested on a Serious Charge.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The arrest of Dr. Walter M. Flemming, the famous expert on insanity, on two indictments charging him with larceny and extortion, was a surprise to the medical profession His arrest is the sequel to the apprehension of General Milton S. Littlefield in Boston on Thursday last. Both are charged with being in collusion for the purpose of extorting money from Mrs. Josephine Stephanie, a wealthy Cuban widow, whose son is awaiting trial for the murder of ex-Judge Clinton G. Reynolds, some months ago. Littlefield secured money from Mrs. Stephanie on the pretext that he could get her son released on a plea of insanity. The doctor was released on $7,000 bail, furnished by his wife.

Hon. Ben Wood's Seventieth Birthday.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Mrs. Benjamin Wood, wife of Hon. Benjamin Wood, editor of the New York News, gave a dinner last night at the Fifth Avenue Hotel in commemoration of her husband's 70th birthday. Notwithstanding his advanced years the veteran journalist is as active as a man of 50, is in excellent health, a hard worker and takes the same interest in public affairs that he did 40 years ago. Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Grace, Mr. and Mrs. Wm L. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Cockerill, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Fellows, Mayor Grant and Hon. Smith Ely.

Fears of Foul Play.

DANBURY, Conn., Oct. 14.—Edgar D. Wolferstan of New York, who was to have met his partner here on business, is missing. Wolferstan wrote his partner to meet him here last Tuesday. The partner came but failed to find Wolferstan, and from the peculiar circumstances surrounding his disappearance, there are strong fears of foul play. The police are investigating.

Investigating the Fisheries.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 14.—Hon. Robert Bond of the Executive Council of New Foundland is here in company with the British Minister, Sir Julian Pauncefote. Mr. Bond is sent here by his Government in connection with the fisheries. He will hold a conference to-day with prominent men on matters connected with the fisheries.

The Engagement Really Broken.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Alfred Wilkinson, for the first time, acknowledged to a reporter the truth of the report that his engagement to Miss Winnie Davis, the "Daughter of the Confederacy," has been broken. He said that action had been taken by Miss Davis on account of her ill health.

Dr. Eli Fox Dead.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Dr. Eli Fox, president of the Mohawk National Bank, died at his home in Mohawk, Herkimer County, at 2:30 a. m., of Bright's disease, aged 57 years. Deceased was a prominent Mason and also president of Utica Commandery No. 8, Knights Templar.

Mr. Scott's Letter of Acceptance.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Mr. Francis M. Scott, the fusion candidate for Mayor against Mayor Grant, has written a long letter of acceptance.

HUNTING FUGITIVES

England May Try to Arrest Dillon and O'Brien.

A SCHEME TO CAPTURE THEM

A Man-of-War to be Dispatched from Halifax to Intercept Their Vessel.

Another Disaster at Prague—The Portugal Blockade Broken—Six Persons Killed at a Fire in London—Spaniards Have a Battle With Natives—British Soldiers Revolt.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—It is officially stated that if the Government ascertain that Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien are aboard a vessel flying the British flag they will order a man-of-war to be dispatched from Halifax to intercept the vessel and arrest the fugitives.

In that case the prisoners will at once be brought back to Ireland.

The general belief is, however, that they took a French steamer from Havre.

The Chronicle's Paris dispatch says: "A private dispatch from Havre states that Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien have landed on the Brittany coast and are journeying to Paris."

DUBLIN, Oct. 14.—At a meeting of the Labor Federation at Kildysart, Mr. Joseph R. Cox, member of Parliament for East Clare, stated that Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien were on their way to America as fast as a powerful steamer could carry them.

Mr. Jeremiah Jordan, who represents West Clare in Parliament, speaking at the same meeting, described Tipperary as the Waterloo or Plevna of the Irish land question.

PORTUGAL'S BLOCKADE.

Reports of the Sinking of a Gunboat by an English Vessel.

LISBON, Oct. 14.—Reports as to the situation of affairs at the mouth of the Zambesi River are conflicting. One report asserts that one of the British sternwheel gunboats attempted to effect the passage of the river, to prevent which a cordon of Portuguese gunboats had to take up a position across the mouth of the river.

The Portuguese vessels, it is said, had instructions to offer a passive resistance to the passage of the British gunboats. The sternwheeler is said to have run down and sunk one of the Portuguese warships.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The officials of the Admiralty and Foreign Offices discredit the report of the sinking of the Portuguese gunboat at the mouth of the Zambesi.

DISASTER AT PRAGUE.

Twenty-Three Laborers Drowned at the Ruins of the Karlst Bridge.

PRAGUE, Oct. 14.—The city was visited by another calamity during the morning when the wall of the Karlst Bridge, which was partly destroyed during the last great flood, collapsed and 40 laborers were thrown into the river.

Twenty-three of them were drowned and, though the rest were rescued, many of them were badly hurt, and Captain Rauch, the superintendent of the works, lost both his legs.

Spaniards Shell a Village.

MADRID, Oct. 14.—An official dispatch from Manila states that the vessels of the Spanish expedition shelled the rebellious village of Mutalans, after which a column of troops landed and stormed the native positions. The attacking party lost seven killed and 19 wounded. The natives suffered great losses.

English Soldiers Rebel.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The Guernsey detachment of the East Surrey Regiment, which has been ordered to the Indies, refused to leave their barracks. They were disarmed and threatened with severe punishment. They finally embarked, but retained their disrespectful behavior throughout.

Six Londoners Burned to Death.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The four-story building on Middle street, occupied by Rowley & Brock, was destroyed by fire. Six persons lost their lives by being burned to death and thirteen were severely injured. Five of the women employes were killed in trying to escape by jumping to the street.

America's Silver Wreath Lost.

BERLIN, Oct. 14.—It is reported in this city that the silver wreath purchased with funds subscribed in the United States, and which was consigned to Mr. Charles Gibson, who was to deposit it in the tomb of the late Emperor Frederick of Germany, has been mysteriously lost in transit.

No Longer Fit to Reign.

THE HAGUE, Oct. 14.—At a consultation held between the royal physicians and two members of the Cabinet it was decided that the condition of the King was such as to unfit him for longer reigning over the Kingdom.

Collapse of Portugal's New Cabinet.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—A dispatch from Lisbon says that the new cabinet has collapsed, and that Senhor Sousa will not attempt to form another one.

25,000 People Were Present.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The funeral services for the late Mrs. General Booth were held in the Olympia. Twenty-five thousand persons were present.

Murderer Stillman on Trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—The trial of John L. Stillman, the inventor, who killed J. D. Fiske, the well known capitalist, July 26, is now on.

MRS. MILLER IN PRISON.

Her Case May Become One of International Importance.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The arrest of Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Field, the wives of the absconding American bankers of London—who did business under the name of Field & Co.—promises to become one of international importance, in which Congress and probably the President may be called upon to act.

The women have been under arrest for two days and during the morning were taken before Judge Barrett on writs of habeas corpus, and were discharged. The two ladies with their counsel then left the court room, but as soon as they reached the corridor Mrs. Miller was gently touched on the shoulder by United States Marshal Bernhardt and informed that she was again under arrest, this time at the instance of the British Consul, and that she must go before Commissioner Shields.

When she appeared before the Commissioner she was informed that she was accused of having stolen money to the amount of £7,000 in her possession, and was told not to say anything but to let her counsel talk.

Mr. Howe, her counsel, then made a strong appeal in her behalf. He wanted to know what could be more arbitrary and outrageous than the arrest of an American citizen on a cablegram stating that on "information and belief" the prisoner was guilty. He asked for the discharge of his client.

Mr. Fox, of Marbury & Fox, who represented the British counsel, asked that the prisoner be held for two weeks, or until the proper extradition papers and warrants arrived. The Commissioner supported Mr. Fox, and regretted the fact that he could not let the prisoner out on bail, neither would Mr. Fox allow her to depart in the custody of Mr. Howe.

Prize Fighter Larue Acquitted.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 14.—Frank Larue, who has been on trial charged with the murder of Harry McBride, who died in a prize fight at the Golden Gate Club, was acquitted.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The first heavy frost of the season is reported from Bellows Falls, Vt.

J. E. Thorold Rogers, M. A., Professor of Political Economy at Oxford University, England, is dead.

Orders have just been issued at Berlin for increased severity in the inspection of meat arriving from the United States.

James M. Head, engineer of a West Jersey Railroad train, is on trial at Bridgeton, N. J., for manslaughter in causing the death of Allen Limekin at Vineland.

The Slate and Metal Roofers' Union of Boston, Mass., have decided to demand an advance from $3 to $3.25 per day and eight hours Saturday on and after October 22.

The handsome cottage occupied by Mr. George I. Seney, the New York banker, at Bernardsville, N. J., was burned to the ground. The loss will reach $40,000. The fire was caused by a defective flue.

District Attorney Col. John R. Fellows of New York city was nominated for Congress by Tammany Hall for the 6th district, to succeed "Iceman" Turner This completes the list of nominees in that city.

Mr. Gladstone, it is reported, has sent a special message to the Americans through Dr. Parker, who recently interviewed the Grand Old Man at Hawarden. The nature of the communication is not known.

Application has been made to Governor Davis of Rhode Island for the necessary papers to secure the arrest of Charles F. Bates, the son of a Newport cottager who is believed to be in Albany, N. Y., and who is wanted on a charge of having a horse covered with alcohol and set on fire to cure it of balkiness.

Thomas P. Murphy, of North Conway, N. H., who thirty-two years ago was organist in the house of the Earl of Gainsborough, and who clandestinely married and came to this country with Lady Blanche, the Earl's eldest daughter, died yesterday in the county hospital. Lady Blanche died eight years ago. Her remains were taken to England.

BY THE WAY.

—The non-secret endowment order will meet to-morrow evening at the K. of P. rooms, Hand's building. The public are invited.

—There is a "big drive" in tooth brushes at the Moy pharmacy, corner of Park avenue and Fourth street, and a special sale of Vennard's perfumes.

—John M. C. Marsh, John J. Willis, William Edgar and Addison Clark, were the delegates from Westfield to the Democratic Convention at Elizabeth, yesterday.

—Geo. L. VanEmburg, of the Committee on Boys' Work of the Young Men's Christian Association, will conduct the meeting of the Young Men's Auxiliary this evening.

—The Rev. Wm. R. Richards will talk to young men at the Young Men's Christian Association rooms Thursday evening on "The Experiences of College Life." Admission will be free.

—The bids for the removal of the Crescent League's old club house, ranged in one case as high as $300. But W. Scott Terry offered to tear down the walls, remove the debris, and clear everything up for nothing. He has fourteen days to do it in.

—Bonnets such as Plainfield has never seen before, will be shown at the opening of Mme. Getti's millinery department, at 65 Park avenue. There is now no longer need of the bother and expense of a trip to New York. Mme. Getti is a direct importer of all the latest styles of French chapeaux.

—Thirty-six men and youths were present at the Young Men's Christian Association Friday evening at the organization of this season's class in short-hand. New members will be admitted if they apply before the next session. The class of last Spring will meet regularly for practice and instruction in type writing.

—The Young Men's Christian Association Membership Fee, $2, entitles to the following privileges of the Association: instruction in mechanical drawing; shorthand; type writing; bookkeeping; penmanship; members' receptions and use of circulating library. The first quarterly members' reception will be after the pattern of a genuine camp-fire and will be held in the Association Hall, Thursday evening, Oct. 23.

—J. Edwin Hall, manager of Hand's Amphion Hall, is booking some good companies. The regular season will open Oct. 27, with a first-class attraction. The Hall can be engaged for balls, concerts, festivals, public entertainments, etc., well lighted and heated. Mr. Hall has had fifteen years experience both as actor and manager. He will coach home talent free of charge, when the entertainment is given in the Hall.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Dr. W. C. Boone, of this city, was nominated for coroner at the Union County Democratic Convention at Elizabeth, yesterday.

The Democrats in convention at Somerville, yesterday, elected Wm. N. Pangborn and Abram King, of North Plainfield, members of the Somerset County Executive Committee.

The Westfield correspondent of the Elizabeth Journal says "Welcome, Judge!" and states that Judge John Ulrich, of Plainfield, has leased a house on Clark avenue, and will take possession of it the last of this week.

Miss Mary Howe, the $900-soprano, who will sing in this city in January at the first concert of the Melopoia, had a narrow escape from death, Saturday, while carriage riding in Worcester. Miss Howe, who was one of the soloists of the Worcester Festival, will make New York her future home.

Geo. Hosmer, the champion oarsman of New England, who is the feature of the "Dark Secret" Company, was a guest of his old friend, J. B. Miller, during his stay here last week. Mr. Hosmer has issued a challenge to row any oarsman in the World, weighing 145 pounds, for any part of $2,500.

A friend of the contracting parties remarks an interesting coincidence in connection with the wedding of Dr. Charles B. Thiers of Plainfield to Miss Florence Pelletreau of Brooklyn, in the fact that the bride's father is named Charles, her brother has the same name, and each of the three sisters of the household has married a Charles.

The New Brunswick Home News, delving into local ancient history, has unearthed some interesting stories connected with old New Brunswick houses, and in speaking of a remodeled building which now serves as a flourishing dry goods store says that in the old Dutch residence days it was the aristocratic home of the Ackerman family, of which Warren Ackerman, the Scotch Plains lime king, "who has acquired great wealth, and who is noted for his charitable contributions," is a descendent.

Hires' Root Beer is here again, and we think it time to call the attention of our readers to that well-known brand. It is made from the genuine roots, barks and berries. Not like a great many others that are doctored imitations of it. One 25 cent package makes five gallons. No trouble to make. Directions simple, and, if followed, the most sparkling, cooling and refreshing drink in the World yet produced. It is time to lay in a stock, and we recommend an order from your wholesale house at once.

ALVAH CLARK'S PREDICAMENT.

His Republican Partner, Charles A. Reed, Nominated for State Senator.

[SPECIAL TO THE PRESS.]

SOMERVILLE, Oct. 14.—The Republican County Convention met in Armory Hall at 11 A. M., and was called to order by G. S. Cook, chairman of the last convention, and Alex. G. Anderson, of Bridgewater township was elected temporary chairman, and H. N. Spencer, of North Plainfield township temporary secretary. The different committees were named by the chairman, and the Convention took a recess until 2 o'clock.

The Democratic gathering of yesterday was three times as large and about ten thousand times more excitable. Chas. A. Reed's chances for the nomination of Senator are very bright. The Democrats of Somerville claim a walk over no matter who is nominated, and they have every reason to, with the strong ticket nominated by them yesterday.

LATER.

SOMERVILLE, Oct. 14.—Chas. A. Reed, of North Plainfield, was nominated on the first ballot as the candidate of the Republican party of Somerset, for State Senator. John G. Schomp, of Montgomery township, who was defeated for Sheriff in 1887, was nominated for the Assembly, and Peter I. VanNuis, of Hillsborough, for County Clerk.

Kyte's Antagonist.

[SPECIAL TO THE PRESS.]

RAHWAY, Oct., 14—At the Democratic Convention for the Third Assembly District of Union County, held here today, A. B. Cook, of Rahway, was nominated by acclamation for Assembly.

Somerset County Nominations.

Mathew Vanderveer, of Somerville, for County Clerk, and Jas. J. Bergen, of Bridgewater, for Assembly, were the Somerset county nominations made too late yesterday for publication in THE PRESS of last evening.

A Success at the Start.

Last evening Central Hall presented an attractive sight. 108 boys were seated around the different tables, playing games and reading books, and the low hum of voices, and the bright faces, made it evident that they enjoyed their surroundings. The club is now in the hands of John C. Collins, the originator and organizer of Boys' Clubs in the United States and Canada. His name has appeared so often in the papers, of late, that all now know who he is. He was present last night, with the Superintendent, W. H. Miner, who he has brought from New Haven. Mr. Miner will live in Plainfield and will identify himself with the interests of our city. The Executive Board have agreed to accept Mr. Collins's plan of work for boys, and the club room will be open every week night, free, from 7 to 9 o'clock. The many friends of our club who have expressed themselves as willing to assist the Superintendent, by playing games with the boys, reading, singing, etc., are needed now. The Committee would like a staff of workers who will take an evening each week, so that there may be a regular system of assistance. Two things are needed at once for the Club—a piano and a stove. If there is anyone who would loan or pay the rent of a piano, the Committee would feel pleased and relieved. If a stove could be sent us, either as a gift or at a reduction in price, our hall would be all ready for Winter use. We urge all our citizens to come and see us at work.

Henry Hess in Hard Luck.

As told exclusively in THE PRESS of last Tuesday, Henry Hess, of North Plainfield, was acquitted before the Somerset county court of the charge made by his wife that he tried to poison her daughter. This would go to prove Hess' charge that his wife was trying to ruin him because she couldn't get her name substituted for his in the will of the late Mme. Bernard, the Harmony street astrologeress.

The charge against Hess was so serious and came from such a source, that Justice Hardy held him and the court tried him. All of which cost him money and loss of employment. Now that he is acquitted, Mrs. Hess has come back with her three children which, with Hess' two, make a large family for a man out of work to support. The German edition of the New York Morning Journal, September 25, published a mess of lies about Hess which he thinks has heaped more disgrace upon him. Altogether he is a man in hard luck.

Mr. Titsworth's Life Saved.

Conductor Bowlby, of the drill crew of Engine 30, saved the life of Edward B. Titsworth, this morning. As the 7:58 train for New York was running past the station to back up for the coaches on the siding, Mr. Titsworth, who is an aged man, stepped from behind some coal cars right in front of the rushing locomotive. Bowlby seized him just in time to drag him from the jaws of death. Those who saw it lost their breath.

Patrick Boyle's Hand Mashed.

There were three accidents at the Potter Press Works, yesterday, but only one was serious. Patrick Boyle was so unfortunate as to have a rack hanger fall on his left hand and mash it. It was dressed at Muhlenberg Hospital.

An accident seldom happens at Potter's, and when it does the benefit association formed among the employes, contributes to the victim's support while he is laid off.

STILL PLAYING THAT GAME.

The "Sporting Life," of Philadelphia, Publishes the Following Account of a Recent Event in Plainfield.

The fierce base ball rivalry between the two New Jersey towns, Plainfield and Somerville, so fully described in our last issue, ended on Saturday last in a row during the final game of the series at Plainfield. In this game the West Ends, of Somerville, had among their players Kennedy, of the New York State League, and Gore and Hatfield, of the New Yorks, while the Crescents, of Plainfield, put Doran, the New Havens' lefthanded pitcher, who has been engaged for the Brooklyns for next season, in the box; Hofford, of the New Havens, behind the the bat, and Lally, of the New Havens, on first base.

The crowd ridiculed Umpire Golden and nettled him so that he rendered several bad decisions, at which they derided him still more. His last decision, however, in the ninth inning, nearly cost him a broken head, if not his life. The West Ends had been held down to one run, and when it came Somerville's turn to finish the ninth the Crescents were five runs ahead and confident of winning. Doran, however, had been warned that if he won the game for the Crescents he would suffer for it, and when he faced the West End batsmen for the last time he went all to pieces, and the West Ends made five runs and tied the score. Bergen, of the West Ends, tried to make the winning run, but was declared out at the home plate.

Two thirds of the 2,000 spectators instantly surged through the ropes and crowded the grounds. Several rowdies drew short clubs and sought to use them on Umpire Golden's head. Members of the Plainfield Crescent League, New York business men with their friends, however, thronged to Golden's assistance and shouted that they would protect the umpire at all hazards, and would send every unruly person to jail. One man drew a revolver and tried to aim it at Golden, but the weapon was wrested from his grasp and a fight for its possession resulted. The police shook their clubs in the faces of the mob and ordered the row to cease, but for a time the bluecoats were hustled about as freely as ordinary citizens. Women rushed from the grand stand and pleaded with their husbands not to fight, and their presence had a somewhat quieting effect.

Fresh rows, however, arose over the disposition of private bets, and the police had hard work quelling the incipient riot that was breeding. It was rapidly growing dark and at length the grounds were cleared. An unruly crowd outside the gates hunted high and low for the umpire but he had disappeared after calling the game a tie because the crowd would not clear the grounds and let the playing proceed. Excitement is still at fever heat. The Somerville people hired a band to parade the streets, but were threatened and assailed with stones by some of the rowdy element. The public places last night were filled with crowds disputing over the affair. Several of the Somerville contingent are under arrest in the city jail.

Plainfield's First Delinquent Tax Prisoner.

Those who are of the opinion that the law for imprisoning citizens who refuse to pay their taxes is not in operation may learn a lesson from the case of Edward Birmingham, of Sixth street, who has just been experiencing the hardships resulting from obstinacy. Birmingham owed the City of Plainfield for several years' poll tax and interest, and after repeatedly declining to settle with Delinquent Collector Nash he was warned that he must pay or go to jail. This seemed to be received by him as an idle threat, and as a result he was arrested at his place of employment, the Potter Press Works, and taken to Elizabeth. Justice Nash, Judge Codington and Constable Moffett all offered him every advantage, but he refused, even with the doors of his cell in the County Jail in sight, to accept any terms whatever, declining both the offer of a loan and the opportunity to pay the debt by weekly installments of fifty cents. After spending two or three days in confinement, however, he recognized the fact that the law providing for the imprisonment of delinquent taxpayers was a sober reality, and upon reflection he decided to pay what was owing. On receipt of the proper amount, the authorities released the prisoner.

One of the "Plainfielders" Administers the "Editor" a Stinging Rebuke.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—In another Plainfield paper of Sept. 30, appeared an article on a girls' society which, it says, has been formed in Bethlehem, Pa., to reject all attentions from the students of Lehigh University. The "Editor" says that it is a good idea, and that the flirting students try to monopolize the good graces of the girls and cut out the unfortunate "townie." That "Editor" probably had been reading an Easton paper and gathered together some rumors concerning the Anti-Students' Club; he must then express his opinion without knowing the facts. The Society consists of about ten ladies of marriagable age, who have gone from house to house trying to get younger persons to join them, but in the few weeks existence of this club, its rank s have not increased. If the girls want to flirt, they will, and if they do not want to they will not, but they do not believe in joining a club which would deprive them of a great deal of pleasure.

The "townie"(like that smart "Editor") of Bethlehem, is not much of a society man. They are for the most part, hard working men, and as to flirting, are worse than the students. On account of its factories and iron works, Bethlehem is not one of the most moral towns, but the students do not go about the streets flirting, as the paper with a vulgar mind would lead one to believe; and of those who do, very few are left after their first year.

The life of Lehigh students is not the ideal college life of Yale, Harvard, and the English universities; if they want to stay, they must work to do it. Only a few hours of the week can be spent in recreation. In Bethlehem, the students play a prominent part in society and are often admitted to the most exclusive homes. Society would be a minus quantity without them, and instead of forming a club to get rid of them, the girls invite them to their homes and thus many a Lehigh student is saved from the numerous beer gardens, which are in every German town, where they would certainly go if they had no place better where they could spend an evening, and where many do go and suffer for it afterwards.

As a finishing touch for the article, the "Editor" says that there are a number of Plainfielders at Lehigh. If that was of so great importance that the public must know it, he might have put it somewhere except in a paragraph where he underrates the students in general. He, probably, will not take the same meaning from the passage as the people who "support" his paper will. Hoping this might change the opinion of the public somewhat as regards the flirting students of Lehigh,

I remain yours truly,
ONE OF THE "PLAINFIELDERS."

What Possible President Depew Thinks of Grover Cleveland.

At a recent dinner given in New York City to Gen. Roger A. Pryor in honor o his appointment to the judicial bench, Mr. Chauncey M. Depew paid the following tribute to Grover Cleveland:

"If I were asked to name the most forceful character in American life, the man who best represents the energy, the unswerving determination and the courage of the true American, the man who knows duty, and it alone, when public service commands it, the man who wars in war and is for peace in peace, I would name Gen. W. T. Sherman; but if I am to name the typical American, the man who loves and believes in his country beyond anything else, the man who, determining once in what direction his duty leads, cannot be swerved from the path—the man who is doggedly persistent in what he believes to be right—the man who thinks not of self, but of his country and its needs, I would name Grover Cleveland. What he has accomplished is the very highest tribute to the possibilities of American citizenship. A country lawyer in the city of Buffalo, he shed lustre upon the high profession which he had chosen. As the mayor of his native city he presented as his record a clean and economical administration. Coming into the highest position in the land without previous experience and with scarcely a precedent to guide him in the conditions which surround him, he won the affection of his party and commanded the respect and admiration of his opponents. I find myself in one of the proudest positions of my life in being permitted to present to you Grover Cleveland as the typical American."

The great force of this eulogy lies in the fact that it was uttered by one of the leading Republicans of the nation who knew that his words would be reported and might be used to the advantage of a political opponent.

No Pastors Meet in Plainfield.

The Classis of Newark of the Reformed church is holding its Fall session at the Trinity Reformed church in this city today. The attendance is large for such a stormy day. The Rev. Dr. Bishop, of Orange, was chosen Moderator, and opened the session with prayer. The Rev. H. Vehslage was elected Secretary. Routine business is the order of the day.

The Value of Pure Wine in Sickness.

The chief difficulty with reliable wines has been their scarcity and richness in body, but this has been removed by the introduction of a pure native wine, produced by Mr. A. Speer of New Jersey. He has submitted his wine to the test of many celebrated physicians and chemists, and all concur in its purity, rich medical properties and superiority to all Port Wines. Most of them prescribe it in cases of debility, affections of the kidneys and chronic complaints, requiring a tonic, sudorific or diuretic treatment.—Examiner.

Notes of New York Theatres.

The theatre party of Plainfield people who failed to get seats for the Lyceum Theatre, Saturday afternoon, may console themselves with the fact that "The Master of Woodbarrow" will remain for several weeks to come, and an application to Mr. Bunce, the treasurer, a few days in advance, will always meet with a prompt and satisfactory response. Extra matinees are now given on Wednesday afternoons, yet the audiences that flock to hear Mr. Sothern and his company, are larger than ever.

Those spending a day in New York shopping or sight seeing, should all spare an hour or two for the American Institute fair, which is this year as good as ever. All departments are now in running order throughout. The special exhibition of fruit, to begin to-morrow, will be an agreeable feature, and the entries reported to the secretary are satisfactory, especially from New York and New Jersey fruit growers.

Agnes Huntington, in "Paul Jones," at the Broadway Theatre, has won the good will of the theatregoers. There can be no question as to her success. The theatre is crowded at each performance, and the opera now goes with a swing that is very near perfection. The engagement, which is for but five weeks, is sure to be one of the most profitable the Broadway Theatre has yet known.

One of the lions in "Nero," which is to be the Winter attraction at Niblo's in New York, rides a bicycle, and another settles all disputes between the management and the members of the company.

A ballet of 69 led by the famous DeGellert, a cast proper of 50, a singing chorus of 100, a mob of 300, a Roman pageant of 400, displaying all the ancient handicrafts, preceded by a band of Roman instrumentalists and followed by a procession of caged wild beasts, will give an idea of the magnitude of the new spectacular drama, "Nero," which Messrs Locke and Davis are projecting and will produce at Niblo's on the 20th of this month. The Steamship France which sailed for this port on the 29th ult., has on board six lions which are to be introduced cageless in the arena scene.

"Blue Jeans," a new sensational comedy by Joseph Arthur, was given its initial presentation at the Fourteenth Street Theatre on Monday evening of last week.

"Kate" is the name of the new play of Annie Pixley's which is said to rival "M'liss" in attractiveness.

There are over three thousand engaged actors in New York at the present time. Why?

New York has twenty-eight theatres, the gross seating capacity of which is over 50,000 people. There are hundreds of concert, music and lecture halls all over the city, two-thirds of which are used every night. It is safe to estimate the total capacity of the various placesof amusement in the metropolis at 150,000. Over $75,000 are spent every night in the big city for theatrical and musical entertainment. The new Madison Square Garden is the largest place of amusement; next comes the Academy, where the "Old Homestead" is a permanent attraction; then the Metropolitan Opera House, and Niblo's, where the great spectacular production of "Nero" is to occur next Monday evening.

Subsidized newspaper men and the "400" may rave over Carmencita and Otero, but little Glover at the Bijou dances them way out of sight. The play, too, is funnier than anything in New York today as it was last year as well. See the "City Directory" and you'll weigh a dozen pounds more and live a dozen years longer.

Firemen to Parade To-Morrow.

The members of Plainfield Engine Company, No. 2, with the Board of Engineers and the Fire Committee of the Common Council, will meet in full uniform, at No. 2's engine house to-morrow morning, and, if the weather is favorable, will make a short parade through the streets to the Park House before boarding the stages for South Amboy. At that place they will be the guests of Lincoln Hose Company, and will participate in the parade of the Amboy Firemen. They will be regaled at a clam-bake during the day. Their engine, in a state of high polish, and bright decoration, will be drawn to Amboy by four horses.

Plainfield Wheelmen to Join in the Frolic.

A delegation from the Plainfield Bicycle Club will visit the county seat Friday evening as the guests of the Elizabeth Wheelmen, and will participate in the bicycle lantern parade of that organization. The Wheelmen have issued invitations to thirty-three clubs, and as they are famous entertainers they will doubtless have a large response. At the close of the parade a reception will be given in the handsome new club house.

Spare our loved ones. Near the pleading
That goes up from aching hearts.
But grim death, our pleas unheeding,
Pierces with his fatal darts
Those who with us fain would tarry,
Those we long so much to keep,
And ere long their forms we carry
To the grave so dark and deep.

Pleading with death avails nothing. We must do something to ward off the dart he aims at those we love. We must protect them from him. When the hacking cough, the hectic flush, or a pain in the side or chest gives indication of a consumptive tendency, act promptly. Go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This remedy allays the inflammation of the delicate lung-tissues. It heals the irritated parts. It strengthens the blood, and tones up the debilitated system, and in this way death can be forced to relinquish his hold upon our friends. It is guaranteed to cure, if taken in time and given a fair trial, or money paid for it will be refunded.

Three of Plainfield's Fastest Horses Try Their Speed.

The best and fastest races of the season took place at the Gentlemen's Driving Park, Saturday. The events were as follows:

The first race was between the Woodbrook Farm "Colonel" and Mr. Fosher's "Amboy." "Amboy" won the first heat and "Colonel" the second. Time—2.48½ and 2.48¼. The final heat was postponed till next Saturday.

The second race was between the Woodbrook Farm "Peter" and M. Quinn's "Kitty Pilot." "Kitty Pilot" won the first heat and "Peter" the second. Time—2.55½ and 2.57½. The final heat was postponed.

The third race was between John Hayes' "Andy" and Peter Osborn's "Blanche Warwick." "Andy" won both heats, in 2.44 and 2.44½.

The fourth race was between Compton C. Vail's "Frank S.," Mr. Fosher's "Frank F.," and O. T. Waring's "Copeland," three of the fastest horses in Plainfield. "Frank S.," won each of two heats in 2.32½ with "Frank F" second and "Copeland" last. If "Copeland" had been in good condition the result would have been different.

The fifth race was between M. Quinn's "Shamrock," driven by Rob't Fairbain, J., and C. Brower's "Aala." "Shamrock" won in 2.47½.

The First of a Series of Talks.

The Rev. William R. Richards will entertain the young men of the city at the Y. M. C. A. rooms, Thursday evening of this week. The relation of incidents and experiences pertaining to College Life will no doubt be fully appreciated by young men. This will be the first of a series of Popular Talks to be given under the auspices of the Association during the season. Admission will be free.

High School Boys Score a Victory.

The High school base-ball team defeated the "White Caps" Friday in a well-played game by the score of 7 to 2. The "White Caps" are a regular organized team, while the High school team have not played in over two years. Only a few of the old team are now playing; including Sutphen, Spicer, Laing and Lowrie. The following was the batting order: High school—Spicer, ss. s.; Sutphen, 2b.; Carver, c.; Laing, 3b.; A. Freeman, 1b.; Morgan, c.f.; Angleman, l.f.; Lowrie, p.; Serrell, r.f. "White Caps"—Vail, 2b.; A. Egan, c.; Pierson, 1b.; Richards, s.s.; Smith, p; T. Freeman, 2b.; Davis, l.f.; Swalm, c.f.; Campbell, r.f.

SIMPLE SENSIBLE REMEDIES.

THE pure juice of the pineapple is said to be a cure for diphtheria.

DRIED mullen leaves smoked in a clay pipe that has not been used for tobacco are excellent for a cough, as is also sage used in the same way, but mullen is good for all troubles of throat and lungs.

A GOOD gargle for sore throat is the following: One wineglassful vinegar, two tablespoonfuls honey, half tumblerful water. Pour the water on to the honey and stir it up; add the vinegar and use cold.

GOOSE oil rubbed on the throat and chest is an old-time remedy for croup, but after its use the child must be well covered away from draughts, as it is very opening to the pores and the least cold often proves fatal.

A SIMPLE corn plaster which usually gives much relief is obtained by boiling a potato in its skin, then taking a piece of this skin and laying it over the corn, the inner side against it. It should be kept on for twelve hours. This usually eases the pain even of an obstinate corn.

AN excellent remedy for whooping-cough is to pour boiling water on flax seed, steep it some time, strain, and to every pint of tea add enough granulated sugar or honey to make a thick sirup; after boiling them together a few minutes put in the juice of two lemons. It is said a few spoonfuls taken often will soon relieve the cough.

TO GARGLE a sore throat, take of paregoric one teaspoonful, of glycerine two teaspoonfuls, of lime water one tablespoonful. To relieve "tickling" in the throat take the same prescription, without the lime water, but merely sip the mixture, so as to make it hold out a long time. A gargle of hot boiled milk is also good. So is one of clear, hot tea, without either milk or sugar.

A FLANNEL bag filled with hops and saturated with hot vinegar laid over the bowels if one is suffering from dysentery, or over the chest if one has pneumonia, relieves pain. Fill the bag with hops, lay it on a plate with vinegar in it and set it on the stove, cover with another plate. When hot the hops will absorb the vinegar and the bag is ready for use.

RURAL JOTTINGS.

LIME is too caustic to be given alone. Mix it with soft feed and supply in this manner.

GOOD stock, good quarters and good care are the three essentials of profitable poultry keeping.

THE secrets of large yields always and everywhere are rich soil, good seed and thorough tillage.

THE herd, however excellent, should never be quite as good as you would like to have it. Set your mark high and keep raising it.

All who are weak, nervous, tired, languid, exhausted in nerve power and physical strength; who pass restless and sleepless nights, waking tired and unrefreshed mornings; who are despondent and depressed in mind; who have weary limbs and trembling nerves; who suffer from headache, neuralgia, pains and aches; who have palpitation or heart trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, loss of appetite, constipation, kidney or liver complaints, nervous debility, nervous and physical prostration, paralysis, numbness, or any form of nervous disease, should use

Dr. Greene's Nervura, Brain and Nerve Tonic.

"I was miserable, had no ambition, no strength in my limbs, and was tired all the while. When I walked a few rods I felt as if I would drop down on the ground. I used Dr. Greene's Nervura, and it has done me more good than anything I have ever taken. I look and feel like another person since I began to take it, and I recommend it to all that are ailing."
Mrs. FRANCES M. BODLE, Chester, N.Y.

Dr. Greene's Nervura is the great nerve, brain and blood invigorant. It nerves the weary arm, strengthens the tired limbs, cures the aching head, removes nervousness and nervous weakness, banishes all tired feelings, soothes, calms and quiets the excitable and irritable nerves, produces natural and refreshing sleep, raises the gloom, depression and despondency from the mind, enriches the blood, cures neuralgia, nervous debility, loss of memory, paralysis, numbness, trembling, hot flushes, female weakness and all nervous affections. By all means use

Dr. Greene's Nervura, Health and Strength.

"I have taken Dr. Greene's Nervura, and it has done me more good than all the medicines I ever took. I never thought I would ever be as well as this medicine has made me feel. My husband is so happy to see me better that he tells every one about this wonderful medicine, and I thank God every day and night that he sent me this medicine."

Plainfield's Increased Telegraph Facilities.

The New Jersey Postal Telegraph Company in connection with organized recently under the laws of this State, with the view of establishing a general system of telegraph to all large cities and towns, has opened its doors to the public at 4 Park avenue, this city. The Company operates in close relation with the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company, and the Commercial Cable Company (Mackay-Bennett) to all parts of the World.

Everett Frazer, of Orange, is the President, and Joseph A. McClary, of Rahway, associated with the Postal Company in New York, is the General Manager; Benjamin O. Bowers, of this city, is one of the Directors, and chairman of the Executive Committee. William Thompson is also associated with the new Company. New lines are now being extended to Montclair, Orange, Paterson, Plainfield, New Brunswick, Elizabeth, Rahway, Bound Brook, Somerville, and many other towns as rapidly as possible—eventually to reach Long Branch and seashore points. The system of the Postal Company embraces 94,000 miles of land lines, and 12,000 offices. The Commercial Cables (the most substantial ever constructed) embrace 8,000 miles of Ocean Cables; and this is truly said to be the greatest and largest competitive system ever organized. The messengers will be suitably and handsomely uniformed, and will be provided with bicycles for the speedy delivery of messages. The office is to be kept open day and night. The combined service will consist of "Telegraph," "Cable," "Press Reports," "Messenger Service," and an electrical department for the supply, construction and maintainance of "Private lines," "Batteries, "Electric Bells," "Annunciators," "Burglar Alarms," "Electric Lighting," interior and exterior wiring of all kinds.

The new Company's wire facilities are the best, and the people of Plainfield should give it their warmest support. Telephon ca l 156.

FOR GIRLS AND BOYS.

TO A SAD LITTLE GIRL.

You say you are ugly, and you are afraid
That nobody loves you, sad little maid;
For people whisper, with lip a-curl,
As you pass by: "What an ugly girl!"
Ah, well, my dear, if you mope and fret,
Your ugly face will be uglier yet.
Let me tell you the secret without delay
Of growing beautiful day by day.
'Tis a secret old as the world is old,
But worth in itself a mine of gold:
Beauty of soul is beauty of face,
For inward sweetness makes outward grace.

There is the secret, simple and true;
Now prove what its wisdom can do for you.
Fill up your heart with thoughts most sweet,
Bidding all others at once retreat,
And these sweet thoughts will grow like seeds,
And bloom into beautiful words and deeds,
And soon, very soon, they will leave their trace
Of loveliness on your ugly face;
The line will be softer on cheek and brow,
Bright smiles will shine where tears are now;
Your eyes will sparkle, and some blest power
Will make you lovelier every hour.
Just try it, my dear; begin to-day
To do kind things in the kindest way—
To kindly think and to kindly speak,
To be sweet-tempered, gentle and meek,
Then never again shall you need be afraid
That nobody loves you, sad little maid.
Opinions will change, with a pleasant whirl,
And all will think: "What a charming girl!"
—Emma C. Dowd, in Harper's Young People.

WHAT WAGGLE DID.

A Naughty Little Dog Spoils a Promised Feast.

"Mamma, may I go over to gran'ma's?"

"Yes, dear."

It would be hard to tell how many times a day Patty asked this and her mamma answered it. If any little girl who reads about her lives right across the street from her grandma's, perhaps she can give a guess about it.

Patty had only lately come to live so near, and you may be sure she thought it very delightful.

"What kind of a day is this?" asked Patty one morning when she awakened.

"A very nice day, I think," said her mamma.

"I mean, do you think it's bake-day? I mean gran'ma's bake-day?"

"Yes," said mamma. "This is Saturday, and grandma always bakes on Saturday."

"May I go over?"

"Yes."

The other little girl who lives near grandma can tell you exactly why Patty wanted to go. She knows all about the doughnuts and ginger-snaps and custards and pies. Grandma and Hilda, the Swede girl who could not speak a word of English, were making pies when Patty toddled into the kitchen.

"O gran'ma!" she said. "What a beautiful pie! I never saw a plaid pie before."

"Didn't you?" said gran'ma. "Bring a patty-pan here, Hilda."

Hilda knew what the patty-pans were, for at least one of them was always used on gran'ma's bake-day. Patty thought they were named so because the little pie or ginger-bread or custard was always for her. But other little girls know well enough that patty-pans are for little Kittys or Pollys or Prues or a hundred others, especially the ones who live near gran'ma.

Hilda smiled as gran'ma made the patty-pan plaid pie. The big one was filled with apple-butter and had strips of crust criss-crossed all over it. The patty-pan pie was such a very little one that there could be only two pieces crossed on it.

"That's a little bit of plaid," said Patty, laughing till the dimples were all over her face.

"Yes, only a sample," said grandma, "but it will taste good."

"Yes," said Patty. "One streak for mamma, one streak for auntie, one streak for Elsie and one for me."

"Dear me," said grandma, "how came I to forget that you always divide every thing you have? Eat the patty-pie yourself, little one, and we'll make a saucer-pie for you to take home."

The patty-pan pie was almost cooked by the time the plaid was put on the saucer-pie. Patty waited for it to cool a little and then ate it, thinking it was as good as it looked, and that there was nothing in the world which quite came up to a plaid pie.

When the saucer-pie was done, she could hardly wait for it to cool she was in such a hurry to take it home. Hilda set it in the kitchen window, but Patty, after watching it for a little while, and finding that it cooled very slowly, took hold of it with a towel and carried it out on the back porch.

Then she went out to see the little ducks and chickens. When she came back she saw gran'ma's little dog, Waggie, standing close to the plaid saucer-pie.

Was he smelling it? Patty gave a little cry and ran towards him.

"O Wag, you naughty doggie!"

Waggie was a very pretty white dog with a little pink nose, and Patty was usually quite willing that he should help himself to a share of what she had. But as is often the way with dogs he had chosen the part he liked best. He had left the apple-butter and very carefully picked out the strips of crust.

With a woe-begone face Patty took the pie back to the kitchen. Gran'ma had gone up stairs, and only Hilda was there.

"He's eaten up all the plaid," said Patty.

Hilda did not understand. She thought Patty had eaten the crust and was sorry.

"Yah, yah," said Hilda, smiling a great deal and nodding her head very hard.

She smoothed the apple-butter with a spoon, took a little pie-crust which had been left, cut it into streaks and in a few moments the plaid was all on again. Into the oven it went, and came out as beautiful as before.

Patty let it stay on the window-sill this time, and before long it was ready to take home to mamma and the others. How good it looked! Patty felt as if she could eat it all; but she never thought of such a thing as not dividing it.

"I've brought you a plaid pie. Gran'ma made it," she said to mamma and auntie and her sister Elsie. "And it's good."

"Yes, I know it's good if gran'ma made it," said Elsie. She went for some little plates and a knife, and mamma began cutting it in four pieces.

"If I hadn't hurried you wouldn't have had it," said Patty. "I caught Wag just in time. He ate all the plaid off."

"Off what?" asked mamma.

"Off the pie."

"This pie?" asked auntie.

"Yes, and Hilda put some more streaks on. Hilda's a good girl."

"Patty," said mamma, "run back to gran'ma's and ask her to lend me three eggs."

Patty had to look for the eggs in the barn, and it took her some time. When she came back there was no pie to be seen.

"Is it all gone?" she asked, in a little dismay.

"All gone, dear," said mamma, "but here are some peaches for you. You like them just as well, don't you?"

"Yes." But she could not help wondering why they did not leave any pie for her.

And to this day the darling little Patty does not know that the pie was thrown away because Waggie had tried it, and mamma did not like to make her feel badly by letting her know.—Youth's Companion.

KEPT HIS PROMISE.

Obeyed His Mother by the Aid of Two Big Birds.

"Johnny, it is time to go for the cows," called mamma from the kitchen window. Johnny was busy mending the wheel of his wagon, and did not look up.

"Johnny!" called mamma a second time. "It is getting late, and it will be dark before you get home."

"Yes," answered Johnny, as he reluctantly laid down the hammer and started for the house.

"Now, Johnny, I do not want you to cross the creek. If the cows are in the woods pasture, you must go around the road. Do you hear?"

"Yes," answered Johnny, thinking all the time of the wagon he had left behind.

It was, indeed, getting late, and he ran quickly down the long lane, at the end of which was a pair of bars, very heavy bars, that did not move easily. Behind these the cows should have been standing. On this particular evening, however, either from forgetfulness, obstinacy, or some other reason best known to themselves, the cows were not there. Now, Johnny was not a very brave boy, and hunting cows in the deep woods, under dismal hemlocks and along dark ravines was not a very inviting prospect. Then, too, the thought that a wildcat had been killed within a mile from there kept itself uppermost in his mind, and he imagined he could see the eyes of its mate glaring upon him from behind every stump and tree.

It was growing darker, and no cows were to be seen. He pressed on up a dark ravine, where he knew they often went. "Co boss, co boss!" he called, again and again.

Presently the stillness was broken by a strange noise. It sounded awful. Johnny felt something go thump, thump, against his breast, but it soon stopped and he went on. Again the dismal sound, and again the thump, thump.

"I can't go any farther on that road," he said; "besides, I just expect the cows are in the woods pasture. There's the log now. I'll just run across and see. O, I promised not to cross the log. Surely, mamma wouldn't expect me to go right among wild animals and all kinds of dreadful things. I'd better drown."

He had reached the water's edge, and was just ready to step upon the log, but a little voice kept saying: "You promised not to cross the creek, you promised not to cross the creek."

"Well, I won't," he said, resolutely stepping back into the road.

Again the dismal noise, and again the thump, thump. He stood still and looked and listened. Right there above his head sat two old owls. Close side by side they sat, as harmless as kittens, with their great eyes looking right at him. He was greatly relieved at this discovery, and with a light heart stepped briskly along. Lying in repose a few yards beyond were the cows.

So it turned out that the big-eyed, long-eared birds had heard his call, and actually helped him in his search.

Johnny is now an old man, and he says he has noticed all through his life that if you will bravely face all dangers and troubles, they will generally turn out to be big owls.—Golden Rule.

Being Courteous.

I treat him as well as he treats me," said Hal.

His mother had just reproached him because he did not attempt to amuse or entertain a boy friend who had gone home.

"I often go in there, and he doesn't notice me," said Hal again.

"Do you enjoy that?"

"Oh, I don't mind! I don't stay long."

"I should call myself a very selfish person if friends came to see me and I should pay no attention to them."

"Well, that's different; you're grown up."

"Then, you really think politeness and courtesy are not needed among boys?"

Hal, thus pressed, said he didn't mean that; but his father, who had listened, now spoke:

"A boy or a man who measures his treatment of others by their treatment of him has no character of his own. He will never be kind, or generous, or Christian. If he is ever to be a gentleman he will be so in spite of the boorishness of others. If he is to be noble, no other boy's meanness will change his nature." And very earnestly the father added: "Remember this, my boy: you lower your own self every time you are guilty of an unworthy action because some one else is. Be true to your best self, and no boy can drag you down."—Phrenological Journal.

HOUSEHOLD BREVITIES.

—Soiled clothes should not be allowed to remain in the bedrooms. They taint the air and make it impure.

—Common washing soda and boiling water should be used to rinse all the waste-pipes at least once every week or ten days.

—Nothing is more beautiful than a well-kept lawn—not even a flower-bed or shade trees. First of all get the grass to grow in abundance, then thicken the growth with the lawn mower, then add other things if wanted.

—Tomato Omelet.—Three eggs, one cup flour (scant), one tablespoon fine herbs, salt and cayenne pepper, one tablespoon sugar, juice of two large tomatoes, and one cup warm milk. Bake under roasting meat, or alone in a buttered pan.—N. Y. Observer.

—Delicate Biscuit.—One quart of sweet milk, two teaspoonfuls of baking-powder, half a cupful of best butter, one teaspoonful of sugar, and flour to make a soft dough. Roll out half an inch thick, and cut out tiny biscuits with a small baking-powder can. Bake in a very hot oven.—Boston Budget.

—Stuffed Tomatoes.—Get them as large and firm as possible. Cut a round place in the top, scrape out all the soft part. Mix with bread crumbs, onions, parsley, butter, pepper and salt. Chop onions and parsley fine. Fill tomatoes with this mixture, put in well buttered tin and bake in moderately hot oven.—Housekeeper.

—Ice Cream Without Eggs.—Take equal parts of cream and milk and sweeten it very sweet. Flavor with any extract desired. Pour it in the freezer, with plenty of rock salt and ice around it, and let it stand fifteen minutes before stirring. After stirring it for fifteen minutes it will be a nice cream.—Banner and Herald.

—He (on the promenade)—"I am fearfully thirsty, but I know from experience that soda water does not quench thirst." "She—"No, it does not. We can get pure, cold spring water at a place around the corner." He—"You know the neighborhood, then?" She—"Yes. They always give a glass of water with every plate of ice-cream."—Good News.

—Rice Dumplings.—Moisten cold rice with a little milk, mash smooth and dredge flour over it, slightly. Pare and scoop out the core from tart apples, or quarter them. Wring out of boiling water the dumpling cloths, dredge with flour. Cover the apples with the rice, pressing firmly into shape. Wrap in the cloths and steam for one-half hour. Serve with cream or sauce.—Boston Globe.

—Crab-Apple Marmalade.—Wash Siberian crab-apples, put in water to cover and boil till tender; press through a colander; add three-quarters of a pound of sugar to a pound of the sifted crab-apples; boil carefully. Marmalades and jams require almost constant stirring as the least bit of burning spoils the flavor. Take some out in a saucer and let it cool. If no moisture gathers about it and it glistens, it is sufficiently cooked. Put up in cups or small jars; When cold and ready to put away, cover with pieces of tissue or writing paper cut to fit, and pressed closely upon the marmalade. Cover again with strong paper, brushed over on the inside with the white of an egg and turned down on the outside of the cup.—Farm, Field and Stockman.

STYLES FOR AUTUMN.

Ladies' Toilets Will Be More Becoming Than Ever Before.

Cashmeres and soft woolens woven in diagonal effects are the first choice for autumn, and brocaded designs are prominent in all classes of goods. Bordered goods have not lost their prestige, large sized polka-dots being a favorite design for the brocading which forms the border, the same pattern, in smaller size, being "powdered" over the remainder of the fabric.

Early importations of autumn millinery display the same picturesque effects that lent such a charm to the summer hats. There are the same deep front brims, short or turned-up backs and low crowns, and aggressive butterfly-bows of satin or velvet ribbon are poised as lightly on crown or brim as their prototypes in lace rested amid flowers during the past season, but the flowers are replaced by a profusion of ostrich feathers and tips. On many the trimming is massed on and about the crown as on the "crownless" hats, and others have the greater portion at the back and extending around one side to the edge of the front brim; but regarding the majority, the arrangement of the trimming renders it difficult to decide whether the crown is rounded or flat or omitted altogether. Toques with narrow reversed brims at the sides and turned up high and close at the back, also various turban shapes appear; and all these are reproduced in velvet, felt, and the straws that will be used for the early autumn. In the latter, black braids have the preference, with garniture in brilliant tints.

The favorite black note is contributed to other materials by jet ornaments in striking designs, and by black birds and wings which are very effectively combined with ostrich feathers. All-black hats of velvet, ostrich feathers, and jet, have their somberness relieved by the addition of brilliant-colored birds. Black straw toques are trimmed with bright-colored plaid ribbon, and fancy ribbons in satin and brocade are used by themselves or in combination with other garnitures.

The new color-cards indicate continued popularity for brilliant tints. A rich deep garnet with a purplish tint is the darkest shade of red, marking the dividing line between it and purple, and the shades pass through various tints of cardinal to the brilliant poppy-red; and there are lava tints that promise to be very fashionable.—Demorest's Magazine.

CURIOUS INVENTIONS.

Queer Contrivances Discovered in the United States Patent Office.

Slot machines have had a great run in the last three years. The number of patents granted for them run up into the hundreds. One patent, which has not been put on the market yet, I believe, is for a "universal provider." Drop a nickel in the slot and turn the indicator to the proper point and you can get a freezing drink, or drink to warm your blood; postage stamps or ginger snaps; cigarettes or cigars.

Some of the farm patents which have been taken out are curiously useless. One inventor patented, a great many years ago, a pair of stilts to be used by a horse plowing a side hill. Another man proposed to take out a patent for "tying a weight of specific gravity to a cow's tail to keep her from switching it when you are milking." The examiner wrote to the applicant that his suggestion was old, and referred him to "Don Quixote," and the device of Sancho Panza, to keep his mule from braying by tying a weight to its tail. An odd patent granted many years ago was for a shoe to be worn by horses in the field. The shoe was in fact a corn-planter, and when the horse walked across the field with it, he (theoretically) punched holes in the ground and deposited seed in them. One inventor has patented a device to keep the moth-miller out of bee-hives. He noticed that the miller got into the hives at the time the chickens went to roost, and, utilizing this coincidence, he proposed to construct an automatic device by which the roosting of the chickens would close the hives. In his application the inventor says: "But I expect that after a time the miller may get sense enough to keep watch of the chickens and come in a few minutes earlier." A "chicken hopple" is among the agricultural patents. It is guaranteed to walk the chicken out of the garden as soon as he begins to scratch. Another invention, which combines the uses of agriculture and war, is a "cannon-plow," the iron beam of which is in effect a cannon from which the peaceful agriculturist can pour desolation into the ranks of a party invading his field. The inventor of this device is, I believe, the man who devised the "pocket-book pistol"—in appearance a pocket-book, but in practice a single-barreled pistol. A "hen-surpriser" is among the rural devices. It is a patent nest, designed to drop the egg through into a safe retreat, so that the hen looking around and thinking that perhaps she has failed in her duty to the community, will lay another.

One of the warlike devices which has never been brought into active service is a pair of springs to fit to the hind hoofs of a mule. On the back of the mule a mountain howitzer is to be mounted, and from that position it is to be fired, the recoil being taken up by the springs which will thus prevent the breaking of the mule's legs.

An effort has been made to patent the Lord's Prayer—the applicant claiming a new device in that the rapid repetition of the prayer will cure stammering. This patent has not been granted.

An inventor has taken out a patent for sinking a boiler into the earth to such a depth that natural heat will develop steam in it. Another proposes to put springs under a house to prevent damage in case of earthquake—a suggestion that might have been very valuable, if Charleston could have anticipated her celebrated disaster in time to get mounted.

An application, which is still hung up in the Patent Office, is for a patent on a device "to enable a dog to turn a short corner." The specification calls for the attachment of a palm-leaf fan to the dog's tail, to enable him to change his course more readily.—Once a Week.

REMINDERS OF HOOD.

Death of a Lady Who Knew the Poet Well in Her Youth.

Word comes of the death of Miss Isabella Hood, of Dundee, a distant relative of the illustrious Thomas Hood. When materials bearing upon that poet's early connection with the city were being collected Miss Hood was able to throw most important light upon the subject. She remembered his residence when a mere lad with his aunt in Nethergate, his visits to Patrick Gardiner in Overgate, as well as his journey to his friends in Errol. She also recollected distinctly Hood's being brought by his aunt to her father's house in Murraygate, and described him as being a vivacious boy, full of liveliness and fun. The visit was repeated, and Tom had many a scamper over the meadows and wards on the maltster's pony. Miss Hood also spoke of the poet's second visit to Dundee, accompanied by his son (the late Tom Hood, editor of Fun,) in the autumn of 1843. When Mrs. Keay, the poet's maternal aunt, died at Tayport, she gave to Miss Hood a number of interesting holograph letters of the poet, with a recommendation that they should be preserved. These letters and other mementoes of Hood were presented to the museum of the city several years ago by Miss Hood, to give the general public an opportunity of inspecting them. She was also in possession of an interesting memento of the Camperdown family. About the end of the last century, it is stated, the poet's uncle was engaged as a tutor in the family of the future hero of Camperdown, who then resided at Lundie House. Captain Duncan was so pleased with the manner in which the tutor had discharged his duties that he presented to him sets of his own silver garter and shoe buckles, and the family gave him a Bible and pencil case. At the death of the tutor these gifts came into the possession of Mrs. Keay, her sister. When Hood visited Mrs. Keay at Tayport in 1841 she gave the pencil case as a gift to his son. The Bible and three of the buckles were sent to the poet's family in London, and the fourth buckle was given, along with the letters, to Miss Hood.—Chicago Evening Post.

—Summer Girl—"I should so like to go out sailing. You take people out, I believe." Fisherman—"Yes, mum. That there's my cat-boat at th' dock." Summer Girl—"O, dear me, that's too awful big. I'd be afraid to go in that. Haven't you any kitten boats?"—N. Y. Weekly.

—The Missionary Review says: "No mission in the world, perhaps, can show a more notable record than that of the Canadian Presbyterian church in China. At the end of sixteen years' work, and with a small staff of laborers, it reports 3,650 baptised members, two native pastors, sixty-four elders, sixty deacons, and thirty-seven native preachers. It maintains two mission houses, fifty chapels, a girls' school, and a training college. The credit of these results is due, under God, to Dr. Mackay, one of those remarkable men who are born missionaries."

—A successful Baptist pastor found it necessary, because of failing health, to go into secular business. "In taking the position of a layman he would beg all correspondents to do him the favor of omitting the title of reverend in his address." The Christian Inquirer says of this request: "There is a straightforward manliness about this thing that we like. While we do not think all men who go out of the active duties of ministerial life should abandon the ministry entirely, we feel sure that some are so employed that a ministerial attachment to their names is simply ludicrous."

Saved Her Life.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Feb. 6, 1889.

This is to certify that my mother has suffered from nervous weakness for over 20 years. We have tried innumerable remedies and physicians, she also went to Germany for her health, spending in all thousands of dollars with only temporary benefit. At last we tried Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic and Elixir of Iron, and I honestly and sincerely believe that she not only received more benefit from them than all others combined, but would have died before this without them, as she was getting weaker every day, before we began with the above medicine.

DR. ROBT. F. RHNI, 774 Chapel St.

Our Pamphlet for sufferers of nervous diseases will be sent free to any address, and poor patients can also obtain this medicine free of charge from us.

This remedy has been prepared by the Reverend Pastor Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., for the past ten years, and is now prepared under his direction by the

Dollars and Sense!

Did it ever strike you that you might do better? Has it ever occurred to you that you are paying too much for the necessaries of life?

If it has not struck you in this light, it surely will, if you will be persuaded to give us a trial. We are the recognized originators of low prices in this city.

We carry the largest and most complete stock of Tea, Coffee and Groceries in Union County. We sell them so quickly at our low prices, that we are constantly receiving fresh goods. We keep none but the most reliable brands, and sell on very small margins of profit.

Having purchased our supply of California Fruits before advance in prices took place, we have decided to sell at old price, thereby giving our customers the benefit of what we saved.

Prompt attention and quick delivery of goods to any and all parts of town; on Saturdays till 9 P. M. Wagon deliveries weekly to Scotch Plains, Fanwood, Westfield, Cranford, Dunellen, New Market, South Plainfield, Metuchen, etc. Mail orders promptly attended to.

Better values were never offered in Ladies' and Children's Jackets and New Markets, than we are offering this season.

* * * * *

Underwear for Ladies, Gentlemen and Children will soon have the call. Remember we keep everything in that line, and we guarantee Quality and Price.

* * * * *

We are booming our Kid Glove Dep't, and will sell a fine five button kid for 65c., and will sell a guaranteed 5 hook kid, black and colored, for $1, and will sell an 8 button length, Suede kid, colored, for $1 25, and will sell an 8 button length, Suede kid, black, for $1 48.

* * * * *

We bought very early in the season, five cases of Blankets, and will sell them at special low prices for the next ten days. Don't miss it.

* * * * *

Don't forget that we keep most every thing in the way of Crockery, Tinware, and Housekeeping Goods, and sell them at right prices. We deliver everywhere free of charge.

KILLED IN A TUNNEL

A Box of Powder Explodes With Terrific Force.

SEVERAL MEN BLOWN TO DEATH

A Large Number of Others Severely Injured and Several Will Die.

A Special Train of Physicians Leave Leadville for the Scene of the Accident—Impossible to Get a List of the Killed and Injured—What Caused the Explosion.

LEADVILLE, Col., Oct. 15.—A terrible explosion was reported at the Ivanhoe-Busk tunnel on the Midland road, 86 miles west of of here at 11 a. m.

One of the workmen entering the tunnel with a box of giant powder removed one of the sticks and accidentally knocked it against the wall. It exploded, killing him instantly and frightfully mangled his body.

The force of the explosion caused the entire box of powder to explode with terrific force, killing six men who were working near and badly injuring a large number of others, six of whom will die.

It is impossible at present to get a list of killed and injured. A special train with physicians left here for the scene of the accident.

SHOT DEAD IN A DUEL.

The Grieved Husband Had the Surest Aim and Killed His Opponent.

LEXINGTON, N. C., Oct. 15.—A remarkable duel, in which one of the combatants was shot dead, was fought near here. The principals were Oscar Barringer, who was killed, and John McRary.

For a long time McRary has been suspicious of an undue intimacy between Barringer and his wife. Several days ago McRary found Barringer and his wife seated together on a sofa in his home. The irate husband ordered Barringer out of his house and threatened to shoot him if he ever again held communication with his wife.

Barringer later wrote a note to Mrs. McRary, which was intercepted by her husband, and a challenge was immediately issued, which was accepted by Barringer. They retired to a selected place to settle the affair. After both men had emptied all the chambers in their revolvers, Barringer fell dead with three bullets in his body. McRary has fled. His wife wept bitterly over Barringer's dead body.

The Engineers' Convention To-Day.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 15.—Every train arriving in Pittsburg to day brought delegates to the twenty-seventh International convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers which opened here this afternoon. Four hundred and twenty-seven delegates will be present, and over 300 engineers have notified the committee of arrangements that they will attend the convention in an unofficial capacity which will make altogether over 700 engineers who will be gathered in Pittsburg at one time. Chauncey M. Depew will address the convention to-morrow.

Secret Ballot Decision.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 15.—In the Supreme Court Chief Justice Andrews filed a dissenting opinion on the secret ballot case recently decided. A majority of the court declared void the ballots headed Citizens' Ticket, which were issued by the chairman of the Republican Town Committee. Chief Justice Andrews holds, Judge Torrance concurring, that as there was no intention to deceive the ballots should have been counted.

Foraker Says It Will Be Blaine.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Oct. 15.—Governor Foraker has created something of a sensation by declaring in the course of a speech that James G. Blaine will be the next Republican nominee for President, unless, as in 1888, he peremptorily declines to allow his name to be presented. This, it is contended, means Foraker as a candidate for the second place on the ticket and a fight against Messrs. McKinley and Sherman.

Pendergast Convicted.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Oct. 15.—The trial of Arthur Pendergast for murder was finished late last night. After seven hours' deliberation the jury brought in a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree. The prisoner will be sentenced to-day. Pendergast shot and killed his father-in-law, Washington Olivet, on July 4 on Dover Mountain, this county. He pleaded that he did the shooting in self-defence.

Admiral Porter's Return.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Admiral D. D. Porter, accompanied by Mrs. Porter and his son, Richard Porter, arrived here to-day from Newport. On account of the Admiral's feeble health, Dr. Wales, of Washington, his family physician, made the trip with him.

Gen. Belknap's Funeral.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The arrangements for the funeral of Gen. Belknap are not completed. It has been decided, however, that the funeral will take place from St. John's Church, in this city, and that the general will be buried at Arlington.

She Had Met Napoleon.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Agatha Rabaza died here yesterday, aged 104. She was born at Port Mahon on the island of Monaco. While still in Spain she met Napoleon Bonaparte and conversed with the Empress Josephine.

RUNG THE CHURCH BELLS.

The Electric Light Company Again Defeated by the Schuylerville Catholics.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Oct. 15.—The trouble between Father Heffernan, of the Catholic church at Schuylerville, this county, and the Electric Light Company has broken out again.

The difficulty began about three months ago, when the company attempted to erect a pole in front of the church. Father Heffernan rang the church bell and summoned his parishioners, who responded and drove the electric light men away. The matter was appealed to the courts, and the company was granted an injunction restraining the church people from interfering or removing the pole. This decision was carried from court to court, always resulting in favor of the company, and is at present pending before the general term of the Supreme Court.

Encouraged by this state of affairs, the company sent a squad of men to again erect the pole during the morning. The church bell was rung and the people rushed to the rescue and drove the men away after an exciting but bloodless scrimmage. If the company insists in its determination to put up the pole before the courts have finally passed on the matter, a riot is not improbable, as the people of the town are about equally divided in sympathy, and the Catholics are determined to prevent the erection of the pole.

OVER THE FIELD AGAIN.

The Count of Paris and His Party Visit Antietam and Gettysburg.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The Count of Paris did not visit the White House as predicted. He left the city early accompanied by a number of distinguished veterans of the war; among them, Generals Slocum, Howard, Sickles, Newton, Hayes, Butterfield, Doubleday, Wright, Pleasanton and Gregg. They visited Harper's Ferry, Bolivar Heights, the Shenandoah Valley, Antietam; Pen Mar, to review the line of Lee's retreat, and Gettysburg.

To-day was devoted to a thorough inspection of the entire battlefield of Gettysburg. This evening a reception will be tendered to the Comte, at which the freedom of Gettysburg will be extended to him.

From Gettysburg the iron works of interior Pennsylvania will be inspected, and as the count has expressed a great desire to see the greatest inventor of his time, the party will visit Edison at Menlo Park at his invitation.

Flogged by Two Girls.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 15.—Annie Bias and Sophia Basse, two shop girls armed with horsewhips administered a severe flogging to Louis Aninas. The man works in the same store with the girls and it is said circulated stories defamatory to their character. Early in the morning they waylaid him. The attack was so sudden and the punishment so effective that he turned and ran, the two girls following him for several blocks, slashing him repeatedly with their whips. He finally escaped down an alley.

Conferring About the Fisheries.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 15.—Hon. Robert Bond, Colonial Secretary for Newfoundland, held an audience at the Board of Trade room with President Smith and other prominent men connected with the fisheries. The object was to submit a proposition for admitting the products of Newfoundland fisheries free in return for which American fishermen would have free access to bait and other outfits in Newfoundland ports.

The Revisionists Will Meet in Washington

PITTSBURG, Oct. 15.—Last night the revision committee of the Presbyterian Church adjourned to meet at Washington in February. The revision of the chapter of foreordination has been finished and though it is not ready for public inspection Chairman Roberts has vouchsafed the information that there were some very radical changes made. The tenth chapter, referring to the final disposition of infants and idiots, is under consideration.

The Population of New York City.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Some time ago Mayor Grant asked the police to make a recount of the population of this city, believing that the figures given by the census enumerators were incorrect. The police have just finished their count, which makes the population 1,710,715. The census figures were 1,013,501, which is over 197,000 short of the police count.

Senator Edmunds Will Not Resign.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Oct. 15.—The report of Senator Edmunds' contemplated resignation is pronounced absurd by that gentleman. He says he never heard of the rumor until last night. He has nothing to do with the present Legislature, as the question of his election does not come up until 1893.

Workmen Ill With Typhoid Fever.

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—Twenty employes of the B. F. Sturtevant Blower Works in Jamaica Plain are reported ill with typhoid fever, and one has died.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

Names Mentioned for the Supreme Court Vacancy.

GREAT INTEREST MANIFESTED.

It is Not Believed the Appointment Will be Made Before Congress Meets.

Arrangements Made for the Dead Jurist's Funeral—The Remains to be Taken to Iowa To-Morrow—Admiral Porter Very Feeble—Cabinet Meeting—Gen. Belknap to be Buried in Arlington Cemetery.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The death of Justice Miller leaves an important vacancy on the United States Supreme Court Bench to be filled. The remark is common that the place is not likely to be filled, because there is not in public view just so broad, strong and well equipped a man as the dead Associate Justice was.

At present, of the nine places on the bench six are filled, or were until yesterday, filled by Western men and three by Eastern men. The President being a Western man and identified with Western interests may be regarded as likely to appoint to the vacant seat on the Supreme Bench either some one now eminent as a lawyer, a jurist from the region whence Judge Miller hailed or some circuit or district judge from the Central West or the great Northwest, although it is not impossible for him to cast his eye toward other quarters and find what he desires.

Probably the appointment will not be made before Congress meets, when action on the nomination can follow at once. Still, a great deal of interest is already manifested here on the subject, and the names of several men of prominence are mentioned in connection with the succession, the most prominent of which are Attorney-General Miller, Judge Gresham, Senator Wilson, of Iowa; Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin, and Secretary Noble.

JUSTICE MILLER'S FUNERAL.

The Service Will Take Place in the Supreme Court Room To-Morrow.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The arrangements for the funeral of Justice Miller have been completed. The funeral services will take place in the Supreme Court room at the Capitol between two and three o'clock to-morrow afternoon. Rev. Dr. Shippen of this city will conduct the services and the Rev. Dr. Bartlette will deliver the address.

The remains will be taken from the court room to the Pennsylvania depot, thence to Keokuk, Iowa.

The Justices of the Supreme Court will act as pallbearers and will accompany the remains to Keokuk. The train will leave here at 7:40 p. m. to-morrow and will reach Keokuk Saturday morning about 10 o'clock.

Meeting of the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—A Cabinet meeting was called by the President at 12 o'clock and all the members of the Cabinet were present except Secretary Proctor and Postmaster-General Wanamaker. It is understood that the subject of an extra session of Congress was discussed. Private Secretary Halford when asked about the matter said he had no information to impart.

British Sealers Were Scarce.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—A dispatch from Port Townsend, Wash., says the revenue cutter Corwin arrived here yesterday. She reports that during the three months' cruise with the revenue cutter Rush in Behring Sea she saw only five British sealers, and three of these were ordered beyond the league limit.

Duty on Canadian Logs Abolished.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—It is reported that the Dominion Government, yielding to the continued pressure of Canadian lumbermen, has decided to abolish the export duty on logs going to the United States. The announcement will probably be promulgated officially within a day or two.

Congressman Wilson Loses $10,000.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—A dispatch from Spokane Falls says that Congressman John L. Wilson, who returned from Washington a few days ago, reports the loss of his pocketbook, containing $10,000 in securities, $350 in greenbacks and gold, and other valuable papers.

Colonel Shepard Suspended.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Colonel Elliot F. Shepard, editor of the Mail and Express, was suspended for ten days at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Union League Club. The suspension was brought about by the action of Colonel Shepard in printing in his newspaper the names of Charles W. Barnes, D. Henry Knowlton and Louis C. Lewis as being suspended from the club for non-payment of their food and drink bill.

WILL HELP THE KNIGHTS.

The Lasters' Protective Union Take Action in the Lynn Shoe Factory Fight.

LYNN, Mass., Oct. 15.—The Lynn Lasters' Protective Union has decided that the lasters in the factory of Rumsey Brothers be called out in support of the Knights of Labor strikers.

Committees of conference between the Lasters' Union and the Knights of Labor have agreed upon a programme for an aggressive and defensive alliance which will be submitted to the various unions. If approved it will shortly take effect.

This is a radical change of the situation in Lynn, as there has been some antagonism between the two organizations, one declining to assist the other.

A. W. Wright, a member of the General Executive Board of the Knights of Labor has arrived here to confer with the local leaders in regard to effecting a settlement of the morocco and shoe factory troubles here. A plan of action will be outlined.

BIRCHALL HAS HOPE.

He Thinks There is a Chance for His Life Yet.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Oct. 15.—Birchall has started to keep a diary and each morning counts the remaining days he has to spend in the jail. He continues cheerful and is more talkative and, while there appears to be no reason for it, he has not given up hope.

He thinks there is a chance for his life yet and will not be convinced to the contrary. He was much interested in the Day trial at Welland and criticised the verdict, founded as it was on the evidence of a woman of unsavory reputation.

He will write to Day congratulating him upon the change in his sentence which gives him a longer lease of life, and trusting that upon the reserve points Day may be acquitted.

Elopes With a Blacksmith.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 15.—Mr. Cammack, a wealthy resident of Washington, and his wife, came to Baltimore in search of their daughter Annie, who had eloped with a blacksmith named Arlington Hardesty. They ascertained that the couple had been married some hours previous by Rev. Mr. Clapp, of Mount Calvary Protestant Episcopal Church, and had returned to Washington. Miss Cammack has money in her own right. She was to have wedded a wealthy gentleman in Washington.

A Youth Convicted of Assault.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 15.—James Foley, aged 16, was convicted of criminally assaulting a little French girl named Millenaise Goyette of Pawtucket. The judge did not sentence the boy because his lawyer moved for the arrest of judgment on the ground that the attorney who drew up the indictment for the grand jury was not a legally constituted officer of the State. The case now goes to the Supreme Court.

An Ancient Hotel Burned.

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 15.—Four horses and several wagons were burned and J. H. White's livery stable on Bank street was destroyed by fire during the morning. The fire started among the hay. It is thought that some one carelessly dropped a lighted match. The ancient Passaic Hotel, once the headquarters of Washington and Lafayette, was partly burned.

Four Men Severely Burned.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 15.—Four men were severely burned by an explosion of gas in No. 4 slope of the Susquehanna Coal Company, at Nanticoke. The concussion was very severe, and the timbering in the mine was shattered to splinters. Nathan Nash, David Powell and two Polanders were the injured persons.

Voting for United States Senator.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Oct. 15.—In the Senate, Justin S. Morrill received 27 votes for United States Senator; Edward J. Phelps received 1. In the House, Morrill received 157 votes; Phelps, 56. Both Houses will meet in joint session this afternoon and formally announce the election of Senator Morrill.

A Boy Shoots His Brother.

BRIDGETON, N. J., Oct. 15.—The 11-year-old son of George Coombs, living near this city, accidentally shot his 9-year-old brother while handling a loaded revolver. Two physicians probed for the bullet, which entered the right breast, but could not locate it. The wound is fatal.

Dave Orr Stricken with Paralysis.

RENOVO, Pa., Oct. 15.—David Orr, first baseman of the Brooklyn Brotherhood Baseball club, was stricken with partial paralysis and is now lying ill at the Ward House. He will be removed to his home as soon as he is able to stand the journey.

Aldermen to Receive Dillon and O'Brien.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The Board of Aldermen appointed a committee of seven, including the president and vice-president of that body, to receive Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien, who are expected to arrive here shortly on a French steamer.

Gen. Butterfield for Mayor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The Business Men's Republican organization last night decided finally to put up a straight Republican ticket, probably headed by Gen. Daniel Butterfield as the Mayoralty candidate.

An Actress Found Dead.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Kate McAuliffe, an 18-year-old actress, the wife of Jack McAuliffe, was found dead in her room at the West Side Hotel, on Sixth avenue, last night. She married the pugilist in San Francisco.

GERMAN SOCIALISTS

The Halle Congress Favors a Peaceful Revolution.

AN IMPORTANT VOTE TAKEN.

They Will Obtain Their Objects Only Through Parliamentary Methods.

A Rumor that O'Brien and Dillon Are on Their Way to Rome—The O'Mahony Case Dismissed—Sunkim to be Attacked—American Consuls Explaining the Contract Labor Law.

HALLE, Oct. 15.—In the Socialistic Congress an exciting discussion took place between the Liberals and Extremists, in which the former proved in the majority. Herr Singer advocated agitation by parliamentary methods, and denounced those who proposed to achieve the aims of Socialism with weapons.

The Congress finally voted a resolution in favor of Herr Singer's views, much to the disappointment of the more violent element of the party. The feeling against Herr Werner, who is accused of insincerity, and of being a Socialist for revenue only, is growing, and it appears certain that he will not be permitted to remain in the Congress.

It was agreed by the Congress to appoint a committee to investigate the question at issue between the Parliamentary leaders of the Socialist party and the Berlin dissidents. No member of the Reichstag representing Berlin, or any delegate deputed by the Socialists of Berlin, will be appointed on the committee.

The action of the Socialist members of the Reichstag in discountenancing a general cessation of work on last May day, was indorsed unanimously, as was their policy regarding the second ballots following the last general election for members of the Reichstag.

AN EPIDEMIC OF SUICIDES.

Paris Horrified Over the Large Number Reported Daily in That City.

PARIS, Oct. 15.—The city is horrified at what seems to be a suicide epidemic. For some time past as many as twelve to eighteen suicides have been reported daily. In the Rue Berthe, a woman suffering from a nervous affection swallowed a quantity of tincture of iodine. A diamond merchant named Cohen, in the Rue Mauboeuge, blew out his brains. Another man of about 60 committed suicide on the Rue St. Martin in a similar manner.

In the Rue Des Hanlets a man hanged himself. He left behind him a paper, on which the following words were written: "No work, no bread; not eaten anything two days. Enough of this. En route for the turnip field."

Starvation also induced a widow in the Rue Palikao to suffocate herself and her daughter, a girl of 13, by means of charcoal. Two young women were found drowned in the Seine.

An individual in the Rue Des Pyrenees poisoned himself with laudanum.

This epidemic seems to be a regular thing at the commencement of the spring and autumn. Last April the Morgue was often filled to overflowing. Statistics show that drowning seems to be the form of death most frequently selected in spring, while preference is given to charcoal in the autumn.

A Disastrous Strike.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Oct. 15.—Premier Parkes declared during a speech in the Chamber of Deputies that the strike was almost as disastrous as a general bombardment. The country would suffer less at the hands of a national enemy. He denounced especially the stoppage of fuel for the railways. The action of the strikers amounted almost to revolution, but the Government was determined to maintain its supremacy.

American Consuls Busy.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The United States Consuls in the different cities are giving the widest publicity to the provisions of the contract labor laws on account of the large number of workingmen preparing to emigrate to America in consequence of the McKinley bill. It said, however, that this law is being openly violated by the agents of American manufacturing establishments, and especially cotton and woollen goods manufacturers.

The Suit Against O'Mahoney Dismissed.

DUBLIN, Oct. 15.—On motion of Mr. Rowan, the prosecutor for the Crown in the Tipperary trials, the case against Mr. O'Mahoney was dismissed, but after lengthy argument by the counsel for O'Brien, Dillon and the others charged with intimidation for dismissal in their cases, the judge noted the exception and ordered the trials to proceed.

Italy's Idle Workingmen.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—There is great distress among the working classes in the large towns of Italy. Statistics show that 100,000 people are out of employment in Lombardy, 60,000 in Piedmont and 50,000 in Romanga and Southern Italy. The condition of most of these unfortunates borders upon destitution, and the results of the industrial stagnation are likely to be very serious.

Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 15.—The sixteenth annual session of the State Woman's Christian Temperance Union commenced in the Academy of Music this morning and will last three days.

The Newark Council a Tie.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 15.—The city went Democratic in the charter election. The Democrats elected nine out of fifteen aldermen, which makes the council a tie.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

An Infuriated Husband Attacks His Wife and Her Brother.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—During a fracas at 1 a. m. at the residence of Timothy Mahoney, No. 3,428 North Broad street, what may prove a double tragedy was enacted. At the hour named Mahoney returned to his home in an apparently intoxicated condition. His wife was awaiting his return, and he at once commenced to abuse her.

After words had been exchanged, Mahoney picked up a pitcher and made a savage blow at his wife's head. She dodged and called for her brother, Michael McLaughlin, to protect her. McLaughlin responded to his sister's appeal for aid, and grappled with Mahoney. The infuriated husband was getting the best of McLaughlin, when the latter seized the bread-knife from the table and made a vicious lunge at his antagonist.

At this juncture James McCann, an inmate of the house, stepped between the two men and the thrust that was intended for Mahoney was received by him. The knife entered his back and inflicted a dangerous cut. McLaughlin followed his assault with the knife, and Mahoney received a stab in the left breast directly over the heart. The wounded men were removed to the hospital where the physicians' report Mahoney's wound dangerous, and likely to result fatally. McLaughlin fled and has not yet been captured.

Trying to Replace American Goods.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 15.—It is said that the Russian Ministry is earnestly engaged in endeavoring to have France encourage the importation of Russian products to take the place of American goods in retaliation for the McKinley bill. So far the attempt has not met with much success, as the French still hope to make special terms with America for discrimination in favor of French goods.

"Jack the Ripper" in Ireland.

DUBLIN, Oct. 15.—A notice, purporting to have been written by "Jack the Ripper" has been found posted in a Roman Catholic Church at Killarney. It is to the effect that the notorious murderer intends to transfer his operations to this country.

Prohibitionist Nomination.

MALDEN, Mass., Oct. 15.—The Prohibitionists of the Sixth District nomited Charles E. Kimball, of Lynn, for Congress.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The President appointed H. G. Eames postmaster at West Haven, Conn.

The Merchants' National Bank of Carlisle, Pa., was authorized to begin business.

The Grand Duke Nicholas, who has been pronounced insane, will be taken to the Crimea for the winter.

The iron and steel visitors had a narrow escape from a railroad disaster on a trip from Chicago to Pullman.

Returns from the local elections of Wyoming show that every county in the State elected a woman school superintendent.

Daniel H. Wingard was nominated for Congress at Reading, Pa., by the Republican conferees of the Ninth Pennsylvania district.

It has been snowing throughout the Province of Manitoba for ten hours, and as yet there are no signs of an abatement of the storm.

Hon. Samuel Linn, formerly Judge of the Center county district of Pennsylvania, died at Williamsport, Pa., after a long illness. He was 70 years of age.

Lillian Scofield, of New York, who was implicated in the mysterious death of Broker Nathaniel Hatch, has been arrested on a charge of stealing $300 from a woman in a house-renting transaction.

The trial in New York city of John Votacil for the murder of his six-year-old son Louis has begun. In a fit of anger Votacil threw the child out of a six-story window. The defence will be insanity.

A dispatch from Paris states that 250,000 bottles of champagne were shipped to New York on speculation, to reach the city before the new tariff law went into operation. The wine is valued at $450,000.

Actor Charles Queen, of the Philadelphia "Spider & Fly Company," who was arrested at Trenton, N. J., for passing counterfeit money, was sentenced in the United States Court to eighteen months' imprisonment with hard labor.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—For New England: Fair weather; cooler; westerly winds.

For New Jersey: Cooler; fair weather; westerly winds.

For Eastern New York: Cooler; westerly winds; fair weather.

BY THE WAY.

—The exempt firemen are notified to meet this evening to take action in relation to the funeral of Wm. E. Jones.

—The condition of the outstanding series of the Home Building and Loan Association, published in another column, is very interesting reading.

—Sherman & Becker are showing a fine line of new Fall styles at their fancy goods Emporium, 73 Park avenue. Their millinery department is under the charge of Miss C. D. Squier, a lady of taste and experience.

—Educational classes will be held weekly at the Young Men's Christian Association as follows: Monday—Book-keeping and Penmanship. Tuesday—Mechanical Drawing class. Friday—Short-hand and Type-writing. New members of short-hand class will be received on or before next Friday evening; boys too young for membership will be admitted to the privileges of classes.

—A debating contest was held in Hope chapel, last evening, between Fred. Wharton and Robert P. Hangliter, both of the Pond Machine Tool Works. Mr. Wharton argued that the chances in life were in favor of the country boy, and Mr. Hangliter spoke for the city boy. The contest was witnessed by about fifty men from Pond's. After an hour's interesting talk the country boy won, according to the decision of the judges.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Alford B. Cook, who was nominated yesterday for the Assembly from this district, is a popular business man of Rahway who will add strength to the rest of the ticket in that city.

J. Hervey Doane, James Ingram, F. R. Stevens and Charles Faber of this city, will be guests to-night in Newark at a banquet given by the losers in a recent carrier pigeon race between the "Jersey Five" and the "Newark Five," two prominent clubs of homing fanciers.

Judge Ulrich is not going to give up his $3,000-a-year law practice in this city, just because he is going to build himself a handsome home in Westfield. He will be here in his office all day, but he wants a dead, quiet place where there is nothing going on, to sleep in, and Westfield fills the bill.

A most interesting talk to young men may be expected at the Young Men's Christian Association rooms to-morrow evening at 8:15 o'clock, when the Rev. Wm. R. Richards will recount some of the experiences of a young man during his college days. College songs will be sung at 8 o'clock. Admission free.

Resolutions of Respect.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of "The New Jersey Game and Fish Protective Society," held in the office of the Secretary, this city, Tuesday evening, October 14, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, In the wisdom of the Supreme Architect of the Universe, it has pleased Him to remove from our midst our esteemed fellow citizen and associate, William E. Jones; therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of William E. Jones, "The New Jersey Game and Fish Protective Society" loses not only an honored member and officer, but a true friend to all the interests and objects of this organization, which he has been associated with since its formation, as Treasurer.

Resolved, That the sympathies of this Society are extended to the bereaved family of our late associate and friend, and that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes, a copy sent to his surviving family, and published in the city papers.

To Be Buried With His Bugle Was His Dying Request.

The last request of Nicholas Gisser was that his friends would place in his coffin beside his dead body, before lowering it into the grave, the bugle with which, in the army of his native land, he had sounded notes of alarm and victory. The last time he sounded the bugle was during the recent celebration of the downfall of the Bastile. At his funeral yesterday, when the Rev. E. M. Rodman officiated, his dying wish was fulfilled, and the comrades of war-time, both now mute forever, were laid away in peace together.

A Woman Who Preaches Good Sermons.

In spite of the inclemency of the weather there was a fair audience at Reform Hall, last evening, to listen to a gospel talk by Mrs. C. S. Whitney, of New York city. Mrs Whitney is a pleasing and powerful speaker, and all who heard her clear exposition of the Bible were delighted. Mrs. Whitney will conduct a Bible meeting in the Hall this afternoon at three o'clock, and will preach in the Hall at 8 o'clock this evening. She will also conduct the Mother's meeting, Thursday, at 3 P. M.

Permanent Ball Grounds for the Crescents

The Plainfield Crescent League has leased for five years a plot of five acres just off of Somerset street and between Jackson and Grand View avenues. It will be fenced in as a permanent base ball ground, and commodious stands and dressing rooms erected. There will be an entrance from Somerset street about opposite Linden avenue. The distance from the station is exactly the same as the present grounds—a few yards over half a mile.

A STRANGER, AND THEY TOOK HIM IN.

South Plainfield Philistines Fleece a Waterbury Watchman.

Thomas O'Rourke, whose history for several hours past is to him a total blank, is a patient at the Muhlenberg Hospital, and is enjoying himself so much, in spite of a severely sprained ankle, that he is not greatly sorry that he came.

Thomas says that his home is at Waterbury, Conn., where he followed the profession of night watchman, but for some time he has been at work in the neighborhood of this city. Yesterday morning he reached the delectable region of South Plainfield with $15 in his inside pocket. The discerning denizens were not long in recognizing him as a man of wealth, and speedily they introduced him to their friend, the keeper of the village tavern. O'Rourke remembered that his new acquaintances were a jolly lot, and that they made him drink a good deal of beer and give them his money, but what happened after that he doesn't recollect. When he dimly recovered his senses this morning the sun was rising and he was being deposited by two men from a resting-place in the bottom of a wagon to a berth on the flooring of the Muhlenberg Hospital steps. There Matron Walrod found him, groaning with the pain of his ankle. Now he occupies one of the most comfortable cots in the institution, and his ankle is nicely dressed. But he doesn't know how he got hurt.

Nellie Gets Off Easier This Side of the Brook.

In the city court this morning, sentence was suspended over Nellie Hoppell and she was told to take her things out of Mrs. Flynn's house and keep sober hereafter. The witnesses for the prosecution all testified that "Nellie was a lady" when she kept away from the drink.

Mrs. Hoppel's story was that Mrs. Flynn broke in her house and tried to drive her out. She said that Mrs. Flynn was the woman that first gave her whiskey to drink. She said she had buried six children and had only been arrested twice during the three months she lived in North Plainfield. One of those times she got 30 days in the Somerville jail.

Sergeant Lynch testified that when he went after Nellie she resisted him, and he almost jerked his neck out of joint getting her down the stoop. Judge Codington told her if she ever came before him again, she'd catch it. She said she was very much obliged.

20 Days for Being, "Guilty, of Course."

Thomas Kelly, a ne'er do well from Hopewell, who has been visiting his uncle, Michael Kelly, of this city, for some weeks, during which time they have both been intermittently drunk and disorderly, was arraigned before Judge Codington this morning. He was so drunk yesterday that he was even thrown out of Day's saloon. When asked to plead he said, "guilty, of course!"

Mrs. Michael Kelly was the complainant much against her will. She said her husband beat her for having his nephew arrested; but she only had two rooms to live in and the accused had been drunk in them for weeks past and kept her awake nights with the "horrors." Thomas was fined $10 which he hadn't, so he took 20 days. When Mrs. Kelly left the court room her husband started after her, probably to give her another beating. Captain Grant detailed Officer Flanagan to watch the man.

Engineer Dunham May Begin Some Suits for Damages, Now.

The Special Committee of the Board of Freeholders met Monday afternoon at Elizabeth, with Engineer Dunham, of this city, and remained in session until 10 o'clock in the evening. The meeting was held privately, and the findings of the committee will be submitted to the Board to-morrow afternoon. Members of the committee declined to outline their report, but a member stated that it would show that the charges, made by a New York paper, of extravagant expenditures, were untrue as already shown in THE PRESS.

A WESTERN SKETCH OF EX-MAYOR RANDOLPH.

How His Biography is Set Forth in the History of the Illinois Central Railroad.

There has just been published in Chicago a Historical Sketch of the great Illinois-Central Railroad together with a brief biographical record of its incorporators and some of its early officers. The volume is by William K. Ackerman, who has been connected with the company in various apacities for a period of nearly thirty-two years—being its President from 1877 to 1883. Among the officers honored with a biography is L. V. F. Randolph, the best Mayor Plainfield ever had. Here is what the book says of him:

Lewis V. F. Randolph was born in Somerville, New Jersey, May 16, 1838. He came of a family which had then dwelt in New Jersey 200 years and was descended from an English gentleman, Edward Fitz Randolph, who had espoused the Puritan faith and whose wife, Elizabeth Blossom, was also one of the earliest arrivals of the Pilgrim stock. His mother was of an old Dutch family whose ancestors had come to Long Island and afterward to New Jersey, long prior to the American revolution. Lewis studied hard at Plainfield, a pleasant town near Somerville, and made good progress in mathematics and the languages. His father died when he was but ten years old and he, being an only son with several sisters, left school while still a boy, turning from the alluring offer of a university education made by kind friends, to throw his youthful energies into business activity. At first, he was cashier and salesman for a mercantile firm, and afterward spent nearly ten years—1854 to 1863 inclusive—in the American Exchange Bank, New York, rising through various clerical positions from year to year. About the latter end of this period of service, he enlisted as a soldier in the Union army and served in it until after the confederates were driven back from their sally into Pennsylvania. In 1864, he entered the president's office of the Illinois-Central Railroad Company as private secretary, and was soon afterward sent to the company's money-department at Chicago. Later on, he was recalled to the financial office in New York and elected assistant-treasurer. In 1873, he was chosen a director by the stockholders and, in 1874, he was elected treasurer of the company.

Besides discharging the duties of the positions above named, Mr. Randolph has filled other places of public trust, including that of mayor of Plainfield, New Jersey; he is also known as a public speaker and writer.

Mr. Randolph was as an office-manager a careful disciplinarian. Being thoroughly versed in analysis and an accurate and efficient accountant, these qualifications rendered his services to the company, at all times, most valuable but especially at certain important periods in its financial affairs. He was ever punctiliously correct in all transactions involving financial operations, and in these his banking education and experience served him well. He was conscientious in his devotion to duty; and no officer of the company ever enjoyed more fully or continuously the confidence and respect of the board of directors. In 1884, he declined a reelection as director, and, in 1885, resigned the treasurership of the company. He is still a trustee of several mortgages on the company's lines. After spending a short time in a successful quest for health among the higher altitudes of the Rocky-Mountain Country, he returned, in 1887, to New York and accepted an offer, from the executors of Hon. Samuel J. Tilden, to assist them in the care of the large estate committed to their management.

JUMPED FROM A FLYING TRAIN.

A Young Married Man from the South Meets with Disaster in Plainfield.

Emil Proger, a young man who has a wife at Cumberland, Maryland, was seriously injured on the Jersey Central Railroad between the Netherwood and Plainfield stations last night. He was stealing a ride on a train, and jumped when he saw a brakeman coming towards him. The train was moving at rapid speed, and it was at first feared that he was killed outright. The thigh of one leg was fractured, and the knee of the other was terribly cut. He was also bruised severely about the body, and received several gashes from the sharp edges of the rock-road ballast against which he was hurled. He was taken to the Muhlenberg Hospital and placed under the tender care of Matron Walrod. Today hopes are entertained that he will survive the accident, though last night he was suffering greatly.

"How She Looks."

Here is a pen picture of Miss Lillian Walters, who will be the cynosure of all eyes at Music Hall, this evening, as Evangeline, with Rice's Burlesque Company. "A blonde, with regular features, blue eyes, clear-cut lips, fine chin, and magnificent figure." In metropolitan phrase she is "out of sight" as an actress, and her voice is a full, rich soprano. There are many who remember her here in other roles, and a warm welcome awaits the fair actress when she appears as Evangeline.

—The regular weekly prayer meeting of the Womans Christian Temperance Union will be held to-morrow afternoon at 3:30. Those desiring to attend will please notice change of day and hour. Room, 73 West Front st.

Deceptive Advertising.

Many people are constantly being deceived by the high sounding advertisements published by some large establishments in the nearby large cities.

A "special sale" of Carpets now going on in one of our large neighboring cities, is a very striking illustration.

They announce with an immense flourish of adjectives, in this wise, viz: because of their extensive purchases; in many cases amounting to the "entire out-put" of certain manufacturers, they are enabled to sell at these unheard of prices.

Under such tremendous statements as the above, and the like, here is what they actually do:

Elegant Tapestry Brussels Carpets, good for 20 years wear, sold elsewhere for $1.25, at 85 cents.

Edsall's every day price for the identical makes, is just 85 cents. Again they say an elegant line do., worth 87c., at 65 to 75c.

Edsall's price for the same goods is 69c. every day.

They advertise Extra Body Brussels, worth $1.25, at 98c.

Edsall's price every day is just even $1 for the same quality.

They advertise Extra Superfine All-Wool Ingrains, fully worth $1, at 65c. and 75c.

Edsall has never asked more than 65c. and 75c. for exactly the same goods.

The above is only one of the hundreds of cases of like manner in which some people are induced to go out of Plainfield to spend their money. If any one thinks this is merely an advertising dodge, we have in our possession a printed copy of the advertisement referred to, for their inspection. EDSALL'S, 20 W. Front St.

NEWS FROM OUR NEIGHBORS.

What is Going on Among the People Back of the Borough—A Horse Kicks a Man Senseless—A Silk Mill Enterprise—Various Items of Interest from Clever Correspondents.

WASHINGTONVILLE, October 15.

John Allen, of Delevan, Ill., who was brought up on the old Allen homestead now occupied by Aaron and Elias Allen, and who has been visiting the relatives and friends of his youth, will return home next week. Aaron Allen, his grandson, and Harry Coddington have preceded him to his home in the West. The old homestead here was owned by the Allens before the Revolution.

Warren Ross, of this place, was attending to his duties in Mr. Platt's stable yesterday when a vicious horse without warning kicked him in the side and knocked him senseless to the floor. When the sufferer recovered consciousness it was found that two of his ribs were fractured.

Robert Clark is in the West on a business tour. He will go as far as Milwaukee.

Andrew Wilson has purchased a fine young grey horse, which he intends to use in his ice business.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen H. Beeching, of Basking Ridge, spent Sunday with relatives in this place.

Miss Florence E. Overbaugh, of Elizabeth, paid a visit to her friend, Miss Rosie Bartells, Sunday.

The funeral of Samuel Marston, formerly a resident of this place, took place from the home of his son-in-law, G. W. Warren in Brooklyn, last Sunday. The deceased had reached the advanced age of 82 years.

Several residents claim to have felt both of the shocks occasioned by the recent explosion of the Dupont Powder Works. The tremor, which was quite perceptible, was at first thought to be caused by an explosion in the Wilson quarry, but no blast had been set off last week at all. The full account of the Dupont explosion in THE PRESS, cleared the mystery. This mountain chain extends in a direct line to Delaware, and it is supposed that the shock followed along the hills.

JOSH BUNCOMBE.

STERLING, October 15.

The pretty little hamlet of Sterling is again the busy place of former days. A new silk mill is being erected, much larger than the old one, while a large addition is being made to the old mill. From 300 to 400 new hands will be employed.

Constable James Havey, whose weight is over 225 pounds, has a way, peculiar to himself, of dealing with disorderly Italians or other miscreants who break the peace by their occasional quarrels, or through their having imbibed too freely in beverages. When he finds two of them fighting, he just knocks their heads together until they have enough. He then lets them go. "Drunks and disorderlies" he locks in one of the empty freight cars that is on the switch, to be taken away during the night to nobody knows where. The respect with which he is treated, and the awe he inspires by this summary mode of dealing out justice is as great as that aroused by a regularly commissioned court. But he says he is losing the tricks, as the miscreants now even steal the turnips and cabbage out of his garden at night. He caught one, but he escaped out of his grasp, and got away in the midnight darkness.

ETHELRED EGBERTSON.

Married at High Mass.

During high mass at eight o'clock this morning, the marriage took place at St. Mary's church of Miss Sarah McNally, of this city, and Edw. Connolly, of Easton. Father Stafford officiated. A feature of the ceremony was the music by Mrs. Ronan, the organist, who played the bridal march from Lohengrin, and Mendelssohn's wedding march, and sang as a solo Millard's "Ave Maria." The "best man" was P. Keefe, and the maid of honor Miss Annie Winn. The bride wore a handsome costume of white silk, and carried a bouquet of tea roses. The maid of honor wore cream silk and point-lace, also adorned with tea roses.

The groom is connected with the Scott printing machine works, and the new couple will make their home in this city after a wedding trip to Niagara and elsewhere. The bride's sister, Mrs. John Kyle, will tender them a reception at her home on Richmond street, this evening.

Rice's Beautiful Evangeline.

Ever delightful "Evangeline," sweet and welcome with its music, gorgeous with its brilliant costumes, and altogether the most popular of all of E. E. Rice's tuneful and lavish productions, comes to Music Hall for one evening only, to-night. The great cast of artists will present Miss Lillian Walters, a beautiful young artiste from the Rice & Dixey's "Seven Ages" Company, as Evangeline, and shapely and winsome Geraldine McCann from Dixey's "Adonis" Company, will appear as dashing Gabriel. All the famous features of the play, with its wealth of costumes, stage full of special scenery, the sportive whale, gaily dressed artists, the lonely fisherman, and the march of the amazons, will be presented. "Rice's Beautiful Evangeline" can well be said to be the household and favorite extravaganza of this country, and each year adds to its attractions and welcome.

$500 Reward for an incurable case of chronic Nasal Catarrh is offered by the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

PRESERVING HUSBANDS.

How to Treat Men So That They Will Prove a Joy Forever

At a recent meeting of the Woman's Club at Marshalltown, Ia., Mrs. H. C. Young caused quite a stir by her response to the toast: "Our Husbands." Quoting Burns, Mrs. Young began:

"Husband, husband, cease your strife,
No longer idly rave, sir;
Though I am your wedded wife
Yet I'm not your slave, sir."

"How shall we preserve our husbands?" continued Mrs. Young. "In selecting your husband you should not be guided by the silvery appearance, as in mackerel. Nor by the golden tint as found in salmon. Be sure to select him yourself, as tastes differ. Do not go to market for him, as the best are always brought to your door. It is far better to have none, unless you know how to preserve them. Some women do this by keeping him in hot water. Others let them freeze by their carelessness and indifference. Some keep them in a stew by irritating ways and moods. Others roast them or keep them in pickle all their lives.

"It can not be expected that any husband will be tender and good managed in this way. The only true way to do with him is to preserve him. To do this you must have a preserving kettle of the finest porcelain; or if that is unattainable, an earthenware pipkin will do with care. See that the linen in which he is to be preserved is nicely prepared. Tie him in the kettle with a strong silk cord called 'comfort,' as the one called 'duty' is apt to be weak, and he might fly out of the kettle and be burned. (You must remember that husbands are like crabs and lobsters; they have to be prepared while alive.) Make a clear, steady fire out of love, neatness and cheerfulness. Set him as near the fire as seems to agree with him. If he sputters and fizzles, do not be anxious. Some husbands will do this until they are quite done. Add a little sugar occasionally in the form of what confectioners call 'kisses,' but be careful to avoid pepper or vinegar, as these things spoil the flavor. A little spice improves them, but it must be used with good judgment. Do not stick any sharp instrument into him to see if he is becoming tender. But stir him gently, watching the while lest he lie too flat and close in the kettle, for then he soon becomes spoiled and useless. Watch him carefully and you can not fail to know when he is done.

"If thus treated, you will find you have a well-preserved husband that will prove a joy to you and the children, and he will keep as long as you need him unless you become careless and set him in too cold a place.

"'A king for the beautiful realm called home,
And a man that the Maker, God,
Shall look upon as he did the first
And say—it is very good.'"

One of the White Caps Denies the High School's Victory.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—I observe that the High School Base Ball Team have emerged from the seclusion of the past two years into the sunlight of publicity through the medium of a report in your paper of a game of base ball said to have been played between that team and the "White Caps" on Friday last. This report I take to be an inspiration of one of the players of the High School team, and through an inadvertance, to put it mildly, contains a reflection on the well deserved reputation of the "White Caps," which, I hope, you will allow me to remove.

With the exception of a change in the catcher, this same High School team were defeated the week before by substantially the same nine which played against them in Friday's game, this being the only game which they have succeeded in winning out a series of four. While some of the "White Caps" have taken part in these games (only five) the team cannot by any means be considered the "White Caps." The regular pitcher of that club is suffering from a broken arm, and the success of the High School team in this single instance is mainly due to the fact that they had the catcher of the "White Caps" to serve in that capacity for them.

It will be quite time enough for the High School team to talk about a victory over the "White Caps," when they are prepared to consider their refusal of last week, to play that club, before Friday's match was arranged.

ONE OF THE "WHITE CAPS."

To-Morrow Evening's Entertainment.

The attraction offered to-morrow evening, including the great Dudley Buck Quartette, Roberts, the reader, and Glose, the pianist, will be a programme of its kind that will probably never be equalled in this city again this season. The entertainment will begin at 8:15 o'clock at Music Hall. Admission, 50 cents.

The quartette is composed of the following soloists: H. E. Distelhurst, first tenor, soloist All Souls' Unitarian church, New York; Chas. Stuart Phillips, second tenor, soloist Central Congregational church, Brooklyn; Everitt S. Swalm, first bass, soloist Ross Street Presbyterian church, Brooklyn; Frederic Reddall, second bass, soloist Lafayette Avenue Presbyterian church, Brooklyn.

Stanley Coming to Plainfield.

Effort is being made to persuade Explorer Stanley to visit Plainfield before he returns to England. If he does, this city will be favored beyond any other of its size. It is to be hoped, therefore, for the sake of Plainfield, that this endeavor to bring fame to the city will meet with the financial support necessary for its accomplishment.

IN ROYAL CIRCLES.

THE Empress of Austria is charged with smoking from thirty to forty cigarettes a day.

EMPEROR WILLIAM has only portraits of Bismarck and Von Moltke in the music-room of his private yacht, the Hohenzollern.

THE German Emperor is a clever artist, and can dash off a bold sketch in oil that would be creditable to many professional painters.

PRINCE ALBERT VICTOR is the only son of a Prince of Wales who has taken his seat in the House of Lords before his father's accession to the throne.

QUEEN VICTORIA has sent a splendid cradle, richly ornamented, to her great-grandson, the infant of the Duke and Duchess of Sparta, and the whole outfit for the child was bought in England by the Empress Frederick.

CARMEN SYLVA, the Roumanian Queen, was admitted into the Bardic Circle at the recent Welsh Eistedfodd and given the blue ribbon of the order. She didn't have to ride the goat, but was compelled to listen to the singing of a large number of Welsh poems.

BISMARCK is not a good conversationalist and is a worse orator. While making a public address he sways himself backward and forward, twirls his thumbs, occasionally looks at a scrap of paper upon which he has written some notes, and altogether is a very good imitation of a man who is embarrassed if not intimidated. Still Bismarck always manages to say something worth while.

FEW Princesses in the royal and semi-royal houses of Europe are so sensible as the Princess Maria Anna of Portugal, who is about to marry an untitled doctor of medicine. In reply to an intimate friend who asked her recent how she could marry a man of such low rank, when so many princely suitors were at her disposal, she said: "I prefer to marry a man without a name, rather than a name without a man."

QUEEN VICTORIA'S family circle now numbers fifty living descendants, including sons and daughters, grandsons, granddaughters, great-grandsons and great granddaughters. Besides these she has four sons-in-law, four daughters-in-law, five grandsons-in-law, and one granddaughter-in-law. The Queen has lost one son and one daughter, five grandsons, one granddaughter, one great-grandson and one son-in-law. If these were living, her family circle would number seventy-four.

LADY EDITH WARD, the prospective bride of Count Herbert Bismarck, is said to be very highly educated but not beautiful. She is tall, with rather dull, brown eyes, and wears her hair braided around her head in somewhat antiquated fashion. Young Bismarck's father is not in favor of the match. Lady Edith was presented at court, at her Majesty's last drawing-room, by her mother, the Countess of Dudley, and was attractively attired in white corded silk draped with soft silk crape and pearl trimmings.

THE Duchess of Buccleugh—with other leaders of London fashion has decided that "society" must be protected from the inroads of financiers and Americans. Next year, no American is to be recognized socially who is not properly introduced by the United States Minister at the court of St. James. These aristocratic confederates regard the Prince and Princess of Wales as inexcusably tolerant of the newly rich, and at her Grace of Buccleugh's late ball and garden party, which were very splendid affairs, hardly an American, a financier or a "cotton lord" was to be seen, though the Marlborough House garden-party swarmed with them.

IN RESPECT TO RAILROADS.

THE first road to carry passengers or freight was the Baltimore & Ohio.

THE railroad bridges of this country would reach from New York to Liverpool.

AMERICAN railroads would reach half way to the moon, but trains don't go in that direction.

THE average cost of constructing a mile of railroad in the United States at the present time is about $30,000.

IT is estimated that the number of passengers carried by all the railroads in the world average 6,500,000 a day.

THE rails on railroads in this country laid in a continuous line make twelve girdles for the earth's circumference.

A LOCOMOTIVE on the Mississippi Valley road hauled 150 loaded cars with 1,844,851 pounds of freight, the total estimated weight of the haul being 5,442,831 pounds.

DURING the last ten years the South has built nearly 20,000 miles of new railroad, an increase of about 100 per cent. over 1880, the total mileage for this section at present being over 40,000.—Baltimore Manufacturer's Record.

THE railway mileage of Kansas, according to the State Board of Assessors, consists of 8,763 miles of main lines, which are assessed at from $4,000 to $7,500 per mile, the aggregate value of all railway property in the State being fixed for assessment purposes at $57,866,232.

THE car works all over the country have advanced the prices of building passenger coaches. A coach which was built a year ago for $5,200 the works will not build now for less than $5,500, and the car works are steadily advancing the price of box and coal cars.

STRETTON, the eminent English engineer, says that a locomotive of the present type can run only the least trifle faster than eighty miles an hour. A higher speed is prevented by the resistance of the air, the friction, and the fact of the back pressure in the cylinders because of the impossibility of getting the exhaust steam out fast enough.

A RAILROAD in Asia Minor from Scutari to Ismidt is to be extended to India and will be the grand transdivision line between Europe and Asia. It passes near the tomb of Hannibal. Nicomedia is a way station. It crosses streams on repaired bridges that were built by Justinian, and altogether has a right of way through more ancient history than any other road on earth.

HUMOR OF THE SCHOOL-ROOM.

A SCHOOL-TEACHER asked an Irish boy to describe an island. "Sure, ma'am," said Pat, "it's a place you can't lave widout a boat."

SCHOOL VISITOR (to bad boy)—"My son, what branches do you pursue?" Bad Boy—"I don't pursue any; the teacher does all the chasin'."

A MICHIGAN teacher received in one pupil's grammar papers this illustration of the degrees of comparison: "Positive, first; comparative, next; superlative, last."

SCHOOL-TEACHER (severely)—"You are half an hour late this morning." Little boy (who was "kept in" the day before)—"Yes'm. It was late yeste'day when I got home."

TEACHER (reading)—"'Let down your sable shade, oh night, and hide this sad earth from my sight.' That's poetry. How would you express the same idea in prose? Well, Johnny?" Johnny—"Pull down the blind."

"WHERE is the island of Cuba situated?" asked a school-teacher of a small, rather forlorn-looking boy. "I dunno, sir." "Don't you know where your sugar comes from?" "Yes, sir; we borrows it from our next door neighbor."

TEACHER—"It seems you are never able to answer any of my questions. How is this, my little boy?" "If I knew all the things you asked me, ma'am, father wouldn't go to the trouble of sending me here," replied Johnny.

HERE is an excuse brought one day by a tall, red-haired boy of seventeen to his teacher: "Dere Cir—Pleze to eggcuse Henry for absents yisterday. We made sourkrout and he had to tromp it down. Allso he had to Help bucher 2 pigs. Respeckful yuers, His Pap.

TEACHER—"Bobby Swapples, what is a quadruped?" Bobby—"A quadruped is an animal with four legs." Teacher—"Right; now give me an example of a quadruped." Bobby—"A horse." Teacher—"Right; can you give me another example?" Bobby (enlightened after much thought)—"Another horse."

SCHOOL-BOY (poring over his lesson)—"Father, what language do they speak in Chili?" Father—"H'm! The language spoken in Chili, my son, the—er—language spoken—er—in Chili is—do you find that question in the book you are studying, my son?" School-boy—"No, but I thought I'd like to know." Father (severely)—"Then don't ask it, my son."

ENOUGH for One Day.—"O, mother," cried a North Side youngster who had been visiting an elder brother in school, "I learned lots to-day." "What was one thing you learned?" asked the fond parent. "I learned in the 'rithmetic class," was the reply, "that the square of the base and perpendicular of a right-handled triangle is equal to the sum of the hippopotamus."

"NOW, JOHN," replied the schoolmaster to one of his scholars, "your father told me that you get no further forward in your learning; now, I want you to answer me several questions. In that bush yonder there are five birds. If I took my gun and shot three of them, how many would there be left?" "None," replied John. "Just as I expected," said the schoolmaster, stamping his foot on the floor; "now tell me the reason." "Well," replied John, "if there were five birds and you shot three, the other two would fly away, wouldn't they, stupid?"

WISE WORDS TO WOMEN.

DON'T be rash enough to use any cosmetic containing white lead or arsenic unless you are anxious to disfigure yourself.

THE effect of gum-chewing has been studied carefully by an expert. In gum-chewing the masseter muscles which move the jaw are abnormally developed, and the fatty substance which produces fair, plump checks is deteriorated.

WHATEVER culture tempers, tones and sweetens her impulses, making her better, gentler and nobler than man, is the grandest education woman can espouse. These are the charms that last forever, but outweigh imported bonnets and gowns, that survive beauty, that soften age and crown her queen of hearts.

GOOD husbands can not be spoiled by petting. Bad ones will not be made worse by the process; they may be made better. One and all, they like it. Not only fondling and love-words, but to have their home-comings at evening to be accounted events; they enjoy pretty surprises and favorite dishes, the flower laid by the plate, the becoming gown or ribbon put on to please their eyes. It is the "little by little" that makes up the weal or woe of life.

THE dress of a woman reflects her discernment and love of the beautiful, and a harmonious and appropriate costume is invariably the index to a well-ordered mind. As the poet clothes his fancies in the fittest phrases to produce the desired impression of lyrical beauty, as the painter adapts his artistic means to his end so as to bring about a symmetrical effect, so does a woman reveal her refinement and sense of the fitness of things when the grace of her person is one with her costume.

ANY woman who puts lemon juice, brilliantine or belladonna in her eyes deserves to see the world through shades and spectacles. Pinch your brows, clip your lashes and rouge your lids all you like, but in the name of clear sight and perfect vision don't tamper with heaven's best blessing. If clear, cool water and plenty of sleep will not brighten your orbs be content with the knowledge that the dull tone is par excellent. Even soap is a horror, and the pain resulting from a dash of suds needs only to be felt to be feared.

THE use of the tooth brush in connection with powders, washes or other treatment of the teeth, should be gentle. Bleeding of the gums is always a danger signal. It shows that the skin has been broken, inviting the absorption into the system of any poisonous or foreign matters which may be present in the mouth. If the gums are very tender, a soft brush should be used, and used very gently, till they have hardened sufficiently to withstand more vigorous treatment. Even then, you will be apt to err on the side of harshness.

BODY-DANCING A FAD.

The Ballet of the Future Will Need No Legs.

Graceful Carmencita Has a Rival and Both Are Captivating New York with Sensuous Wriggling in the Spanish Style.

[COPYRIGHT, 1890.]
[Special Correspondence.]

Carmencita, the Pearl of Selville, the admiration of New York and the great chief wriggler of all creation, is going to become an actress. She will enlarge her sphere.

Competition is the cause of it. Carmencita is no longer the only exponent of Spain's sensuous graces in the dance. Senorita Otero has made a start in the same line of business, and the result is that which follows competition everywhere, namely, more of the commodity can be had for the same money.

This suggests the consideration of one notable peculiarity of Carmencita's success, the public has seen so very little of her. I am not now referring to the fact that she dances in skirts, but to the exceeding brevity of her performances.

At Niblo's where she made her first conquest of New York, she danced not more than three minutes each night. At the concert hall, where she is now the leading attraction, she has been but little more liberal with the public.

In explanation, it has been said that no human being could stand it to dance long as Carmencita does. A spectator might well believe this.

All the muscles in Carmencita's body—including, apparently, several hundred which are not found in most of us—are employed in the production of gyrations such as threaten to rend her comely form to bits. In fact, despite her lively kicking, she dances least of all with the apparatus usually employed in such performances. Her body and her arms do an incredible work.

Hitherto, Carmencita has been the jewel in a very dull setting of condensed comic opera. Recently, a mutilated fragment of "La Fille de Madame Angot" has been abused for this purpose. But now she will have a whole play, though not a very long one.

When this idea dawned upon the management its brilliancy was obscured by a slight cloud: Carmencita can not speak English. Of course she has picked up a little of the language, but when she uses it our mother tongue is put through wilder convulsions than is the pretty Spaniard's body in her wildest cachucha.

And Carmencita, so widely advertised, so much written about in the papers, is still a novelty. I was convinced of it when I saw her one evening last week. The hall was well filled an hour before her appearance while jugglers and funny men were occupying the stage. Then came "La Fille de Madame Angot," and when in the midst of it Carmencita was announced, there was genuinely enthusiastic expectancy. But the dance didn't set people crazy. It was over so soon that many had only begun to realize its unusual character. There were two or three recalls rewarded by just a few little kicks apiece, and that was all. A fifth of the spectators, perhaps, inquired if that was all of Carmencita, and then as those who have seen a curiosity and suppose that they ought to be satisfied. Two of the four "gaiety dancers" who appeared later in the evening had more personal admirers, if one might judge by applause. But if either of those girls had danced for one minute after the fashion of Carmencita, she would have been nothing but a mass of dislocations and fractures at the end of it.

"EYES SO TRISTFUL."

She has a very supple figure. Not one woman in a hundred could ever learn, or could have been taught, if the lessons had begun in girlhood, to bend the spine as Carmencita can. If her movements were not so rapid their analogy to those of the ordinary contortionist would be perceptible.

Then she has been well trained. She talks a good deal about inspiration—says that she has only the general idea of a dance in her mind when she goes upon the stage—but careful work under a thoroughly competent teacher has made her what she is. To lapse into a descriptive "bull," she does very clever sleight-of-hand work with her body. She stands, let us say, with her arms extended as one of the pictures shows her. Then she bends backward, oh! so far backward, till you think her head will certainly fall off. Suddenly she turns her body a little to one side, but so quickly and with such a deceptive wave of the hands that your heart comes up into your mouth, for you think that her body has whirled clear around on her spine as an axis.

She can do a hundred such tricks as that. The positions which she really assumes are not a thousandth part so miraculous as those she makes one think she has assumed.

As to her kicking, well, it is graceful enough, and not at all improper, but I will defy anybody to fix his attention upon that part of the performance. The spectator with any soul at all will watch Carmencita's body, not her legs. That body, writhing with a thousand undulations, has not only the grace but the charm of a serpent. And here again it is trickery, although thoroughly artistic and therefore pardonable.

Carmencita's grace is that of motion rather than position. I can not say that I admire all her poses. She has a queer way of getting into some of them with a snap that would break a less talented young lady in two. And her motions, as I have said, are so deceptive, so nearly impossible to follow. If it were possible to get instantaneous photographs of her most rapid twists and flings, I am inclined to believe that they would be as surprising to lovers of the dance as the pictures of the running horse were to "old sports" some years ago.

HE HELD THE BAG.

But the Old Trick Didn't Work, for the Boston Man Caught the Rabbit.

Some time since a gentleman from Boston went to an Illinois town seeking rest and pleasure, says the St. Louis Republic. The gentleman knew all about Boston baked beans and brown bread, but very little about the long-eared Illinois rabbit. One afternoon a number of men and boys were discussing the matter of the great number of rabbits in the country this season, as it was thought they were all exterminated last winter. Some one in the crowd remarked that it would be good fun to go out "bagging" rabbits. The Boston man, not knowing what "bagging" rabbits meant, began to inquire. It was explained to him, and he expressed himself anxious to engage in such sport. It was arranged to go out to the timber east of the town that night and catch rabbits by the bagging process.

About 8:30 o'clock the crowd started. When about a half mile out of town they came to a hazel thicket where the rabbits were said to be numerous. The Boston man was stationed just outside of the thicket to hold the bag (a big coffee sack), while the boys went through the brush pretending to scare the rabbits out and run them into the sack. While going through the thicket the boys did actually scare up a rabbit, which ran directly into the bag.

The boys ran back to town and waited the coming of the bag-holder, who, they thought, would get lost in the timber and would be slow returning. They did not have long to wait, for in a few minutes in came the Boston man, the bag and rabbit on his shoulder, feeling happy, and remarking: "By gosh, I caught him."

Not yet discovering the trick that they had tried to play on him, he supposed that the rabbit was purposely driven in the sack.

The laugh was on the boys and the Boston man turned out to be the lion of the occasion, having bagged his game successfully. No more tricks have been played on the gentleman from Boston.

DR. TODD'S MISTAKE.

A Long-Winded Dissertation Ends in the Lecturer's Hasty Retreat.

If old Dr. Todd, of the R—— Medical College, where he is one of the most learned and valuable lecturers, has a pet hobby, it is "emphysema." The doctor, says the Chicago Herald, has a theory that directly conflicts with the beliefs of nearly all of the other eminent practitioners of the world. He holds that all players upon wind instruments have diseased lungs. The affection so contracted he calls "emphysema." Twice a year he lectures learnedly on emphysema. He has even been heard to remark that through this malady, discovered by himself, his name will be handed down to the future ages. As we now speak of "Bright's disease," so will future generations refer to "Todd's disease." One day a tall, cadaverous-looking individual entered Dr. Todd's clinic. A glance sufficed to show that the patient was in the last stages of consumption.

"What is your occupation?" inquired the doctor.

"I play in a band," hoarsely wheezed the poor sufferer.

"Aha!" exclaimed Dr. Todd, turning to the class, "what have I so often told you, gentlemen? Here we have a fine case of emphysema." Then followed a long dissertation on the effects produced upon the lungs by continually blowing a wind instrument. The class listened with great attention. They were not exactly convinced, but they could not help admitting that the doctor for once was making a strong argument. When the latter had finished he turned triumphantly to the consumptive musician and asked, patronizingly:

"What wind instrument do you play, sir?"

"The bass drum," wheezed the gentleman.

VOORHEES' ELOQUENCE.

Emotional Oratory That Came to an Ignominious End.

Senator Voorhees is an eloquent lawyer and is justly noted for his influence over a jury. Sometimes, however, he moves their sympathies and that of the court to no purpose, as one or two stories told in the New York Tribune will show.

He was once engaged in a suit before a justice of the peace to defend a young lady in an action against a bank. The case was a weak one, but Mr. Voorhees endeavored to work on the feelings of the court. He depicted the sufferings of his client until the sympathy of the "squire" was so aroused that tears trickled down the old gentleman's cheeks. But the decision was a disappointment.

"The plaintiff," said the squire, "is a woman, and her counsel has for the last hour touched the sympathy of the court in her behalf. I am glad of it; but I think, under the law, that justice is on the side of the bank. I therefore will find in favor of the bank, and let the record show that Mrs. —— has the full sympathy of the court."

Mr. Voorhees tells another story of emotional eloquence which came to an ignominious end. He had succeeded in delivering an appeal which had brought tears to the eyes of several jurymen. Then arose the prosecuting attorney, a gruff old man, with piping voice and nasal twang.

"Gentlemen," said he, deliberately helping himself to a pinch of snuff, "you might as well understand from the beginning that I am not boring for water."

This proved so effectual a wet blanket to the emotion excited by Mr. Voorhees that he realized the futility of his own "boring."

The Profit on the Nickel.

There has been a good deal said, and properly, about the profit made by the Government in coining dollars out of 75 cents' worth of silver, more or less. But how about the nickel 5-cent pieces? It is said that these pretty coins cost the United States just about a third of a cent each, and are issued for 5 cents, or fifteen times their value—a profit of about 1,400 per cent. Made up on that ratio the silver dollar would contain between 7 and 8 cents' worth of silver.

THE YOSEMITE VALLEY

A Fine Picture of the Beautiful Scenery to Be Found There.

John Muir, writing in the Century, gives one of the best word paintings of the Sierra scenery ever put in print. Speaking of the Sierra range in which the Yosemite valley is situated, he says:

"In general views no mark of man is visible upon it, nor any thing to suggest the wonderful depth and grandeur of its sculpture. None of its magnificent, forest-crowned ridges seems to rise much above the general level to publish its wealth. No great valley or river is seen, or group of well marked features of any kind standing out as distinct pictures. Even the summit peaks, marshaled in glorious array so high in the sky, seem comparatively smooth and featureless. Nevertheless the whole range is furrowed with canyons to a depth of from 2,000 to 5,000 feet, in which once flowed majestic glaciers, and in which now flow and sing the bright Sierra rivers.

"Though of such stupendous depth, these canyons are not raw, gloomy, jagged-walled gorges, savage and inaccessible. With rough passages here and there, they are mostly smooth, open pathways conducting to the fountains of the summit; mountain streets full of life and light, graded and sculptured by the ancient glaciers, and presenting throughout all their courses a rich variety of novel and attractive scenery—the most attractive that has yet been discovered in the mountain ranges of the world. In many places—especially in the middle region of the western flank—the main canyons widen into spacious valleys or parks of charming beauty.

"The most famous and accessible of these canyon valleys, and also the one that presents their most striking and sublime features on the grandest scale is the Yosemite, situated on the upper waters of the Merced at an elevation of 4,000 feet above the level of the sea. It is about seven miles long, half a mile to a mile wide and nearly a mile deep, and is carved in the solid granite flank of the range. The walls of the valley are made up of rocks, mountains in size, partly separated from each other by side canyons and gorges; and they are so sheer in front, and so compactly and harmoniously built together on a level floor, that the place, comprehensively seen, looks like some immense hall or temple lighted from above.

"But no temple made with hands can compare with Yosemite. Every rock in its walls seems to glow with life. Some lean back in majestic repose; others, absolutely sheer, or nearly so for thousands of feet, advance beyond their companions in thoughtful attitudes, giving welcome to storms and calms alike, seemingly conscious, yet heedless of every thing going on about them. Awful in stern, immovable majesty, how softly these mountain rocks are adorned and how fine and reassuring the company they keep—their feet set in groves and gay emerald meadows, their brows in the thin blue sky, a thousand flowers leaning confidingly against their adamantine bosses, bathed in floods of booming water, floods of light, while snow, clouds, winds, avalanches, shine and sing and wreathe about them as the years go by! Birds, bees, butterflies and myriads of nameless wings stir the air into music and give glad animation. Down through the midst flows the crystal Merced—river of mercy—peacefully gliding, reflecting lilies and trees and the onlooking rocks, things frail and fleeting and types of endurance meeting here and blending in countless forms, as if into this one mountain mansion nature had gathered her choicest treasures, whether great or small, to draw her lovers into close and confiding communion with her.

"Sauntering towards Yosemite up the foot-hills, richer and wilder become the forests and streams. At an elevation of 6,000 feet above the level of the sea the silver firs are 200 feet high, with branches around the colossal shafts in regular order, and every branch beautifully pinnate like a fern leaf. The Douglas spruce and the yellow and sugar pines here reach their highest developments of beauty and grandeur, and the rich, brown-barked libocedrus, with warm, yellow-green plumes. The majestic sequoia, too, is here, the king of conifers, the noblest of a noble race. All these colossal trees are as wonderful in the fineness of their beauty and proportions as in stature, growing together, an assemblage of conifers surpassing all that have yet been discovered in the forests of the world. Here, indeed, is the tree-lover's paradise, the woods, dry and wholesome, letting in the light in shimmering masses, half sunshine, half shade, the air indescribably spicy and exhilarating, plushy fir boughs for beds, and cascades to sing us asleep as we gaze through the trees to the stars."

A Dove Attends Church.

A Massachusetts young lady reports that she saw an unusual attendant in a church in a rural Maine town, which she visited this summer. Hearing the cooing of a dove she looked around and saw a white dove perched on the organ and listening to the music with great appreciation. She learned afterwards that the dove had been a regular attendant at church for eight or ten years, being attracted by the music, of which it was very fond. It was twelve years old, and was the pet of a lady who lived near. After church the dove was taken to a Sunday-school class and seemed to enjoy the proceedings.

Going and Saying.

He sat and looked at the busy editor for about fifteen minutes steadily. Finally he yawned sleepily and remarked: "There are some things in this world that go without saying." "I know it," snapped the editor, "but there are too darned many things that say a good deal without going."

Heroes Are All Tall.

A study of novel heroes by the London Speaker discloses the fact that of 192 masculine characters in recent summer fiction almost half were described as being over six feet tall. None were under the average height. It is really too bad to put such finely-built gentlemen to such poor use.

"I AM NOT WELL ENOUGH TO WORK."

This is a daily event in mills, shops, factories, etc. It is the point where Nature can endure no more, and demands a rest. Then the poor sufferer, worn with toil, and broken in health, stands aside to make room for another. "Quick consumption" they called it.

A PRISON OF DEATH

Terrible Holocaust in a Hotel at Syracuse.

THE LELAND HOUSE DESTROYED

Rescuing the Living and Recovering the Dead Early This Morning.

THE KILLED ESTIMATED AT 25.

Panic-Stricken Guests Leap from the Windows to the Pavement.

The Firemen Fight the Flames for Over Three Hours—One Woman's Brains Knocked Out While Being Lowered from a Window—Cora Tanner, the Actress, Burned—A Babel of Confusion and Panicky Excitement—The Fire Started in the Kitchen—Loss Half a Million.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 16.—What proved to be the most disastrous fire that has visited Syracuse for many years was discovered in the Leland Hotel early this morning.

The fire burned fiercely until 3 o'clock, although the entire fire department, consisting of nine engines, was working on the building.

Guard lines stretched across the streets were inadequate to keep back the surging crowds of people that were packed in the streets leading to the hotel, and police were stationed all around the building.

Compelled to Jump.

The fire, which started in the kitchen, spread by means of the elevator well, which was near the stairway and so all means of escape were cut off and those in the upper stories were compelled to jump. The clerk of the hotel began sending in the alarm by telephone but the flames spread so rapidly that he was driven from the instrument and compelled to jump to save his own life. The firemen saved many lives. Nothing is left of the building except the elevator shaft and the chimney.

So great was the confusion and excitement that the identity of those killed and injured is wholly unknown. Undertakers' ambulances were flying in all directions, and the streets in the neighborhood of the ill-fated hotel were thronged with excited crowds of people. The injured were taken to other hotels and hospitals and on this account it is impossible to obtain a list of the names.

Twenty-Five Killed.

An eye-witness of the fire says he is positive that at least twenty-five persons have lost their lives and many more have been more or less injured.

Many lives were lost by people crazed with fright, who jumped from windows.

One man says he saw six people jump from different windows on the Fayette street side of the building within a space of four minutes, and the sight so sickened him with its horror that he was compelled to leave the spot.

The building was provided with both iron fire escapes on the outside and ropes on the inside, and was the means of saving many lives.

One woman was found with a nursing babe in her arms, crouched under a stairway, where she had been overcome by smoke.

Burnet Forbes, a stockbroker, of this city, escaped into the street almost naked. He was slightly injured about the hands. He loses a gold watch valued at $500 and all of his clothing.

A Woman's Brains Knocked Out.

One woman was being lowered from a window by the aid of a rope. She had reached a point opposite the third story, when the rope became ignited from a burning sill. The rope parted and the woman fell to the pavement; her brains were dashed out and her body flattened into a shapeless mass.

Cora Tanner Among the Injured.

Among those injured is Cora Tanner, the actress, who was severely burned about the head and feet. She was playing an engagement at the Grand Opera House and had a room in the hotel.

Heartrending Scenes.

The scenes and incidents connected with the rescue of inmates were heartrending in the extreme.

The cries of women standing in upper windows and of the excited crowd below were deafening, and added to this the constant roar of many fire engines, created a babel of confusion and panicky excitement in and around the hotel.

The Building a Total Loss.

The building is a total loss. It was built two years ago at a cost of $150,000. It was six stories high and contained 300 rooms.

It is not known how many guests were in the hotel at the time the fire broke out.

The building is partially covered by insurance, but it is impossible to learn how much insurance was carried on the hotel furniture or what the private and individual losses will be.

The total loss will reach a half million dollars.

Frank Casey, of Glens Falls, N. Y., is among the missing.

All is Confusion.

Physicians are attending to the injured, and owing to the care taken to save the lives of the unfortunates, it will be late this afternoon before a list of the injured can be prepared for publication.

Five Years for Stoning a Train.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Wm. Wilson was sentenced to five years and six months for stoning a Central Hudson passenger train.

BASEBALL CONSOLIDATION.

The War of the Rival Leagues Practically Over.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—That the two local baseball clubs will consolidate before the commencement of next season there is no longer any reason to doubt.

The meeting of yesterday removed many of the principal obstacles that interfered with the consolidation schemes that the magnates so ardently wished to perfect.

Only a few minor details remain to be dealt with before the consolidation of the two great clubs becomes an actual fact.

A new league will be formed with the following clubs: New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Brooklyn in the East, and Chicago, Cincinnati, Columbus and Indianapolis in the West.

The Association it is expected will remain entirely independent so far as the big league will be concerned.

The circuit of the Association will embrace Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore, Cleveland, St. Louis, Louisville and Pittsburg.

What would make a strong team for New York would be: Catchers—Ewing, Clarke, Murphy, Buckley; pitchers—Keefe, Welch, Rusie, and Sharrott or Burkett. The infield, Connor, Richardson, Glasscock and Denny. In the field, Slattery, Gore and Tiernan.

REFORMED CHURCH SYNOD.

The 144th Annual Session Now Being Held at Reading.

READING, Pa., Oct. 16.—The 144th annual session of the Eastern Synod of the Reformed Church in the United States, the oldest synodical body of the denomination in this country, commenced here last night to be continued eight days. The annual sermon was preached by Rev. John M. Fitzel, D. D., of Lancaster, the retiring president.

This synod embraces, in round numbers, 250 ministers, nearly 500 churches, 600 Sunday-schools, and its jurisdiction includes, besides portions of other States, all of East and Central Pennsylvania. Reports which will be submitted will show a very satisfactory increase in the membership over last year.

Ocean Grove Camp Meeting Association.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Oct. 16.—At the annual meeting of the Ocean Grove Camp Meeting Association, Wm H. Skirm, of Trenton; A. C. Fields, of Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., and C. H. Harding, of Philadelphia, were elected members of the Executive Committee to fill vacancies caused by death. E. H. Stokes was elected president; A. E. Ballard, vice-president; David H. Brown, treasurer, and George W. Evans, secretary. The treasurer's report shows receipts for the year of $150,000; expenditures, $160,000.

Arrested for Cruelty to a Horse.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Charles F. Bates, the young man who is charged with setting fire to his father's horse, at Newport, R. I., last Monday, has been turned over to Officer Hammond of the Anti-Cruelty Society of Rhode Island. Bates' father, who is a wealthy importer in this city, owns a cottage at Newport. Young Bates took one of his father's horses out to drive and, the animal balking, he poured alcohol over the beast and set it on fire.

Speaker Reed's Western Trip.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 16.—A large Republican meeting held here last evening was addressed by Speaker Reed. Before leaving the city to-day he told a reporter that he would speak in McKinley's district in Wooster, Alliance and Marion, O., and at Logansport, Ind., on Monday, October 20, in the interest of Congressman Owen, who has been nominated by the Republicans of the Tenth district.

Said to Have Three Wives.

BONDOUT, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Harry M. Crawford, of Newark, N. J., was held to await the action of the grand jury, for bigamy, in the sum of $2,000. He is said to have had three wives. He is about 35 years old. The first died, it is alleged, from cruel treatment. The second was Laura A. Kane, of Newark, who caused his arrest, and the last is Leona Dubois, of Port Ewen, N. Y.

Stephani's Sanity to be Tested.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The case of young Alphonse Stephani, the murderer of Judge Reynolds, was taken up by Judge Martine to-day. This decision was arrived at by him on account of the revelations concerning Dr. William M. Fleming and General M. S. Littlefield, who, it is alleged by Mrs. Josephine Stephani, extorted $5,000 from her.

Suit Under the Civil Damage Law.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Oct. 16.—The widow of Washington Olivet, who was murdered by Arthur Pendergast, has commenced an action for $5,000 against Hamilton Pray, at whose saloon her husband obtained the liquor of which he was under the influence when shot. The suit is brought under the civil damage law.

Groundless Charge Leads to a Triple Tragedy.

POISON ENDS THE WIFE'S MISERY

The Husband Shoots Himself When Told of Her Death.

A Young Babe Forgotten in the Excitement and It Was Found Dead—Supposed that the Mother Gave It Some of the Poison—An Inquest Will Probably be Held.

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., Oct. 16.—For some time past Gader Showdash has made accusations against his wife, which seem to have been groundless, and the couple have quarrelled.

Yesterday Showdash renewed his accusations and, after the ensuing quarrel, left his home to go to work. In the morning the woman soaked the heads of a quantity of matches in water, and swallowed the poison, dying soon afterward in great agony.

When Showdash returned to his house and found his wife dead he procured a revolver and shot and killed himself.

During the excitement caused by the tragedy the young babe of the couple was forgotten, but when search was made for it it too was found dead. It is presumed that Mrs. Showdash gave some of the poison to the child.

THE SKULL IN COURT.

Exciting Scenes in the Ellenberger Murder Trial at Elmira.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Oct. 16.—In the Ellenberger murder trial, it was shown by the murdered man's wife, Mrs. Edwards, and by her son, that Mrs. Ellenberger was an expert shot with a revolver. She was once arrested and tried for burning her farm buildings for the insurance.

During the day Edwards' shattered skull was offered in evidence. His widow and daughter were overcome, and there was a sensation in the overcrowded court house. All the leading criminal lawyers of this section are engaged in the trial on one side or the other. United States Marshal Baxter is assisting the district attorney in the prosecution. The case of the people has been made, and the defence is now offering testimony.

FIVE MEN BURIED ALIVE.

Three Lives Lost by a Cave-In of Rock in a Mining Shaft.

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich., Oct. 16.—Five men were buried alive by a cave-in of rock in shaft No. 1 of the Ludington Mine, and three were taken out dead.

Work was at once begun to liberate the imprisoned miners, and soon two of them were rescued uninjured. J. Fisher was discovered almost covered with ore and pinned down by timbers. He was alive when found, but died before he could be got out. William Bailey and W. R. Davis were dead when the rescuing party reached them. The shaft was about to be abandoned, and the timbers were being removed.

Miss Shaw a Lunatic.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 16.—Miss Shaw, the beautiful variety actress who was rescued from the roof of the Putnam Building, on Franklin street, while walking in a nude condition along the roof in her sleep, has been adjudged a lunatic. Miss Shaw belongs to Putnam's Variety Show here. She is about 22, and is described as a beautiful girl of a mild blonde type. The girl is an opium eater and has been drinking to access for several weeks. She is believed to be a native of Toronto, Can.

Flight of a Bigamist.

WATERBURY, Conn., Oct. 16.—Perry Newton, who was married to Miss Maggie O'Connor of Torrington, three years ago, and was converted to the Catholic faith, is now proven to have two other living wives. Miss May Waters was married in Brewster, Sept. 1, 1885, and Miss Bertha Schmidt was wedded in Yonkers, N. Y., in 1886. When Newton went to Torrington he cut a great swell in society. He fled Tuesday night leaving Miss O'Connor and a baby.

Mr. Bancroft Very Feeble.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 16.—Hon. George Bancroft left on the New York boat last night for his winter home in Washington. He is too feeble to go by rail, as formerly, and will stop at New York for rest.

Bookmakers Indicted.

FREEHOLD, N. J., Oct. 16.—It is reported that the Monmouth County Grand Jury has indicted the Monmouth Park bookmakers upon charges of gambling preferred by New York pool room proprietors, who were refused communications from the track.

THE ENGINEERS.

Mr. Chauncey M. Depew Addresses the Convention To-Day.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 16.—Every one of the 452 divisions of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is represented at the twenty-seventh annual International convention now in session in Old City Hall.

Chauncey M. Depew addressed an open session of the convention at the Grand Opera House to-day. He was followed by the mayors of Pittsburg and Allegheny, and several other speakers.

Before the meeting Grand Chief Arthur and First Grand Engineer Ingraham were seen, but neither of these gentlemen was willing to venture an opinion as to what understanding the convention would come to on the question of affiliation with the Federation of Railroad Employes.

Mr. Arthur said from what he had observed sentiment was about evenly divided on the matter. "I have not had sufficient time to glean the opinions of the delegates since I have arrived, and cannot therefore give you an idea about how the matter will be disposed of."

When asked how he regarded the proposition to unite with the Knights of Labor, Mr. Arthur would not commit himself.

The general sentiment of the delegates seen is decidedly against it. Mr. John A. Hill, editor of the Locomotive Engineer, thought that when it came to a vote the delegates would knock it out. "The Western delegates favor the proposition most," said he, "but I believe they are largely in the minority."

Other prominet members of the order expressed the same views and the belief exists that the convention will still continue independent of other labor organizations.

THIRTEEN INJURED.

Accident to a Construction Train on the Old Colony Road.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 16.—An accident occurred on the North Attleboro and Walpole extension of the Old Colony Railroad last night by which one man was killed and 13 were injured.

A flat car which had been left standing on the track was struck by a construction train. The flat car jumped the track, killing the foreman of the construction gang, Elisha Merrill, and injuring the others.

THREE DEATHS IN A MINE.

Hungarians Buried Under a Mass of Rock and Crushed to a Jelly.

HAZLETON, Pa., Oct. 16.—James Philips was instantly killed by a fall of coal in the mines at Audenried. A few hours later Peter Badman and John Klowitski, two Hungarians, were buried under a mass of rock and crushed to a jelly in the same mine.

Klowitski's sweetheart telegraphed him yesterday from New York to come and bring her to Audenried to-day. It was his intention to go to New York for her and marry her there.

Rumored Defalcation.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Harry B. Depuy, member of the real estate and insurance firm of Depuy & Westbrook, has been missing since Monday and it is rumored that he has absconded with several thousand dollars. He is a young widower and has long been a reputable business man here. The alleged defalcation is said to date back prior to September last when the existing copartnership was formed.

Votocil Now Claims Sanity.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—John Votocil, who was acquitted of the charge of murdering his child by throwing it out of a window, on the ground of insanity, and then committed to an insane asylum, has obtained a writ of habeas corpus to effect his release. His counsel claim that the jury found that he was insane at the time the act was committed, but is now sane.

The Andover Case with the Judges.

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—The hearing of the celebrated Andover case was continued before the Supreme Court. A. H. Wellman, Judge Asa French and Judge E. R. Hoar argued against Professor Smyth on behalf of the Visitors. Professor E. S. Baldwin summed up for Professor Smyth, and the court took the matter under advisement.

Gen. Butterfield Will Run.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Oct. 16.—General Daniel Butterfield, who is here with the Count of Paris, sent a telegram to Mr. C. C. Shayne, representing the Business Men's Republican organization of New York city, accepting conditionally, the nomination for the office of Mayor of New York.

Extension of Time Granted.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 16.—The creditors of the Harrisburg Car Company, at a meeting practically decided to grant the extension of time asked by the directors, in order to complete existing contracts and tide over the present embarrassments. The company's assets greatly exceed their liabilities.

Talk About Tin Plate Factories.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 16.—It is stated that at least three tin plate factories will spring up in this vicinity in the near future. They are the United States Tin Plate Company, at Demmler station; the Jennings, Beale & Co.'s works, at Leechburg, and Kirkpatrick Co., Apollo.

Appointments by Gov. Abbett.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 16.—Gov. Abbett has appointed Albert R. Reeds of Hoboken a member of the State Board of Health, and Edward W. McGann of Middlesex County Director of the County Weather Bureau at New Brunswick.

Steel Manufacturers Confer With Secretary Tracy.

THE NEW SHIPS THE SUBJECT.

Funerals of Justice Miller and General Belknap To-Day.

The Dead Jurist's Remains to be Taken to Iowa To-Night—The ex-Secretary of War Buried With Military Honors. More Gossip About the Extra Session of Congress.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—There was an important consultation this morning in the office of the Secretary of the Navy between Mr. Tracy and about 35 prominent steel manufacturers from various parts of the country.

For some time past the Navy Department has evinced an extremely critical spirit in regard to the steel furnished by the manufacturers for the new navy vessels. A great deal of it has been rejected by the department as not coming up to the required standard.

This has occurred so often under both Secretary Whitney and Secretary Tracy, that the manufacturers have at last become discouraged as well as somewhat indignant, and now they propose to have a talk with the authorities at headquarters and see if they cannot come to a better understanding. The manufacturers say that the department is altogether too severe, and that they have no difficulty in selling the rejected steel to other customers of the most exacting kind.

THE DEAD JURIST.

The Funeral Ceremonies To-Day in the Supreme Court Room.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The funeral ceremonies of the late Justice Miller were observed in the Supreme Court room. Owing to the very scanty accommodations, only the officials of the Government and immediate friends and relatives were able to attend.

The remains will be taken this evening to Keokuk, Ia. Chief Justice Fuller and Justice Brewer will accompany them.

General Belknap's Funeral.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The funeral of Gen. Belknap took place at St. John's Church at 10:30. The Grand Army of the Republic and the Union Veterans' Corps attended the funeral in a body. The Third Artillery Band was also present. The following named gentlemen acted as pallbearers: General L. A. Grant, Assistant Secretary of War; Admiral S. P. Lee, General Bussey, Assistant Secretary of the Interior; Gen. Batcheller, Minister to Portugal, Gen. Benet, Gen. Vincent, Gen. Boynton, Senator Manderson, Hallet Kilbourn, A. S. Worthington, John A. Kasson and J. A. J. Caswell.

Conference at the Treasury Department.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—A conference will be held at the Treasury Department November 12 between Assistant Secretary Spaulding and persons interested in the transportation of goods in bond between the United States and Canada. A number of railroad officials requested the hearing that they might make suggestions to expedite the transmission of goods through the United States, and to straighten out the regulations pertaining to them. A large representation of railroad officials from this country and Canada is expected to be present.

Secretary Rusk Interviewed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Secretary Rusk is the only member of the Cabinet who has anything to say about the discussion of the extra session question at the Cabinet meeting. "The matter was discussed," he said, "but no conclusion was reached. The question as to whether such action would operate to damage Republican interest was not considered. I don't know what will be done, but it was not decided to abandon the idea of calling an extra session."

DILLON AND O'BRIEN.

The Irish Fugitives in France Waiting to Leave for America.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—La Presse states that Dillon and O'Brien, after their flight from Tipperary, took passage on a sailing vessel and landed at Lucieur-Mer. They came directly here and passed the night with Mr. Raffalovitch, Mr. O'Brien's brother-in-law. Mr. O'Brien went yesterday to the latter's country seat, the Chateau de Gif.

The fugitives intended to catch the French steamship from Havre on Saturday, but, failing in this, they are now awaiting advices from America. If they learn that their escape has produced a favorable effect there, they will embark on the Bretagne on the 18th.

This story is contradicted by Dr. Raffalovitch's father, who says that his son is in Egypt, and that so far as the family are aware, Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien are not in France. He yesterday received a letter from his daughter, Mrs. O'Brien, in which she said she was about to sail for America, where she expected to join her husband. He believes that the Nationalist leaders sailed for America nearly a week ago, but that instead of taking one of the fast ocean liners, as is generally supposed, they embarked on a comparatively slow vessel.

CHERBOURG, Oct. 16.—Messrs. Dillon, O'Brien and Clancy arrived here at noon and started for Paris shortly after.

Gov. Hill's Unexpected Visit.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Governor David B Hill, accompanied by the Hon. Roswell P. Flower, arrived at the Hoffman House shortly after 9 o'clock last night from Albany. The Governor's visit was unannounced at the hotel and only a very few of the true and trusted knew he was coming.

JACK M'AULIFFE'S TROUBLE

The Pugilist Arrested for His Wife's Death but Quickly Released.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—There was considerable excitement over the arrest of Jack McAuliffe, the champion lightweight pugilist, on suspicion of having caused the death of Katie Hart, the well-known soubrette, in the West Side Hotel at 15th street and Sixth avenue. At 11:30 in the forenoon Detective Hayes escorted the pugilist down to the Coroner's Office. Deputy Coroner Donlin had been engaged all the morning in performing the autopsy on the woman's body, and McAuliffe waited patiently for developments.

Dr. Donlin reported that he found that death had resulted from valvular disease of the heart and that the superficial bruises on her face had in no way aided in her death.

McAuliffe, a few minutes before the arrival of the report, left the coroner's office with Detective Hayes, but a messenger was despatched to the Thirtieth street station house with a statement of the result of the autopsy and McAuliffe was immediately released from custody.

Dr. Donlin granted a permit of burial and the body was removed to McAuliffe's home in Williamsburg. The funeral will take place to-morrow and the interment will be in Cavalry Cemetery.

McAuliffe married the deceased in San Francisco five months ago.

M'GONEGAL SENTENCED.

The New York Doctor Gets Fourteen Years at Hard Labor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Judge Fitzgerald denied the motion for a new trial in the case of "Dr." McGonegal and sentenced him to fourteen years at hard labor in State prison. He was recently convicted of manslaughter in causing the death of Annie Goodwin by malpractice.

Mr. Brooke, counsel for the prisoner, gave notice that he intended to ask for a stay, pending an appeal, and promised to file his bill of exceptions within five days.

The doctor was taken back to the Toombs by Deputy Sheriff Burke. He seemed somewhat agitated when the heavy sentence fell upon him as he stood at the bar, but soon resumed his usual complaisant manner and chatted freely with friends.

Socialists Stand on Science.

HALLE, Oct. 16.—In the Socialist Congress Herr Liebknecht said that Socialists demand trial by jury, and the gratuitous administration of justice and of legal and medical assistance. Therefore, all lawyers and doctors ought to be permanent State officials. The party stands on the basis of science, and while it adheres thereto it will be invincible.

Italian Criminals Barred.

ROME, Oct. 16.—The United States Government has notified the Italian Government that hereafter no Italian immigrants who have been under sentence in the courts of their native country will be permitted to land in America.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—It is reported that United States Treasurer Huston is to be appointed to the office of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, left vacant by the promotion of General Batcheller to the Diplomatic Service.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Consul General New sailed from New York for London.

At Aleppo, Turkey, the deaths from cholera average fifty daily.

Numerous arrests of workmen accused of Socialism continue in St. Petersburg and Moscow.

W. L. Gorgas, of Harrisburg, Pa., was nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Fourteenth District.

Arthur Pendergast, who was found guilty at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., of murder in the second degree in killing Washington Olivett, was sentenced to State prison for life.

James Ryan, stroke of the Bradford Club eight-oared crew, of Boston has been arrested in Cambridge charged with assault in pushing a Boston reporter overboard at the club house on October 5. Ill-feeling owing to the publication of certain articles is said to have caused the assault.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—For New England: Fair weather; stationary temperature; westerly winds.

For Massachusetts and Eastern New York: Fair weather; stationary temperature; variable winds, generally southwesterly.

For New Jersey: Fair weather; southwesterly winds; slightly warmer.

For Western New York and Western Pennsylvania: Fair weather; slight changes in temperature; southwesterly winds.

THE DAILY PRESS.

W. L. & A. L. FORCE, Publishers and Proprietors.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - Managing Editor.

BY THE WAY.

—Charles Roberts, the charming reader, will appear with the Dudley Buck Quartette at Music Hall, this evening.

—The first opportunity ever afforded the Plainfield people to hear Adolph Glose, the pianist, is at Music Hall, this evening.

—J. F. Mac Donald says, "don't think because I have not changed my adv of late, that I have forgotten it. I am still selling butter as advertised."

—City Judge Codington sentenced Wm. Kenny this morning to sixty days' imprisonment in the county jail, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

—One thousand pairs of rubbers have been received at Geo. W. Force's, 11 West Front street, where foot-wear of all descriptions may be purchased at reduced prices.

—The semi-monthly meeting of "The Young Ladies' Mission Band," of the First Baptist church, will be held in the church parlors to-morrow from two to five P. M.

—The concert by the celebrated Dudley Buck Quartette, at Music Hall, this evening, is an event that the best people of the city are looking forward to with great expectations.

—There will be gospel meetings in Reform Hall this and to-morrow evenings, at 8 o'clock, conducted by Mrs. C. S. Whitney of New York city. All are cordially welcome.

—Don't forget the talk of the Rev. W. R. Richards at the Y. M. C. A., this evening at 8:10 o'clock. Subject; "The Experiences of a Young Men at College." College songs at 8 o'clock. Admission Free.

—The Workers Training Class for ladies, conducted by E. L. Suffern, will meet at the Y. M. C. A., to-morrow at 4 P. M. Topic: Review of Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy. All ladies are invited.

—W. S. Ayres and James E. Totten, formerly with the Adams Express Company, have started a city express of their own, and since they are young men of energy and reliability they will doubtless win a large share of public patronage. They receive orders at 10 Park avenue.

—Irving G. Stelle has removed his livery headquarters from West Front street to 9 West Sixth, where he has what he claims are the finest stables in the city. He has first-class horses constantly on hand, and has provided apparatus for having horse-clipping done at the stables.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Felix Marx, of East Front street, has returned from an extended European trip.

Gerome Pack, of 31 Park avenue, was taken ill on Saturday last, and is now in a serious condition.

At eight o'clock this evening at the home of the bride's parents in Evona, is to take place the marriage of Allie Johnson and John J. Peterson.

Mrs. Butler, of this city, President of the Woman's Foreign Society of New Jersey, will speak in the Westfield Baptist church, Friday evening, on a missionary topic.

Chauncey B. Ripley, LL. D., of Westfield, President of the New York post graduate chapter of Cornell University, presided at a college banquet at Ithaca, last Friday evening.

John W. Murray has purchased the Hait property on Union avenue. The price paid was about $15,000, which is far below its cost. Mr. Murray, it is understood, made the purchase merely as an investment.

A number of the friends of Miss Hattie Milligan, of Washingtonville, enjoyed a pleasant evening at the home of her parents, Maplewood Cottage, last night. It was the anniversary of her birth. Social games, music and singing passed the time only too quickly.

Councilman Roberts, who was one of the invited guests who attended the firemen's parade at Perth Amboy, yesterday, reports a good time and a royal entertainment. He says the Mayor and people were most gracious and cordial in their welcome, and the ladies prepared one of the finest banquets he had ever enjoyed.

The eightieth birthday of the Rev. John Carey, was celebrated at his home in North Plainfield, last evening, by a surprise donation party in which a large number of friends took part. Good judgment was shown in the quality of the gifts brought the old gentleman. Groceries enough to last him most of the Winter, now fill his closets to overflowing.

Everitt S. Swalm, younger son of William Swalm, of this city, is under a salary of $2,000 a year as soloist and leader in the choir of the Ross Street Presbyterian church, Brooklyn. Dudley Buck became so charmed with his voice, that he has secured him to sing in his quartette this season. Mr. Swalm will make his first public appearance in years, in Plainfield, at Music Hall, this evening.

The funeral of the late Wm. E. Jones took place this afternoon, from his late residence in North Plainfield, at 2 o'clock, and from the First Baptist church at half-past two. The Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes conducted the services. The Somerset County Board of Freeholders, Exempt Firemen's Association, and Noah Dove Encampment, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, attended in a body. A delegation was also present from the New Jersey Fish & Game Protective Society.

HYMENEAL.

Miller—TenEyck.

There was a quiet wedding ceremony performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Israel D. TenEyck, on Liberty street, this city, last evening. The contracting parties were Wallace V. Miller and Miss Isa Dora TenEyck, the nuptial knot being tied by the Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes. In consequence of the serious illness of the groom's mother, the wedding was a private one, only a few of the members of the families of the contracting parties being present. The happy couple started on an extended tour to Niagara Falls and Toronto on the 9:30 P. M. train, followed by the best wishes of a host of friends.

BARKALEW—KISSAM.

At the home of the bride's brothers, Wm. and Bernard Kissam, 14 Elm place, there was married last evening at seven o'clock, Miss Fannie Kissam and Milton C. Barkalew, of Emily street, North Plainfield, The Rev. N. E. Cadwell, of Westfield, officiated. The bride was dressed in traveling costume of ashes-of-rose soutan cloth elaborately trimmed with gilt passamenterie, and carried a fragrant bouquet. The wedding was a quiet affair, attended by only a few invited friends and relatives. The presents were very many and valuable. Supper was served directly after the ceremony and Mr. and Mrs. Barkalew left for Washington. Upon their return they will live at the groom's home on Emily street. Mr. Barkalew is the senior member of a well-known firm of North avenue grocers.

An Interesting Meeting in Holy Cross Church.

The Autumn meeting of the Upper Division of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions, representing this diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church, took place yesterday in Holy Cross church. At 11:30 a. m. there was a short service in the church, at which the rector, the Rev. T. Logan Murphy, spoke briefly about the Auxiliary and in the highest way praised its good work.

Following this the meeting opened and addresses were made by several women. At one o'clock luncheon was served in the beautiful Sunday school room, and at two o'clock Miss Sybil Carter, whose missionary labors have put a girdle around the earth, made a most interesting address to nearly two hundred persons about her experiences among the Japanese, Chinese and Indians. She exhibited models of Chinese household furniture and utensils with specimens of Japanese art, and surprised her auditors by showing some uncommonly fine lace made by the American Indians. Delegates were present from Elizabeth, New Brunswick, Trenton and almost every town in this vicinity. The next meeting will be held at Roselle in January.

Gains in Local Registration Lists.

The registration of voters this year is different than ever before, in that a house-to-house canvass for voters was made, so that there should be no excuse for a man's name not appearing on the lists to be used election day. Under the new ballot reform law containing this provision two days were set aside for the revision of the house-to-house lists. One of these days was last Tuesday, and as the lists now stand they are supposed to be very complete. The final revision will take place Tuesday, Oct. 28. Below is a comparison of the registration this year with that of last:

|---|---|---|
| First ward | 584 | 560 |
| Second ward | 545 | 569 |
| Third ward | 417 | 478 |
| Fourth ward— | | |
| 1st District | 386 | 449 |
| 2d District | 348 | 372 |
| Total | 2,280 | 2,428 |

In North Plainfield 465 have been registered in the First District, and 409 in the Second. The total vote cast in the entire township last year was only 729.

Plainfield's Yale Prize-winner.

At a meeting of the Plainfield Yale Club held Tuesday, Oct. 14, Samuel Huntington was elected President, John M. Whiton, Vice President, and Howard C. Tracy Secretary and Treasurer. It was voted to hold the annual banquet during the Christmas holidays. The prize of $25 offered to the Plainfield boy who should pass the best entrance examination was awarded to George F. Van Slyck.

An Encounter Among Allopathists.

Dr. George Washington Endicott and Dr. William Cæsar Boone, two of the most popular, prominent and prosperous Plainfield physicians, of the school of allopathy, met on Park avenue, yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Endicott upset Dr. Boone's carriage and threw the latter in the street. There were no arrests, however, and the two doctors still speak to one another.

A Select Circle of Bowlers at Netherwood Heights.

The Netherwood Bowling Club, a select social organization which bowls every Tuesday night, takes its name from the fact that the majority of the members pass the Summer at Netherwood, where the club posseseses alleys of its own.

—Albert Brown, of the Borough, has had a man who gives his name as David Vail arrested on the charge of stealing a buckboard. Vail said he had a horse, and needed a wagon, and was too poor to buy one.

A SUBURBAN LOTHARIO TRAPPED.

An Injured Wife Discovers Her Husband's Faithlessness, and Begins Proceedings for a Divorce.

A domestic rumpus of no small magnitude is reported by the New Brunswick Fredonian as having occurred, recently, "in a well-known family in a delightful home" not far from this city. A truant husband had returned to his anxious wife, who had by careful investigation unmasked a well concocted story which he had told to cover various absences from home at night.

The story of the episode which resulted in the discovery of the husband's perfidy, is briefly to this effect: On the day of the firemen's parade in New Brunswick, the husband went to town ostensibly to view the parade, as he informed his unsuspicious wife.

On his arrival he met a female acquaintance with whom he drove to Plainfield, and, it is said, remained here until an early morning hour, when he returned to his home.

Previous to making the trip to Plainfield he forwarded a letter to his wife, informing her that a horse and buggy, owned by a member of a certain Protection Society, of which he was a member, had been stolen from in front of a store by some unknown person, and that he had been appointed on a committee of investigation to endeavor to trace and capture the thief.

The lie was believed at that time. Two nights passed without the return of the "amateur detective," and the wife becoming uneasy, went to New Brunswick with friends to investigate the matter and found to their surprise that no horse and buggy had been stolen as represented, and also that the Protection Society knew nothing of the matter nor had they appointed any committee such as he had reported.

The suspicions of the injured wife were aroused, and further investigations proved that they were only too well founded. When the husband heard of the investigations instituted by his wife he became furious and swore eternal vengeance towards a supposed enemy who had given him away. It is rumored that an action for divorce will follow the escapade, as the wife has secured the services of a detective at Plainfield to trace her truant spouse after he reached that city.

Cora Anxious to See a Wedding.

"Cora," for many years Chimney Rock correspondent of the Somerville Messenger, referring to the recent marriage of Wm. A. Coddington, of this city, and Miss Ida M. Wilson, of North Plainfield, writes as follows:

"The groom, who was until recently Superintendent of the Chimney Rock chapel, has the best wishes of hosts of friends here, and may a long happy life be his lot. Mr. Coddington is the third young man in succession who resigned the charge as Superintendent of our Sunday school and got married. This makes the position seem as though some sort of matrimonial noose were hovering near. Why don't some of the other young people follow the example of the Superintendents—not to resign, but to have a wedding? That's what we want in the chapel next."

'Twas Too Thin.

A thin lot of thin voiced women rendered "Evangeline" in a thin way at Music Hall, last evening, to the biggest house of the year excepting when minstrel shows have appeared. The costumes were fine, but the talent of the cast outside of Richard Harlow as Catherine, was spread on very thin. Accompanying the thin harmony of the chorus was the thinnest incidental music that even the Music Hall orchestra ever gave.

Deacons and Elders of Trinity Church.

The annual election of officers was held at the Trinity Reformed church last evening. A large number of the church members attended. P. P. Van Arsdale was elected chairman of the meeting, and D. Van Winkle clerk. Geo. L. Van Emburgh, John H. Van Winkle and Alex Willet were chosen elders, and D. Van-Winkle, H. E. Gayle and Alburtus Swalm were appointed deacons.

—Several small boys had a gay time wrestling and romping on the sidewalk in front of Vanderbeek's on Park avenue, last night, till one of them was thrown down an area-way and received an ugly gash on the head.

[illegible] an Explosion.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—An explosion of chemicals in the packing room of H. K. Mulford & Co.'s manufactory caused a fire which damaged the stock and building to the extent of $50,000. One of the firemen and two male employes of the firm were cut about the head and hands while attempting to save some of the stock.

Boston Will Not Have It.

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—The performance of the "Clemenceau Case," came to an end here rather abruptly. Several members of the Board of Aldermen witnessed the show and the management of the theater was notified that its license had been revoked.

Continentals Visit the Fencibles.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—The Continentals of Worcester, Mass., are in this city for a two days' stay as the guests of the State Fencibles. They are quartered at the Continental.

Stricken With Apoplexy.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Col. William A. Booth, superintendent of construction of the new postoffice in Brooklyn, was stricken with apoplexy in his office in that city. His condition is precarious.

Attention, Exempt Firemen!

Members of the Exempt Fireman's Association of Plainfield, N. J., are requested to meet in their rooms on Wednesday evening Oct. 15, instant, at 8 o'clock, to make arrangements to attend the funeral of their late brother, W. E. Jones.

Deceptive Advertising.

Many people are constantly being deceived by the high sounding advertisements published by some large establishments in the nearby large cities.

A "special sale" of Carpets now going on in one of our large neighboring cities, is a very striking illustration.

They announce with an immense flourish of adjectives, in this wise, viz: because of their extensive purchases; in many cases amounting to the "entire out-put" of certain manufacturers, they are enabled to sell at these unheard of prices.

Under such tremendous statements as the above, and the like, here is what they actually do:

Elegant Tapestry Brussels Carpets, good for 20 years wear, sold elsewhere for $1.25, at 85 cents.

Edsall's every day price for the identical makes, is just 85 cents. Again they say an elegant line do., worth 87c., at 65 to 75c.

Edsall's price for the same goods is 69c. every day.

They advertise Extra Body Brussels, worth $1.25, at 98c.

Edsall's price every day is just even $1 for the same quality.

They advertise Extra Superfine All-Wool Ingrains, fully worth $1, at 65c. and 75c.

Edsall has never asked more than 65c. and 75c. for exactly the same goods.

The above is only one of the hundreds of cases of like manner in which some people are induced to go out of Plainfield to spend their money. If any one thinks this is merely an advertising dodge, we have in our possession a printed copy of the advertisement referred to, for their inspection. EDSALL'S, 20 W. Front St.

REV. MR. ROBERTSON AGAIN IN THE PAPERS.

He Makes Ready for a Committee Visit and Defies the Reporters.

Mr. Robertson, of this city, who is recorded in the Plainfield directory as, "Robertson, Rev. David F. missionary, h 76 E. Second st.," is being shown up again by the New York press. The Times of Tuesday said that a promised investigation of the shady methods of the Juvenile Guardian Society, of which Mr. Robertson is the head, was postponed because Robertson sent word to the, "Finance Committee" that the books were not yet ready, saying that they were in the possession of an expert, but would be at the disposal of the committee this afternoon. A Times reporter called at the "headquarters" again Monday. There had been a transformation, and the place was hardly recognized.

Until Monday no one could accuse the guardian of New York's juvenility with having diverted charity money to the ends of cleanliness. But as that was to be the first visit by the "officers and directors" the occasion warranted a small addition to the 80 per cent. of the funds which customarily go to other than charitable purposes, Miss Gallagher, the efficient "book-keeper," was blacking the stove when the reporter arrived. Her manner was somewhat chilly, and she demanded why she was quoted as using the word "steal" in connection with Robertson. Said she: "You might have used something meaning the same, but 'steal' sounds so bad." Miss Gallagher is right.

Soon the white-haired "philanthropist" himself came in. "Reporters always ruffled him dreadfully," Miss Gallagher had warningly remarked, but, after several minutes of gurglings, execrations, and anathemas, Robertson only shouted, slapping his imposing chest theatrically, "D. F. Robertson, Sir, stands before the World; I won't speak to you; I defy you." However, after a while he relented and admitted that he had never been ordained or even educated as a clergyman. Dr. Guernsey said that he had been under the impression that Robertson was a Yale gradaate and a Doctor of Divinity. Mr. Bostwick has always spoken of him as "Doctor" and had an idea that he was a LL. D. Robertson was asked what constituted his "society." "Why, why, what a question!" he sputtered. "It's an—a—ah—it's an entity," he burst out as the inspiration struck him. Then he again went off hysterically, and the reporter bid him good-day, promising to call again. "You needn't!" was shouted after him.

Dr. Guernsey and Treasurer Bostwick of the Custom House were in consultation Monday evening, and with Mr. Sturges will look up the society's affairs Tuesday afternoon. They confess that there has been very bad management when it takes four-fifths of the subscriptions to distribute one-fifth, and say that were so much is left to the Superintendent he should be a man of tried integrity. If they find that Robertson is not such a man they will either at once drop the disreputable organization or reorganize it completely, putting it in harmonious relation with other charitable institutions with a responsible man at its head.

Will Give Up His Music Hall Stock for the Benefit of the Children's Home.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Knowing that you have always taken an interest in the working classes, I have no doubt you will kindly insert the following in your valuable paper:

As Winter is approaching and the McKinley bill has a tendency to raise the price of everything, not only the workingman, but the little ones must consequently suffer. Therefore I again offer for sale to the highest bidder, ten shares in the so-called "Music Hall," the proceeds to go to the Children's Home, North Plainfield. I trust this will meet the eye of some noble protectionist or philanthropist. GEORGE M. PHILLIPS.

Evona, October 15, 1890.

To Relieve the Pressure on the Jersey Central's Tracks.

The Reading Railroad Company will, it is said, begin work at once on the construction of a new outlet to New York Harbor, which will extend from a point on the Bound Brook line to tidewater. This branch will cost about $1,000,000, and will be finished as soon as possible. The new line will take from the Jersey Central the Reading's coal tonnage. Under the old contract the Reading paid the Jersey Central $220,000 last year for trackage. When the new branch is built the Reading will save $150,000 per annum, and perhaps more.

A Rare Opportunity for Young Men.

Young men and boys will have one more opportunity to-morrow evening, to take up the study of short-hand in the class organized at the Y. M. C. A., last week. Let every young man who wishes to qualify himself for a business career avail himself of this opportunity. A $2.00 membership in the Association entitles to all priveliges.

Closing the Frazee Lee Estate.

The house and lot at 206 Broadway, and the house, lot and barn at 17 Lake street, will be sold at public auction by Wm. N. Pangborn, Thursday afternoon, October 23, at two o'clock, to settle the estate of the late Frazee Lee.

$500 Reward for an incurable case of chronic Nasal Catarrh is offered by the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

A SHIP CANAL ACROSS NEW JERSEY.

A Plainfield Engineer Promises Success for a Scheme for a Short Route from Delaware River to the Ocean, and Plainfield Money Backs Him Up.

The New York newspapers are devoting considerable space to news of the project to construct a ship canal across New Jersey from the Delaware to the Atlantic, which has brought all the way from South America a young engineer of established reputation, now in Plainfield. Some months ago he received an urgent message summoning him from the mountain mines, where he had been developing a fortune for himself and others to embark in this Jersey scheme. He arranged his South American affairs so that he might take a long leave of absence without subjecting them to any risk, came North as speedily as possible and made arrangements to throw his entire skill and influence into the canal project.

The success of the scheme had been dependent on English capital, and he has undertaken to secure American capital instead. His large acquaintance and good repute among moneyed men seems to be making the task an easy one, for he now assures the originators of the project that success is certain, and is quoted as saying that considerable of the promised financial aid comes from Plainfield capitalists.

The scheme was first suggested by merchants of Philadelphia and Camden who wanted a shorter water route to New York, and an abbreviation of the journey of hundreds of miles down the bay and around Cape May to strike the ocean path to Europe. Most of the men whose commerce it would directly benefit were at first, however, chary of advancing the necessary capital, but they are now said to be among the very ones who are contributing to the constructing fund which the engineer and lesser merchants have been seeking to raise.

The exact route of the proposed canal has not been divulged, but it is understood that it will be a diagonal course across the State, passing near Mount Holly and entering the ocean near Shark River. This would require about sixty miles of excavation, but the engineering difficulties would be few, as the land the big artificial waterway would traverse is almost entirely flat, the soil is light and there are no hills to cut away or rocks to blast. A somewhat shorter route could be selected just below the fortieth parallel, reaching the Atlantic at Toms River, and this has received considerable favorable consideration.

News of the development of the enterprise, which, the engineer says, will certainly be begun at an early date, will be hailed with joy by the owners of the South Jersey land which the canal will develop. Its path will be directly through the great region of pines and cranberries.

The Somerset Freeholders Adopt a Memorial of Wm. E. Jones.

At a meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Somerset, at the Court House in Somerville, Tuesday, Oct., 14, 1890, it having been announced that William E. Jones, a member of the Board from the Borough of North Plainfield, departed this life on the 13th inst., at half-past nine o'clock in the forenoon, the following committee was appointed to draft suitable resolutions respecting said deceased: John C. Staats, (Director), George W. Bullman, J. M. Vreeland, George Ballantine and A. P. Sutphen, (Clerk).

A. P. Sutphen reported the following, which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Almighty in His allwise Providence to call our much-esteemed associate, Wm. E. Jones, to final rest; and we bow in humble submission to His divine will; and whereas, we feel that in this we have been bereft not only of an associate member of the Somerset County Board of Freeholders, but of an esteemed friend, whose genial presence always filled us with pleasure; whose numerous acts of kindess endeared him to us; whose ever-courteous treatment won our respect; whose straightforward manner won our utmost confidence, and whose charity won our love; and whereas it is but fitting that we should express our grief and bear testimony of our esteem to those relatives who lose in him one most dear, and to the community which loses in him a thoroughly efficient public officer; be it hereby

Resolved, That we, his fellow members, tender to the bereaved family our sincere and heartfelt sympathy; and be it further

Resolved, That these preambles and resolutions be properly engrossed and conveyed to the family and that a copy be published in the papers of the county and in the two dailies of Plainfield, and also spread upon the minutes.

JOHN C. STATTS,
GEO. W. BULLMAN,
J. M. VREELAND,
GEO. BALLENTINE,
A. P. SUTPHEN.

Mt. Bethel Witnesses a Carnival of Festivity.

The masquarade ball given by the Scatered Four at Mt. Bethel Tuesday evening was such an enjoyable affair that the one hundred and twenty participants have not yet finished telling their friends what a merry time they had. Forty of the guests were from Plainfield, and forty others were from the Oranges. The grand march was led by E. Apgar, of Plainfield, and Miss Daisy Paxton, of Newark. The music was by Samuel Frazee, and Chas. Ross of New York.

—The regular mid-week meeting of the Reform Club will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. All are welcome.

THE LAST ROUND-UP.

Scene Presented by the Collection of Six Thousand Head of Cattle.

The last general round-up ever to be made on Indian lands was made, says a Cedarville (Kas.) correspondent of the New York Herald, when E. M. Hewins, president of the Cherokee Strip Live-Stock Association, rounded his herd of 6,000 cattle in the Osage Nation, which was the only large herd in the Indian country then remaining. The round-up will be remembered as the end of cattle-grazing, not only in the Osage country, but in all the territory heretofore leased by the Indians to the cattle men.

The spring round-ups began on the western edge of the "Cherokee Strip." The rounders worked from pasture to pasture eastward until the Osage Nation was reached and the end had come.

All the cowboys on the Hewins ranch were in the saddle at four o'clock, and by eleven o'clock the 65,000-acre pasture had been thoroughly surrounded and the cattle were gradually moving toward the center of the range, where the round-up was to take place. By nine o'clock nearly 7,000 cattle, including strays had been gathered into a radius of about three miles square. Then began the careful work of closing in without causing a stampede. Slowly the cattle were brought up over a raise, the summit of which overlooked Alum Creek Valley, about ten miles south of the northern Territorial boundary. Beyond the summit was a basin forming a huge circle, comprising an area containing 4,000 acres, and in that the round-up was to take place.

A moment later and a stampede seemed inevitable. The steers had sighted the grove of shade-trees and the daring and skillful riders were scarcely seen and nothing heeded as the mad rush was made toward the grove.

Those of the spectators who had seen such sights before knew at once what the result would be, and they immediately appraised the others that it would be wise for every one to make hurried arrangements to climb the nearest trees. And this was done barely in time, for on came the herd running madly, heeding nothing until fully half of it had dashed across and beyond the stream, raising a cloud of dust that for a time obscured all the surroundings, and laying waste all that was in their way. After another hour's hard riding the entire herd was again surrounded and forced into submission down in the lowland.

When this was accomplished the picture became intensely interesting. The outsiders were indeed masters of the situation as they patroled the rear line of the herd's onward march. A hundred expert horsemen were then in sight forming a ring on the outside of the herd that was meant to be and did prove to be impassable. Each horseman led from two to three horses, changing from time to time to a fresh steed. All this time the "cut-out" experts leading these extra horses came up leisurely in the rear. At eleven o'clock the round up had been made and the majority of the rounders galloped away toward the "chuck" wagon for dinner, while a few of their number kept the herd from spreading. The cattle were at this time thoroughly massed and standing side by side.

As they stood they covered the area of from twenty to twenty-five acres. As they moved slowly and restlessly among each other they had the appearance of a great swarm of bees. Presently there began a concerted slow movement called "milling," and soon the dust became so dense that the whole scene was enveloped, and not even the daring cowboy could be discerned. This was kept up for about fifteen minutes, when a passing gust of wind bore the clouds of dust west and revealed the herd once more quited and the cowboys in command.

ANCESTRAL PETTICOAT.

A Wonderful Work Wrought Fully a Century and a Half Ago.

A marvelous example of old-time needle-work has found its way into one of the exchanges for women's work in this city through the impecuniousness of the family in which it has long been cherished as an heirloom.

It is a piece of the quilted work which has become one of the lost arts in these days, and was the border of a petticoat worn by some richly-clad German dame 150 years ago. The strip is a half yard in width and about three yards in length. It consists of two thicknesses of fine white cotton with a soft interlining. It is quilted all over with an exquisite medley of flowers, foliage and arabesques, into which is wrought every variety of "stitch" known to expert needlecraft. In those days there were no other ornaments nor any devices for stamping. The patient fingers that fashioned such work also made their own designs, drew them with a needle, free hand, as they went along, and so this petticoat border was the work of an artist as well as a clever needlewoman. The fabric is stiff with stitches—there are millions of them—and the surface puts one in mind of a piece of fine repousse work in white silver.

The woman who is now compeled to part with this has a pitiful history. She and her husband in their advanced age were forced by reverses to emigrate to the Far West, where in an unsettled country, three days' ride from a human habitation, they "took up a claim." The wife, unused to hardship, finally lost her health, and in the hope of regaining it came East last autumn, leaving her husband alone. The severity of the winter killed all their stock, and the old man finally met with an accident which laid him up with both legs broken. He is helpless and penniless and alone, and his wife is helpless and penniless here, unable to reach him. She had sold every thing available before she made up her mind to part with her ancestral petticoat. It is a rare and interesting piece of work and ought to be in a museum.—N. Y. World.

—In five years £100,000 worth of property has been lett in London cabs.

Senator Morrill Re-Elected.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Oct. 16.—In the Legislative Joint Assembly, Justin S. Morrill was formally elected United States Senator for six years from March 4th next. It is expected that a voluminous high license local option bill will be introduced this week, and its friends, while not sanguine of its success, expect to develop much more strength than ever before.

Earl Spencer on the Irish Question.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Earl Spencer, who was Lord Lieutenant of Ireland in Mr. Gladstone's cabinet, said in a speech at Newport last night that the present condition of Ireland was a disgrace and a danger to the Empire. He was confident that Mr. Gladstone's proposals would eventually settle the Irish question in a satisfactory manner.

Three Servants Burned to Death.

BERLIN, Oct. 16.—In a fire on the Schmastathang estate, near Schwerein three servants were burned to death. Many cattle also perished in the flames.

AN AWFUL INCREASE OF INSANITY.

The Record for 1890 is 100 Per Cent. Greater Than for 1889.

Are We Rushing on to a Niagara of Lunacy?

Did you ever go into a lunatic asylum? Or hear the wild, demoniac shriek of the senseless mind? Or read the awful "tale of woe" in a madman's restless eye?

Short of Dante's Inferno there is nothing so pitifully fearful as such a place, such a sound, such a sight!

And yet, think of it! In the city of New York—a city whose activities and responsibilities and nerve consumption are typical of the entire United States—in this great city the mortality from lunacy for the first three months of 1890 was about 100 per cent. greater than in 1889.

"What was the cause" do you ask? Never mind that just now. Let us look at the facts! The cause will soon enough appear then.

Paresis, next to pneumonia, the greatest dread of the day, we are told by learned medical authorities is becoming rational, universal that it prevails most among self-made, moderately educated persons, that it is wasting and decay of the brain tissue, and that it is caused chiefly by the every day wear and tear of the roaring, rushing, frenzied, anxious to be quickly rich, ceaseless toil and struggle characteristic of American life!

We live on our nerves! When that is gone we are hurried into a lunatic asylum or plunge into the maddest method of the suicide! The Nerve is the life!

Are you going crazy?
Is the mad Niagara's roar in your ear?
Have you groundless fears, hallucinations?
Do you look ahead with increasing fears?
Is your sleep restless?
Do you feel better as night comes on?
Are you moody and melancholy?
Do you weep easily and without cause?

If you do, listen!! The awful cataract is ahead!

It is for you now, today, to say whether your mind will take its place with demons of dementia, in whose ears the only welcome music is the shriek of despair!

Do you shudder at such a fate and would shun it, get a new nerve!—renewed vitality and power of nerve. That is the only course open to you! You must adopt it promptly, too, or it will be fatally late!

Do you think you can follow a better course or get better results than this:

Read This and Follow His Example.

I was broken down with nervous and physical prostration before using Dr. Greene's Nervura, and life was a burden. Now life is a joy and sleep is a luxury compared to it before taking Nervura. I relish my food and my nervousness has left me; so has the numbness. I wish I could shout loud enough so that all the world could hear, and tell them the good Dr. Greene's Nervura has done me. It has made me from a weak, trembling, nervous, irritable man to one who feels he is on the highway to long years of health and happiness through Dr. Greene's Nervura and the blessing of God.

OUR YOUNG FOLKS.

GRANDMA'S SOLDIER.

How Teddy Ran Away and Gave His Dear Mamma a Terrible Fright.

"S I YOUR little soldier, danma?"

"Yes, darling."

"Does you like soldiers?"

"Yes, dear."

"I s them bwave?"

"Yes, precious, most of them are."

The little golden haired boy stood in deep thought for a few moments, and then the questions began again.

"What is bwave, danma?"

Grandma drew the tiny man to her side, and twining her arm around him looked down with a love unspeakable shining in the depths of her brown eyes into the trusting blue ones and said, softly:

"It means to be good and noble, and courageous, Teddy, and—"

But the little fellow interrupted her. "Don't they fight?"

Teddy had been taught that it was wrong to fight, and if so he could hardly understand how a soldier who fought could be very good or noble.

The grandmother paused a moment before answering the eager little questioner, lest she might impress his young mind wrongly, and then with a light sigh she answered him:

"All soldiers are supposed to be brave, Teddy, and when they fight it is generally in a war, for some good to a country or nation, but you are too young to understand, darling. When you are older you will know how it is."

Little Teddy looked hurt, and stepped away from his grandma's twining arm.

"What is it, darling?" she asked.

For a moment he did not speak, and the red lips pouted, while a most decided wrinkle came between his brows.

"O-o-h, Teddy!" said his grandma gently.

Then the full lips quivered, but he mastered his tears, and said emphatically:

"Tourse I understands."

Mrs. Malcom lifted him to her knee, and then a long, quiet, loving talk followed, which appeased the little boy's offended dignity.

Teddy Malcolm was just four years old, and an orphan. He had never felt the loss of either parent, for Grandma Malcom (whose only son his father had been) was perfectly devoted to the tiny boy.

TEDDY PLAYING SOLDIER.

Mrs. Malcom was very wealthy, and Teddy and she were alone in the world, as far as relatives were concerned.

She was a wise, judicious woman, and Teddy was carefully guarded and nurtured, and loved almost too well.

He was a very thoughtful child, always inquiring into the whys and wherefores of things. A few days before the soldier-conversation a lady friend had given Teddy a handsome picture book, filled with stories of soldiers, and the little fellow's mind became absorbed in it, and he was never weary of hearing his grandma read the stories or explain the meaning of the pictures.

For days he carried the book wherever he went, even taking it to bed with him.

It was the custom of his grandma, and Teddy as well, to take a nap every afternoon. So, as usual, upon this particular day, after placing Teddy on his little cot, and sitting by him awhile until he appeared to be asleep, Mrs. Malcolm left him to go to her own room, which adjoined his.

In a short time she was gently sleeping, but not so Teddy.

His grandma had hardly gone from him, when he, with his new book under his arm, without the least noise, crept off his cot, out of his room down the stairs, out of the street-door and into the street.

It was such a dreamy summer day that Mrs. Malcom slept much longer than usual; indeed, it was quite time for their early tea, nearly five o'clock, when she woke up.

She arose, feeling very much refreshed, and looked at her watch; surprised at the lateness of the hour, she hastily made her toilet and repaired to Teddy's room.

Teddy was not there, of course, but where was he?

"He probably awakened long ago," was her thought. "Agnes, (one of the servants) has taken care of him."

She went down the stairs, looking about her, expecting every moment to hear a shout of laughter or a merry cry, but the silence was oppressive, no sound of Teddy anywhere.

Just then came the tinkle of the tea bell.

Going into the dining-room she met Agnes.

"Where is Teddy?" she asked.

"Teddy?" repeated the girl. "Why, I thought he was with you. I haven't seen him since dinner time."

All thoughts of supper vanished now.

"Where was Teddy?" This was the first time in his life he had been away without some one of the household knowing where.

The servants were questioned, but all gave the same answer: "I do not know."

Mrs. Malcolm grew very pale, and while others searched the extensive grounds covered with shrubbery, she looked the great house over thoroughly, but no little smiling face surrounded with golden curls appeared.

"Teddy! Teddy! Teddy!" she called, until the shadows of night crept down.

One after the other of the servants returned, without the little boy.

The Malcolm estate lay in the suburbs of a beautiful Southern town, two miles from the village proper.

"Agnes," said Mrs. Malcolm, when convinced that the child was not on the premises, "remain here, do not leave the house; Martha, John and Hiram must still keep about the grounds, while I will go with William to the city and procure some experienced persons to assist in the search."

Soon Black Prince, Mrs. Malcolm's favorite horse, was harnessed and hitched to the light phaeton. The lamps were lighted on either side and an extra lantern was carried in William's hand.

Teddy's grandma did not forget to take her darling's hat and wrap, for the night air was heavy and damp.

There was no moon that night, but a dewy sweetness pervaded the air, and a light breeze rustled the leaves of the trees.

Mrs. Malcolm's distress was terrible.

Again and again she called her darling's name, and William frequently left the carriage to search some wayside nook.

Then it suddenly occurred to her he might have been stolen by some wicked person in the hope of getting a large ransom, her wealth as well as her great love for the little boy being well known.

"Oh, my darling, my darling," she moaned, while the great tears rolled down her cheeks.

"Have you any idea where he could have gone, William? Or do you think it possible that he is stolen?" she asked her driver, who, as well as the other servants on the estate, dearly loved the kind and affectionate child.

William shook his head.

"I don't believe he is stolen, ma'am," he answered. "I think he just wandered off, and I feel sure we will find him. I mind now," he went on, "seeing him about three o'clock. He was standing on the side porch, and he had his book of soldiers in his hand."

"Three o'clock," echoed Mrs. Malcolm. "Why, that was just after I left him, as I thought, asleep."

And then the morning's conversation suddenly occurred to her; and also there came to her mind like a flash of light the remembrance of a recent visit she and Teddy had made to the barracks near the city.

"William, drive to the barracks," she said, and William turned Black Prince's head in that direction.

There seemed to be something unusual going on when they arrived there to judge by the laughter and shouting.

William sprang to the ground, but his mistress was out of the phæton before he could help her, and in a moment more they both entered the barracks, and what do you think they saw?

A long table stood in the center of the mess room, and on this, decked out with a soldier's cap and fatigue coat, and holding a sword, was Master Ted. He seemed perfectly happy and contented and was trying to obey the commands given him by the soldiers who stood around him.

When his grandmother saw him she nearly fainted with joy, but William began to laugh heartily.

The men seeing the lady, whom many of them knew, removed their caps and came forward to meet her.

They explained that Teddy had been with them but a short time.

He was very tired when he was brought there by a man who had met him trudging along and to whom he said he was going to the barracks to be a "solder," and they had given him his supper and were about to send him home when Mrs. Malcolm arrived. When he caught sight of his best friend, he shouted merrily: "See, danma, see, I'se your really 'ittle solder."

It took much persuasion and many promises of future visits, before Teddy would consent to doff his regimentals and return to civilian life, but he finally yielded, and Grandma's "solder" slept close in her arms again that night.—Detroit Free Press.

Banks—Is it worse than an accident anywhere else?

Cumso—Of course it is. I saw a man get his shin scraped yesterday, and while he stopped to rub it a crowd gathered. Then a policeman rushed up with his club and three men were taken to the hospital in an ambulance.—Munsey's Weekly.

Only a Mouthful.

X—Do you know that man sitting at the table over there?

Q—Yes; it is Jones, the greatest gourmand in the city.

X—I know it, and he's eating away his sense.

Q—That won't hurt him any; it is only a mouthful to him.—Texas Siftings.

A Neighborhood He Did Not Visit.

Kansas Citizen (to commercial drummer)—Yes, Cashpay and his store are gone. That last cyclone switched him clean up to Heaven.

WHEN THE CORN'S LAID BY.

When the corn is all in tassel an' 'bout ready to lay by,
An' you hear the leaves a-rustlin' round you 'bout plow-handle high,
An' the crinkle of the growin' stalks untwistin' in the sun
Makes you wisht you could untwist the things you hadn't ought to done;
Then you straddle down the furrow with your bare feet in the dirt,
So whistlin' full o' happiness you actooally hurt;
An' thinkin'-o' the rest to come you heave a happy sigh
When the corn is all in tassel an' 'bout ready to lay by.

There's a somethin' in the air o' summer makes you want to sing;
But 'tain't the sort o' ditty 'at you'd warble in the spring.
Love 'at tears your soul to flinders in the spring, you understan',
Is the summer-satisfiedness of the settled family-man;
For young Robin in the spring-time hez his sweetheart in his arms,
But they're mated in midsummer an' he's got to hunt fer worms;
An' it's comfortin' a-think in' of a plenty drawin nigh
When the corn is all in tassel an' 'bout ready to lay by.

There's a sight o' satisfaction too a-lookin 'crost the wheat,
With the meadows all a-bloomin' an' the corn a-smellin' sweet;
The breeze of early mornin' comes a-playin' hide an' seek,
A-brushin' back your frowsy locks to pat you on the cheek,
Like baby-hands a-waitin' fer you when your plowin's done,
An' makes you feel so jubilant 'at workin's only fun;
For your heart's so full o' thankys 'at you laugh 'thout knowin' why
When the corn is all in tassel an' 'bout ready to lay by.

—Edwin S. Hopkins, in Judge.

MRS. BYME'S MANAGEMENT.

The Entire Family Was Quite a Disagreeable Lot.

"Any time after the fifteenth of July I'll be ready to go to the beach," said little Mrs. Byme to her husband.

"What are you going to do about Delia?" he asked.

"Oh, tell her we shan't want her any longer, of course."

"You don't mean to pay her wages while we're gone?" Mr. Byme turned on her sharply.

"No, indeed; I'm astonished, Theodore, that you should ask such a question. Did I ever throw away money like that, I'd like to know?" She was as sharp as he, and quite as unpleasant in manner. "I don't want Delia next fall," she continued. "When I hired her in May I only expected to keep her till we went away. But she didn't know it."

Mrs. Byme gave a shrewd little nod and a pleased laugh. But her husband stared a minute at her.

"You're a cool one, Matilda," he ejaculated, after a long whistle. "You beat us men in sharpness."

"Don't I?" cried Matilda, in a pleasant way. "Well, I've done better than that—I've engaged Mrs. Ellis' splendid girl, who has been there nine years, to come to me in September, when the Ellises break up. What do you think of that, Theodore?"

"I suppose you pay her a great price?" said Mr. Byme, cautiously.

"Indeed I don't," said his wife. "I shall only give her what I pay Delia, three dollars, and she's to do all the work."

"You're a smart one," cried Theodore, admiringly. "I'd trust you every time."

"Well, there's the breakfast bell," cried his wife, setting a pin in her collar. "Now, don't let a word of this escape you, Theodore, for, if Delia heard a lisp of it, like enough she'd be off and leave me with all this work on my hands, and it's only the first of July."

"I suppose she ought to get a place," said Mr. Byme, giving a last glance in his dressing mirror.

"I suppose so," said Matilda, carelessly. "Well, come, or the beefsteak will be cold as a stone."

In two weeks they were off. Delia, a good-natured Scotch girl, credulous and obliging, had struggled hard with the accumulation that always falls upon the maid-of-all-work when a family is preparing to go away for half of the summer, and at last confronted her mistress with a trusting smile and the observation: "Indeed, Mrs. Byme, I s'pose ye'll do the right thing by me, and pay me a little wages while ye're gone," to be met with the truth, and told to pack her bag, and say good-bye for all time.

The evening after the Byme house was bolted and barred the whole neighborhood was invited to a concert, sustained by one lonely, indignant cat, who rendered all the selections. Many a head rolled on an uneasy pillow, and wished all sorts of mishaps to the Byme family for the beauties of the vacation season.

"Just like that Mrs. Byme," said more than one housekeeper at the breakfast table, "to go away and lock out her cat. She's mean enough for that."

"The society for the prevention of cruelty to animals ought to be after her," said an indignant member of the family circle who had scarcely slept a wink all night.

"Well, I shall call in that cat and give it its breakfast," said a tender-hearted little matron, the next-door neighbor of the Bymes. "Dear me, I couldn't swallow my own to think of a half-starved creature hanging around. There it is now, sitting on their back steps and scratching to get in," peering through the blinds into the adjoining yard.

When the Bymes reached the boarding-house to which they were bound on Rock Hill beach they found to their great delight that an invalid lady who had spent the previous summer there had not arrived.

"We shall take her room, then," cried Mrs. Byme, fixing her cold, black eyes on the heated face of the landlady. "According to agreement, Mrs. Dobbs, you remember that if she wasn't here by the fifteenth you would give it to us."

"It's queer we haven't heard nothing from her," said Mrs. Dobbs, twisting her apron nervously between her fingers; "she's been here for seven years now, and she always writes if she ain't comin'. Wouldn't you just as soon wait another day, Mrs. Byme? One can't be comfortable in any other room."

"Waiting to hear would make no difference," said Mrs. Byme, severely. "The agreement was that we should have this room if Mrs. Carrol didn't come by the fifteenth."

"Well, that's because she always got here by the first of July," interrupted the landlady, excitedly. "I hain't ever known her to make a miss before —"

"Which only proves that she isn't coming this year," said Mrs. Byme. "At any rate, this room is mine." They were standing in the doorway, and she now advanced in and threw her parasol on the bed with the air of a proprietor. "Send up my boxes, Mrs. Dobbs, and be so good as to get them here quickly," and the landlady found herself going down-stairs with the consciousness that Mrs. Theodore Byme was ensconced in her best room, and that not any power in the household could get her out.

That evening came a letter from the invalid, Mrs. Carrol, that had in some unexplainable way traveled around a week before reaching its destination. "I have been delayed in making my summer plans on account of the serious illness of my son. I will be with you the sixteenth of July, and shall be glad to get into my nice quiet room, for I am sadly worn with watching and worry."

Mrs. Byme, out on the piazza playing a game of whist, heard the news as it was first shouted out in-doors, and stiffened up immediately to hold her ground and keep the room, which she did in the face of all arguments and entreaties that could be brought to bear upon her. And Mrs. Carrol, arriving pale and exhausted with the journey the next day, quietly forbade Mrs. Dobbs to make any overtures, and she settled into the only remaining room, a hot one at the back of the house.

Helen Byme, Mrs. Byme's eldest daughter, was learning to play on the banjo, so she picked at it steadily by her window whenever it struck her fancy to do so, till the other boarders thought they should go wild over the performance, and all afternoon sleep was given up by the occupants of the room underneath. And Joe and Jim, the interesting twins belonging to the Byme household, stamped and raced and howled over the verandas, thereby amusing all those whom Helen failed to entertain.

Mrs. Byme throve on it all, and grew fat and rosy, and congratulated herself on her good management, and when the first of September arrived she paid her bill (always attending to such details instead of Mr. Byme), saying complacently: "I won't engage board for next summer, Mrs. Dobbs, because I don't exactly know whether we shall go to Europe or not, but if we don't, why, we shall come to you, of course!"

Mrs. Dobbs straightened herself up and looked the successful woman all over, then said, without any twisting of the apron: "I sha'n't have any room vacant next season, Mrs. Byme."

"You surely don't mean that you engaged them all"—Mrs. Theodore Byme was guilty of screaming—"without speaking to me?"

"The other boarders had the first say," replied the landlady, without the ghost of a smile. "and they've took 'em all."

When Mrs. Byme returned home and opened her house, her self-complacency so rudely shocked returned in full force, and she contemplated, with no small degree of satisfaction, the stuffy, shut-up rooms and empty kitchens.

"It will be delightful, though, when Mrs. Ellis' Lizzie has been here a day or two—what a lucky woman I was to get her!"

A letter was handed in that evening, rather badly spelled and not quite faultless as to grammar.

"Mrs. Byme," it said, "I ain't comin' to live with you. I've changed my mind and hired out to Mis' Smith. Delia, who lived with you, is my cousin, and you took her in, and you might take me in some time, so I ain't comin'. Yours respec'ful'y, LIZZIE MYERS."—Margaret Sidney, in Congregationalist.

FITNESS OF THINGS.

Furnishing a Room to Harmonize with the Occupant's Complexion.

Only a few years ago there was such a narrowed understanding of the niceties of interior decoration, that people actually laughed at the idea of furnishing a room to harmonize in general color effect with the complexion of its occupant, says the Upholsterer. The humorous columns of the great dailies were full of decorative jokes: the woman who would dress herself to harmonize with her home surroundings, or, rather, dress her home to harmonize with her appropriate colors, or the man who would throw the weight of his individuality into his study furnishings, were held up as subjects for hilarious ridicule.

The trouble was, the subject was in advance of the people. But nowadays we can not affiliate the fair-fat-and-forty with frail and delicate furnishings. Mme. Pompadour's style of furniture, with its heavy rolls and massive upholsterings, are in the fat-and-forty line, and we can not associate the romping, maidenish impulses of a fair girl with the sturdy and solid surroundings of such a room. On the contrary, we think of light maple wood-work, cob-webby curtains caught back with pink and blue, cream walls and Japanese rugs.

We would say that a girl of a dead matte color, who furnished her room in rose pinks and steel grays, was egregiously ignorant or wished to appear at her worst, and nothing is more woefully out of place than a healthy, vigorous, masculine man in the intricate, bewildering chaos of a gingerly-furnished Louis XVI. room.

A Disastrous Dream.

In Marion County, Ga., a man dreamed the other night that hogs got in his corn-field. The hogs ran under an old gin-house where there was only one small hole as an outlet, and he was there kicking to keep them from coming out. When he awoke he was standing on the floor kicking the wall, with his big toe broken and his ankle badly sprained.

IMPROVED BUILDING MATERIAL

WHITE pine boards are now made by reducing small trees and limbs to pulp and pressing in molds.

A NEW process is reported which densifies soft wood and renders it hard and workable, with all the properties of good lignum vitæ. The wood is soaked in oil, put under heavy pressure, and then allowed to stand for some months, when it has become dry.

FOR building material, brick is considered the best, and most durable, and resists fire the longest. Iron warps, and granite and brown-stone crack. These facts are very well understood now by builders; consequently most of the large buildings are being constructed of brick.

SOMETHING new in the way of brick-making has sprung up at St. Joseph, Mich., where the sand of the beach by a chemical process is being turned into brick. They are represented to be superior to pressed brick, and large quantities are being put into fine residences and the fronts of business blocks.

WOOD-STONE is the name of a new compound material composed of sawdust and calcined magnesia. The mixture, having been well worked up with water, is put into molds and pressed into whatever shape may be desired. A scientific authority says it is incombustible and impermeable to water, is susceptible of a fine polish, and is adaptable to numerous uses.

A CERTAIN Babayeff of St. Petersburg has invented a fire-proof cement, which is said to excel all hitherto invented in that line. A company to rear fire-proof buildings with this cement has been formed, and some fire insurance companies have pledged themselves to insure such buildings at a premium of no more than ten per cent. of the rate charged on ordinary buildings. Wood boxes filled with this cement between the boards are said to answer all the purposes of ordinary safes.

PASTOR KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

Had the Desired Effect!

CARROLLTON, GREEN CO., ILL., Nov. '89.
"I highly recommend Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic to anybody that has suffered from headaches as my son did for 5 years, because 2 bottles of the medicine cured him. M. MCTIGUE.

Saved Her Life.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Feb. 9, 1889.
This is to certify that my mother has suffered from nervous weakness for over 20 years. We have tried innumerable remedies and physicians, she also went to Germany for her health, spending in all thousands of dollars with only temporary benefit. At last we tried Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic and Elixir of Iron, and I honestly and sincerely believe that she not only received more benefit from them than all others combined, but would have died before this without them, as she was getting weaker every day, before we began with the above medicine.
DR. BOBT. F. RENI, 774 Chapel st.

Our Pamphlet for sufferers of nervous diseases will be sent free to any address, and poor patients can also obtain this medicine free of charge from us.
This remedy has been prepared by the Reverend Pastor Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., for the past ten years, and is now prepared under his direction by the

Dollars and Sense!

Did it ever strike you that you might do better? Has it ever occurred to you that you are paying too much for the necessaries of life?

If it has not struck you in this light, it surely will, if you will be persuaded to give us a trial. We are the recognized originators of low prices in this city.

We carry the largest and most complete stock of Tea, Coffee and Groceries in Union County. We sell them so quickly at our low prices, that we are constantly receiving fresh goods. We keep none but the most reliable brands, and sell on very small margins of profit.

Having purchased our supply of California Fruits before advance in prices took place, we have decided to sell at old price, thereby giving our customers the benefit of what we saved.

Prompt attention and quick delivery of goods to any and all parts of town; on Saturdays till 9 P M. Wagon delivories weekly to Scotch Plains, Fanwood, Westfield, Cranford, Dunellen, New Market, South Plainfield, Metuchen, etc. Mail orders promptly attended to.

THE SCENE OF DEATH

Latest Details of the Hotel Fire at Syracuse.

EIGHT KNOWN TO BE KILLED.

More Than Thirty Persons Injured and Several Are Missing.

The Scenes Appalled the Bravest Hearts. The Building a Veritable Death Trap. Men at Work on the Ruins To-Day—Incendiary Rumors—Revised List of the Killed and Injured.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 17.—By the burning of the Leland Hotel the total loss exceeds $125,000. The hotel cost $80,000.

There is considerable loss by the American Express Company on its building and express matter adjoining the hotel. The individual inmates of the hotel lost heavily in personal effects.

It is probable that the loss of life will not exceed eight persons—three guests and five servants. About thirty persons were severely injured.

The removal of the debris began this morning under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works, and the city's entire force of laborers are assisting in the work. The opinion is pretty general that the charred remains of several bodies, other than those mentioned, will be found in the wreck.

Two Bodies Beneath the Ruins.

The fact has just become known that there were at least two bodies buried beneath the ruins of the Leland Hotel. One of them is that of Mary Padden, a servant who jumped from a sixth story window at the rear of the burning building. The other is that of Mary Doyle, who is supposed to have perished in the flames. She was employed at the hotel with her two sisters, Bridget and Maggie. Bridget jumped from the sixth story before the firemen could get the net in position, and she was killed instantly. Maggie also jumped, but was caught in the net and escaped with broken arms and a fracture of the right leg. Nothing is known definitely as to the manner of Mary's death. All that is certain is that she is missing and that what remains of her body is lying somewhere underneath the mass of fallen bricks.

DEAD AND INJURED.

The Fatalities Are Not So Numerous as at First Supposed.

SYRACUSE, Oct. 17.—At this writing there are eight persons known to have perished. When the first news was wired it was believed that 50 or more guests and help had lost their lives in the flames. Happily the list is smaller. Among those whose remains have been identified are:

William E. Hardup, Elizabeth, N. J.; head salesman for Coffin, Altemus & Co., dry goods, at No. 79 Worth street, New York.
Miss Walker, servant in the hotel.
Bridget Doyle, a servant.

Was it the Work of an Incendiary?

SYRACUSE, Oct. 17.—In insurance circles it is believed the Leland Hotel was set on fire. Dick Perry, of the firm of Bowen & Perry, says the fire started in a back room where grease was stored. "A skylight was over the place," he said, "and the flames leaped up through it into a sort of a well, which served as a conductor to carry the fire to the rooms of the guests, which opened out upon it on the various floors." At the Globe hotel fire shortly after Mr. Perry says he was quickly on the scene, and declares that the fire started from grease in the kitchen in precisely the same manner as at the Leland. He believes both places were set on fire in precisely the same manner by some person or persons employed in the hotels. A rigorous investigation will be made.

Superintendent Porter Coming Home.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Chief Clerk Childs, of the Census Office, this morning received a cable message from Superintendent Porter, at Queenstown, stating that he was much improved in health and would sail to-day for New York, where he expects to arrive next Thursday.

Fleeing from Smallpox.

PITTSBURG, Oct 17.—A dispatch from Athens, Ohio, says the excitement there over smallpox in the town is greatly on the increase and many families are moving out. It is feared the disease will attack the 300 patients in the insane asylum.

EXCITING MURDER TRIAL.

Counsel for Mrs. Ellenberger Claim that She Was Robbed of $8,000.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Oct. 17.—The opening of the defence in the case of Mrs. Mary Ellenberger for the murder of her paramour, Wm. R. Edwards, was highly sensational. The arraignment of the dead man was so terrible that his widow and children had to leave the court room.

Counsel set up three pleas: that the shooting was accidental, that it was in self defense, and that it was justifiable homicide, the deceased being at the time of the tragedy engaged in an attempt to rob the defendant of her pocket book, containing $100 in money and Edwards' notes for $450.

Counsel for the defense also claims that Edwards robbed the woman of over $8,000 during the year of their intimacy.

Evidence was introduced to show that Edwards had frequently beaten the woman; that he drove the husband from home at the point of a revolver and robbed her on different occasions. Once he had driven her into a river and on one occasion when she was in a carriage he took the reins away and whipped the horses so that they ran away with the woman sitting helplessly alone in the carriage.

The prisoner testified that Edwards had seduced her while she was living happily with her husband and children. Later he drove Mr. Ellenberger from his own home at the point of a revolver, and then worked himself and took possession. The witness gave a very graphic description of the shooting of Edwards, which she maintains was done while he was trying to rob her. She claims that the shooting was accidental, and stood up in court with the revolver with which the killing was done and showed how the shooting occurred.

No murder trial ever held here exceeded this one in general interest. All the women who can be crowded into the trial room are present at each session.

LINGO AND HIS WIFE.

They Are Allowed an Interview but Nothing is Said About the Murder.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 17.—Mrs. Lingo had an interview with her husband in the Camden County Jail during the morning.

This was the first time Francis Lingo has seen his wife since he was arrested, four weeks ago, for the murder of Mrs. Annie Miller. Prosecutor Jenkins was consulted as to the propriety of permitting the accused murderer to see his wife, and at once consented, cautioning Jailor Logue, however, to be present at the interview and listen attentively to all that was said.

No restrictions were placed upon the two, and they were permitted to talk freely and entirely unrestrainedly.

The two shook hands heartily, but did not kiss each other. The grating door would have prevented an embrace. After inquiries as to health, Mrs. Lingo told her husband that she was entirely without money, and was compelled to catch a ride in a farmer's wagon, because she did not have money to pay her car fare. Lingo gave her the names of several persons who owed him money, and told her to collect the bills.

Nothing was said of the murder from the beginning to the end of the interview.

After Mrs. Lingo left, Lingo was asked by Deputy Jailer Lee how he felt.

"I feel much better," said he; "I feel four per cent. better than I did."

Buried Under Tons of Hot Coke.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 17.—While a gang of men were engaged in blowing out one of the large iron furnaces preparatory to making repairs at Moorhead & McLane's Second avenue furnace works, the bridge in the furnace stack broke down, allowing several tons of almost white hot coke to fall, completely burying seven workmen. Edward Hughes and his brother were taken out alive but burned almost beyond recognition. They died shortly after. Five Hungarians, names unknown, were also rescued. They were terribly roasted.

Poisoned by Her Son.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 17.—Mrs. Catherine Schmover died suddenly under what seemed peculiar circumstances, at her residence, No. 298 Newark avenue, on Wednesday evening. A few hours later her son succeeded in having his sister and her husband arrested on the charge of stealing the money and will of the dead woman. Later the son was himself arrested on the charge of poisoning his mother, the grounds for his arrest being that the woman had made a statement, shortly before her death, charging him with her murder. He is at present locked up at Police Headquarters.

Paymaster Deering Found Dead.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. — Paymaster George A. Deering, U. S. N., was found dead in bed at his residence in this city at an early morning hour. He had died during the night of heart disease. Paymaster Deering was in his 47th year.

THE EXILES IN PARIS

Balfour Will Not Ask for Their Surrender.

DILLON MAKES A STATEMENT.

After Spending Four Months in America They Will Return to England.

A Few Months in Prison Cannot Frighten the Nationalists—Looking With Confidence to the General Election and the Triumph of Gladstone—London Socialists Will Not Welcome Most.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Chief Secretary Balfour has ordered a thorough investigation of the circumstances attending the escape of Messrs. O'Brien and Dillon, but the Government has decided not to make any request of France for the surrender of the fugitives. Such a request would be difficult, in view of the asylum granted by England to Boulanger and other French refugees. Should the two voluntary exiles set foot on Canadian soil after reaching America, they will be arrested there.

PARIS, Oct. 17.—Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien say they will remain in Paris eight days for the purpose of enjoying a brief rest after their recent severe trials, and to permit of communication with leaders in Ireland and America. They will then proceed to Havre, where they will take a steamer displaying the flag of the French Republic and bound for New York.

As to the trials at Tipperary Mr. O'Brien is reported as saying that there was no doubt but that they would be convicted. This, he said, every one knew, and so far as going through the farce of a trial it would save money for Balfour to simply order the Irishmen that are instrumental in thwarting his plans to prison for any length of time he saw fit.

Mr. Dillon says: "We will remain four months in America and will then return to England and surrender ourselves. We have been prisoners so often," laughingly concluded Mr. Dillon, "that a few months in jail, more or less, cannot frighten us. We look with confidence to the general election for the triumph of Mr. Gladstone, who will give to Irishmen the liberty that has been promised."

NO WELCOME FOR MOST.

John Burns Says the Anarchist Leader Will Receive the Cold Shoulder.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—John Burns, the Socialist and workingmen's leader, when asked about the proposed return of Herr Most to Europe, as announced in this morning's papers, answered that true Socialism had no sympathy with anarchy, and that Most need expect no welcome from Socialists either in London or Germany.

Even when Most was here before he had comparatively few sympathizers, and since then the trend of the Socialistic programme has been more and more toward peaceable methods of propaganda and away from even the suggestion of violence.

The Pope and Ireland.

ROME, Oct. 17.—It is said that the Pope is preparing for decisive action in regard to the Irish anti-landlord agitation, and that the Irish clergy who have encouraged the movement will be required to abjure and denounce it or be deprived of their sacred functions.

Gladstone's Midlothian Speeches.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—In a letter to a Scotch friend, Mr. Gladstone says that in the speeches which he proposes to deliver during his approaching tour of Midlothian he will touch upon the question of Home Rule for Scotland.

Cora Tanner Too Prostrated to Play.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Cora Tanner, the actress, was obliged to cancel her engagement in Utica last night on account of the injuries she sustained at the Leland hotel fire at Syracuse. Early in the day she telegraphed to Manager Day of Jacobs' Opera House that she would play here if she had to crawl upon the stage, but later she concluded that it would be injudicious to make the effort in her prostrated condition.

New York City Politics.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Tammany Hall received two allies last night in the fight with the fusion ticket. One was the offshoot of the County Democracy known as the Voorhis Democracy, and the other the "People's Alliance," which aims at excise reform. Last night the Republican County Committee endorsed the fusion ticket. Governor Hill has returned to Albany.

Stabbed Her Husband.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 17.—While suffering from insanity Mrs. C. McIsaacs, of Central avenue, attacked her husband with a carving knife and inflicted several severe wounds before he could effect his escape. She was sent to the asylum.

MILLER'S MANY JOBS.

Inspector Byrnes Finds that the London Banker is a Noted Swindler.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Inspector Byrnes has investigated the record on this side of the Atlantic of William Wadsworth Miller, whose wife, Cornelia Miller, is held a prisoner awaiting extradition to England for having in her possession money alleged to have been stolen by the swindling London banking house of James E. Field & Co., in which concern Miller was a partner.

According to Byrnes, Miller was the man who, under the firm name of W. H. Ingham & Co., mulcted confiding people in this city out of about $500,000 in 1888 and then fled. At that time he had an office at 38 Broadway. Among those who invested in Miller's financial schemes was A. R. Colsom, of Buffalo, who lost $900.

The Inspector has learned that Miller was a peddler of jewelry in Tennessee in 1862. In 1877 he was a shoe dealer in Cincinnati and later at Columbus, O. In 1880 he failed in Chicago, owing $22,000 to 68 different firms. Subsequently he opened a banking house in Chicago under the name of Fleming. There he worked a "fund" scheme similar to the "speculative syndicate" he engineered in New York and bagged about $250,000. He was arrested, tried and sentenced to Joliet prison, but secured a temporary stay of proceedings and jumped his bail.

His next exploit was his recent London swindle. Miller is wanted here for the W. H. Taylor & Co. operations, for which he was indicted.

THE COMTE DE PARIS.

Entertained Last Night by Philadelphians—In New York To-Day.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—The Comte de Paris and party consisting of the Comte de Haussonville, the Marquis Lasteyrie, Captain Morhain and Dr. Remcamier, arrived here at 7 o'clock last evening from Gettysburg in the private car of the Vice-President Thomson, of the Pennsylvania road. They were accompanied by Generals Howard, Slocum, Newton and Butterfield, and Captain Kingsbury.

Last evening the Comte and party attended a banquet given in their honor by General W. F. Smith. During the evening the Count spoke in the warmest terms of the pleasure and profit he had already derived from his visit to this country, and said that he could not fittingly express his debt of gratitude to the people who had treated him so kindly everywhere he has been, especially those he met at Gettysburg.

The entire party left here early this morning for New York, where they will be entertained by General Webb. To-morrow they will go to West Point as the guests of General Butterfield; Monday they will visit the inventor Edison at Menlo Park; Tuesday they will go to Niagara Falls, Wednesday Montreal, remaining in Canada about a week, and will then sail from New York for England November 1.

Death of a Prominent Divine.

BURLINGTON, N. J., Oct. 17.—A private despatch from Tacoma, Wash., announces the death of the Rev. George Morgan Hills, rector emeritus of St. Mary's Episcopal Church in this city. For a generation Dr. Hills has been a very prominent figure in the Episcopal Church in New Jersey. In his works, of which the best known is "The History of the Church in Burlington," he was a leader of thought. His death causes universal sorrow here. He was born in Auburn, N. Y., in 1825.

Mrs. Leslie on the Rostrum.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Frank Leslie, having abandoned journalism for the time being, made her debut on the lecture platform at Central Music Hall last night, taking for her subject "The Royal Leaders of Society." The event was one of great interest, and society and literary circles turned out en masse for the occasion. The new debutante on the lecture platform had a clear and forcible delivery. Joaquin Miller wrote a poem which was recited in honor of the event.

Fifty Years a Priest.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 17.—The commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of Bishop Loughlin's consecration to the priesthood will begin this evening with a reception to the bishop at the Clermont Avenue Rink. The occasion is to be signalized by the presentation of a purse to the venerable prelate and by the delivery of apposite addresses. Archbishop Corrigan and Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia, will be among the speakers.

His Widow Loses Her Suit.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Oct. 17.—The jury in the case of Mary Ann Johnson vs. the Pennsylvania & Schuylkill Valley Railroad Company, for the killing of her husband, Urner D. Johnson, at Mill street, Norristown, on the night of October 2, 1887, returned a verdict in favor of the company. The jury retired at 5:15 p. m. yesterday, were out all night and were unable to agree upon a verdict until shortly before 11 o'clock this forenoon.

McGonegal Still at the Tombs.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Dr. McGonegal is still in the Tombs awaiting the result of the labors of his counsel for a new trial. By the ruling of Judge Fitzgerald he will remain at the Tombs four days longer under any circumstances. At the end of that time, if nothing definite has been done in the old man's behalf, he will be taken to Sing Sing.

Ex-Congressman Scott Dying.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Private advices received here state that ex-Representative William L. Scott is undoubtedly dying at his home in Erie, Pa. The millionaire's affliction is gastric fever, and his physicians gave up al hope of his recovery three or four days ago.

ASSASSINS CAUGHT

The Chief of Police of New Orleans Shot Down.

THE CRESCENT CITY AROUSED.

Cowardly Work of Italians Whose Plots He Had Foiled.

Attacked While Entering His Own Door—The Plot Carefully Planned—The Shot and Slugs Almost Tore Him to Pieces—Before Dying the Chief Said the Dagos Killed Him.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 17.—Not since September 14, 1874, has New Orleans been so agitated as it is to-day. Never has a tragedy in this city caused such a thrill of horror as the one perpetrated shortly before midnight, when David C. Hennessy, superintendent of police, was shot down by assassins.

Hennessy lived on Girod street, and was on his way home from his office at the Central station, on the corner of Common and Basin streets. He had turned into Girod street, when he was fired upon by a party of men who were concealed in the doorways. He was wounded at the first fire, but as soon as he recovered from his surprise, fired four shots in the direction of his assailants. The fusilade attracted the neighbors, but when they arrived only the wounded chief was found.

When relief reached Hennessey he was found lying on the door steps. His body was riddled with bullets. Both his lungs were penetrated. There was another wound very near his heart, one in his stomach, one in his side, and still another in his leg. Besides, his coat was cut by no less than nine other bullets which had not penetrated the flesh. The doctors pronounced the wounds mortal, and Hennessey died at 9 a. m. He was rational to the last, and declared that the murder was committed by "dagos," as the lower class of Italians are designated. Of this there was no reasonable doubt, as several persons saw the men who committed the murder both before it occurred and when they were flying up the street with their guns.

The Crime Carefully Planned.

There was a meeting of the Italian Stilleto Society yesterday, and it was then decided that Hennessey must be got rid of for the safety of the members. The crime was carefully planned. Two gangs of men were detailed for it. They were armed with revolvers and blunderbusses, and concealed themselves in alleyways at each corner of the block on which Hennessey lived, so that he could not escape. This was in one of the most populous portions of the city but it was a rainy night, and few persons were abroad.

The Assassins Arrested.

Four of the assassins have been arrested and identified as Antonio Scaffidi, Antonio Bagnetti, Sebastiano Incardone and Petro Mastero.

WILL COME INCOGNITO.

A Rumor in Washington that the Czarevitch Will Visit America.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—A rumor is current in Washington to the effect that Nicolai Alexandrovitch, the Czarevitch of Russia, is about to visit the United States incognito. All that is known for certain may be summed up in the following:

Arrangements have been made by the Czar that his heir, the Czarevitch, should make a voyage around the world. The voyage was to occupy over a year and the ocean journey was to have begun at Constantinople by a visit to the Sultan. Thence the journey was to have been through the Suez Canal to India, where he is to spend some time, to Australia, thence to the Pacific and the Russian possessions there. From there the plan is that he shall go to San Francisco, coming across the continent to New York and the Atlantic seaboard.

After the statement had been published in the Russian newspapers that the young Prince was to visit the Porte some difficulties arose about the diplomatic wisdom of the step, and the latest cable dispatches state that Constantinople will be omitted from the Czarevitch's itinerary. It is just possible that the plan may have been changed so that the young man may make the journey around the world from east to west, in which case America would be his first point. He is to start out on his journey in the early part of November. The Czarevitch is in very poor health.

It is generally supposed that he is being sent on the trip in order to give Russian diplomacy time to consider which of the three European Princesses talked of as his future bride shall be finally chosen. The three are Princess Alix, of Hesse, Princess Margaret, of Prussia, and Princess Helene, of Montenegro. The Czar inclines to the latter.

The Banker's Many Victims.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—A dispatch from London says the number of victims of William W. Miller, the American alleged swindling banker, increases. It seems that many people on the Continent as well as in London were tempted by the promise of enormous interest to entrust their funds with Miller and his partner, and are now mourning the result of their credulity.

The Call to Dr. Gregg.

BOSTON, Oct. 17.—The formal call extended by the Lafayette Avenue Presbyterian Church of Brooklyn, N. Y., to Rev. David Gregg, pastor of the Park street church in this city, has been received by him. Dr. Gregg says that while he appreciates the compliment paid him he has not yet decided whether or not he will accept the call.

$3,000,000 FAILURE.

A Michigan Lumber and Salt Baron Makes an Assignment.

MANISTEE, Mich., Oct. 17.—R. G. Peters has failed. This is the biggest crash in the State for many years, and comes from a source least expected. Mr. Peters was the leading spirit in a score of big enterprises, and was a baron in the lumber and salt trade.

The assignment is made to A. M. Henry, of Detroit, a brother-in-law of ex-Gov. Alger, and covers millions of dollars worth of property. The failure will be far reaching in its effects. Meigs & Co., lumbermen, Hunham & Co., of Grand Rapids, and the Fifth National Bank are all interested in the collapse. The liabilities are estimated at $3,000,000.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The German Government will erect 4,000 houses for workmen in North Berlin.

At Hasty, N. C., several houses were blown down by a tornado. One person was killed and several injured.

The Congressional fight is now centered on Ohio. All the leading speakers of both parties are on the stump.

A number of Italians have arrived at Rockland, Me., to take the places of striking hand sewers at Wright & Richards' shoe factory.

Mary Rice of Jersey City, charged with appropriating money as cashier of the Prudential Insurance Company, was admitted to bail yesterday.

The King and Queen of Denmark and members of the royal family were entertained at luncheon on board the United States cruiser Baltimore.

The strike instituted in January at W. W. Spaulding's factory at Haverhill Mass., has been declared off by the cutters, a satisfactory price list having been established.

The body of a middle aged man was found last night in the canal at Newark, N. J. He was dressed in a fine broadcloth suit and wore a gold watch and chain and a diamond pin.

Christian Ergensinger, a butcher and former resident of Brooklyn, N. Y., committed suicide at Elizabeth, N. J., by cutting his throat from ear to ear and severing the arteries of his arm with a butcher's knife.

Frederick Hodecker, the Rochester, brewer, who was arrested Wednesday in Philadelphia upon complaint of his wife for marital infidelity and who was held in $1,500 bail, had a further hearing and was discharged.

In the case of John O'Brien, at Albany, N. Y., indicted for murder in the second degree, the jury after being out all night returned a verdict of assault in the second degree. The prisoner will be sentenced Monday.

Policeman John Rink, of Lockport, N. Y., arrested Emil Kruger, 15 years old, at the residence of his uncle, a farmer near Lansing Corners. He is charged with having committed a heinous crime upon a 5-year-old child. He has been taken to Lockport.

Despondency led William Kuhule, a tailor of Danbury, Conn., to go to a secluded spot in Wooster Cemetery and take a dose of rat poison. He remained there five hours, and then decided that he had rather live. He went to the hospital, but died soon afterward.

The friends of Dr. Cooke, of Chicago, who has been missing since Thursday of last week, are unable to find any clew as to his whereabouts. The police tried to locate the drug store from which the physician sent a telephone message to his brother the night of his disappearance, but were unsuccessful.

Charles F. Bates of New York was arraigned at Newport, R. I., on complaint of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, charged with burning a horse with ignited oil. He pleaded nolo contendere and was fined $150 and costs, which he paid and was discharged.

A conference was held at Boston yesterday between several Philadelphians interested in the extension of the Pennsylvania roads into New England, and certain Boston capitalists in reference to the sale of the Meriden, Waterbury & Connecticut River railroad and the building of an extension from Meriden to Hartford and New Haven.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—For New England: rains; southerly winds, becoming variable; slightly cooler.

For Eastern New York: Rains; variable winds, becoming westerly; cooler.

For New Jersey: Rains; followed by fair weather; westerly winds; stationary temperature in southern portion; cooler in northern portion.

For Western New York: Rains; winds shifting to westerly; slightly cooler.

For Western Pennsylvania: Fair weather, except preceded by rains; warmer; southerly winds.

BY THE WAY.

—The Union County Grand Jury adjourned yesterday till next Tuesday.

—A. C. La Boyteaux will lead the Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunday, at 4:15 p. m.

—The subject of Mrs. Whitney's remarks at Reform Hall, this evening, will be: "Short Beds and Narrow Covering."

—For something new and to the point read V & W's advertisement in to-morrow's issue and see what they are offering.

—The Perth Amboy Herald says that Plainfield Engine Company, No. 2, had the finest steamer in the parade at Perth Amboy last Wednesday.

—A young plebeian commuter, speaking probably from sore experience, says the "club" cars are so called because if an ordinary mortal dares to enter the sacred precincts he "gets clubbed out."

—Holy Cross Choir Guild have arranged to give another of their delightful entertainments on the evening of October 30, in the Sunday school building. Admission, it is understood, will be by invitation only.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

A. M. Field, brother of Dr. C. M. Field of Broadway, has sent to E. P. Thorn of East Front street, a handsome rattlesnake skin, from the South. The skin is fifteen feet long and has four rattles.

Mrs. W. E. Honeyman of North Plainfield has been elected President of the Woman's Synodical Society of Home Missions in the Presbyterian Synod of New Jersey, and Mrs. Samuel Milliken has been elected Corresponding Secretary.

J. Marc Martin, of Park avenue, and father of Capt. F. L. C. Martin of the Plainfield Bicycle Club, is in a very critical condition. He is suffering from nervous prostration, the result of worrying over the recent death of his son William, and is also troubled with Bright's disease. The physicians have given up all hope.

King's Daughters Arrange a Feast of Song.

The Young ladies composing the Whatsoever Circle, King's Daughters, are arranging for a delightful entertainment to be given in Y. M. C. A. Hall, Friday evening, Oct. 24, for the benefit of a fund to start a poor Southern minister and family housekeeping. The admission fee will be but fifty cents, and some excellent special features are being provided. Besides musical and literary contributions from the local talent that has been secured, including a quartette from the Crescent League, humorous and pathetic selections will be rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Firth Wood, who have already delighted Plainfield audiences. Marion Harland says that "No more attractive entertainment can be imagined than that arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Wood. They are genuine artists, refined, versatile and altogether charming."

An Attractive Programme of Coming Work.

The prayer and experience meetings of the W. C. T. U., will be held as usual at the rooms, 73 West Front street, Saturday evening at 7:45 o'clock, preceded by a short service of song.

The Sunday services of the Union will be held as heretofore at 9 A. M. and 4 P. M.

Next week Thursday, at half-past three, a specially prepared programme of reading will be conducted by Mrs. Fernald, to which all are invited.

The Loyal Temperance Legion has been resumed, under the efficient charge of Miss Beekman, who for some years has been actively engaged in temperance mission work. It is hoped that all members will try to be present Wednesdays at four P. M.

Laing—Ginder.

A pretty wedding took place Wednesday afternoon at 28 Southard street, Trenton, when Miss Addie M. Ginder was married to A. I. Laing, of South Plainfield, and formerly of this city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Salisbury, of the Fourth Presbyterian church of Trenton. Miss Lizzie Ginder, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and Fred Ginder, of New York, was "best man." The bride was attired in steel gray. The house was filled with guests. The happy couple will make their home in Plainfield after a short wedding trip.

Special Exercises Next Sunday.

The house of worship of the Scotch Plains Baptist church has been thoroughly renovated, re-frescoed, re-carpeted, recushioned, and otherwise put in complete repair. The re-opening exercises will take place next Sunday, Oct. 19. The Rev. Richard Hartley, of New York, will preach in the morning, and the Rev. J. C. Buchanan, a former pastor, in the evening. The music will be under the direction of J. Howard Gilmore, of Newark, with a volunteer choir of trained voices.

Hires' Root Beer is here again, and we think it time to call the attention of our readers to that well-known brand. It is made from the genuine roots, barks and berries. Not like a great many others that are doctored imitations of it. One 25 cent package makes five gallons. No trouble to make. Directions simple, and, if followed, the most sparkling, cooling and refreshing drink in the World yet produced. It is time to lay in a stock, and we recommend an order from your wholesale house at once.

A BRAKEMAN'S HORRIBLE DEATH.

A Plainfield Boy Torn to Pieces as His Brother was Before Him.

Christopher Hoagland, an unmarried man from Bound Brook, was killed by the cars at South Plainfield last night. He was a brakeman on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, and was caught between the bumpers while coupling cars. When the train started ahead he was released from the crushing embrace and thrown on the track. His body lay directly across the rails, and the low-hanging axles and brake attachments tore him to pieces. The remains when taken to his Bound Brook home were in so horribly mangled a condition that his friends could scarcely recognize them. Hoagland was a nephew of John Giles, who works in Rheaume's coal and lumber yards, in this city. He was the son of Calvin Hoagland, a former resident of this city. He used to be a paper boy on the Jersey Central. His brother, McClellan, was killed on a road in Omaha just two years ago, at the same age.

An Unusually Satisfactory Programme Throughout.

It was a comparatively large and an eminently intellectual audience that gathered in Music Hall, last evening, despite the heavy rain, and thoroughly appreciated and enjoyed the remarkably fine entertainment presented under the auspices of St. Andrews Society of Grace church. The programme was an exceptional one and each number a gem.

The singing of the Dudley Buck Quartette was almost perfect—in fact, except in the closing stanza of "Twilight," probably none but the "carping critics" could name a fault. As soloists they were also successful in winning the approval of the audience, and the recalls were earnest and sincere.

Charles Roberts, Jr., was particularly gratifying in his rendition of "King Robert of Sicily." Unfortunately it was his lot to lighten the programme. Humorous reading is not his forte, and his many admirers present regretted that he had not the opportunity to do his best.

The success of Mr. Adolf Glose's appearance in this city was unqualified and unquestionable. The Plainfield people have seldom shown such pleasure and satisfaction as was displayed by the faces and applause of the audience upon the close of Mr. Glose's first selection, the Verdi-Liszt "Rigoletto."

Young Base Ball Players Emulate Their Namesakes.

The Young Crescents, a junior amateur base-ball team whose doings have been recorded from time to time in the columns of THE PRESS, have closed the season with a record of fourteen victories out of twenty games played. The following is a list of the games won and lost, the last column of figures given the scores of the competing clubs:

|---|---|
| Young Americans | 8 to 5 |
| Green Brooks | 25 to 4 |
| Picked Nine | 11 to 0 |
| Young Americans | 42 to 4 |

| Chathams | 2 to 13 |
| Young Arlingtons | 12 to 19 |
| Stars | 4 to 14 |
| Cuban Giants, Jr. | 9 to 6 |

Those who have played on the Young Crescents are as follows: C. Sutphen, catcher and second base; H. Carpenter, first base and third base; M. Sutphen, third base and first base; Redden, second base; D. Mack, short stop; G. Mattis, short stop and pitcher; W. Thorn, left field; Milan, third base; Vail, second base; Runyon, centre field; Voorhees, left field; VanLlew, right field; C. Colthar, pitcher; C. P. Sutphen, centre field; W. Conway, right field; Moran, second base; Duffy, pitcher; J. Sutphen, pitcher and short stop.

An Anniversary at Dunellen.

Two stage-loads of Plainfielders went to Dunellen, last evening, and participated in the celebration of the fourth anniversary of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the First Presbyterian church. The Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of the Trinity Reformed church of this city, was prevented by illness from being present, but sent an interesting letter. M. Marvin Dunham and his choir from Warren Mission chapel rendered a service of song.

Fell from the Hay-Loft and Broke His Leg.

Maxson Dunham of New Market, father-in-law of A. H. Burdick, an employe at Spicer & Hubbard's, fell Wednesday evening from the hay-loft in his barn and landed heavily on his side, on the floor twelve feet below. Besides bruising his arm and shoulder severely, he fractured his thigh. Dr. Whitford of New Market and Dr. Jenkins of Plainfield attended the sufferer, who is now doing well.

A Big Cut.

We want to sell more goods on Saturday than we ever have yet; and to do it we will put five cases of Misses ties, patent leather tip, at 25c., one-third of their cost; also a lot of Ladies' ties, in larger sizes, at the same low prices. We also have some shoes that are soiled a little, that we shall make a great cut on. Don't miss this chance! ROGERS BROS., cash shoe dealers.

ENGINEER DUNHAM VINDICATED.

Freeholders of Both Parties Unite in the Same Verdict Given by THE PRESS.

THE PRESS is glad to be able to give below today the report of the non-partisan committee of Freeholders that has been sitting on the case of Engineer F. A. Dunham, of this city. Messrs Trahon, Doty and Jones, Democrats; and Messrs West, Roll and Wright, Republicans, have made a thorough investigation of the charges that have appeared in the Elizabeth Journal and the New York World, and unanimously find a verdict in favor of the accused, and unite in branding the charges as "not only unjust and unfair, but false and unsubstantiated by the facts," as has been insisted upon in THE PRESS from the very first. The report is:

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County:

GENTLEMEN:—The Committee appointed to investigate certain charges affecting the integrity of the County Engineer and reflecting upon the administration of his office, would respectfully report, that a careful examination into the details and management of the County Engineer's office, fails to confirm or substantiate in a single particular, any of the charges made or published in the public press.

That in some cases the Engineer has paid less, and in others more, for the services of certain assistants than he has received from the county, is not denied, but this is in strict conformity to the terms and conditions of his appointment, and any apparent advantage or profit to him from this source is more than offset by the very large expenses, such as railroad transportation, carriage hire, office rent, materials, stationery, etc., incurred and made necessary by the employment of twenty or more men in various capacities on roads remote from each other and from the railroads by several miles, and for which the county neither allows nor has ever paid him a farthing.

A statement of his receipts and disbursements checked off by vouchers and receipts examined by your Committee, and herewith submitted and made a part of this report, shows that his net income for services on account of county roads from May 1889 to September 1890, a period of sixteen months, amounts to $2,660.74 or about $5 per day for such time and over time (night work in office) as he has actually been employed on the work.

As $10 per day is the minimum compensation charged for similar services, it will readily appear that the county's interest has not suffered by reason of its contract with Mr. Dunham, while the danger of his appointing incompetent men, or more than are necessary to the proper prosecution of the work, is carefully guarded against by the fact that his appointments are subject to the approval of the Board, and every inspector is under the direct and personal supervision of a non-partisan committee responsible for and in charge of each road under contract.

The charge that the Engineer has been paid for bridge work while under pay for county roads, is also false and needs no other refutation than the simple statement that he is not a salaried officer of the county, and is paid at the rate of $8 per day for such time only as he is actually employed on the county roads. This does not preclude his doing outside work for the county or any one else. The only difference to the county is that it now pays $8 per day for bridge engineering that heretofore has cost $10. Your committee in order to make this investigation complete and satisfactory both to the accused and the public, have justified themselves in going outside the limit of their appointments and have enlarged the scope of their inquiry so as to include all charges made against the Engineer or County Board in connection with the prosecution of the county road improvements. In accordance with this determination and to this end, your committee sent notices to Mr. F. L. Pope and others that they would hold a special meeting in order to hear any charges they wished to prefer against the County Engineer or the Board of Freeholders.

Mr. D. C. Crane appeared, but was unable or unwilling to make any definite charges although given every opportunity so to do. Mr. Pope did not appear, but sent in a letter herewith submitted reiterating on belief or hearsay, certain charges heretofore published under his name in the Elizabeth Journal, but failed to produce any proof or evidence helpful to your committee. All the charges had been previously investigated and are not sustained by the facts.

Your Committee are fully satisfied that the charges under investigation are not only unjust and unfair, but false and unsubstantiated by the facts. They believe the County Engineer is a faithful, honest and efficient public officer, sincerely striving without fear or favor to prosecute a great public improvement solely in the interest of the county and to secure the practical and reasonable fulfillment of the county road specifications in all its parts. They believe the roads are being substantially and economically built and will yet prove his full and complete vindication.

Total amount paid County Engineer for 16 months:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| May and June 1889 | $837 00 | paid in | July |
| July | 1,088.13 | paid in | August |
| August | 686.13 | paid in | Sept'ber |
| September | 767.50 | paid in | October |
| October | 1,530.50 | paid in | Nov'ber |
| November | 904.50 | paid in | Dec'ber |
| December | 1,020.12 | paid in | Jan. '90 |
| January 1890 | 979.50 | paid in | Feb'ary |
| February | 758.50 | paid in | March |
| March | 570.88 | paid in | April |
| April | 1,360.87 | paid in | May |
| May | 1,498.63 | paid in | June |
| June | 1,656.25 | paid in | July |
| July | 1,693.37 | paid in | August |
| August | 1,721.88 | paid in | Sept'ber |
| Total | $17,175.85 | | |
| Total expenditures | 14,515.11 | | |
| Balance | $2,660.74 | | |

All of which is respectfully submitted,

W. H. TRAHON, CHAIRMAN.
GEO. W. DOTY,
BRADFORD JONES,
WM. T. WEST,
J. MARTIN ROLL,
GEORGE WRIGHT.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Oct. 16, 1890.

—The trial to be held under the auspices of the Young Men's Auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian Association, will take place Monday instead of Tuesday evening.

—A tree at the corner of New and Second streets was snapped off by the wind this noon. A show-case in front of the hair-dressing establishment of Jules Boutes was blown over and smashed, and $25 worth of false hair was spoiled.

Escorting the Dead Jurist's Remains.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—At 7:30 o'clock last night the train with the remains of the late Justice Miller and the funeral party on board left for Keokuk where it is due to-morrow morning. The party consisted of Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Touzalin, (her daughter), Mr. Irvine Miller, Miss Corkhill, (Justice Miller's grand-daughter), Prof. and Mrs. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. Adams, Chief Justice Fuller and Justice Brewer, Major Wright, Marshal of the Supreme Court; Mr. McKinney, clerk of the court; Fred Faust, a page, and two Supreme Court messengers.

Admiral Porter's Condition Serious.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Admiral D. D. Porter is to-day lying in a critical condition at his home in this city, and, owing to his advanced age, it is feared he may not recover. At an early hour he was attacked by severe pains in his abdomen, and rapidly became worse, finally becoming unconscious. Surgeon-General Wales was summoned, and the admiral is now reported as slightly better.

Entitled to Free Entry.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The Treasury Department has decided that under the new tariff a book printed exclusively in a language other than English, whether bound or unbound, is entitled to free entry into the United States.

On Trial for Killing His Mother.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 17.—The case of William Taylor, indicted for murder in the first degree in having killed his mother, is on trial here. The crime was committed in the spring of 1889 at the homestead near West Troy.

Consuls Change Places.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Mr. Philip Carroll of New York, Consul at Palermo, Italy, and Mr. H. C. Pugh of Indiana, Consul at Newcastle, England, have been directed to exchange places.

Tried to Cremate His Brother.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Oct. 17.—James Morrissey, living near here, while under the influence of liquor set fire to the bed on which his brother was sleeping, badly burning his entire side. His condition is critical and fatal results are feared. Morrissey was arrested and placed in jail.

Compliment to His Dog

A very delicate compliment was lately bestowed by a dog-lover upon the intelligence of his Skye terrier. The owner of the dog was sitting in his office, apparently alone, when an acquaintance entered. "Glad to find you alone," said the visitor, "because I have a confidential communication to make to you, which no one else must hear." "Hold on a minute," said the other, checking him; and then he called out: "Here, Spot!" A small terrier crawled out from under the table, wagging his tail. "Go out, Spot," said his master. The dog went out. "Now, then," said the owner, "you may go on with your confidential communication. We are alone."

A Dish of New P's.

P stands for Pudding, for Peach and for Pear,
And likewise for Poetry and Prose;
The Parrot, the Pigeon that flies in the air,
The Pig with a ring in his nose;
For Paper and Pen, for Printer and Press,
For Physic, and People who sell it;
But when you are sick, to relieve your distress
Take at once Pierce's Purgative Pellet
Oh, yes, Indeed! These are the P's for you, poor, sick man or woman. Nothing like them for keeping the bowels and stomach regulated, and in order—tiny, sugar-coated granules, scarcely larger than mustard seeds. They work gently but thoroughly.

THE MODEL SELECTED FOR THE NEW GRACE EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

TO ADORN PARISH AND CITY.

How the Funds are to be Raised to get it, and What it is to be.

In addition to the particulars given exclusively in THE PRESS of over a week ago, there is presented today a picture of the model that the Vestry of Grace church have selected for the handsome new place of worship that is to grace the Rev. Dr. Rodman's parish and adorn the city. It is to be erected on the valuable site at the corner of East Seventh and Sycamore streets, owned by the church for some time. There is not a more aristocratic location in the city. Every day, now, long steps are taken towards this consumation so devoutly wished, worked and prayed for by the Grace parishoners. The vestry, through a committee consisting of W. E. Lowe, O. T. Waring C. P. Bull, state in their report, as published in full in these columns of the 6th inst, that it is entirely within the ability of the parish to contribute the funds necessary to enable the vestry to erect and inclose sufficiently for use a suitable church, leaving, if necessary, the finishing and furnishing for another effort; and the only question to be determined is whether those who attend Grace church, and are interested in its growth and prosperity, will do what they can.

A stone church of sufficient capacity can be erected and furnished for about $40,000. With the available funds (about $5,000) now on hand, and additional subscriptions of say $10,000, the vestry would feel justified in soliciting detailed plans and specifications, and proceeding with the work, relying on additional subscriptions of at least $5,000 before the building was inclosed.

On this plan the vestry would expect to borrow (mortgaging the church property) $15,000, which, with funds on hand and subscriptions before named, will enable them to erect the building and make it habitable, leaving a portion of the finishing and furnishing—estimated say at $5,000—for further subscriptions after the church can be occupied.

Two weeks from next Sunday, will be begun the celebration of the 20th anniversary of the rectorship of the Rev. Erskine M. Rodman. The ceremonies of Nov. 2, will be an early celebration of the holy communion at 7:30 o'clock A. M. At 10:30 there will be morning prayer, a historical discourse by the rector, and holy communion. The special feature of this service will be the presentation of contributions and subscriptions to the building fund of the new church. In the afternoon of this same day, Sunday, Nov. 2, there will will be a children's service at 4 o'clock, and the presentations of their offerings to the same fund.

There will be services on that Sunday evening, and every evening during the week, with sermons as follows:

Sunday Night—By the Bishop of the Diocese.
Monday Night—By the Rev. Dr. Langford, General Secretary of Board of Missions.
Tuesday Night—By the Rev. Dr. Van De Water, of New York City.
Wednesday Night—By the Rev. Henry M. Barbour, of Trenton, N. J.
Thursday Night—By the Rev. Dr. Glazebrook, of Elizabeth, N. J.
Friday Night—By the Rev. O. S. Bunting, of Trenton, N. J.

The building pictured above has aleady been described in detail in THE PRESS. Mr. Gibson, the architect, is well known as the designer of the Cathedral in Albany, and whose design for the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York, is the favored one. What has influenced the vestry most in their choice is the fact that, while the style of church recommended is very beautiful in its design, it is of economical construction. The style adopted is Gothic. The ground plan consists of chancel, nave, side aisles, with shallow transepts, narthex, organ room, vestry and robing room. Side aisles serve for passageways only, none of the congregation being seated behind pillars or other obstructions. This enables the pillars to be erected of a substantial design and size, giving the interior a dignified effect. The transepts are introduced to give variety and picturesqueness to the design and so as to enlarge the seating capacity near to the pulpit. The masonry work of the interior is of plaster, ornamented with mouldings and carved capitals. The windows at the west end in the transepts and chancel are large tracery windows, while those in the nave aisles are comparatively small and simple. The clere-story gives a double window to each bay division of the nave. The roof has open timber work of pointed arch form, all finished in wood and stained. The roof rests direct upon the pillars of the nave, which have no arches. This arrangement enables the clere-story to be used in a height which would not permit of it otherwise, with much more effect than is usually obtained, and at a moderate cost.

Externally the building will be of stone, rough dressed, with bold, pointed arches and water tables, and the trimmings of cut stone of fine quality. The handsome square tower designed for the front, and which will occupy a considerable part of the space, will rise in noble proportions and terminate in battlements, with turret running up the easterly corner and overtopping the battlements. The whole effect of the building, as viewed from the front, will be singularly massive and dignified.

More Light on the Rev. Mr. Robertson's Philanthropy.

Under the heading "That Reverend Rascal," the Times of yesterday has more to say of the expose of the Rev. David Robertson of this city and his Juvenile Society in New York. The account goes on to say that the Charity Organization Society has issued an official statement concerning its relations to the Juvenile Guardian Society, of which Mr. Robertson is the Manager. In the course of this statement Mr. Kellogg, of the Executive Committee, says:

"I have had but one interview with Dr. Guernsey regarding the 'Juvenile Guardian Society.' Surprised at the association of his name and that of the Hon. P. C. Lounsbury with an undertaking of such general ill repute, I called upon him July 15, to inquire if it really was true that he had connected himself with that society. I did say to him, in effect, that if he and ex-Gov. Lounsbury, with other equally reliable gentlemen, would assume the whole responsibility and administration of that society, I did not think that the Charity Organization Society would have further occasion to warn its members against it.

"At the same time I told him frankly of the entire lack of confidence which this society felt in Mr. Robertson and some of the chief reasons therefore, and left with him a printed copy of extracts from official reports of the State Board of Charities adverse to Mr. Robertson and the 'Juvenile Guardian Society.' On leaving Dr. Guernsey, I learned from Gov. Lounsbury that some three weeks before he had already resigned both as Treasurer and Trustee of that society. This circumstance effectually disposed of the contingency in which it was intimated that the confidence of the Charity Organization Society might be gained.

"The fact of Gov. Lounsbury's resignation, added to the general misleading character of the appeals put forth by the Juvenile Guardian Society about the same time, and of satisfactory information received that the excursions of that society were so indiscriminate and disorderly as to give rise to much complaint, were sufficient to convince me that the peculiar methods by which Mr. D. F. Robertson had bolstered up his discredited society for so many years were still dominant in its management.

"It is significant of Mr. Robertson's methods that, although Gov. Lounsbury resigned unqualifiedly from the society in June, appeals affirming him to be its Treasurer are still widely sent out, asking for contributions on the strength of his name as custodian of the society's funds.

Plainfield Republicans Greet Their Candidates.

Forty or fifty local Republicans met in their Association rooms last evening and gave a reception to their party leaders. The meeting was not properly advertised, or it would doubtless have been well attended. Amos Clark, the Republican candidate for Congress; John C. Rankin, Jr., the nominee for State Senator; James H. Clark, the aspirant for shrievalty honors; and George W. Kyte, with Assembly ambitions; were all present, and were given a cordial greeting. Few speeches were made, and every speech was short, but there was an abundance of informal talk, and the two hours, from eight to ten, were passed very pleasantly.

Acquired Concentration the Great Benefit.

The Rev. Wm. R. Richards gave an interesting talk at the Y. M. C. A. rooms, last night. He told about the homesick freshman, and the famous Yale rushes. Amusing stories were mingled with good advice. Athletics, of course, were a prominent topic, and the speaker told how the college faculty now is in sympathy with those engaged in healthful sports. Acquiring the power of concentration, he said, was one great benefit acquired from college life. A goodly number of young men listened to the talk and roundly applauded the speaker at the close.

—A Washington Park household was thrown into consternation yesterday morning by the discovery of a full-grown opossum on the premises. The animal being good-natured was easily captured and carried away, its discoverer not caring to go into the menagerie business.

WILL HE EVER BE SENATOR REED?

Something About the Man Who Will Make Candidate Keys Work for Victory.

It is argued in favor of the candidacy of Charles A. Reed, of North Plainfield, that he has spent the greater part of his life in the county from which he hopes to be sent, by the majority of its voters, to the Senate of New Jersey, and that he has every interest of his State and locality thoroughly to heart. His home has been amid the hills of Somerset almost continuously since 1866. He was born in 1857, and was reared on a farm near Somerville, where he lived till of age. Though in one sense a country lad, he availed himself of every advantage for securing an education, and at the age of twenty-two had succeeded in concluding, with honor, the course of studies at Rutgers College, New Brunswick. Among his classmates—Class of '78—were Cortlandt Parker, Jr., and Frank T. Lent of Westfield. Wm. M. Stillman, one of Plainfield's former City Judges, was also one of his college mates, but was graduated a year earlier.

After leaving the classic walls of Rutgers behind him, young Reed entered the law office of Judge Bartine at Somerville, and delved in legal lore preparatory to entering the Columbia Law School in New York. He completed the Columbia course in 1882, and in June of that year was admitted to the bar. He then displayed for himself a modest shingle which attracted the eye of the great United States Government, and at the suggestion of the leaders of the existing administration he entered a contest of bright young men eager to secure Federal patronage. The young man from Somerville won, after passing a highly meritorious Civil Service examination, and the result brought him the profitable and honorable position of United States Special Examiner of Pensions. This was in 1884. A year later the controlling politics of the country became Democratic, Grover Cleveland became President, and Charles A. Reed returned to his law practice with a record which had won repeated encomium from the heads of his Department. As Special Examiner he helped solve several problems which had been troubling the Government in connection with different pension applications. Six months of the time his headquarters were at Springfield, Ill., and another six months in New York city.

The result of Reed's return to the Somerset county-seat was his forming a law-partnership with ex-Congressman Alvah Clark, and in 1887 he married his partner's daughter, opened an office in Plainfield, and took up his residence in the Borough. In 1888 he was appointed Borough Counsel, and has held that office by re-appointment ever since. He has won repeated social, political and professional honors, among them the election and re-election to the Presidency of the Plainfield Crescent League and to the Presidency of the U. S. Grant Club of North Plainfield. He is a man of many friends, and his popularity is due entirely to the fact that he is every inch a man and in every fibre a faithful citizen who believes in earnest, energetic effort to make life a happy success for all about him.

It is not the purpose of this article to predict success for the present political aspirations of Chas. A. Reed. He has a strong man against him as well as a political majority. THE PRESS takes pride in the man as a good citizen, and is satisfied with knowing that he will not permit triumph under partisan banners to turn him from the path of right and duty, nor let the frustration of one ambitious plan obstruct his way to other great achievements. Whether in private life or public office, Mr. Reed's career will always be one worthy of emulation. Few men reach every height they covet; the one thing is to be true to one's self in every station. If it be not good Senator, it will still be good man; and every citizen who knows the personage will be proud of his acquaintance and will have nothing but words of praise for his good qualities of head, hand and heart.

Do the Vanderbilts Want Reading?

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—No confirmation could be obtained of the rumor that negotiations were in progress between H. McK. Twombly, one of the Vanderbilt family, and Isaac L. Price, representing the pool which controls the Reading stock. The story was not generally credited by Wall street men, as it was not considered probable that Mr. Twombly or the Vanderbilts would care to purchase a controlling interest in the stock at the present market prices.

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—Five hundred and two delegates from 22 States are in session at the fifth annual convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew which opened in Grace Church. Bishop Potter, of New York, delivered the charge to the Brotherhood. The object of the Brotherhod is the spread of truth and religious belief among young men. It was organized five years ago by James L. Houghtaling, of Chicago, and has now 3,000 members.

Corpse and Mourners Fall to the Cellar.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—While the friends of Robert J. Broadwater, an aged man who died a few days ago, were assembled at his late residence, No. 36 Mifflin street, listening to the reading of the prayer for the dead previous to the funeral, the floor gave way. The minister, corpse and several of the relatives were precipitated to the cellar. None were seriously hurt.

Cruel Fate Follows a Family.

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 17.—A singular fate has overshadowed the Brower family of this city. Last evening Frank, the only son, a lad of 15 and a musical prodigy, had his brains kicked out by a horse. A few weeks ago his father was torn to atoms in a paper mill, and several years ago his grandfather met with a violent death.

POPULAR SCIENCE.

SCIENCE CLIPPINGS.

PAPER is now molded into spokes for carriage and wagon wheels. It is claimed to be both cheaper and better than wood for that purpose.

ELECTRICALLY deposited copper is so ductile that it can be drawn down until it resembles the finest hair, and this, too, without annealing.

RECENT experiments have proved that aluminium is particularly well adapted for treatment in the drawing press, one of its chief advantages being that it can be worked with very little annealing.

THE following method of filling up nail holes in wood is not only simple, but said to be effectual. Take fine sawdust and mix into a thick paste with glue, pound it into the hole, and when dry it will make the wood as good as new.

ACCORDING to Popular Science News it is possible at the equator for a solar eclipse to remain total for seven minutes and fifty-eight seconds. A person, however, moving eastward on a rapidly-moving train during totality could prolong it to eight minutes.

THAT the commercial practicability of solidifying petroleum, upon which doubt was cast some time ago, is established, is proved by the exhibition of Prof. Millefleurs before a meeting of Parisian scientists of several bricks of petroleum, which he has produced by an original process. The bricks were hard enough to be handled without inconvenience, yet soft enough to be cut with a stout knife. They burned slowly when touched with a lighted match. Prof. Millefleurs claims that they are non-explosive and inexpensive.

Dynamic Power of the Sea.

From experiments at Bell Rock and Skerryvole lighthouse, on the coast of Scotland, it is found that while the force of the breakers on the side of the German ocean may be taken at about a ton and a half to every square foot of exposed surface, the Atlantic side throws breakers with double that force, or three tons to the square foot; thus a surface of only two square yards sustains a blow from a heavy Atlantic breaker equal to fifty-four tons. In March of this year a heavy gale blew for three days and nights at Skerryvole, washing out blocks of limestone and granite of three and five tons weight as easily as if they had been empty egg shells. One block of limestone, estimated to be of fifteen tons weight, was moved over one hundred and fifty feet from a place in the surf where it had been firmly grounded since 1697, it having first been rolled in sight by the awful gale of the "windy Christmas" of that year. This is quite a high sea record for 1890, showing that the gale of March 3 was the worst known on the Scottish coast for one hundred and ninety-three years.—Scientific American.

Bee Stings for Rheumatism.

Dr. Al. Laboulbene, at the meeting of the French Entomological Society, held on March 13, 1889, gave a short abstract of a paper published in 1888 by an Austrian physician, Dr. Terc, who seems to have made extended experiments for a number of years. Dr. Terc asserts that a person stung by bees acquires thereby a relative immunity from the consequences of subsequent stings; in other words, that the virus of the bee sting acts like a vaccinal inoculation against its own poison. The immunity lasts six months, sometimes less, probably according to the number of stings inflicted on a person. Persons suffering from acute rheumatism require a larger number of bee stings to feel the usual effect of the poison, but as soon as by inoculation of a sufficient amount of virus they have acquired immunity against its effect they will as long as this immunity lasts be free from rheumatic attacks. Dr. Laboulbene suggests that in the interest of medical science it would be well to thoroughly test these assertions.—Insect Life.

Precautions Against Consumption.

In a circular on precautions against consumption, published by the State Board of Health of Pennsylvania, the following advice is given: "The duster, and especially that potent distributer of germs, the feather duster, should never be used in a room habitually occupied by a consumptive. The floor, woodwork and furniture should be wiped with a damp cloth. The patient's clothing should be kept by itself, and thoroughly boiled when washed. It need hardly be said that the room should be ventilated as thoroughly as is consistent with the maintenance of a proper temperature."

The Fastest Boat in the World.

The torpedo boat Adler, constructed in Germany for the Russian Black Sea fleet, is described by the Russian papers as the fastest war vessel afloat, having attained during its trial trip a speed of 26.55 knots. The boat is 150 feet long and 17 feet broad, with a displacement of 150 tons. Three gunboats, one of which—the Narghen—is finished—are being constructed in German ship-yards for the Baltic fleet, and these will be almost as fast steamers as the Adler.

The Philosophy of Hats—An Era of Parisian Headgear—Feather Toques and Pocket Muffs—The Novelties for Hat Decoration.

[COPYRIGHT, 1890.]

[Special Correspondence.]

While the gods may give nothing to men without great labor, the merest accident has often been sufficient to provide women with the desire of their hearts as far as the whims of fashion are concerned. Gloves were devised to cover the ugly, red hands of a queen; the necklet was made to conceal a scar on a snowy throat, and as the Rabagas hat was traced to a titled lady and leader of fashion who, on a hot summer's day, threw back a hat which burdened her forehead, so the little close bonnets might have been suggested by crowds and high winds, and the scooping shapes by driving rains. Had not Jonas Hanway been bold enough to carry his umbrella we might still be going about in a green silk calash, beneath which it was said that every full face was charming and every side view correspondingly ugly.

The fall season as to millinery is precisely like its predecessors. The keen eye may trace the outgrowths of a previous season, and those who desire only novelty need not be disappointed. The touch of Parisian taste is unmistakable in the new hats and bonnets, the former being so large and the latter so small as to suggest serious apprehensions for the later arrivals, when the fashionable shapes shall have reached their respective maximum and minimum.

When a felt hat is bordered with narrow ostrich feather trimming, a pocket muff of velvet is made in the same colors, with a bunch of small feather tips at one side. Cloth crowns, imported of course, have brilliant birds applied flat upon the surface, with wings outspread, as if flying. These are made up in toques with feather bands or rolls of velvet, and aigrettes of heron plumes. Feather toques are accompanied by collarettes which extend well down at the front and back, and are made of the same feathers as the hat. Impeyan is the most brilliant for this purpose.

None of the conceits and fantasies heretofore introduced by the designer and the colorist have equaled those now displayed in the newest Pompadour brocades. Light and shadow, distance and depth, are all expressed upon their beauteous surfaces. In the new supply, fruit is evidently the temporary fancy of fashion, with a preference for pomegranates, olives, cherries, lady-apples, grapes, plums and currants. For brides' dresses flowers chiefly are supplied in plain brocades, that is, those not decorated with pearls or cut jewels, such as trumpet lilies, uncurling fern fronds, sprays of wheat and oat straw, the most graceful of all cereals, being leading patterns in ivory and cream white. A very beautiful brocade for brides has for design a tiny flying swallow, the bird itself being an Oriental emblem of happiness. There are also Louis XVI. and Marie Antoinette designs and styles which copy Escurial laces. One brocade of this description has a ground of Flemish blue satin, patterned with a black lace beading, which is seemingly tied in true lovers' knots.

It is made up with a plain skirt and fan-plaited back, and is accompanied by a Louis XV. coat of black velvet, edged with black ostrich trimming and a full jabot of fine French lace down the front. The sleeves, however, match the skirt, and are in leg o' mutton shape, with a fall of lace at the wrist. Another brocade in black is patterned with rosy-cheeked pippin apples with twigs and leaves. Plain black faille supplies the front of the skirt, while the brocade is fan-plaited at the back. The front breadths are slashed into deep squares on the lower edge, and peeping out from between the openings are knife-plaitings of India silk in the various colors shown in the brocade. The bodice shows a combination of the faille and brocade.

Combination costumes or pattern dresses prevail among autumn novelties. Camel's hair, armure and homespun cloth in double widths have a border along one edge, either in tartan plaids, rows of narrow velvet interwoven to look as if sewed on, bands of astrakhan or frise stripes. Sometimes there will be Vandykes of braiding in combination with astrakhan, and the most expensive of all pattern robes has sleeves and corsage trimmings wrought on to resemble passementerie. Other wool materials are pleasantly suggestive of the bourettes so popular several seasons back. Whether as bison cloth the roughest will be more attractive than soft bourette, or camel's hair with a rough finish, is questionable, but the fabric promises satisfaction from its quality, colorings and general character.

An elegant example of the Louis XV. Jaquette is made of velvet or faced cloth and brocade. Mouse gray velvet for the jacket with rolling collar fastened just below the bust with two buttons, and a close-fitting waistcoat of silver gray brocade, over-run with a little steel and silver, is an elegant combination for this form of garment.

The waistcoat is fastened to the throat with smaller buttons than those upon the jacket, and they should be the traditional Louis XV. buttons, which are enamel paintings of beautiful female heads set in cut silver. Portfolio pockets of the velvet are placed on the waistcoat so as to show half beyond the coat-fronts, and the jacket has close sleeves with deep cuffs of the brocade. A full jabot or double cascade of lace is added to the throat and falls just below the bust.

It is rather early to look for shades which are most beautiful under artificial light, yet there is no lack of rich and novel colors designed for the trying light of day. The most of these are classified and graded, too, saving the eye and the judgment from confusion. Red is now a popular hue, and the shades in use are many, including Magenta, Solferino, Eiffel, Frontin, a brilliant cherry, salvia, dahlia, and the fuchsia reds, so much admired, which are heavy and have a purple overcast.

New pinks are topaz, a tint advised for brunettes; flamingo's wing, a red pink, pomegranate, old rose and trocadero, a pale shade. The browns are Sienna, golden russet, marron, a pale chestnut, and a new whitish brown, called cocoanut. Greens this season include forest green in changeable tints, and the mallard hues called canard and canette. Cresson green has blue tints. There are also Egyptian green, a dull, muddy tint, spinach and willow, a pale tint. The yellows own an Egyptian or dull porphyry color; tunis, which has a reddish overcast, and imperial, a brilliant hue. Tonquin and oriole are also brilliant, while jonquil and primrose are delicate evening shades. The favorite blues are mazarin, marine, azure, king's blue and French ultra-marine, known also as St. Cyr. Grays are especially the favorites of fashion, and display mouse, steel, granite, acier, with a blue cast; iron gray, trusperelle or turtle-dove and seagull—in fact, the shades of gray are almost numberless.

Among the odd tints there are fumee, a smoke color bordering on brown; poussiere de coral, or coral dust, citron, poppy, petunia and capucine.

All fawn and almond, mignonette and mastic shades remain with us, as also do the copper and currant tints, the garnets, blue plum and bronze shades. Evening colors show the same pale tints already familiar, but another month will bring out novelties for later fall and winter, which, with those already mentioned, will make a very choice variety from which to select.

The novelties in fall gloves are the gray shades which Parisian women call "sad" and "tender," and which importers offer in preference to the long-favored tan colors. The latter are still admired, however, and begin at a yellowish russet shade, with dull chamois and ecru for the lightest tints. Of the new colors suggested for street wear, pearl gray shades with black stitching and in glace kid are the ultra in style. The latest novelties in Parisian gloves are displayed in a Broadway window, and a recent addition to the list is a blue, of that peculiar shade found only in the wing of a Brazilian butterfly. Flowering almond is the fashionable tint in pink, and oat-straw the selected shade of yellow, for gloves worn with tull-dress toilettes.

JOURNALISTIC PLUMS.

RECENTLY a mother and two daughters in New York State all gave birth to twins on the same day.

A NEOSHO County, Kan., farmer sent this mixed order to a Chanute merchant: "Send me a sack of flour, five pounds of cofe and one pound of tee. My wife gave birth to a big baby boy last night, also five pounds of corn starch, a screwdriver and flytrap. It weighed ten pounds and a straw hat."

A Boston young man, clerk in a retail dry-goods store, was granted a fortnight's vacation, and amused himself by daily visiting the store for half an hour, marching up and down, and pleasantly nodding to his associates. When asked for an explanation, he replied that he had felt for a long time a desire to be able to do as he pleased in the store, and he had now been able to do so.

A SHORT courtship is reported from Maine. Deacon Marvin, one of the early settlers of Buckfield, one day mounted his horse with only a sheepskin for a saddle, rode in front of the house where Betty Lee lived, and, without dismounting, requested Betty to come to him. On her coming he told her that the Lord had sent him there to marry her. Betty, without much hesitation, replied: "The Lord's will be done."

THE New York Tribune tells of a fastidious lady who drove to her butcher's and told that individual that whenever he or his assistants spoke to her through the telephone they must wash their hands and put on a coat. "It is highly indelicate," she said, "for you to speak to a lady with unclean hands and in your shirt sleeves, and unless you cease doing so I shall have to trade with the other butcher person."

IT's an obliging world, sure enough. A New York woman mailed a letter to Baltimore. It had a paper pocket sewed on the outside of the envelope with white thread. On the pocket was a message to the postmaster that it contained ten cents and that the writer desired the postal authorities to buy a special delivery stamp for the letter and deliver it as soon as it reached there. The injunction was obeyed and the letter promptly forwarded.

A CITIZEN of Lee County, Georgia, tells the following story: "Last spring I planted a lot of English peas. One day the chickens got in the garden, scratched them up and ate them. I didn't have time just then to send to town after more pea seed to plant, so I decided to cut the chickens' craws open, take the seed out and plant them. I did that; then I sewed up the craws with a common needle and thread. I never saw a finer crop of English peas than I raised last spring, and I think those chickens were the best I ever tasted, for, be it known, the chickens lived and grew to be of good size."

A CURIOUS story of burglary comes from London. It was at a grocer's shop. At a very early hour in the morning before the inmates sleeping three stories above were awake, a man, ostensibly a grocers' assistant, unlocked the door from outside, and, putting on an apron, started with a brisk air of business to take the shutters down. As he was so engaged a cart with two other men drove up, and by and by the three were busily removing a dozen chests of tea from the stores into the street and loading the cart. Having completed their task they drove off, no one then suspecting that any thing was wrong. The robbery was an adroit one, and the thieves were not caught. It appeared, later, however, that their booty was only some chests filled with sawdust and used as dummies in the window.

RULERS GREAT AND SMALL.

THE Czar of Russia is so strong in the fingers that he can tear a pack of cards to pieces, fifty-two cards at a time.

QUEEN VICTORIA is very tenacious of the rule that she shall hear at least once a week from members of her family absent in other lands. She likes letters.

THE Empress of Austria, a London correspondent declares, buys some costumes without being measured for them, and is to be "seen in the streets wearing ready-made gowns." This is, indeed, harrowing news, but it is comforting to remember that, otherwise, her Majesty is an excellent woman.

QUEEN MARGARET, of Italy, is given to making unannounced visits to charitable institutions, particularly those devoted to the care of children, and is kindly critical about their management. This makes things lively for the attaches, but usually the inmates are correspondingly the gainers.

THE Czar's personal body-guard of private police consists of fifteen specially-picked Corsicans, mature and tried men, chosen and trained by M. Celertin Pietri, nephew of Napoleon III.'s Minister of Police. These men have to keep watch in the kitchens and private apartments, while some of them act as assistant cooks. It is intended gradually to increase the corps as suitable men can be found.

THE Sultan of Lahore is black as a coal, and his idea of feminine beauty is that a real Juliet must not weigh less than four hundred pounds. A lady who apparently weighed more than that was presented to him recently, and the Sultan was so enraptured with her corpulent charms that he proposed to cover her broad beauty with diamonds, much to the horror of his treasurer, who knew that the subsidy of one million dollars received from the British Government could not stand such drains.

THE Queen of Roumania, who was in London recently, is, at the age of forty-seven, still a beautiful woman. She is tall, with an extremely good figure, and but for the silvery lines which have dimmed the brightness of her golden hair still retains most of the beauties of her youth. Her eyes are quite bewitching, being large and blue, with a delicious dreamy look; she has a really classical mouth, exquisitely white, regular teeth, a finely cut nose, and small, well-shaped hands and feet. She is an indefatigable worker and rises every morning before it is day. She is firm in her refusal to allow her maid to attend her, but lights her own lamp and sits down at her table to spend an hour or two over her MSS.

IN AND AROUND ASIA.

THE Japs administer the oath by cutting the witnesses' finger and taking blood to seal the swear.

WHEN the railway across Siberia is completed it is estimated that the tour of the world in fifty days will be feasible.

THE total annual home consumption of opium in China has lately been reckoned to be about 41,000,800 pounds.

THE oldest newspaper is the Pekin Gazette, which was first issued in the year 911 of the Christian era, and has been regularly published since 1351. It is the official organ of the oldest empire of the world, and the Chinese contemplate it with reverence and awe.

THE large sums of money that the Government of India devotes annually as rewards for the destruction of snakes has brought about an unexpected result. The snakes are being bred and reared by the natives for the purpose of obtaining the usual head-money offered.

A CURIOUS industry in Japan, handed down from father to son, is the systematic dwarfing of forest trees until they are mere plants of two feet or less in height. In the Tokio exhibit at the Paris Exposition was an eighty-year-old maple only twenty inches high, and several pines of twenty-four inches, which were one hundred and fifty years old.

THE Japanese ladies are in a worry. Some years ago European dress began to come into vogue in Japan, but a reaction has set in. The Japanese women are not satisfied with the ordinary dress styles of civilization, but they are unwilling to return to their old dress, and hence they are now considering "rational dress" advocated by the various feminine dress reformers.

A WRITER in the North China Herald, of Shanghai, asserts that the climate of Asia is growing colder, and its tropical animals are slowly retreating southward. In proof of this he quotes evidences, historical and referential, of the former existence of elephants, tigers and leopards in China. Tigers and leopards are, however, not yet extinct in China, and are common enough in Corea. The bamboo, it is said, formerly grew naturally in parts of the country where it now has to be taken care of.

THE British Consul at Port Said says that the traffic through the Suez canal has been decidedly increased since the vessels began to use electric lights, as is shown by the fact that in 1887, 395 steamers used the light; in 1888, 1,611, and in 1889 the list rose to 2,445. The time of passing through the canal has been also reduced by the same means. Twenty-two and a half hours is now the average time; but a passage has been made under exceptional circumstances in fourteen and three-quarter hours.

THE Japanese books begin where ours end, the word finis coming where we put the title page; the foot notes are printed at the top of the page and the reader puts in his marker at the bottom. In Japan men make themselves merry with wine before dinner, not after; the sweets precede the roasts. A Japanese mounts his horse on the right side instead of on the left. The mane of the animal hangs on the left side instead of on the right; the horse stands in the stable with his head where his tail ought to be. Boats are hauled upon the beaches stern first. The Japanese saw the plane toward them instead of away from them. Keys turn in instead of out. The best rooms of a Japanese house are always at the back, and architects, when building, begin with the roof.

SMACKING JOKES.

"GIVE me a kiss, Tot," said her papa, as he seated himself by her side at the table. "It isn't time for dethert," replied the little miss, pouting out her lips, which, indeed, looked as tempting as strawberries.

BACON—"A man never steals any thing but he lives to regret it." Egbert—"You're wrong there, my boy. Didn't you ever steal a kiss from your girl in your younger days?" "Yes, old man, I did. But didn't I marry the girl?"

HE—"Here are your caramels, and now I suppose I will take those kisses you promised me." She—"Did I promise you any kisses?" He—"Of course you did, darling—great Scott! I've got you mixed up with my other girl!"

"MAY I take a kiss before I go, dearest?" said George, as he prepared to depart. "You may borrow one," said Jennie, "but you must not take one, for mother has repeatedly cautioned me against giving kisses to any one." So George was obliged to borrow.

SHE—"How reckless of you to kiss me on my nose, and with such a smack, too." He—"I beg your pardon. I meant to kiss you on the mouth. But you know that love is blind." She—"Yes; this light is too dazzling. Perhaps I had better turn the light down."

HE—"My dear cousin, I assure you I would never dare rob those sweet lips of a kiss." She—"Oh! you hypocrite, didn't you make an attempt of that character the other day?" He—"Never. Far from having any intention of robbing you of a kiss, I was trying to give you one."

THERE is told an anecdote of a Scotch minister, who, when he had been engaged to a girl for some years, said timidly, one day: "D'ye think, lassie, we might tak' a kiss?" The damsel looked as if she thought they might. The minister folded his hands, asked a blessing, took the kiss and gave thanks. Very soon he whispered: "Eh, lassie, but its verra guid. D'ye think we might tak' anither?"

A MAN was brought before a justice of the peace charged with the offense of kissing a young lady "by force and violence and against her will." The young lady, who was very handsome, gave her testimony in a modest and straightforward manner, after which his honor gave the following decision: "The court, in this case, sympathizes with the defendant, and will therefore discharge him without fine, imprisonment or reprimand, because the court, while this case has been in progress, has been obliged to hold on to both arms of his chair in order to keep from kissing the complainant himself!"

MANGLED IN CHURCH

A Wild Rush Caused by a Blaze at the Altar.

WOMEN START THE STAMPEDE.

One Boy Killed and More Than Fifty Persons Badly Hurt.

The Fire Quickly Extinguished—Over 10,000 in and Around the Church—Little Ones Crushed in Their Efforts to Escape—The Injured Children all Poles. Origin of the Catastrophe.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 18.—A fire panic in the Church of St. Stanislaus Koiska, at the corner of Noble and Ingraham streets, at 8 a. m., caused the death of one boy and the fatal injury of half a dozen others. More than fifty persons were badly hurt.

There were 1,500 children ranging in age from five to fifteen years in the church at the time, and a panic among them ensued.

All the efforts of the sisters of Notre Dame, who have charge of the children, to check the stampede proved of no avail.

The children rushed toward the door and rolled down the stone steps, followed by the crying and screaming women that were also in the church.

The children that came out first were the ones that were the most injured. They were trampled upon by the children and women following them, who seemed utterly without reason or presence of mind.

An alarm of fire was sent in and the noise of the approaching engines, with the ringing of bells, made the panic still worse.

In less than five minutes after the alarm was sent in over 10,000 people assembled around the church, while the panic was at its height.

At Korsakowsky's drug store, 690 Noble street, several physicians were kept busy attending the injured children.

The fire was quickly extinguished, only a small damage being done. It will not exceed $100.

A patrol wagon from the Rawson street station arrived and the police, with the aid of the fire department, restored order after working over half an hour. At first they met with very little success. It seemed as if everybody for a mile around was at the place, and the crowd was so dense that a passage could only be made with the greatest difficulty.

The injured children were all Poles. The list as far as can be ascertained is as follows:

Frank Dzewizski, 11 years old, 690 Noble street, will die.

Frank Diamtkow, 7 years old, 114 Clever street, will die.

Josef Zeizik, 26 Wade street, will die.

Unknown boy, will die.

Unknown girl, who was taken home by her parents, will die.

About a dozen others are more or less seriously injured.

FIGHTING A CRAZY MAN.

Desperate Struggle With a Lunatic on a Railroad Bridge.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 18.—A young grocer clerk, Mack Andrews, of the West End, had a desperate fight during the day with a madman known as "Crazy Pete." The encounter took place on the railroad bridge which spans the Ohio River at the West End. Mr. Andrews was walking on the bridge, which is 100 feet above high water, when he met Pete returning from the Allegheny side.

He spoke to Mr. Andrews, and the latter answered him rather gruffly. This angered the crazy man and he jumped at Andrews. The grocer's clerk started to run, but Pete was too quick for him and grabbed him by the throat and swore he would throw him off the bridge. After a desperate struggle on the narrow railroad track Mr. Andrew finally broke loose and climbed down the iron supports of the bridge, with Pete after him in a perfect fury, but Andrews escaped.

The Auxiliary Engineers.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 18.—The grand International auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers held a public meeting in Allegheny. The meeting was held with a view to making known the objects and work of the organization. The Grand Secretary, Mrs. Harry St. Clair, of Logansport, Ind., gave a description of the advantage to be gained from membership in the organization. The Grand President, Mrs. W. A. Murdoch, of Chicago, also made a speech. John Brunton, of Pueblo, Col., an engineer, told what benefits had been derived from the auxiliary in Denver.

NOVEL POINT OF LAW.

A Woman Restrains Her Husband from Disposing of His Property.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 18.—The decision given by Judge Ewing in the County Court yesterday decides a point of law that has never been decided in this State.

Tessel Mozersky asked that her husband be restrained from disposing of his property. Judge Ewing granted a temporary injunction.

Papers in divorce proceedings were filed by the woman last week on the ground of cruelty, alleging that her husband called her a witch.

The couple were married in Irelienki, county of Wasilcoft, State of Kief, Russia. They were political exiles, and 20 years ago were forced to come to America. She had an inheritance of 1,000 roubles, and on this her husband began to speculate in real estate here, and was so successful that he is now worth over $30,000.

KILLED HIS MAN.

A Policeman Fires His Revolver With Deadly Effect.

PITTSTON, Pa., Oct. 18.—John W. Davis, a retired hotel keeper of this place, was shot dead last night by William Weathers, a police officer, who also received injuries which may prove fatal.

Davis, who was intoxicated, became involved in a fight in front of the Eagle Hotel. Weathers attempted to arrest Davis, but the latter resisted so stoutly that another officer had to be called. Davis broke away from both officers and drew a "black jack" from his pocket. With this he struck Weathers several terrific blows, felling him to the ground.

As Weathers lay prostrate he drew his revolver and fired four shots at Davis, two of which took effect, and Davis dropped.

Both men were carried to the corridor of the hotel, when Davis died in a few minutes. Physicians think that Weathers also will die. Both men are well known here and the excitement is intense.

NO MORE BODIES FOUND.

But Many Think There are Charred Remains in the Syracuse Hotel Ruins.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Very little has been done toward clearing away the wreck of the Leland Hotel fire, and no new names have been added to the list of the dead. The work of removing the debris is being done by the city.

Mary Doyle and Mary Padden, servants, of this city, are missing. No trace of them has been found, and it is supposed that their bodies are buried under the ruins.

It is the opinion of many that more charred remains will be found in the wreck.

Of the persons injured in the fire it is feared that at least four, all of them servants at the hotel, will die.

Poisoned the Stock for Spite.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 18—In July last the Moore girls, living at New Salem, lost a cow and thirty-two sheep by poison. Some unknown person had placed blue vitriol mixed with salt in the field where the stock was pastured. Two more cows and a horse have died from the same cause, the fiend having this time given the poison mixed with chop feed. The girls are orphans, and their stock is now reduced to a cow and a calf. The guilty party is suspected to be a young man whose attentions one of the young ladies refused.

Bismarck's Name Hissed.

BERLIN, Oct. 18.—The Emperor William evinces deep interest in the Socialist Congress at Halle, and is reported to have said that the Socialists must prove themselves worthy of liberty or they would again be deprived of it. Prince Bismarck, on the other hand, is said to have declared that the Empire had admitted an enemy within its borders more dangerous than the French. The name of Bismarck is everywhere hissed by the Socialists.

Stanley's First Lecture Here.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—It has been decided to sell at auction the seats for Henry M. Stanley's lecture at the Metropolitan Opera house on Tuesday evening, November 11, in aid of the Summit Convalescent Home. The sale will take place at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, November 1. Mr. Stanley will be introduced by Chauncey M. Depew, and there will be on the platform a large and representative reception committee.

Drowned by a Collision.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The tug J. A. Garfield, owned by the McCalden Bro.'s., of 79 Broad street, was run into off Pier 6, East River, by the tug Amos Barstow and sunk. On the Garfield at the time were seven men, among them being one of the members of the firm. All perished with the exception of Jones Robbins, a ship carpenter, who was rescued with difficulty and taken to a hotel.

Will Increase its Plant.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Oct. 18.—The Washington mills, worsted manufacturers, will at once increase the plant to an extent that will give employment to 750 more operatives. New improved machinery will be put in and production largely increased. The Arlington will also increase its plant and give employment to 500 more operatives.

McGonegal Gets a Stay.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Charles Brooke, counsel for Dr. McGonegal, has just obtained a stay from Judge Barrett until Tuesday, when counsel will move for a new trial on the same grounds urged upon a similar motion made before Judge Fitzgerald in General Sessions. This order was granted.

President Caldwell's Sudden Death.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18.—Stephen A. Caldwell, President of the Fidelity Trust and Safe Deposit company, and at one time one of the receivers of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad, died suddenly at his residence in this city at 2 a. m.

EXCITEMENT IN NEW ORLEANS.

A Deathbed Confession About the Assassination Interrupted by a Priest.

Funeral of the Chief of Police—Over Fifty Persons Arrested on Suspicion of Being Connected With the Crime—The Feeling Against the Dagos Very Bitter.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 18.—The excitement occasioned by the assassination of Chief of Police Hennessy was intensified by the the shooting of Antonio Scoffidi, one of the suspects arrested.

Over forty arrests have been made so far in connection with the assassination, chief of whom are Antonio Scoffidi, Lonetto Seconetti and Antonio Bognetti, who are directly charged with the shooting, and John Matranga, arrested as an accessory. Bostitio Incardino, one of the chief suspects, was one of the Matranga party in the wagon which, it was claimed, was fired upon by the Provinzano faction. These, with the Caruso faction, have occupied the attention of the police and the courts of the city for years. It was the purpose of the Provinzano faction to bring Chief Hennessy as an important witness in their case with the Matranga faction. This fact and the chief's thorough knowledge of the inner workings of the secret organization known as the Mafia were no doubt the causes of the edict issued for Hennessy's death.

At noon, Thomas H. Duffy, a newspaper carrier and brother of prize fighter John Duffy, called at the Parish prison and asked to see Antonio Scoffidi, one of the prisoners arrested in connection with the murder of Chief Hennessy, for the purpose, he said, of identifying him. A keeper brought Scoffidi in the corridor, when, quick as a flash, Duffy drew a pistol and shot the prisoner in the neck, inflicting a mortal wound. Duffy was arrested and Scoffidi was conveyed to the hospital. At 1:30 Scoffidi was in the act of making a confession or dying declaration at the hospital, and had got as far as: "We knew that Chief Hennessy and the Provinzios were friends, and we and Matranga"—when a Catholic priest, Father O'Neill, was announced. That cut short the confession, and the dying man and priest were left together.

Deputy Sheriff Andry was standing within three feet of Duffy when he fired the shot, and behind him were standing Deputy Sheriff Fortier and Officer Freitag. Duffy was grasped by these three men and disarmed, while Deputy Dwyer attended to the wounded man.

Willing to Hang.

The ambulance was summoned, and pending its arrival Duffy was removed to the station, which is situated in the parish prison. Duffy said if Scoffadi died he would be perfectly willing to hang. He had seen the coffin of Chief Hennessy, and decided that his murder must be avenged and had forthwith determined to slay one of the murderers.

Among those expressing sympathy for the family of the deceased Chief are William A. Pinkerton, British Consul de Nouditanques, John L. Sullivan, Duncan Harrison, Inspector Byrnes and many others. The feeling against the "dagoes" is so intense that the Times-Democrat and the Picayune this morning have editorials, urging that the law be allowed to take its course, and discouraging any general demonstration against this class of people because of the assassination, as 15,000 or 20,000 of them live in New Orleans, many of whom are among its best citizens; and heartily denounce and deplore the terrible tragedy.

The remains of Chief Hennessy lay in state in the Council Chamber today, thousands of people viewing them. The funeral took place during the afternoon and was an immense affair, all organizations of the State and city, the firemen, military, etc., participating.

W. L. Scott Convalescing.

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 18.—Wm. L. Scott is far from the condition reported by the Washington correspondents. He is convalescing rapidly, and is able to be driven up to his farm. He eats game and has a good appetite. His attending physician expects to take him to Washington in a week or so with the hope of a speedier recovery.

The Woman Affirms and the Man Denies.

SALT LAKE, Uath, Oct. 18.—Charles Thomas, a Temple Pilot, who shows visitors about the Mormon Temple block, has been arrested for unlawful cohabitation. He gave bonds before a Commissioner for his appearance. Charles Hawley was held by a Commissioner yesterday in $1,000 bonds for unlawful cohabitation. It is a case where the woman affirms and the man denies.

WALTON'S MURDER.

Several Important Clews Unearthed by the Danbury Police.

DANBURY, Conn., Oct. 18.—Several important clews have been unearthed in the Walton murder case and one man had been arrested. This man, Thomas McCoy by name, is locked up to await the action of the Coroner. McCoy bears an unsavory reputation and three witnesses have been found who swear that they saw him with Walton on Saturday afternoon.

Walton was intoxicated and had the appearance of having been "done up," as one of the witnesses explained. It was then about 1:30 o'clock. The police are detetmined that the murderers shall be brought to justice. A prominent city official said that if necessary the city would raise the money needed to hunt down the men who had committed one of the foulest murders in the history of the State.

It is now an almost established fact that the blow that caused Walton's death was received in a drunken quarrel. If this be so, Walton must have wandered about with his fractured skull and bruised body from that time until he reached the tramps' rendezvous late at night. His dazed condition was due to the effects of the blow and not to intoxication, as was then supposed. The most prevalent theory now is that he died during the night, and that the tramps became frightened and fled.

CABINET MEETING.

Discussing Gen. Barrundia's Killing and Minister Mizner's Connection With It.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—An important session of the Cabinet was held from noon until 2 p. m. It is understood that the Central American affairs were discussed at considerable length.

The whole matter of Gen. Barrundia's killing and Minister Mizner's connection with the affair were gone over in detail.

Members of the Cabinet are reticent as to the result of the conference.

Honoring a Bishop.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 18.—A reception in honor of the golden jubilee of the Right Rev. John Loughlin, Bishop of Brooklyn, was held in the rink on Clermont Green last night. It is estimated that 8,000 people were present, including the Catholic clergy of Brooklyn and New York. Addresses were made by Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Corrigan, of New York; Bishop Loughlin and others. The Bishop was presented with a purse of $21,000, contributed by the laity of his diocese, and a number of other valuable gifts.

Reception to the Engineers.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 18.—The reception in honor of the delegates of the twenty-seventh annual convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, tendered by the Pennsylvania Railroad Department of the Young Men's Christian Association last night was largely attended. Mr. Robert Pitcairn, general agent and superintendent of the Pennsylvania Railroad presided. Addresses were made by Superintendent Pitcairn, Grand Chief Engineer Arthur and several other prominent persons.

A Theatrical Man Arrested.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Charles G. Locke, of the theatrical firm of Locke & Davis, managers of the American Opera Company, DeWolf Hopper, Minnie Palmer and other theatrical ventures, was arrested at Herrman's Theatre last night, charged with passing bogus checks. The warrant on which he was arrested was procured by James Barton Key, proprietor of the Amusement Bulletin.

Ships in Distress.

NANTUCKET, Mass., Oct. 18.—A gale of forty-five miles an hour is blowing. The United States Coast Survey steamer Bache is in a precarious condition about a mile off shore and dragging. Assistance has gone to be ready in case of disaster. A four-masted shooner is laboring heavily near Tuckernuck Shoal.

Raising the Price of Beer.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 18.—The Brewers' Association has notified its patrons that owing to recent prices of raw material and the increased duty on Canadian barley and European hops, the price of beer will be, from and including October 20th, $7 per barrel, net, and all discounts and other expenditures on the part of the brewers will be discontinued.

Sandbagged by Chicago Toughs.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—In less than an hour after he arrived in town last night George H. Bott of Watertown, Wisconsin, who is gray haired and feeble, was sandbagged, robbed of $500 in cash, a certificate of deposit for $8,000, and despoiled of his overcoat, hat and satchel. His assailants are unknown.

The Ellenberger Murder Trial.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Oct. 18.—All the evidence in the sensational Ellenberger murder case was finished last evening. The case was summed up for the prisoner by Jacob Schwartz, and for the prosecution by United States Marshal Baxter. The Judge's charge was delivered this afternoon. The jury is now out.

Reception to the Comte de Paris.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—A reception in honor of the Comte of Paris was given last evening by Alexander S. Webb, at his residence. Among the 300 guests present were General Sherman, Chauncey M Depew, Gen. Wm. L. James, of Philadelphia; Cyrus W. Field, Fitz-John Porter and Gen. O. O. Howard.

Umpire Kelly Liberated.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—John Kelly, the baseball umpire and saloonkeeper, who was arrested Thursday night for having a gambling house over his saloon on Sixth avenue, was discharged by Justice O'Reilly in the Jefferson Market Court for lack of evidence.

EXCITED SOCIALISTS

A Member Drops Dead While Delivering a Speech.

PROVIDING FOR NEWSPAPERS.

A Press to Enlighten Workingmen and Inspire Them With Confidence.

Balfour Speaks at Newcastle—Presented With a Number of Addresses—A Recommendation to Canada About the McKinley Bill—Horrible Butchery of a Mother and Three Children in Berlin.

HALLE, Oct. 18.—Much excitement was caused among the delegates to the Socialist Congress by the sudden death of one of their number. The Congress was engaged in discussing means to improve the position of the Socialist press. Herr Baumgarten, one of the delegates from Hamburg, was taking a part in the debate. He was in the midst of an argument, in presenting which he had become very much excited, when he was seen to stagger. Those close to him rushed to his aid, but before they could reach him he fell to the floor dead. The cause of his death is not known, but it was probably due to either heart disease or apoplexy.

After the body of Herr Baumgarten had been removed from the hall and the excitement had subsided the debate was resumed. A resolution was finally adopted declaring that the Socialist press cannot fulfil its mission unless its means of existence are assured, and urging the members of the party to promote the circulation of the chief Socialist organ and the non-periodical literature of the party. The resolution also urges the Socialists above all things to support the already existing press in their various localities and to prevent the press from being made an object of private speculation.

The first and chief duty of the press, the resolution declares, is to enlighten workingmen and to inspire them with confidence in themselves as a class. The press must not suffer through consideration for private interests. The resolution recommends the utmost care in establishing new party journals, which, it says, should not be started until the party is convinced that the enterprise is able to maintain itself from its own resources and that it possesses the necessary intellectual and technical material.

CHOPPED TO PIECES

A Berlin Builder Mutilates and Kills His Wife and Three Children.

BERLIN, Oct. 18.—The city is excited over a horrible tragedy just discovered by the police. A builder by the name of Schaaf, living in Reinckendorf, a suburb of Berlin, horribly mutilated and killed his wife and three of his children with a hatchet, and terribly injured two others of his five children, who may die.

Schaaf was a builder who grew wealthy during the recent boom in real estate in Berlin. He got into financial difficulties, losing nearly all of his fortune, and was hard pressed by creditors. Fearing proceedings in bankruptcy, he became nearly insane, and of late had shown signs that he was out of his mind. In this condition he suddenly attacked his wife and children. Their cries for help were unheard by their neighbors. Schaaf has disappeared.

Speculating on the Tariff Bill.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Right Hon. A. J. Mundella (Liberal), M. P., formerly president of the Board of Trade, speaking at Sheffield, said he believed the McKinley Tariff bill would disappoint its framers and prove oppressive to American consumers, especially the farmers. Austria, Germany, Belgium and France would suffer the most severely of European nations. England, however, would undoubtedly be able to overmaster the dear labor of America. If the Canadians should proclaim free trade they would be masters of the situation.

Balfour's Address.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Mr. Balfour, Chief Secretary for Ireland, spoke at Newcastle, opening the campaign for the Government. His address consisted mainly of a general statement and defense of the Government's Irish policy. He declared that the condition of Ireland was improving. The country was increasing in material prosperity, and the respect for law was becoming more widespread.

The Irish Fugitives.

PARIS, Oct. 18.—Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien passed the day in visiting. They called at the offices of several newspapers and related the circumstances of their voyage and explained the situation in Ireland. The press is paying a great deal of attention to the matter. Mr. O'Brien remains at his father-in-law's residence. He discourages further interviews with reporters.

Recommends Free Trade.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The Times says that if Canada desires to make the McKinley tariff a source of benefit instead of loss, the most likely method will be to adopt frankly and freely the policy of free trade. It would be best for her to begin with the mother country. She will not be able to loose all her commercial fetters at once. It will suffice for the present if the direction and aim are right.

The Papal Encyclical.

ROME, Oct. 18.—The newly issued Papal encyclical to the Italian bishops strongly protests against the Government's violating the liberty and rights of the Papacy and of Catholicism. It accuses the Free Masons of reversing modern society, and closes by an appeal to the faithful for their prayers.

FAVORS RETALLIATION.

A Movement for a Higher Tariff Agitated by Canadians.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—According to intelligence received from Ottawa Government officials, indications from the various provinces show that there is a strong feeling among business men in the country in favor of Canada adopting a higher tariff in order to practically exclude American products both raw and manufactured.

The Dominion last year imported meats, grain, flour and other food from the United States at a cost of over $11,000,000. By adopting prohibitory duties Canada, leading Conservatives assert, will create a home market for her own farmers.

The Cabinet Ministers will not talk, but the utterances of the Hon. Mr. Foster, Minister of Finance, at St. John, N. B., indicate that the duties on manufactured articles will, if necessary, be further increased in order to protect the Canadian manufacturers.

MISS DAVIS NOT MERCENARY.

Mr. Wilkinson Says So and Adds That He Had to Submit.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Mr. Alfred Wilkinson of this city, who was to have married Miss Winnie Davis, says in a card that the reasons for breaking off the engagements were "matters purely personal." He says:

"It is ridiculous to suppose that political or financial reasons had anything to do with it. The imputation of any mercenary motive to her is false. Furthermore, Miss Davis has known for a year or more that I was poor. The burning of our house, though a serious loss, had nothing to do with her decision, for she had decided to terminate our engagement before that happened. When a lady decides the gentleman has nothing to do but submit."

Captain Slocum's Little Boat.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The little boat "La Liberdad," in which Capt. Joshua Slocum and his family made a voyage from Brazil to the United States, has been presented to the National Museum.

Committee on Irish Distress.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—At a meeting of the National Liberal Club a provisional committee on Irish distress was appointed.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Baron Wissmann leaves for Africa October 25.

Persistent rumors are afloat that the strike in Sydney, New South Wales, has been settled.

Archdeacon Farrar of Westminster has accepted the Chaplaincy of the House of Commons.

Dom Pedro, ex-Emperor of Brazil, has taken up his residence at Versailles, in the Villa Brechignac.

The net earnings of the Pullman Palace Car company for the year amounted to $2,398,130.97.

Burglars stole a package of registered letters and a sum of money from the postoffice at Belmont, W. Va.

Wellington Brown of Baltimore, Ohio, was held up on the public square at Lancaster, Ohio, and robbed of $500.

For four hours a conference between the representatives of the two Cleveland Baseball clubs was in progress last night, but the consolidation question was not settled.

A case of undoubted leprosy has been discovered in the Penitentiary at Walla Walla, Washington. The leper is Thomas Burke, who was in the Hawaiian Islands until last June, when he came to Port Townsend, and was sentenced from there.

John Dixon, the prosperous farmer of Allegheny County, N. C., who shot Marshall Halsey, whom he caught in a compromising condition with his wife, and afterward killed Halsey's brother in a duel, has not yet been arrested and the people say if he is they will tear down the jail and release him.

The tornado that passed through a section of country North of Roberson county, North Carolina, Thursday night did more damage than was first reported. Several houses and barns were wrecked and fives lives have been reported lost. As the district is far from railroads and telegraph definite newsis hard to secure.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—For New England: Fair weather; westerly winds; warmer to-morrow.

For Eastern New York: Slightly warmer; fair weather; westerly winds.

For New Jersey: Slightly warmer; fair weather; westerly winds.

For Western New York: Slightly warmer; fair weather; westerly winds.

BY THE WAY.

—"Cut" prices to-night at Edsalls. He claims to sell the better class of goods at the same prices as the poor cheap articles.

—Elsewhere Prof. Segadlo announces his plans for the formation of classes in dancing, in this city, for the coming season.

—The Democratic Executive Committee of Somerset county, will meet at Somerville, Monday afternoon next at two o'clock.

—The annual meeting for the election of officers of the Women's Temperance Aid Society will be held Thursday, October 23, at 3 P. M.

—Sebring Bros., the Park avenue clothiers, are selling a fine business suit for ten dollars. See announcement in our advertising columns.

—The Directors of the Plainfield Building and Loan Association will hold their regular monthly meeting in Jackson & Codington's office, Monday evening at eight o'clock.

—The Twilight Social Club of this city will give a Hallow e'en ball at Amphion Hall, West Second street, Friday evening, October 31. O'Reilly will furnish the music, and Messrs Joseph Blimm, E. C. Searing, James Loughlin, Wm. Blimm and F. Moore constitute the committee of arrangements.

—The ladies of the First Unitarian Society will hold a fair in the house formerly occupied by Dr. Utter, at the corner of Broadway and Sixth street, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons and evenings of next week. There will be a New England supper served each evening. Specimens of Gay Head pottery will be on sale.

—The crazy paper says that Miss Mather, who is to perform at Music Hall, Monday evening, will appear "in a production of John Tobin's famous tragedy, Romeo and Juliet." Shades of Shakespeare! Is this the latest effort of the Donnelly-Bacon party, or is it simply a proof of the necessity of compulsory education?

—The Young Stars, a local base ball aggregation, are in high glee over a game they played this morning, when they defeated the Young Dukes by the score of 27 to 15. Ered Winn pitched for the Stars, and Pete Fleming caught him. The Dukes tried three pitchers, Perrine, Dodge and Pierson, but could not save the game. Cavalier was their catcher.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Dr. and Mrs. Chas. R. Thiers have returned from their wedding trip.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Hegeman of Washington Park, are at Washington, D. C.

Gerome Pack, of 31 Park avenue, who has been seriously ill, is slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Coddington are home from a wedding trip spent in New England.

Miss Mary Demler of Washingtonville is visiting her relatives the Ackens at Millington.

L. Warren Randolph will lead the meeting at Washingtonville chapel, at 7:30 o'clock to-morrow evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wright Stover are home from their wedding trip. Their reception days will be Tuesdays, the 21st and 28th insts, at 49 East Ninth street.

Herbert J. Bolsterle has returned to his home at 38 Chatham street, North Plainfield, after a absence of seven months at Spokane Falls, Washington.

The Rev. Charles B. Mitchell will hold a temperance meeting in his church, tomorrow evening. His subject has been announced to be: "What Shall We Do Next?"

Thomas Winckler, the Asbury Park confectioner, with Miss Bridge of Long Branch, drove to Plainfield yesterday. They are spending a few days with the former's father, Augustus J. Winckler, of Park place.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Lucy Myers, who died at Colorado Springs some week ago, were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Myers, East Front street, at half-past one o'clock this afternoon. The Rev. W. R. Richards, pastor of the Crescent Avenue church, and the Rev. Dr. John C. Bliss, of the Washington Heights Presbyterian church, New York, officiated.

Westfield Wants a Hack at Plainfield Again.

Captain Howland of the Westfield foot ball team has called out all his men for practice today at 3 o'clock, at Drake's Park. The grounds are being put in first-class order. Every one interested in foot ball will be welcome, and the presence of any old player is especially desired. Next Saturday, October 25, a regular game will be played. Negotiations are already opened with the teams of the Corinthian Athletic Club, Staten Island; the Tabernacles, Jersey City; the Plainfield team and other prominent clubs.

Hires' Root Beer is here again, and we think it time to call the attention of our readers to that well-known brand. It is made from the genuine roots, barks and berries. Not like a great many others that are doctored imitations of it. One 25 cent package makes five gallons. No trouble to make. Directions simple, and, if followed, the most sparkling, cooling and refreshing drink in the World yet produced. It is time to lay in a stock, and we recommend an order from your wholesale house at once.

A BAD DEFEAT FOR LEAL.

Plainfield's Foot-Ball Team Lose a Game, and Two of Their Players Are Seriously Hurt.

The Leal foot-ball team opened the season disastrously in a game against the Pingry boys at Elizabeth this morning. The Pingry team had some players who had become expert at such institutions as Stevens' at Hoboken, and the Leal boys were somewhat afraid, and couldn't tackle them with their usual success. Before the Leal players could score a point the Pingry team had secured four touchdowns, counting five each, and had kicked one goal, counting two, and the score therefore stood 22 to 0 when an accident brought it to an abrupt close. One of the players had just been tackled on a brilliant play, and a magnificent run terminated in an ignominious tumble to the ground. Instantly everybody piled together in a heap and fought for the possession of the coveted ball. There was a sharp groan of pain, and a cry, "Somebody's hurt." Most of the players scrambled to their feet, but one of them, Frank Reynolds, lay helpless on the ground, suffering from what seemed to be a fracture of the leg, while another, John Bowman, nursed a broken nose. Both of the injured players were Leal boys, and it didn't require but a moment to decide that the game would have to be forfeited. The Plainfielders returned home on the first train they could catch. Bowman went to the home of his father, James Bowman, 46 East Sixth street, and had his nose put in shape. Raynolds was taken home by two comrades in a hack. He is the son of George S. Raynolds, of 40 Jackson avenue, North Plainfield. The cords and muscles of his leg were terribly strained, and he will not play football again in a long time.

Runaway Horses Cause Much Excitement.

A runaway which spectators thought would result in loss of life occurred in this city at ten o'clock this morning. Wm. Conger and Fred Huff had driven from Westfield on the fore wheel-truck of a wagon used by Contractor Hoffman on the county roads. Just as they were passing under the Park avenue bridge of the Central Railroad a train went thundering overhead, and the horses, frightened at the unaccustomed sound, sprang forward and galloped wildly up the street. As usual, Park avenue was crowded with vehicles, but Conger was a skillful driver, and succeeded admirably in avoiding collisions. One carriage, however, containing a lady and two children, he could not steer clear of, and in an instant not only the carriage but the horse attached to it was completely overthrown. None of the occupants, however, were injured. One of the little girls laughed; the other was considerably frightened and was given restoratives in Reynolds' Pharmacy. The carriage, which was owned by Fred Obitz, had the shafts broken, and was otherwise damaged.

The runaway horses continued up the street. Fred Huff was thrown from the truck and fell on his side under a group of wagons. Luckily he escaped harm. Conger clung pluckily to the reins. His feet were tangled around the axle and in the frame-work of the vehicle, and the horses' hoofs were flying wildly about his head. Everybody thought his legs would be fractured and his brains kicked out, but he guided his mad animals with remarkable skill, safely turned the Front street corner, and by hard and continuous tugging at the lines brought the steaming horses to a halt in front of the First Baptist church. Huff then came up and held the animals while Conger went into Randolph's City Pharmacy and had his numerous scratches, bruises and cuts dressed.

The same horses ran away a few days ago, near Westfield.

Not a Change for the Better.

The people will regret to learn that Margaret Mather's manager has wired the Music Hall management here that she will appear on Monday evening as Juliet instead of Juliana. "The play's the thing," and when THE PRESS announced that she would give John Tobin's "Honeymoon," the prospect of a good house was apparent. To most people most of Shakespeare's plays are most tiresome, and "Romeo and Juliet" especially so.

Yet a good acting of it, Monday evening, is assured. With his usual enterprise Arthur B. Chase has, since his taking the management of Margaret Mather, worked many reforms, and he put into operation a pet scheme when he surrounded his new star with a company so complete and artistic in all its parts that the performance resembles that of the famous Saxe-Minegin troupe. Every actor is a star actor and every part falls into efficient hands. No more powerful company has ever been seen here. The leading man is Otis Skinner, five years with Daly, and two seasons leading man with Edwin Booth and Lawrence Barrett; John Malone, formerly leading man with Salvini and a product of the Irving School; Henry E. Walton, the leading New York "Heavy" who has created parts under the greatest masters; Gile Shine, last year with Downing in leading roles, and a famous comedian. Maida Craigen, late leading lady with Edwin Booth and Madam Modjeska, has, however, been displaced by Emma Hinckley.

—The Corporation Counsel acting upon instructions from President Moffett of the Council, has issued a notice to the Postal Telegraph Company that they shall not erect a single pole within the city limits.

LAMP LIGHT TO GO.

The Mayor and Council of North Plainfield Make a Three-Years Contract with the Edison Company to Illuminate the Borough Streets with Electricity.

At the adjourned meeting of the North Plainfield Council, last evening, there were present Mayor Place, Councilmen Buckle, Needham, Sebring and Smalley, Borough Attorney Reed and Clerk Brokaw. Councilmen Hegeman and Emmons were absent and paired. The particular business of the meeting, it was understood, was to be the making of a contract with an electric company to light the streets of the Borough. And it was rumored that the power was to come from Councilman Sebring's mills.

The meeting opened with an introduction by Councilman Smalley of Mr. Herring of the N. Y. & N. J. Globe Gaslight Co., that had lighted the Borough streets for the past three years. He thanked the Council for their kind permission to talk, and took the opportunity to make a bid himself. He said his company had put a street lighting plant in the Borough under certain difficulties and at much expense. He thought therefore they should have been given notice that they were to be thrown out, and given an opportunity to make a proposition. Mr. Herring said his company had a system of electric lighting that was the equal if not the superior of any other.

"You Councilmen," he continued, "don't know what you are going to get from the company I understand you are thinking of making a contract with. You have never seen their system in operation in any city or town for any length of time. You may see it at Roselle now where three lamps are bunched together to make one light and that doesn't even illuminate the pole it is attached to. In Paterson the lights that were put in operation by this company, have been, and are, so poor, that the city has refused to pay all bills for them."

At the request of Chairman Sebring, of the Committee on Fire, Water and Lamps, the contract drawn up by the Borough Attorney with the Edison Electric Light Company, under direction of the Council and the committee, was read twice. It provided for 200 25-candle power lamps, lighted from sunset to sunrise for three years, from Jan. 15, 1891 to Jan. 15, 1894, at $3,600 per annum, and every additional lamp at $18 each. In answer to a question from Councilman Needham, Attorney Reed said it was a "stronger contract" than the one the city had with the other company.

Councilman Smalley thought all the Council should be present, although the company required all the time possible for the erection of the plant by the time specified. Councilmen Sebring and Buckle advised action at once, as the time was short and the contract with the Globe Gaslight Company expired on Jan. 14, 1891.

Mr. Hughes, the representative of the Edison Company present, said that frost was possible before the next meeting of the Council, and as there were 800 poles to set and 15 miles of wire to stretch, the delay would not only cause extra expense but it would be impossible to complete the work by the time specified in the contract.

Councilman Needham wanted inserted in the contract, a clause giving the Borough the privilege of eventually purchasing the plant at a reasonable price. Attorney Reed said there was no need of such a clause, as any company was ready to sell at a "reasonable" price, at any time.

On motion of Councilman Sebring, seconded by Councilman Smalley, it was resolved that the terms of the contract be ratified and the Mayor and Clerk of the Borough be authorized to execute the same. All present voted aye. The amount of the required bond for the faithful performance of the contract, was fixed at $10,000.

On motion of Councilman Smalley, Messrs Emmons and Lunger were awarded the job of building a borough lock-up.

Attorney Reed stated in relation to the Peace street extension project, that according to existing laws it was a matter outside of the Borough Council's jurisdiction. It was the Township's business, he thought; but whether it was or not, the Council had no right in the matter in anyway. It could accept streets that had been opened and properly graded, but it could not make streets. The Council then adjourned.

Officers of the Relief Association for the Ensuing Year.

At the 12th annual meeting of the Plainfield Relief Association, held at their rooms Monday, the 6th inst., reports of the good work done during the year were read. These will be published in THE PRESS of Monday next. The following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. E. L. Goddard.
Vice President—Mrs. VanNest Talmage.
Treasurer—Mrs. W. W. Myers.
Secretary—Miss E. R. Leonard.
Board of Managers—Mrs. Rowland Cox, Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Mrs. C. W. McCutchen, Mrs. E St. John, Mrs. M. W. Tyler, Mrs. J. E Tracy, Mrs. C. E Ryder, Mrs D J. Yerkes, Mrs. J. K. Myers, Mrs. P. Wyckoff, Mrs. H. P. Reynolds, Mrs. A. M. Rhees, Mrs. C. C. Coketair, Mrs. A. H. Lewis, Miss C. B. Webster.
Executive Committee—Mrs. G. P. Dupee, Mrs J. M. Myers, Mrs. W. L. Patton, Mrs. F. A. Pike, Mrs. J. P. Mason, Mrs. S. Huntington.

A Big Cut.

We want to sell more goods on Saturday than we ever have yet; and to do it we will put five cases of Misses ties, patent leather tip, at 25c., one-third of their cost; also a lot of Ladies' ties, in larger sizes, at the same low prices. We also have some shoes that are soiled a little, that we shall make a great cut on. Don't miss this chance! ROGERS BROS., cash shoe dealers.

She Preaches no Doctrine But Christ Crucified.

Mrs. Whitney, the Evangelist, of New York, who is holding a series of meetings at Reform Hall, under the auspices of the Women's Temperance Aid Society, spoke with a power of eloquence last night on "Short Beds and Narrow Covering," portraying the different beds chosen by many—moral, political, etc.—but contending that none other than that taught by the crucified and risen Jesus would be the safe one at the end.

Her audiences are on the increase, and give rapt attention to her discourses. Those who do not hear her will miss great spiritual help. Mrs. Whitney gives a Bible reading every afternoon in Reform Hall parlors, which is well attended.

"ONLY A FARMER."

But He is the Man Who Will be Elected.

THE PRESS is indebted to the Somerville Democrat for some facts regarding W. J. Keys, the Democratic nominee for Senator of Somerset county, and a gentleman loved and honored by all who know him. About six years ago he purchased a farm near South Branch, his present place of residence. He immediately moved his family there and commenced improvements on his place, spending about $16,000 in this manner. Although a man of means, he is just as sociable, just as common with his neighbors, as though he was as poor as the poorest.

He has a large, open heart, and is always looking out to do favors for those with whom he comes in contact. Mr. Keys was born at Dobb's Ferry, N. Y., April 13, 1838, making him now 52 years of age. He started out to earn his own living when 13 years of age, and from that time to this he has been a hard working man. For twenty-five years he carried on the produce business in Washington Market, and in that way was in constant contact with farmers. He thus learned of their needs, and this experience would be worth much to him in the Senate. He has always desired to be a farmer, and when he finally purchased his place at South Branch, it was with the intention of ending his days on this, the place of his choice.

Mr. Keys did not want the nomination for Senator. It was pressed upon him. The office sought the man, not the man the office. He accepted of the same because urged to do so; because he was told that it would settle all factional fights; because it was thought he would carry his party to victory, and we believe he will.

Mr. Keys never turns a poor man away who applies to him for help. Even the poor tramps are always supplied when they apply for work. His neighbors say that he is one of the kindest-hearted men in that vicinity. They cannot say too much in his favor. Although now he has means, yet he is one of the most social and common men in his manners that you often came across. He always says: "I am only a farmer, the same as my neighbors."

Married Fifty Years.

The fiftieth anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barclay Dunham, the parents of Daniel H. Dunham, Vice President of the Firemen's Insurance Company, of Newark, and Oscar W. Dunham, of the Newark City Bank, took place at their home on Sixth street, Wednesday evening. There is one other son, Charles B. Dunham, who resides on the old Daniel Heath homestead near Basking Ridge, under whose roof the couple were united in marriage half a century ago; also two daughters living at home.

The invitation was confined to the near relatives, who numbered about sixty. There are four grandchildren, all being present. "Aunt Sally" Heath in her one hundred and second year, although enjoying fair health, was unable to attend There are but two other persons living who were at the wedding, one of them being present Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Dunham are seventy-five years of age and in good health. At the anniversary their former pastor, the Rev. John C. Rankin, D. D., of Basking Ridge, made some appropriate remarks and prayer was offered by him and the Rev. Mr. Richards, their present pastor. An original poem which is appended was read by David McCoy, of Orange. A number of appropriate presents were received and all had an enjoyable time.

1840. GREETING. 1890.

October leaves were rustling,
In rustic home was bustling.
Just fifty years agone;
All for a happy two,
To seal their vows as true,
Their lives in unison.

The years have come and ended,
But still their hearts are blended,
Entwined in love's first glow;
The leaves may fall and wither,
But true souls knit together,
In sacred union grow.

Eastward life's shadows lengthen,
With faith and hope to strengthen
The homeward path they take;
Forward the golden portal,
To join the band immortal,
And of its bliss partake.

Wrecked Her Wheel, but Escaped Harm Herself.

Miss Emma L. Adams, Public Librarian, had a narrow escape from being trampled under a horse's feet this afternoon. She was riding her bicycle along Eighth street and turned into Central avenue directly in front of a horse driven by T. O. Doane, Chief Engineer of the Fire Department. The horse was reined in an instant, but too late to prevent a collision. The fore-wheel of the machine was wrecked, but she was saved from bodily injury.

—Fifty-seven students attended the short hand classes of the Y. M. C. last evening.

Pure Brandy.

We call our readers attention to the following testimonial from undoubted authority on the excellence and purity of Speer's P. J. Brandy:

NEW YORK.

MR. SPEER:—I congratulate you on a recent unsought testimonial as to the purity of your brandy. Lady Duffus Hardy, of London, England, an old acquaintance of mine, on testing from the bottle of brandy we brought from Passaic the other day, immediately asked me to get a like one for her, which I did this morning. The English aristocrats, you know, male and female, are pretty good judges of brandy.

Wishing you every success in your really good work, I remain yours truly,

PRENTICE MULFORD,
Editor N. Y. Graphic.

EX-PRESIDENT KIEB MAKES

A "Suggestion" to the Members of the Plainfield Crescent League.

Although the subject of politics is not mentioned in the Constitution and By-Laws of the Plainfield Crescent League as one of the athletic pursuits of the League, yet it would be well, perhaps, for some of the older members, the originators of the Club, so to speak, to remember the action of the Republican candidate for Assembly, George Kyte, in a certain proceeding in the Fanwood Club on charges brought by C. C. Burnett, and defeat him, for incompetency, untrustworthiness, unreliability, not to say unscrupulousness.

It is hardly necessary to set forth in detail the minor incidents of that trial, except upon challenge, when the writer of this article will cheerfully respond. The members of the Plainfield Crescent League, who were then members of the Fanwood Club, and who resigned their membership in consequence of the impartial (?) action of George Kyte, as President of the Club, should now use their influence with their fellow-members, friends and neighbors, to obtain votes for A. B. Cook of Rahway, who is an honorable gentleman, and a sharp, shrewd business man, entirely fitted, mentally and physically, to represent our district in the State Assembly.

Every member of the Club should make this a personal matter, and use his utmost endeavor to elect Mr. Kyte to remain at home.

ERNEST C. KIEB.

A Dish of New P's.

P stands for Pudding, for Peach and for Pear,
And likewise for Poetry and Prose;
The Parrot, the Pigeon that flies in the air,
The Pig with a ring in his nose;
For Paper and Pen, for Printer and Press,
For Physic, and People who sell it;
But when you are sick, to relieve your distress
Take at once Pierce's Purgative Pellet

Oh, yes, indeed! These are the P's for you, poor, sick man or woman. Nothing like them for keeping the bowels and stomach regulated and in order—tiny, sugar-coated granules, scarcely larger than mustard seeds. They work gently but thoroughly.

The Leonzo Brothers to Open Amphion Hall.

The new manager of Amphion Hall will open Monday evening with the Leonzo Brothers and their capable company, in "Brother Against Brother." The press say of the play that it is a drama well adapted for the purpose of giving the Leonzos an opportunity to show to advantage their well trained dogs, Tiger, Lion, and Spot, and add an increased interest and excitement to the performance. Mr. Victor Leonzo is, of course, the life of the play and with his recognized vocal abilities and natural talents as an actor, he is entitled to the cordial reception that he received throughout the representation of Carl, the German. He is surrounded by a company of deserving people. Mr. Harry Leonzo and Mr. W. D. Corbett were such capital villains that the "gods of the gallery" might well be pardoned for their scowls and hisses. They were true to nature. Mr. Al. Hensley's conception of Sir Francis Bell was good and he sustained the reputation of the author. The quarrel scene between the brothers was a fine bit of acting. Mr. J. H. Taylor was an amusing Dodge and generous with his cards. Messrs Evans and Carleton assumed their roles in a satisfactory manner. The female part of the cast was up to the average. Miss Wells was captivating as Louisa Midland and many in the audience envied Carl his happy relationship. Miss Carrie Grandville left a good impression by her pleasing appearance and taking manners, and Miss Taylor was motherly-like in her representation of Mrs. Carl. Miss Laziola was affectionate in the character of Florence Rollins and her elegant costume won the admiration of the ladies.

Pilgrims Delayed by Cholera.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Cholera still continues to prevail along the Syrian and Arabian coasts. The pilgrims from British India to Mecca were delayed in quarantine so long that when they were released the sacred ceremonies were over and they had to return without accomplishing their pilgrimage.

Fought Thirteen Rounds.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 18.—John Van Heest, of Ashland, Wis., defeated "Mickey" Coburn, of England, in a rattling 13-round "go" in a Tonawanda sporting resort at an early hour. Van Heest received very little punishment while Coburn was completely knocked out.

Charged With Stealing.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18.—Adolph Raubitschecck was arrested by a detective on a requisition charging him with the larceny of $1,500 worth of diamonds from Jacob Morch, an importer at 130 Broadway, Brooklyn, whither he will be taken to-day.

Dynamite Explosion.

BURLAN FALLS, N. H., Oct. 18.—A charge of dynamite was exploded under the house of E. J. Bennett at 4 a. m. badly shattering the front of the house but not seriously injuring any member of the family. Bennett is a liquor prosecutor.

A Clergyman Sentenced to Prison.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Albert F. Vedder, formerly a Presbyterian clergyman, was sentenced to five years in State Prison by Recorder Smyth, in General Sessions Court, for abducting 15-year-old Mary McCann.

Appointed by the President.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The President has appointed the following postmasters: Ermina I. Evans at Ashburnham, Massachusetts; G. H. Spall at Stratford, Connecticut; S. H. Polley at Osawattomie, Kansas.

Petty Outrages in Ireland.

DUBLIN, Oct. 18.—Reports from the West of Ireland state that the moonlighters are unusually active and many petty outrages are perpetrated, the criminals usually evading the police. A more serious issue is the murder of a man named Nolan, near Castlebar, County Mayo. His body was found on the roadside, bearing evidence of brutal violence. There is no clew to the perpetrators.

A Catholic Church Burned.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 18.—At midnight St. Mary's Church was discovered to be on fire and was soon a total loss. The loss on building and furniture is estimated at $9,000. Rev. Father Hevey lost $2,000 in rare vestments. The cause of the fire is unknown. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Miners' Wages Advanced.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct 18.—W. L. Scott, the millionaire coal operator, has voluntarily given his miners in this vicinity an advance in wages of two cents per ton, beginning November 1st. The rise will affect about 2,000 miners.

FIRESIDE FRAGMENTS.

—Gold Feather Cake: One and a half cups sugar beaten to a cream with half a cup of butter, half a cup of cold water, two cups of sifted flour, one and a half teaspoons of baking powder, three eggs. Flavor with one teaspoonful of lemon extract.—Boston Budget.

—Peach Float: Cut and sugar enough ripe peaches to cover well the bottom of a deep glass dish. Make a custard and thicken it a little with corn starch. Pour it over the peaches at once, so they will not turn. Cover with whipped cream when ready to serve. — Good Housekeeping.

—Irish Moss is prepared by soaking one ounce in a little water till soft, then boiling it with one pint of milk, and sweetening it to taste, giving it any flavor preferred by means of essences. It is now, we understand, little used, gelatine having superseded it.

—Cream Soda: Loaf sugar, one pound; water, one quart. Warm gradually. Good rich cream, one pint; extract vanilla, one-fifth ounce; tartaric acid, one-fourth ounce. Just bring to a boil. If corked too long it will crystalize. If you have no fountain use three or four teaspoonfuls and a little over one-fourth spoonful of soda to a glass.—Housekeeper.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The Standard's Rome despatch states on authority direct from the Vatican that the Pope would decline to receive Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien if they should visit Rome.

Instantly Killed.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Oct., 18.—Thomas Slavin, a railroad employe, was struck by a train on the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, near Mageetown, and instantly killed.

Son of Admiral Case Drowned.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 18.—Augustus Case, a son of Admiral S. Ludlow Case, U. S. N., was drowned off Pappoose Point, at Bristol.

AN AWFUL INCREASE OF INSANITY

The Record for 1890 is 100 Per Cent Greater Than for 1889.

Are We Rushing on to a Niagara of Lunacy?

Did you ever go into a lunatic asylum? Or hear the wild, demoniac shriek of the senseless mind? Or read the awful "tale of woe" in a madman's restless eye? Short of Dante's Inferno there is nothing so justly fearful as such a place, such a sound, such a sight!

And yet, think of it! In the city of New York—a city whose activities and responsibilities and nerve consumption are typical of the entire United States—in this great city the mortality from insanity for the first three months of 1890 was about 100 per cent. greater than in 1889.

"What was the cause" do you ask? Never mind that just now. Let us look at the facts! The cause will soon enough appear then.

Paresis, next to pneumonia, the greatest dread of the day, we are told by learned medical authorities is becoming rational, universal that it prevails most among self-made, moderately educated persons, that it is wasting and decay of the brain tissue, and that it is caused chiefly by the every day wear and tear of the roaring, rushing, frenzied, anxious to be quickly rich, ceaseless toil and struggle characteristic of American life!

We live on our nerve! When that is gone we are hurried into a lunatic asylum or plunge into the maddest method of the suicide! The Nerve is the life!

Are you going crazy?

Is the mad Niagara's roar in your ear?

Have you groundless fears, hallucinations?

Do you look ahead with increasing fears?

Is your sleep restless?

Do you feel better as night comes on?

Are you moody and melancholy?

Do you weep easily and without cause?

If you do, listen!! The awful cataract is ahead!

It is for you now, today, to say whether your mind will take its place with demons of dementia, in whose ears the only welcome music is the shriek of despair!

Do you shudder at such a fate, and would shun it, get a new nerve!—renewed vitality and power of nerve. That is the only course open to you! You must adopt it promptly, too, or it will be fatally late!

Do you think you can follow a better course or get better results than this:

Read this and Follow His Example.

I was broken down with nervous and physical prostration before using Dr. Greene's Nervura, and life was a burden. Now life is a joy and sleep is a luxury compared to it before taking Nervura. I relish my food and my nervousness has left me; so has the numbness I wish I could shout loud enough so that all the world could hear, and tell them the good Dr. Greene's Nervura has done me. It has made me from a weak, trembling, nervous, irritable man to one who feels he is on the highway to long years of health and happiness through Dr. Greene's Nervura and the blessing of God.

ANDREW H. OLNEY,
Gibson, Steuben Co., New York.

Dr. Greene of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York, its discoverer, is the famous specialist in the cure of nervous and chronic diseases. The doctor has devoted special attention to the treatment of all forms of chronic diseases through letter correspondence, and will give by mail his opinion and advice in any case free of charge. The perfection of this system renders a complete cure almost assured, as his success in treatment by correspondence is wonderful and unequalled. Send for symptom blank to fill out, or write him about your case.

RELIGIOUS MATTERS.

THE LORD DOES CARE.

"Casting all your care upon Him, for He careth for you."—I. Peter v., 7.

What can it mean? Is it ought to Him
That the nights are long and the days are dim?
Can He be touched by the griefs I bear,
Which sadden the heart and whiten the hair?

Around His throne are eternal calms,
And strong, glad music of happy psalms,
And bliss unruffled by any strife.
How can He care for my poor life?

And yet I want Him to care for me,
While I live in this world where the sorrows be
When the lights die down on the path I take;
When strength is feeble, and friends forsake;
When love and music that once did bless,
Have left to silence and loneliness;
And life-song changes to sobbing prayers—
Then my heart cries out for a God who cares.

When shadows hang o'er me the whole day long;
And my spirit is bowed with shame and wrong;
When I am not good, and the deeper shade
Of conscious sin makes my heart afraid;
And the busy world has too much to do
To stay in its course to help me through,
And I long for a Saviour—can it be
That the God of the Universe cares for me?

Oh, wonderful story of deathless love!
Each child is dear to that heart above;
He fights for me when I can not fight;
He comforts me in the gloom of night;
He lifts the burden, for He is strong;
He stills the sigh, and awakens the song;
The sorrow that bowed me down He bears,
And loves and pardons, because He cares.

Let all who are sad take heart again.
We are not alone in our hours of pain;
Our Father stoops from His throne above
To soothe and quiet us with His love.
He leaves us not when the storm is high,
And we have safety, for He is nigh.
Can it be trouble which He doth share?
Oh, rest in peace, for the Lord does care.
—The Christian.

A CHRISTIAN EXAMPLE.

Let Not the Hand of Sorrow and Affliction Ruffle Your Spirits.

In no form does Christian example seem more attractive and win more honor to the Christian name and character than in patience under severe trial and suffering. It is one of the latest and fairest fruits of the Spirit. It can not be acquired by self-culture. Unsaved people are destitute of it, and are deeply impressed by the exhibition in others of a grace that they are unable to exercise themselves; in so-much that the manifestation of patience under sore trial and provocation is to them the most convincing proof of a genuine Christian character. When such people wish to know whether a man is a Christian they do not inquire what is his creed, or what are his professions, but if he endures the injuries and contradictions which they find it impossible to bear with serenity and patience. Nor are they satisfied with a placid and saintly deportment in prosperity. They must see how he bears himself in adversity, under injustice and unprovoked abuse, and if he endure these things with patience he is regarded as a follower of Christ in deed and in truth. And a healthy man can be patient and cheerful in prosperity, when he has few or no crosses and losses to bear; but touch him in his dearest earthly interests, bow him down under affliction, add to that insult and injury, and if he then maintains an unruffled, forbearing, forgiving spirit, and manifestly dwells in inward peace and quietness, there is no room for doubt or caviling. He who bears the ills of life patiently and clothes them with cheerfulness, furnishes the most conclusive proof of the power of the Christian religion to save and bless humanity.

Now it is the duty and privilege of every Christian to be just such a witness for Christ; to endure trial of every kind with Christ-like serenity and patience. By so enduring it he greatly weakens its force, and may even be happy in the midst of it; not, of course, on account of it or because of it, but in spite of it, and because of the sustaining grace of God. For He hath said: "As thy days, so shall thy strength be;" "My grace is sufficient for thee;" and "In Me ye shall have peace." It is not merely for its spectacular effect, or to furnish an exhibition to an unbelieving world of the saving, sustaining power of faith in Christ that Christian patience is divinely given. Another and equally important reason for patience is that it is necessary in order to receive the benefit from our trials which God intends they shall minister. "Ye have need of patience, that after ye have done the will of God ye might receive the promise." We are called to endure tribulations with patience, because much endurance yields a precious harvest of moral excelence, strength and purity. The great object of life, and the ultimate purpose of all our Heavenly Father's dispensations, is the development in us of a character fashioned after the model of the Lord Jesus Christ. This is indispensable to our greatest usefulness in time and blessedness in eternity, and requires a constant discipline of occasions—crosses, hardships, tribulations. It is in enduring these in the spirit of Christ, and by the help of grace which He imparts, that we attain to the spiritual symmetry of perfect manhood in Christ Jesus. Hence it is written: "Count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations, knowing this, that the trial of your faith worketh patience; and let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing."

This, then, the faithful Christian may believe without any shadow of doubt—and it is his greatest incentive to patience—that all hardships, injuries, sufferings, will be occasions for magnifying the grace of God in him, for developing in him that likeness to Christ, which is the supreme end of our earthly existence; will increase that treasure which is within and indestructible, and goes far toward making the true Christian superior to any outward calamity. Thus he will be enable to say with the apostle: "We glory in tribulation, knowing that tribulation worketh patience;" and "Our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory; . . . "For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory that shall be revealed in us."—N. W. Christian Advocate.

A BURDENED LIFE.

The Pathetic Story of the "Elephant Man"—An Illustration of the Beauty of Christian Pity.

The strange story of a poor man who recently died in England illustrates the beauty of Christian pity, and its power to alleviate human distress, even in its most repulsive forms.

The subject of this sketch was not one of that class so morally low that they never dare to "look themselves in the face," but a physical affliction made that phrase literally true to him. His personal deformity so separated him from his fellow-men that Job's sorrow must often have furnished him words: "They abhor me, they flee far from me. * * * I am a brother to dragons. * * * Wherefore is light given to him that is in misery, and life unto the bitter in soul."

By one of the "cruelties of nature" Joseph Merrick was born with an elephant's head; and yet, strange as it seems, this misshapen being had the gift of speech, was intelligent, learned to read and write, and grew to maturity. By whose care or under what circumstances he reached the full age of understanding and feeling, with such an intolerable affliction upon him, this is no place to inquire; but whatever sufferings he endured in childhood could bear no comparison with his later experience, when he met everywhere, and could realize, the neglect and aversion of mankind.

All homes and all employments were shut against him, and at last starvation drove him to hire himself to a London penny show. Here Dr. Frederick Treves found the "elephant man," spoke kindly to him, and undertook to arrange a home for him in the London Hospital. Neither this or any other hospital would receive him. With a pathos hardly to be matched, the poor creature begged that he might be put in a blind asylum.

The London police prohibited his exhibition by showmen, on the ground of public decency, and this took away his one means of support. His only alternative was to pick up his living like a wild beast.

After a few months, thanks to his friend, the doctor, Merrick's case reached the public through the Times. The Prince and Princess of Wales, Mrs. Kendall and Mr. Gladstone interested themselves in a subscription for his benefit, and with the money thus secured an apartment was built for him in a remote wing of the London Hospital.

Here, surrounded by books, flowers and gifts of kindness and taste, he passed between three and four years in privacy and comfort. The friends who had helped him came now and then to see him, and he sincerely loved them all, but best of all good Dr. Treves, the man who, as he said, gave him the first kind word he ever had in his life.

Many persons would think it little worth their while to develop the soul, or even to attend largely to the bodily comfort of a "freak;" but to the humane surgeon of London Hospital the charity of a quiet retreat, and even of mental, moral and religious culture to sweeten the solitude of poor, repulsive Joseph Merrick, was neither a useless task nor a sentimental notion.

The "elephant man" loved to read the hymns of Doctor Watts, and sometimes wrote verses himself, verses which occupied his time, and often—like the following lines—expressed the gratitude he felt:

I thank the pitying friends who cheered,
My days with kindness true,
When the rude world despised and feared,
And called me monster too.

I thank the sheltering walls that hide
In peace, unshamed, unknown,
This face so dire to others' sight,
And hateful to my own.

I thank the Lord, Whose eye of love
Can look from Heaven and see
A real human soul within
A hideous thing like me.

And soon this body loathed of men,
This life so hard to bear,
Will perish at His word—and then
His touch will make me fair.

Joseph Merrick died before he was quite twenty-eight years old. His life was long enough for the bearing of such a burden. And we can believe that his hope is fulfilled, and God's touch has made him fair.

They who shrink from unattractive objects of benevolence may well envy the joy of the benefactors who brightened and blessed the last days of one who was a human brother, though he scarcely wore the human form.—Youth's Companion.

CHOICE EXTRACTS.

—Every duty we omit obscures some truth we should have known.—Faith and Works.

—The plan of salvation requires that the wicked must not only give up his way, but his thoughts also.—Ram's Horn.

—If, to-day, this world would but stop and edd its rebelion against God, whose every law is holy, just and good, what a world this would be.—The Advance.

—"Stir up the gift of God which is in thee," is Paul's exhortation to Timothy and all believers. If the many gifts of God to His people were properly used by them, the church would do far better service.—United Presbyterian.

—Any duty neglected prepares us for a new disobedience—any sin committed paves the way for fresh transgressions; but duties done and temptations resisted fit us for new victories in the fight of faith, and the greater advances in the heavenly course.—Christian Union.

—The moral character of Jesus is harmonious in all its parts. It is a miracle of celestial beauty, blending the innocence of the lamb with the dignity of God, sweet in its benevolence, and intense and strong in its aversion to sin, and without a blemish or a fault. It has in all ages commanded the universal tribute of human thought. The most arrogant infidelity forgets its sneer in the presence of this character.—N. Y. Independent

MUSCLE TRAINING.

Some Sensible Hints Concerning Gymnastic Exercises for Women.

S long ago as 1860, Louisa M. Alcott wrote, in that serio-comic way of hers: "This amiable town is convulsed just now with a gymnastic fever, which shows itself with great violence in the schools and young societies generally. Dr. Lewis has 'inoculated us with the disease,' and it has 'taken finely;' for every one has become a perambulating wind-mill, with all its four sails going as if a wind had set in. The city fathers approve of it, and the city sons and daughters intend to show that Concord has as much muscle as brain. Abby, the Meg of 'Little Women, 'and I are among the pioneers."

Much the same interest is shown now, and so great is it and so widespread, that skeptical folk term it but a "fashionable fad." If it be a fad, it is the most sensible one that has yet arisen, and, unlike such fickle fancies, has come to stay and will not be blown aside by any newer thing that arises. What are its purposes, its benefits?—for, of course, there is no cause without some good or bad effect, and no woman would take gymnastic exercise and heartily indorse it unless she was sure of some good in the end for the time and effort put forth.

Those who understand and have tested the grand results of gymnastic exercise divide the methods and apparatus used to attain the latter into heavy and light gymnastics. The ends reached by light gymnastics are not as tangible, not as plainly observed nor so soon, though of equal importance, as the results obtained by heavy gymnastics. Their value and application to daily life will be discussed in a succeeding article.

When a woman or young girl enters a gymnasium she undergoes a physical examination. Her heart and lungs are tested, her lifting capacity—that is, bodily strength—ascertained, all parts of her body measured and compared with a standard, questions put to her regarding any inherited or acquired disease, deformities or immature growths noted; in short, a thorough insight is obtained of her physical being. Very much as on entrance to mental work some knowledge must be gained by her instructor of her attainments in the three R's. This examination of her physical structure is submitted to the physician in attendance, and a line of exercise planned out based on her individual needs, discovered by her personal examination. Perfectness, as applied to the physical structure of women, is a lost quantity. And right here is where gymnastics are of the greatest value—to make perfect, or as nearly as can be, the unperfected frame.

Every gymnasium contains special pieces of apparatus, each designed to counteract and cure defects of the body. The main result is to promote symmetrical bodily development, but curved spines can be straightened, projecting shoulder-blades drawn down, advancing chins pulled back or uneven hips and shoulders corrected.

Suppose, then, your examination discloses the fact that you may have partly known, that your lungs are not as strong as they should be, that you stoop a little, wear braces which are not a particle of use, and you learn that the upper part of your body is not as well proportioned as the lower. These are common defects, so common that ninety-nine per cent. of women can claim them.

The first thing in the gymnasium to be tried—for all can be overcome and cured—is that most useful of all pieces of apparatus—the chest weight. Its good results can never be numbered. Every muscle in the trunk of the body by its use can be called into action and made to perform its true service, which in the ordinary routine of life it fails to do. The course as laid out for use of the chest-weight is such that the chest broadens, the lungs grow stronger, the muscular force of the arm increases and the delicate, weak-lunged woman begins soon to feel the rich possession of health, an added force which permits her to lift, and an increase in flesh that at one time she deemed it impossible to acquire. Curvature of the spine is cured; kidneys and lungs have to do more active work to get rid of the waste products; the heart beats more vigorously in order to carry more blood to the tissues, and disease, lurking in various parts of the body, is sent to the right-about-face by the persistent use of the chest-weight.

Another machine, with which the gymnasium could not part, is the quarter-circle. Here, too, the chest is expanded, the breathing capacity of the lungs deepened. Every one stoops more or less, as their daily work pulls the shoulders over. To overcome this, the gymnasium has the quarter-circle exaggerating the backward position of both head and shoulders. For consumptively-inclined persons, no better advice could be given than a daily use of the quarter-circle. Lying flat on the machine, with it weighted to the amount prescribed by the directress, the pupil extends the arms over the head, pulls the weights down as far as the arms will allow, and repeats this as many times as instructed. For dyspeptics this exercise has proved beneficial, particularly in cases of stomach or intestinal dyspepsia.

The value of rowing as an exercise can never be told too many times. It reduces corpulency, produces perspiration, develops the arms and wrists, gives strength, color and fresh blood into the veins, in short does wonders to the body. And recognizing its worth, the rowing machine plays an important part in the well-equipped gymnasium. When time and place and weather will not permit of the actual oar being taken in hand, its substitute gives the same results.

For the pianist the gymnasium has the finger machine, a strengthener of the muscles she needs to span and slide over the keys of her instrument. The singer and elocutionist can improve the voice by another machine built especially for breathing, while for the worker who demands a wrist that never tires, there are the wrestling and wrist machines, which develop the muscles of the wrist principally, but reach in a measure nearly all the muscles of the body, legs and arms.

To be able to lift the weight of her own body is one of the conditions of a perfect physique in a woman. The appliances known as traveling-rings and flying-rings accomplish this and add dexterity and grace. The vaulting-bar gives these, too, to say nothing of an increase in courage, but at the same time, like the parallel-bars, strengthens the muscles of the legs, back and arms.

The appliances enumerated by no means complete the list, but are those in common use, and such as remedy common defects. But there is no limit to what can be done in benefitting the body by the use of gymnastic apparatus. The body, like the tree from the spring of life to its autumn, grows as bent. If not straight, strong and supple, it can be made so. Long years of experience has proved that exercise is requisite for the best health and the longest. If it can not be taken out of doors, it can in, by modern methods, and the gymnasium in its perfection of apparatus will give the same benefits.

Light gymnastics make a woman dexterous and nimble with her feet, her hands and her head. It helps a heavy, flesh-burdened woman to rid herself of superfluous avoirdupois, permitting her in time to move easier and more speedily. And courage is also added, for it requires some forgetfulness of that innate timidity and dread of criticism inherent in woman to attempt exercises with clubs, to jump across a vaulting-bar or to climb rope ladders hand over hand. It does a woman good to be taken out of herself, to forget how she looks; prepares her for great or trifling emergencies, gives her an exhilaration of spirit and a pleasure, which makes the exercise a delight and enables her to do more work with less weariness than before.

One bit of necessary advice. Follow all gymnastic exercises with a cold water bath, taken quickly. Cold water is the better; but to those not used to it, tepid water baths can be taken at first, gradually lessening the heat until the body accustoms itself to water of a lower temperature. Give the body a vigorous rub with a Turkish towel. Send the blood tingling from top to toe. All danger of cold is thus avoided, and the body reaps the highest benefits. With gymnastics, as with every thing else, care must be followed so far as moderation and proper treatment of the body is concerned after the exercise.—Ellen Le Garde, in Ladies' Home Journal.

A New Antidote to Cholera.

According to the British Medical Journal, M. Roux has tried to cultivate the cholera microbe of Koch in an infusion made from the refuse of malted barley left after extraction in the brewing of beer. It is a liquid in which nearly all other microbes grow well, except the one above mentioned. This not only will not thrive in it, but when immersed in it is quickly killed. He has therefore suggested to the Societe des Sciences Medicales, of Lyons, that the infusion might be of use in the treatment and prophylaxis of cholera.

MISCELLANEOUS.

—A Benton Harbor man has a musket which used to kill Frenchmen 200 years ago, and a powder flask older by a century.

—It is estimated that the amount of gold in the world is about 613 cubic yards, and it would fit in a room twenty-four feet each way, if in a solid cube.

—In London, recently, a large collie dog saved a girl's life by seizing her dress and swinging her aside just as she was about being run down by a horse.

—The craze for passing floral tributes over the footlights to stage favorites seems to have reached its height at Boston recently. A minstrel performer received a life-size floral image of himself seated in a chair and playing the banjo.

—Some writer has said that the average number of hairs on the human scalp varies from 90,000 to 120,000. A single hair can support a weight of two ounces, and is so elastic that it may be stretched to one-third of its entire length and then regain its former size and condition.

—A remarkable proceeding is reported from Chicago, where a father, Jacob Lanfield, was arrested for not taking out a theatrical license for a little theater which his children ran in the cellar, charging five pins admission. He was arrested on a warrant sworn out by a policeman.

—The old light-house which stands at the entrance of New Haven harbor has been abandoned by the Government and orders have already been received for its destruction. It has been a familiar landmark for many years and was a favorite visiting place for New Haven people.

—Flounders replenish the ocean at a very rapid rate. In a season one flounder produces many millions of eggs, scattering them broadcast through the water. The sole produces 1,000,000 eggs, a plaice not less than 2,000,000, while a turbot has been credited with the deposition of 11,000,000 or 12,000,000 ova.

Saved Her Life.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Feb. 6, 1888.
This is to certify that my mother has suffered from nervous weakness for over 20 years. We have tried innumerable remedies and physicians, she also went to Germany for her health, spending in all thousands of dollars with only temporary benefit. At last we tried Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic and Elixir of Iron, and I honestly and sincerely believe that she not only received more benefit from them than all others combined, but would have died before this without them, as she was getting weaker every day, before we began with the above medicine.
Dr. BODT, 226 GRENE, 776 Chapel st.

Our Pamphlet for sufferers of nervous diseases will be sent free to any address, and poor patients can also obtain this medicine free of charge from us.
This remedy has been prepared by the Reverend Pastor Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., for the past ten years, and is now prepared under his direction by the

ARRESTING ITALIANS

New Orleans Citizens Bound to Break Up the Mafia.

SEVERAL SUSPECTS IN JAIL.

Threatening Letters Received by the Man Who Identified the Criminals.

He Appeals to the Mayor for Protection. The Whole Police Force Actively at Work—An Important Arrest Made—It is Believed That the Man Who Fired the Gun Has Been Captured.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 20.—The Citizens' Committee of Fifty met last night in the Council chamber. Very little is known of the action taken beyond the fact that the public is called on to subscribe a fund to assist the committee in its work of ferreting out the instigators of the Hennessy assassination and breaking up the Mafia.

While the committee was in session P. L. Peeler, who identified Scaffido, Bagnetto and Incanardo as the Italians who fired the shots that killed Chief Hennessy, called on Mayor Shakespeare and asked for protection, stating that he had received a number of threatening letters and that his life was in danger. He lives near the corner where the shooting occurred.

The tickets for the benefit of Andy Boyen, the fighter, are said to be stamped with Mafia symbols. He will be called on to explain by the police. The whole force are actively at work, and have to-day arrested twenty-seven more suspects, one of whom is said to have been of the party that did the killing.

The Italians that have been arrested are among the most ignorant, sullen and treacherous of their race and concealed upon the person of every one of them was found dangerous weapons of some kind. They seem to understand the laws thoroughly regarding the right of the authorities to hold them on suspicion and are indifferent and refuse to say anything at all. It is plain to see that they have been well drilled by more cunning heads and have undoubtedly been informed that if they keep their mouth closed no evidence can be secured against them.

An important arrest was made last night in the person of Manuel Polatek. The police claim to have positive information that he fired the gun that did such fatal execution on the night of the murder. The assassin who fired the gun at the discharge of which Hennessey fell, stumbled as he ran off and came in contact with the gutter curbing. Polatek's right ear is badly mangled, as by a fall, and his arm is seriously bruised. Officer Cooper, who pursued the assassins some distance, positively identifies Polatek as the man who fell down while running away.

JUSTIN'S DYNAMITE SHELL.

Another Attempt Will Be Made to Fire It from a High Powered Gun.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 20.—The new gun for Dr. Joel Justin's dynamite experiment has arrived from Boston and is being placed in position in the Perryville gorge. Weather permitting, the trial of Dr. Justin's shell in the gun will be held week after next.

An experimental shell has been made to be fired from the gun. This shell has been fitted with a mechanical contrivance which, when the shell is fired from the gun, will measure and record the exact temperature within the shell, the amount of cushioning and the resistance of the inner shell.

An earth butt, ten feet high, six feet wide and thirty feet deep, with a backing of four feet of logs held in place by long piles firmly driven into the ground, has been erected thirty yards from the mouth of the gun, and into this barricade the experimental shell will be fired. It is expected by this means to determine the exact condition of the shell when it leaves the gun and strikes the target.

As a safeguard against all possible accidents Dr. Justin has surrounded the gun with a banking of solid earth many feet in thickness.

A large number of military experts will be present at the trial.

Conley Awarded the Fight.

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 20.—A fight took place in the rink between Mike Conley of New York and Dick Sullivan of Colorado, which was witnessed by 1,000 persons. The fight was for a purse of $1,250. In the first round Sullivan fouled Conley and the referee gave Conley the fight, but the latter said he was willing to go on. In the second round Sullivan repeated the offense and the referee awarded the contest to Conley. Sullivan's backers lost heavily. Frank Vaquelin of New Orleans will challenge Conley.

Struck by Lightning.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 20.—Several unusually heavy rain and electrical storms occurred here yesterday, during one of which the public library building was struck by lightning, tearing off a quantity of the roofing. Reports of heavy rain and thunder storms are received from Waterbury and other points in the State. The house of Thomas Derwin, at Brooklyn, Conn., was struck by lightning and the occupants severely shocked.

A Veteran Editor Dies Suddenly.

DENVER, Col., Oct. 20.—Captain L. W. Cutter, editor and proprietor of the Field and Farm of this city, died suddenly at Salida, Col., yesterday. He was born in Genesee county, N. Y., in 1828. He was at one time associate editor with Horace Greeley on the New York Tribune, and served in that capacity for several years. He was a veteran of the Mexican war and came here in 1860.

POLITICAL EXCITEMENT.

The Situation in South Carolina Very Bitter Over the Race Question.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 20.—The situation in South Carolina, from a political standpoint, is decidedly peculiar. Everybody is talking politics, and the people are wrought up to a high pitch of excitement. The excitement is confined to no class nor to any particular section of the State. It is general throughout the whole State and affects both races.

The few days now remaining before the general election in November bid fair to be days well filled with bitterness and even bloodshed. The leaders of the opposing factions are hard at work, and neither side will leave a single stone unturned to insure victory.

There are many who regret that such a state of things has come, but on the other hand there are others who welcome the breaking of old party lines. All recognize the fact that the negro vote will be used, and many admit that the negro will be the deciding factor in the fight between the whites.

A great many bewail this recognition of the negroes' right to vote, and declare that the result will be that in the next four years the blacks will have control of the State. The other side retort that it is the part of wisdom to recognize the fact that the negro vote cannot be suppressed much longer, and to take charge of it now and get control of it. They say that recognition of the negro vote is but a question of time, and that, too, of a very short time, and that if they did not use it their opponents would use it two years hence to keep themselves in office.

COLLISION ON THE RAIL.

A Baggage Master Prevents Great Loss of Life on the Lake Shore Road.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 20.—A Lake Shore freight train, loaded with cattle going east, broke in two on a heavy grade three miles east of Silver Creek in the morning. The rear section started backward and crashed into another freight loaded with beef going east, smashing several cars and killing a large number of cattle, and throwing two cars in the path of the fast limited express, which collided with the obstruction, smashing the engine and baggage cars, and tearing the side out of two coaches.

No one was killed, and but one was injured—a lady passenger, who had two ribs broken. Both tracks were blocked for some time. The baggage master saw the obstruction and notified the passengers to get on the other side of the car, thereby preventing great loss of life.

An Old Painting.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 20.—Dean Wagner of Windsor is exhibiting a painting at the Windsor exhibition which was sent him recently at the dying request of the Mother Superior of the Ursuline Convent at Prague, Austria, and which is believed to have a very interesting history to art connoisseurs. The painting is "The Crucifixion." The heavy coloring has become somewhat faded and shows signs of great age. The Dean believed his painting to be from the hands of one of the old masters and was supported in his views by several local artists. It has just been ascertained that the picture is without doubt one that has been searched for vainly for over 200 years. It is reasonably certain now that it is "The Crucifixion" painted by Hans Memmling early in the fifteenth century, and from which the celebrated Van Dyke copy was made.

Believed to Have Been Murdered.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 20.—It now looks as William B. Hakes, who died near Holly on Saturday, was murdered. He was known to have had $120 in his pocketbook on Friday night. He slept alone. On Saturday morning the hired man found the back door of the house forced open and the contents of Hakes' pockets strewn about the floor, with the pocketbook empty and the money missing. It is supposed that Hakes was chloroformed, as there were no marks of violence on his body. An inquest is in progress.

An Old Law Put in Force.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 20.—A great crowd of the best German citizens were last night excited and very indignant over the action of the police in stopping the lecture which was to have been given at German Mannerchor Hall by Arthur Koebner, of New York. For some reason an old law was resurrected yesterday and last night the authorities stated that no entertainment of any sort, for which an admission price was demanded, could take place in Baltimore on Sunday if any one should object thereto. The crowd denounced the decision and the authorities. The statute has been practically dead so long that even the District-Attorney knew not of its existence until yesterday.

Compelled to Close the Schools.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Oct. 20.—The public schools at Orford, Blooming Grove and other villages in that section of Orange County have been closed owing to the prevalence of a malignant type of diphtheria.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

Guarding Against Fire in the White House.

EXTRAORDINARY PRECAUTIONS.

The Repairs to the Building Exposed Its Tinder-Like Condition.

Department Clerks Preparing to Go Home to Vote—The Postmaster-General's Annual Report—Admiral Porter's Condition—He Passed a Restless Night—A Big Week for Horsemen.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Considerable anxiety has been caused of late to government officials and others who visit the White House daily in regard to the possible danger of fire to the historic old structure and its occupants arising from the placing of electric light wires throughout the building. The recent renovations and repairs to the building have disclosed more than ever the tinder like condition of the entire structure.

There is not a joist or timber comprising a vital point in the structure which is not half rotten and decayed and highly inflammable. The space between the ceiling of the rooms and the floor of the rooms above is filled with half decayed timbers and a stratum of fine dust, which would act like a train of powder in communicating a flame from room to room with lightning-like rapidity. Between the ceilings of the upper floor and the roof of the house is a space three feet high, something like an attic, where the joists and timbers are exposed, and being very difficult of access, a fire could get a start here sufficient to make the destruction of the building a certainty.

Workmen have about completed the placing in position of the wires which will furnish electric light to the mansion. Each wire has been insulated with rubber, not a naked wire will be strung and extraordinary precaution has been exercised that no wire should cross another; but even then a fire is not out of the range of possibilities where an electric wire comes in proximity to inflammable matter.

WILL GO HOME TO VOTE.

Department Clerks Preparing to Cast Their Ballots at the Coming Election.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—There has been great political activity among Department clerks here for the past twelve months, and the probability is that four or five thousand of them will go home to vote at the coming elections. A score or more of State associations have been organized and their members will probably go home en masse to vote.

Never was greater activity and energy put forth in getting every qualified voter home for the November elections, and the exodus promises to be something unusual. Thousands of votes will be polled in distant States, that have not been cast before in years. So great does this exodus promise to be, that the railroads have reduced the rates for one round trip to a half fare rate to all points East of New York and West of Chicago; these rates being allowed only to voters holding certificates of membership in some State association.

Maryland being close to the National Capitol will probably attract the largest number of visitors of her native sons and voters on election day. Five hundred members of the Maryland State Association promise to go home and vote. The New York State Association promises to send 600; Pennsylvania, 500; Ohio, 300; Virginia, 500, and other States proportionately as well.

The Washington Races.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Nothing but good weather is needed to insure eight days of good sport at the fall meeting of the Washington Jockey Club at Benning's, which opens to-morrow. About 200 horses have already arrived, representing the best stables in the country. There will be little surplus stock on the ground, as all the horses are here to race. The club has arranged a good programme of five or six races each day, with a steeplechase race every other day. Massilon, of Blunt's stable, became lame at his work Saturday and very probably will not be started this meeting.

Admiral Porter's Condition.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The condition of Admiral Porter was not so favorable to-day. He was very restless last night and did not secure much sound sleep. His physician says there is no immediate danger of death.

The Engineers' Convention.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 20.—One of the grand officers of the locomotive engineers said that either Minneapolis or Atlanta, Ga., will be selected as the place for holding the next annual convention.

CAPTIVATED BY A BIGAMIST.

Mr. Crawford and His Matrimonial Adventures in Two States.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Harry Mortimer Crawford, 38 years old, a man of pleasing address, has been indicted for bigamy, and was arraigned for trial to-day. Crawford came to Port Ewen, near this city, about a year ago. By his engaging manners he soon gained the confidence of leading citizens in that village and captivated some of the belles of the town. Among them was Miss Lena Dubois, an attractive young woman.

Contrary to the wishes of her parents Miss Dubois after short acquaintance was married to Crawford. He secured a position with S. Staples & Co., cracker bakers, of Rondout, as a traveling salesman. He was not long in commanding a good trade and a corresponding increase of salary. All went smoothly until a week ago, when a woman appeared upon the scene and claimed to be Crawford's wife. She hailed from Newark and said her maiden name was Laura A. Lane and that she was married to Crawford three years ago. In less than a year he became involved in a crooked transaction and was forced to leave New Jersey.

From Newark Crawford went to Newburg, where he became engaged to an estimable young lady who was only saved from him by her brother, who wrote to Newark and learned Crawford's true character. Crawford suddenly left Newburg. His present arrest came about in a peculiar way. He made application for membership in an Odd Fellows' lodge of Rondout. Some of the members, being suspicious, instructed the secretary to communicate with persons in Newark, where Crawford alleged that he had been a member of the order. Miss Lane had an uncle who was an Odd Fellow, and thus Crawford's whereabouts were learned. Sensational developments are expected at the trial.

MISSING SINCE THE FIRE.

M. H. Hartwell Supposed to Have Perished at Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Mrs. M. H. Hartwell, of Westchester County, N. Y., is in this city looking for her husband, M. H. Hartwell, who was a guest at the hotel on the night of the fire. Mrs. Hartwell came here Wednesday night to meet her husband, who intended to finish a trip here, and they were to go home together.

She was stopping here with a friend on Harrison street, where her husband visited her on Wednesday evening. He was slightly under the influence of liquor, and so she persuaded him to return to the Leland Hotel for the night. That was the night of the fire, and Mrs. Hartwell has not seen or heard from him since. Hartwell traveled for a Providence, R. I., firm.

Morgan and the Widow Missing.

SYRACUSE, Oct. 20.—Charles C. Morgan, son of the late Gen. Morgan, and Mrs. William Emerick, a pretty grass widow, are missing from the village of Elbridge, in this county. It is believed that they have eloped. Morgan is the nephew of Gen. Slocum, and Mrs. Emerick is his sister-in-law. The two were together very much and were very affectionate. Morgan is a graduate of West Point. He married nine years ago and leaves his wife destitute. Morgan and Mrs. Emerick left town together ostensibly to visit relatives in Auburn, and have not been heard from since.

Sunday School Children Parade.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—A parade of Catholic Sunday school children took place in Brooklyn in honor of the jubilee of Bishop Loughlin. Over 22,000 children turned out and marched past the episcopal residence, where they were reviewed by the Bishop, Cardinal Gibbons, the visiting bishops and clergy and many prominent citizens. There were no bands of music, but the children sang hymns as they passed the bishop. They were two hours in passing the stand.

Denounced Mrs. Frank Leslie.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The Socialists held a big meeting last evening, the feature of the day being a lecture by Mrs. Woodman denouncing Mrs. Frank Leslie, who was reported in an interview last week as stating that "the Socialists should be shot down like dogs." The Socialists passed resolutions denouncing the world in general and Mrs. Leslie in particular. Mrs. Leslie is credited by the Socialists with being the mouthpiece of the New York's Four Hundred and representative of the plutocracy of the east.

Fire in a Telegraph Office.

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—About 6 o'clock last evening an electric light wire became crossed with a Western Union Telegraph wire, causing a burning out of the wires running from the tower to the switchboard in the operating room. The wood work of the tower caught fire, but the flames were put out without damage. The loss of the wires completely isolated the Boston office and communication was not restored until after 10 o'clock, when one or two wires to New York were obtained.

Became Suddenly Insane.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 20.—Mrs. John S. Miller, wife of a Grand avenue saloon keeper, became suddenly insane while entertaining company at her home. She secured a pistol, and before any one discovered her condition, began firing at her husband and the company. She fired four shots, but fortunately hit no one. She then turned the weapon on herself and sent a bullet through her brain.

A Boy Commits Suicide.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Preston Turple, a youth 14 years of age, committed suicide by hanging himself in his father's house. He was an inveterate reader of dime novels, and it is supposed that his mind had become affected.

LATE NEWS BY CABLE

An Appeal to the Men of Tipperary for Assistance.

LABOR TROUBLES IN SYDNEY.

The Employers Tell Why They Will Not Confer With the Strikers.

Nationalists Hold a Big Meeting in Ireland—An Invitation to David Dudley Field—Several Persons Drowned in Italy—Liberals and Socialists Carry the Elections in Belgium.

DUBLIN, Oct. 20.—A printed appeal, signed by Father Humphreys and other clergymen, has been posted in Tipperary, addressed to the "Men of Tipperary, the heart and pulse of the nation and the centre of Ireland's hope," calling upon them to give generously next Sunday to show America that they are not asking help for men unwilling to help themselves.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 20.—A large and enthusiastic meeting was held during the afternoon under the auspices of Branch 403 of the Irish National League, at which encouraging reports were submitted by the committees appointed to solicit subscriptions for suffering Ireland. It is predicted that a large amount will be turned over to Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien when they visit Buffalo.

LABOR TROUBLES IN SYDNEY.

The Employers Tell Why They Will Not Confer With the Strikers.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Oct. 20.—The employers' representatives have written a letter to the Lieutenant-Governor, who sought to arrange a conference between the employers and the strikers, in which they decline to meet the strikers.

They say the strikers broke their agreement and coerced the free men, to whom the employers owe a debt of gratitude, but, while refusing to dispense with the free men, as the unionists demand, they express a willingness to forget bygones and to receive the strikers back on the terms in vogue before the strike in order to restore the commerce of the colony. This offer involves no animosity toward the men's unions, the employers themselves having unions. Being convinced that the strikers made an unhappy mistake the majority are willing to resume work. The letter asks the Governor's influence to settle matters.

The Boulanger Funds Exhausted.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—M. Naquet, a former lieutenant of General Boulanger, publicly states that the resources of the Boulangist party have become exhausted through the extravagance of the General. The Royalists who were secretely supporting the Boulangist movement, collected a fund amounting to 5,000,000 francs, which it was their intention should be devoted to secure the election of Boulangist candidates for the Chamber of Deputies—one half of the fund, according to M. Naquet, was contributed by the Count of Paris. Of the whole amount given by the Royalists, the Boulangist party secured only 1,300,000 francs, the remainder being diverted by Gen. Boulanger from the uses to which the subscribers meant it should be devoted.

Balfour's Newcastle Speeches.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Mr. Balfour's speeches at Newcastle have disappointed a section of the Conservatives, who hoped that the secretary would throw over Colonel Caddell and admit that the police of Tipperary exceeded their duty in attacking the members of Parliament. His refusal to make scapegoats of the police has, however, pleased the out-and-out Tories, who form the bulk of the government's supporters.

City Employes Strike.

VIENNA, Oct. 20.—The employes of the tramways of this city are out on strike. The service is entirely suspended. The conductors struck for an increase of wages, and the other employes quit work in order to support the demand. The police are in possession of the tramway premises, and troops are under arms in the barracks, ready to act in case of public disturbance.

Big Meeting of Nationalists.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The Nationalists held an enormous meeting near Waterford, Ireland. Bands and banners were numerous, and much enthusiasm was displayed. Several members of Parliament were among the speakers. The police were out in force, but contented themselves with watching the proceedings and taking copious notes of what was said.

David Dudley Field Invited to Speak.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—A committee of leading "fair-traders," who believe in tariff retaliation as a national policy, have asked Mr. David Dudley Field to deliver an address next month on the subject of customs reprisals. The "fair-traders" are making many converts as a result of the McKinley tariff and its effects upon British exports.

Ordered to Make War.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The British Admiral at Zanzibar has been ordered to destroy Vitu, and make unsparing war on the inhabitants, unless all the murderers of the German traders are surrendered, to be turned over to the Germans for punishment.

Several Were Drowned.

ROME, Oct. 20.—The fears that an Italian torpedo boat had been lost while on a trip from Naples to Spezza have been realized. It is learned that the boiler of the boat burst, causing the vessel to founder. Three officers and fifteen sailors were drowned.

THE BASEBALL SITUATION.

Everybody Scheming, but Nothing Definite Arrived at as Yet.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—While friendly relations exist between the National League and the Players' League, the difficulty is by no means settled. They have met and talked matters over and, in fact, each organization has committees at work trying to arrive at an agreement which will prove satisfactory to all concerned.

Postmaster Cornelius Van Cott, the president of the New York Players' League Club, said that something would have to be done, but, owing to the pressure of his official business he had left the whole matter in the hands of Messrs. Talcott and McAlpin, his associates in the club. He said that this matter had only been talked over in a general way, but no matter what conclusion they arrived at the players would surely be protected.

J. Earl Wagener, of the Philadelphia Players' League Club, was in this city yesterday accompanied by Mr. Francis Richter, the editor of Sporting Life. Mr. Wagener said that the Brotherhood people would make a firm stand, and that the Players' League would be in existence next season even if they would have to drop the New York Club. It was his opinion that the only sign of weakening was in this city, and he expressed surprise at the action of Mr. Talcott and his associates.

Mr. Talcott refused to talk upon the subject further than to state that there would be a special meeting of the Players' League Club at the Fifth Avenue Hotel to-morrow, when the matter would be fully discussed, and then those concerned would have a far better idea of the situation. Buck Ewing, who was also present, seemed to be of the opinion that a compromise of some sort was absolutely necessary, and that it would at least be no harm to hear what the National League people had to say in the matter, even if nothing was accomplished. His idea is to have a prominent player of each one of the clubs present at the conference.

King of the Stallions.

RICHMOND, Ind., Oct. 20.—Nelson goes from here to his Pine Tree State home to-night to rest the remainder of the season, without lowering his record as the king of the trotting stallions of the world, but the horsemen who saw him get his mark of 2:11¼ at Terre Haute, say his mile Saturday was the greatest feat, considering the conditions, as he went while the wind was blowing a regular hurricane. He made the quarters as follows: first, 0:32½; second, 1:08; third, 1:45; fourth, 2:14¼. Some horsemen declare it equal to 2:09 under favorable circumstances, and Nelson's owner thinks it equal to 2:10.

Requested Their Pastor to Resign.

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—Rev. Dr. Emery J. Haynes, the well known Baptist pastor of Tremont Temple, has resigned at the request of the trustees. The trustees objected to the doctor's course in giving so much of his time to literary work, to his "unclerical behavior, possessing and driving a span of horses noted for their speed," to his leaning toward Unitarianism and to his entering in a speculation which nearly bankrupted him.

Unconstitutional and Inoperative.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Oct. 20.—Judge John F. Stoneman of the Superior Court of this city, has rendered a decision in three liquor cases brought under the Iowa prohibitory statute, amounting to a declaration that the Iowa statute is unconstitutional and inoperative.

Shot His Sister by Accident.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 20.—While shooting at a mark at Waterloo yesterday William Leslie, the eight-year-old son of Norman Leslie, shot his six-year-old sister just below the heart. She is expected to die. The boy was using a small rifle.

Jewish Students Become Christians.

ODESSA, Oct. 20.—Two hundred Jewish students in this city have renounced the Jewish faith and become Christians to avoid expulsion from their universities in accordance with the enforcement of the anti-Jewish law.

Failure in the Glass Trade.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Samuel Wickham, proprietor of the Middletown glass works, has made an assignment, Liabilities, $23,000, with assets about the same.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Semi-official papers in Rome deny that the Italian Minister at Washington has been recalled for selling decorations.

Washouts are reported from several points along the Massachusetts coast. The wind blew forty miles an hour there yesterday.

The lace manufacturers of Calais reopened their factories to-day. It is doubtful whether the employes will resume work until the wages dispute has been settled.

Peekskill and Sing Sing, N. Y., are jubilant at being classed by the Census Bureau as cities. The former has 10,026 and the latter 10,060 inhabitants. They will ask for city charters from the next Legislature.

The deposed body of Mrs. Sophie Stahl, of Peoria, Ill., 64 years old, was found in her home yesterday. The woman lived alone and had been dead five days. Her only relatives are two brothers, living in Syracuse, N. Y. A Coroner's inquest will be held.

The ministers of Elizabeth, N. J., have again begun a crusade against race tracks. A circular signed by Bishop Scarboro, Dr. McCosh, of Princeton; Dr. Gale, of Rutgers; and 200 other clergymen was read in all the churches yesterday.

Her representations of the daughter of the Capulets have passed through 2,700 performances, and been given 100 consecutive nights in New York, a feat which was never before performed by an actress. Her leading support, Otis Skinner, is a protege of Edwin Booth, and besides supporting that tragedian was for six years a favorite with Daly's combination.

WATCH, BONDS AND MONEY MISSING.

A Plainfielder Has an Interesting Experience, and Reports a $5,000 Robbery to the Police.

A well-known citizen whose home is in a fashionable part of the city, and who is now keeping bachelor's hall because his family is out of town, was taken ill, a few days ago, and hired a man who gave the name of Bill Farley to take care of him. William was to give medicine to the patient, at stated hours, and the sick man loaned him a handsome watch to time the doses. Presently the one gentleman fell asleep, and while he slumbered the other gentleman, William, absented himself. The patient awoke, after a refreshing nap of several hours, and found himself neglected and deserted. There was no watcher by his bedside, and the valuable watch, too, was gone with the nurse. Investigation showed that bonds and notes on which nearly $5,000 could be collected were also missing, besides from $80 to $90 in cash. The first act of the sick man was to declare himself well; his next was to send word to New York to have payment on the missing papers stopped. Then he went on the trail of his erewhile nurse, and found that he had been spending the hours in pool playing, drinking and other riotous living, in a place on East Front street. He had parted company with the watch, and the ex-invalid had him and a companion named Gray arrested. The two were given a hearing before City Judge Codington Sunday morning, and as there was no criminating evidence against either both were discharged. It was shown that the watch was taken from Farley "for safe keeping," and that he had not tried to dispose of it unlawfully. There was nothing to show that he had taken the other missing property.

Backsliding.

(From the Westfield Standard.)

A Plainfield man who gave up drinking, and joined the Plainfield Reform Club, and mixed with men of the church, and became President of the Plainfield Reform Club, and fought in that relation, not only the saloon but his appetite for liquor, now, after having fallen back again, charges the men of the church who vote saloon license tickets with being the principal stumbling block in the way of Reform. Is the Christian man who votes to legalize the saloon a modern Cain?

THE PLAINFIELD CRESCENT LEAGUE'S NEW CLUB HOUSE.

TO COST ABOUT $6,000.

A Handsome Home to Rise From the Ashes of the Old.

The new club house of the Plainfield Crescent League, the front of which, as outlined in the plans of the architect, pictured above, is to be one of the handsomest and most complete buildings of its kind in the State of New Jersey. The plans were only fully completed Saturday, yet THE PRESS gives a picture and a description of it all today.

The exterior is to be 31 feet front by 99 feet deep. The full height of the front will be 38 feet. A general entrance from Second street will be constructed at the centre of the building, and a private entrance will also be provided, as shown in the cut. At the second story will be two towers—one, at the left corner, round; the other at the right corner, square. Between the two will be a spacious balcony.

The material of the front will be Martinville stone, mounted by a French roof. A marble slab at the apex of the square tower will contain a crescent, the club symbol, and the round tower will be surmounted by a crescent finial.

The balcony will be approached by two pair of double glass doors, with circular colored-light transoms above.

The first floor will contain one clear story with not a column in it, and covering the extensive span 97x28 feet. This will be devoted entirely to four bowling alleys, of the best workmanship, and as level and smooth as man's handiwork can devise. Aside from the alleys will be two private conversational rooms, with commode, cloak and toilet rooms.

The second floor will have a handsome billiard room 28x48 feet without a column in it. This will contain billiard and pool tables to the number of four. Adjoining, and connected by sliding doors with the billiard room and two front parlors, will be a large parlor 17x27 feet. The parlors across the front will each open on the balcony, which will have a floor-space of 6 feet by 12.

Convenient to the parlors on the second floor, will be a ladies' dressing-room, which will be complete in every particular.

Every room in the building will be well lighted, and arranged so that every comfort and luxury may be provided, and the League's desire for a perfect club home consummated. The lower story front will contain handsome windows of plate glass. Open fire-places of handsome design will adorn the billiard room and parlors. The toilet rooms of both floors will be finished in marble.

The League, which has approved all the designs submitted, considers itself fortunate in securing B. Fosgate as an architect, he having been the architect of other handsome club houses, and creditable buildings in this city, among them the Love building at the corner of North avenue and Peace street, and being well-known as the architect of residences here. Judge Ulrich, who for his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Ulrich, owner of the property, has been looking after the matter of rebuilding the club house, is highly pleased with the plans, and says that the Crescent League will have one of the nicest club homes he ever saw. The building will occupy the site of the one burned, on Second street, near Park avenue.

Followed Her Offspring and Broke Her Neck.

A calf owned by Chas. Leland, of West Fourth street, wandered away from its mother during Thursday night, and the cow, trying to follow its offspring in the darkness, fell, broke her neck, and died at ten o'clock Saturday morning.

W. T. A. S. Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Temperance Aid Society, will he held at Beform Hall, Thursday afternoon at three o'clock. The anniversary exercises will occur in the evening at the hall at 7:45 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these meetings.

Mr. Haines Makes a Splendid Speech.

An appreciative audience in Reform Hall last evening listened with marked attention to the very able and instructive address of Samuel A. Haines, of Netherwood, who presented against the liquor traffic an arrary of startling facts and figures; by comparing the official returns of various States, counties and cities wherein the license system exists with those under prohibition, he showed the vast decrease in crime, misery and taxation and a corresponding increase in health, order and happiness, where liquor selling is forbidden by law.

Mr. Haines is both forcible and eloquent, and posseesses the rare faculty of rendering even statistics attractive hearing. He closed with a grand peroration on behalf of individual total abstinence and legal prohibition.

President Harper presided, and Mrs. Whitney in an impressive manner conducted the devotional services, and Mr. Vanderbeck's choir rendered the music.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

The regular meeting of the Plainfield Camera Club will be held to-morrow evening at eight o'clock.

Miles Ross Price, grandson of the Hon. Miles Ross, has been visiting Hervey Kinch Doane of West Fifth street.

Leo Daft and family are in their home on Putnam avenue, again, after an enjoyable season at their Lake George cottage.

Judge Arnold, of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, with Mrs. Arnold spent Saturday and Sunday with his old friend, John F. Wilson, of "Tunlaw," on the Greenbrook road.

Mrs. E. T. Tomlinson, President of the Plainfield Woman's Christian Temperance Union, left today for Atlantic City to attend the annual convention of the W. C. T. U. of New Jersey.

The annual meeting of the Presbyterian Synod of New Jersey will begin at Atlantic City to night, and will continue through Thursday. The delegates from this city are the Rev. Dr. K. P. Ketcham, the Rev. W. R. Richards and the Rev. W. E. Honeyman, pastors, and Samuel Milliken and F. C. Lounsbury, laymen.

J. Marc Martin, whose serious illness was noted in THE PRESS last week, died yesterday at his home on Park avenue. He had been a resident of Plainfield many years, and had a large insurance business in New York. He leaves two sons, Frank L. C., captain of the Plainfield Bicycle Club, and Howard, besides two daughters, all children of a former wife, and a young son of his widow. The funeral services will take place Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, from his late residence 135 Park avenue. Interment private.

A Palace of Pharmacy.

People passing through Park avenue across Fourth street, this morning, were stopped by the unusual sight of a new store that had opened on the corner, and curiosity impelled all to take a look inside. They found within a pharmacy that though still incomplete in its furnishing, was more elegant than any they had seen before.

George E. Williams, the well-known pharmacist, of Asbury Park, who has long been the owner of the store at Kingsley street and Second avenue, and who has just purchased another in the same city, is the proprietor of this handsome new place, which he has entitled the "Crescent Pharmacy." The fixtures are of solid mahogony, handcarved, and the drawers mounted with oxydized silver handles. The show cases are also very handsome. Art glass panels and hanging tapestry separate the prescription department from the main store. These fixtures were manufactured by Bangs, of Boston, who has no equal in his line. They cost about $3,000.

G. H. Macon, a graduate of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, is chief clerk. Mr. Williams, who is also a graduate of the same college, has been in the business eleven years. Consequently he knows how to please the people, and proposes to do it. The most elegant soda fountain in the State is now being manufactured for the Crescent Pharmacy, by Puffer, for next season. Imported cigars, the choicest colognes and extracts, and fine toilet articles, will be specialties at the Crescent Pharmacy.

—James O'Neill had a dispute in Mc Vey's restaurant Saturday night, and was arrested for disorderly conduct. He was tried today, and decision was reserved.

The Little Seed.

A little seed lay in the carter's path;
A little shoot bowed in the strong wind's wrath;
A little shrub grew, by its roots held fast;
Then a stout tree braved all the Winter's blast.

A little cough started—'twas only light;
A little chill shivered the hours of night;
A little pain came and began to grow,
Then consumption laid all his brave strength low.

Be wise in time. Check the little cough, cure the little chill, dispel the little pain, ere the little ailment becomes the strong, unconquerable giant of disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, taken in time, is a remedy for these ills.

HIS ANNUAL REPORT.

The Postmaster-General Reviews His Work for the Past Year.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. — The annual report of the Postmaster-General is almost completed but, of course, will not be made public until it is presented to Congress.

The report will show that during the present year there have been more new postoffices established than during any year since 1866. In that year the postoffices throughout the South which had been necessarily abandoned by the Government during the war, were re-established, so that during that particular year the record for new postoffices established exceeded all previous years.

The number of new offices estab lished during the last fiscal year was 4,427 of which the vast majority were established in the Southern States.

The largest number of new offices in any one State was 250 created in Pennsylvania, but with the exception of that one Northern State, the South secured the greatest number.

Thus, Texas received 208 new offices, North Carolina 203, Virginia 202, Kentucky 99, Alabama 107, Georgia 196, Tennessee 187, Missouri 170, West Virginia 160, Arkansas 141 and Mississippi 124.

Of the northern States in which more than 100 new offices have been established, after Pennsylvania, came Ohio with 137, Washington with 132, California 115 and New York 101. Wisconsin has an even 100.

There are no less than 122 new offices established in the Indian Territory.

A Farmer Hangs Himself.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Alfred Snyder, a highly respected farmer living four miles from Carthage, Jefferson County, committed suicide by hanging himself in his barn. No cause is assigned for the act. He was 40 years old and leaves a widow and three children.

Stamboul's Fast Time.

NAPA, Cal., Oct. 20.—The stallion Stamboul trotted against time and made a mile in 2:11¼, lowering his own and Axtell's record.

Liberals Successful in Belgium.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 20.—The municipal elections in Belgium resulted generally in favor of the Liberals. The Socialists were successful in many places. Second ballots will be required in Brussels.

Tried to Shoot the Czar.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The Chronicle's Warsaw special reports that a futile attempt has been made to shoot the Czar. The story has not been confirmed.

ITS 12TH YEAR OF CHARITY.

How the Plainfield Relief Association has Lived up to Its Name—The Poor Succored, the Sick Helped Until Work Could be Resumed, and the Willing Assisted to be Self Supporting—Some Touching Instances and Convincing Figures.

To the Officers, Members, and other friends of the Relief Association:

The work of the Association's twelfth year has been no exception to the rule of usefulness and prosperity that has characterized its career throughout. There has been the same demand as heretofore for money, and time, and thought to carry on the good work of helping the poor to help themselves, and the same cordial response from the pocket-books and brains of our generous friends; and this year we have had the co-operation of other benevolent societies in a greater degree than ever before. The Children's Home and Muhlenberg Hospital, as usual, lightened our responsibilities by their active charity; and furthermore we have been much aided of late by the hearty sympathy of several bands of King's Daughters. These circles have in a number of instances procured for beneficiaries assistance which our limited means and the urgent needs of others prevented us from giving them. The physicians, editors, merchants, and express companies also have rendered us material aid, and our sincere thanks are due them.

THE FAMILIES HELPED.

The following reports will indicate the general outline of the year's work. On Oct. 1, 1889, sixteen families were being aided either by employment furnished them, or, in case of illness, by food given gratuitously. Since then the names of sixty-two others have been added to the roll, making a total of seventy-eight families who have at some time during the year received help.

Of these seventy-eight families, twenty-four may be classed as receiving continuous aid either from the city poor fund, or from the Relief Association; thirty-four as needing only temporary help from us until work could be resumed; and twenty as needing permanent work only to be self-supporting. The number of ineligible applicants has been very small, a fact that would seem to indicate that the unworthy poor have for the most part discovered the difficulty of imposing upon an institution for organized charity.

TOUCHING INSTANCES.

It may be well to notice here one or two of the touching cases which have been brought to our notice during the past year. Early in the Autumn there came to us an appeal from a young woman whose husband was ill, and who, far from well herself, sought to support her four children by sewing. They were thrifty people, and though the father had earned only an artisan's wages, had managed to live for seven months on their previous savings before they applied to us. The past year has been one long history of hardship and suffering for them. At one time the mother became so ill that she had to be removed for treatment to the hospital; and during the weeks of her absence the chief responsibility of the household devolved upon the twelve-year-old daughter who cared for her sick father and baby brother with the courage and self-devotion of a heroine. Even now the health of neither father nor mother is fully restored, though they have for some time dispensed with the aid which during the period of their greatest suffering they would consent to receive only as a loan.

Another instance of persistent struggle against continued misfortune, is the case of an Englishwoman, who, deserted by her husband, was forced to depend upon her own exertions for bread for herself and little children. Through the private charity of one of our members, she was provided with a small stock of goods and a little store, and for a time was able to eke out the small income derived from that by sewing and by caring for a baby whose mother paid board for it. But now her eyesight is failing, so that she can hardly see to count correct change for costumers, and as if to fill to the brim her cup of misfortune, her little eight-year-old daughter has during the last few months been distressingly ill with heart disease. It is under such circumstances as these that we feel justified in giving food gratuitously.

Several of the poor, tired mothers have during the past Summer been sent with their husbands for a breath of invigorating air to the sea-shore. It is the custom of one of our benefactors to give each year a certain sum to be devoted to thus procuring for them a day's change and refreshment after the year's monotonous round of work. Would that others might follow her example.

SEVENTY-ONE DINNERS.

Thanksgiving Day was as usual a red-letter day to the poor people, and by our friends' generosity seventy-one families were provided with bountiful dinners.

The report of the Employment Bureau is as follows:

|---|---|
| Number of families aided | 78 |
| Number of persons represented | 220 |
| Nationalities represented: | |
| American | 35 |
| Irish | 13 |
| Colored | 11 |
| German | 9 |
| English | 7 |
| French | 1 |
| Hungary | 1 |
| Swedish | 1 |
| Scotch | 1 |
| Amount of sales from ordered work | $ 24.29 |
| " " " beneficiary | $152.72 |
| Total amount of sales | $176.99 |
| Number of women who have received sewing | 30 |
| Number of garments made | 831 |
| Number of parcels of clothing given gratuitously | 101 |

It is in this department of work that the advantage of the organized, over the individual administration of relief is most clearly exemplified. In private charity it is often difficult and well nigh impossible to arrange a plan by which the applicant can earn the money, which it is so much easier to bestow as an alms. And so, many charitably-disposed and well-intentioned persons are aiding by their indiscriminate alms-giving to create a dangerous class of paupers in the community. But in an organization like the Relief Association it is possible in a great measure to supply employment to the needy which shall be at once the test of their sincerity and the means of their obtaining food and clothing without losing independence and self-respect. Too much cannot be said of the benefit which the society and its beneficiaries would derive from orders for plain sewing from outside friends. There are upon our list of those who need employment the names of several good seamstresses fitted to do plain sewing of all sorts in a satisfactory way, and it is greatly to be desired that this branch of industry should be more widely known and patronized.

THE SEWING SCHOOL CLOSED.

The Warren Mission Sewing School for girls thrived as usual during the past Winter. 250 pupils were enrolled in twenty-one classes, with an average attendance of 136. But at the end of the term a general feeling prevailed among the officers and teachers that some changes in the organization and methods of the school were greatly to be desired. Accordingly at the May meeting of the Board of Managers a committee of three was appointed to consider the matter of reorganization, and to determine, if possible, the best method of effecting the necessary changes. At a special meeting of the Board called on September 25, the committee proposed that the sessions of the school be discontinued for one year, since after careful investigation it seemed to them that such a period of inactivity would facilitate reorganization on a new and more advantageous basis. After prolonged discussion of the advisability of the measure, it was unanimously voted that the school be closed during the coming year. But we trust that in the Autumn of '91 the work which for the past seventeen years has been of so great value to Plainfield, will be resumed under new and more favorable conditions. Unless—that which is still more to be desired—the public schools take into their own hands the work which is of right theirs, and by the adoption of industrial training into their curriculum make good their high reputation.

THE MOTHERS' MEETINGS.

The Mothers' Sewing Class has continued its successful weekly meeting, though the severe storms and prevalent illness of Winter made the attendance smaller than usual, only fifteen names being enrolled. Forty-nine garments were made, and about twenty pounds of carpet rags were cut and sewed to complete the carpet for the board room of the Relief Association. The Superintendent, Mrs. Gill, writes—"A very pleasant spirit has pervaded the class, and a marked improvement in the manners of one or two of the rugged matrons."

One unfortunate fact there is to be chronicled—the failure of the public evening schools opened by the Board of Education at the solicitation of the Relief Association, and so remarkably successful during the Winters of '88-'89. The teachers who had charge of the classes last Winter missed the co-operation of their able principal, Miss Bulkley, who had been so heartily interested in the work during the previous year; and the attendance gradually diminished until the trustees considered themselves no longer justified in keeping the schools open. But it is encouraging to anticipate in this connection the good that will doubtless be accomplished among the poor boys of the town by the recently organized Boys' Club, in which many of our members and patrons are actively interested. Here the young men and boys who are obliged to work all day will find in the evening those means for harmless pleasure and that opportunity for self-improvement which the Relief Association has been so long seeking for them.

LITTLE BANK ACCOUNTS.

The Provident Savings Committee reports a year full of success. No branch of our Association has met with more cordial encouragement both from those whom it is endeavoring to help and from those whose assistance is required in carrying out its plan. To the benefit of any who are not familiar with this kind of work it may be well to state its objects and methods. It aims to encourage the poor, often dragged so low by thriftlessness and improvidence, to lay by each week some portion of their earnings and place in the hands of the Committee, by whom it is invested at interest for them. As soon as the deposit of any individual amounts to five dollars, the saver is put into direct communication with the bank by the opening of a private bank book. When the last annual report was presented, this Committee could be looked upon only as an experiment; but the remarkable success of the past year has placed it upon the firm footing of an established institution. There are 160 deposits ranging in amounts from $181 to 03. Since the beginning in June, 1889, the entire amount collected has been $2,276.87, while only $883.73 has been withdrawn. The number of individual bank accounts is 53, representing the sum of $1,180.30. We feel that this is one of the best methods for awakening self-respect and self-dependence, and there is ample assurance of the good accomplished in the increasing thrift of the savers and their interest in the enterprise

Thus the year's work has prospered in all its branches, and we ought, I think, heartily to congratulate ourselves on its results. But we cannot help wishing that our power for good might be still further broadened and extended, for we find our endeavors in many instances sorely crippled by lack of means. If other new helpers and benefators could be brought to us through the efforts of our present supporters, how greatly might our value to the community be increased. For our opportunities are always larger than our capacities, and the more support our friends give us, the wider and more far-reaching will be our usefulness.

Respectfully submitted,
EDITH R. LEONARD, Secretary.
Oct. 6, 1890.

ANECDOTES OF DECATUR.

The Gallant Naval Hero's Sympathy for the Common Sailors.

The gallant Decatur was a sailor to the heart's core, and loved to tell anecdotes of the common sailors, one of which follows: In one of the actions before Tripoli, while fighting hand to hand with the captain of a gun-boat, Decatur came near being cut down by a Turk, who attacked him from behind. A seaman, named Reuben James, who was already wounded in both hands, seeing the risk of his commander, rushed in and received the blow of the uplifted saber on his own head. Fortunately the honest fellow survived to receive his reward. Some time afterward, when he had recovered from his wounds, Decatur sent for him on deck, expressed his gratitude for his self-devotion, in presence of the crew, and told him to ask for some reward. The honest tar pulled up his waistband and rolled his quid, but seemed utterly at a loss what recompense to claim. His messmates gathered around him, nudging him with their elbows and whispering in his ear:

"He has all the world in string and can get what he pleases;" "the old man can deny him nothing," etc. One advised this thing, another, that; "double pay," "double allowance," "a boatswain's berth," "a pocket full of money and a full swing on shore," etc. Jack elbowed them all aside and would have none of their counsel. After mature deliberation, he announced the reward to which he aspired; it was—to be excused from rolling up the hammock-cloths! The whimsical request was, of course, granted; and from that time forward whenever the sailors were piped to stow away their hammocks, Jack was to be seen loitering around and looking on with the most gentleman-like leisure.

The devoted fellow always continued in the same ship with Decatur. "I could always know the state of my bile by Jack," said the commodore. "If I was in good humor, and wore a pleasant aspect, Jack would be sure to heave in sight, to receive a friendly nod; and if I was out of humor, and work, as I sometimes did, a foul-weather physiognomy, Jack kept aloof and skulked among the other sailors." It is proper to add that Reuben James received a more solid reward for his gallant devotion than the privilege above mentioned, a pension having been granted him by the Government.

On another occasion Decatur had received at New York the freedom of the city as a testimonial of respect and gratitude. On the following day he overheard this colloquy between two of his sailors:

"Jack," said one, "what is the meaning of this 'freedom of the city,' which they've been giving to the old man?"

"Why, don't you know? Why, it's the right to frolic about the streets as much as he pleases, kick up a row, knock down the men, and kiss the women."

"That's something worth fighting for!" remarked the other.—N. Y. Ledger.

SELF-MADE CRANKS.

Men Who Feel Their Feebleness in the World of Practical Affairs.

One can not help believing that there is a variety of this gentry who are self-made cranks—cranks because they want to be. They seek some social disproportion whereupon they can posture with effect. The pleasures of conformity are humdrum; nonconformity is piquant and startling. Such a man is not a crank from abundance of virtue, as he would have you believe, but rather because he feels his feebleness in the world of practical affairs and is soured thereby. If he pose as an advance philanthropist, we suspect that his love of mankind has some side glances at personal profit. If facts be against him, he does not hesitate to invent them, and visits with arrogant abuse those who would expose his falsities. He is especially angry with those halting disciples who accept his scheme as something ultimately possible, and then humbly inquire what they are to do provisionally as a practical approximation to the distant good. If he be a rhetorician, he has no scruple in administering the electric shock of paradox, and seeks the levity of assent that may be caught by the sudden spring of a false analogy. No doubt this reckless shooter occasionally hits the mark. Pope describes the talking bird who berates the passers-by with epithets which well-conducted periodicals have ceased to print. But the poet confesses that, though sometimes struck with the extreme felicity of these characterizations, he had never been able to extend his admiration to the speaker whose entire stock in trade consisted of this very limited and abusive vocabulary.—J. P. Quincy, in Atlantic.

—Chicken Patties: Crop the chicken meat free from gristle, season with salt, pepper and a little celery or sage, place a little of the meat on pieces of puff paste, press the edges together, making small turnovers, place them in a shallow pan and bake a nice brown, serve with drawn butter or a gravy made from the liquor in which the chicken was cooked.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

How Stubbs' Landing, Me., Clings to Its Last Straw.

A Picture of the Fate That is Overtaking Many a Down-East Town—Stockings Once Filled by West India Trade Are Now Emptied.

[COPYRIGHT, 1890.]

When I first saw Stubbs' Landing, Me., I supposed that the place had been so named because nobody but Stubbs had ever been fool enough to land there. Later, however, I discovered that a considerable number of people had followed Stubbs' unfortunate example, and thus there had grown up a thriving village. On second thought I will withdraw the adjective, and call it just plain village. I would like to please the inhabitants, but I can not tell a lie.

Stubbs himself does not live there now. It fact, it was about 1780 when he arrived, and he went away very early in this century. The village had begun to grow at that time, owing to the West India trade, and Stubbs was one of those men who can not stand prosperity. Nature produces a certain number of such men for the purpose of securing settlements in places which are not fit to sustain life. Just as soon as Stubbs found that his Landing was getting popular, and there was a chance for him to make a little money by cheating Indians in the fur trade, he grew uneasy, and moved on to Goose Falls, where the conditions were less favorable. By and by something like trade showed itself in Goose Falls, and Stubbs folded his tent and withdrew to Clam Cove, which promised eternal desolation if ever a place did. But, before long, somebody got to digging clams and selling them for bait; then somebody else started a store; and all this activity grated on poor old Stubbs. He couldn't think of a worse place than Clam Cove, and he was getting rather old to move, anyway, so he died.

But to return to Stubbs' Landing. The town boasts of a very broad, deep harbor which doesn't freeze over in the coldest winter, so that vessels of the largest size could come in at any time if there were any thing to bring or take away. But there isn't. The West India trade is dead, leaving no signs but the half obliterated lettering on a few old stores, and an inherited liking for Jamaica rum in the inhabitants.

If anybody supposes, however, that there is no progressive spirit in Stubbs' Landing he is much mistaken. The question of building a railroad has been discussed there for over thirty years; and will be discussed for thirty years more, so far as I can see. I really think that a branch line had one chance in ten thousand of being built there about twenty years ago, but the people wouldn't have it that way. They wanted to be a terminus. They were quick to see the remarkable terminal facilities of Stubbs' Landing. A railroad would simply have to terminate there unless the company should decide to bridge the Atlantic Ocean.

The first time I ever landed in the place where the immortal Stubbs grounded his bark and the hopes of his posterity, was in the summer of 1880. No rails were laid in 1880, nor in 1885, when I visited Stubbs' Landing again, but in each of these years considerable railroad excitement had been stirred up by a young man named Blake, who was born in the town but escaped from it at an early age. Blake's exact place of residence is unknown to the townspeople, though they have the advantage of a visit from him every few years. These are the times when, in his remote indefinite abiding place, visions of his dear old home steal upon the sensitive soul of Blake, and show him the great possibilities of the town and the advantages it would derive from a railroad. Then he talks it over with his intimate friends, all of whom are capitalists, and having interested them in the project, he comes down to the landing and stirs things up. His arrival never fails to make talk. When he drives up in the stage, imaginative people fancy that they hear locomotive whistles blowing back in the woods.

Then Blake (who is familiarly called "Arth" because his front name is Arthur), throws out a few hints about the railroad, including the mention of vast sums of money, and thus acquires an importance in the eyes of the people, which seems to make him feel good. I can't find that he has any other object in his railroad talk.

"Arth" turned up again last August while I was at the Landing, and he made the wheels of "the keers" rumble louder than ever before in the ears of the inhabitants. He had brought little maps of Maine, whereon Stubbs' Landing and its harbor, and the adjacent territory occupied a space proportionally far greater than nature has allotted. Also the name of Stubbs' Landing was printed in large letters, while Portland and Bangor were typographically out of the race. The map further showed how easy it would be for the Canadian Pacific to locate its principal seaport at the Landing. There was a picture of an ocean steamer sailing out of the harbor, which was palpably a very natural thing for an ocean steamer to do, as quickly as possible, if she ever sailed into it.

These maps made quite a flutter, which grew to a real sensation when it was learned that "Arth" had asked the landlord of the little hotel to be ready at twenty-four hours' notice to serve a dinner to four capitalists, and afterwards provide them with a private room for a session with plugged keyholes.

I heard all about this from the barber. He was so interested in the subject that he drew a map of the proposed road on my lathered face with his thumb nail, and while I was finding out that he wasn't using his razor for that purpose I worked up quite an interest too. Afterwards I asked him to shave me with that thumb nail instead of with his razor, because I thought it was sharper. But he hacked away just the same, talking about the railroad all the time; and I grew to wish more and more that it would come, and come soon, and that he would be run over by a freight train of seventeen cars, and thus get some idea of how it feels to be shaved by a man who doesn't know his business.

"I tell ye, it would be goldarned handy to have a railroad here," said the barber. "I want to go some'rs 'most every year, and I 'spose there's others 't feels the same way. Ye can't stay allers in a little place like this, an' it ain't handy to take the stage or go 'crost the bay in a bo't. 'Arth' told me yesterday, kind o' confidential, but I guess 'taint no harm tellin' you, that there was only two questions to be decided now. One was whether the road could be built for $25,000 a mile, and the other was whether they'd put an $80,000 bridge across the Penobscot river."

The railroad had not made its appearance when I left, so I took the stage and eventually reached a place which had some communication with the outside world. The driver talked railroad into my ear all the way. He said that it would be the "ruination" of the place. I told him that I didn't believe it ever would.

All over the country there are men who have got out into the living world from such places as Stubbs' Landing. They can not wholly sever the ties of sentiment which bind them to their birthplace, and they watch the advance of its ruin with real sorrow. But if any mother's son of them knows what to do to check it, I am not he.

HOWARD FIELDING.

Mixed Motives.

Pete Jacksing—No, 'pon my word, I won't steal no moah of Kurnel Austin's chickens.

Rev. Paul Johnson—Dat's right, Pete; I hope my sermons hab made an impreshun on you, my fren!

Pete Jacksing—Oh, yes! 'deed dey has; an' besides, Mistah Hocks's chickens are better eatin' den de Kurnel's.—Light.

On an Express.

Philadelphian (on railway train)—So you are from Chicago? Ah, yes. I have heard of Chicago. It's in Illinois, I believe, and quite a sizable place, I understand. Is this your first trip East?

Chicago Man—Yes. I am going to Philadelphia; and, by the way, I must hurry forward and see if the conductor will slow up at Philadelphia so I can get off.—N. Y. Weekly.

One of the Workers.

Moneybags—But I'm told you are very idle, Mr. Newstyles.

Cholly Newstyles—I assure you that that's not true, dontchewknow. I do a great deal of very hard work.

Moneybags—What work?

Cholly Newstyles—I smoke fifteen packages of cigarettes every day.—West Shore.

Well Done.

Mr. Manners (to his hostess, who is carving the roast beef)—O! Mrs. Grayvey, does your husband allow you to do the carving?

Mr. Grayvey—Yes; you see I did not do it well enough for her.

Mr. Manners (as he receives the outside cut)—But some do not like it well done!—Puck.

A Determined Man.

Johnson—When are you going to paint that fence for me, Uncle Rastus?

Uncle Rastus—Well, sah, I reckon I'll do it Saturday, if de Lawd's willin'; or if not, I'll do it Monday, any way, suah.—West Shore.

In a Chicago Restaurant.

Customer—Look here, waiter, I asked you five minutes ago for a napkin.

Waiter—Yes, sah; I heerd ye, sah; but de gent at de next table isn't through wid it yet, sah.—Judge.

A Neglected Opportunity.

"Is that so? Why didn't we introduce Mormonism here?"—The Jays.

SECRET SOCIETIES.

Masonic.

The annual reunion of the Masonic veterans at Chicago in the latter part of this month will be the most noteworthy event of the kind that has happened in this country since these hoary craftsmen became formally organized. General John C. Smith, president and Past Grand Master of the State, has prepared a most unique invitation, which will cost several hundred dollars, and will no doubt bring together the most distinguished Masonic gathering ever seen in Chicago. Several prominent English, German and Canadian craftsmen will attend, and interesting communications will be read from the Prince of Wales, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of England, and from the Duke of Abercorn, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Ireland.

The Acacia Club of Chicago, the most exclusive Masonic club in the country, is preparing an elaborate reception for the Grand Master of Illinois, which will be given toward the end of the month.

Odd-Fellows.

The Sovereign Grand Lodge, at the late session, very wisely left the saloon question to be dealt with by members of the order at the ballot box in the subordinate lodges. This is where the question properly belongs in all the orders.

No more National conventions of the Daughters of Rebekah are to be held. The Grand Lodge sat down on the Rebekah's as heavily as it did on Past Grand Sire Underwood. The former will live and thrive, however, while the epitaph of the latter is being written in all the fraternity journals in the land.

The fortieth anniversary of Remembrance Lodge No. 77, at Bloomington, Ill., was celebrated last week by an entertainment given at the opera-house. Members of the order from every part of the State crowded the house. The address of the occasion was delivered by Hon. John M. Scott, ex-Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court, who is the only surviving charter member of the lodge.

Knights of Pythias.

The circular recently issued by Sam Houston Lodge, of Paris, Tex., asking for contributions to assist in the defense of certain members charged with crime at that place, has been declared illegal by the Grand Chancellor of that jurisdiction, and lodges through the country will do well to disregard the appeal for such aid until it receives the sanction of the Grand Chancellors of the respective jurisdictions.

The exemplification of the amplified third rank by the united lodges of Indianapolis, and the banquet and reception tendered the lodges of Cook County, October 4, is by far the most noteworthy event of the kind that has occurred in Pythian history. The costumes, paraphernalia, and dramatic effects used in the ceremonies are of the most elaborate kind, and over a thousand knights were seated at the banquet tables.

Ancient Order United Workmen.

The order in every part of the country are preparing to celebrate the twenty-second anniversary of the founding of the order, October 27. In some of the States the Grand Masters have issued proclamations directing the observance of the day, but no special programme has been provided and each lodge is left to decide for itself the form of the observance.

Only five deaths were reported in Illinois during September, and as there have been but sixteen assessments levied for deaths occurring during the current year, it does not now seem probable that the State will be compelled to ask relief from the Supreme Lodge for some time.

Chosen Friends.

A double assessment was called by this order during September, for the purpose of providing funds to pay all matured and maturing claims within sixty days. Hereafter all death losses will be paid within sixty days from date of filing proper proofs.

Applications have been filed for new councils at Madison, Wis., and Des Moines, Ia. The order is not represented to any extent in the latter State owing to restrictions imposed by the State; but an effort is to be made this winter to establish the order there.

Grand Army.

A new post is about to be mustered in Chicago which promises to be the most exclusive Grand Army organization in the country. It will be composed of war veterans who are now prominent business and professional men in that city. The muster fees are to be $50, and the annual dues $25, which is likely to ensure a silk-stocking membership.

Commander-in-Chief W. G. Veazey visited Chicago last week, and was entertained by General Thomas Post, which is one of the largest posts in the country with one exception, having over eleven hundred members. A banquet was served and some eloquent addresses were made around the camp-fire.

Independent Order of Owls.

Nest No. 9 of this nocturnal order was built and feathered last week with great pomp and ceremony at Chicago. A flock of about one hundred and fifty hooters from the St. Louis nest attended, and brought with them all the valuable costumes, paraphernalia and implements for nest building, and in a few hours the nest was constructed, and one hundred and fifty-five of Chicago's prominent Masons were made full fledged Owls. There were also about three hundred of the feathered tribe present from Terre Haute, Ind., who participated in the ceremonies and the sumptuous feast that followed.

The Mystic Shrine.

The Medinah Temple of Chicago held the first regular meeting of the season September 26, and conducted forty-nine weary pilgrims across the burning sands in safety, who, for their courage and bravery, were duly invested with the order of nobility. When the pilgrimage ended the skins were pressed and the banion juice distributed to nearly three hundred followers of the prophet.

Red Men.

The tribes on the Chicago reservation have been doubling up and consolidating during the past year to such an extent that, of the nineteen tribes in that city in 1889, only seven now remain. Those remaining have been very materially strengthened by the additions from the disbanded tribes.

The Elks.

Columbus Lodge, No. 37, celebrated its fifth anniversary recently by a brilliant social session, to which all the wits and bon-vivants in the country were invited. The occasion was made memorable by the number of humorous speeches, recitations and character sketches delivered by prominent members of the dramatic profession.

McDOUGALL.

SCIENCE CLIPPINGS.

THE caterpillar feeds with two sawedged jaws, working transversely, and uses them to such good advantage that he eats three or four times his own weight every day.

TWENTY-ONE horses tied to a wire fence at a funeral in Missouri the other day were knocked down by a streak of lightning which was traveling over the wire. Four of them were killed.

BLACKSMITHS can start a fire by pounding violently a rod of soft iron, first spreading on the anvil a layer of powdered coal dust. This is a good illustration of the conversion of force into heat.

STONES similar to the famous traveling stones of Australia, have recently been found in Nevada. They range from the size of a pea up to six or seven inches in diameter, and when placed within a few feet of each other, upon a flat surface, they will at once begin traveling towards a common center, where they will huddle together. They are always to be found in heaps at the bottom of natural basins in that section. Scientists say that their attraction is a magnetic one, the material of which they are composed being a kind of lodestone.

THE temperature of snow at different depths has been investigated by Signor Christoni. He finds that the variations in temperature of the lowest layer, next to the ground, are extremely small, while the uppermost layer has often considerably higher temperature. The temperature minimum of the air layer next the snow was always lower than that of the uppermost snow layer, while an air layer about twenty inches above the snow had a higher temperature than the layer 1.2 inches above the snow.

Electricity in the Printing Office.

A new use for electricity has been found at the Cook publishing house. In the office of the superintendent ten electric lamps are arranged in separate compartments of a frame or box, somewhat similar in appearance to the annunciators seen in hotel offices. The lamps are concealed from view, apertures in front of the compartments being covered with colored glass, each having its distinguishing color. The lamps are connected by means of electric wires with the automatic counting machines on the ten large printing presses located in an adjoining building. When the presses are in operation, the electric circuit is opened and closed by the working of the counting machines, causing quick flashes of light in the lamps. Thus every sheet of paper printed in the establishment telegraphs its record to the office, where the operation of each machine can be seen and its speed or delays noted.

In this connection it may be interesting to note that the speed of the large perfecting press is so great that it was found necessary to record each two sheets printed instead of single sheets, and even then the flashes of its lamp are almost continuous in appearance, showing that while the press is not quite as quick as lightning, it is too fast for the eye to follow.

It is believed that this is the first application of electricity to purposes of this kind, and may serve as a valuable hint to managers of large establishments who wish to be enabled to see the operation of their machinery while working at their desks.—Elgin (Ill.) Daily News.

Waste of Water.

The Review and Record, a paper devoted to real estate matters over in Brooklyn, concludes that few people have any conception of the amount of water which escapes from faucets left running during cold weather where there is danger of freezing over night. In the annual report of the Zanesville (O.) water works, recently issued, there is a table published which is sufficient to astonish the unthinking who indulge freely in the water waste business. The table given gives various sizes and pipes, head and pressure, and commences with an aperture the diameter of which is one sixty-fourth part of an inch, equivalent to that of a cambric needle. Under a head—we will say of 150 feet—equivalent to a pressure of almost 65 pounds to the square inch, the quantity of water which would escape during the year, if always open, would reach 26,280 gallons, or through an orifice the size of a pin, equal to one thirty-second of an inch, the quantity escaping in the same time and under the same pressure will be 115,632 gallons. Where so large a quantity as that will escape from a small orifice it is only a question of figures to ascertain how much water is lost through the winter months during the prevalence of frost.

UNBRIDLED passions sometimes lead to the halter.

"IF WE ONLY HAD CHILDREN!"

But few words are needed to tell this tale. Two apparently perfect beings are brought together for life. They are surrounded with all that wealth can purchase. Every blessing has been showered upon them, save one, and cheerfully would they relinquish all for that blessing—a little child.

Sterility is often the result of carelessness, or, to put it stronger, ignorance. Nine out of ten cases are curable, if treated understandingly. The action of the Vegetable Compound in this direction has been phenomenal, and many a home, once desolate, has now "a baby."

Dollars and Sense!

Did it ever strike you that you might do better? Has it ever occurred to you that you are paying too much for the necessaries of life?
If it has not struck you in this light, it surely will, if you will be persuaded to give us a trial. We are the recognized originators of low prices in this city.
We carry the largest and most complete stock of Tea, Coffee and Groceries in Union County. We sell them so quickly at our low prices, that we are constantly receiving fresh goods. We keep none but the most reliable brands, and sell on very small margins of profit.
Having purchased our supply of California Fruits before advance in prices took place, we have decided to sell at old price, thereby giving our customers the benefit of what we saved.
Prompt attention and quick delivery of goods to any and all parts of town; on Saturdays till 9 P. M. Wagon deliveries weekly to Scotch Plains, Fanwood, Westfield, Cranford, Dunellen, New Market, South Plainfield, Metuchen, etc. Mail orders promptly attended to.

MULLETT'S RASH ACT

The Prominent Washington Architect Kills Himself.

HE WAS ILL AND DESPONDENT.

The Designer of Many Public Buildings Throughout the Country.

The Late Justice Miller's Widow Without Adequate Means of Support—Admiral Porter's Condition Improved. Masons in Session Confer Important Orders—Revenue Officer Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—A. B. Mullett, who was Supervising Architect of the Treasury from 1865 until 1873, committed suicide at his home here last evening, by blowing out his brains with a pistol. Melancholia, with suicidal intent—the result of business reverses of late years, coupled with ill-health, undoubtedly led up to the rash and fatal act.

Mr. Mullett was born in England 56 years ago. He came to this country when a boy and was appointed to a clerkship in the Supervising Architect's office by Secretary Chase in 1862. Subsequently he was promoted to the position of Supervising Architect, a position he held until 1873, when on account of dislike to Secretary Bristow he resigned.

Mr. Mullett designed the War, State and Navy Department buildings in Washington, as well as a number of other public buildings in New York, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Portland, Maine, and other cities.

A PAINFUL PROBLEM.

Justice Miller's Entire Estate Was the House in Which He Lived.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—A somewhat painful problem presents itself in connection with the death of the late Associate-Justice Miller as to what is to become of his widow. She has no son to support her. There are two married daughters, one widowed, and herself without adequate means of support.

It is stated as a positive fact by those in a position to know that the wife of the great jurist, Abraham Lincoln's friend, will either have to keep a boarding house or rent or sell her homestead to make a living. Justice Miller left no other property of any amount except his house on Massachusetts avenue.

Action on the Death of Justice Miller.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—A meeting of the Bar of the United States Supreme Court was held in the Supreme Court Chamber to take action on the death of Justice Miller. S. F. Phillips was elected chairman and James H. McKenny, secretary. After a committee of fourteen, with Senator Evarts as chairman, had been appointed to draft resolutions commemorative of the deceased justice, the meeting adjourned until December 6 next, when the committee will report.

Important Masonic Gathering.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The Supreme Council of the Thirty-third degree of the Ancient Scottish Rite of Free Masonry for the southern jurisdiction of the United States, styled the Mother Supreme Council of the World, is holding its regular biennial session at the House of the Temple, corner Third and E streets. The Royal Order of Scotland was conferred on a number of prominent Masons, including among others, Rev. Canon Carmichael and Hon. Henry Stockdell.

Appointed Revenue Collector.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The Secretary of the Treasury has made the following appointment in the Internal Revenue Service: Wm. H. Bowman, Lancaster, Pa.

Admiral Porter Better.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Dr. Wales, Admiral Porter's physician, says that the admiral is better and continues to improve.

INDUSTRIAL REFORM PARTY.

Labor Organizations in Connecticut Nominate a State Ticket.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 21.—Delegates from labor organizations in this State met here to form the Industrial Reform party. Resolutions were adopted favoring substantially Henry George's idea of land taxation, and demanding the Australian system of voting, a shorter working day, abolition of convict labor, a national banking system, and government control of railroads, telegraphs and telephones.

An attempt was made to postpone until another year the nomination of a State ticket but it failed, and the following nominations were made: For Governor, Henry C. Baldwin, of Naugatuck; Lieutenant-Governor, George A. Saunders, of Hartford; Secretary of State, H. H. Lane, of New Haven; Comptroller, George C. Sheldon, of Griswold; Treasurer, Charles Corning, of New London.

Two Attempts to Wreck Trains.

NORWICH, Conn., Oct. 21.—Two attempts were made last night to wreck trains on the Norwich & Worcester Railroad near Alexander Pond, in the town of Killingly. A large rock was put on the track in front of the freight which is due here at 7:20 p. m. The locomotive struck it and knocked it from the track. The train was stopped and the engineer went back to find the obstruction, and when returning to his train was surprised to find that a tie had been laid on the track by the villians in the hope of wrecking the passenger train due in this city at 7:37. This obstruction was removed, but the wreckers who did the work were not captured.

A STRANGE CASE.

The Body of a Girl found in a Box Sent to Her Home.

LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. 21.—A box bearing a weird label was delivered at New Holland, a little village twelve miles from Lancaster, on Sunday morning. It came by express from Mt. Vernon, O., and was addressed to Mrs. Caroline Settley. Those who saw it were startled at reading above the address the following inscription: "Suicide."

Hastily the lid was removed and as soon as the affrightened workers approached the strange object they saw that what apparently lay before them was the corpse of Helen Settley. Drs. Bushong and Kohler were at once summoned and they noticed that the evidence of death were not there, not a sign of decomposition. So instead of being wrapped in the clothes of death, the girl was placed in a bed and a closer examination made. It was found that the hands were warm and a slight flush appeared on the cheeks. Restoratives were applied, but to no avail. These conditions were the same throughout the night and all next day. To-day the mother is watching by the bedside of her girl, not knowing whether a corpse lies between the sheets or whether there is life in the motionless form.

AN OLD MURDER MYSTERY.

A Crime Committed Nearly Thirty Years Ago Just Cleared Up.

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—A few nights before Thanksgiving Day, 1863, Abel Hawkins, a cabinet maker of Dorchester, was found in his shop with his skull crushed, and he died soon afterward. George Hall, a fellow-workman, was suspected of being his murderer, but at the coroner's inquest he proved an alibi.

News has just reached Dorchester that a man who had recently died in Canada, confessed that he killed Hawkins. The alleged confessor is said to have been in Dorchester at the time of the murder, and was supposed to have enlisted, since which time nothing has been heard of him until now.

Did Birchall Fire the Shot?

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Oct. 21.—Mrs. West Jones had an interview with Birchall a day or two ago. They conversed about the case; and, in answer to pressing questions put by her, Birchall declared as emphatically as he could that he did not fire the shots which killed Benwell, leaving her to suppose that he had a confederate. He has stuck to this story from the start—it is the only story he has stuck to—but a great majority of the people hereabouts still believe that he alone committed the crime.

Carl Schurz in Boston.

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—The Hon. Carl Schurz addressed the members of the Massachusetts Reform Club last night at the Brunswick. He spoke for two hours on tariff legislation, and characterized the McKinley bill as the most monstrous bill ever enacted by Congress. He denounced the Lodge bill and the course of Speaker Reed. An incidental mention of Mr. Cleveland's name was greeted with wild applause. There was a large attendance.

Praise for Johns Hopkins.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 21.—Prof. James Bryce, M. P., addressed the students of Johns Hopkins University in the historical seminary. He congratulated them on studying at an institution renowned the world over for its thoroughness in the vast unexplored fields of original research, the worth of its literary productions and the value of its additions to science and art.

Want No Fair on Sunday.

READING, Pa., Oct. 21.—The Eastern Synod of the Reformed Church in the United States resumed its sessions here. A petition was signed protesting against the opening of the proposed World's Fair at Chicago on Sunday and asking all members of the Reformed Church to assist in preserving the sanctity of the Sabbath.

Won by Tommy Warren.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 21.—Tommy Warren picked up $900 easily here last night by defeating Ernest Bescher before the Columbia Athletic Club. The fight lasted a round and a half when Warren landed his left over Bescher's heart and his right on the jaw and Bescher was out. Warren wants to fight Ike Weir or Cal McCarthy.

Sentenced for Assaulting a Reporter.

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—John R. Ryan, stroke oar of the Bradford Boat Club, of Cambridge, was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction for an assault upon Nelson J. Innes, of Boston, a reporter. Ryan is alleged to have pushed Innes overboard from the club house float. Ryan appealed.

Will Strike To-Day.

ROCKLAND, Mass., Oct. 21.—It is understood that the machine operators, stichers and finishers, and all members of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, will be ordered out of Wright & Richards' shop some time to-day, to force the firm to come to terms with the striking hand sewers.

NINE MEN DROWNED

The Steamer Annie Young Burned on Lake Huron.

THIRTEEN OF THE CREW SAVED.

The Vessel Carried a Cargo of Coal and Merchandise.

Numerous Disasters to Shipping at Lynn, Mass.—Wreckage of Every Description Strewn Along the Beaches—Fearful Gale at Highland Light—A Philadelphia Captain and Ten of His Crew Lost.

PORT HURON, Mich., Oct. 21.—The steamer Annie Young caught fire during the morning. The captain and crew took to the boats, nine going in one boat and thirteen in the other. The thirteen were picked up by the steamer Edward Smith, but the other boat was upset and all its occupants drowned. Among those lost were George McMannus, of Port Huron, who only shipped in the morning; J. Connelly, J. Crosby, T. Gallagher, George Connelly, and four deck hands.

The young left Detroit at 6:15, wind blowing a fresh breeze from the northeast. She had a cargo of coal and merchandise.

The boat was built in Detroit in 1869. She was of 693 tons burden and valued at $30,000.

The mate was very badly burned about the face and hands. He is in care of the Marine Hospital.

The Young was bound from Gladstone to Buffalo. Amount of insurance unknown.

NUMEROUS DISASTERS.

The Beaches from Swampscott to Marblehead, Mass., Strewn With Wreckage.

LYNN, Mass., Oct. 21.—There were numerous disasters to vessels here. The small fishing schooner Vapor, of Swampscott, went ashore on King's Beach and was completely wrecked. There was no one aboard of her. Near the same point, an unnamed white lap-streak sloop, about twenty-five feet long, came ashore and was badly strained.

The catboat Wanda, owned by Royal E. Robbins, treasurer of the Waltham Watch Company, drove ashore on the rocks, wrenching her keel, breaking her rudder and being otherwise damaged. At West Lynn, the sloop yacht Flying Yankee is ashore on Old Cow point in a bad condition. The yacht Plover and a small sloop owned by Thomas Gard went ashore on the Marshes, but were not much injured. A black sloop is high and dry on Sand Point, and the sloop Saucy, of the West Lynn Yacht Club, is ashore on Little Nahant Beach.

The beaches from Swampscott to Marblehead are strewn with wreckage of every description.

Twelve Lives Lost.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21.—A private cablegram from China received in this city stated that Captain Fownes, his child and ten of his crew were drowned when his ship Lizzie C. Troop went ashore on the Loo Choo Islands, while bound from Philadelphia via Shanghai to Puget Sound. The captain's wife, the mate and the balance of the crew were saved and are safe at the Loo Choo Islands.

Storm-Delayed Steamers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—A fleet of storm-tossed vessels is overdue at this port and the gale of Friday last has caught several of the liners. The overdue ships are the France from London, the Pocasset from Gibraltar, the St. Asapath and the St. Dunstan, both from London. The new North German Lloyd steamship Spree, which was due here on Sunday last, also has not arrived.

Terrific Gale on the Coast.

HIGHLAND LIGHT, Mass., Oct. 21.—The terrific gale which began here Sunday is slightly moderating. A fearful sea is still sweeping the coast, driving the life saving patrol inland at every full tide.

A Wrecked Schooner Goes to Pieces.

CHATHAM, Mass., Oct. 21.—The gale continues here. The wrecked schooner Asa Pervere has gone to pieces.

Terrific Boiler Explosion.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 21.—While a shifting engine on the Monongahela Connecting railroad was pushing a train of empty cars along a side track near the casting house of the Eliza furnace on Second street, her boiler exploded with terrific force. Engineer Flaherty was blown from the cab into the Monongahela river, a distance of 300 feet. Fireman Thomas McGuff was hurled against the brick side of the casting House and was instantly killed. Conductor James Foraker was perhaps fatally scalded about the face. Joseph Ferris was frightfully cut and scalded about the head and shoulders but may recover. Thomas Clark, a laborer, had his legs broken and back injured.

PLOTS OF THE MAFIA.

New Orleans Police Informed of a Scheme to Kill the Mayor.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 21.—The hatred of the Italians in this city is very strong—so strong, in fact, that the business of the fruit and other industries run by the Italians is almost demoralized. The haul made by the police at the grocery of Carlo Graffiro, at which forty Italians were taken in, is believed to be an important catch. It is thought that through this the actual murderers will be discovered. The police officers noticed a large number of Italians dropping into the place in twos and threes, and, believing that something was wrong, forced their way in and found a man addressing the crowd present in Italian. Charging that it was an unlawful assembly, all persons present were arrested and carried to the jail.

Information was brought to police headquarters during the day that the Mafia has decided upon putting out of the way Mayor Shakespeare, Captain William Connors and Secretary George Vandervoort. The informant stated that he overheard a conversation to this effect among some Sicilians.

Tony Matranza and Vincent Garuso have been rearrested. Both are on crutches, the result of an Esplanade street ambush by the Provenzanos. Machetes, arrested yesterday, declines to make a statement by the advice of his attorney.

A telegram has been received from W. A. Pinkerton stating that he will come to this city at once to assist in the search for the murderers of Chief of Police Hennessy.

END OF THE JUBILEE.

Catholic Dignitaries Present at the Banquet to Bishop Loughlin.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 21.—The celebration of the Golden Jubilee, commemorating fifty years' service of Bishop Loughlin, was brought to a fitting conclusion last night by a banquet tendered by the laity and served in the Assembly rooms of the Academy of Music at which over 800 guests were present.

James McMahon, the chairman of the jubilee committee, presided. At his right sat the Bishop and Mayor Chapin. On his left were Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Corrigan. Archbishop Elder of Cincinnati, Bishop Keane of the Washington University and other dignitaries of the church were present.

Cardinal Gibbons responded to the toast "His Holiness, Leo XIII;" Bishop Loughlin to "Our Guest;" Bishop Keane to "The United States;" Archbishop Corrigan to "The Catholic Church of America;" and Mayor Chapin to "The City of Brooklyn."

Personal Taxes of the Money Kings.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—During the session of the Fassett Senate Committee it was brought out that the personal tax assessment made on the Vanderbilt property was $40,000,000 and that Mr. Chauncey Depew, counsel for the Vanderbilts, said that if necessary he would so arrange matters as to place all the personal property beyond reach of the Tax Department. A compromise was finally made and the sum of $8,000,000 fixed upon as the amount upon which the Vanderbilts would pay a personal tax. Jay Gould paid a personal tax on $500,000, the estate of Helen Gould on $200,000 and George J. Gould on $100,000.

Banquet to the Count of Paris.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The veteran commanders of the Army of the Potomac gave a banquet last night, at the Plaza, Hotel, to their old comrade, the Count of Paris. General Sherman welcomed the guests of the evening, and toasted the President of the United States. General Butterfield, General Scofield, General Howard, Admiral Braine and the Count of Paris also spoke. An Army of the Potomac badge was presented to the Count by General Slocum.

Mahopac Falls Mines Suspend.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 21.—The Mahopac Falls mines, which were once the most prolific iron ore center in the State, apparently have become exhausted within the past few weeks and work has been suspended. There was ore available in these mines until a big cave-in occurred. The cave-in carried down with it several thousand dollars' worth of valuable machinery.

Dropped Dead of Heart Disease.

BATH, Me., Oct. 21.—William Fisher, U. S. Shipping Commissioner for this port, dropped dead of heart disease. He was born in Arrowsic, 58 years ago, and was engaged in the lumber business. He was for several years a member of the city government and was appointed shipping commissioner by President Harrison. He leaves two children.

Fell Seventy Feet Into the River.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Andrew Andrews, a workman employed on the construction of the bridge across the Genesee at the lower falls, fell from the false work which supports the iron span to the bed of the river, seventy feet below. His skull was fractured and death immediately followed. He was 30 years of age.

Dempsey Will Fight.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 21.—Jack Dempsey has signed articles of agreement to fight Bob Fitzsimmons for a purse and the middle weight championship of the world before the Olympic Club, in this city, about the middle of December. A telegram from Dempsey says the articles are on the way by mail.

An Old Soldier Killed.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Peter Lampson, aged 83 years, a mail carrier and old soldier, stepped in front of a light engine on the New York Central road at St. Johnsville, and was instantly killed. It is supposed that he did not see or hear the engine's approach and started to cross the track.

FIRED AT THE CZAR

Particulars of the Attempt at Assassination.

GLADSTONE'S TRIUMPHAL TOUR.

Cheered by Large Crowds all the Way to Edinburgh.

William O'Brien Talks About His Visit to America—Fever Cases from Eating Diseased Potatoes—Engagement of Minister Phelps' Daughters—The Conservatives' Latest Move Against Parnell.

WARSAW, Oct. 21.—The report of another attempt to kill His Imperial Majesty the Czar, while he was returning to St. Petersburg from West Russia, has not been contradicted.

The train containing His Majesty stopped at the station of Porjetcha, near Grodno, and a passenger fired at the Czar, but his aim was not true, and he failed in his attempt to slay the ruler of all the Russias.

GLADSTONE'S TOUR.

He Delivers His First Address This Afternoon at Edinburgh.

EDINBURGH, Oct. 21.—Mr. Gladstone's journey from Hawarden to this city has been a triumphal tour. The popular demonstrations at every place where an opportunity to greet him was afforded were so remarkable as to draw expressions of surprise from the Grand Old Man himself, accustomed as he is to crowds and applause.

Much of this enthusiasm, no doubt, is evoked by admiration for Mr. Gladstone's personal qualities and the desire to do homage to a great Englishman, soon, in the course of nature, to pass away; yet the Liberals are confident that it also indicates an increased popularity of the political platform which their leader represents.

Mr. Gladstone delivers his first address this afternoon. He speaks in the Corn Exchange, which will hold about 4,000 people. The acoustic properties of the hall are defective, but they have been remedied by stretching large wires across the hall to break the echo.

MR. O'BRIEN TALKS.

He Feels Certain of the Support of Irishmen in America.

PARIS, Oct. 21.—Mr. O'Brien was interviewed to-day and said that he attached no importance to the reports of contentions in the United States. He remarked that such reports were always rife just before the setting out of an Irish mission to that country.

Members of the delegation, he said, would take no part in rivalries of any kind; they went as the representatives of Mr. Parnell and the entire party in Ireland, and he felt certain they would have the support of the Irishmen in America, and that of the whole American people.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 21.—Sir John Thompson, Minister of Justice, in an interview about the contemplated visit of O'Brien and Dillon to Canada, states that he is not certain as to English statutes bearing on their case and until he has studied up the case he will not venture an opinion as to whether or not they could be arrested in Canada. There are certain offenses that may be committed which can be followed up and the guilty party arrested in any part of the British Empire.

Latest Move of the Conservatives.

CORK, Oct. 21.—Several thousand names have been stricken from the voting lists of this city by order of the Conservatives, thus disfranchising nearly the same number of Liberals. This is a savage blow at Mr. Parnell, who is one of the city's representatives in Parliament. It is apprehended in Home Rule circles that the same plan will be tried in other sections of Ireland, with a view of getting rid of opposition majorities.

The American Escapes.

EDINBURGH, Oct. 21.—The American, Stephen Smith alias Holmes, said to have formerly been a Chicago barber, who was arrested in London, in July, for stealing the Duke of Edinburgh's jewels last May, while His Royal Highness was conducting the opening ceremonies of the Edinburgh Electrical Exhibition, was tried, and a verdict of "guilt not proven" was rendered.

Clergymen in the House of Commons.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—At the coming session of Parliament a bill is to be introduced enabling clergymen in holy orders to sit as members of the House of Commons, from which they are now excluded, although large numbers of prelates sit in the House of Lords. Lord Coleridge declares himself opposed to the change.

German Spies Arrested in France.

PARIS, Oct. 21.—A man named Dietrich and his sister, German spies, were arrested at Belfort. Plans of the forts and other military works of the city were found at the house occupied by Dietrich. The brother and sister had an accomplice, a Hanoverian spy, named Stahl.

Dented by Portugal.

LISBON, Oct. 21.—The Government denies the statement published here and emanating from a correspondent at Berne that the United States is about to send a fleet of warships to Lisbon to demand the payment of the claims for damages arising from the seizure of the Delagoa railway.

Minister Phelps' Daughters.

BERLIN, Oct. 21.—It is announced that the eldest daughter of United States Minister Phelps is engaged to be married to Lieutenant Van Reuter, and that the youngest daughter is engaged to Baron Witzleben. Both gentlemen are officers in the Imperial Guards.

TRADES UNIONS IN COUNCIL.

Important Meeting of the Federation of Labor at Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 21.—Representatives of many of the trades unions throughout the State are in session today in the House of Representatives.

The convention has been called at the instance of the Central Labor Union of Erie, for the purpose of organizing a State branch of the American Federation of Labor, the object being to secure the union of all the trade organizations in Pennsylvania under a central jurisdiction.

A series of resolutions will be adopted setting forth the purpose and aims of the Federation of Labor. Some important legislation will also be discussed. It is the purpose of the convention to appoint a Legislative Committee to guard the interests of the trades unions before the coming session of the Legislature.

"Politics will be ignored," said one of the leading delegates, "and any attempt to introduce anything of the kind will be downed."

Among the prominent trades unionists in attendance are John S. Kirchner, of Philadelphia, and Daniel Kramer, of Erie, two of the national organizers of the Federation of Labor; J. W. Bisbing, of Philadelphia, general organizer of the Cigarmakers' International Union; Prof. T. H. Garside, of Philadelphia, representing the Federation of Jewish Trades Unions, and others. There were between sixty and seventy delegates present at the opening session.

It is probable the convention will be in session two days. This evening Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, will address a mass meeting. There will also be other speakers.

Willie Sprague's Funeral.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 21.—The body of Willie Sprague arrived at Canonchet from Seattle, Wash., and the funeral took place from St. Peter's by the Sea, Narragansett Pier, at noon. The body will be laid away in the family's big vault at Swan Point, on the shore of the Seekonk.

Another Victim of the Fire.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Mary Tynan, one of the victims of the Leland fire, died at St. Joseph's Hospital. She was a domestic at the hotel and jumped from a window. She was also badly burned.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

A slight shock of earthquake was felt in Lisbon.

Governor Hill has gone to Ohio on a stumping tour.

The French Chamber of Deputies has resumed its sessions.

The Episcopal Council opened its session in Pittsburg to-day.

Hon. Isaac Holden, M. P. of England, has donated £1,000 to the fund of the Irish National Liberalists.

The report that Gov. Campbell will retire from the Gubernatorial office of Ohio is denied by that gentlemen.

Baron Wissman, of Berlin, has had a farewell audience with the Emperor prior to his departure for East Africa.

Isaiah S. Emery, of Rochester, N. Y., labor candidate for Congress, committed suicide by taking chloroform and opening an artery in his wrist.

Burglars at Nielsonville, Pa., broke into the office of a lumber firm, sandbagged, gagged and bound the watchman, and robbed the safe of $2,000.

William Taylor, convicted at Albany, N. Y., of killing his mother near West Troy in the spring of 1889, was sentenced to life imprisonment in Dannemora.

Mr. Balfour, Chief Secretary for Ireland, seems to be one of fortune's favored sons. He has just been offered $1,000,000 for his shooting preserves in the north of Scotland.

The report of the death of Jere Dunn, the gambler, in Texas, received from Chicago, is without foundation in fact, as he was in New York yesterday in good health.

It is rumored in theatrical circles in New York city that the McCaull Opera company had become financially embarrassed, and would return to that city. A continued run of poor business is the chief cause of the trouble.

Peter Jackson, the pugilist, will arrive in this country again November 6 for a tour of the States under the management of Parson Davies. Jackson's reception in Australia was enthusiastic. He will star with Jem Corbett, the Parson accompanying them

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—For New England and Eastern New York: Cloudiness and intermittent showers: diminishing northerly winds: warmer by to-morrow morning.

For New Jersey: Rains, followed by fair weather: winds becoming variable; warmer by to-morrow morning.

For Western New York: Showers, followed by fair weather: variable winds and warmer by to-morrow morning.

BY THE WAY.

—The foot-ball team of the Westfield Athletic Club will tussle with a team from Plainfield election day.

—Boehm of 7 West Front street, is offering a line of dry and fancy goods unexcelled in this or any other city, and his milliner is noted for the good style and brilliancy of her trimmed hats and bonnets.

—The Home Building and Loan Association opened its sixth series, last evening, with satisfactory subscriptions. Loans to the amount of $4,700, were sold at a premium above twenty-five cents per month.

—After the play, last evening, the police were a little anxious because of the number of men that had assembled around the entrance to Music Hall. It was rumored that they had gathered there to lynch the clarionet player.

—The drama at Amphion Hall all of this week in which the Leonzo Bros., their company of actors and actresses, and their trained dogs appear, certainly deserves praise. They opened to a big house last evening, and everybody present was remarkably well pleased.

—The Y. M. A. has fortunately been able to secure the services of Ezra Loomis as instructor of a class in book-keeping and penmanship. The class will be organized on Monday evening next at 8 o'clock. A $2.00 membership in the Association entitles to this and other privileges of the Association.

—Only two or three handfuls of people were present at Music Hall, last evening. As THE PRESS of Saturday said, to change the play from "The Honeymoon" as first advertised, to "Romeo and Juliet," was a mistake. The company was a specially good one, and besides Miss Mather, John Malone, as Mercutio, and Otis Skinner, as Romeo, deserve particular mention.

—The usual Tuesday evening meeting under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of Warren Union Mission, will be held this evening, commencing at 7:45 o'clock with a service of song. The Rev. Mr. Cubberly, pastor of the New Market Baptist church, will have charge of the devotional exercises. All are welcome. The society will hold its next sociable on Thursday evening of this week.

—The fair arranged by the ladies of the Unitarian church for the benefit of the building fund, will open to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock, at 91 Broadway, corner of Sixth street. There will be lots of fancy, useful and miscellaneous articles; flowers, candies, chocolate and dolls. A New England supper, which includes baked beans, brown bread and pumpkin pie, will be served at seven o'clock each evening, Wednesday and Thursday.

PARTICULAR MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Griffin, of Washington Park, are visiting relatives at Springfield, Mass.

Dr. W. C. Boone leaves to-morow for a three weeks visit in the Shenandoah Valley. He will take a gun and tackle.

Recent arrivals at Van Court Inn, Roselle, include Miss Edith Hyde of Plainfield, and Miss Daisy Shepard of Fanwood.

Dr. M. S. Simpson, while returning from a visit to a patient, last evening, stepped into an excavation that was carelessly left uncovered, and badly sprained his right knee-joint.

A number of Plainfielders attended a highly enjoyable golden wedding at New Dover, near Rahway, last Friday, when Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Woodruff celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. The ceremony of a half-century ago occurred at the residence of James Thorn, a brother of the bride, in this city, October 17, 1840. The maiden name of the bride was Martha E. Thorn.

Miss Maude Agnes Bowers has been secured to lend additional attraction and tone to the programme of the entertainment that has been announced to take place at Seminaary Hall, Friday of next week. Marshall P. Wilder will recite, and Miss Murphy, Mrs. George C. Evans, William M. Sanders and Walter McGee, will appear in the farce, "A Bilious Attack." The entertainment is under the auspices of the Guild of the Holy Cross church. A limited number of tickets will be issued to those leaving their names at Reynolds's pharmany.

Caught By An Amateur Policeman.

An unidentified man who was begging from door to door in the borough, this morning, and picking up whatever was in his reach, was subsequently caught by A. W. Demarest and turned over to Constable Conover. Young Demarest saw the man go into L. M. French's house empty handed, and come out with an umbrella. Then he grabbed the thief. The latter had a silver napkin ring that he had stolen from somewhere, and which he was offering for sale.

For the Starving Poor in Ireland.

A letter from Bishop Wigger was read in all the Catholic churches and throughout the diocese of New York, ordering that a special election be taken up next Sunday at every mass in all churches of the diocese for the starving poor of Ireland. Bishop Wigger calls upon Catholics to be as generous as possible in this emergency.

Killed Three Deer in One Minute.

Albert V. Nolen, of Broadway, when about starting on a pleasure trip recently with sport in his eye, asked Counselor W. K. McClure, his neighbor, where was the most likely place for him to shoot a deer. The Counselor said the surest place to shoot them was just behind the fore shoulder. But Mr. Nolen wanted to know the best location of country to find the game in.

Mr. McClure therefore gave him credentials of admittance to the premises of the Megantic Club, way up in Canada, where Messrs McClure, Brower and Livingston of this city, are members. Mr. Nolen arrived on Saturday, spent Sunday looking for a church, and started out with a guide on Monday. The two arrived at the lake they started for, about noon, and sat down to luncheon not expecting to find any game in broad daylight. The guide, however, discerned some deer feeding across the water and paddled Mr. Nolen as near as he dared. Raising his rifle when he saw he could get no nearer, Mr. Nolen fired and one of three deer that were browsing on the lily pads at the edge of the lake, dropped dead. The two others, who were yearlings, were so startled that they stood stock still. There were two more sharp reports from Mr. Nolen's repeating rifle, and the three deer lay dead, side by side.

Good Racing at the Driving Park.

A number of interesting events took place at the Gentlemen's Driving Park Saturday. The first race was between the Woodbrook Farm "Senator" and J. Fosher's "Amboy." "Senator" won the first heat in 2:54, and "Amboy" the second and third in 2:48 and 2:45.

Compton C. Vail's "Frank S." and J. Fosher's "Frank F." were the competitors in the second race. "Frank S." won. Time 2:30½ and 2:33. Frank S. was driven by Owens, and "Frank F." by Mr. Marsh.

John Hayes' "Andy" and Philip Jenner's "Blanche Warwick" ran the third race. "Andy" won in 2:45.

Charles Brower drove M. Quinn's "Kitty Pilot" in 2:49.

"Kitty Pilot" won the blanket and hood in the four-year-old race, making the fastest time in a race. She has been in training about three weeks.

Edward Campbell drove the bay mare "Idlewild," owned by E. A. Campbell, in 2:48½, and repeated in 2:43. There will be racing next Saturday.

Local Real Estate Changes Hands.

Among the recent real estate transfers in this city are recorded the following:

Frederick F. Glasby, Sheriff, to Mary Neighbor, of Plainfield, land on Front street, Plainfield, $4,500.

Emma Faulhaber to the Catholic Young Men's Lyceum of Plainfield, land corner Fifth and Liberty streets, Plainfield, 64 x 181, $3,100.

Eleanor B. Jones to Charlotte M. Arnold, all of Plainfield, land on north side of Third place, and Charlotte M. Arnold corner, Plainfield, 2 x 129, $1.

Andrew Lutkins and wife, of North Plainfield to Cornelia C. Terwilliger, of Plainfield; let on Lee place, 150 feet south east of South avenue, Plainfield, 150 x 50 feet, $400.

William J. Davis, of Newark, to John K. Van Ness, of Plainfield, land on Front street, 50x1271 feet, $1,000.

Jeremiah Manning and wife, William M. Sandford and wife to John B. Mills, of Plainfield, land on Sandford avenue, Plainfield, 770 feet north west of East Front street, 198 x 50 feet, $1,250

What a Plainfield Navy Chaplain Got.

There are twenty-four chaplains in the United States Navy. There are only two or three of them really at sea, a number of them serving at the navy yards and receiving ships.

A chaplain in the navy ranks as a lieutenant and for the first five years is paid $1 500 while on shore, $1,800 while at sea, and $1,200 while "waiting orders." After being in the service five years, the chaplains get $2,800 a year. The position is for life, and the pay increases as the years "roll by."

There are a few upon the superannuated list. The late Joseph Stockbridge, of this city, had been fifty years in the service. The record shows that he was seven years at sea, preached ten years and spent thirty-one years "unemployed." He ranked as Commodore when he died and got $3,750 a year.

Local Amateurs Also on the Programme.

In connection with the appearance of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Firth Wood, at the Y. M. C. A. Hall, Friday evening, under the auspices of the Whatsoever Circle of the King's Daughters, there will be instrumental and vocal music by well-known local talent.

Robert Gorton and Bethuel Barnes will sing solos, with a double quartette consisting of Messrs Stevens, Randall, Van Arsdale, Teal, Gordon, Smith, Freeman and Barnes. Miss Lilian Force and Miss Lizzie Vanhart, will give piano selections.

Cut a Piece of Lead Out of His Eye.

Dr. D. C. Adams successfully performed a delicate operation, yesterdy, by cutting from the eye-ball of T. O, Doane, Jr., a piece of lead that had been imbedded in it for about five years. The lead had recently been scratching into the eyelid from beneath, causing much pain. The doctors in a New York clinical college, however, told Mr. Doane that it was nothing but a little inflammation. Dr. Adams knew better and removed the cause with great delicacy and success.

THE VOICE OF "THE VISITOR."

The Rev. Mr. Mitchell's Methodist Episcopal Church Paper, Greets His People This Month With the First Number of its Third Volume.

Mrs. Susan Collins is visiting her son, who is in poor health, at Leipsic, Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Griffin are away among New England hills enjoying their Autumn vacation.

Mrs. J. C. Pierson, of West Front street, has been enjoying a visit from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Baker, of Asbury Park.

The pastor and wife spent two delightful weeks in August at Maplehurst, the beautiful country-seat of Mr. P. Minturn Smith, located in Sullivan county, N. Y.

Mr. Geo. C. Mahon and family have returned from their cottage at Asbury Park. Mrs. Mahon has been much improved during her stay at the sea-side.

Rev. Herbert Welch and wife, of Bedford, N. Y., recently visited their parents here, Mr. and Mrs. James McGee. We hope soon to exchange pulpits with Mr. Welch, thus affording our people another opportunity of hearing our talented young friend.

Mr. Harry D. French, of Willow avenue, is enjoying a brief visit from his parents, who reside in Cincinnati.

The Rev. Mr. Hyde, of the New England Conference, has recently moved here with his family from Boston. His home is on the corner of Madison avenue and West Sixth street. We welcome these good people to our church, and hope that Mr. and Mrs. Hyde may find this locality as healthy as they have been led to hope. Ill-health is the cause of Mr. Hyde's temporary rest from ministerial work.

The following were united in marriage by the pastor: July 5, George Robert Devine to Fanny Elizabeth Pfeiffer; Sept. 11, Joseph Frederick Wharton to Alice Conover Gleason; Sept. 15, John B. Sharp to Josephine Talliant; Sept. 24, William R. VanCleve to Johanna Schenck; Sept. 24, John F. Kulp to Augusta Voehl.

The pastor rejoices that so many of our young people are anxious for a higher education. This year Miss Clara Burt is at Wellesly; Frank Cokefair and his cousin, Abram Albertson, are in Columbia; Clifford McGee is at Yale; Charlie Hurlbut is in Wesleyan University; Minnie French is at the Woman's College, Baltimore, and Harry Jenkins soon goes to Wyoming Seminary.

Work is progressing rapidly on the Monroe avenue Chapel building. The plan, prepared by Architect Teale, is very beautiful and convenient. A few have already contributed very liberally toward the enterprise, but the most of our people have not yet given anything. Each should take some stock in this good enterprise. Give your subscription to the pastor, or either of the committee, James McGee and J. W. Jackson. More money is needed at once. Let each do his part and the load will not be heavy.

The pastor was gratified to learn that a majority of our local church voted for the admission of women to the General Conference. Those who compose two-thirds of our church membership, who are most active in all helpful ways to the pastors, and who are already in the councils of the local church and the Electoral Conferences, have a right to be in the councils of the law-making body of the church; and we cannot but regard their rejection from the General Conferences as an impertinence and an insult to womanhood. The church has already decided that a woman may be a Sunday school superintendent, a class-leader a steward, or a trustee. As such they are members of the Quartely Conference, can vote for delegates to the Electoral Conference, may be elected to the Electoral Conference, and it is an insult to their character and intelligence to say that they can be useful in the above capacities, but are disqualified to sit in the General Conference. Only two of our church papers are opposing the women. Miss Willard was one of the strongest candidates for the place now occupied by the editor of one of those two papers.

—There will be a Democratic mass meeting in Gesang Hall, over the brook, Thursday evening. Gov. Abbett is expected to be present. Seats will be provided for fifteen hundred people.

DENOUNCING THE RACE TRACK.

New Jersey Ministers Renew Their Crusade Against Gambling.

Circulars were read in most of the Protestant churches in this and other cities of the State Sunday, warning the people that another attempt was to be made at the next session of the Legislature to pass a bill legalizing gambling at race tracks, and appealing to them to defeat at the polls any candidate for the Senate or Assembly who would not pledge himself beforehand to vote against such a measure.

The petition is addressed "To the Moral and Religious People of the State of New Jersey," and, after denouncing the race tracks, goes on to say that success in passing the iniquitous measure means that New Jersey will sacrifice the moral interests of her citizens, and surrender her deserved fame for justice in rebuking wrong.

Attached to the appeal are the name of Bishop Scarborough of the Episcopal church, Prof. McCosh of Princton, President Doolittle of Rutgers, Prof. Upham of Drew Seminary, Prof. Demarest of New Brunswick Theological Seminary, and 126 other clergymen, pastors of churches of various denominations throughout the State, including the Rev. W. R. Richards, the Rev. T. L. Murphy, the Rev. Dr. E. M. Rodman, the Rev. Dr. K. P. Ketcham, and the Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, of this city.

The New Jersey Jockey Club Saturday paid $3,000 for one year's tax on the property to the City Treasurer of Elizabeth. The same property formerly paid only $116 taxes to the city.

A FARCE THAT COST $35,232.

Only One Precinct in the State Voted in Favor of Special Legislation.

The election officers at the special legislation on the Constitutional Amendments have not all made their returns as yet. Twenty out of twenty-one counties have been tabulated, but in many instances the returns were improperly compiled, and they have been returned to the election officers for correction. The computation has progressed far enough to show that both amendments have been overwhelmingly defeated, and the whole election was a farce, and at the same time a heavy expense to the State.

The amendment providing for special election was defeated by a majority of over 55,000. There was a trifle over 58,000 votes cast on this amendment. There were less than 4,000 votes in favor of its acceptance, and this leaves a majority of about 55,000. There was only one voting precinct in the State that returned a majority for it, and that was in Morris county.

The election was held in the 737 precincts in the State. There were four election officers to each polling place at $6 a day, and this amounted to $19,162 The messengers that carried the returns to the Secretary of State's office received from $2 to $4 and mileage, and this item will exceed $5,000. The cost of rent of polling places was $7,370. The publication of the proclamation cost $27 in each of the 100 official newspapers in the State. This amounted in the aggregate to $2,700. The cost of printing blanks and tickets and forwarding the same was $1,000. This makes the total cost of this election, according to the estimates, amount to $35,232.

The Country Republican Press Not All In Accord with the Postmaster General.

The Elizabeth Journal accuses THE PRESS of a mess of inane twaddle about the "Republican Tariff," which winds up with this childish statment, "Here in Plainfield our factories are running night and day, but we don't say that it is due to a protective tariff, though that has been a great help."

Now THE PRESS never said a word of such nonsense. It knows as little about the bearing of the tariff on the Pond Tool works, or the Scott Press works, as the Journal or any other paper does, and is honest enough not to twist facts that have no bearing, into evidence one way or another.

The same paper, however, that did publish the item the Journal quotes, published this on Oct. 6: "The new tariff bill goes into effect today, and importers and wholesale dealers are announcing in their circulars advance in prices."

Even the Republican Postmaster-General makes use of the same sentiment in his advertisement of his Philadelphia shop. Here is one of them.

WORKINGMEN KEEP THIS IN MIND.

Tinware is advancing in cost, and very soon the manufacturers will have their way and you and we will have to pay very much more.

In view of this state of things, we made some time since a large purchase of kitchen tinware at what was a low price then, and would be far lower now in the face of two advances in maker's price lists.

This lot goes on sale today at prices that will not be seen again for a long time to come.

JOHN WANAMAKER.

A Camp-Fire Reception for Members.

A reception to members only will be held at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. A programme will be provided, and refreshments served. The special attraction for the evening will be a "Camp-fire," and the Association Hall will be made to appear as much like nature as possible. Boys under 16 years of age, while eligible to the privileges of the educational classes, cannot be admitted to this reception.

Only Broke a Toe.

A jack-screw fell from a wagon on the foot of S. O. Doane, Saturday, and broke one of his toes. He is able to be about, however.

OUR CANDIDATES.

The Likenesses of Union County's Next Senator and Sheriff.

FREDERICK C. MARSH.

Born at Elizabethport, January, 1857.

The subject of the above sketch, Frederick C. Marsh, is the candidate of the Democratic party of Union County for State Senator. We have before given a history of his career in business life and politics, which are of the brightest description, and now, since higher honors have been accorded him as the standard bearer of the Democratic party of Union County in the coming Senatorial fight, we show his face to the public. It is unnecessary even to again speak of his good qualities and requisites as a public official, because his party know them There are many other voters however, who, dissatisfied with their party's nomination, will be glad to vote for a man who will represent them right in legislative halls. It is to them we call the attention of the sterling worth of the young candidate for higher honors. Fred. C. Marsh is not the tool of any monopoly or corporation. The city of Elizabeth accorded him the honor of being a member of the Board of Education for two years and its President for one year. In him, the County had an able official as County Attorney for three years. In the Fall of 1888, he was elected a Member of the State Assembly from the First District by a majority of 1,708, and the following year he was returned from the 2d District by a majority of 502. His career as a legislator at Trenton during these terms was such as to call forth the highest praise both from his own party and that of his opponents. He was recognized as the leader of his party and honored as temporary Speaker of the House during the absence of Speaker Heppenheimer at the closing days of the session. Outside of all these facts, Mr. Marsh is of that character the Democratic party always endeavor to elect to office—an honest and capable man and a faithful public servant. It is the duty of every lover of representative government in Union County to vote for him.

WILLIAM H. HICKS.

Although the Democratic candidate for Sheriff of Union County is not so generally known as other candidates on the ticket, it is only necessary to say that he has excellent business qualifications, and has never aspired to any political honors. He is very popular where he is best known in business circles, Elizabethport. He was born in Warren County, of this State, in 1837, coming then to Elizabethport when but twenty years of age, where he has ever since resided. Mr. Hicks first entered the store of Lindenburg & Fishbough, dealers in shoes and general merchandise, as a clerk; but remained in such capacity for but two years only, then becoming a partner of Fishbough, the other partner having withdrawn from the firm. It was but a few years before Mr. Hicks became sole owner of the business, which he soon made that exclusive of foot wear. His store on First street is one of the best known and one of the most popular stores of the "lower wards," which clearly demonstrates what close attention to business and fair dealing will accomplish. He has a like establishment in Washington, of this State, and is also interested in a large store at Bergen Point, both of which are successfully conducted.

Mr. Hicks has from time to time had invevested interests in the boating business, which has brought him much profit.

For the past ten years he has been the honored treasurer of the Elizabethport Mutual Building and Loan Association.

Although not a full member, yet Mr. Hicks is a regular attendant of the Fulton Street Methodist Episcopal church, to the sustaining of which he is also a liberal contributor.

The poor of Elizabethport know Wm. H. Hicks but to love and respect him, for he is one of those who do good by stealth and blush to find it fame.

—Ground has been broken by the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, and the foundation begun, for the new station at Bound Brook.

Mr. Powers' Method Explained.

Mr. Powers, who is to give David Copperfield in twelve characters and four acts at the Crescent Avenue chapel, Saturday evening, opens his performance by giving the audience a short description or explanation of the story and plot of the play and the characters to be represented. Then, as if the curtain had risen upon the first act, he proceeds to impersonate the character who appears first in the scene, then when the cue arrives for the next character he instantly and completely changes to that character, and to another and another as they come on, and carries on the action and dialogue as if all the people represented were actually before the eyes of the audience; and so completely and instantaneously does he change his face, voice, carriage, and whole bodily appearance to suit each character as he takes it, that the illusion is perfect, and this too without any change of costume.

The exceeding novelty of such a performance, and the perfection and entire absence of effort with which he accomplishes what would seem an impossible undertaking, has won for Mr. Powers the renown of standing alone and unapproachable in his peculiar and fascinating art. After all is said no person will fully understand the rare charm of this truly wonderful performance until he has witnessed it.

All Kinds of a Winter Predicted.

A Connecticut weather prophet predicts a very severe Winter. His reasons are the big hay crop, the hard, thick shells of the crabs, and the increased industry of muskrats in building their swamp houses. This prophet is an old sea captain. But the "other" captain says that the Winter will be a mild one because the Fall rains have cleared up warm. The New York Herald says: "the slight increase of auroras recently reported indicates that the Winter of 1890-91 will not be as mild as its predecessor."

They Wore Low-Necked Dresses.

The Rev. Father Gessner of St. Patrick's church, Elizabeth, has begun a crusade against low-necked dresses. On last Friday night he ordered some female members of his congregation to leave a sociable given by the Father Mathew Dramatic Corps in aid of the church because they appeared in the, to him, objectionable attire. He won't tolerate it at any affair given by the societies connected with the church.

—Stage manager Mattox of Music Hall, has made arangements with the owners of the stage routes to New Market, Scotch Plains and North Plainfield, so that on the evenings when there are attractions at the Hall the stages will make a regular trip to and from the city for those who want to attend.

The Little Seed.

A little seed lay in the carter's path;
A little shoot bowed in the strong wind's wrath;
A little shrub grew, by i s roots held fast;
Then a stout tree braved all the Winter's blast.

A little cough started—'twas only light;
A little chill shivered the hours of night;
A litt e pain came and began to grow,
Then consumption laid all his brave strength low.

Be wise in time. Check the little cough, cure the little chill, dispel the little pain, ere the little ailment becomes the strong, unconquerable giant of disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, taken in time, is a remedy for these ills.

The Right Man and the Right Talk.

The voters of Somerset County begin to find out that in Mr. William J. Keys, the Democratic nominee for Senator, they have an aggressive man, and one who means to win. There is great unanimity among the Democrats over his nomination, and it is safe to say that the canvass is going to be an active one. Mr. Keys has many friends among the farmers of the County, who will vote for him in preference to his opponent, because they know his sterling worth. At the County Committee meeting at Somerville, on Monday, Mr. Keys said—"I have been reared in the school of poverty and have had to fight my way through the World step by step." "My friends have seen fit to nominate me for the high office of State Senator, without any solicitation on my part, and now that I have accepted, you may rest assured that I shall strain every nerve to lead my party to victory. I am happy to be able to tell the rank and file of my fellow-Democrats all over the county that I have made no pledges and am bound to nobody. I go into the fight as a Democrat free to act in accordance with the dictates of my conscience and best judgment, and should it be my good fortune to be elected I will represent the county to the best of my ability as a Democrat and a man." Governor Abbett will address meetings at Bound Brook and Somerville in the interest of Mr. Keys.

A Mean Man Shoots a Dog.

Sunday evening, shortly after 8 o'clock, while the the family were absent from the house, a young dog was shot on the premises at 24 Jackson avenue. The miscreant, whose commission of the act was witnessed by the neighbors, was a large, tall man, accompanied by a woman considerably shorter than himself. The man was heard to make remarks that indicated he was the same person who a week previous had wounded the animal. The dog was not cross, and no complaint had ever been made against him. He was inside the yard when shot. The owner of the dog thinks a person guilty of recklessly shooting on private grounds, of cowardly attacking a crippled animal, and of carrying concealed weapons, ought to be severely punished, and says that any information leading to his detection will be thankfully received.

He Still Rides the Buckboard.

David Vail, of the Borough, who was arrested at the instigation of Albert Brown, recently, on the charge of stealing a buckboard, says that came into possession of the vehicle honestly. His story is that he had been working for Brown, and that Brown gave him the wagon for wages due. Vail was to have had a hearing before Borough Magistrate Hardy last night, but Brown didn't appear against him, and the case was dismissed.

—The Union County Roadsters went to church at Rahway Sunday morning and in the afternoon took a run to Plainfield, parading through Fifth and other streets.

—The Boys' Mission Band, "Earnest Workers," will hold their regular meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the Crescent Avenue church parlors. A large attendance is requested.

FOR LITTLE PEOPLE.

GINGER-BREAD LAND.

I had such a wonderful, wonderful dream—
A fairy took hold of my hand,
And mounting a moonbeam she carried me off.
To far away Ginger-bread land.

If you could have walked in those beautiful streets—
If you could have smelt what I smelt.
If you could have peeped there and seen what I saw,
If you could have felt as I felt!

There was ginger-snap slating—now would you believe!
All over a ginger-bread house,
With ginger-bread cookies for tiling below—
What a place for a boy or a mouse.

The boys and the girls were of ginger-bread, too,
And wore only ginger-bread clothes,
The trees and the bushes were bent to the ground
With ginger-nuts hanging in rows.

There were ginger-bread horses and ginger-bread dogs;
And soon, to my wonder and joy
I saw, as I looked at my hands and my feet,
That I was a ginger-bread boy.

And then I was hungry, and hunted about
For daintiest pieces to find.
You see, with such plenty on every side
I hardly could make up my mind.

But while I was waiting, the fairy was gone—
The ginger-bread went out of sight—
Alack and alack and alack!—I awoke
Before I had taken a bite!

Oh! Oh! If I only could take it again,
That journey so jolly and grand,
I surely would make better use of my time
In beautiful Ginger-bread Land.

—Sidney Davis, in Youths' Companion.

LIFE IN AN AIR CASTLE.

Peculiarities of An Interesting Little Insect's Life and Habits.

While we are drowsily watching the white clouds and our thoughts are far away, they are suddenly recalled to earth by a great spider coming briskly down from the branches overhead, with every appearance of energy and contempt for the idle dreamers whose meditations she has interrupted. She, too, is building a castle in the air; but that occupation, in her case, means real work. Madam Spider takes no summer vacation. While the soft blue haze rests over the mountains and the very breezes seem to have sunk to slumber, she must toil for a living, patiently weaving, back and forth and round and round, until she has fashioned one of those delicate wheels that are so exquisite in appearance and which have proved fatal to so many a fly.

This intruder upon our quiet is large and handsome, with a black and yellow suit that fairly glistens in the sunshine as she runs up and down her slender lines. The fine silken material of which she constructs her web is all formed within her body, and drawn out through the many little tubes which form her spinneret. As the invisibly fine fibers come forth they are rolled into the thread we see, and the fabric grows like magic beneath her skillful touch. Notice the long spokes radiating from the center of the wheel to the foundation lines already laid down. These she draws out and secures at proper intervals, one by one, with a delicate precision; and, when all have been placed, returns to the center, and begins to go round and round, drawing a sticky thread after her, and fastening it to each spoke as she comes to it. When the wheel has taken perfect shape, she prepares a resting-place for herself, by giving out a little fluffy silk and laying it in a zigzag path just below the center; and, there establishing herself, awaits the result of her labors, which will presently come in the form of a fly or other winged insect.

We may well wonder at the spider's skill in constructing a real air castle like this. It is more than any of us can do; but it is not the only secret she knows. She has another bit of knowledge that would be of more use to us than web-spinning, if she would only teach it to us; but no one has ever found out how the spider knows when it is going to rain. That she does know it is evident. She does not watch the clouds, or consult the barometer, or read the "probabilities" before she begins her web, yet she never gets caught in a shower; and you may be sure, when you see her at work, that she is not running the serious risk of having it all destroyed by the beating of raindrops. She is too prudent for that, for not only would it be a great loss of time and labor, but her supply of silk might become exhausted, and she would need food before she could form any more. Then, if she had no means for setting a trap, where would the necessary meal come from? The spider will not get into a predicament like that if she can help it, and, therefore, never spins a web when there is any danger of a shower.

But the spider's wisdom does not end here. She knows how to build a very different air castle, and it may be that we can find such a one suspended among the bushes. It looks like a fairy balloon, about an inch in length, hanging upside down, and is formed of strong, closely-woven, reddish silk, that the rain can not penetrate, for it is not built for a day, like the wheel-shaped webs, and must be made differently. The spider has expended her utmost care upon this curious structure, and it no easy matter to tear it open. It contains her eggs, all fastened together in a little pink ball, the whole mass being about the size of a pea, and she has gone away, probably to die, knowing that her little ones will be safe in the strong castle she has built for them.

Are there any more air castles near us? There is one among the bushes, which, though not quite so shapely and graceful as that of our black and yellow friend, has an improvement in shape of a special apartment for its owner. She is a timid brown creature, and, though so much less conspicuous than her neighbor, does not dare display even her modest colors in the middle of the web; so she has constructed a closely-woven tunnel among the leaves and berries, and sits in this pretty bower without fear. Her mate lingers near. He is even more timid than she, and stands in some fear of his aggressive spouse, for he is a lazy fellow, that does little or no work, and is obliged to content himself with whatever food the busy little housewife lets him have. So we see that life in an air castle is not always so poetical and dreamy as it may appear.—Stella Louise Hook, in Christian Union.

SHE SHOULD HAVE WAITED.

The Secret of an Unhappy Day with the Green Parasol.

It was a little changeable green silk parasol, with long, sweeping fringe, very old-fashioned and queer, but in the eyes of Matilda and Louisa Budd the most "really and truly" beautiful thing in all the world!

It had been their mother's best one, but she had bought another, and now this was kept in the upper drawer of the big bureau in the spare room, and every Sunday of the long, hot summer-time the little girls were allowed to run in and take it out to carry to Sunday-school.

Only they must take turns in the carrying.

And when it was Matilda's turn, and the little white cambric sack was drawn on, and the small straw bonnet, with its knot of daisies on top, was tied securely under her fat chin, she would race into the spare-room with all her might, tug wildly at the heavy drawer, and come out with a very red face, but an exceedingly triumphant manner, holding the precious parasol aloft, while she called loudly to Louisa to "Hurry, we'll be late!"

And Louisia would never go under the cool shade that the green silk and long fringe afforded, even on the most sultry, baking days, although kindly and persistently invited with the most patronizing air.

The sun might pour down his scorching rays so that even the birds crept gladly under the nearest leaves, the other little cambric sack and small straw bonnet with the knot of daisies on top would march sturdily by the side of unhappy magnificence, protesting with flushed cheeks that she wasn't warm a bit!

And when it came Louisa's turn, the neighbors would see Matilda stalking off as far as possible from her happy sister, as if there were not such a thing in all the world as a parasol!

"You feel so smart," said Matilda one day, peering under the long fringe into Louisa's chubby face, "an' you always have it the very nicest days, you do!"

It really seemed true that the sunniest, hottest days of all that warm summer-time did indeed fall to Louisa's lot, when she could sail off, cool and proud, an object of envy to all.

She tossed her little round head up among the spokes of the parasol, and said, with a most moral air: "You shouldn't envy folks; teacher said 'twas wicked."

"I ain't a envyin'!" declared Matilda, stalking sturdily on. "I only wish I had it!"

"Well, you can't," said Louisa, clinging to the long handle with confidence, "'cause it's mine, you see, an' we've got an awful long ways to go yet before we get to Sunday-school, too, 'Tilda!"

Matilda preserved a grim silence, but some thing dark was just at that moment passing through her mind. Why not hurry and get dressed first the Sunday it came Louisa's turn to carry the parasol, rush into the spare-room, capture the prize and run smartly off with it before the little fat sister knew a thing about it!

"She's had it all the best days," she reasoned to herself, walking on, "an' so it's fair—yes, 'tis!"

The idea grew so delightful, the more she came to think of it, that she forgot all about the next Sunday, when she should have it all to herself as a thing that fairly belonged to her.

And all the days between, over and over, at school and at home, Matilda kept planning and planning, until the time came, when—in the little white cambric sack and the small straw hat with the knot of daisies on top—she stood before the big bureau drawer.

Hastily she drew out the precious green parasol with the long fringe, and rushing out of the house, she fairly flew up the street, not breathing safely, till she turned the corner.

Then she didn't dare raise it, till she was quite sure that Louisa was not scuttling just after. And so she didn't begin to get the least enjoyment out of it, until she was nearly at the Sunday-school room.

And every step of the way each breeze that blew the sweeping fringe seemed to say: "Oh, you mean little thing you! Oh, you me—an little thing you!"—until she was ready to dash it into the middle of the streets, and sit down on the curbstone to cry in sheer vexation.

But she was presently obliged to sneak into her class, where she usually brought a smiling face—and tucked herself into the smallest corner.

"Where is Louisa?" asked Miss Root.

"She's—she's a-comin'," stammered Matilda, with very hot cheeks.

"Is she sick?" pursued the teacher, anxiously.

"No'm," said Maltilda, "that is—I d'no," she finished desperately.

The scholars laughed outright at that. But Miss Root looked grave, and took up her book to begin the lesson.

And just then, in walked Louisa, with her grandest air, and a most contented expression beaming from every line of her fat face. And wonder of wonders! in her hand she held in the most conspicuous position, a bright blue parasol, with a dear little bow on top, and a shining white handle.

Matilda rubbed her eyes, and stared with all her might?

"You got the great one, didn't you?" said Louisa, after getting into her seat with dignity, and glancing at her sister's side. "Oh well, it's yours now, mother's given it to you—'cause Aunt Em'ly sent me this, last evenin', only we couldn't find you to tell you. Aint mine sweet?"

Sweet? Well, Matilda never had one minute's comfort in what was hers now—after that. Why hadn't she waited?—Margaret Sidney, in Youth's Companion.

—The first piano was invented as far back as 1716.

WANTED DESK ROOM.

This Story Tells How They Avoided Paying for It.

Howard Fielding Describes the Comforts of Life in an Office Full of New York Sharks Who Would Not Settle.

[COPYRIGHT, 1890.]

My friends told me that I ought to have an office.

"What for?" I ventured to inquire. "I haven't any business."

"That doesn't make any difference," they insisted. "Everybody in New York has an office whether he has any business or not. You want a place where you can sit down quietly and figure up how much you owe and how much more you'll have to owe at the end of the year, if you live through it."

I told them that I had hitherto managed to transact that business at my flat, and I didn't know a place better fitted to furnish a man with data for such calculations.

"But you can't write at home," they said. "Doesn't your wife insist on running in and disturbing you? Doesn't she interrupt the flow of your thought with remarks about bargain counters, and vegetables for dinner, and things that she can't have because she was foolish enough to marry a writer? Oh, yes; we know all about that: we've suffered that way ourselves."

"I've heard those things before," said I; "they're chestnuts. I pity those fellows whose society is so agreeable to their wives. Mine isn't. A bad disposition and a strong pipe will get a man all the solitude he can use, right in his own home. I've got 'em both; and if you haven't, go spend two cents for the pipe. That will complete the outfit for most men of my acquaintance."

It was thus that I resisted the tempters at first, but they employed other snares. They said that an office would give me an apparent importance in the eyes of strangers, and make me useful to my friends. I didn't understand the last part of this till the boys began to drop in on me and borrow half dollars for lunch. This was after I hired the office. It was a hole in a building on Broadway. This hole had a window which opened on another hole which was called a ligt shaft, because it had to be artificially lighted in order to make any thing visible in it.

The boys had told me that I would not have to spend a dollar for rent. I could clear my expenses by letting desk-room. The practice is very common in New York. In fact, the stranger's first impression of this city is that all the people in it are making a living by collecting rent of esch other.

I did not have a bit of trouble in getting tenants. In a week I had so filled the place that there really wasn't room for myself, but it looked like business and I was encouraged. I figured a clear profit of sixty cents a month, making an allowance for car fare and lunches down-town. True, it wasn't much of a place to write in. Old Barrow, the real-estate dealer, used to put his feet on his desk and go to sleep. Barrow wasn't a very energetic man when he was awake, but he snored as diligently as anybody I ever knew. And then his poor old head would hang over the chair in fearful positions, till by and by it would droop straight backwards, and his eyes, sightless in sleep, would stare at me and give me a nightmare, too. Barrow was not beautiful in any position, but I could contemplate his countenance more calmly when it was right side up.

But the most annoying of my tenants was a man whom I scarcely ever saw. He said he didn't want an office except as a place to get his mail. He also hinted that one or two of his friends might like to have their letters come in his care. I interposed no objection because I didn't understand the situation. It wasn't long before this man's friends began to drop in to get their mail. I may as well say right here that I never saw a letter for any of them but they were always waiting for one, and they took all the chairs in the office, and when the chairs gave out the rest of the party sat on my desk. Then those that had chairs drew them up and put their feet on the desk, and a Kentucky Colonel stood at one end of it and told them stories. The Colonel smoked a clay pipe and cut his plug tobacco with a pocket knife which had a blade six inches long. While he cut the tobacco he told stories, and in the exciting parts he pounded on the desk with the handle of the knife. Every time I began a feeble remonstrance one of the Colonel's staff would say:

"Colonel, tell us about the time you cut Slim Jim Waters in two with that 'ere knife. Ef I don't disremember Jim, he favored our frien' here—'bout the under a table engaged in prayer. He said he had dropped a piece of tobacco. I didn't force matters with Davis because I wished to avoid bloodshed. If there must be any I should prefer that it would occur after your return."

Eddie is a good fellow, but his paper is subject to a heavy discount. I think I would rather have taken a sketch by Billings. Affairs were getting serious; but Eddie's next letter made them worse.

"I brought matters to a head to-day—Barrow wouldn't settle and so I got the janitor's man to put the old fellow's desk and chair into the elevator and run them down to the ground floor. When Barrow saw this he smiled like a hammer-headed shark just turning over to bite. Then he went for a lawyer, who informed me that I had given grounds for action. I asked them what they were going to do about it, and they said, nothing so far as I was concerned, because I was only your agent, but they proposed to sue you for thirteen hundred dollars. Awful sorry, old man, but thought I was acting for the best. Haven't seen old Barrow so cheerful for weeks. Don't you think you'd botter come back?"

I thought I had. The next train was none too soon for me. I reached New York about noon and hurried towards the office. Near the door I met Marshall.

"What are you going to do?" he asked.

"Going to collect that rent," I replied.

"No use," said he; "there isn't a man up there. I told 'em all yesterday that the money would have to be paid at noon to-day. When I went there I found the place as lonely as Jim Healey's grave. You remember Jim? He was blown up in a powder mill and his remains couldn't be found. That's the way with those cormorants. Go up and take a look."

I did so. There stood the desks in a row, and not a man in sight. Every desk had a sign on it. Here are some of them:

"Called away by sudden death."

"Gone to visit my grandmother's grave. Return Friday." "Please call again."

"Eddie," said I, "let's put the whole crowd out."

"Can't do it without regular papers," said he. "I've found out about it. The papers will cost seven dollars apiece and the average rent due is only five dollars apiece. I allow that it's two dollars apiece cheaper to let 'em stay than to put 'em out. How do you figure it?"

I've been figuring on it ever since. Eddie is right about the law, and, by its provisions, I can't see why those fellows aren't quartered on me indefinitely.

HOWARD FIELDING.

—The sea serpent has been rather late in appearing this year, but he has been seen, with back covered with a hard shell of a dark brown, with stripes a few shades lighter, giving it much the look of the lights and shades on a corrugated iron surface. As usual, as much as the observers desired to see the monster, they got away as fast as possible.

—A beech tree cut on the farm of William Wilkinson, at Shelton, near Middletown, Mass., disclosed near the hard white wood core the big letters "J. L." on a densely black background. They were cut forty years ago by John Leland, a sailor, and, curiously enough, had stamped themselves all the way from the heart of the tree to the bark. Though they had been overgrown by thirty-seven rings of wood fibre, it is easy to read "J. L." on the outside bark.

—A new "cure" has been invented in Germany, which may be adopted as a greater novelty than the mind cure or the faith cure. Its basis is the hardening of the human organism, which has been disastrously enfeebled by civilization. The patients imitate the noble savage or the gypsy, and the system includes going barefoot as one part of the cure. One German parish contains 1,400 patients.

—The longest parts, male and female, in the Shakespearan drama are Hamlet, with 1,569 lines, and Rosalind, with 749 lines. Of course, in acting, they are cut a great deal, but even then they are, in the odious but expressive phrase of the boards, "fat." This accounts, to a certain extent, for the professional fondness for appearing as "Hamlet" and "Rosalind." Othello must be rather a thorn in the side of the "stars," for he has only 883 lines, while Iago has 1,117.

PASTOR KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

Had the Desired Effect!

CARROLLTON, GREEN CO., ILL., Nov., '89.
I highly recommend Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic to anybody that has suffered from headache as my son did for 5 years, because 2 bottles of the medicine cured him.
M. McTIGUE.

Saved Her Life.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Feb. 9, 1889.
This is to certify that my mother has suffered from nervous weakness for over 20 years. We have tried innumerable remedies and physicians, she also went to Germany for her health, spending in all thousands of dollars with only temporary benefit. At last we tried Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic and Elixir of Iron, and I honestly and sincerely believe that she not only received more benefit from them than all others combined, but would have died before this without them, as she was getting weaker every day, before we began with the above medicine.
DR. ROBT. F. ERNI, 774 Chapel st.

Our Pamphlet for sufferers of nervous diseases will be sent free to any address, and poor patients can also obtain this medicine free of charge from us.
This remedy has been prepared by the Reverend Pastor Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., for the past ten years, and is now prepared under his direction by the Dollars and Sense!

Did it ever strike you that you might do better? Has it ever occurred to you that you are paying too much for the necessaries of life?

If it has not struck you in this light, it surely will, if you will be persuaded to give us a trial. We are the recognized originators of low prices in this city.

We carry the largest and most complete stock of Tea, Coffee and Groceries in Union County. We sell them so quickly at our low prices, that we are constantly receiving fresh goods. We keep none but the most reliable brands, and sell on very small margins of profit.

Having purchased our supply of California Fruits before advance in prices took place, we have decided to sell at old price, thereby giving our customers the benefit of what we saved.

Prompt attention and quick delivery of goods to any and all parts of town; on Saturdays till 9 P. M. Wagon deliveries weekly to Scotch Plains, Fanwood, Westfield, Cranford, Dunellen, New Market, South Plainfield, Metuchen, etc. Mail orders promptly attended to.

Fleeing from the City Until the Excitement Blows Over.

The Real Murderers Said to be in Custody—News Kept Back Until After the Examination on Tuesday—The Patriotic Sons of America to Hold a Mass Meeting To-Night.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22.—About 1 o'clock Mayor Shakespeare was suddenly called to the parish prison and was afterward seen coming out with a bundle of manuscript in his hand. It is said that two of the prisoners made a confession.

The police will neither confirm nor deny the truth of the report, but an attache of the Mayor's office told a reporter that the murderers are in custody, and that the alleged confession would be kept secret until the examination on Tuesday.

The panic among the Italians here continues. Dispatches from Pensacola say that in the past two days large numbers of Italians have been arriving in that city from New Orleans. They are being watched by the police, and if wanted here will be easily arrested. They are refugees who have thought it wise to leave New Orleans until the excitement blows over.

There was a secret meeting of the committee of fifty for the purpose, it is supposed, of devising means to enable them to offer a big reward.

There is a mass meeting called for to-night by the Patriotic Sons of America, an association composed exclusively of American born citizens, who will, no doubt, take some action toward assisting the authorities in capturing the entire gang engaged in the vile conspiracy.

The district attorney, on account of the disturbed state of the public mind, has agreed with the attorneys for the defense to postpone the Provenzano trial to another date. Commissioner Bearham will in all probability be appointed Chief Hennessy's successor.

MRS. BIRCHALL'S APPEAL.

She Asks the People of Canada to Save Her Husband from His Terrible Doom.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Oct. 22.—The petition for commutation of Birchall's sentence has been coolly received by the public. Only about one in every fifty appealed to will attach their signature to the document, although it has been greatly modified.

The refusal of the public to indorse this request for clemency has greatly grieved Mrs. Birchall and her sister. They hoped if not for the prisoner, at least through sympathy for them, that the business men and citizens here would do what they could to save them further disgrace. But thus far the sympathy of the public ceases when asked to sign the petition.

Mrs. Birchall has just issued the following appeal in behalf of her husband:

COMMERCIAL HOTEL,
WOODSTOCK, Ont., Oct. 22.

To the People of Canada: May I ask you to sign the accompanying petition for the commutation of my husband's sentence. I shall be indeed deeply and truly grateful if you will help me to save him from the terrible doom which awaits him. Yours truly, (Signed) FLORENCE BIRCHALL.

Birchall has completed his autobiography, which makes over 200 foolscap pages, and is about closing with New York publishers for the sale of it. His price is $2,000.

Asked that Balfour be Summoned.

DUBLIN, Oct. 22.—During the progress of the conspiracy trial at Tipperary Counsellor Dillon, on behalf of his absent client, William O'Brien, asked that a summons be issued to compel the attendance in court of Mr. Balfour, there to state on oath what had been said by him in his Newcastle speech. During the presentation of his argument in support of the request for the issuance of a summons for Mr. Balfour Mr. Dillon's remarks were listened to with not altogether suppressed excitement. The bench refused to grant the request of counsel for the defence, saying that it could not be the medium for accomplishing anything illegal or improper.

An Oil Suit for a Big Amount.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 22.—An oil suit, involving $350,000, has just been decided at Morgantown, W. Va., in favor of the plaintiff, C. J. Garvey & Co., vs. E. M. Hukill. The defendant had forfeited a lease of 380 acres in the Mt. Morris oil field, which the owner leased to Garvey & Co. The latter put down several wells, which proved good, and then Hukill brought suit to regain possession of the lease. The property is valued by the plaintiff at the amount named.

Joint Discussion Solicited.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct., 22.—The Democratic State Committee has invited the Republican State Committee to a joint discussion of the lobby influence at the State House and party responsibility therefor, to take place between Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge and Hon. George F. Williams.

Asked the Bystanders to Shoot Him.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 22.—William Egan of Utica, had his legs badly crushed and was terribly injured about the head in this city. He tried to board a Belt line train and slipped under the wheels. It is thought he will die. Egan presented a sickening appearance and appealed to the bystanders to shoot him and end his misery.

NOT A COMMON SCOLD.

Mrs. Budiris Acquitted of the Charge by a New Jersey Jury.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 22.—Mrs. Magdalena Budiris of Guttenburg was tried in the Hudson County Court of General Sessions on an indictment charging her with being a common scold. Her case is the second of its kind that has ever been tried in Hudson County. The defendant is of medium height, stout, dark complexioned, has black hair and is generally attractive looking.

The principal witnesses against Mrs. Budiris were ex-Assemblyman John Dwyer and his family, who testified that the defendant used the filthiest kind of language toward them. Every time any of the Dwyers passed the door she would abuse them in a loud voice. She would call them pig, cows and thieves.

She called 17-year-old Miss Walley, according to the young lady's testimony, an "old maid," and said that George Uhl, a church deacon, was a "jay," which annoyed him considerably. Urich Benecke said she called him "an old gray-haired ass."

Mrs. Budiris, however, took the stand, and denied all the stories told about her. She said she never did annoy any one, and a dozen of her neighbors gave her a similar good character. She got the benefit of a doubt and was acquitted.

HONORING FATHER MATHEW.

The One Hundredth Anniversary of His Birth Celebrated in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22.—Under the auspices of the local branch of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America, the one hundreth anniversary of the birth of Father Mathew was celebrated in the Academy of Music last night. Archbishop Ryan of this city presided.

Among those present were Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul, Archbishop Elder of Cincinnati, Bishop Shanley of North Dakota, and McGoldrick of Duluth.

Archbishop Ryan welcomed the visitors and Father Conaty of Worcester, Mass., delivered an oration on the life of Father Mathew. Addresses were also delivered by Cardinal Gibbons and other dignitaries.

Philadelphia Will Have a Recount.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22.—The Mayor has decided to have a police enumeration of the population of this city. Basing an estimate upon the police department's report concerning the number of houses unoccupied during the summer, and allowing for errors on the part of the census enumerators, the Mayor believes there is an omission of 100,000 persons from the late count.

The Order of United Friends.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 22.—The Imperial Council of the Order of United Friends is holding a three-days' convention here. Over sixty members of the Council from Maine, Massachusetts, Vermont, Connecticut, New York, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and New Hampshire were present. Imperial Recorder Oliver M. Sheed of Poughkeepsie, presented his report, showing that there were over 23,000 members in the order.

Daly Lost the Shooting Match.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Oct. 22.—The pigeon shooting match between Phillip Daly, Jr., of the Central Gun Club of Long Branch, and Captain Mooney of London, Eng., attracted a large crowd of sporting men to Hollywood. Mooney outshot Daly from the start, and won the match by a score of 78 to 68. The shoot was at 100 birds each, 21 yards boundary, for $1,000.

Registration in Boston.

BOSTON, Oct. 23.—Registration for the State election closed in this city last night. During the past two days very hard work has been done by all parties to bring out their voters, and as a consequence, it is thought, the total registration will be about 65,000, which is 2,000 less than last year, but at the same time is considered a very satisfactory showing.

Held for His Brother's Death.

RONDOUT, N. Y., Oct. 22. —The coroner's jury found James Morrisey of Hurley guilty of causing the death of his brother Joseph by setting fire to the bed upon which he was lying, and the prisoner will be held to await the action of the grand jury. It is generally believed that Morrisey is insane, and will ultimately be sent to an asylum.

True Bill Against Lingo.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 22.—It is stated that the grand jury has found a true bill against the negro Lingo for the murder of Mrs. Miller, near Merchantville. This fact has not been officially announced, however.

Twenty Bookmakers Indicted.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Oct. 22.—It is said that the Monmouth Grand Jury which has finished its labors, has found indictments against twenty Monmouth Park bookmakers for violating the law prohibiting gambling.

WASTING THE MONEY

The World's Fair Commission Warned by Mr. Windom.

THE MEMBERS MUST GO SLOW.

The Secretary Hesitates to Approve the Large Salary List.

Inspector-General Dumont's Report of Steamboat Accidents—245 Lives Lost the Past Year—The President Going to Maryland on a Duck-Hunting Trip—American Locomotives in Jerusalem.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Secretary of the Treasury Windom has sent an important communication to the executive committee of the National World's Fair Commission, which is causing that body to pause and think over the question where the money is to come from with which to carry on the line of policy it had mapped out.

The Secretary of the Treasury is empowered by the Act of Congress to approve the salaries of the officers of the commission and also its expense account, and his letter which was sent to President Palmer several days ago has been kept a secret until now.

The letter was a surprise to the commissioners, and hauls them up short on the money question.

Secretary Windom reviews the salaries allotted to the officers of the commission and lays down the law with reference to the expenditure of money appropriated by Congress. The Secretary says that the $200,000 appropriated for expenses for the year ending June 30, 1891, will be exhausted long before June comes around. The Secretary therefore refuses to approve the salary list, which will amount during 1891, 1892 and 1893 to one-seventh of the entire sum, outside of the cost of government buildings, fixed as a limit of expenditure growing out of the exposition.

GEN. DUMONT'S REPORT.

Number of Lives Lost by Steamboat Accidents the Past Year.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The report of Inspector-General Dumont of the steamboat inspection service says that during the year there were thirty-four accidents, resulting in the loss of 245 lives, a decrease of fifty-six as compared with the preceding year. Of the accidents, seventeen resulted from collisions and 102 of the lives lost were by drowning. Of the number of lives lost sixty-five were passengers and 180 were officers or persons employed on the steamers. It is estimated that fully 500,000,000 passengers were carried on steam vessels during the fiscal year.

Gen. Dumont says the experience of the past year shows the truth of his assertion in a former annual report, that "no mode of travel at the present day, whether by railway, horse car, carriage, or even the common farm wagon, presents so low a percentage of accidents as travel by steam vessels."

American Locomotives in Jerusalem.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Henry Gillman, U. S. Consul at Jerusalem, has informed the State Department that three locomotives of American make have arrived at Jaffa for the Jerusalem & Jaffa railroad. "It is of interest to our citizens and, indeed, the entire world," said Mr. Gillman, "to know that the first locomotive ever used in this ancient land was made in the new world, in the United States of America."

The President Going Duck Shooting.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The White House is being renovated, and in order to escape the smell of paint the President will probably go duck shooting in Maryland until the painting is finished. If he should decide to go, he will leave in a day or two and remain for the rest of the week.

Mayor Grant's Letter of Acceptance.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Mayor Grant's letter accepting the Tammany Hall nomination for re-election to the Mayoralty, is published to-day. The letter is two columns in length and is in effect an argument to show why the voters should support his claims to re-election. The Mayor arraigns the Republican party for depriving the city of $300,000,000 which would have accrued if it had obtained the World's Fair, and for the loss of Rapid Transit legislation.

Accused by Jealous Wife.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 22.—Lizlie Kirby, a girl wife, caused the arrest of Chas. Kirby, her husband, for threatening her life. He was sent to jail. Since they were married, three years ago, he has only given her $5.

His Body Cut in Two.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 22.—A man supposed to be John Hop, a member of the firm of Sternberg & Co., 66 Gold street, New York, was run over and killed by the cars at Summit. His body was cut in two.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.

ROW IN A UNIVERSITY.

A Faction of Freshmen Prevent an Election and Scare the Ladies.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 22.—The Freshmen's class of Syracuse University had an exciting time while trying to effect an organization and elect officers. Two factions have developed, and when the new comers had assembled in Professor J. Scott Clark's recitation room the weaker faction, fearing defeat, began to raise a rumpus.

Then some sophomores pounded on the doors and at empted to force an entrance. The young ladies of the class became frightened and precipitately fled from the building.

The freshmen kept up the rumpus, and some of the sophomores joined in, preventing the election.

While the disturbance was still in progress Professor Clark appeared and seized the young ruffians and put them out of the room in a summary fashion.

MISSIONARY COUNCIL.

Important Gathering of Episcopal Divines and Laymen of the United States.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 22.—The first regular session of the Missionary Council of the Episcopal Church of America was held in Trinity Church.

The council is composed of a majority of the bishops, both of diocese and missionary bishops, and also many of its most eminent divines, theologians and laymen.

Rev. Joseph N. Blanchard of St. James' Church, Philadelphia, preached the opening sermon. His discourse had special reference to missionary labors.

Right Rev. Bishop Clark presided at the business meeting. The first session was occupied in reading the reports of the mission boards and of the several auxiliary boards.

A Sheriff Removed from Office.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 22.—Governor Hill has removed from office the sheriff of Madison County, Leander W. Burroughs, and appointed in his place William T. Manchester of Hamilton. Sheriff Burroughs is a Republican as is also his successor. The removal is based on charges filed alleging the presentation to the Board of Supervisors of false, fraudulent and illegal fees exacted. In his opinion, the Governor says that he is satisfied that charges in this bill amounting to at least $3,500 are false and fraudulent, and were illegally allowed.

Narrowly Escaped Lynching.

TORONTO, Oct. 22.—A dispatch from Cumberland, Ont., says the jury investigating the death of the two McGonigle girls, who were found murdered and outraged on October 7, rendered a verdict that Narcisse Larocque was guilty of the crime. Immediately some one in the court room shouted, "Hang him! Hang him!" and an exciting scene ensued, the constables with difficulty getting the prisoner safely into the lock-up. If Larocque is not speedily removed, it is feared an attempt will be made to lynch him.

Women Capture a Highwayman.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 22.—While Isabella and Josephine Biert of Marcy were on their way to this city on foot, they were met by William Heine, a young man, who presented a revolver and demanded their money. Both the young ladies assumed a defiant attitude and dared the young robber to touch them. Hein thereupon became frightened and ran away, but the young ladies gave chase, and with the assistance of some railroadmen captured the highwayman. He was held in $3,000 bail.

Ready for a Trial Trip.

CHESTER, Pa., Oct. 22.—N. F. Palmer & Co., of this city, have notified the Navy Department that the Concord is now ready for a trial trip. Secretary Tracy has appointed the following board to test the horse power and speed of the new vessel: Capt. Casey, Commanders Batcheller and Bradford, Chief Engineers, Kiersted, Wharton and Aston, and Naval Constructor Varney. The trial will take place early next week.

Silk Dyers Strike.

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 22.—A big strike has been inaugurated among the silk dyers and their helpers employed in the Weidman Silk Dyeing Company's works of this city, the largest establishment of its kind in America, due to the discharge of three of the dyers for trying to form a union among the men. Three hundred are employed in the works at Riverside, and of this number only forty remained at work.

Oculist Yarmouth Reported Alive.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22.—Mr. Elsie of West Berlin, N. J., a member of the Waterford Township Democratic Executive Committee, came from Berlin yesterday morning on the same train with E. S. Yarmouth, the oculist who was reported to have disappeared while temporarily insane. Elsie says that Yarmouth looked well, and told him that he was on his way to this city for medical treatment.

He Kicked His Wife to Death.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Oct. 22.—William Haight, who kicked his wife to death in this city last June, was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to two and one-half years in the House of Correction. The prisoner surprised the court by asking that his sentence be made three years in the State prison so he could learn a trade. The request was not granted.

Jay Gould Must Pay His Fine.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Jay Gould was fined $100 in June last for not attending to his duties as a juror in the Court of General Sessions. He has not yet paid the fine, and a notice was sent to him by the District Attorney that he would be given until Friday to pay it.

THE GREAT LIBERAL

A Tremendous Crush of People to Hear Gladstone.

HIS SPEECH A GREAT SURPRISE.

The Auditors Carried Away With Admiration and Enthusiasm.

Severe Indictment of the Government for Its Many Errors of Omission and Commission—The London Times Disappointed—Liberal Leaders in High Glee Over the Scotch Campaign.

EDINBURGH, Oct. 22.—Mr. Gladstone delivered the first speech of his Scotch campaign in the Corn Exchange, this city. There was a tremendous crush of people eager to see and hear the great Liberal leader, and when the hall had been crowded to suffocation, thousands of disappointed persons were left outside to return home or listen to speakers of lesser note who addressed overflow meetings in the open air.

Mr. Gladstone was in fine form and his speech was a brilliant effort, showing no trace of a decline in the virility which seems to defy the advance of age in the case of this truly Grand Old Man.

His Indictment of the Government.

A feature of the speech which seems to have attracted the notice of nearly all the reporters was the facility with which the orator clothed the expression of old truths in novel and telling forms. His indictment of the Government for its many errors of omission and commission was couched in solemn terms, and produced a deep impression. From this grave tone of censure Mr. Gladstone turned easily to the lighter touches of ridicule and sarcasm, and again to those serious arguments in which his perspicacity and logic delight the listener.

The Audience Carried Away.

The auditors were carried away with admiration and enthusiasm. Never was any prediction more thoroughly belied than that of the Times, which had predicted a cold reception for Mr. Gladstone's criticisms upon Lord Salisbury's conduct of affairs.

The Liberal campaign in Scotland has been opened under the brightest auspices, and the leaders of the party in London were in high feather last night as the news of the day's proceedings in the Scotch capital drifted in to the club.

What This Morning's Papers Say.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The Chronicle this morning ranks Mr. Gladstone's speech at Edinburg among his finest oratorical efforts, and say his scathing exposure of the coercion regime will tell upon the ministerial position.

The Telegraph says that even the hackneyed nature of the subject failed to render the speech dull.

The Times says that nothing duller or more threadbare could be conceived.

WILL SEND THEIR HEADS.

The Sultan of Zanzibar Alarmed by the Military Demonstrations.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—A dispatch from Zanzibar says that the Sultan of Vitu, alarmed by the joint British and German military demonstrations, has offered to send to Zanzibar the heads of all those who were concerned in the murder of German traders, and that he has the murderers now in cages awaiting their fate.

Only One of the Duellists Fired.

PARIS, Oct. 22.—MM. Reinach and Deroulede, members of the Chamber of Deputies, fought a duel without any serious results. M. Reinach alone fired, M. Deroulede declining to do so. The affair grew out of M. Deroulede having, in the course of a heated discussion in the Chamber, declared M. Reinach to be "that lackey of all administrations."

The Teutonic Arrives First.

QUEENSTOWN, Oct. 22.—The steamship Teutonic passed Fastnet at 9:30 and the City of New York at 11 o'clock. This is the first time that the Teutonic has beaten the City of New York in an eastward race, and as the City of New York has only beaten the Teutonic in one westward voyage it is considered that things are about evened up.

The Fenian Brotherhood.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—It is reported that the Fenian Brotherhood, in convention in Paterson, N. J., last night decided that hereafter all proceedings of the order shall be public. This change in the system of the order is said to have been made unanimously upon the recommendation of the general secretary.

The Overdue France Arrives.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The National Line steamship France, about which so much anxiety was felt, reached her dock last evening. The France was twenty-one days in making the passage, and was four days overdue. On board of the steamship were the lions which are to play such an important part in the production of Nero at Niblo's Theatre.

Slate and Metal Roofers Win.

BOSTON, Oct. 22.—Thirteen firms have granted to the slate and metal roofers the advance from $3 to $3.25 per day and eight hours' work on Saturday, and the threatened strike will not materialize.

Died Suddenly at a Hotel.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 22.—Mr. Charles W. Keim, brother-in-law of President Mayer of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, died suddenly shortly after noon at the Relay House.

WORK OF THE ENGINEERS.

The New Executive Committee Appointed by the Brotherhood.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 22.—It is expected that the convention of the International Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers will adjourn in about ten days, as the business is progressing quite rapidly.

The new executive committee appointed is as follows: Edward Kent of the Erie, chairman; Col. Nat. Sawyer of the New York Central, R. M. Clark, Denver, Col.; Ash Kennedy, Winnepeg, Man.; Dan Brown, Derry, Pa.; G. B. Turner, Temple, Tex.

At a meeting last night $2,076 was distributed among the widows, orphans and indigent members of fifty of the 452 divisions of the order. The amount was distributed among fifty-six persons. The committee on special charities also held a meeting, and disbursed considerable money.

A prominent delegate denied the assertion that the convention had ordered a strike on the Erie road. The subject has not been brought before the meeting.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Mr. Balfour, Chief Secretary of Ireland, has arrived at Dublin.

H. C. R. Lawrence, a nurse at Bellevue Hospital, New York, is under arrest for assaulting a patient.

The Orrville Soap Company's works at Saco, Me., valued at $8,000, were entirely destroyed by fire. Insured.

Russian advices are to the effect that the cholera has extended from Persia to Bagdad and is destroying many victims.

Mrs. Mary McKnight committed suicide at Chester, Pa., by taking laudanum. Family troubles and drink were the cause.

Alonzo H. Laws, carpenter and builder, Boston, has gone into insolvency, owing $18,000, with no unencumbered assets.

The Union Baptist Society of Tremont Temple, Boston, unanimously accepted the resignation of Rev. Emory J. Haynes, their pastor.

The machinery of the State fair at Birmingham, Alabama, was started at noon by Mrs. Cleveland, who pressed a button at Lenox, Mass.

The famous Baby Bunting case of Campbell vs. Arkuckle was argued before the Court of Appeals at Albany, N. Y., yesterday afternoon.

Arthur Lumley, the well known artist and illustrator of New York city, has become totally blind through the growth of cataracts over both eyes.

L. F. Leiter the Chicago millionaire, denies the reported engagement of his daughter to Sir Charles Hall, the boon companion of the Prince of Wales.

Jerome Sweet, the Providence (R. I.) ice peddler, who killed his wife by pouring kerosene upon her and setting her on fire, was found guilty of murder and sentenced to State Prison for life.

Mrs. Annie Wilmarth, the daughter of wealthy parents, is a voluntary prisoner in Raymond Street Jail, Brooklyn, where she was first committed for being drunk in the street. An unhappy marriage drove her to drink.

The Government steamer Stiletto made several ineffectual attempts to recover the body of the son of Rear Admiral Case, drowned at Bristol, R. I. It was found near where the young man sank, by Captain Waters' wrecking crew from Newport.

The New York city representatives of both the Adams and United States Express Companies deny in the most positive terms that there is any truth in the report that negotiations are on foot to effect a consolidation of the two companies.

The directors of the poor of Pennsylvania are holding their 16th annual meeting at Lancaster. A large number of delegates from the various counties of the State are present. James L. Graham of Allegheny presided and Judge Livingston made an address of welcome to which L. C. Colborne of Somerset responded. Routine business occupied the morning session.

The Eastern Synod of the Reformed Church in the United States adjourned at Reading, Pa., after deciding to hold the next annual meeting in Harrisburg on the third Wednesday of Oct. 1891. The special committee on the theological seminary at Lancaster presented a report urging the necessity of the erection of a suitable building for the institution.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—For New England, Connecticut and Eastern New York: Continued cool, fair weather; variable winds.

For New Jersey: Continued cool, variable winds; fair weather; rain.

For Western New York: Fair weather; variable winds; generally easterly; stationary temperature; rains during the night.

THE DAILY PRESS.

W. L. & A. L. FORCE, Publishers and Proprietors.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - Managing Editor.

BY THE WAY.

—The Mayor of Bull-Frog City has returned to his old home after a long absence.

—A fair for the benefit of the Children's Home will be held at 41 East Fifth street, Saturday, from 2 to 5 P. M. The admission fee will be but three cents.

—Because of the evangelistic meetings to be held in November, the Bezaar arranged for by the Women's Christian Temperance Union, has been deferred until the 9th of December.

—The meeting to-morrow at 3:30 P. M., at 73 West Front street, will be in charge of Mrs. J. C. Fernald, and is one of the "Better Day series," which have proved so entertaining and instructive.

—The annual meeting of the Women's Temperance Aid Society will be held at Reform Hall, to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. All the members and friends are earnestly invited to be present. The anniversary exercises have been postponed until the 30 inst, due notice of which will be given.

—Complaints are frequent of the number of boys on the streets who smoke cigarettes, and Police Captain Grant may follow the example of the chief-of-police of Cincinnati, who has because of violations of the law against selling cigarettes to boys, ordered the arrest of all children found smoking, and says they will be held as witnesses until the name of the person who sold them the goods is given.

—The formal opening of the Club House of the Democratic League, at Trenton, Tuesday evening, was a grand affair. Prominent Democrats from all over the State were present, and a reception tendered Gov. Abbett and staff. All were delighted, and the League promises to be a great benefit to the Democracy in coming and future political contests in Mercer county.

—The Plainfield Women's Christian Temperance Union have received subscriptions amounting to nearly $450 for their building fund, and have paid the money on their new lot, at the Northeast corner of Sixth street and Park avenue. The Union has now 251 paying members, and 14 honorary, is growing constantly, and is one of the largest and strongest branches of the organization in the country.

—The failure of the ice crop last Winter brought many discomforts to the citizens. It may afford them pleasure to be told that it will give them some compensation for those discomforts this Winter. The Western poultry dealers could not ship as much poultry to the market during the Summer and early Fall as usual, owing to the scarcity of ice. Consequently the ducks, chickens, and turkeys were permitted to accumulate in the barn yards of the farmers, where they are now being fattened, and an unusually large quantity of poultry will be shipped here as soon as the weather will permit the shipment of dead poultry without ice.

PARTICULAR MENTION

A birthday party was held at the residence of Miss Lizzie Mattis, 16 Spooner avenue, last evening. Friends were present from everywhere. Refreshments were served and an enjoyable time was spent.

The Rev. Dr. K. P. Ketcham, of the First Presbyterian church, has been appointed chairman of the Monmouth Presbytery Committee on Presbyterian Records by the State Synod now in session at Atlantic City.

Mrs. J. M. MacNaughton, of Front street, and Mrs. M. C. Dobbins, of Elmwood place, are in attendance at the State Women's Christian Temperance Union Convention at Atlantic City, as delegates from the Plainfield Union.

Mrs. and Mrs. Peter Weaver, of Orchard place, celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage last evening by a highly enjoyable silver wedding. From sixty to seventy guests were present, each bringing a handsome gift of silver. The most cordial hospitality prevailed. In addition to the other festivities an elegant supper was served. Benjamin LaVere was master-of-ceremonies, and Frazee furnished the music.

Several months ago Seymour G. Smith, Councilman-at-large, injured his hand bowling. Since then a growth of diseased bone has resulted, causing constant pain and inconvenience. Notwithstanding this, however, Mr. Smith's love of good sport is so strong that he could not resist the temptation to indulge in live-pigeon shooting at the recent Middlesex Gun Club tournament at Dunellen. The result shows that the enthusiasm was hardly prudent, for the injury to his hand has since grown considerably worse.

Two Calls a Minute.

The increase in the telephone business in this city under the management of Charles W. Runyon, is probably unequalled by any other place of its size. He studys to please, and his central office operators, Miss Lottie Morse, Miss Lottie Smith, and Herbert Chamberlain, are so courteous and willing that not a subscriber can name a fault with the service.

The other morning during the hour from nine to ten o'clock, the two Lotties had 116 calls to answer and connect. This is about two a minute, and it may naturally be supposed that it was an impossibility to serve so many. Yet they did it and did it satisfactorily, although it kept the switch-board very warm.

A Young and Foolish Thief.

The young clerk of tailor Doty of North avenue is missing as well as two hundred dollars' worth of cloths, trimmings, etc. Some days ago Doty missed his watch, and could never trace it until today. It was pawned by this clerk, yesterday, for funds with which to leave the city on the 3:27 A. M., train this morning, with a big bundle of goods out of the tailor shop. Two policemen saw him go, and he will probably soon be overtaken. About five years in the State prison, will be his dose.

This young man, whose name is George Reidman, has a bright and rather handsome face, with clear black eyes and every appearance of gentleness, modesty and honesty. He first worked for VanSciver the decorator, and afterwards for Engineer Dunham and others. It is said that after he came to Plainfield some persons from New York traced him here and made him give up some things he had stolen there.

Reidman seems to be the smallest kind of a thief, and the most foolish. Wherever he has worked he has the reputation of lifting all sorts of such little things as he could get his hands on. Nothing could be more foolish than his last action. He carried off property by which he can be traced, and which he cannot dispose of without being suspected and eventually arrested.

Editor Powell Responds to a Cold-Water Toast.

In recognition of the work accomplished in behalf of social purity by the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, its President, Miss Francis E. Willard, was, at the annual meeting of the International Purity conference held last month in Stockholm, Sweden, appointed a member of the executive committee for the coming year. Aaron M. Powell, of this city, is also a member of this committee. Mrs. Mary Clement Leavitt was present at the meeting and writes thus of the compliment paid the total abstainers who were in attendance: "Mr. Tam, a member of the Swedish parliament, presided at the elegant dinner given the conference, and very gracefully asked that the first toast might be drank in cold water, 'out of regard to our abstaining friends.' The member from Plainfield was called on to reply to the toast, and thanked Mr. Tam most warmly for his gracious action."

What Dr. Hurlbut Says of Leland Powers.

"It was my privilege to hear Mr. Leland Powers tell the story of 'David Copperfield,' at Chautauqua, in 1889. It was the most remarkable impersonation that I ever witnessed, passing from one character to another most different, with wonderful rapidity. I at once engaged him for three Chautauqua Assemblies during the Summer of 1890, and at each place his entertainment was received with great enjoyment. At Chautauqua, last Summer, hundreds went two hours before the time in order to obtain good seats and were not disappointed in the entertainment.

"JESSE L. HURLBUT."

An opportunity to hear Mr. Powers in "David Copperfield" will be given on Saturday evening, at the Crescent Avenue chapel. Tickets may be secured at Reynolds' Pharmacy.

The Art of Conversation.

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, of Scotch Plains, a daughter of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, read a paper on "The Art of Conversation" Friday afternoon before an assemblage of ladies in the parlors of Dr. Clement Cleveland, 59 West Thirty-eighth street, New York. Besides Dr. and Mrs. Cleveland, there were present Mrs. Vincenzo Botta, Miss Jeannette Gilder, Mrs. Maud Howe Elliott, Mrs. Morris K. Jesup, Mrs. Charles DeKay, Mrs. F. A. P. Barnard, Mrs. Wm. Tod-Helmuth, Mrs. Croly, Mrs. Jennings Demarest, Mrs. Terhune, Mrs. Jenness Miller, Mrs. Henry Oakley, Mrs. Thomas Ward, Miss Julia McAllister, Mrs. Silvanus Reed, Miss Annie Brown, and Mrs. Charlotte Emerson Brown.

A Burst of Bubbling Bellow.

The entertainment to be given by the Whatsoever Circle, King's Daughters, at Y. M. C. A. hall Friday evening, will undoubtedly receive the liberal patronage it deserves. Of Mrs. Henry Firth Wood, one of the artists who will appear, Marion Harland writes as follows:

"'The Baby's Soliloquy,' as rendered by Mrs. Wood, is an inspiration. The gradations from bewilderment and speculation to righteous wrath and an overwhelming sense of injury; and the expression of the same in an outburst of bubbling, babbling, bellow, are utterly and convulsively funny. The recitation is a unique. The appeal to the heart and memory of every mother is irresistible."

To Discuss the Britons and the Saxons.

The programme of the next meeting of the Hurlbut Circle of the C. L. S. C., which will be held at the home of Mr. Gorton, 52 West Fifth street, will be as follows:

PRELIMINARY VIEW OF ENGLISH HISTORY.

The Britons.....Mrs. Emerson.
The Paxons and the Heptarchy....Mr. Larrabee.
The Saxon Kings.....Mr. Gorton.

Every member is invited to take part in the discussion following the presentation of the papers,

Ratification Meeting.

Joe English, S. A. Haines and other eloquent speakers will address the prohibition ratification meeting at the Reform Hall, Thursday evening, October 23. All who enjoy good speaking are welcome to attend.

Notes from Dunellen.

That the borough of Dunellen is in a thriving condition is evidenced in various ways. Its population is constantly increasing, its provisions for educating the children and youth are becoming better every year, its roads and sidewalks are becoming the pride of the borough, its church privileges are ample, covering quite a variety of religious preferences.

The new school building on the North side of the Central railroad is a credit to the town.

The new parsonage for the home of the pastor of the Presbyterian church is a fine structure. The Rev. W. C. Stinson has already taken possession.

John F. Richters has sold his property in Dunellen and will remove to Newark.

Interesting and Dramatic.

Good plays are so rare nowadays that when such a masterpiece as William Gillette's "Held by the Enemy" comes this way a word or two of praise in advance is neither ill-timed nor ill-advised. The piece is purely an American drama, its situations are intensely interesting and dramatic, and its characters true to life. The fourth act can be safely classed as a perfect triumph of the dramatist's art, the motive and action is so simple and the effects so thrillingly dramatic. "Held by the Enemy" will be presented here at Music Hall, to-morow evening, with as strong a company of actors and actresses as has ever visited this city.

Catholic Young Men Incorporate a Lyceum.

The Catholic Young Men's Lyceum of Plainfield has filed articles of incorporation with the County Clerk, and announces as one of its main objects the promotion of the moral, intellectual and physical condition of its members. The trustees selected to manage the affairs of the association are W. M. Wigger, P. E. Smyth, Thomas Carty and John J. Kenney. The Lyceum has purchased of Emma Falhaber, for $3,100, as announced in yesterday's PRESS, a plot of land, 64x181 feet, at the corner of Fifth and Liberty streets, and will build itself a handsome home.

Stanley Coming to Plainfield.

A positive engagement has been made for a lecture by Henry M. Stanley in this city. The people of Plainfield may feel very proud of this, as his stay in America is short, his lectures limited, and the largest cities are bidding against one another to secure him.

The price of tickets to see and hear him, are as high as five dollars in Boston. But those who have been able to bring him to Plainfield, will sell a course ticket at probably $3.50, which will include a seat at a talk by Bill Nye, a concert by Ollie Torbett and her company, and possibly a sermon by Talmage.

The Official Vote on the Constitutional Amendments.

The vote cast in New Jersey on the constitutional amendments was canvassed yesterday afternoon by the State Board of Canvassers. The estimated figures already given in THE PRESS were found to be very nearly correct. The vote in favor of the special legislation amendment was 3,328, and that against 59,050. For the other amendment there were cast 16,756 and against it 45,611 votes. Essex county cast the largest majority against special legislation, and Hudson the greatest majority against the other amendment.

Can't Go Home Much Before Thanksgiving.

The Union County Grand Jury returned a batch of indictments this morning. The Court announced that it would not dimiss the jury till after Nov. 10, and adjournment was taken till next Monday. It is surmised that the Court's desire is to have the jury at hand constantly in order to proceed against race-track offenders.

—You should see the Belgian lamp that Gavett is selling. It is the best in the market.

—Mrs. I. R. Giles, of 47 East Sixth street, reported to the police this morning that her five-year-old daughter was missing. It is thought that the little one wandered away to a neighbor's house and will speedily be returned.

Fine and Imprisonment for a Mayor.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 22.—Judge Cullen sentenced Mayor Gleason of Long Island City, convicted of assault in the third degree for pounding and kicking Reporter George R. Crowley, to five days' imprisonment in the Long Island County Jail and to pay a fine of $250.

Western Freight Rates Advanced.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Freight rates between Chicago and northwestern points both ways, are to be raised 20 per cent., beginning November 17. This action was taken at to-day's meeting of the Western Freight Association.

An American Arrested in London.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—An American named Wright, and two women named Condy and Irvin, were arraigned in a police court here on a charge of robbing a jeweler in Cheapside of a diamond brooch valued at $550. It is believed that the prisoners are implicated in other jewelry robberies that have recently occurred in London. They were remanded for trial.

Another Irish Member Imprisoned.

TIPPERARY, Oct. 22—The sitting magistrates in the conspiracy trial now in progress here, sentenced Hon. David Sheehy, Member of Parliament for the Northern Division of Galway, and one of the defendants, to one week's imprisonment for contempt of court. He refused to answer questions asked by the magistrates.

The Tariff Effects Belfast Linen.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—In a speech at Louth, Ireland, Attorney-General Webster said it was the duty of the Government, in view of the McKinley tariff, to find other outlets for British industry. The linen factories of Belfast are already beginning to slacken up, owing to the lessened American demand for this product.

The Prince of Wales Among the Poor.

VIENNA, Oct. 23.—Among both the titled and poorer classes in this city the Prince of Wales is making himself very popular. Though indefatigable in performing social duties, he has found time to visit nearly all the charitable institutions and make liberal contributions to their funds.

The Queen Prorogues Parliament.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—At a council held at Balmoral the Queen formally declared Parliament prorogued until the 25th of November.

The cleansing, antiseptic and healing qualities of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy are unequalled.

THE ELECTRIC RAILWAY BOOM.

They Have Improved the Value of Property in the State and are Just What Plainfield is in Need of.

The introduction of the system of propelling street cars by the overhead electric wire has given an extraordinary impulse to street-railroad enterprise in and about Essex county. Ten years ago not a single line in Newark paid a dividend, although all were exempted from taxes and their stock was of dubious value. To-day this stock is "gilt-edged," and is eagerly sought for at prices that a year ago would have been deemed impossible. Stock in street railroads in Newark that some years ago was bought at 50 cents on the dollar was lately sold at the rate of $390 a share and the purchasers assumed a big mortgage debt besides.

Moribund roads in Elizabeth, Passaic, Paterson, Orange and New Brunswick have suddenly assumed value and been acquired by purchase, and will be operated at greatly reduced cost by electricity At the same time new roads are projected in all directions and franchises are eagerly sought for. As a price for granting new privileges and franchises, Newark has exacted 5 per cent. of the gross receipts, the full local tax, and the lighting of the streets with electricity. Orange has exacted a percentage of receipts and five cent fares to Newark. Formerly a street-railroad obtained exemption from taxes and the right to charge whatever fares it pleased. All that is changed now, and capitalists are eager to get franchises on the new conditions. The cheaper system of transit has made these franchises exceedingly valuable.

With the completion of roads already projected and the general introduction of electricity as a motive power, the East Jersey communities will be vastly more attractive for residence than they have been and the effect will be to draw population from New York. One great drawback to the growth of small communities has been the lack of transit facilities and now there is a prospect that these will be abundantly supplied.

East Orange, West Orange, South Orange, Orange City, Montclair, Short Hills, Summit, and other beautiful and thriving places have been almost entirely built up by New Yorkers, because they are readily reached by railroad. Plainfield has no electric street railway and until she has, the Crescent City's growth is less than it would be.

Set Your Watch by Washington.

At noon of each day is recorded in the observatory at Washington, a flash passes over the wires of the Western Union Telegraph company, drops the celebrated time ball in New York, and throws both hands across the figure XII on the face of the big electric clock that has just been erected in Dickinson's window at 13 Park avenue.

This clock is one of the wonderful synchronized self-winding ones recently invented. It does not obtain its motive power from electrical action, thus being subject to hindrances resulting from entire dependence on electrical currents, but instead gains the necessary force from the action of a fine spring, as does an ordinary clock. Two small cells of battery are placed in the top of the case, connected with a magnet secured to the lower part of the movement. As the centre wheel driven by the unwinding of the spring advances, a lever is raised that unlocks the armature and allows it to spring back into position ready for winding. When the lever drops the circuit is instantly closed, the spring being wound by the pawl fastened to the armature. The action of winding breaks the circuit when the winding is completed. The contacts are made so short that the action of the battery is very slight, thus enabling it to perform the work of winding for over a year without renewal or alteration.

New Jersey's Coming Ship Canal.

Further news of the project to construct a ship canal across New Jersey from Philadelphia and Camden to the Atlantic, details of which have already been given in THE PRESS, states that the ocean terminus will be at Tom's River, as was suggested in these columns, and that the route will for a greater portion of the way be along the natural water course of the Rancocas creek through Mt. Holly. The source of the creek, the line of whose bed will be followed, almost meets the source of a branch of the Tom's River flowing in the other direction. At no place on this entire route is there a great elevation, so that the difficulties of excavation will be few.

The opening of such a great waterway will be a vast improvement to the region through which it passes, and will add materially to the commercial interests of New Jersey.

Postal Telegraph Wires Follow the Brook.

The route of the New Jersey Postal Telegraph Company through North Plainfield, after crossing the mountain from Washingtonville, is from the foot of the old Washington Rock road to Green Brook, and along Green Brook to Somerset street. Thus has been settled the problem aroused by the Borough residents' opposition to poles and wires along the streets.

Right You Are.

We hear good news from Union county, to the effect that the outlook for the election of Mr. Marsh to the Senate looks better and better each day. If the Democrats of Union suffer themselves to be beaten with such a candidate, upon such an issue as poolselling, they will not deserve recognition from the rest of the State.—Trenton True American.

George Kyte Accused of Badgering a Fanwood Postmaster Out of Office.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—The inhabitants of Fanwood township have been treated to a most ludicrous exhibition of PuBahism within the last year in obtaining a postmaster.

When the present administration assumed control, and the Hon. John Wanamaker was appointed Postmaster General, it was deemed wise to appoint Mr. Badger, a most respectable citizen, and good Republican, Postmaster of Fanwood, and the bond, required by law to be filed with the Department, was duly executed and forwarded, and within a very limited period Mr. Badger should have received his appointment in writing, and he should have assumed the duties of his office. But, somehow, through the machinations of local politicians, aided and urged on by the demands of hungry satelites, whose fame does not extend beyond the confines of the township, the good intentions of the National Government were frustrated, and the appointee of the Department was not permitted to open the office, in consequence of which the residents of Fanwood were compelled daily to walk two miles to Scotch Plains and back, if they desired to get their mail. Not only was Mr. Badger prevented from performing his duty, but he did not even get back his bond, although he made frequent demands therefore.

This sort of filibustering was allowed to proceed until the indignation of the people became aroused to such an extent that Mr. Justice Kyte a leader of some of the politicians, saw plainly that further trifling would be dangerous; and being well versed in legal lore, he drew up a petition addressed to himself as "Agent of the Central New Jersey Land Improvement Company" in the signing of which the whole community was expected to join, humbly begging, beseeching and imploring said Kyte to intercede and obtain for them the much needed Postmaster. In justice to the good sense of the great majority of the residents of Fanwood be it said that this petition was scornfully rejected by them, and signature refused. The most natural question propounded was "What has George Kyte, as agent, to do with the appointment of a Postmaster, when there is already one in existence who has qualified?"

Another very interesting point, which really needs explanation, is by what process of jugglery A. P. Downer received the appointment, and now holds the office, while Badger, who had fulfilled all the requirements of the Department, had not signified his intention not to serve.

Our friend Kyte now comes before the public asking permission from the people whom he has wronged to represent them in the State Assembly. Will the people sit by quietly permitting such jugglery as above outlined, or will they demand an explanation of his entire disregard for the comfort of a whole community.

If the voters of the third district of Union county will cast their votes freely for Alford B. Cook at the coming election, a certain Kyte will, in an utterly demoralized and dilapidated condition, be lost to sight in the November winds.

ERNEST C. KIEB.

TO BE ABOLISHED.

The Rev. Mr. Robertson's "Juvenile Guardian Society" Will Probably be Wound Up.

(From the New York Times.)

The gentlemen who were alluded to in THE TIMES recently as Directors of the "New York Juvenile Guardian Society" of which the Rev. David F. Robertson, of Plainfield, is manager, were, naturally enough, disturbed at the position in which they were placed by their connection with a concern whose semblance was questionable charity and whose form was a fraud. But it will be remembered that, with the exception of B. J. Sturges, their connection with Robertson was distant, consisting merely in permitting the use of their names for purposes which, when described by the enthusiastic old man who had made a living and a lifework out of them, seemed very praiseworthy.

The only fault that can be charged against them is carelessness and indifference in regard to the responsibilities they had assumed in such an off-hand manner.

On Oct. 15, Messrs Bostwick and Sturges spent two hours examining the accounts for the five months for which Dr. Guernsey's board was responsible. They found that for this period, as already estimated by THE TIMES, the accounts had been correctly and carefully kept, Robertson has also satisfactorily explained the church subscription, which has so often been the cause of insinuation against him. Mr. Bostwick concludes his report to Dr. Guernsey with a refreshing suggestion.

"It seems to me," he says, "that the question for us to determine is whether we are justified in maintaining a charitable organization requiring superintendence, rooms, and other fixed charges while it is without income and the receipts are limited and uncertain."

The concern will probably be wound up at once, for it has long outgrown its usefulness, if it ever had any. Robertson is an aged man, wholly unfit for active service, but he firmly believes after all these years of cheating his conscience that he is pursuing an honest course by becoming a recipient of charity which is meant for other ends. His Directors who are so interested in the cause of charity can do it no better service than by discontinuing this "society," even if they have to make a provision for the old man whose course has brought him to a condition of pitiful loneliness and destitution.

SECRET SOCIETIES.

Masonic.

The monument to Robert Morris, the poet laureate of Masonry, which has been erected at La Grange, Ky., will be unveiled September 30. Hiram Basssett, Past Grand Master of Knights Templar, in Canada, leaves a breach in the order in that jurisdiction that can not be easily filled. For over thirty-six years he was a leader in Templar Knighthood and to his efforts and ability the prosperity of the order in Canada is almost entirely due.

The recent session of the Supreme Council of the Scottish Rite, N. J., held at Cleveland was the most successful meeting ever held by the Rite in this country from a social and public point of view. The Consistory parade, the receptions and pilgrimage to Garfield's tomb and the hospitality extended by the Cleveland members of the Rite were on a scale of magnificence seldom if ever before witnessed in this country. Considerable business of importance was transacted, and thirty-one princes received the thirty-third degree. There were present during the session about five hundred members of the Rite from the various States in the Northern jurisdiction.

Royal Arch Masonry has been making rapid strides in this country during the past twenty-five years. There are now 153,277 affiliated members reported in the United States, which is partly accounted for by the fact that in all the States none can receive the Templar order without first passing through the chapter.

Odd-Fellows.

The recent session of the Sovereign Grand lodge, held in Topeka, Kan., was a very important one for the order. The committee on appeals and grievances had an unusually large number of cases before them, the most important of which was that of Franklin Ellis, who was suspended from duty as Captain General of the Patriarchs Militant by the Grand Sire on the alleged ground of insubordination, and J. L. Barnum, Grand Master of Illinois, who was suspended from his office because he refused to obey a mandate of the Grand Sire which he considered illegal and improper. The controversy in Illinois arose out of the action of the Grand Master in arresting the charter of America lodge, of Chicago, for a violation of the law of the State Grand Lodge.

The lodge thereupon complained to the Grand Sire, who, upon an exparte statement ordered the Grand Master to restore the charter, which he refused to do, claiming that the lodges and members in his jurisdiction were amenable to him alone for any violation of the grand lodge regulations, subject only to an appeal to the Sovereign Grand lodge. The action of Grand Sire Underwood, in these two cases, stirred up considerable feeling in the order and contributed much toward making the recent session the most acrimonious of many years.

There now seems to be some prospect of an Odd-Fellow's temple in Chicago. A corporation has been formed for building purposes and subscription stock books have been placed in the hands of an energetic committee, with reasonable assurances of ultimate success.

Ancient Order United Workmen.

The celebration of the twenty-seventh anniversary of this order will occur October 27. In most of the cities and towns throughout the country active preparations are being made to celebrate the event in some appropriate manner. The order is to be congratulated on having attained such an age and being still in such a prosperous and healthy condition. Its lodges and membership are increasing almost as rapidly as they were ten years ago, and in many of the States a crisis has been passed that leaves the order on a tolerably secure footing for future contingencies.

In Illinois the assessment limit will be reached the next assessment, and the Grand lodge is now hesitating as to whether they will ask for constitutional relief or levy an extra assessment to meet the emergencies. From present indications it seems probable that the latter course will be pursued.

American Legion of Honor.

At the recent meeting of the Grand Council of Illinois, held in Chicago, about sixty delegates were present. The order reported 63,000 members in the State, with the prospect of considerable additions during the coming year. A special assessment of one dollar per year was levied on all the members, to create a fund for the employment of a deputy to organize new councils in the State. The officers of 1889 were almost unanimously re-elected.

MCDOUGALL.

Dangers of Over-Eating.

The question is asked, how are we to know when we have eaten enough? If you are of proper weight, the best rule is to eat just enough to maintain your weight. If you are too thin and your digestion and general health are adequate to building of more tissue, eat a little more so as to gain in flesh. If you have any doubts as to whether you have eaten enough or not, stop short and give your stomach the benefit of the doubt. The Persians have a proverb like this: "The ox knows when to go home from grazing, but the fool never knows his stomach's measure." Our fashion of eating in courses is bad, as it tempts to over-eating, particularly since the dainties are left for dessert. It would be much better to begin with dishes we like best, leaving those least relishable until the last, by which means much surfeiting would be avoided.—From Lecture by J. H. Kellogg, M. D.

MISTAKES OF A DAY.

A Sensible Lecture for Young Women Delivered by Edith Ashmore.

When you laid your head down on your pillow at night you knew that it had been a day of blunders. The tears came into your eyes and you wondered what you had done that made every thing go wrong. My dear girl, you had made little mistakes by thoughtlessness; you had made the music of life less sweet and done your best to make that little rift within the lute that, after awhile, would make all the beautiful music of life quiet. You began the day by disputing at the breakfast table with your brother about nothing; and you ended it by saying very disagreeable things, making him feel uncomfortable and causing him to leave the table muttering; while your mother wondered why he should speak so to his sister. It was his sister's fault, for she expected everybody to give in to her ideas and felt wronged when they didn't.

Next, when you went to practice and were in the midst of a beautiful sonata, you were reminded that the dusting of the parlor was your duty; and you grumbled and did it ungraciously, and even now you can remember how hurt your mother looked as you banged things around the room and wondered why you couldn't have the same time to practice that other girls had. Then when one of your girl friends came in, you made her unhappy by telling her some disagreeable things that had been said about her, and which you thought she ought to know. There is no reason in the world why people should tell each other disagreeable things. You sent your friend away hurt, and with a curious feeling in her heart that you couldn't really be so fond of her as she thought, or else you wouldn't have made her so unhappy. At the dinner table you contradicted your father, you complained of your food, and you were as unpleasant as only a bad-mannered girl can be at the table. When somebody started to tell a little story you stopped it in the middle by saying that it had been told so often before you couldn't stand it again. After this, you dressed to go out, were ill-tempered, broke strings, sent buttons flying and complained of all your belongings. Then you went to see a girl you knew your mother didn't like you to visit. You stayed there and heard two or three scandalous stories, and came out feeling as if you had eaten something that had left a bad taste in your mouth. You forgot a book you had been told to get; you didn't care to go into a grocery shop and leave an order that would save everybody at home a great deal of trouble, and you carried your temper back with you, although God Almighty's sunshine rested on you and ought to have driven it out of your heart. You sulked all evening; you played the piano or read and managed to make things disagreeable for everybody. Now, when your head is resting on the pillow, you are thinking of this and wondering why it all went wrong.

My dear girl, you may have a hundred admirers; you may count your lovers by the tens, and your friends by the thousands, but you will never have but one mother; and when you deliberately go out of your way to hurt or neglect her, you are committing an absolute sin, one that in years to come will rise up before you and make you suffer agonies. When your own little children are about your knees you will wonder and fear if justice is shown if they will not tread on your heart as you did on hers. Try to do better to-morrow. The mistakes of to-day, it is possible, resulted from your getting out the wrong side of the bed; but be wise and see that it don't happen again.—Ladies' Home Journal.

RAILROADS IN CHILI.

Operated so as to Produce a Maximum Degree of Discomfort.

The New York Tribune correspondent, who is exploring South America, writes as follows of railway traveling in Chili: "The Chilian capital is approached from either Valparaiso or Los Andes by the Quillota Valley opening between the Andes and the maritime range. There is a railway owned by the Chilian Government and operated on the English plan. The cars are square compartment boxes, into which passengers are crowded until no seats are reserved for the late-comers, who are compelled to sprawl over the baggage littering the floor. There is an extra tariff of a dollar for the transportation of a small trunk in the baggage-car, and consequently every native travels with his effects in portable form to avoid payment of these charges. I have counted as many as a dozen pieces of small baggage belonging to one traveler, and the average certainly is not less than seven. All this baggage is heaped up in the compartment-car, so that it is impracticable to change one's seat or even to gain one's footing when the last belated passenger, with his bundles, sachels and band-boxes, is in and the tickets have been examined by the guard. At the railway junction of Llaillai, three trains are emptied into a large refreshment room, where a breakfast is served with something of the bustle and confusion of an American railway station. On returning to the compartment-car, every passenger has to clamber over the baggage mounds and to regain, by gesticulation and argument, the seat which some other traveler, possibly one of the previous latecomers, has seen fit to occupy in his temporary absence. This is the English railway service adapted to this southern latitude, and it is operated so as to produce a maximum degree of personal annoyance and discomfort. At the end of the journey a passenger whose baggage has been carried behind the engine, where it has not been in anybody's way, is compelled to employ and fee a railway porter to hunt it up, and possibly another one to put it on a coach.

Just Beyond Our Reach.

Dear, the sweetest songs are those
That have never yet been sung,
And the noblest deeds of all
Are the deeds we have not done.

And the tenderest prayers are those
That our lips have never said;
While the saddest tears of all
Are the tears we have not shed.

Dear, the joy we found the best
Was the joy that first has flown,
And the truest loves are those
Which our hearts have never known.
—Reda Gregory Prelate, in Galveston News.

Before and After.

When he came to woo her,
This was what he said,
As he raised the shining tile
From his manly head:
"How is sweet Evangeline?"
Here he'd bow, polite,
"Sweetest thought, and ownest own.
How's my pet to-night?"

Now he, like a plunger,
Calls in different tone,
As he stalks about the house,
Seeking "ownest own:"
"Eva Jane McGilpin Smith,"
Shouts he in a pet,
"Where in thunder are you now!
Is supper ready yet?"
BY HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW.
—Detroit Free Press.

Parables.

Side by side within my garden,
Grew a flower and a weed:
Oft I watched the flower unfolding—
To the other gave no heed.
So the sun smiled and the rain fell
On them both alike, and lo!
Soon the weed's rank growth was spreading
O'er the hidden flower below.

Once, to me, was told a story
Of the sea-girt Netherland—
How the waters forced the dyke-works,
Sending death on every hand:
Yet the first rift was so tiny—
Had they noticed where it lay,
That a man's hand on the crevice
Would have held the sea at bay.

Trifles oft do make or mar us—
If to faults we give no heed,
They rise up and dwarf us—spreading
Rankly as the garden weed:
Stifling in their growth, the nobler
Instincts that our natures know,
Till, like tender flowers, uncared for,
They in dust are trampled low.
—J. Torrey Connor, in the Home.

"Shut That Door."

The winter time is drawing near,
The chilly season of the year
When snow knee-deep
Will wildly sweep
And blizzards loudly roar;
It won't be very long until
In voices loud and deep and shrill
The bore we'll tell
With wildest yell
To Shut!
That!!
Door!!!

Oh, you who deal with men, beware!
If for their friendliness you care,
Take heed that you
Shall not pursue
The methods of the bore:
And mind you everywhere you go,
In calling on the high or low,
Strive with your might,
Secure and tight
To Shut
That Door.

The Woman.

Only a little brown woman she,
Man of the world and profligate he,
Hard and conscienceless, cynical, yet
Somehow, when he and the woman met,
He saw what other there is in life
Than passion-feeding and careless strife;
There came resolve, and a sense of shame,
For she made as his motto but "Faith and Fame."

The world is foolish: we cover truth;
We're barred by the gates that we built in youth;
Two were they, surely, and two might stay,
But she turned him into the better way;
His thoughts were purified, even when
He chafed and raged at the might-have-been;
He learned that living is not a whim,
For the soul in her entered into him.

He fights, with others, to win or fall,
And the spell of the Woman is over all.
Bravely they battle, in their degree,
For—"The woman I love shall be proud of me!"
And each and woman, the one in heart,
May be buried together or buried apart,
But the strong will battle in his degree,
For—"The woman I love shall be proud of me!"
—Stanley Waterloo, in America.

—E. S. Morgan, in N. Y. Sun.

From My Window.

I know in yon wide, winding distance sleeps
The shallow river; in its limpid deeps
The woodland shadows, thence departing never,
In dreamy undulations sway forever.
I see its silvery gleaming here and there,
Amid the sunlit foliage of the trees;
Upon my lifted brow the kindly breeze
Breathes softly, and the coming eve 's fair.

I lift my eyes; the sun is in the West,
And o'er me like a realm of dreamy rest
Lean down—how fair! the mild and tender skies,
And in their bending deeps what mystic beauty lies!
How faint the outline of that southron fold
Of sunlit clouds, far-streaming into mist!
How high those moving Alps, snow-robed, and rolled,
Where'er the breeze's wanton fancies list!

I see the orchard shadows as they stream,
The wild birds' call I hear, the small wings' gleam
Flits by me o'er the fields of scented clover
Till lost to sight—the sweet, wild flight is over.
Over for them; to them the night, the nesting
On some high limb where moonlit foliage maketh
A walled retreat, whose towers the morning taketh
When night hath struck her thousand tents of resting.

O happy birds! Hath nature pent and fashioned
A fancy wild, an impulse all impassioned,
A heart like yours within my human breast,
That fain would fly to some far realm of rest?
Give me not, God, long years of large success,
Of gain or fame, but these—to me more dear!
A hearth my own, leal friends, a life sincere,
Each gift of Heaven that not elates but blesses.

Thou feadest birds! give me the grace to find
The foods of soul—the just and equal mind
That makes itself no rule to measure others—
The sense of limitation that e'er smothers
The sense of scorn. The wild birds on Thee call!
Let me, like them, find favor at Thy feet
That I, at least, feel not so incomplete,
But Thy Divine completeness covers all!
—Mary T. Downey, in Chicago Inter Ocean.

HE IS A DEAD SHOT.

What Champion Gus Zimmerman Knows About Marksmanship.

Ten Bull's Eyes in Fifty-Seven Seconds—How to Handle a Rifle—Some Phenomenal Scores—It Is All a Question of Nerve.

[COPYRIGHT, 1890.]
[Special Correspondence.]

The man who achieves success as a rifle shot will, at a very early stage of his experience, discover that a complete control of his nerves is essential to supremacy. It does not take a marksman long to find out what the limit of his possibilities is. In other amusements, such as billiard-playing for instance, incessant practice is one of the requisites. To be able to hold your own against an expert with the cue you must, as every one knows, devote years to the game no matter how thoroughly your nerves may be under command. This is not the case with the target. In a few months the novice may easily outstrip the veteran who for years has been trying to "get a line" on the bull's eye.

GUS. ZIMMERMAN.

He is, under ordinary conditions, an excellent shot. When there is nothing at stake on his rifle he can come pretty near hitting the mark every time. If he is not in competition with anybody he will roll up a most fascinating string of bull's eyes. Shooting for fun and for fun only, he will astonish all beholders, but match him against anybody and he goes all to pieces instantly. He understands every little point that is of service to the successful shot, and yet in a match we would not dream of assigning him to duty in any buta third-rate team. As a rule he begins well. For the first four of five shots his aim is reasonably sure to be unerring. After that, signs of a collapse appear. He can do nothing with his nerves. At this stage he is not altogether incapable of hitting the bull's eye, but his disturbance rapidly increases, and is soon practically ungovernable. The rest of his story is soon told. At the tail end of his shooting he is at the tail end of the list. He never can be persuaded to confess that the trouble is with his nerves. He makes all sorts of entirely foreign excuses, but we understand his case and accept them with grave faces. There is one phase of his failing which is as indicative as a whole sermon on marksmanship, and which is equally as amusing. If the match is one of only ten shots, he almost invariably finds a stumbling block in the ninth.

There are occasions when a rifleman feels in better trim for shooting than at other times. My own experience is, however, that these occasions come through no influence he can bring to bear upon them. He may endeavor to get himself into trim and find that, in spite of all his training, he is altogether out of gear when the time comes. And the reverse is sometimes most surprisingly the case. Let us give an illustration. I recently returned from Germany, where I had the pleasure of encountering some of the European champions. I was fortunate enough to bring back with me some prizes worth carrying across the ocean, and I think I did my share toward upholding the reputation of the United States against all comers. On the day after my arrival I went down to Creedmoor and participated in the contest for the Tiffany emblem. Some of the best shots in this country would like to have carried off that emblem, and several of them entered for it. I have a good many friends, and they welcomed me home. They proved conclusively that they were quite glad to see me. As a matter of fact my return provoked something very much like a celebration. When, at four o'clock in the morning, it came to a termination, many bottles of wine had been emptied. That the "reception," with all that it entailed, would make itself apparent on my score, any one might be pardoned for supposing in advance. It did nothing of the kind. I acquitted myself to my entire satisfaction on the first day, kept up the pace on the second and won the emblem on the third. I would not as a rule, however, prescribe celebrations as preliminaries to a match.

The finger must be trained to obey the will as though it were a completely independent member and when it is educated up to that point one great obstacle in the way of the marksman will have been removed. As to the style of holding the weapon, that is largely a matter of choice. It may be held one way or another with equally good results. I have seen men who scarcely bent the elbow at all, holding out the left arm at almost full length and beating all competitors in spite of that straining and uncomfortable position. My method is to let the rifle rest on the tips of the thumb and index and middle fingers of left hand. This enables me to hold the rifle high enough and yet bend the arm so much that part of it is supported by the body.

Some shooters seize the barrel as though the firmer they held it in the left hand the better would be their aim. That is a mistake. The mission of the left hand is accomplished when it has afforded support for the rifle and assisted the other arm in steadying it. I have been particularly fortunate in some of the scores which I have made at rapid firing. I would rather excel at that style of shooting than at any other because it certainly involves a severer test than even that of killing birds, unless, indeed, the marksman is blazing away pigeons against time. Rapid firing, even at a target, involves a tremendous strain, and, to an extent that would surprise the inexperienced, requires great dexterity and the control of almost every faculty. I use the Ballard rifle because it is so constructed that the barrel is easily unlocked and the process of unloading is simplicity itself. Some marksmen clean the barrel after every shot. I do nothing more than unlock it and blow the smoke out. When this is don the next shot clears out the barrel quite thoroughly enough for my purposes. Many a time I have used it for hours without doing any more than this. My rifle weighs twelve pounds, but some men think that a heavier weapon can be held steadier; I do not. I use Winchester ammunition, 38-55; that is to say 38 caliber and 55 grains of powder. The bullet weighs 255 grains. For rapid firing, however, I use a ten-pound Winchester of the same caliber, because all you have to do is to draw down the lever and it is ready for the next shot. An advantage of the Ballard rifle is that you can adapt it to almost any kind of stock, and marksmen sometimes have peculiar preferences in this direction.

A few riflemen prefer what are called the paper-patched bullets, but the majority of them have settled down to the ordinary greased article. English powder is much the same as ours, but in Germany they prefer wet burning powder. It is quicker in its action than our powder. Perhaps the hardest fight I had at the targets in Germany was a match in which out of 50 shots I made 49 bull's eyes. In that contest I would have certainly made a clean score but for the fact that, after firing five shots, each competitor had to retire to give the next man a chance to fire five rounds. This involved so much delay that the shooters lost track of the changing movement of the wind. It became quite puffy toward evening, and I lost one bull's eye in consequence. Another good score was that in which out of 846 shots, I made 601 bull's eyes. This was done inside of three hours shooting. In practice I have made 10

2.—Won at Berlin, Germany.
3.—Won at Morrisania, N. Y.

bull's eyes in 57 seconds, which is a feat not likely soon to be surpassed. The only obstacle to perfect shooting, if you concede that a man has perfect eyesight and nerve and a perfect rifle—which, of course, he never can have—is the wind, and the breeze of the fish-tail variety is the most exasperating. That will at times upset the finest calculations.
GUS ZIMMERMAN.

IN ARMY AND NAVY.

TWO SQUADRONS of cavalry in the Russian army are to be formed exclusively of natives of the Caucasus.

AT L'Orient Arsenal, in France, a great iron-clad war vessel of 11,000 tons is nearly completed. It is strongly armed with immense cannon in revolving towers.

THIRTY tons of Kola nuts have been ordered for the German army, experiments having shown their utility in enabling men to endure severe and prolonged labor.

A NEW kind of lance has been introduced into the German cavalry regiments. Its peculiarity lies in the fact that it is constructed wholly of steel, the necessary lightness being secured by making the shaft hollow.

A NOVEL feature marks the English naval maneuvers this season. As each war-ship arrives at Devonport a number of officers and men are reported wounded and are speedily taken ashore, some in cots by steamers, special provision having been made beforehand for their reception in hospital.

THE introduction of a new rifle into our army, having a reduced caliber, and capable of being used as a magazine gun, is now a certainty; and as the Duponts have received an order for 100,000 cartridges with which to test small arms of thirty caliber, this introduction will hardly be long delayed.

IT is stated that the English War Department has now definitely decided to have a permanent balloon depot at Lidsing, near Chatham. The proposal is an important one for the district, as, in the first place, it means an expenditure of £9,000 or £10,000 upon buildings and afterward the maintenance of a staff there.

INSTRUCTION in agriculture and forestry has been introduced into the Belgian Army, intended for such soldiers as expect to return to the farm on retirement from military service. Land for experimental and practical purposes is acquired near garrison towns. The scheme offers the double advantage of turning out scientific farmers and providing supplies for the army.

A DOCTOR of Vienna has invented a fluid, the use of which, he claims, will minimize the horrors of war. The fluid is to be placed in a shell, which is so constructed that it will burst in falling or striking any object offering but slight resistance. The fluid, upon being released, so affects persons inhaling its odor that they immediately become unconscious and remain in that state half an hour or more.

M. GERVILLE-REACHE, an official reporter in the French Parliament, has calculated that between 1871 and 1890 England spent on her navy, 4,335,916,526 francs; France, 3,636,052,776; Germany, 1,000,724,404; Austria, 470,115,677; Italy, 1,101,165,553; Russia, 1,979,639,702. Of the whole amount expended by her, France devoted 35 per cent. to the construction of new ships; Russia, 39 per cent.; England, 41 per cent.; Austria, 44½ per cent.; Germany, 57½ per cent.

THE General Lieutenant of the Zoorjysky Regiment conceived the idea of trying the efficiency of the "Okhotniks" (a sort of athletic division) in his command. He ordered a company of sixty-seven men to swim across the Volga in a place where the river is over one and a half versts wide, with two officers at the head and one in the rear. When the swimmers had made about a third of the distance a steamer was noticed coming on them at full speed. The officer at the head of the company ordered: "Halt, with faces upward!" and was obeyed as promptly as if on the parade grounds. The company waited until the steamer passed and then proceeded until they reached the opposite shore.

FRESH ETYMOLOGICAL FACTS.

THE word "honeymoon" is derived from the German, and has its significance from the fact that the Germans formerly drank mead—a sweet liquid made of honey—for thirty days after the wedding.

THE name "Johnny cake" is said to be derived from "journey cake," because emigrants journeying from New England to the West were obliged to bake their Indian meal cakes in the ashes of their camp fires.

MALCOLM TOWNSEND, the author of a book of "Curious Facts," says that the word Manhattan is traceable to the Spanish momas, drunkenness; monados, manadas, manatoes, a place of drunkenness. As a confirmation of this theory, Mr. Townsend says that Verrazanni, a Florentine navigator, who landed on the island in 1524, called it the Isla Manhatas because he gave the Indians lots of liquor and made them all drunk.

SOME religious journals are printing a paragraph to the effect that the late Prof. Hitchcock, of this city, held that tobacco was known to the ancients and that its name was derived from Bacchus, the god of wine, says the New York Tribune. The weed was offered to Bacchus as a votive offering, and as the dative case of Bacchus in Greek is "To Baccho," the narcotic gradually got that name. Of course any scholar will at once see that Dr. Hitchcock was too good a Grecian to have fathered such an absurd etymology. As a matter of fact the late President Hitchcock, of Amherst, made the suggestion in question as a bit of pleasantry in a humorous book which he once published.

EVERYBODY knows what a picnic is, but most people would find it hard to tell how it got its peculiar name. Yet the derivation of the word is simple enough and sensible, too. When a picnic was being arranged for, the custom originally was that that those who intended to be present should supply the eatables and drinkables. A list of these necessaries having been drawn up, it was passed round and each person picked out the article of food or drink that he or she was willing to furnish, and the name of the article was nicked, or ticked off the list. The open air entertainment thus became known as a "pick-and-nick." The custom is said to date from 1802, so that the picnic is wholly an institution of the nineteenth century.

Serious Hitch in the New York Conference.

BROTHERHOOD MEN BARRED OUT

The League Magnates Will Not Recognize the Players' Committee.

The Meeting a Stormy One—The Settlement of the Trouble as Far Off as Ever—The New League Insists on Representation or Will Continue the Fight Next Year.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—As predicted, the conference between the National and Players' League and the American Association has fallen through, at least for the present. The Players' League conference committee made a demand that the players be represented in the conference. They persisted in their demand, and as a consequence the conference has not been held and the settlement of the baseball trouble is as far off as ever.

The representatives of the three leagues met together at 12:30. There were present, representing the National League, A. G. Spaulding, of Chicago; John B. Day, of New York, and Charles H. Byrne, of Brooklyn. The representatives of the American Association were Allen Thurman, of Columbus; Chris Von der Ahe, of St. Louis, and W. Barnie, of Baltimore. The Players' League representatives were Al. Johnson, of Cleveland; Wendell Goodwin, of Brooklyn, and E. B. Talcott, of New York; and of the players there were John M. Ward, of Brooklyn; Arthur Irwin, of Boston, and Ed. Hanlon, of Pittsburg.

The meeting between the magnates and players was a stormy one but they all survived to fight on another day. Allen Thurman was in the chair. In looking about over his committee he spied the three players, whose presence was destined to block all the proceedings which might have been taken for the salvation of the baseball cause.

Mr. Thurman declined to call the conference to order until the three players had left the room. The three players retired and the conference was called together. The communication from the Players' League was then read by the chairman. It stated that three additional members had been selected to look out for the interests of the Players' League, and asked that they be admitted to the conference.

Mr. Johnson moved that the new members be accepted, but this motion was defeated on a vote of 6 to 3, the National League and Association men voting against it.

The three representatives of the Players' League then withdrew from the conference and joined the three excluded players. They were quite emphatic in their statements that the conference was at an end for they would not confer unless the players were given a hearing.

The conference then adjourned subject to the call of the President.

John Ward says the Brotherhood is prepared to fight next year if fair play is not accorded the members.

FOUGHT TO SAVE HER HONOR.

Miss Thompson's Complaint Denied by Saloon-Keeper Roach.

NEW BRUNSWICH, N. J, Oct. 23.—A complaint has been lodged against Thomas Roach, formerly a saloonkeeper, by the father of 18-year-old Johanna Thompson. The girl alleges that she met Roach, with whom she is acquainted, and accepted his invitation to take a walk. This was at 9 o'clock at night. When they were opposite a small building used as a club house, Roach caught her in his arms and carried her into the building.

The girl says she fought desperately, and her clothes were badly torn in the successful struggles she made. She was kept in the building until 4 o'clock in the morning, and then Roach gave up and released her. Roach has been arrested. He denies the charge. The house is in at hickly populated district, and surprise is expressed that the outrage could have been committed without anyone seeing or hearing of it. Thompson threatens to shoot Roach.

A Friend of Birchall's Disappears.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Oct. 23.—Percy L. Wheeler, of the firm of Head & Wheeler, boot and shoe dealers, has disappeared, and Head hat assigned. A warrant has been issued for Wheeler's arrest on a charge of appropriating $1,500 with intent to defraud his creditors. Wheeler was a warm admirer of Birchall. They both came here as farm pupils in the same year, having been employed by Ford, Rathburn & Co. Wheeler, after spending a year or two on a farm near here, came to town and lived as a howling swell. He is a native of Portsmouth, Eng.

Arrested on Suspicion.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 23.—William Ward and John Thompson, aged respectively 18 and 16 years, were arrested here on suspicion of having stolen a quantity of gentlemen's furnishing goods found in their possession. They are supposed to have come from Holyoke, Mass., and the police officers of that place have been notified of their arrest.

Found Dead in His Room.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23. — A man who registered as H. Tryer at the hotel No. 147 Washington street, Brooklyn, was found dead in his room with a revolver in his right hand and a bullet hole in his forehead.

La Blanche Signs for a Fight.

BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 23.—George Kessler, champion of Montana, and George La Blanche, the Marine, signed articles for a fifteen round fight to come off in this city between November 5 and 12.

WORKING FOR THE FAIR.

New York to be the Headquarters of the Foreign Affairs Committee.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—A joint meeting of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the World's Columbus Commission met at the Gilsey House in this city. There were also present four members of the Foreign Exhibit Committee of the local directory.

The conference was for the purpose of arriving at a general understanding of the work of the committees. Of the Chicago Committee there were present: Chairman W. F. Baker, M. A. Ryerson, J. W. Ellsworth, and T. J. Leferns. Representing the National Committee were ex-Gov. Thomas C. Waller of Connecticut, A. A. Wilson of District of Columbia, C. H. Way of Georgia, W. H. Lane of Michigan, D. B. Penn of Louisiana, and Geo. V. Massey of Delaware.

New York is henceforth to be the headquarters of the committee and this was their first meeting.

Gustavus Goward was confirmed as representative of the commission to Japan, and Romayn Hitchcock, representative to China.

The plan suggested by an official of the State Department for securing a South American exhibit was taken under consideration.

Prof. Adler, of John Hopkins University, was appointed to superintend the plans, submitted by him and approved by the commissioners, for securing a large exhibit from the Orient. The idea is to interest the merchants of the Orient to the end that they will exhibit at the Fair the manufactures of their country as well as the customs and habits of the people there.

A large number of applications were received by the commission from foreigners asking that they be allowed to represent the commission in their respective countries.

CHASED BY TWO WIVES.

Wronged Women on Their Way to See a Thriving Barber.

AMESBURY, Mass., Oct. 23.—Charles Wilberforce Williams, manager of the cotton weaving mill No. 5, deserted his pretty wife Lotta and three children some years ago. He went to Utica, N. Y., and contracted another marriage. This wife he also deserted.

Wife No. 1 heard a few days ago that the man is now the proprietor of a thriving barber shop in May's Landing, N. J., and that he had recently married the beauty of the village. Wives Nos. 1 and 2 are now on their way to May's Landing, where they intend to make things warm for Charles Wilberforce Williams. Wife No. 2 is a pretty little blonde whose maiden name was Agnes Smith.

From letters received here there seems to be no doubt that the thriving barber is the same man who deserted his Massachusetts and New York wives.

THE LELAND HOTEL FIRE.

The Coroner's Jury Begin an Inquest—A Vote of Censure.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 23.—A large number of witnesses were called last night in the Leland Hotel case before the coroner's jury. The testimony went to show that the building burned quickly and collapsed completely in a few minutes.

The chief of the fire department said he had been connected with the Department since 1871 and never before saw a building go so quick. The inquiry adjourned till next Monday evening.

A vote of censure will probably be made on hotel buildings. The jury will recommend the passage of an ordinance providing that all hotels hereafter erected shall be fire-proof.

The body of a woman was found in the Leland Hotel ruins. It was dismembered and destroyed beyond recognition. It is thought to be either the body of Anna Padden or Mary Doyle, servants at the hotel.

A Stranger's Mysterious Wounds.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Oct. 23.—A well dressed unknown man was found near the woods of Amos Keller, near Columbus, a few miles from here, with a bullet wound in his head and having been shot in the mouth. It is supposed that he shot himself, as a thirty-two calibre revolver was near him. No one appears to know where he came from, and he refuses to give his name and address. He now lies in a critical condition in the Burlington County Hospital at Mount Holly.

The Murphy-Dixon Fight To-Night.

BOSTON, Oct. 23.—No men have been in better condition than Johnny Murphy and George Dixon, who are to contest at the Gladstone Club to-night for the bantam-weight championship of the world and a $1,700 trophy. They are below the stipulated weight, 114 pounds, and are as hard as nails. Dixon is the favorite in the betting.

Comte de Paris and Party.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Oct. 23.—The Comte de Paris and party visited all the principal points of interest on both the Canadian and American sides of the river. The party left this morning at 9 o'clock for Kingston, where they took a yacht for the Thousand Islands.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

An Effort to Relieve Supreme Court Dockets.

ENORMOUS POSTAL BUSINESS

The Revenues of the Government for the Past Fiscal Year.

The President Postpones His Shooting Trip—He Will Meet the Iron and Steel Delegates Saturday—A New Pension Agent in Pittsburg—The Duty on Molasses—Demand for Small Notes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The passage of the bill at the coming session of Congress to lessen the duties of the United States Supreme Court will very probably necessitate the appointment of an additional Assistant Attorney-General and a force of employes to handle the prosecution of United States cases before the court.

At present United States cases comprise about one-sixth of the docket, and one-sixth of the time of the court is consumed in considering those cases. About four-sixths of the docket is composed of "diverse citizenship" cases—that is, cases which come before the court not by reason of the subject matter, but because the parties to the suit are citizens of different States. One of the provisions of the bill, which will pass at the next session, relieves the court of the consideration of the "diverse citizenship" class of cases.

This, of course, will give a clearer field to the United States cases and one-half of the time of the court can be given to their consideration, thus forcing the Department of Justice to greater labor to prepare the cases for trial.

AN ENORMOUS BUSINESS.

Postal Revenues of the Government for the Last Fiscal Year.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The report of the Sixth Auditor of the Treasury, who has charge of the accounts of the Post Office Department, shows that the total postal revenues of the government from all sources for the last fiscal year were $60,882,097.92, an increase over the preceding fiscal year of $4,705,486.84.

Notwithstanding the increase in business, the excess of expenditures over revenue for the last fiscal year was but $548,619.19, against $521,236.06 for the year before. The total received for stamps was $57,651,724.58, an increase over the previous fiscal year of $4,698,622.75. The total amount of money transferred by money orders and postal notes was $261,993,794.20, from which the net revenue to the government was $824,220.24.

Demand for Small Notes Increasing.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The demand on the Treasury for small notes is increasing daily and is likely to continue until the holidays are over. Some considerable relief, however, is likely to come from the issue of the new treasury notes in payment for silver bullion. So far the new notes have been issued only in denominations of ten, one hundred and one thousand dollars; but Treasurer Huston says that he will be ready to issue the new ones and fives by November 1, and the department will then begin to pay for silver bullion in small bills as much as possible.

Duty on Molasses.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Assistant Secretary of the Treasurer Spaulding has informed the Collector of Customs at New London, Conn., that molasses withdrawn for consumption before April 1, 1891, is subject to duty under the old tariff, and the molasses withdrawn for consumption after that date will be exempt from duty without other regard to the date of importation than that required by the limitation of three years required by the new Tariff law.

Pittsburg's Pension Agent.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—A new pension agent at Pittsburg, Pa., will probably be appointed by the President to-day or to-morrow. The office at present is held by William H. Barclay, the Democratic candidate for Secretary of Internal Affairs of Pennsylvania, and who has accompanied ex-Governor Pattison on his electioneering tour.

Workingmen in Politics.

BOSTON, Oct. 23.— Every effort will be made by workingmen here to defeat all candidates for legislative positions who will not unqualifiedly promise to vote in the interests of labor or for such measures as shall receive the endorsement of labor and other economic associations.

Reception to Lord Ponsonby.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 23.—Last night a reception was tendered Lord Oglesby Ponsonby, of London, Eng., by Mrs. J. M. B. Dwight, at her residence on Hillhouse avenue.

SCENE IN COURT.

The Mother of a Murdered Girl Calls Out for Justice.

MAUCH CHUNK, Pa., Oct. 23.—When Webster H. Campbell, who was convicted of involuntary manslaughter in killing Gertie Hiskey, was sentenced by Judge Dreher to six months' imprisonment and fined $20, the aged mother of the dead girl sprang to her feet, and with arms raised on high, in a loud, shrill voice called out: "God Almighty, come down and do justice! I am not satisfied to see my dear daughter slaughtered in cold blood, and him," pointing her finger at the prisoner, "have only six months in jail. No, no! God Almighty, come into this court house and do justice to this case."

She scored the judge, attorneys for the defense and every one whom in her frenzy she thought responsible for the easy manner in which the slayer of her daughter got off. She finally sank to the floor entirely exhausted and fainted away. A cot being brought, she was placed on it and carried out of the court room.

THE MAYOR IN JAIL.

Long Island's Chief Executive Will Serve His Time Behind the Bars.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Mayor Gleason's first day and night in the Queens County Jail at Long Island City, in the cell once occupied by ex-Mayor Debevoise, was passed quietly. The Mayor received a few visitors. He retired shortly after midnight and complained in the morning that his rest had been disturbed by the screeching engines of the Long Island Railroad.

In the morning the Mayor read the papers and received a reporter. He said that he would rather spend five years in prison for assaulting a man in a passion than one day for stealing public money.

Mayor Gleason's cell is 10 by 20 feet, and is furnished with a cot, chair and table. Fruit in a basket was beside the cot, and Mayor Gleason offered it to his visitors. Judge Dykman, sitting at White Plains, refused a stay of proceedings in the Mayor's case. In Long Island City there is a feeling of sympathy for Mayor Gleason, but generally citizens feel the disgrace cast upon the town by its chief executive's incarceration.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Disastrous Fire in a Brooklyn Tenement House This Morning.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 23.—One man was burned to death and a policeman severely injured by a fire which broke out in the brick tenement house at No. 57 Front street at half past one o'clock this morning.

The flames had already attained such headway that the department could not prevent them from extending to the crowded tenements at No. 55 and 59 Front street, on either side of the building in which the fire originated.

The lodgers in the three buildings were panic stricken, and many of them rushed into the street clad only in their night clothing. The body of an Italian, whose name could not be ascertained, was dragged out of No. 57. He was burned to death.

Policeman McCann, of the Second Brooklyn precinct, while attempting to drag out tenants of the building, was very badly burned. He was removed in an ambulance.

Arrest of a Suspicious Character.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 23.—Frank W. Hall, who claimed to be from Easton, Pa., was arrested here to-day as a suspicious character. He tallied exactly with the photograph and description of Walter E. Huey, a member of the Harbor Commission of San Francisco, who is wanted in the latter city for embezzling $23,000 of public money. Hall was senfenced for thirty days to the workhouse, and meantime his case will be investigated.

Jesse Pomeroy Tries to Escape.

BOSTON, Oct. 23.—Jesse Pomeroy has made another attempt to escape from State Prison at Charlestown. He was in solitary confinement and had succeeded in sawing off five bolts from his iron door and had removed the angle iron which protected the bolts. He had been granted the use of a lathe, saw and other tools to manufacture a tin pencil for which he has been trying to get a patent, but had used the tools a portion of the time for a far different purpose.

Columbia Lost the Football Game.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The Brotherhood Park grounds were in bad shape for the football game between Columbia College and the University of Pennsylvania. The attendance was small. The Pennsylvania boys were too strong for the local collegians, and after a very stormy game, won by three touch-downs, a score of 12 to 0.

Killed in a Drunken Quarrel.

WILLIAMANTIC, Conn., Oct. 23.—During a drunken row near the N. Y. & N. E. freight house, James Mallen, aged 45, was so badly injured that he died. Coroner Hill, of Danielson, was summoned and held an inquest. Death is thought to have resulted from a fracture of the skull and cerebral hemorrhage.

The Advance in Express Rates.

BOSTON, Oct. 23.—Mr. Waldo Adams, of Adams Express Company, confirmed the report that express rates were to be advanced November 1, but declined to give any details, saying that the company would notify the public just what the tariffs are before going into effect.

Lawyer Holgate to Face a Jury.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 23.—The Camden County grand jury have found two indictments against Lawyer Florance C. Holgate for swindling Capt. Smith, a wealthy client. One indictment is for forgery and the other for obtaining money under false pretenses.

HOME RULE VICTORY

Gladstone's Candidate Carries a Tory Stronghold.

THE CONSERVATIVES ALARMED.

Their Defeat Extraordinary and Indicates a Change of Government.

The National League Sorely Pressed for Funds—Trouble Over the Tariff Bill in Sheffield—A Thrilling Rescue in Mid-Ocean—An Issue With Labor Leaders. England's Unemployed Workingmen.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—In the Parliamentary election which took place in the Eccles division of Southeast Lancashire, Mr. Roby, the Gladstonian candidate, was returned by a vote of 4,901 to 4,696 for Mr. Egerton, Conservative.

The result is considerable of a surprise. While the Liberals had hopes of success they were not sanguine. The district has been for many years considered a Conservative stronghold. Mr. Egerton, the Tory-Unionist candidate, declined to make any promises or pledges on either the temperance or the labor issues, but personally was very popular, his family being largely interested in the mines at Walkden, and always looked to with esteem and affection as employers of the better class, having granted to the people many privileges not enjoyed by miners elsewhere.

Nevertheless, the miners have voted to support the Liberal nominee, Mr. Roby, who has the hearty indorsement of Mr. Gladstone, and has fought the battle largely on the issue of Irish home rule or English misrule.

PRESSED FOR MONEY.

The Home Rule Party in Ireland in Straitened Circumstances.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Letters and telegrams from Dublin, published in the London papers, represent the Irish National League as more closely pressed for money than had been suspected.

The special collections taken in the churches will not more than defray the ordinary expenses of the League, which are now being largely increased owing to the numerous recent and impending evictions.

It is asserted by Timothy Harrington and other prominent Leaguers that the increased activity of the landlords at this juncture is in pursuance of a concerted plan to embarrass the League at a time when it is believed to be straitened for funds, by throwing upon it for support a much larger number of evicted tenants. The number to be supported has certainly greatly increased of late, while the funds, with the closest economy of administration, admitedly hardly meet the expenditures.

Should it continue, it is said, a general election, which the Government might at any favorable moment precipitate, would find the Home Rule party disabled in advance of the encounter.

Trouble Over the Tariff Bill.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Trade difficulties are arising in Sheffield out of the McKinley Tariff bill. The manufacturers are anxious to cut down wages in view of the loss of the American market, and the cutlers' unions will not consent. At Bradford, several large manufacturers who had spoken of going to America and starting establishments there, have changed their minds in the hope that the bill will soon be modified or repealed.

Booth's Plan Not Practical.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—General Booth's plan of relieving the poor by furnishing them with work on co-operative farms, etc., does not meet the approval of Tom Mann, the great labor leader. Mann's hobby is eight hours. He is president of the Dockers' Union, and says that the number of unemployed in England is not less than 700,000, and that an eight-hour law is the only remedy, as it would require the employment of more hands.

Monument to Soldiers and Sailors.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Fully 8,000 strangers from the Hudson River counties gathered here to witness the unveiling and dedication of the monument erected to the soldiers and sailors of Ulster County. There was an imposing civic and military parade, a score or more of visiting Grand Army Posts, separate companies of the State Militia from Newburgh, Poughkeepsie and Catskill being in line.

Incendiary Fire.

YORK, Pa., Oct. 23.—The carpenter shop of the Pennsylvania Agricultural works, owned by the A. B. Farquhar Company, and four brick dwellings, owned by Samuel Schrom, Mrs. James Spangler, Mrs. Jane Nye and A. B. Farquhar, were burned last night. Loss on carpenter shop about $70,000, partially insured. The origin of the fire was incendiary.

Prices of Window Glass to be Advanced.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 23.—The organization of the window-glass manufacturers includes all the factories at Pittsburg, all in Ohio and all in Indiana, except the factory of C. P. Cole at Dunkirk, that State. Prices will likely be advanced at once. Manufacturers representing 1,200 pots signed the agreement, about 300 pots remaining independent of the trust.

Reward Offered for Fire Bugs.

WINCHENDON, Mass. Oct. 23. — The shop of John Hancock was fired by incendiaries last evening and totally destroyed. Loss $3,000. A reward of $2,000 has been offered for the arrest of the fire bugs.

CRASH IN A TUNNEL.

Frightful Collision on the Cincinnati Southern Road.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 23.—South-bound passenger train No. 9, on the Cincinnati Southern road crashed into a freight train in the tunnel a few miles north of Somerville. All the lights in the cars were extinguished at the first crash and an indescribable scene of terror ensued. The terror stricken survivors groped around in the pitch darkness looking for a means of escape.

To add to the horror of the situation the forward cars of the passenger train took fire from the broken lamps. The express messenger and postal clerk were burned to death. They were pinned down under the debris, and their piteous appeals for help were horrifying.

The accident was caused by the freight engineer moving without orders.

Following is a list of the killed and injured furnished by the company: Killed—Postal Clerks C. L. Doegan and J. G. Gayle, and Firemen Walsh and Gould, all of Cincinnati, and Brakeman J. E. Montgomery. The injured were Engineers Pinelott and Taylor, Miss Alie Gettis, a museum freak; Arch Murphy and R. A. Wheeler.

Diss Debar Again.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Ann O'Delia Diss Debar, the "spook" princess, has opened a clairvoyant establishment in this city. She proposes to devote two hours daily to an attack on Archbishop Corrigan and other ecclesiastics.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Cardinal Alimonda, Archbishop of Turin, is dying.

It is announced in Berlin that Count Herbert Bismarck is engaged to a Russian Countess residing at Mitau, in Courland.

The steamship Majestic of the White Star line, just arrived at New York from Liverpool, made the passage in 6 days, 1 hour and 3 minutes.

The potato crop in Vermont which promised well, is found to be seriously affected by rot, and digging has in many cases been abandoned.

The trustees for the proposed Women's Western New York House of Refuge met at Buffalo and selected Albion, N. Y., as the site for the erection of the house.

Friends of Governor Goodell of New Hampshire authorize the announcement that he will be a candidate for United States Senator at the next session of the Legislature.

The New Jersey Synod adopted the report of the Committee on Temperance which strongly favored prohibition and recommended the election of men to the General Assembly to accord with the views of the churches.

M. C. Beardsley, a young man, whose home is in Havana, N. Y., was arrested at Troy, Pa., on complaint of Henry C. Smith, Superintendent of the agencies of R. G. Dun & Co. The complaint against Beardsley is that of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Rev. Mr. Ballantine of Scottsville, N. Y., a delegate to the Presbyterian Synod, in session at Lockport, N. Y., was found dead in bed at the house of Mr. Alfred Morgan, where he was stopping, at an early morning hour. Heart disease is the supposed cause.

The principals of the New York State Normal schools are in semi-annual meeting in New York city in the Normal school. The State Superintendent of Public Instruction is present and delivered an address. The meeting will continue until to-morrow evening.

Last Friday evening a small schooner rigged yacht, containing six persons, left Fall River, Mass., for Providence Island, where the party intended to spend the next day. Yesterday the boat was found at Happy Hollow on the beach. Nothing has been heard of the occupants.

Alpheus Thomas, of Rochester, N. Y., while leaning over the coffin taking a last look at his mother's remains, was struck over the head several times with a cane in the hands of his brother George, with whom he has been at enmity for several years. Several of those present interfered and put a stop to the disgraceful scene.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—For New England: Fair weather followed by rain; slightly warmer; easterly winds.

For Eastern New York: Rain, preceded by fair in Northern portion; slightly warmer, except stationary temperature in vicinity of New York City; southeasterly winds.

For Eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey: Cloudiness and rain; continued cool easterly winds.

For Western New York and Western Pennsylvania: Increasing cloudiness and rain, preceded by fair weather in Western New York; slightly warmer; southeasterly winds.

BY THE WAY.

—Y.M.C.A. members should remember the "Camp Fire" at the Association rooms this evening.

—There are more Clarks in Westfield than any other one family. Nineteen of them are voters, and nearly all are of the family of the original Abraham.

—At the Prohibition ratification meeting to-night at Reform Hall, Joe English and S. A. Haines will be the speakers. All are invited. Opens at 7:30 o'clock.

—The "Scattered Four" have been having such success with their dances at Mt. Bethel, that they have now arranged to give a ball at Amphion Hall, Monday night, Nov. 10.

—E. L. Suffern will meet the Workers' Training Class for ladies, in the Association Hall, to-morrow at four P. M. The lesson will be a review of the Books of Joshua and Judges.

—Reform Hall having been rented to the Prohibition party for to-night, the regular Thursday evening meeting of the Reform Club will be held in the basement parlor, beginning at eight o'clock.

—Amphion Hall was crowded again, last evening, and another good play was given. To-night one of the Leonzo Bros., will make a change from a black Southern negro to a white sailor boy, in a minute.

—A meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society will be held to-morrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock, in the parlors of the Crescent Avenue chapel. All the ladies of the congregation are cordially invited.

—You can have a fine Swiss watch for nothing by guessing how many hours, minutes and seconds it will run after it is wound up, Oct. 31, by Rogers Bros., the shoe dealers. It can be seen in their window, 12 West Front street.

—The season for shooting ruffed grose, quail, rabbits and squirrel opens in this State Nov. 1, and continues until Dec. 15. The indications are that game will be plentiful. Woodcock shooting is now legal, but the main flight of these glorious game birds has not yet arrived.

—William W. Wilson, the grocer, 246 West Third street, is one of those go-ahead merchants that are the life of a growing city. He knows just what the people in his neighborhood want, and is offering a line of canned goods, creamery and country butter, etc, at remarkably low figures, to build up a trade. A trial order by postal card is solicted.

PARTICULAR MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace V. Miller returned from their wedding trip yesterday, and have taken up their residence with the bride's parents.

Miss Elsie VanZandt's sixteenth birthday was celebrated at her home on Crescent avenue, by a number of invited guests, last evening. There was music, dancing and supper.

George C. Martin, Jr., the retiring Secretary of the Bicycle Club, whose residence in the future is to be Kansas City, will be given a farewell supper at the club house, this evening.

A merry evening was spent at the residence of R. P. Moore of Fanwood, yesterday, over the informal rehearsal of the minstrel entertainment being prepared by the Westfield Athletic Club.

Mr and Mrs. Milton C. Barkalew returned from their wedding trip yesterday, and were given a reception by their parents at their home, Emily and Grove streets, last evening. The house was thronged with guests, and the hours were passed very enjoyably.

A party of ladies—including Mrs. Fred S. Green and daughter, Mrs. John H. Jackson and Miss Lillian Fritts—left town on their bicycles yesterday afternoon and had a splendid run over good roads to Westfield and through the surrounding country.

Dr. H. A. Jones, of 106 East Front street, has been in Plainfield but a short time, but has already won considerable public favor, and his friends and patrons will regret to learn that he has been called away, for a time, by the serious illness of his wife, who is prostrated at Colorado Springs with typhoid fever.

The Scotch Plains Baptists are saying a great many nice things about their pastor, the Rev. Mr. Parks, about the handsome interior finish of their church, and about the recent improvement made to their property by the building of one of the finest church sheds in the State, if not in the United States. The shed is 100 feet long by 35 feet deep. The frame is of hard pine, and the roof is of slate. The ceiling of the shed is composed of Georgia pine and finished in oil. The work was done by and under the supervision of John Bornman.

The Reappearance of a Successful Play.

At Music Hall to-night, will be presented again "Held by the Enemy," a strong play, well filled with comedy which draws a delicious contrast to the patriotic and the sombre scenes, each being so interwoven with the other as to maintain a cumulative interest throughout. A revival of the memories of the dark days come vividly before the audience, but the conflicting interests of the Blue and Gray are so delicately and impartially treated that no feelings of animosity are created. It rather tends to bind the bonds of national brotherhood still closer.

THE YOUNG THIEF STILL AT LARGE.

He Evades the Police Who Follow Him to New York, Returns to Plainfield, Disappears Again, and Eludes Pursuit.

The Plainfield police are still looking for George Beidman, the gentlemanly young clerk, who vanished yesterday morning with $200 worth of goods belonging to his employer, N. M. Doty. While the officers were out of town yesterday, searching for the gentle absconder, Beidman doubled on his tracks, after disposing of his stolen goods, and returned to this city well provided with cash. His first move was to visit a pawnbroker's establishment, where he redeemed two watches, a ring and an overcoat which may or may not have been his legitimate property. His next move, after being warned by the accommodating proprietor that the police were after him, was to hide himself from public view. This he did so successfully that the policemen watching for his departure at the various railroad stations failed to find him, and he is still keeping his whereabouts known to himself.

The Amateurs of the Camera Club Equip Themselves to Take Portraits.

At the regular meeting of the Camera Club, Monday evening, the members present learned with a great deal of satisfaction that that the Club had purchased a seventy-five-dollar portrait lense with backgrounds and all other accessories for the success of those members who might desire to take their friends' pictures. An extensive skylight has been completed in the Club's studio in the third story of the post office building, with a thoroughly equipped dark-room and finishing rooms furnished with all the needs for developing, printing, mounting, etc. The members are accorded the privilege of using the Club's property at any time.

Dr. F. S. Wells, of this city, and James S. Anthony, of Netherwood, were added to the membership at the last meeting. It was decided that the annual public exhibition of the work of the Club, should be held during Thanksgiving week, beginning November 24. "Open nights," which are Wednesdays of every week, have become quite a feature. All friends will find a welcome for them at the rooms, Wednesday evenings, and members present to extend the courtesies of the Club.

Indorsed by Wellesley's Instructor in Elocution.

The following is a strong recommendation for everybody to go, see and hear Leland Powers as "David Copperfield," in the Crescent Avenue chapel, Saturday evening.

WELLESLEY COLLEGE, MASS.

DEAR MR. POWERS:—

I want to tell you a few of the pleasant things said about the entertainment last evening. It is called by many, "the greatest success of the year;" "It was delightful;" and "Mr. Powers is so simple in his manner, and such a perfect gentleman;" "His transitions are wonderful, and his coloring fine." These and many other things; but not an adverse criticism have I heard. All want to hear you again. You may count yourself booked for next year at Wellesley College.

Very gratefully yours,
MARY A. CURRIER.
Instructor in Elocution at Wellesley College.

For Temperance and Against Cigarettes.

A meeting for boys was held in Warren Mission chapel last evening, for the purpose of organizing a Boys' Society with the object of helping members to fight against the evils of intemperance and cigarette smoking. Thirty-five boys signed the pledge. A movement similar to this was started in Flemington during the past year, and resulted in 121 boys signing the pledge in that town. It is hoped that the boys of Plainfield will become largely interested in this movement, and that it may result in the accomplishment of a great amount of good. The boys will hold their second meeting next Wednesday evening in Warren chapel. All boys interested are invited to be present.

Didn't Want to Cry, but the Pain Made Her.

The cover to a coal hole on Park avenue was left removed a considerable time yesterday afternoon, and the pitfall was guarded by only a frail peach basket. Against this slight framework several unwary feet stumbled, and presently a little girl who gave her name as Lizzie Rafferty walked briskly along, brushed the basket aside, and fell partly into the black depths underneath the pavement. She was bruised and cut so severely that in spite of her brave struggle to keep from crying, in the presence of the crowd about her, the tears flowed freely.

Not the Same.

The tickets of invitation are out for the musical and dramatic entertainment which Holy Cross Choir Guild will give to their many friends in the Sunday school building adjoining the church, next Wednesday evening, Oct. 29, not the 30th as at first announced. The entertainment under the auspices of the "Guild of the Church of the Holy Cross" at Seminary Hall, Oct. 31, is entirely another affair, although the similarity of names has led to much unnecessary confusion.

Manager Schermerhorn Sets Us Right.

To Charles Schermerhorn, the Western Union company's representative in this city, is due the credit of obtaining the special time-service from the Washington observatory by wire, that indicates twelve o'clock noon exactly on the face of the self-winding clock in Dickinson's window, 13 Park avenue.

The cleansing, antiseptic and healing qualities of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy are unequalled.

Many Attractions, but the Chocolate Room the Chief.

The fair opened yesterday by the ladies of the Unitarian Society for the benefit of the church building fund is a great sucess. The handsomely decorated rooms were crowded both afternoon and evening, and promise was made of further large attendance for to-day and to-night. Among the many novelties on sale are the famous Galax leaves, which are found only in Europe and the Highlands of North Carolina. Original productions from the hand of artist Champney, perhaps better known by his signature of "Camp," also find ready buyers. The fair affords one of the finest displays of decorated chinaware ever seen in Plainfield. This ware is placed on sale in the chocolate room, where guests are served with chocolate, in Dresden china, by young ladies in "chocolatiere" costume. The Gay Head pottery, of which THE PRESS has already spoken, is eagerly bought by those who admire its odd mixture of bright-colored clays. The Albert ware from Cambridge is also a favorite. There are many other attractions which one cannot mention in detail in limited space. The chocolate room is the wonder of the affair, and to see it in all its glory is worth the price of admission.

Progress of Presbyterianism in Jersey.

The Rev. W. R. Richards, pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, presented to the State Synod at Atlantic City yesterday the report of his Committee on Narrative. This report was a very interesting one, embracing points of interest from all the Presbyteries of Synod, detailing the state of religion and religious work in the various cities and towns in the State, and showing a comparison in collections with other years; the work of the missionaries within bounds of Synod in the different Presbyteries. Many of the churches within the past synodical year have been remodeled and beautified, and others have had additions built and otherwise improved. This year in the Presbytery of New Brunswick has been one of great interest, and many persons have been added to the churches on confession.

A Fine for Every Bon-Fire on the Street.

Those who place reliance in false prophets have themselves to blame if they are deceived. A faithless adviser has announced to an inquirer that there is no regulation against burning leaves or other rubbish on the streets. Those familiar with the city ordinances know that the making of bon-fires on the streets or public ways is at all times prohibited, and that anyone violating this injunction is liable to be fined any sum not exceding twenty dollars. The ordinance is very generally violated, however, much to the annual discomfort of those who like to breathe pure air during the months of October and Nobember as well as at other times of the year.

Fifteen Dollars for a Gigantic Jag of Joy.

A well-behaved citizen who has for many years been an industrious worker in Scott's Printing Machine Works wandered from the path of sobriety, Sunday, and while under the influence of what he admitted was considerable of a "jag" took some friends out driving. On Broadway he became so reckless with his mustang that he nearly upset the vehicle and threw the young lady of the party heavily to the ground. He paid $15 into the city treasury, yesterday, and promised to behave himself in the future.

A Baby Soldier Deserts the Ranks.

The little daughter of Mrs. I. R. Giles, of 47 East Sixth street, who was missing yesterday, as told exclusively in THE PRESS, was found, after the anxious mother had been made almost ill with apprehension, contentedly playing "runaway sojer in de enemy's ranks," with a neighbor's children whose castes are military inclined, and who had decorated a pet dog with bright ribbons as their army horse.

Hang the Expense; He Was Glad He Come.

John Discrow, from New York State, visited his two brothers in Plainfield, yesterday, and was treated to so much liquid hospitality that by night he couldn't stand up on the street without a policeman's help. This morning Judge Codington fined him $5. Discrow said he was glad he come.

LEAGUED FOR SOCIAL PURITY.

A Plainfield Pastor and Other Good People Join Forces in a Great Work for Personal Reform.

Among the many charitable and philanthropic societies incorporated and chartered during the past year is one known as the "Christian League for the Promotion of Social Purity," which recently came before the public by causing the exhumation of the body of Lillie Holzkamp, an inmate of the Leake and Watts Orphans' Home, and also by investigating and calling attention to the serious and distressing condition of the inmates at White Plains jail. This organization was founded by Mrs. E. B. Grannis, the editor and publisher of The Christian Union in accordance with a plan long advocated by the Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis of this city, for the purpose of elevating opinion respecting the nature and claims of morality, to make its obligations and responsibilities equally incumbent upon men as upon women, and to organize the efforts of Christians in preventive, educational, reformatory, and legislative work.

This is the only society in existence whose special mission includes all these various departments of endeavor, and the work is one requiring the greatest wisdom, delicacy, and sagacity in its progenitors. Mrs. Grannis, Dr. Lewis and others have for years been cognizant of the necessity for such a movement, and prepared for its inauguration by inspection and examination of the various causes that lead to the deplorable evils that exist in reformatories, prisons, institutions, and even in schools and colleges, as well as in the World at large. Of these evils it is impossible to speak in detail, but their seriousness is such as to warrant the earnest endeavor of Christian people in their investigation and prevention.

The society is at present comparatively small in numbers, for it is the policy prescribed by its founder never to ask a person to become a member of the League, to join in the work as a duty or as a favor to any person or persons, or for financial benefit to the organization. Every Christian man or woman is eligible to membership, and may be elected a member by contributing an annual fee of $1, or $50 for life membership, the funds thus supplied being used to defray the necessary expenses of the society, which are light, owing to the kindness of Mrs. Grannis in making her house its headquarters, and after such expenses are satisfied the remainder is devoted to the assistance of needy girls and women.

Another principle of the League is never to ask for money to carry on the work from individuals directly, or to send collectors through any audience for the purpose of receiving contributions. All offerings shall be strictly voluntary, and will be expended in a most judicious manner. The officers of the League are: President, Elizabeth B. Grannis; Vice Presidents, Frances J. Barnes and M. P Buchanan; Recording Secretary, Miss H. Barcalow; Corresponding Secretary, M. Louise Thomas; Treasurer, Mrs. T. E Evans. The Executive Committee consists of the Rev. B. F. De Costa, D. D., the Rev. B. B. Tyler, Dr. Kate Bushnell, the Rev A. H. Lewis, D. D., of Plainfield's Seventh-Day Baptist church, Caroline B. Bevell, Mary A Livermore, of New Market, and Mrs. E. B. Grannis. The headquarters of the League are at 33 East Twenty-second street, and its meetings are held the last Friday of each month at 3 P. M.

The practical work of the society is of such a nature as precludes in many cases its publication, but its aim is preventive rather than reformatory. During the Summer many pitiable cases, whose circumstances may not be publicly explained, of girls' and women's need, have been relieved by the women of the League. The lack of employment, the starvation wages paid, the incapacity of women for practical self-support, all engage the attention of the League workers as serious impediments in raising the standard of womanly purity.

Several members of the League have interested themselves in the appointment of police matrons. Others have investigated and made known the immoral practices carried on in the White Plains jail, and informed themselves as to the deplorable habits frequently prevailing in schools for boys and girls. Believing that the knowledge of evil is the only safe weapon of defence against evil, the society has organized mothers' meetings for the instruction of the women in conditions as they exist, and in the duty they owe their children to prepare them for the temptations that may assail them, by imparting information and advice generally withheld.

The reticence of conservative mothers toward their children, both boys and girls, is deemed another of the great mistakes and hindrances in the elevation of the standard of purity.

It is the present purpose of the society to agitate the subject of social purity, to investigate the causes and determine the remedies for immorality of all kinds; to interest the influential in carrying out needed reforms, and to publish and circulate judicious matter which shall elevate the standard of man's social purity to the level of that maintained by woman.

A cordial invitation is extended by the League to every girl or woman to apply at its office for counsel or advice. Confidences are most sacredly guarded, and such aid is rendered as is deemed expedient and warrantable. Those interested in the work are invited to be present at the public meetings, where the objects of the organization are more fully set forth by such well-known and earnest workers as Editor A. M. Powell and Mrs. Powell, of Plainfield, Dr. DeCosta, the Rev. E. P. Twing, the Rev. Mr. Cassell, Mrs. M. Louise Thomas, and others equally interested in the well-being of women and girls.

THEY WILL VOTE FOR KEYS.

Counsel Reed of North Plainfield Accused of Saddling the Citizens of Bernards With Heavy Taxes.

A Somerset county correspondent in writing of Charles A. Reed, of North Plainfield, the Republican candidate for Senator, and William J. Keys, the Democrat candidate, goes on to say that ever since Mr. Keys was nominated the Republicans have worried themselves looking about for some weak point at which to attack him; but they have given it up at last and now content themselves with the cry that Mr. Keys is not a Somerset man, because he has lived in the county only five years. That is perfectly true: and it is equally true that during the five years he has probably paid more taxes than any other individual in the county.

It is not quite so with Mr. Charles A. Reed, the Republican candidate. He is still a young man, rather young, who has dabbled in the politics of the county ever since he cast his first vote some years ago. He is a lawyer, a shrewd advocate and a pupil of one of the smartest members of the Somerset County bar. Law has been his trade, but upon his shrewdness he has always relied for success. The citizens of Bernards on election day, it is said, will show Mr. Reed by their vote how much they hold him responsible for the heavy taxes saddled upon them by his manner of conducting the railroad bonds suits. And so there are many individuals who purchased these bonds upon the information scattered broadcast by Mr. Reed and his associate in the suit. The bonds proved to be worthless, but that cannot be said to have been Mr. Reed's fault. There is an interesting story in connection with this bond suit which has never been published, although the citizens of Bernards have often heard it, especially when they applied in vain to borrow money on their lands in the township.

Those who are competent to make political predictions express the opinion that Somerset will give the largest Democratic majority she has ever given.

The Clerical Pronouncement Against Race-Track Gambling.

The Jersey City Evening Journal, in commenting on the circular issued by the ministers of the State against legalizing book-making and pool-selling on the race tracks, as told of in these columns, remarks:

The clergy have done that sort of thing before, with the very best intentions, of course, but without result. If they would do something more practical their efforts would not be wasted. As it is now, their sermons will be listened to, approved and forgotten, and their circular may be read and will also be forgotten, and persons will vote for their party's candidate, pledged or unpledged, it makes no difference to them.

It is one of the odd moral spectacles of today, this indifference of the masses to reform movements. It would be a mistake if the majority of the people of New Jersey should be classed as not moral and not religious. New Jersey's inhabitants are equal in intelligence and in allegiance to moral and spiritual obligations to the residents of any State in the Union, and if bad laws are passed they do not reflect the wish of the majority. The character of the people of a State cannot be judged by its laws, strange as it may seem.

A vigorous crusade on practical lines would be full of good results, but words and circulars and petitions alone will not suffice. There must be personal face to face work, and the leading men of the community, including the clergy, of course, must be urged to give their presence and voices to the work. When that has been done the mass of voters will forget the dictates of bosses and will vote on the moral side of a question.

E. E. Teeple Wins the Silver Trophy.

The fifth and final shoot for a handsome silver cake basket took place yesterday afternoon at Campbell's club house. Elmer E. Teeple, of South Plainfield, with his new Ithaca gun, was the winner, breaking 19 out of 20 blue rocks. Mr. Teeple is therefore the owner, having won it twice.

The following is the score of yesterday's shoot. E. Teeple, 19; Chas. Smith, 18; T. Brantingham, 18; A. Soper, 16; H. Campbell, 15; Forest, 14; R. Manning, 14; S. G. Smith, 12; Woodruff, 5. The former single winners were S. G. Smith, T. Brantingham and T. Kellar. Mr. Teeple's score for the entire day's shooting yesterday was 49 out of 52.

—Two years ago there was just one female tricyclist in Westfield. Today there are nearly thirty; and in addition there are young ladies who prefer the bicycle as a steed.

AH WING'S JEWEL.

An Alaskan Version of the John Smith and Pocahontas Romance.

Pocahontas has been outdone by an Alaskan maiden. John Smith was only in danger of having his brains spattered over the surrounding real estate when Pocahontas rescued him with her love. The John Smith of Alaska was not only in danger of being killed, but of being eaten, when the woman in whose eyes he found favor saved him.

The Alaska John Smith, says the San Francisco Examiner, was not a titled explorer when he fell into the hands of the savages, nor was his name John Smith. He was only a common yellow-skinned sea cook. His name is Ah Wing, and there is nothing attractive about him. He is about as homely a mixture of Chinaman and Malay pirate as could be found in a day's walk. His Pocahontas answers to the name of Julie just now, but nobody knows what her Indian name was. She is a long way from being Pocahontas' equal in beauty, and the Siwash features of generations were consolidated when her face was made. Still the romance is there.

Ah Wing and Julie, now Mrs. Ah Wing, arrived here on a codfish schooner several months since, but have not gone into society yet. They reside on Ross alley, in Chinatown, and submitted to an interview yesterday. They only submitted to it, they did not take part in it, and when it came to securing the story of their love the reporter was obliged to obtain his information from a third party, to whom Wing had confided it in explanation of his off-color bride.

Ah Wing, some nine years ago, was a cook in the employ of the Navy Department, and was shipped north on the Jamestown. While on the Sitka station Wing's time expired or he deserted—just which is not quite plain—and shipped aboard a whaler. The whaler was wrecked and Wing was cast up on an inhospitable ice-floe. Julie was the daughter of a chief of a tribe of Indians, and, while hunting with her father, discovered Ah Wing, who was as near dead from starvation, cold and exposure as it was possible for him to be and retain life. For days and days Julie nursed him, and he finally recovered, to find himself the object of a great deal of attention on the part of the Indians. They could speak no Chinese or English, and Wing had no comprehension of their dialect. He was at a loss to understand the solicitude with which they fed him and the interest they took in watching the accumulation of fat on his ribs. At last the horrid truth dawned upon him—at least so he says. They were going to barbecue and eat him.

He attempted to escape, but was captured and returned to the village and put under guard. The fatal day arrived. Wing was informed by pantomime that an incision would be made in his neck and his life fluid allowed to escape into a soap-stone basin. He gave all up for lost, when he was inspired by the sight of Julie in tears. He made love to her. She comprehended and went to ask papa. The old chief was fond of his daughter and could refuse her nothing. He issued an edict against baked Wing. The remainder of the village protested, and the chief was obliged to state why he desired the stranger's life preserved. The objectors gave in and Wing and Julie were married in Indian style.

Wing lived with the tribe for some time, but never became very popular. He was not much of a hunter, and preferred to lie around the house, sewing with the women, to chasing polar bears, walruses, seals and the like.

Finally he had a chance to escape. A boat's crew came in from a schooner to trade for skins. Their cook was dead, and Wing begged them to take him away with them. Wing's father-in-law gave him leave of absence for three months and sent Julie along with him to insure his return.

They sailed away, and after much marine wandering and transferring from one vessel to another, arrived in San Francisco. Wing had a taste for the needle and secured a job of tailoring. The faithful Julie proved an adept and shares Wing's labors. They still find some difficulty in conversing. Wing knows a few words of English and a few of Indian. Julie knows a few of English and a few of Chinese.

When their discussions become animated they resort to all three languages at once, and the talk is very exciting. There is a little Wing now, and he is learning all three languages.

Julie will not live long here; she already shows signs of consumption, developed presumably by the unaccustomed foul air.

The story has been pretty well authenticated, with the exception of the intention of the Indians to eat Wing after killing him. His own countrymen do not believe this part of the story, but Wing adheres to it stoutly, and the strongest tie between him and his wife is his gratitude to her for saving him from such a fate.

Voyagers to the North state that they have heard of cannibalism among the Indians, but it has always been attributed to isolated instances of starvation's necessity, and not habit.

Poor Country for Doctors.

An African chief had a bad cold and sent for his family physician. This gentleman could no more cure a cold than any civilized doctor, and was as little likely to confess it. His business, of course, was to give a prescription not impossible to be made up, but a little out of the way, so as to inspire confidence and suggests anatomical study. He prescribed a little fat cut from the heart of a fat man. Unhappily (for the doctor), all the attendants of the chief were lean, but the doctor himself was fat, and the chief, being unaccustomed to wait for any thing—far less a cure for a cold—immediately put him to death and put his advice into execution.

THE TOBACCO HEART.

Many a Child's Health Is Smoked Away Before It Is Born.

The tobacco habit produces physical conditions of a marked variety, particularly as relates to the heart. Men use tobacco all their lives without great apparent damage to themselves sometimes, but their sons will have decided manifestations of the tobacco heart if they try to smoke, and their daughters are nervous and hysterical. Statistics of the examiners of volunteers for the army show that one-third of all the applicants who are rejected are ruled out because of having a tobacco heart. Many of them are to all appearances strong and robust yet suffering from this constitutional defect which makes them liable to succumb to any unusual strain.

Everybody knows that there is a growing number of young men and women who are good for nothing physically. Many men and women of sixty and seventy are more hearty and vigorous than their children. It is getting to be almost fashionable to be an invalid. The school children are pale and puny. There are other causes, but tobacco must be held responsible for a large share of this. The constitution of many a child is smoked away before it is born, and thousands and thousands are suffering in various ways because their fathers have squandered their nervous energy and vitality in the use of tobacco.—From a lecture by J. H. Kellogg, M. D.

Elaborate Tea-Gowns from Parisian Designs—The Latest Fall Hats—The Rage for Turquoise Blue Trimmings—Mrs. Kendal's New Gowns.

[COPYRIGHT, 1890.]
[Special Correspondence.]

New gowns, new bonnets, and one might almost add new faces—for many are so bronzed by the summer's outing—are beginning to strew our avenues and thoroughfares

"Thick as autumnal leaves that strew the brooks
In Vallombrosa,"

and again it seems as if it had never been before, when autumn suggests warmth of color and richness of tone. In all that is new there is a decided touch of French grace and originality, and yet it is claimed that American women are not half as keen about French fashions as formerly, that they are growing more English in their dress every year. However, to dress well it is necessary to "feel the pulse of fashion," which means to know what French people are making and selling and wearing. Undoubtedly the aorta of the whole arterial system of fashion is located in Paris, and every pulse throb is felt throughout the universe.

To be fully convinced of this fact, one need only to pass behind the scenes of any of our large importing houses, and inspect the novelties from the leading Paris designers, and which can be designated by nothing less exalted than "creations."

Elaboration is carried out most extensively in tea-gowns or house-gowns, which are becoming more popular every day. They are so graceful and hide so many deficiencies. One beautiful example among a few fresh things that have just arrived, is a tea-gown rich as regards materials, but quite simple in shape. It is in old rose bengaline, and the front displays a pretty drapery of creamy lace gathered into a pointed band of gold embroidery at the waist. The bodice in front is fashioned after the manner of the zouave.

The zouave, like the poor, we have always with us; but it is so jaunty and becoming that it is difficult to let go easily.

Another pretty house-gown of Paris make is illustrated, and is most artistically draped in pale pink flowered silk, with crepe de chine front in Greek style, and revers of plain silk of a slightly deeper rose tint. This also lines the robe, and is again evident in the wide open sleeves, giving such an easy, comfortable aspect to the gown.

Our summer hats have played many parts, and their tumbled appearance bears testimony of the trying conditions of moisty weather under which they have performed their duties. Out of respect to their departed freshness, we relegate them to the oblivion of their boxes, and let retrospection write the epitaph of their charms, while the bent of our energies is turned upon the new comers.

One of the latest models in hats, which we illustrate, is a shape that will be reproduced in felt and velvet, for it is particularly pretty and becoming. The crown of fancy spotted velvet is puffed and draped, then encircled by ribbon velvet, which, brought to the front, forms an upright bow, and from the back is brought down to form strings. Suivez moi plumes are arranged at the back.

The quaint little hats, which resemble an inverted butter-ladle more than any thing else, are becoming more and more popular. They are generally covered smoothly with velvet, edged with feather trimming, and a few birds or a bunch of small tips pose at the back. One little shape of brilliant red velvet is edged with black, and upon the front brim is arranged a design in cut jet, while a jet dragon-fly nestles among "Prince of Wales" tips at the back.

Another is made of velvet in the new turquoise color, which is vivid and a most trying shade to the complexion in the daylight. However, it is charming for evening wraps, and should ever be combined with gold. A complete costume in this brilliant turquoise blue was recently imported from the house of Felix, Paris. One can always recognize the Felix costume, for it is complete with hat, muff and wrap to match. This one of turquoise habit cloth was trimmed elaborately with gold braid, and bordered with Kalinsky fur, which is a golden yellow. The hat was covered with yellow dressed kid, with turquoise trimmings, and the muff of kid was combined with the cloth, very odd in shape, and delicately perfumed with Italian orris powder. All fancy muffs are perfumed nowadays, and there is nothing more delicate for the purpose than Italian orris, which is less oppressive than the flower sachets.

Among the list of charming gowns which Mrs. Kendal has brought over for her American tour is an exquisitely pretty day dress in the new turquoise color. The material is crepe de chine, and the skirt is plain, save for a flounce around the hem. A zouave of gold and turquoise stones sets off the bodice, and there are high, puffed-up sleeves.

A fitting accompaniment to the new and dainty muffs are the showy embroidered mouchoirs of crepe lisse. They are in all possible shades and are embroidered on the edges in floral designs, like the one illustrated. Strong contrasts are the rule, such as a border of purple pansies on a nasturtium-pink center, heliotrope upon pale green, mignonette on old rose, and the like.

To look at the display of handkerchiefs upon the shop counters and in the establishments where they are made and sold as specialties, one is slow to realize that a century and a half ago a certain royal family possessed only two. There are also very beautiful white linen cambric handkerchiefs, with borders wrought in colors; but the elegant and thoroughly genteel pocket-handkerchief is either lace bordered or hand-embroidered in white.

It would be hard to improve upon the variety of exquisite materials already received for evening gowns. Beaded net, with broad stripes of velvet, is a novelty, but jeweled nets will be the most favored in the way of drapery this winter. Pretty gowns for young ladies will be made of colle in bright colors, with satin-striped borders such as we find on our gauze vails. They will simply be made over slips of silk to match in color. A girlish gown in white crepe is festooned around the hem with a wreath of white rose petals, and the bertha and sleeves are trimmed in the same way.

The newest model of a bridal gown made by a leading couturiere abroad, is simple in design yet exquisitely elegant. As usual with bodices, no fastening is visible; the train which follows full and gracefully, is hooked on to the corsage at the back, and the corsage in front is finished with a drapery of lace. The sleeves and Medici collar are also of lace, and a simple cluster of orange blossoms nestles at the throat—for the long sprays and chatelains of flowers are no longer the height of fashion. Two volants, or flounces of lace are headed with orange blossoms. The vail is arranged not to cover the face.

With gentlemen it is the fashion to wear less jewelry than formerly, which is a turn in the right direction.

The new grape jewelry recently introduced in London, is beautiful, and looks quite seasonable now. The fruit is beautifully modeled and colored and of the natural size. It doesn't look heavy or clumsy as one would suppose who hadn't seen it. A brooch consists of three or four green or purple grapes, and the stalk of the fruit is imitated in gold. There are watch chains and bracelets ornamented with the same fruit. Jewelers are trying to find a substitute for moonstones, as they have grown a trifle monotonous. One of the newest and most brilliant ornaments for fastening in the folds of an evening gown, is the "rising sun" in diamonds. The ultra-fashionable woman nowadays has diamonds for morning, diamonds for afternoon and diamonds for evening wear. A diamond coronet which may be converted into a necklace is a popular head ornament.

An imported novelty in fur is a stole-collar with flat boa ends which reach to the feet. It is made of cinnamon bear fur, and is very elegant. L'ETOILE.

ABOUT THERMOMETERS.

Boys and Girls Who Want to Learn Something Should Read This Article Very Carefully.

Have you ever noticed what an important instrument a thermometer is? How frequently do we hear one person complaining of the excessive heat of a room, and another saying: "Do you think so? I do not find it uncomfortably warm."

How often do they refer to a little instrument hung up on one of the walls, which tells them at once whether the heat of the room is greater than it should be or not?

Yet few are aware of the physical laws which enable the little instrument to impart such valuable and trustworthy information to them: fewer still know how it has been constructed.

It is an every-day, commonplace thing; useful, cheap, and to them uninteresting. Attention may perhaps be drawn to the artistic, carved frame in which it lies, but the work-a-day, plain little thermometer comes in only for so much attention as is compelled by discomfort or curiosity.

FIG. 1.

Let us find out what the thermometer does by first taking a short lesson in calories. Supposing you took three basins, one having very hot water in it, the second ice water and the third moderately tepid water.

Now, if you placed your right hand in the cold water, and your left hand in the hottest water, and after holding them there some time, put both your hands in the tepid water, to the right hand it would feel warm, to your left hand it would feel cold.

Which hand are you to believe?

Assuredly there is a failing somewhere, and it lies in the fact that you can not be sure of the previous temperature of your hand before feeling a body.

Now the thermometer is not to be deceived in any way by sensation; it will always give the same record for the same degree of heat. And I must caution you not to confuse "degree" with "amount" of heat.

If you had a large basin full of boiling water, and took a cupful away, the cup would contain water of the same "degree" of heat, but there would be very much less heat in the cup as regards "amount."

Perhaps you already know that inanimate objects are divided into "solids," "liquids" and "gases."

Now the effects of heat on solids are twofold. Bodies are said to be made up of elementary particles called atoms, and, roughly, these atoms are in the closest proximity in solids, less in liquids, and least of all in gases.

The first effect of the application of heat to a solid, such as iron, is to separate its atoms further from one another, and so make it larger. In other words, it expands. If heating be carried on to a greater degree the solid becomes liquid—i. e., adopts the shape of any vessel it may be in, having no shape of its own; and, lastly, if the heating be carried on still further, the liquid becomes a gas.

The principle of the thermometer depends on the expansion of bodies exposed to the varying conditions of heat. You know that when a thermometer encounted a high temperature the mercury rises in the tube and occupies more space.

I dare say that many of you have noticed thermometers which had in them a reddish fluid instead of mercury. This is colored alcohol, and we shall consider the comparative merits of this form of thermometer with the ordinary mercury one later on.

I shall now tell you how these little thermometers are made, but, before doing so, let me refer to an experiment figured in Fig. 1.

This is called Gravesand's experiment: a is an iron ball, which will go through the circle c with ease; a is subjected to heat, and after awhile it is found that it will no longer go through c as it did; a is therefore left resting on c, and as it cools it falls through.

This serves very aptly to show the expansion of a body with heat, and its subsequent contraction on cooling. Of course, bodies which absorb moisture do not expand in heating—e. g., wood—they rather contract.

It occurred to scientific men that as certain things expanded under the influence of heat, the amount of expansion might be made to represent the degree of heat applied. Solids change in too slight a degree to lend themselves to purposes of measurement of fine gradations of temperature; gases, on the other hand, are too much affected by variations of temperature to be useful for practical purposes.

Liquids, however, present the happy means, and of these mercury is the liquid metal which expands most constantly equally for equal degrees of heat. How, then, are these little instruments made? I will tell you.

A tube, having a fine bore, known as a capillary bore, from the Latin "capilla," a hair, is taken, and at one end of this a small bulb is made by means of a very hot flame; at the other end a funnel is made; into this funnel mercury is placed, and the bulb is heated. Some of the heated air rushes out through the mercury, and on cooling some mercury is forced into the tube to take the place of the air which has escaped.

This mercury finds its way into the bulb and is in its turn heated. It becomes volatile, and the whole tube being full of mercury and mercury vapor, all the air is driven out, and, on cooling, the tube fills with mercury from the funnel.

The whole thing is again heated, and while hot the funnel is removed, and the upper end of the tube is sealed, presenting the appearance seen in Fig. 2.

On cooling, of course, the mercury contracts, and leaves above it a perfect vacuum, the tube presenting now the appearance seen in Fig. 3. Our thermometer is now made, but we have to graduate it.

Now it has been discovered that the temperature of melting ice is a constant one—that is to say, it is always the same. This temperature is known technically as the "freezing-point."

FIGS. 2 AND 3.

The first thing to be done, then, with our thermometer is to see at what level its freezing-point stands, i. e., how high the mercury rises when the bulb of the thermometer is plunged into melting ice.

This point is scratched on the glass with a diamond; but this fact is not enough to have ascertained. It has also been demonstrated that, at a certain pressure of the air, steam given off from boiling water is always of a constant temperature. It is necessary to obtain these conditions to ascertain what is called the "boiling-point" of our thermometer. A special apparatus is used, which is so devised that the whole of the thermometer as well as the bulb is enveloped in steam. Of course the mercury rises to a certain height, and this level also is recorded on the glass tube in the same way as the "freezing-point."

Thus we have two fixed points from which to take a start in making our thermometer; but our own sensations are acute enough to distinguish between freezing and boiling, in the general acceptance of those terms, so we must subdivide the distance between the freezing and boiling-point in our thermometer, and we may do so in various ways.

I dare say that many of you have noticed on the thermometer at home that the scale, as it is called, is printed on the frame of the thermometer, and the letter F. is placed at the top or bottom of the scale.

This letter F. is distinctive. It is the first letter of the name of the chemist who invented the particular scale to which it is appended. His name was Fahrenheit.

Now, Fahrenheit found that he could artificially produce a much greater cold than that of melting ice by means of a mixture of salt and snow.

He therefore called the temperature of melting ice 32 degrees, and that of snow and salt 0 degrees, or zero—that is, "nothing." He erroneously supposed that he had found the lowest possible temperature, but that was soon proven to be a mistake.

Boiling-point on Fahrenheit's scale is 212 degrees, so that between freezing-point and boiling-point in Fahrenheit's scale there are 180 degrees. This measurement of temperature is the one most in vogue in our own country; but among scientific men, and in most European countries, another scale is in use. This is the scale of Celsius, and is generally known as the "Centigrade" scale, from the following facts: Boiling-point and freezing-point are ascertained as already described, and freezing-point is called 0 degree, or zero, and boiling-point 100 degrees; and the distance between 0 degree and 100 degrees is equally divided into a hundred parts, each of which is called a degree centigrade.

Although these two scales of measurement are best known in this country, there is another which is the scale for Russia and Sweden. This is the scale of Reaumur. In this, as in the Centigrade or Celsius scale, the freezing-point is 0 degree, but the distance from freezing to boiling-point is only divided into eighty equal parts, so that boiling-point Reaumur is 80 degrees.

A glance at Fig. 4 will show at once the relation of the three scales to one another. We have noticed those thermometers which are made with a red fluid inside instead of metallic mercury. They are made with alcohol instead of mercury, and the alcohol is colored with cochineal or carmine, sometimes with Prussian blue.

Mercury, at certain very low temperatures, freezes, and therefore ceases to be of any service in recording low temperatures; alcohol has never been frozen yet, and therefore is of use in this way. Alcohol, however, boils at a lower temperature than water, and becomes a vapor; it can not therefore be used for such high temperature as mercury.

The old-fashioned thermometers were made with a spherical bulb; these, however, are not the best in shape, and the bulbs are made larger and thinner, thus giving a larger surface of exposure. Of such a shape are the clinical thermometers used by physicians, which register from about 95 degrees Fahrenheit to 113 degrees Fahrenheit.

The proper way is to suspend the thermometer in the middle of the room, where it is free of any object likely to affect its temperature.

Similarly, one often sees a thermometer outside a window, which is intended to take the temperature of the outer air, and on which a hot sun is shining; the thermometer, of course, registers much too high a temperature. It should be suspended in the open air and in the shade, and always facing to the north.

And now I hope that many of you know more about thermometers than you did, and can feel, when you see one, "I know how you are made," "I know how you act." The little friend is, I hope, no longer a mystery to you, but a thing of familiar interest.—W. L. Liston, in Golden Days.

—Mr. Smallfry—"My dear, don't you think this would be a good time for your mother to go on a nice long visit to her friends in the East? The rates are so low now, you know." Mrs. Smallfry—"Yes, but you know the low rates are only offered for a round trip." Mr. Smallfry—"Ah——hum——that's different."—America.

—Miss Amanda Anderson, of Georgia, is sixty years of age and has never traveled more than a mile and a half from the spot where she was born. Though there is a railroad within three miles of her house she has never seen it. She has never seen a brick house, and has seen a painted house only once. Though her nearest neighbor lives within three hundred yards of her she has never seen his house except once in her lifetime. She has never been inside of a church or listened to a sermon or prayer, and her ideas of religion are extremely vague. She is, nevertheless, an intelligent woman, with no eccentricity except that indicated in the above description of her.

—Dr. Francis Dowling, in a paper which he read at a recent meeting of the Cincinnati Academy of Medicine, stated that "between the ages of ten and forty that at least one person in three is subject to partial deafness. The great majority of cases of impaired hearing are hereditary, and are largely owing to a too close consanguinity of the parents. Deafness is more prevalent among males than females, owing to the fact that the male is more exposed to the vicissitudes of the climate. There is much more deafness in America than in Europe, and this is due to a more general use of scientific instruments, such as telephones, where one ear is used to the exclusion of the other.

This is to certify that my mother has suffered from nervous weakness for over 20 years. We have tried innumerable remedies and physicians, she also went to Germany for her health, spending in all thousands of dollars with only temporary benefit. At last we tried Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic and Elixir of Iron, and I honestly and sincerely believe that she not only received more benefit from them than all others combined, but would have died before this without them, as she was getting weaker every day, before we began with the above medicine.

Missionary Work--Not in Africa--In Plainfield.

We want to convert everybody to be of our views; that is to pay only the actual value for the goods they receive. This can be accomplished by becoming patrons of our store. We sell for cash, and you do not have to pay other people's bad debts. Glance over our prices and see for yourself how much you will reduce your housekeeping expenses by buying from the originators of low prices in this city.

We make a specialty of Teas and Coffees, handling all kinds that grow; New crop Tea, (all kinds) 35c lb, worth 60c; Coffee, way down! Try our combination (Nicaraugua, Java & Santos) 32c., worth 40c; finest produced Elgin and Phila. Creamery Butter, 28c lb; good Creamery, (as sold in most stores for best) 25c; fresh Dairy, (used for both table and cooking purposes) 22c; best Cocoa in the market 38c; Pearl patent flour, (has no equal) $6 75 bbl; Pilsbury's best XXXX, $6 75 bbl; best Kerosene, 150 test, 10c gal; strictly Virginia sweet potatoes, 40c basket, (½ bush); Granulated Sugar, 5c. Call and get prices on other goods. REMEMBER, we carry the finest line of Groceries ever offered to the public; and the reputation that we enjoy fully attests the success of our efforts. BEAR IN MIND—We do not advertise any one article in particular as a leader to mislead the public but our full line right through will be found to be at least 25 per cent. less than any other store in Union county. AND DON'T FORGET—That we call for and deliver orders promptly to any and all parts of the city, free of charge; on Saturdays till 9 P. M. Special attention given to mail orders.

THE TARIFF TROUBLE

The Alleged Fatal Defects in the New Bill.

SECRETARY WINDOM'S OPINION

Its Constitutionality a Question for the Courts to Decide.

Ex-President Cleveland Argues a Case Before the Supreme Court—The Spanish Minister's Recall—Candidates for the Vacancy on the Supreme Bench—Postmasters Appointed by the President.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The alleged fatal defects in the new Tariff bill formed an interesting topic of discussion in official circles, and while the defects were not thought to invalidate the bill as a whole, sentiment was almost unanimous that Section 30 of the tobacco paragraph, which was omitted in its entirety, could not be enforced, and where it by construction referred to other paragraphs, it might impair their strength.

As to the law signed by the President not being the law passed by Congress, Secretary Halford said the bill signed by President Harrison was the same bill signed by the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate. These officers by their signatures certified that the bill had passed their respective branches of Congress and their attestation of that fact was the usual mode of procedure and the only official notification the President ever received that a bill had passed. Whether the law was constitutional or not was a matter for the court to decide.

Secretary Windom, when questioned on the subject said it did not become him to question the constitutionality of legislation passed by Congress. He was simply an executive officer to carry out the will of Congress, and when laws were placed upon the statute books all he had to do was to execute them. If doubts exist as to a given law being constitutional, those doubting it could have their doubts removed or confirmed by taking the matter to the proper judicial tribunal.

MR. CLEVELAND'S TRIP.

Arguing a Case Before the United States Supreme Court To-Day.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Ex-President Cleveland appeared before the Supreme Court of the United States to-day and argued the case of Wallace vs. The City of New Orleans.

At the Arlington, Mr. Cleveland was assigned to the suite of rooms occupied during the sessions of Congress by Senator Hiscock. He left orders at the hotel office that he would see no callers, and spent most of the time before going to court in his apartments, looking over papers relating to the case in which he is interested.

There was a rumor current that Mr. Cleveland had dropped dead. He was told of this, and laughingly answered: "You may tell my friends that I never felt better in my life than I do at this time."

The Spanish Minister's Recall.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Senor Muruaga, the Spanish Minister, gives the following reason why he asked for his dismissal: "I was appointed by the Sagasta Ministry when the Liberal party was in power, and I do not desire to remain in office under the Conservative party now in control, headed by Costillo." The rumor that his recall is due to unpleasant relations with Secretary Blaine has been heard here, but of course the State Department and the friends of both gentlemen are diplomatically silent and refuse to talk on such a matter.

Stricken With Apoplexy.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Ex-Governor B. G. Noble of Wisconsin was stricken with apoplexy at the residence of relatives, No. 212 Ross street, Williamsburg. He was stricken while going up stairs and was badly injured by the fall. He is 74 years old and is not expected to recover from the blow.

The Hospital Nurse Held for Homicide.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Henry C. R. Lawrence, the Bellevue Hospital nurse who was arrested for an assault upon John W. Sprague, a patient in the hospital, and who a few hours after the assault died, was held in the Yorkville Court without bail, upon a charge of homicide.

Students Robbed.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Oct. 24.—The rooms of the students at Bradford Seminary in Bradford were entered last night by thieves who secured about $300 worth of property. The students were at supper at the time of the robbery.

Tons of Coal Burning.

QUINCY, Mass., Oct. 24.—Fire has been burning in the coal bins at J. F. Sheppard & Sons' wharf, at Quincy, since Monday. About 600 tons of hard coal and 400 tons of soft coal have been damaged.

Birchall's Chum Arrested.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Oct. 24.—P. L. C. Wheeler, Birchall's chum, who absconded a few days ago, was arrested in Detroit, and rather than go to jail, surrendered to his creditors the $2,000 he embezzled.

Found His Body in the Hudson.

RONDOUT, N. Y., Oct. 24.—The body of James Mellon, who was drowned off the boat Wesley Pettit about a week ago, has been found in the Hudson River at Port Ewen, badly decomposed.

THE GALE ON THE COAST.

Ravages of the Wind and Waves—Steamers Driven From Their Course.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Oct. 24.—The severe northeasterly storm that set in yesterday has been raging with considerable violence all along the New Jersey seacoast towns to-day.

Seldom has the sea been in such a rough state as it was last evening. It was a difficult task to walk a half block along the ocean front.

At Sandy Hook the waves, as they dashed upon the shore, rolled far up on the beach and submerged the tracks of the New Jersey Southern Railroad, doing considerable damage. At Seabright, Monmouth Beach and Gallilee, the extreme high tide cut into the bluffs and caused much damage by washouts.

Long Branch suffered much by the terrific storm. The big cut along Ocean avenue was cut into again by the breakers, and still further damages sustained. Scarcely a crab pot or a fisherman's net was left uninjured between Long Branch and Seabright. In several instances where the owners of the crab pots and fishing pounds set out to take in their traps their boats were capsized and the inmates had a narrow escape from drowning. Noteworthy is the case of John Morrison, whose boat was swamped in his attempt to save his nets. But for his timely rescue by a fellow fisherman he would have gone to the bottom. When the rescuing party had nearly reached the shore they met with the same fate as Mr. Morrison. Their boat was swamped and they had a hard fight to reach the shore in safety. In each instance both boats were lost.

POUNDED TO DEATH.

An Old Man Brutally Murdered in His Barn.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—The murder of Michael Brezell, at Desplaines, 16 miles from here, was one of the bloodiest crimes in the history of this section. Brezell was the station agent of the Northwestern road at Desplaines, and though a man of apparently humble circumstances had nevertheless amassed considerable wealth in his seventy-six summers, and was regarded as one of the richest men in Desplaines. He carried nearly all his riches about with him in the shape of notes or bills.

The testimony shows that while Brezell was in his barn he was set upon by three men, who literally pounded his head to pieces, his arms and hands being also cut in several places. Money and notes to the value of $5,000 were taken from his pockets by the murderers, who then made their escape, but not until they had been seen by several persons.

Last night the police arrested Frank Burns, who says he is from Buffalo; Thomas Sye, hailing from Montreal, and John Murphy, coming from Toronto, on suspicion of having murdered Brezell. Two of the men were captured near Palatine and the third two miles east of Desplaines. They claim to have been in Chicago but their statements are not believed. They will be taken to Desplaines.

The murdered man's wallet, containing over $4,000 worth of non-negotiable notes, was found on the railroad track some distance from the town.

Farewell Reception to Dr. Lieber.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Dr. E. M. Lieber, the well known German statesman, was given a farewell reception at Cooper Union last night by the German Catholics of the city and vicinity. On the platform were many prominent citizens. Addresses were delivered by Bishop Wigger of Newark, Archbishop Corrigan and others. Herr Lieber, who came to this country six weeks ago to ascertain the financial, social and religious standing of Germans in America, sails to-morrow for Germany.

A Murderer's Children Testify.

BATH, N. Y., Oct. 24.—In the trial of Emmett Crane for the murder of Mrs. Perry at Addison, the defense introduced evidence to prove the prisoner's insanity. Five of the prisoner's children testified that he was injured about the head at one time and since then he has acted strangely and he has been considered to be of unsound mind.

The Coroner Caused His Arrest.

DANBURY, Conn., Oct. 24.—At the request of Coroner Doten, prosecuting Attorney Averill issued an indictment against Thomas McCoy for manslaughter, in causing the death of William Watson, whose body was found in Still River, three miles east of this city on October 12, and he will be brought before the court to-day.

Presidential Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Presidential postmasters were appointed as follows: Pennsylvania, George F. Dengler at Schuylkill Haven; New Jersey, Benjamin B. Pearce at Manasquan.

His Death Was Accidental.

MILFORD, Mass., Oct. 24.—An autopsy on the body of Stephen J. Lyons of Milford, found in the Charles river, showed that his death was accidental, he having fallen, while partly intoxicated, from a bridge into the river.

SHIPS TO BE TIED UP

English Employers Prepared to Go to Extremes.

A CLASH WITH TRADES UNIONS.

The Great Liners Sailing to America May be Manned by British Soldiers.

Great Preparations in Germany to Celebrate Von Moltke's Birthday—Bernhardt Makes a Great Hit in Cleopatra—The Foreign Office Interested in Michael Davitt's Charges.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The statement regarding the proposed laying up of vessels by the Shipping Federation is confirmed.

It is now ascertained that the scheme has been for some time contemplated and preparations have been making quietly. In fact, it is asserted on good authority that nothing but a reasonable attitude on the part of the trades unions will now avert the calamity. The movement, however, will not affect the great liners sailing to America or elsewhere, as these will be manned, if necessary, by recruits from Her Majesty's navy.

The tension between the London dockers and their employes has extended to kindred trades, and is equally shared by those employed by ship owners at Liverpool, where a serious strike is considered an inevitable event in the near future.

Since the last great strike the Liverpool branch of the federation has maintained its organization in good shape, and the members expect, when the next crisis is forced upon them, to be able to import a large number of non-unionists. They assert that at the slightest pretext for a grievance the union men will stop work at the command of their leaders, who frequently visit them, causing delay in the loading and unloading of vessels and entailing loss on the owners.

CHEERS FOR MOLTKE.

All Germany Alive to do Honor to the Venerable Field Marshal.

BERLIN, Oct. 24.—Count von Moltke, on his arrival here, was met at the railway station by an enormous crowd of people, who cheered him the entire distance from the station to his quarters.

All Germany is alive with preparations to do honor to Count von Moltke on his ninetieth birthday.

The venerable Field Marshal is the only military man of the day whom the Emperor really regards with veneration, and to whose opinion he bows. There has been for many years a friendship approaching affection between young William and the veteran general, the good will of the Emperor being cordially reciprocated by his eminent subject. In the German army, also, all agree in their admiration of Von Moltke, and the testimony to his abilities and services is as universal as it is sincere.

All the courts of the Empire will be represented in to-morrow's and Sunday's celebration, and many sovereign princes will be present in person and proceed, with Emperor William at their head, to congratulate the great commander. The various municipalities throughout Germany will hold celebrations and it is said to be the desire of the Emperor that Alsace and Lorraine shall show their equality by special demonstrations. It is not yet certain, so far as semi-official utterances indicate, what will title be offered to Von Moltke by the Emperor.

Davitt's Charges.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—It is asserted here that the Foreign Office has requested Consul-General Hoare to take some action, by legal steps, in reply to the charges which Michael Davitt has made against him of inciting dynamite outrages. Davitt declares that he courts an inquiry by suit for libel or otherwise.

Demanding a General Election.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—As a result of the Eccles election, the Liberal press unite in demanding a general election to test the sentiment of the people as to Home Rule for Ireland. The Government, however, shows no disposition to gratify this wish, and the Conservative papers are mute on the subject.

Bernhardt as Cleopatra.

PARIS, Oct. 24.—Sardou's version of Cleopatra, written for Sarah Bernhardt, had its first production last evening at the Porte St. Martin Theatre. Every available seat was occupied. The performance made a profound impression

O'Brien and Dillon's Tour.

PARIS, Oct. 24.—William O'Brien, in an interview, said that the Irish party was assured that the American tour of himself and Mr. Dillon would yield sufficient funds to last until the general election.

LOOKS LIKE FOUL PLAY.

A Nude Body Horribly Cut Found in the Erie Canal.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 24.—The body of an unknown man was found in the canal near Washington street bridge. The body had evidently been in the water for some time, as it was partially decomposed. A large cut, seemingly made with a knife, extends from the ear to the jaw on the left side of the face, and there is a deep gash on the breast just below the collar bone.

Mrs. Vincent, a lady who was on a barge tied to the wharf between Washington and Plymouth avenue bridges, was the first to discover the body. She saw something floating near the bow of the barge, and supposing it to be the body of a large dog, gave it a push out towards the middle of the canal, but as soon as she had done so she discovered that it was the body of a man.

The body is that of a man about 35 years of age, with dark hair and sandy moustache. The body was almost in a nude condition. The shirt was around the neck like a scarf, the trousers were torn to shreds, which were hanging about the feet, and all the remaining consisted of shoes and stockings. From a gash in the breast the lung protruded, and there was a deep cut in the groin. Coronor Graham said he could not form an opinion from the casual examination as yet made whether the cuts on the body were indicative of foul play.

TURFMEN IN TROUBLE.

Michael Dwyer Arrested for Keeping a Gambling Place.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Michael Dwyer, the well known turfman, and president of the New Jersey Jockey Club, was arrested upon a warrant issued by Justice Frazer, of Rahway, charging him with keeping a gambling place. Mr. Dwyer was released on bail to appear before Justice Frazer to-day.

Mr. Dwyer was arrested at the instance of "Pete" De Lacy, who has been causing wholesale arrests of bookmakers at the New Jersey Jockey Club's track, on charges of gambling.

Shortly after Mr. Dwyer's arrest De Lacy was himself arrested on a warrant in which he is charged by Henry Stedeker, a bookmaker, with conspiracy. De Lacy was unable to find a bondsman and was locked up.

Nine Indictments Against a Newspaper.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., Oct. 24.—Nine indictments were reported against the attaches of the Leader by the grand jury on account of that paper's attitude during the recent cigarmakers' strike. Six are for libel—three against the manager, two against the editor and one against the city editor. There is also one indictment against each of the persons specified for criminal contempt of court in disregarding an injunction issued by Judge Forbes, which prohibited all persons from unlawfully encouraging the strikers. The accused furnished $50 bail on each indictment.

Two Millionaire Families United.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—The great society event of the season was the wedding at high noon of Miss Albertina Huck and Marshall Field, jr., the only son of Chicago's greatest merchant. Two millionaire families were united by the marriage. The bride being a member of the Catholic Church, the ceremony was performed by Most Rev. Archbishop Feehan. Few guests were present, only the relatives and most intimate friends having been invited. The bridal couple left for New York en route for a year's visit to Europe.

Blown to Atoms by an Explosion.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 24.—A terrific explosion in one of the fulminate departments of the Union Metallic Cartridge Company caused great consternation among the 600 employes in the main factory. George Baker, employed in the department, was blown to atoms, his body being scattered in every direction. Deceased was over 50 years old and was considered a very careful man. The explosion shattered a large quantity of glass in the main building on the opposite side of the street.

Green Goods Swindlers Active.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—A letter has been received by United States Marshal Jacobus from John Rothschild, a merchant of Washington, Neb., complaining that his section of the country was flooded with "green goods" circulars from New York, and asking the marshal to arrest the senders if he could find them. He describes the way in which the swindlers work, gives several addresses used by them, and concludes with: "I was swindled the same way last spring."

Engineers Discuss Federation.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 24.—The Convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers gave their attention to the discussion of the question of federation. Nearly every delegate has a plan of his own to suggest, and no vote on this question will likely be reached for some time. This afternoon the election of officers will be held and the place for holding the next International Convention will be selected.

A New Daily Paper.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 24.—After four months' existence the Evening Globe to-day withdraws from the field of Baltimore journalism. From its place of publication will be issued to-morrow an evening one cent paper to be called The World, backed by Scripps' League, which has papers in several western cities.

Closed on Account of a Strike.

MARLBORO, Mass., Oct. 24.—One of Rice & Hutchins' shoe factories—the Middlesex—in this town has suspended work, owing to a strike caused by the employment of five non-union girls in the stitching department.

DIXON THE VICTOR

Johnny Murphy Knocked Out by the Colored Lad.

THIRTY-NINE ROUNDS FOUGHT.

It Was a Desperate Battle Between Crack Featherweights.

Two Hours and Twenty Minutes of Savage Fighting—It Was One-Sided from the Start—The Last Four Rounds Sickening—Dixon Won the Fight With Scarcely a Scratch.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 24.—The fight between Johnny Murphy and George Dixon, two featherweight pugilists hailing from Boston, took place here last night at the Gladstone Athletic Club. The battle was for the championship, a purse of $1,100 and a stake of $2,000, the loser to receive $300 out of the purse.

Murphy, who occupies the position of boxing instructor at Harvard College, was trained by Tom Murphy at New Bedford. Dixon was attended to at Roxbury by Tom O'Rourke.

That the pugilists had undergone a careful course of training was plainly visible, for when they both jumped through the ropes they appeared trained to the hour.

The battle was witnessed by fully 2,000 enthusiastic persons, representing all classes of the sporting world.

The ring was a twenty-four-foot one, the posts being well padded so as to avoid any possible danger in case either of the men should fall against them.

The crowd went wild with excitement and cheered each man as he entered the ring. Dixon took his corner first. He was closely followed by Murphy. Both wore white sweaters.

The fight from the first round was a fine one. It was fast and furious. In the first part of the contest Murphy did a good deal of rushing, but was unable to land with any great effect.

After two hours and forty minutes of murderous fighting Dixon knocked his man out. It was all one-sided from the first. Dixon had everything his own way. Murphy's hard luck followed him in this battle, as in his last with Cal McCarthy, but he showed more pluck and endurance last night than is generally seen in the ring. He broke the thumb of his left hand in the very first round, and was practically helpless throughout the fight. He stood up for thirty-nine rounds and allowed Dixon to make a chopping block of him without wincing.

The last four rounds were sickening. Murphy's left ear was almost torn from his head, and the blood ran in streams over his body. In the thirty-ninth round his body looked as though it had been flayed. He didn't drop, but he was staggering against the ropes when one of his seconds mercifully threw up the sponge.

Dixon won the fight with scarcely a scratch. His left was swollen a little, but he didn't look as though he had been through a forty-round fight.

When the result was announced the crowd which had been refused admittance to the Gladstone Club, and which stood in the rain outside, cheered the victor, who was driven away.

FOUR PERSONS POISONED.

They Inhaled Prussic Acid Formed by the Use of Other Chemicals.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24.—Four persons employed at the Quaker City dye works, Howard and Oxford streets, were poisoned in a peculiar manner. Two of them will die.

The victims are: Bernard Hughes, 19 years; James Tighe, 46 years; Walter Spellman, 37 years, and William Eberhardt, 17 years.

For a week past a chemist has been experimenting with a new dye. Directly beneath the laboratory is the dressing room in which the street clothes of the employes are kept.

It is supposed that the ingredients used by the chemist in his experiments formed a compound which produced prussic acid, and that some of the deadly fluid leaked through the floor of the laboratory to the dressing room and saturated some of the clothing there.

Hughes entered the dressing room about noon, and came out complaining of feeling ill. His face was of an indigo hue, and he was taken to St. Mary's Hospital. By the time he reached the institution his heart had almost ceased to beat.

Tighe, Spellman and Eberhardt, who who into the room after Hughes, were seized with the same symptoms. Two were taken to the same hospital, and Eberhardt was carried home.

A physician visited the dye works to discover if possible the cause of the men's illness. He at once detected the odor of Prussic acid, and although the chemist denied using it in his experiments, he learned enough to convince him that other chemicals used had formed the compound.

The men had inhaled the fumes of this deadly poison. The physicians attending Hughes and Eberhart say they will probably die. Tighe and Spellman inhaled less of the poison and their cases are not so dangerous although they are still very sick.

Balfour's Mission to Ireland.

DUBLIN, Oct. 24.—Since his arrival in Ireland Mr. Balfour has gone nowhere in public without the attendance of two police constables. He is at present engaged in receiving and examining reports in relation to the potato blight, with a view to strengthening his contentions that the situation is not so

Birchall Denies It.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Oct. 24.—Referring to the Toronto Globe's alleged confession of the condemned murderer, Birchall says there is not a word of truth in it.

THE RACE RIOT.

White Men at the Mercy of an Armed Body of Negroes.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 24.—Only meagre reports can be obtained concerning the reported race riot in Coffee County, as the trouble occurred some distance from the nearest point of telegraphic communication. It appears that in the riot four white men were shot down; B. E. McClendon, Frank and Thomas Seers, and John Hendrix. None of these are dead, according to latest reports.

The Governor has received a request to order out the militia, on the ground that the white people are at the mercy of an armed mob of negroes. He accordingly ordered the Waycross Rifles to proceed at once to the scene of the conflict.

It appears that the negroes are being led in the riot by one L. P. Varn, a white man, engaged in the turpentine business near Stokes' turpentine mill. Stokes, Varn and Thomas Seers had a dispute about a tract of land. Varn put his men to work on the timber land, and Seers shot one of the negroes and drove the others from the wood. They returned in the afternoon and fired into a crowd of Varn's hands. To have revenge on Seers, Varn's negroes armed themselves and made an assault on the settlement, with the above result. At last accounts matters were somewhat quieted, and it is believed there will be no other trouble.

Gave His Children Poison.

BERLIN, Oct. 24.—A retired farmer named Gast, living in the vicinity of this city, gave his children poisoned sweetmeats to eat and partook of some himself. Gast and three of the children are dead. Two other children are dying.

A Missing Fishing Party Safe.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Oct. 24.—The fishing party consisting of Ernest Bellum and George and Willie Burkle, missing since the gale, have returned home, having put in at Nashawena.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The U. S. cruiser Baltimore has arrived at Lisbon from Sweden.

The bronze statue of Major-General John Stark, "the hero of Bennington," was unveiled at Concord, N. H.

William Welsh, of Albany, a commercial traveler, died at the Woodruff House in Watertown, N. Y., of heart failure.

At the Barge office in New York 107 Mormons landed from the steamer Wisconsin during the morning. An ineffectual effort was made to detain them.

The great rendering house of the Western Abattoir in the western suburbs of Montreal, was burned during the night. Loss, $50,000; fully insured.

The case of Charles Richardson of Philadelphia vs. the Potter, Lovell Co., of Boston, has been again continued, this time until November 11. This is the fourth continuation.

John McDermott of Newark, N. J., is in custody on a charge of cutting his wife's hand because she declined to return some of the wages which he handed over to her shortly before.

General Davis, a veteran of the late war, who was visiting friends at 175 West Twelfth street, New York, died suddenly during the morning. He belonged in Gloversville, N. Y., and was Colonel of the regiment of the National Guard in that section of the State. His comrades of the G. A. R. took charge of the remains.

In the Superior Court at Worcester, Mass., Frederick Kimball, ex-teller of the People's Saving Bank of that city, who is accused of stealing over $50,000, and who went to Europe with the Le Bon woman and on returning was arrested in New York, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with embezzlement.

Ernest C. Rowe of New Haven, Conn., a young newspaper man, has arrived in San Francisco with a safety bicycle, which he had ridden clear across the American continent as far as Ogden, with the exception of about 700 miles over a rough, almost roadless country when he walked. The journey was commenced August 14.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—For New England: Cloudy weather and rain; high northeasterly winds, becoming variable; slightly cooler.

For Eastern New York: Cloudy weather and rain; continued cool, high northwesterly winds, becoming variable.

For Eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey: Cloudy weather and rain; high frosts, northeasterly winds, becoming variable, attending a storm moving along the coast; stationary temperature; fair to-morrow.

For Western New York and Western Pennsylvania: Continued cool northeasterly winds; cloudy weather and rain.

BY THE WAY.

—Shorthand classes will meet as usual at the Y. M. C. A., to-night.

—"The New Uncle Tom's Cabin" will be presented by the Lorenzo Brothers and Company, at Amphion Hall, to-night, and to-morrow afternoon a matinee will be given.

—A prize pumpkin will be on exhibition at the United Tea & Coffee Growers Association store, to-morrow, and will be delivered at the house of the customer buying the largest bill of goods up to 9 P. M. Read their adv. to-day.

—The Democrats will have a rally and mass meeting with speeches by Fred C. Marsh, the senatorial candidate, Wm. Hicks, the shrievalty candidate, and others, at Amphion Hall, Wednesday evening of next week.

—The attendance at Music Hall, last evening, was wretchedly poor, but the presentation of "Held by the Enemy" was remarkably good. The cast was fine, not excepting H. C. Drake, of this city, as an orderly, and the scenery was complete and well handled.

—The Young People's League of the First Baptist church have instituted a Normal Training Class for Bible study. Meetings are to be held every Friday evening, including to-night, just previous to the regular League session. Charles B. Brown is leader of the Class.

—At the "Little People's Fair" to be held at Mrs. H. T. Smith's, 27 Bay street, Saturday afternoon and evening, for the benefit of Grace church building fund, will be found useful, ornamental and filling articles, not only for the "Little People," but also for their uncles, aunts and cousins.

—In the amusement column of this issue will be noticed the announcement of the coming of Marshall Wilder, the appearance of Miss Maude Agnes Bowers, and the presentation of a farce by the well-known Plainfield amateurs already mentioned in these columns. Only a limited number of tickets are for sale. Those desiring seats should leave their names at Reynolds' Pharmacy.

—There were fifty at the Y. M. C. A. camp fire, last evening, although it was such a stormy night. The "Ladies 9" had dressed the room in appropriate taste, and the grave and reverend members sat around in the straw, ate popcorn and peanuts, told stories, gave conundrums, listened to speeches by Wm. D. Murray, James R. Joy and Walter McGee, and sang college songs to the accompaniment of Mr. Dudley and his banjo.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

The Somerville Unionist-Gazette says that Alex McIntosh of South Plainfield, and Miss Ida Terwilliger, were married at the residence of the bride's parents in South Somerville, Wednesday.

Miss Julia E. Bulkley, Principal of the Plainfield High School, and Chas. E. Boss, principal in the Borough, have been elected members of the State Council of Education. Their terms expire in December, 1892.

The marriage of Sophia Dall Compton, of this city, and Dr. J. Howard Reed, of New York, will take place on Thursday evening, November 6, at seven o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Halsted C. Compton, 300 West Front street.

Miss Anna B. Miller of Westfield, has been chosen to represent the Union County Women's Christian Temperance Union at the National Convention to be held at Atlanta, Ga., November 14. This is the first national delegate the Union county Union has ever had.

Geo. W. Abbott, Jr., of Somerville, responded happily to the toast "Plainfield" at the West End Athletic Association banquet Saturday evening, and D. N. Messler responed to that of "THE PRESS." A pleasant telegram was read from Manager C. C. Burnet of the Plainfield Crescent League.

A New York paper of today says that "One of the largest weddings ever held in Union county took place at the Littell homestead, near Fanwood, Wednesday, when Miss Mattie T. Littell was married to William H. Clark, of Plainfield. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Cadwell, of the Presbyterian Church of Westfield."

Miss M. C. Burdette, of Chicago, Secretary of the "Women's Baptist Home Mission Society" of the United States, will address the "Young Ladies' Missionary Society" of the First Baptist church, Saturday afternoon at three o'clock in the lecture room of the church. She will be accompanied by a young lady graduate from the Training School, and the exercises will be very interesting. A cordial welcome will be given to all.

Quite a number of the friends of E. F. Arnold, of the census office department in this city, celebrated his birthday last evening by giving a dance at the home of Mrs. George Henry, East Third street. The fact that Mr. Arnold was entirely ignorant that his friends had such a pleasant surprise in store for him, lent added pleasure to the occasion. A table spread in the dining-room showed quite a number of very handsome presents. Among the many guests were: the Misses Kate Gilliam, Culley, Spriggs and Peterson, and Messrs Wm. Barrett, Moore, Peterson, Wm. Mastern of Philadelphia and many others. Music was furnished by Reilly's orchestra.

A FIRE-BUG'S REVENGE.

Ejected from Campbell's Club House. He Burns the Stables, Roasts the Live Stock, and Imperils the House and Its Inmates.

The extensive stables of Ellis Campbell's Club House, a well-known resort on Park avenue, just across the line of Middlesex and Union counties, were burned to the ground last night, and the man who is suspected of setting them afire has disappeared.

A notorious character of unsavory reputation had been spending the afternoon in the bar room of the place, in spite of repeated requests to depart. Finally, at about half-past seven o'clock, his presence became so decidedly objectionable that he was forcibly ejected by Harry Campbell, a son of the proprietor. After a moment, however, he returned, took three matches off the bar, and shambled away in the direction of the stables. Five minutes later Mrs. Campbell glanced through a rear window and saw ablaze creeping up the side of a pile of straw under one of the sheds. She alarmed the household at once, but the flames spread rapidly along the line of outbuildings, and attention was turned entirely to saving the live stock. The stables were filled with valuable trotting horses and blooded cattle. All of these were saved; but fifty head of poultry, a mammoth hog and two hunting dogs had to be left to their fate, and were burned to death. All of the outbuildings were consumed except a corn crib, including 100 lineal feet of open stalls, 120 feet of box stalls, and the main building used as barn and stables. Ten tons of hay, two tons of straw, 500 sheaves of corn stalks, four sets of harness and various miscellaneous articles also were burned. The wind blew the fierce flames directly against the house, which was saved from destruction only because of the drenching rain that fell. The fire made a bright illumination, and the light was seen by many people in Plainfield and in the surrounding country. Mr. Campbell himself was riding along Park avenue towards home, saw the reflection in the sky, and judged at once that his place was burning. He estimates his loss at $3,000, on which there is an insurance of only $300. He used to carry a large insurance, but his thirty-five years' residence at the Club House has given him an immunity from fire, and in fancied security he allowed his premiums to lapse. As soon as he can lay hands on the suspected fire-bug he will have him tried for arson.

A Scheme for the Good of You All.

J. F. Loeser, one of Netherwood's most enterprising and philanthropic citizens, is just now, heart, hand and pocket, deep into another project for the advancement of Plainfield's beautiful suburb in particular, and the contingent interests of the city and the profit of its merchants in general. He is contemplating the publication of a handsomely illustrated album of photo-engravings of the prettiest and most elegant homes at Netherwood, with descriptive matter concerning that suburb and city, their present attractions and advantages and what the future has in store. Ten thousand copies are to be issued, and not only circulated thoroughly among the people here, but one will be sent to each family mentioned in the elite directories of New York and Brooklyn, and copies will be on distribution in all of the New York hotels where richly framed photographs of scenes and homes about Plainfield, will be hung. THE PRESS earnestly recommends Mr. Loeser and his scheme to all to whom he may present it.

A Rare Entertainment.

The programme to be presented by Leland Powers, the prince of impersonators, at the Crescent Avenue chapel, to-morrow evening, is a dramatization of that favorite story, "David Copperfield." Mr. Powers impersonates during the evening the following of Dickens' rare characters:

|---|---|
| Fisherman Peggotty, | Lawyer Wickfield, |
| Ham, his nephew, | Agnes Wickfield, |
| David Copperfield, | Little Em'ly, |
| Steerforth, | Betsy Trotwood, |
| Uriah Heep, | Mrs. Micawber, |
| Mr. Micawber, | Martha Endell. |

The acts average in length about fifteen minutes, and are arranged as follows:

Act I—a. The old ark on the sands.
b. At Mr. and Mrs. Micawber's.
Act II—a. Law office of Wickfield & Heep.
b. Little Em'ly's flight.
Act III—a. A Winter's night in Canterbury.
b. Mr. Micawber aroused.
Act IV—a. Mr. Micawber assists at an explosion.
b. Em'ly's return—The shipwreck.

This Evening's Entertainment.

The entertainment at Y. M. C. A. Hall, this evening, under the auspices of the Whatsoever Circle of "King's Daughters" of this city, is unusually attractive because of the number of local people who will take part in the programme. Miss Force, a pupil of A. Venino, and Miss Vanhart, will be the piano soloists; Messrs Robert Gorton and Bethuel Barnes, the vocal soloists; and the Crescent Quartette, consisting of Messrs Stevens, VanArsdale, Barnes and Gorton, assisted by Messrs Randall, Teal, Smith and Freeman will also sing. This music will intersperse readings by Henry Firth Wood and Mrs. Henry Firth Wood, who are unexcelled in their particular lines.

The Most Attractive Course Ever Offered.

The date of Explorer Stanley's appearance in this city will probably be fixed for January. The tickets will not be over four dollars, and will include seats for a talk by Bill Nye, a lecture by the Rev. T. De Witt Talmage and a concert by Ollie Torbett, the princess of the violin, and her clever company. Such an array was never before brought to the doors of Plainfield's people.

BISHOP VINCENT GROWS ANGRY.

He Bitterly Attacks President Harrison and Catholicism, and Proclaims Himself a Christian—Young George Elected President, and Miss Kimball, Secretary.

Bishop John H. Vincent created a sensation by his address before the Chautauqua State Convention in Plymouth church, Brooklyn, last night. The Bishop was the principal speaker of the evening, and his subject was "Chautauqua and the Church."

In the course of his address the Bishop attacked the Catholic church, and also President Harrison. He spoke of the political prominence attained by Roman Catholics, and referred in severe terms to the fact that President Harrison recently sat beside Cardinal Gibbons at a dinner in Washington.

The speaker then turned his attention to the organization of the Catholic church as admirable, and as something from which others could learn. He accused it of political maneuvering.

Reverting to the Washington incident, Bishop Vincent said that as Cardinal Gibbons had reserved the seat of honor for the Canadian Cardinal, President Harrison should have left the table at once, and he (the speaker) could never forgive him for not having done so.

Other addresses were made by the Rev. Dr Pardington, the Rev. O. J. Cowley and Miss Charlotte E. Coffin. None of these alluded to the matters of which Bishop Vincent had spoken. His remarks created much comment, and after the adjournment were discussed by the large audience present. There were many in the church who are warm political supporters of President Harrison, and they were unsparing in their denunciation of Bishop Vincent.

The Bishop's declaration that he was not a Protestant, but a Christian, also provoked much talk.

The Convention formed a permanent organization, and elected the following officers: President—George E. Vincent; Vice Presidents—the Rev. Rayner Pardington and the Rev. B. B. Tyler; Secretary, Miss Kate F. Kimball.

BI. BOYS GIVE A BANQUET.

A Memorable Farewell Tendered to the Club's Departing Secretary.

Thirty-six congenial spirits, the flower of the Bicycle Club, gathered around the festive board last night. The occasion was a farewell dinner to Geo. C. Martin, Jr., late Secretery of the Club. His severance from the Club is caused by his departure for Kansas City, whither he goes today to grow up with the country. "And so much the better," was the comment last night, "for that country, and so much the worse for this! Plainfield loses a young man of promise and of sterling and modest worth. No other member of the Club would be parted from with so much regret."

The table was spread in the gymnasium, the dinner was served by Stephenson, and speeches were made by those on whom the mantelpiece of Daniel Webster has fallen (as Mrs. Partington hath it), and by some on whom it has not: mostly not.

A feature of the occasion was the presentation to "Georgie" of a miniature club pin of gold and silver, artificed by Radford, of New York, in his best style. Songs, music, stag dancing, boxing, tugs-of-war, and general hilarity held the boards until a late hour. Townsend Rushmore presided in his usual felicitous manner.

The members present were: Dr. D. C. Adams, Dr. J. H. Cooley, J. E. Murray, T. S. Burr, J. H. Hallock, A. L. C. Marsh, A. A. Tilney, Geo. S. Beebe, J. W. Sandford, Jr., F. W. Walz, H. W. Beebe, E. L. Walz, Jr., A. F. H. Streuli, M. W. Daboll, Roger F. Murray, Geo. F. White, George Mahon, H. F. Johnson, L. H. Van Buren, S. H. Patterson, J. E. Erickson, J. P. Munn, Evarts Tracy, W. B. Gilbert, D. H. Lenox, O. G. Waring, C. L. Murphy, E. S. Rogers, R. A. Erickson, J. L. Ollif, B. Cox, Jr, W. Lee Simmons, F. C. Kirchhoff and E. M. French.

Music and Mirth Reign at Warren Chapel.

The sociable held at Warren Mission chapel last night, under the auspices of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, was attended by more than one hundred and fifty people. The following interesting programme was rendered:

DeWitt—Martin.

Miss Jennie Martin, daughter of the Hon. Lebbeus Martin, deceased, of Deckertown, was married at six o'clock last evening at the home of her aunt, Mrs. C. S. Martin, 29 Craig place, to Benson De Witt. The Rev. Chas. B. Mitchell, of the M. E. church, officiated. The bride was most becomingly attired, and the groom was showered with congratulations upon his good fortune. Only the relatives and immediate friends of the families, were present. The groom had previously lived at Yonkers, but the new couple will make their future residence in Port Jervis where Mr. DeWitt is engaged in business.

The American Institute Fair.

Not to visit the American Institute Fair at the exhibition hall on Third avenue, between 63d and 64th streets, is to leave undone a duty which every thinking person owes to himself, and should mention as a like duty to his neighbor. For many years the American Institute has stood prominently before the public, and a recommendation of its exhibitions is unnecessary. There are no better incentives to the manufacture and the inventor, than the appreciation of the efforts in advancement and the rewards given under competent judges at the American Institute. The public go to the Fair to see new things, and the exhibitors bear full testimony that the attendance of city people and those who visit the city, is gratifying and satisfactory in result. There are so many exhibits in the Fair that every department is completely filled, and the visitor can find no fault with the arrangement of the exhibits. The classification made by the managers avoids confusion, and the general control is complete. The admission, which is twenty-five cents to everything, leaves no excuse for anyone not to visit the Fair.

ENORMOUS STORES OF COAL.

The Central and the Lehigh Valley Railroads are Laying up Thousands of Tons, and Handling it by Machinery for Almost Nothing.

The great coal roads of the State are taking steps which, when completed, will practically revolutionize the systems of handling and storing coal. The lead has been taken by the Jersey Central Railroad which has just completed a storage yard with the new machinery at Hampton Junction, N. J., with a capacity of 180,000 tons of coal. The yard is at the summit of a grade, and a trip from it to Port Liberty and back makes just a day's run for a train crew. This matter of having the yards located conveniently for the work of the train men is very important in railroad economy.

A PRESS representative was one of a party that Superintendent Olhausen took down on his private engine "Star," the othe day. The inspection of the plant was an unusually interesting experience. The machinery for piling the coal as dumped, and reloading the cars, is simple yet perfect in its workings. The location at Hampton is the point where the trains of 150 cars that are pushed down from the mines, were previously broken. Thirty or forty cars were taken off and held to make up another train with other extra cars. Now they are dumped, and the thousands of tons of coal that are produced in excess of the demand during the Summer months, are stored until the market is ready. It cost less than six cents a ton to handle the coal in this yard.

Work was begun a few weeks ago upon a coal storage station for the Lehigh Valley road at South Plainfield, that will be the greatest plant of its kind in the world. It is to have a capacity of 1,500,000 tons, or five times as much as any other storage station in the world, stacked up in sixty huge mounds of 25,000 tons each, and several years will be required for the construction of the entire yard. There will be no less than 125 miles of railroad track in this great storage yard, which will cover hundreds of acres.

It is a curious fact that until within the past three years there had been almost no improvement for fifty years over the old way of handling coal. The Reading and other railroads which have storage yards at tidewater dumped the coal on the ground when they had more than they could immediately dispose of, and the men gathered it up with shovels and wheelbarrows when the companies found a purchaser for it. The introduction of labor-saving machinery to perform the work has worked a great change. By the system chiefly used the coal is not only stored up in mounds, but it can be reloaded again in cars and boats.

By using machinery instead of shovels and wheelbarrows for storing and reloading coal the railroad companies find that work which formerly cost them thirty cents or more a ton can now be done for five or six cents. The Lehigh Valley Railroad has a guarantee that the entire cost of handling its coal at South Plainfield and of maintenance of plant shall not exceed five cents a ton. Five men will do the work which required 125 men under the old system. Three tons of coal will be handled in a minute.

Until very recently all the big storage yards were at tidewater, and when these were filled up and there was no room for any more coal, in a dull season the commission men had the railroads just where they wanted them. It is no longer necessary to have the storage yards at tidewater, as the ease and cheapness with which the coal can be handled by machinery makes an inland storage plant quite as advantageous as one at tide.

The big station of the Lehigh Valley at South Plainfield is fifteen miles from the coast. That particular site was chosen because it is the point at which the company's new line to Jersey City leaves the main line to Perth Amboy, and because the distance to tide is such that two round trips from the yard to Perth Amboy will constitute a full day's work for a train crew.

Not an Office Hunter.

(From the Somerville Messenger.)

When Wm. J. Keys came to Somerville to attend the Democratic Convention he had no idea that he would be the nominee of that Convention for Senator. Weeks before, when the subject was mentioned to him, he flatly refused to consider it for a moment. It required the earnest and united persuasion of the party leaders to induce Mr. Keys to consent to have his name presented to the Convention, and then even he did not appear to think the nomination would fall to him. It was truly a case where the office sought the man.

—The Plainfield Fire Department will be invited to participate in a firemen's parade at Westfield Nov. 6.

"Just Hear That Child Scream!"

Said Mrs. Smith to her sister, Mrs. Davis, as the sound of a child's shrieks came across the garden from a neighbor's house. "What kind of a woman have you for a neighbor? Does she abuse her children?" "No, indeed," replied Mrs. Davis. "She is one of the most tender mothers in existence. But you see, she believes in the old-fashioned style of doctoring. When a child needs physic, she fills a spoon with some nauseous dose, lays the little victim flat on her lap, holds his nose till he is forced to open his mouth for breath, when down goes the dreadful mess. Then come the yells." "No wonder," said Mrs. Smith. "Why don't she use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets? They are effective without being harsh, and are as easy to take as sugar plums. I always give them to my children." "And so do I," said Mrs. Davis.

LIQUOR SALOONS MAY MOVE ABOUT

A North Plainfield Clergyman Brings to Light a Law Which Even a Jersey Judge Didn't Know About.

The Synod of New Jersey has, among its other Committees, a Permanent Committee on Temperance, of which the Rev. W. E. Honeyman of North Plainfield is Chairman. The annual report of this Committee was made to the Synod at its recent meeting in Atlantic City, and caused considerable discussion. After stating that the consumption of beer in this State had increased in ten years from 600,000 barrels to 1,498,000 barrels, and that 4,600,000 more gallons had been consumed during the past year than the year before, the Chairman stated, and deplored the fact, that the last legislature had enacted a law allowing the transfer of licenses, so that it was now possible, under certain conditions, for a saloon that was originally situated in some comparatively unobjectionable spot to place itself beside a church or schoolhouse. Judge Shipman of Belvidere objected to this statement and declared that the law had been misconstrued by the Committeeman in every particular. The matter was laid over until evening so that the law could be obtained, and on its coming up again Judge Shipman made a speech in favor of striking out of Mr. Honeyman's report the passage referring to the law. To this Mr. Honeyman replied that able attorneys had interpeted it precisely as the Committee had done, that the Courts had allowed transfers under the law, and that the law itself distinctly said "transfer," and made provisions for such transfers. The Rev. Mr. Loncks of Camden, the Rev. Dr. Swain of Allentown, the Rev. Dr. Mason of Metuchen, and the Rev. Dr. Nott of Washington, supported Mr. Honeyman, citing several instances in which transfer had occurred. When the vote was taken the entire Synod, save two men, sustained Mr. Honeyman, after which the Temperance report was unanimously adopted.

How Two Countrymen Attracted Attention in This City.

(From the Westfield Leader.)

Judge Ulrich is not going to give up his $3,000-a-year law practice in this city, just because he is going to build himself a handsome home in Westfield. He will be here in his office all day, but he wants a dead, quiet place where there is nothing going on, to sleep in, and Westfield fills the bill.—Plainfield Daily Press.

Isn't the above rather hard on Judge Ulrich, brethren of the Press? It seems to represent him as selfishly wanting to bury his family so that he may have a nice quiet place to sleep in. We didn't know that there was a cemetery to close to Plainfield anyway. We thought that things were made to move so lively up there that the whole country round was kept jogging without any thought of death.

Two Westfielders, however, report differently since the above choice extract appeared in print. Having occasion to visit Plainfield one evening recently for the purpose of transacting a little business in one of the stores, they soon became unpleasantly aware of the fact that they were attracting more observation than is usually accorded them "in the busy haunts of men." Through the door and windows of the store grapped the few stragglers that were wandering aimlessly about the streets, till the strangers hastily inquired if there were anything in their appearance that could account for this unusual attention. Receiving an answer in the negative, they sought some explanation of the occurence. They were then told that they were the first strangers that had been seen in Plainfield for two weeks, and the poor Plainfielders were so glad to see a new face that they forgot their good manners, and crowded around to establish if they could some sort of communication with their fellows, and learn something of the great outside world from which they were so effectually shut off.

It is needless to say that the Westfielders got out of this "Eden" of the Martin Chuzzlewit kind as quickly as possible and hastened back to a place where people are at least living, and not merely walking around with that Is-life-worth-living expression which betokens an early dissolution.

If the experience of these men be correct, we congratulate Judge Ulrich on his good sense and forethought in coming to Westfield. His experience on the bench has evidently been of service to him, and his judgement is as sound as his law.

A Colored School in Need of Funds.

The Colored Industrial Association of New Jersey are appealing for funds to enable them to complete the construction of a new industrial school at South Somerville. The Lehigh Valley Railroad has already given ten acres of land for the new building, and of the $5,000 necessary $3,500 has already been subscribed. The association was formed four years ago in Burlington county, and for a short time carried on a school at Bordentown. The association claims for its object the practical education of the colored race, the instruction of women and girls in domestic economy, and the training of both sexes in such industries as shall enable them to become self-supporting. Contributions in aid of the new school will be received by Jas. Holmes, treasurer of the association, at Boonton; the Rev. W. A. Rice, Bordentown, or E. O. Chapman, State Superintendent of Education, Trenton.

—Time-saving "scoop tanks" for the supplying of locomotives with water "on the fly" are in operation at Greenbrook, between Dunellen and Bound Brook, on the Central road.

CHUCKLEBERRY PIE.

A DOUBLE SORROW—"Were you put out when Miss Brown refused you?" "Oh, yes; the old man attended to that."

MRS. MCCRACKLE—"Did you try that deaf and mute servant I sent you?" Mrs. McCorkle—"Yes, but she didn't answer."

"HAD a splendid time. I ran across a lake up in—" "Ran across a lake? Come, come, Binks, don't lie so transparently."

HE—"What does the poet mean by an 'aching void?' I can't understand what it can possibly be." She—"Why, I should think you ought to know. Have you never had a headache?"

"I'D like to have that porter in my power for a little while," said a passenger in a Pullman car; "I'd show him no quarter." "You would be very right. If you did he'd probably take it."

TOMBSTONE MAKER—"Look here, you have done a very poor job of spelling in this sentiment you want engraved on your uncle's tombstone." "I know. I did it on purpose. My uncle was a very illiterate man."

BOARDER—"Did you ever play chess, Mrs. Irons?" Landlady—"I never did." "You would make a very strong player." (Highly pleased) "Why do you think so, Mr. Tuttle?" (Inspecting the hash and the chow-chow) "Your combinations, Mrs. Irons, are simply bewildering."

"MY dear friend, I must ask you to lend me ten dollars; I have left my purse home and haven't a cent in my pocket!" "I can't lend you ten dollars just now but can put you in the way of getting the money at once!" "You are extremely kind." "Here's five cents; drive home on the car and fetch your purse."

At the ball, young Campagny has just conducted his partner back to her place, but instead of retiring after the usual compliments, he plants himself in front of her with an air of considerable embarrassment. "Is there any thing you desire, Monsieur?" asks the lady, noticing his unpleasantness. "No, Mademoiselle—that is—I mean—my crush hat, which has the honor of finding itself upon the same chair as yourself."

A STUDENT of ancient history, seeing the statement that a famous character in history had died 1030 A. M.—anno mundi, or the year of the world, remarked to his professor, with some surprise: "How exceedingly careful those ancients were about noting little circumstances!" "What do you mean?" the professor asked. "Why, they even tell the time of day that a great man dies! We don't do that now." "I think you are mistaken," replied the teacher. "No, I am not. Here it is—'His death occurred at ten thirty a. m.'"

A VETERINARY surgeon told his assistant to give a powder to a sick horse. "You take the powder," he explained, "put it in a tin tube, open the horse's mouth, and blow the powder down his throat." Not long after, the assistant came back, looking as sick as people ever get to be. "Did you give the horse the powder?" "I tried to. I put the powder in the tin tube, forced open the horse's mouth, put the tube between his teeth, and—" "Did you blow the powder down his throat?" "No; I was going to, but the horse blew first."

TALKS ABOUT AUTHORS.

JOHN BOYLE O'REILLY, reporter, poet, editor, left an estate valued at something over one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

MRS. AMELIE RIVES-CHANLER is now studying art in Paris, and writing very little. Her father, mother and little sister are with her.

THE best literary critic in New York is said to be Miss Lillie Hamilton French, who at one time wrote the book notices for the Commercial Advertiser.

DR. OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES' remarkable vitality is ascribed to his regular habits. The rooms he occupies are equipped with barometers, thermometers, and various other ometers to prevent his incurring the slightest risk of taking cold.

FRANK STOCKTON, the novelist, lives in a roomy house at Madison, N. J. He is a methodical man in his literary work, devoting the early part of each day to his writing. At times he suffers from weak eyes, and on such occasions he dictates his stories to his wife.

THE great French religious writer, Ernest Renan, is spending the decline of his life in his native village, in Brittany, where he occupies a small one-story villa overlooking the Bay of Biscay. Renan passes a great deal of his time in an arm-chair under the trees.

ALEXANDER DUMAS has been having some fun at the expense of Paris managers. He wrote a strong play and submitted it to various managers, each in turn rejecting the manuscript and pointing out various weak places in the work because they were not informed who the author was.

THEY tell this little story of Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, though with needless apology based upon her age and mental infirmity. Walking in a friend's garden one day, she asked the gardener: "Have you ever read 'Uncle Tom's Cabin?'" The perplexed fellow slowly unbent himself. He was unwilling to wound the sensibilities of Mrs. Stowe, and he wished to say the most for himself. And so he felt himself getting very red as he stammered: "Well, not exactly, ma'am. Not as you might say 'read it,' but I've tried to, ma'am."

A NEW YORKER who has recently spent some time in the literary circles of London says that there must be at least one hundred biographies of Mr. Gladstone already in manuscript, awaiting the event of his death, at which time they will be ready for publication in book form. Besides these manuscripts there are to be found in the pigeonholes of all the newspaper offices sketches of the aged statesman's life, in readiness for the dispatches announcing the end of his career that may be received at any time. It is said that Mr. Gladstone has seen some of these biographies and sketches, and he himself has prepared memoranda for the use of some of his biographers.

PRECIOUS JEWELS.

THE Danish King's crown is worth $135,000, the Queen's crown $17,500 and sword of state $15,000.

LUIZ DE DESENDO, a Rio Janeiro jeweler, has bought from Dom Pedro for $60,000 the jewels of the deceased Empress.

AMONG the valuable jewels of which Mme. Wyse Bonaparte de Rute was recently robbed was a pearl valued at $12,500, which had been presented to Prince Lucien Bonaparte by the Queen of Spain, at whose court he was Ambassador.

THE English crown is made up of diamonds, rubies, sapphires, pearls and emeralds, set in silver and gold bands; it weighs 39 ounces and 5 pennyweights, troy: in it there are 3,453 diamonds, 273 pearls, 9 rubies, 17 sapphires and 11 emeralds.

THE world's stock of diamonds has increased enormously in the last fifteen years. In 1876 the output of the African mines was about 1,500,000 carats, last year it was over 4,000,000, and the great "trust" which controls all the principal mines assert that they have 16,000,000 carats "in sight" at the present time.

IT is said that the Grand Duchess of Saxe-Weimar owns the most perfect collection of jewels in the world. The finest emeralds belong to the House of Austria. The finest and largest turquoises and pearls are among the crown jewels of Russia, and the finest sapphires known are among the crown jewels of England. Among the crown jewels of Bavaria is a parure of pink diamonds that would command a fabulous sum.

LADY MANDEVILLE (now Duchess of Manchester) has cause to be greatly disappointed by the terms of her father-in-law's will. For instead of leaving the magnificent family jewels to the new Duchess or even to his widow, he has left directions for them to be sold to supply the deficiency of his personal estate. The famous necklace of 365 pearls of large size, as well as a diamond tiara of Golconda stones, has thus passed into other hands, realizing some thousands of pounds. The necklace is considered the finest collection of pearls in one ornament in England.

ITEMS FOR ENTOMOLOGISTS.

THE smallest known insect, the Pteratomus Putnamii, a parasite of the ichneumon, is but one-ninetieth of an inch in length.

ONE beautiful butterfly in the collection of the Brooklyn Institute is valued at $1,000, that sum having recently been paid for a duplicate.

THE largest insect known to the entomologist, the Erebus strix of Linnæus, a noctuid moth of Central America, expands its wings from eleven to eighteen inches.

A HOUSE-FLY is born fully grown and of mature size, and there are no little flies of the same species, the small ones occasionally observed being different in kind from the large ones.

THE eyes of insects are immovable, and many of them seem cut into a multitude of facets, like the facets of a diamond. Each of these facets is supposed to possess the powers of a true eye. Lenenboeck counted 3,181 of them in the cornea of a beetle, and over 8,000 in that of a common horsefly.

THE body of every spider contains four little masses, pierced with a multitude of holes (imperceptible to the naked eye) each hole permitting the passage of a single thread; all the threads, to the amount of one thousand to each mass, join together when they come out, and make the single thread with which the spider spins its web, so that what we call a spider's thread consists of more than four thousand threads united.

WHEN a spider is preparing to moult it stops eating for several days, and fastens itself by a short line of web to one of the main lines of its snare. The skin cracks all around the throax, and is held only by the front edges. Next the abdomen is uncovered. Now comes the struggle to free the legs; it works and kicks vigorously, and seems to have very hard work. But continued perseverance of about fifteen minutes brings it out of the old dress, and it seems almost lifeless, and is limp and helpless for several minutes, but gradually comes back to life and looks brighter and prettier than before.

REGARDING JOHNNY CRAPAUD.

THE French authorities are very rigorously suppressing gambling.

THE fastest ship in the French navy now has a speed of 19.68 knots per hour without engine strain.

THE people of France are very thrifty, consequently their prosperity exceeds that of the residents of any other European country. Twenty years have hardly passed since France was devastated by one of the most severe and costly struggles that any country ever endured. It has long since recovered itself, and is far more prosperous than before. There is hardly any real poverty in the country, and workhouses are unknown.

THE stockholders of the Eiffel tower enterprise are feeling blue just now in consequence of the steady diminution of their receipts. In the season now closing 665,000 francs were taken in. The cost of keeping the tower open was 350,000 francs, and 300,000 francs more were spent for repairs. Next season the small profits of this year will be wiped out, it is expected, and a considerable deficit will appear in place of it. In view of this probability 168,000 francs were reserved for future use from the profits of the exhibition year.

THE cost of French revolutions to the French Government of to-day is recorded in this little list of pensioned persons and families: Senators of the empire, 48,000 francs; in consequence of the Vienna peace, 434,211; men of the times of Louis XVIII. and Charles X., 15,000; families of Louis Philippe's time, 41,225; wounded in June, 1848, 136,975; persons of the second empire, 133,000; wounded in February, 1848, 198,000; victims of December 2, 6,553,206. Each government has respected the pension obligation of its predecessor as to this growing list and has paid every item with scrupulous regularity.

RHYTHMIC RAYS.

The Baby Girl.

When she's older, she may know
Why she's praised and petted so,
Why her pet is soft as down,
Why she never sees a frown.

When she's older, she may know
Where the stars in daytime go,
Why the rainbow never stays
Where the sun goes, rainy days.

When she's older, she may know
Why wee babies always grow
To men and women, not so good
Nor pretty as in babyhood.

Why she's sometimes sad, not gay,
Why she can not have her way,
Why the world is made just so,
When she's older, she may know.
—Toronto Mail.

The Last Sweetheart.

Gran'pa's locks are white as snow,
Those he still possesses,
Ghost of curls of long ago,
Wraiths of boyhood's tresses.
Wrinkles o'er his features thin
Zigzag without pity,
Like the streets and alleys in Famous Boston city.

Time has bent his form with years,
And his legs are thinner
And less comely than the shears
Used by any tinner.
Lusty was he once and gay,
Full of manhood's graces,
But of that long vanished day
There are now few traces.

Yet he in his youthful pride
Pleased the fair sex greatly;
Many lassies for him sighed,
Many ladies stately.
Hearts once throbbed and ached for him,
Tears wet silken lashes,
But those eyes in death are dim
And those hearts are ashes.

Gran'pa has one sweetheart yet,
Daintiest of creatures,
Whose two eyes of deepest jet
Still approve his features.
Nellie is her name, you see,
And if I remember
What her age is, she was three
Some time last December!

Oft her hand, so chubby fair,
O'er his face she passes
Tenderly, and with great care
Not to touch his glasses.
Oft his form I've seen her scan
And I've caught her saying:
"Gran'pa's such a handsome man"—
Thus her love betraying.
—George Horton, in Chicago Herald.

The Fair Tennis Player.

She wore a blue barred blazer jacket
That matched the cute cap on her head;
She handled a fourteen ounce racket;
Her cheeks were two June roses red.

Her play, which was all scientific,
Set off to advantage her charms;
Her volleys, at times most terrific,
Showed power in her brown, dimpled arms

Her wee feet in tan tennis-slippers
Like mice scampered over the court;
She flew on those fairy-like trippers
And merrily laughed at the sport.

Unconscious of how she delighted
Those watching the game—and her face—
She played in a way that excited
Remarks on her vigor and grace.

In spite of Old Sol who was pouring
His rays on her bonnie gold hair,
She shouted the "love" she was scoring
While leaping for balls in the air.

E'en when the young men, never lazy
At tennis, were ready to drop;
She, feeling as fresh as a daisy,
Scorned all their suggestions to stop.

O, she was the girl who could hustle
At tennis from morning till night,
Developing beauty and muscle,
And, alas, a grand appetite.

But when she was asked by her mother
To just for a moment assist,
Her strength, for some reason or other,
Gave out from her toe to her wrist.
—H. C. Dodge, in Detroit Free Press.

Half a Pair.

How sweet the charm that lingers
About a maiden's glove!
This one has held the fingers
Of Prudence whom I love;
And where the soft kid bulges
It hints a happy thing,
For there the glove divulges
The secret of a ring.

I hold the precious token
And dream of Prudence near;
Her words, so sweetly spoken,
Again I seem to hear.
I dream as any lover
Will dream of coming bliss
Who lets his fancy hover
Around a glove like this.

P. S.—Since this was written
I've learned a thing or so,
For she has sent a mitten,
Symbolical of "No."
So Prudence and her poet,
The glove and mitten fair,
Are all alike, and go it
Alone, each half a pair.
—Harper's Bazar.

Surprises.

As if, in dreary, desert way,
A beauteous rose should bloom;
Or gleaming, golden, sunlight ray
Pierce a dark midnight's gloom;
Or noxious things in gruesome depths
Breathe rich and rare perfume!

So find we on life's hardest road,
And in its gloomiest hours,
God's sweet surprises oft bestowed,
Bright sunshine, royal flowers;
Or, fragrant scent through depths of woe,
A sudden joy is ours!

As when, while swelling clouds arise
And brew the storm-burst wild,
Swift scattered, far the tempest flies,
The heaven is blue and mild—
God clears the threat'ning sky above
His waiting, shrinking child!

We brace our souls by faith and prayer
Some duty stern to do;
Lo! one is sent our work to share;
Or love, glad thrilling though
The spirit, old and tiresome rounds
Seem strangely fresh and new.

We look for frown of cold reproof,
And lo! a kindly smile!
We fear lest friends should stand aloof,
Their hands clasped warm the while!
We find choice things where only seemed
The worthless and the vile.

We plan glad, unexpected things,
Our cherished ones to cheer,
So God, His hidden joys out-brings
For sons in service here;
And rare and radiant surprise
Will light the Heavenly sphere!
—Gussie M. Waterman, in Chicago Advance.

Why Her Manner Changed.

Her face was a sweet one, young and fair,
Yet o'er it rested a weary air,
As of yearning long denied;
A look of one who has sought in vain,
Who, hopeless and saddened, seeks again
Still restless, unsatisfied.

Her hand, so small and white to behold,
Lay half concealed in her dress' soft fold,
Where, like a moonbeam it gleamed;
Then, without warning, her eyes flashed bright,
And her whole form quickened, alert and light,
Like a different girl she seemed.

What was it brought the light to her eyes
And touched her form with such keen surprise
That it almost seemed to shock it?
She had searched for something near and dear;
She had searched in vain for a whole long year,
And now she had found her pocket!
—Bessie Chandler.

KITES OF TERRYTOWN.

An Enterprising Club of Kite Flyers and Its Achievements.

How to Build a Big Kite—Remarkable Things the Kite Can Be Made to Do—A Strange Ride by Water—Photographing from the Clouds.

[COPYRIGHT 1890.]
[Special Correspondence.]

The history of the kite and the amusement to be obtained in flying it dates too far back for any definite opinion to be formed of its origin, or the primitive methods at first employed. We know that 1150 years before the birth of Christ the Chinese fired crackers and flew grotesque kites, and that is all. Every man and boy knows what a kite is, and how to fly one; but few are aware of the extraordinary progress made in connection with the kite in recent years, and there may be some of the rising generation to whom the making of a kite is a sealed book, and who are too far away from a town to buy one to suit them. The secret of making one that will fly all lies in the balance. To make a big one, get some well seasoned ash and cut from it two good stout laths an inch broad, one quarter inch thick and three feet long. Cross them like the letter X, and across the joint lay another lath about two feet long and bind them firmly into place. Now run a stout cord from tip to tip all around the frame. All that remains to be done is to cover it with strong, thin paper.

In doing this mind that any seams are neatly joined, and extend right across the kite to keep the balance true. A seam on one side and not on the other will spoil it. Good flour paste is the best material for fastening the paper. The kite is now made and wants stringing. From the two top points, the two side points and the joint of the laths in the middle, run light cords, six feet in length, and knot them together; then attach the flying string to this. The tail, every one knows about. Also the fun to be had in cutting four-inch square pieces of writing paper, putting them on the lower part of the line, when the kite is in the air, and letting them run as "messengers" to the soaring kite.

The most progressive and enthusiastic kite-flyers in America are to be found in Terryville, Conn., and they have introduced a novel idea that will probably be tried elsewhere. The idea was evolved during the fall and winter of last year, and this spring it was successfully carried out. A. Andrews (captain), Arthur and Leon Bunnell, Wallace Cook and John H. Deiter joined themselves into a club called the A. B. C. Club, the name being formed of the initials of the members, and set about making a mammoth kite ten feet high.

PHOTOGRAPHIC KITE.

They finished it, and taking it out, set the neighborhood stirring; members flocked in to join, full of ideas. Middletown followed suit, and the craze has become general, a number of contests being arranged at various dates, the prizes to be awarded to the kites carrying up the most yards of string.

The Terryville boys are making great efforts to come in ahead, and have just finished a kite seventeen feet high, twelve feet wide, covered with fifty-four yards of canvass, and weighing fifty pounds. The tail is one hundred and forty feet long. The frame is bolted together with iron bolts and the canvas is attached to the frame on the hook-and-eye principle, so that it can be taken off and folded up for transportation. The cord is as thick as a clothes-line, it takes six members to "soar" the kite, and it is expected to run out two thousand feet of line when they get accustomed to handling it, and get the ballast right on the tail. At the trial trip it answered every expectation, and then a genius proposed some fun. A stiff breeze was blowing, and a light road-wagon was run out in which five young men seated themselves; the kite-rope was attached, and the conveyance began to move over the roads at a very fair pace.

Another youth followed on the horse's back, and after a run of about six miles, they picked the kite up and drove back. It is now proposed to make a huge kite of material saturated or coated with asbestos, to render it fire-proof, and utilize it for the display of fire-works to be ignited by slow matches or fuse of various lengths.

This is the biggest kite on record. The next largest one was that of Merchant William Harral, of Bridgeport, whose kite was nine feet high and seven wide, and whose long, light tail extended for nearly half a mile. Last summer while he and a party of friends were at his cottage on the Connecticut shore he brought out his kite and flew it until one of the guests proposed to get into a light lady's dory that was dancing on water, and take a sail with the kite. Mr. Harral agreed, got into the boat, passed the slack rope through the painter ring, and then, one by one, the people holding the rope on shore let go their hold, and in a second the boat was under way. Out into the sound they went, a man forward at the rope with a sharp knife to cut, in case of accidents, and so they ran across to Port Jefferson on Long Island; waiting there until the wind changed, and then returning.

M. A. Haiut, of Eulaure, France, has invented a photographic kite, which consists of a small camera attached by means of a triangular support to the backbone of the kite. The camera is provided with an instantaneous shutter, operated by a slow method. This is lighted before the kite is sent up, and when combustion has proceeded a certain distance, it sets fire to a small thread, releasing the spring of the shutter, and an exposure is made. Another novel feature of this invention is the use of an aneroid barometer attached to the kite, so that the operator can tell to what height the kite ascended, and at which the exposure was made. The thread releasing the shutter of the camera also records the registered height, by means of the sun's rays striking the dial through an exposed hole and printing the shadow of two needles on the sensitized paper covering the dial. A piece of paper also flutters to the ground giving notice that an exposure has been made. The uses of this method in surveying and general geodesy are simply unlimited. The most original and unique idea, however, hails from Dr. David Thayer, of Boston, Mass., in which he uses the kite as a motor.

The one great fault in this respect has been the amount of power expended in keeping the kite in the air. Every boy knows that in a light wind the simple weight of the cord will reduce the "pull" of the kite to a minimum. This fact has made kite propulsion only satisfactory in a stiff breeze. Dr. Thayer has remedied this defect by means of a raft made to float on the sea, having three main guys of rope attached to one end. These are sustained in the air by means of small balloons filled with gas. Below these are a number of sails, made fairly rigid by bamboo attachments (like the sail of a Chinese junk). These are about three times as long as they are broad, and fitted at each end with a species of wing, a proper manipulation of which directs the course of the machine. The main guy ropes are about forty feet long, and midway between the raft and the sails and balloons, is located the passenger car.

The balloons are powerful enough to hold up the sails, car and passengers, and the wind, catching the sails, forces along the raft which floats on the water. When it is wished to direct the course to the right, the wings on that side are drawn round at right angles to the rest of the sails, and vice versa.

This idea is also intended to be used on land, substituting a wagon for the raft, and the invention provides for the wagon being carried on the raft when not in use. It will thus be seen that the long-neglected kite has, during the past year, risen to such a plane that its future development will be watched with interest.

POPULAR SCIENCE.

SCIENCE CLIPPINGS.

THE total production of pig iron in the United States in the first six months of 1889 amounted to 4,106,899 net tons of 2,000 pounds. In the last half of 1889 the production was 5,886,004 net tons, showing an increase in this year of 231,895 tons.

HENRY B. PIERCE, Secretary of State for Massachusetts, declares that the Southern iron fields must become the world's seat of that industry, and that the next twenty-five years will witness a development there surpassing alike belief and history.

DOMESTIC electric lighting is being extensively introduced in Philadelphia. One of the many private plants successfully runs a shop and a laundry, as well as a sewing-machine, ventilating fans and a simplex arc light, which is hung over the lawn during the summer to attract the bugs.

THE lion tamer has pressed electricity into his service. A light wand has been invented with an insulating grip for the hand, connecting by a flexible wire with a battery, the power of which can be varied at will. By the use of this magic wand the fiercest lion can be reduced to submission.

JOHN A. ENOS is urging Congress to appropriate sixty thousand dollars to install his patent electric voting machine in the House of Representatives. He asserts that during this session there have been over three hundred roll calls, each consuming thirty minutes' time, or an aggregate of thirty working days, and he asserts that by the use of his machine twenty-five days would have been saved.

EVEN the stenographers are apprehensive that mechanism may yet throw them out of work. The Metropolitan Stenographers' Association of New York recently held debate upon this question: "Will Mechanical Invention Supersede the Stenographer?" They spoke of many of the dangers by which they are threatened, including the phonograph, the graphophone and the typewriter.

THE number of electric light companies now operating on this side of the Atlantic is 1,543; the number of private or isolated plants for arc and incandescent lighting is 4,300. The number of electric motors in operation in this country is 15,000, many of them for fifteen to fifty horse power. There are nearly 200 electric railways operating in over 125 towns and cities and these have in operation 1,884 cars on 1,260 miles of track.

Sample Item from the Newspapers of Fifty Years Hence.

Considerable anxiety prevails over the non-arrival of the steamship "Electric Impulse" which left Liverpool for this port forty-seven hours ago. She is now nineteen minutes over due. Her owners say, however, she is a slow boat; and it may be possible that she was detained at Cable Station No. 10, in mid-ocean, where the African mails for America are transferred from the boats en route to Greenland. She was last reported from Ocean Station No. 6. Her electric motors, of which she has twenty, are of ten-thousand-horse power each and are of old pattern. This boat, as slow as she is, is a wonder compared with the slow craft that plowed the ocean fifty years ago, when steam was the motive power. The only part electricity played on steamers in those days was to light the boat, and the lamps gave a very feeble light as compared with the present system.—Electric Age.

History of Electric Lighting.

Electric lighting, says M. Fontaine, did not make its appearance until near the close of the year 1873. It was in Paris, in November, 1873, in the workshop of M. Gramme, that the first installation on a really industrial scale of electric lighting took place, by means of a continuous current dynamo and Serrin regulators. It was also in Paris, in 1877, that the Jablochkoff candle was first employed; sixteen lights, distributed over a distance of about 1,100 yards, being supplied by a single alternate current Gramme machine. Paris, therefore, had the honor of possessing the first public and private lighting produced by means of electric currents. M. Fontaine thinks that in 1891 or 1892 the electric lighting in Paris will require for its production motive force equal, in round numbers, to thirty-two thousand horse-power.

Cement for Iron Railings.

For the cementing of iron railing tops, iron grating to stoves, etc., the following mixture is recommended; in fact, with such effect has it been used as to resist the blows of a sledge hammer. The mixture is composed of equal parts of sulphur and white lead, with about one-sixth proportion of borax, the three being thoroughly incorporated together, so as to form one homogeneous mass. When the application is to be made of this composition it is wet with strong sulphuric acid, and a thin layer of it is placed between two pieces of iron, these being at once pressed together. In five days it will be perfectly dry, all traces of the cement having vanished, and the work having every appearance of welding.

ANY mechanic who feels like despairing because the world has not gone well with him should try, first of all, to figure out to what extent the world is to blame for his failure, and to what extent he himself is to blame. If he has not fitted himself for success, it is his own fault that success has not come to him.

THE manufacture of cotton goods in Ceylon has for the last few years made remarkable progress. The island promises to become as dangerous a rival to India in that industry as in the cultivation of tea.

IT is pleasant to hear the truth—about other people.

"IF WE ONLY HAD CHILDREN!"

But few words are needed to tell this tale. Two apparently perfect beings are brought together for life. They are surrounded with all that wealth can purchase. Every blessing has been showered upon them, save one, and cheerfully would they relinquish all for that blessing—a little child.

Sterility is often the result of carelessness, or, to put it stronger, ignorance. Nine out of ten cases are curable, if treated understandingly. The action of the Vegetable Compound in this direction has been phenomenal, and many a home, once desolate, has now "a baby."

THE GREAT TEMPEST

Wrecks Mark Its Path Along the Atlantic Coast.

BLOWING FORTY MILES AN HOUR

Much Damage to Shipping and Wires Down Everywhere.

No Way of Estimating the Damage Wrought—E. D. Morgan's Yacht Lost—The Owner and His Party Saved—A Big Steamship Reported Ashore at Long Beach—Believed to be the Obdam.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Another tremendous wind storm has swept along the Atlantic coast, flooding the smaller seaport towns and summer resorts, stranding vessels and carrying destruction before it. Unlike the great tempest of a week ago, the wind came from the eastward and it blew with even greater force.

This gale came from the sea, and it brought with it a blinding rain, which fell unceasingly for over twenty-four hours. At sea the rain fell in torrents and the tempest, gathering strength throughout the night, was sweeping inland at the rate of forty-five miles an hour early in the morning.

Such waves as piled in along the Jersey coast and on the shores of Long Island have not been seen for years before. They tore away bulkheads, inundated many of the coast railways, strewed fishing craft all along the shores and undid in many cases the labor of years. This morning the water rolls along the Long Island and New Jersey shores where there was solid land on Thursday. There can be no conception of the terrific force of the wind and waves. They brooked no obstacle, and there is no way of estimating at this time the vast amount of damage wrought.

The places experiencing great damage on the Jersey coast were Seabright, Monmouth Beach and Galilee, where bulkheads and embankments were torn away. An Sandy Hook the surf flooded the track of the New Jersey Southern washing away the roadbed at different points.

A despatch from Far Rockaway said that a four-masted steamer was reported as stranded at Long Beach. The unfortunate vessel was supposed to be the Obdam, of the Netherlands-American line, which was due here yesterday from Rotterdam. She left that port on October 11, and should have reached this port yesterday. She brings a number of cabin and steerage passengers and a general cargo.

Rough Weather at Cape May.

CAPE MAY, Oct. 25.—A portion of the railroad track here is under water. A part of the drive and walk in front of President Harrison's cottage at Cape May Point is damaged. The property of the fishermen below Long Branch was greatly damaged by the gale.

STRUCK A ROCK.

E. D. Morgan's Steam Yacht Catarina Meets Disaster in the Night.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—About 3:30 o'clock in the morning, the magnificent English built steam yacht Catarina, owned by Mr. E. D. Morgan, ran on a rock inside the Matinecock bouy and about one hundred yards from Matinecock Point, Long Island Sound. A big hole was stove in the yacht's keel, directly under her engine room, through which the water rushed, putting out the fires and causing her to sink in four fathoms of water.

There were thirty souls on board, including the owner, Mr. Morgan, all of whom escaped from from the vessel before she sank, taking to the large lifeboats and rowing ashore near Glen Cove. They had a tough time of it, as the wind was blowing a hurricane and the waves dashed fiercely over them, and they had much difficulty in keeping clear of the rocks which abound in the vicinity of Matinecock Point.

Mr. Morgan lost everything in the shape of clothing and jewelry that he had on board, and the captain, officers, stewards, cooks and men were equally unfortunate, but were thankful when they reached terra firma that they had got there alive.

Disastrous Village Fire.

EAST PEPPERELL, Mass., Oct. 25.—The big fire which started here at an early hour destroyed the shoe factory of Leighton Brothers. A high wind was blowing at the time and the flames spread rapidly and almost before the people in the neighborhood were aware of their danger the fire was threatening their lives. It spread from the shoe factory to a row of wooden boarding houses, which burned quickly, also three stores and seven residences. Several hundred persons are thrown out of employment by the fire and the town is in a distressed condition. The loss is estimated at about $300,000.

A Shortage of $30,000.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Oct. 25.—Albert W. Oxnard, treasurer of the Johnstown Lumber Company, and son of the late Edward Oxnard, a prominent oil dealer of Pittsburg, has disappeared, and his whereabouts are a mystery. An examination of the books show a large discrepancy, but the amount cannot now be given. The shortage will reach at least $30,000. Oxnard left his wife and child behind him.

Secretary Blaine's Movements.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 25.—Secretary of State Blaine, Mrs. Blaine, Miss Blaine and Minister William Walter Phelps arrived in Pittsburg last night and were driven to the Monongahela House where they remained until this morning and then left for Canton, Ohio, Major McKinley's home, where Mr. Blaine is announced to speak to-night.

BIRCHALL'S MOTHER.

She Sails for Canada to See Her Son Before His Death.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Oct. 25.—The Birchall trial cost the county $2,500. That amount covered only the witnesses and constables' fees. The counsel were paid by the Government, making the total cost $8,000.

Mrs. Birchall, mother of the condemned man, has sailed for Canada to see her son before his death.

Charles Benwell, brother of Birchall's victim, bought a return ticket last night, and sails from New York on the White Star Line steamer Majestic, on Wednesday next. He has erected a suitable monument over his brother's grave at Princeton, and made arrangements with Sexton Gibbs to keep the plot in repair.

C. W. Bunting, of the Toronto Mail, bought Birchall's history of his life for $1,500.

TWO FROM ONE FAMILY.

A Matron's Pursuit of Her Runaway Husband and Her Son's Wife.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Mrs. Eugene Dauterville of Astoria, L. I., has been in this city several days to obtain evidence for use in a suit for divorce against her husband. Mrs. Dauterville is forty-five years old and comely. She alleges that her husband, who is only twenty-eight years old, ran away from home a few days ago with her son's wife, Mamie Gardner. Gardner was Mrs. Dauterville's name before she married the alleged fugitive husband.

The pursuing wife's visit to this place was due to the fact that the missing Eugene bought tickets from New York for Rochester Tuesday night. She failed, however, to find any trace of the elopers here.

An Entire Family Poisoned.

ONEIDA, N. Y., Oct. 25.—The entire family of Joseph Crumb of North Brookfield has been poisoned by eating of a pudding made from meal with which rat poison had become mixed in some mysterious way. The family consists of Mr. and Mrs. Crumb, a hired man, two daughters and one son. Two physicians were summoned and have done all in their power to relieve the sufferings of the afflicted family. It is thought that all will recover except possibly the daughters, who are both in a critical condition.

Sued for $50,000 Damages.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 25.—Solomon T. Trumbull of West Gloucester has sued Isaac J. Proctor for $50,000 damages. It is alleged that Mr. Proctor has written defamatory letters to E. C. Hawks of Buffalo, while Trumbull was building several stone cottages for him at Coffin's Beach, and that on account of these letters the job was taken away from him whereby he suffered great loss.

Another Mystery Cleared Up.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Clinton T. Cooke, whose disappearance from his office on West Madison street two weeks ago caused conjectures that he had been murdered, is in Cincinnati. A telegram from the Chief of Police there has been received saying that the doctor was found wandering in the streets. He is insane.

Will Shut Off the Gas.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 25.—The Philadelphia Natural Gas Company has decided to shut off the supply of natural gas from all the Pittsburg puddling furnaces which it has hitherto supplied. The chief reason for the move, as given by the officers of the company, is that they can make more money by supplying the gas to domestic consumers.

Madman Dougherty Indicted.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Jas. Dougherty, the alleged lunatic, who killed Dr. Lloyd at the Flatbush Insane Asylum, has been indicted by the Grand Jury for murder in the first degree. The question of his sanity has not yet been legally determined. He was arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

Two Thousand Men Will be Idle.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 25.—A general shutdown of all sugar refineries here is expected within the next few days. About 2,000 men will be affected. A director of the Brooklyn Sugar Refining company says his works will remain closed until April 1, when raw sugar will be admitted free.

Col. Dudley's Libel Suit.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The General Term of the Supreme Court has refused to vacate the order for the examination of Col. Wm. W. Dudley before trial, in his suit for libel against the Press Publishing Company (The World) for damages for publishing the famous "blocks of five" letter.

Reviewed by Speaker Reed.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Last night Speaker Reed reviewed a monster torchlight procession in this city and made an address to a large assemblage at Battery D. He spoke on the tariff question and kindred matters.

HELD FOR CONTEMPT

The Case of Lida La Montague Attracting Attention.

CANADA ASKED TO RELEASE HER

The Matter Will Probably be Laid Before the State Department.

The Alleged Tariff Flaw Said to be the Fault of the Enrolling Clerks—Catholic Bishops Interview Secretary Noble—The British Iron and Steel Delegates Received by the President To-Day.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—A despatch from Montreal says the case of Lida La Montague is likely to open up a question in international law between Canada and the United States, which will take many months to straighten out. Lida La Montague's husband was killed by her brother and the house set on fire. Lida was tried for murder as an accomplice and acquitted.

She then went to Lawrence, Mass. When the Crown came to try her brother it was found that Lida's testimony was needed to convict. She would not voluntarily return, so a charge of arson was laid against her and she was extradited. Attempts were then made to compel her to testify, but, emphatically refusing, she was finally committed for contempt. Her brother was convicted of the murder. After his sentence she was sentenced to one year's imprisonment and fined $250 for contempt.

Her counsel protested, but to no avail, that the terms of her extradition were being violated, that she could not be imprisoned for any crime other than arson. Her counsel is now going to appeal to the Minister of Justice at Ottawa, and if that does not succeed will lay the matter before the State Department at Washington, and ask it to take action to compel Canada to either try the girl for the crime she was extradited for or release her altogether. She is now in jail at Sherbrook, P. Q.

THE TARIFF BILL FLAW.

Major Carson Says it Was the Fault of the Enrolling Clerks.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—In reference to the published statement that the omission of amendment 449 from the Tariff bill was the fault of the conference committee, and not the fau. of the enrolling clerks, and that consequently it was enrolled as it passed both Houses, Major J. M. Carson, the clerk to the Ways and Means Committee, says that the statement was not correct. The error, he said, was made by the enrolling clerks.

Major Carson makes the point that for the last fifty years omissions have occurred in tariff bills which have been passed, and they have all been corrected by Congress. Major Carson thinks that nothing will result from the agitation, and says that Congress will make the correction before January 1 next, when the omitted paragraph was intended to go into effect.

The President Undecided.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The President has not yet decided whether he will go home to vote. His friends in Indiana believe that his presence in Indianapolis on election day will be worth many votes to the party, but his visit will depend altogether upon his ability to arrange his official duties in such manner as will enable him to go without neglecting the public business.

Bishops Interview Secretary Noble.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Archbishop Ireland and Bishop Shanley had an interview with Secretary Noble. They requested the Secretary to give the right of seclusion to sisters in charge of the girls' school on the Devil's Lake reservation, Dakota. The Secretary seemed inclined to grant their request, but took no action in the matter.

Received by the President.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—At 3 o'clock today the British delegates to the Iron and Steel Association were received by the President. After leaving the White House the visitors will make a tour of the city and suburbs. In the evening a promenade concert will be given at the Arlington Hotel from 8:30 to 10 o'clock.

Secretary Proctor Will Vote.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Secretary Proctor intends to go home to vote, and will leave for Vermont next week.

Has Fasted 225 Days.

EASTON, Pa., Oct. 25.—Mrs. Adam Wuchter, of Whitehall, who is said to have fasted for the past 225 days, is still alive. She says she has much pain in her head and throat. She believes that if she could eat she would get better. Her hair has been falling out for the past week. This, the doctors say, indicates loss of vitality.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.

VANDERBILTS IN READING.

It Looks as if the Great Railroad Deal Had Been Concluded.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—The important announcement is made that an alliance between the Reading Railroad syndicate and the Vanderbilt interests had finally been effected and that hereafter the Vanderbilts will be represented in the Reading management.

A meeting of the members of the Reading syndicate (which holds about 400,000 shares, or more than a majority of the capital stock of the company) was held during the morning, and W. W. Gibbs of this city formally resigned, and his place in the syndicate was, by unanimous consent, accorded to H. B. Hollins, the head of the New York bankers and brokerage firm of H. B. Hollins & Co.

The significance of the meeting becomes apparent when it is stated that H. B. Hollins & Co. are the recognized brokers of the Vanderbilts, and that the head of the firm enjoys confidential relations with the leading members of the Vanderbilt family. The retirement of Mr. Gibbs and the election of Mr. Hollins means, in other words, that the deal between the Reading syndicate and the Vanderbilts has been concluded, and that hereafter the Vanderbilts will take a prominent part in Reading Railroad affairs.

EIGHT FATALLY INJURED.

An Express Train Leaves the Track at a Curve and is Wrecked.

TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 25.—Last night the Sante Fe express train, which left here at 1:15, known as the "cannon ball," was wrecked at Wakerusa, a small station thirteen miles from here, where the train does not stop. At this point there is a curve, and for some reason unknown the baggage, mail and express cars and three Pullman vestibule coaches left the track.

Twenty-three persons were injured, the following fatally: J. W. Fadley, T. J. Johnson, W. A. Jones, Harry Stone, Kansas City; H. C. Lindsey, Topeka; Mattie O'Connell, Mrs. Ellen Steele, New York city; J. L. Terry, express messenger, Kansas City.

The engine did not leave the track. The cars, after being turned over, dragged along a hundred feet or more, the passengers inside being in mortal terror of their lives.

Those of the wounded not able to travel are being cared for at the hotels.

AN IMPORTANT QUESTION.

Locomotive Engineers Take a Vote on the Affiliation Scheme.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 25.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, in secret session here, by a vote of 276 for to 168 against, defeated the majority report of the committee appointed to devise a plan of co-operation, which was in favor of a scheme to affiliate with the firemen, conductors and brakemen. The vote lacked a two-thirds majority by 22.

The report was sent back to the committee, and the matter is still a subject of consideration. No vote has been taken on the minority report.

Fell Dead While Fighting.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 25.—John Farra, a livery stable keeper, and James Devine, an employe of the Clapp & Jones Manufacturing Co. of Hudson, N. Y., who was here repairing the Friendship fire engine, got into an altercation in the barroom of the Pennsylvania Hotel last night, when Farra struck Devine in the mouth and he fell dead. Either the blow or the fall broke his neck. Farra surrendered to the police.

A Girl Commits Suicide.

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 25.—Lizzie Salow, aged 16, daughter of a prominent contractor, committed suicide during the morning. She left her home at midnight against her parents' wishes with her brother-in-law, George Blum, to go to his home in Meadville. Her father had Blum arrested at the depot. The girl disappeared and was found drowned in the bay. Sensational developments are expected.

Granted a New Trial.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The Supreme Court General Term has granted a new trial to Dr. Louis Aldrich, convicted of gross immorality with three small children. In writing the opinion Judge Daniels says the trial judge should have instructed the jury that the evidence was insufficient to warrant a conviction.

Fifteen Indictments Against a Lawyer.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 25.—The Camden County grand jury has made its presentment to court, bringing in eighteen true bills, one against Francis Lingo for the murder of Mrs. Miller, and fifteen against Lawyer Hogate, twelve of which were for forgery and three for false pretense.

Five Inches of Snow in Vermont.

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., Oct. 25.—Heavy rains have fallen here. The total precipitation for twenty-four hours is estimated at 2½ inches. Hill towns report from two to five inches of snow, and some of the stages have been unable to make their trips.

Stabbed Himself Eight Times.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Charles Reibling, 54 years old, clerk in the Bedford Bank, this city, committed suicide at his home on Sumner street by stabbing himself eight times. Morbid jealousy is said to have been the cause.

Sent the Family to Prison.

NEW MILFORD, Conn., Oct. 25.—Dr. David W. Knowles and wife were sentenced at Litchfield to ten years each, and their son George to seven years for shooting John J. Waters at Lanesville, September last.

ANARCHY IN RUSSIA

Alarming Condition of Affairs in the Czar's Domain.

CONFLICTS IN MANY PLACES.

A Band of Emigrants Stopped by Guards and Brutally Murdered.

Dillon and O'Brien Leave Havre This Morning for America—Another Woman Mutilated and Murdered in London—A Great Conspiracy Scheme Exposed—Balfour Saved from Humiliation in Ireland.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The Telegraph's St. Petersburg correspondent says: "The Minister of the Interior has received alarming reports on the state of the country. The prisons are crowded with subjects, chiefly young men of the educated classes. Disaffection is spreading everywhere. Incendiarism is rife, and there have been conflicts in many places between the peasantry and soldiers.

A party of Russian emigrants numbering upward of three hundred and holding tickets for transportation to Brazil, left the village of Ricszsera to cross the West Russian frontier. When they reached the frontier post in the night they were stopped by the frontier guards, why demanded to see their tickets permitting them to leave the country.

Upon learning that the party had none such they were forced back at the point of the bayonet.

Upon receiving such treatment so unjustifiably, numbers of emigrants protested, whereupon the guard fired on them, killing two men and one woman. The latter had a young babe in her arms, which was wounded.

A GIGANTIC SWINDLE.

Forged Letters of Credit That Included the Whole of Europe.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—George Johnson, an artist, and John Phillips, a dealer in pictures and artists' supplies, have been arrested and were charged at the Mansion House with conspiracy to forge letters of credit made payable at the great banking house of Drexel, Morgan & Co.

A man of the name of Freyheim, upon whose information the arrests were made, testified to having first met the prisoner Phillips at Rotterdam. Subsequently the witness came to London, where he witnessed the making of the forged letters.

On the completion of the preliminary examination the accused were remanded.

The conspiracy, which is a most gigantic one, is already known to have its ramifications all over Western Europe. Accomplices of Johnson and Phillips have been arrested in Liege, Madrid and Marseilles.

They will be held in the respective cities until such time as the British authorities can secure their extradition.

The implements used in the work of forgery were found in the possession of George Johnson.

O'BRIEN AND DILLON SAIL.

The Irish Fugitives Start This Morning for the United States.

PARIS, Oct. 25.—Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien and Mr. Dillon left Paris last night on the special boat train and embarked on the steamer La Champagne for New York this morning.

During Mr. O'Brien's visit to the Chamber of Deputies yesterday, members of the various parties requested a series of conferences in regard to Ireland. Mr. O'Brien promised that the Nationalists would send a delegate to France to plead for Ireland.

The suresies of Messrs. O'Brien and Dillon, at Tipperary, wired the fugitives: "We bid you God-speed and are proud to bear the responsibility of your flight.

The O'Shea-Parnell Suit.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The trial in the divorce proceedings brought by Captain O'Shea against his wife, in which Mr. Parnell figures as co-respondent, has been set for the middle of November. Mrs. O'Shea will make counter allegations against her husband. Sir Charles Russell and Mr. Herbert Acquith have been retained as counsel by Mr. Parnell.

Disappointed by Balfour.

DUBLIN, Oct. 25.—A large crowd of Nationalists assembled at the railway station at Galway awaiting the arrival of Mr. Balfour, whom they intended to receive with cheers for O'Brien, Dillon and other leaders. Mr. Balfour was warned of their intentions and left the train at Athlone, where he took a car to Castlereagh. He will not visit Galway.

Business Failures for the Week.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Bradstreet reports 202 failures in the United States during the week, against 177 in the preceding week, and 190, 208, 213 and 216 in the corresponding weeks of 1889, 1888, 1887 and 1886 respectively. The Middle States had 56 and New England had 25.

An Old Lawyer Disbarred.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—John E. Murray, a lawyer who has practiced many years, was disbarred by the General Term of the Supreme Court. Murray, who has been drinking heavily of late, accused Surrogates Rollins and Ransom of corruption and had refused to apologize.

Iron Workers Strike.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Oct. 25.—About 70 iron workers at Marvel's ship-yard are on strike owing to the refusal of the proprietor to discharge non-union men

UP IN A BALLOON.

Over 10,000 People Witness a Novel Marriage and Bridal Trip.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 25.—Mr. Thos. J. Mims and Miss Gertrude Pilman of Brewton, Ala., were married at the State fair in the presence of over 10,000 people, Rev. S. M. Adams, President of the State Alliance, performing the ceremony. The young couple then stepped into the car of a monster gas balloon and with Aeronaut Baldwin sailed off on a bridal tour.

The balloon took a southerly direction, and at a height of about a mile and a half went over Red Mountain. It was last seen at 2:20 passing over Axmoor, and still heading for the mountainous region of Shelby County.

The young couple were presented with a purse of $250 by the State Fair management and a large number of presents were given to them.

A telegram from Helena, eighteen miles south of the city, says the balloon landed safely near that place. The young couple are unhurt and greatly enjoyed the novel experience. They will return to the city and hold a public reception.

THE MAFIA AGAIN.

A Sack Containing the Body of an Italian Found Near New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 25.—While hauling in drift wood at Kennery, fourteen miles above New Orleans, some men drew in a sack containing the body of an Italian. There are marks of strangulation around the neck.

It was evidently a murder and is supposed to have been by the order of the Mafia to keep an important witness from testifying in the Hennessey assassination case, or by the vendetta.

The officials are investigating the matter thoroughly with a view of ascertaining the name and occupation of the murdered man and his connection, if any, with the principals now in jail.

Gladstone's Speeches.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Liberal newspapers throughout the country unite in asserting that Mr. Gladstone's Midlothian speeches are among the best political efforts of his life, and even the Tory press, including the Times and the Standard, pay a tribute to his wonderful energy at his time of life. Mr. Balfour is said to have made the remark, since his arrival in Ireland, that the Parliament would sit out the full time, as every year counted against the only man who could induce Englishmen to accept the delusion of home rule. He is supposed to have alluded to Mr. Gladstone, now 81 years of age.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The Count of Paris and party were enthusiastically received at Montreal.

Ensign Rumsey, of the U. S. steamer Swatara, was accidentally drowned at Yokohama.

The Navy Department is informed that a squadron of Brazilian men-of-war sailed for New York from Rio Janeiro.

Cholera is gradually disappearing in Yokohama. There have been 34,000 cases and 23,000 deaths up to death.

The State Board of Arbitration of Massachusetts has succeeded in settling the trouble at the shoe factory of Hiss & Hutchens at Marlboro, and all hands have returned to work.

The Presbyterian Synod at Lockport, N. Y., has finished its labors. C. S. Robinson, S. M. Hamilton and W. A. Wheeler, all of New York, were elected trustees of the synod.

Representatives from the leading express companies of the country are holding a meeting at Chicago to complete the schedule for the advance in eastern rates. The meeting will end to-night.

At the citizens' mass meeting held at Buffalo, N. Y., for the purpose of raising money for the aid of the famine sufferers of Ireland, and which was addressed by Bishop Ryan, Congressman Farquhar and Mayor Bishop, over $3,300 was subscribed.

In New York yesterday iron crowbars were the weapons used in a duel fought between Joseph Wood and Carl Burg. The battle was fierce, and lasted some time. It was ended only when both men sank to the ground, each with a fractured skull and other injuries.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—For New England: Cloudiness and continued rains; cooler, brisk and light northerly winds.

For Eastern New York: Northerly winds and slightly cooler; except stationary temperature in the vicinity of New York city, cloudiness with intermittent showers.

For New Jersey: Continued cool, brisk northerly winds; fair weather, except preceded by rain along the coast line.

For Western New York and Western Pennsylvania: Cloudy weather and intermittent showers; slightly colder; northerly winds.

BY THE WAY.

—Regular meeting of Plainfield Council, Royal Arcanum, next Monday evening.

—Where is the "conspicuous public place within the district," where is posted, as the law requires, the registry list of the First Ward?

—The speakers at next Wednesday evening's meeting in Amphion Hall, will be Charles H. Winfield, Fred C. Marsh and R. V. Lindabury.

—On Tuesday next, "Sts. Simon and Jude's Day," and on Saturday, "All Saints Day," there will be Holy Communion in Grace church at 10 o'clock A. M.

—The shareholders of the Plainfield Building and Loan Association will meet in Cutter's Hall next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, for the payment of monthly dues.

—The railroad scene in "Delmonte," as played at Amphion Hall, by the Leonzo Brothers and their company, is well worth seeing. This piece will be given again this evening.

—Ten per cent. off of other people's prices is offered by the Pierson Hardware company, 42 West Front street. They intend in the future to do a cash business and have marked stoves, lamps, house furnishing goods, etc., way down.

—August Jacot, who has been chef at the Surf Hotel, Fire Island, many years, has opened a restaurant at 11 East Front street, opposite Park avenue. There will be served meats, fish, oysters, pastry and everything else to order, at all hours. Jacot can broil a chop or steak to perfection.

—The Leonzo Brothers and company will repeat at Amphion Hall, this evening, the great Mexican railroad play, "Delmonte," that was so successful on Tuesday evening. You must go early to get seats. In spite of the weather and other local attractions, Amphion Hall is crowded to the doors every night.

—Mr. Jacolucci, who has recently opened a first-class candy store at 33 West Front street, wishes to inform the public that he is now prepared to furnish them with the choicest kinds of confectionery at prices so low that he defies competition. The finest make of bon-bons, chocolates and other varities too numerous to mention, he offers from 40 cents a box upwards. His candies are made fresh every day, and he solicits a share of the people's patronage. His motto is "Once my customer, always my customer."

PARTICULAR MENTION.

There is a rumor that the Board of Education will soon lose the efficient services of the Principal of Irving school, who will be Miss Gilbert but a little while longer.

G. L. Applegate, of Syracuse, who has been stopping with F. W. Clark, of West Seventh street, returned home yesterday. He came to Plainfield to act as groomsman at the Clark-Littell wedding.

The marriage is announced of Miss Lydia Birdsall, formerly of this city, and William H. Popham, of White Plains, N. Y. The ceremony took place in Grace church, White Plains, on Wednesday.

At the reception given to the Rev. Mr. Karner, of this city, by the people of his new church in Albany, Wednesday evening, the Rev. C. E. Dunn, of the Third Presbyterian church of that city, made a happy little speech in which he alluded to their both coming from Plainfield, both being graduated from the same college and both having married wives of this city.

The marriage took place last evening at the home of the bride on Prescott place, of John Arden, one of the employes of the Pond Machine Tool Company, and Miss Annie Clifton, whose sister is the wife of Foreman Foster of the Works. Miss Alice Burrows, of Brooklyn, was bridemaid, and Hugh Smith, of this city, was groomsman. About fifty guests were present, and gifts were numerous.

Had Faith in His Ship, and His Ship Proved True.

The safe arrival of overdue ship Irene, of which the Hon. J. W. Yates, of East Seventh street, is owner, was recorded among the maritime dispatches from Charlestown, South Carolina, yesterday. The Irene left the port of New York about fifteen months ago, going to Zanzibar, on the eastern coast of Africa, thence to Hong Kong, thence to Caletabuena, a port in Chili, and so on around the world. But from the last port she was 133 days making the port of Charlestown, some forty-three days out of time, and great anxiety was felt by the owners of the cargo, in consequence of which the owners' Plainfield agents offered as high a premium as twenty-five per cent. to secure insurance, which had been neglected. Mr. Yates, however, felt confident that the vessel was safe, and yesterday morning he received the congratulatory news of her arrival off the bar all right. Mr. Yates insures his own ships; therefore it must be a source of pleasure to him to learn definitely of the prosperous voyage of the vessel and the safety of all on board.

SARGENT SAILS AWAY AGAIN.

But This Time He Goes in the Steerage Although one of His "Stars" Occupies a Cabin in the Same Ship.

A great many of THE PRESS readers in this city remember H. J. Sargent, who lived so long in Plainfield and whose wife and family remained here for some time after he went to England as a theatrical manager. His career since is therefore of some interest to them; and, besides, it is a very entertaining story to anybody as culled from the reports in the New York papers.

Sargent, who had conducted the affairs of several stars of considerable magnitude at one time and another, among them Modjeska, has been struggling against adverse fortune recently, but as he stood upon the deck of the Britannic last Wednesday, as she was steaming away from the dock, he waved his somewhat battered hat and called back to his friends, so they say: "I shall come back with barrels of money."

Sargent went in the steerage because they wouldn't let him work his way across, and through the generosity of a friend who advanced the money for the trip. On the same boat was Mrs. Churchill-Jodrell, the Englishwoman whom Sargent was going to put on the American stage. The two, manager and star, have been wandering along the ragged edge of starvation for some months in New York, owing to Sargent's inability to make her twinkle, and the obduracy of her relatives, who cut off her allowance of £8,000 a year when she decided to become an actress. Mrs. Churchill-Jodrell comes from high social circles in London. Her relatives and connections form almost a regiment in the pages of Burke and Debrett. Her ancestry Jates back to the days of William the Conqueror. Her grandmother was a daughter of the Earl of Kingston, and her uncle was Sir Edward Repps Jodrell. The family is wealthy, it is said, and possesses a splendid collection of plate and historic jewels, Sace Park, Norfolk, and country seats in Oxfordshire and Derbyshire. Besides these possessions there is the Jodrell mansion, at No. 21 Portland Place, London.

During the visit of Buffalo Bill to England, Mrs. Churchill-Jodrell invited that well-known American to her drawing-room and gave an entertainment in his honor, at which she met Sargent, and he found in her a woman who was possessed of the footlight fever in a most unmistakable manner. He easily persuaded her to go upon the stage. The English papers were full of it; her relatives were chagrined beyond measure, but Harry Sargent said she could be a star and be a star she would.

She appeared first in her own country at Liverpool, at the Alexandria Theatre, but the attempt, it is said, was absolutely painful. Mrs. Churchill-Jodrell told some of her friends here that Sargent then persuaded her that her poor success was due to the English prejudice against a woman of rank going upon the stage, and persuaded her to come to America. A contract was made between them by which it was stipulated that Sargent should manage her theatrical business in the United States for three years, at $10,000 a year, and that she should furnish $25,000 in cash to start the business. Mrs. Churchill-Jodrell says that Sargent had been living upon her ever since. When she determined to come to America, her allowance of £8,000 a year was cut off, but, nothing daunted, she set sail for New York fully believing that Sargent had secured a theatre for her, and that the making of money would be inevitable. They took up their quarters at the Union Square Hotel, where, it is said, a disagreement took place over Mr. Sargent's wine bill, and her trunks were seized for payment. The matter was adjusted, however, and the party, consisting of Mrs. Churchill-Jodrell, her maid, three dogs and Sargent, went to the Wagner Hotel in Fourteenth street. Here poverty covered them like a garment, and many peculiar stories are told of their make-shifts.

The party was finally driven from the Wagner Hotel for non-payment of lodging bills, and moved to No. 62 East Eleventh street, where Mrs. Lodewick took them in, and where the party took Mrs. Lodewick in to the tune of $1,268 board money, it is said. Mrs. Lodewick kept them all till last Wednesday, when she determined that she would rescue the star from her manager and send her back to England, especially as Mrs. Churchill-Jodrell's mother died on September 15 and left her daughter, it is said, a large inheritance. With this intent Mrs. Lodewick bought a first-class passage ticket to England, got Mrs. Churchill-Jodrell into a cab, drove to the pier where the steamer lay and saw the star safely on board. The business manager wouldn't forsake her, however, but bought a steerage ticket and steamed away with her. Mrs. Churchill-Jodrell's friends think Sargent has a sort of mesmeric influence over her. Mr. Sargent's friends, on the other hand, say that the woman, who is about as broad as she is long, could never succeed as an actress, and that Sargent was unable to get anyone to advance the money to bring her out, and anyway, he expected she would have enough for that purpose herself.

Communion Wine.

Mr. Alfred Speer, the celebrated wine grower of New Jersey, preserves the unfermented juice of the grape for Sacramental use. It has been adopted, and its use sanctioned by the prominent divines of this country. It is also used by invalids with remarkably good effect. For sale by druggists.

The "Whatsoever Circle" Reap Success.

There was not a dozen empty seats in Y. M. C. A. Hall, last evening. The occasion that called the people out on such a stormy night was an entertainment provided by the "Whatsoever Circle" of King's Daughters, which consists of young women of the Rev. Mr. Schenck's church, with Mrs. Charles P. Leggett as Directress. The committee that arranged the successful affair was composed of Mrs. Wm. G. E. See, chairman, and Mrs. T. H. Hardy, Miss Jennie VanWinkle and Miss Lillian Force.

The programme was a varied nad enjoyable one. It consisted of instrumental and vocal music by local talent that interspersed readings by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Firth Wood. A sweet toned piano had been loaned for the occasion from the warerooms of Thompson Park, and on its keys Miss Vanhart, of Trenton, and Miss Force, of North Plainfield, displayed their excellence as artists and highly pleased their hearers. The solos of Robert Gorton and Bethuel Barnes were, also, very creditable, and the choruses of the double quartette showed earnest effort.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood's selections were almost all excellent and in good taste. "Baby's Soliloquy" as rendered by the latter, approaches perfection nearer than any imitation attempted by any elocutionist of the day. Everybody present and interested, was thoroughly satisfied with the whole entertainment, and in spite of the bad weather, the Circle will reap financial profit as they deserve.

—Edsall extends a general invitation to call at his store to-night, with a promise to save money for his purchasers.

NO NEW WATER-WORKS CONTRACT.

THE CITY FAILS TO SEE THAT THE WATER SUPPLY COMPANY HAVE ANY RIGHTS.

Mr. Newhall Thinks the Contract Couldn't Be Sold Even Were the Council Willing—Mr. Marsh Hints at the Object of the Suit against Contractor Moore—Mr. Smith and Mr. Hetfield Want to Know about Those Thousand-Dollar Payments—"Chestnuts!" Says Mr. Hetfield to Mr. Smith—That Everlasting Street Railway Makes Him Tired—Electric Wires Overhead and Underground—Speculation in Grave Lots—Teaching a Grasping Corporation What is What.

Just what rights are possessed by the Plainfield Water Supply Company the city's Water Board have not yet been able to determine; and it is quite evident, from what transpired at last night's meeting of the Common Council, that water-works stamped by the approval of the municipal fathers are still a matter of dim futurity. Whether or not the Watter Supply Company will proceed with the work of construction on the strength of their old-time charter, and in spite of the fact that the Common Council have not officially recognized the prerogatives they claim, remains to be seen.

"The Water Board"—reported Chairman Newhall, when the subject of water-works came up—"has nothing to report but 'progress'— and that means a very little progress. We have had a meeting with a committee from the Water Supply Company, including President Bergen, Mr. Murray and Mr. Waring, and have discussed with them, in an informal manner, their proposition for a new contract with the city. At that meeting they stated quite fully just what they were satisfied with and what not, in the old contract between the city and the Water Works Company of Plainfield. We found, and told them so, that they were inclined to strike out and deprive the city of very much, in the existing contract, of what we thought was right and important. We added, however, that we were willing to receive from them any plan of contract, and in consequence they sent us a draft of such an agreement as they wished to make. The conditions of this proposed contract were such that I took the responsibility of replying—and the rest of Board approved of the course—that we could not recommend to the Council such a contract as was proposed.

"The plans for the distribution of the mains, and a copy of the proposed contract, are here to-night, subject to councilmanic examination, but they are not of such character as the Board can stamp with its approval, and we can only say that we hope the time will come when we can present something which we can recommend."

No one expressed a desire to examine the propositions of the Water Supply Company, and they remained in Mr. Newhall's possession, to be returned to the Company's representatives. Councilman Smith, however, seemed not entirely satisfied with the report of the Board, and stated that he thought something ought to be done "to straighten up the defaulting Water-Works Company's affairs first."

Mr. Newhall evidently understood from this that Mr. Smith feared that the Water Board was paying too much attention to the claims of the Water Supply Company, for he responded that nothing but the most informal talk between the latter's representatives and the Board had been indulged in.

"We have not"—he continued—"officially recognized any rights on their part. We don't know what rights they have, though they claim—pretty much every right one can imagine. They don't say that they have taken possession of the Water-Works Company's affairs. They only say 'We are in position at any moment to take possession.' They also, however, claim great rights under their old charter."

"But"—Mr. Smith insisted—"it seems, according to the public print, that they did get control. The newspaper reports [exclusively those of THE PRESS] have given the terms and specifications in full."

"Still"—was Mr. Newhall's response—"the Water Board has no official knowledge that such a transfer has taken place. We only know that so far as the Water Supply and Water-Works companies are concerned it may take place whenever the Water Supply Company wishes. My impression [this in response to a query from Councilman Hetfield] is that the existing contract between the Water-Works Company and the Council is of such a nature, and is drawn in such a way, that it cannot be assigned to a third party even by the consent of the Council. With this last view Mr. Hetfield coincided.

"It seems to me"—added Mr. Hetfield—"that all of our negotiations ought to be strictly with the Water-Works Company. We ought to have it definitely settled what they are going to do. We are not in a position to recognize any other company."

To this Mr. Newhall responded that the Water Board had no idea whatever that the Water-Works Company were doing anything or had any intentions to do anything towards fulfilling their contract. "We have not heard from them"—he concluded—"and we don't know where they are." This he said in a tone which seemed to imply that the Company had vanished on the winds, and would return—from where, oh where?—oh, nevermore.

But Mr. Hetfield still wanted to know why the Water Board paid so much attention to the Water Supply Company, and Mr. Newhall had to explain that the Board had been acting entirely under the direction of the Council—that Council had instructed the Board to confer with the Company concerning the correspondence of Contractor Moore, of the Water-Works Company, offering a plan for completing the water-works without further trouble or delay.

And when Mr. Hetfield's thirst for knowledge was satisfied, Mr. Smith had thought of something else he wanted to know, and this was—What about that $1,000 per month that the Water-Works Company was to pay?—Did the Water Board make demand for this every month?

"This matter of default"—said Mr. Newhall—"was referred to the Corporation Counsel, who thought it best to defer suit."

That more light on the subject might be had, Mr. Marsh was given the floor, and spoke as follows:

"There is, as you know, a suit pending, to test the constitutionality of the law under which the Water-Works Company was organized. The Company has taken the view that the writ of certiorari in this suit operates as a stay of proceedings on their part. This view we hold to be an erroneous one, but the probabilities were that if we began suit while the constitutionality suit was still pending, an injunction might be obtained to set aside our suit till the other had been decided, and hence we have not begun litigation on the bond. We have, however, made demand for the payment of the $1,000 per month, and have forwarded to the Supreme Court a return writ in response to the writ of certiorari. This suit will come up before the Court probably Nov. 4. My own opinion is that the suit was brought for a particular purpose, and that if the Water Supply Company be granted a contract nothing further will be heard of the suit."

But if no faithful contract for the construction of water-works is to be made, at least street lighting is not to suffer, for the contract with the Plainfield Electric Light Company is to be renewed, with ten years' privileges, as soon as the present contract expires, November 1. The contract is to be but for one year, but its terms are deemed so favorable that the city reserves the right to renew it for an entire decade; and whether or not such renewal be made the Company will still have for ten years the right to maintain for private lighting its poles and wires along the streets. This is all settled by an ordinance that was adopted on its first and second readings last night, and that was ordered engrossed and advertised; and by a resolution, which was also adopted, with all voting aye but Councilmen Roberts and Smith, who voted no, that the Mayor be empowered to execute the public lighting contract. The opposition of Mr. Roberts was against giving the Plainfield Electric Light Company a monopoly of street wiring privileges for ten years, and that of Mr. Smith was against hurrying the contract through, instead of holding it over till the meeting of Nov. 3, when the present contract would but just expire.

Under the terms of the new contract and ordinance no course seems to be left for rival companies, such as the Edison of North Plainfield, but to bury their wires; and the poles of the Plainfield Company are to be for the joint service of the company and the city, which will use them for stringing its fire-alarm wires. A further part of the agreement is that the company will furnish free steam for the blowing of the city's new fire-alarm gong. This far-sounding whistle will be purchased at an early date, as a resolution to expend not more than $300 for one was last night adopted.

The rates for street lighting under the new contract range from $14.60 to $17.50 for each lamp, of 25-candle power, per year. The lamps are to be kept, as now, burning every night from sunset to sunrise. The average cost per lamp must not exceed $16. This is considered an important concession, as most of the new lights which will be added to the city's service from time to time will in reality be $17.50 lamps, being in the outskirts; and the average, without this stipulation, must needs be considerably higher than the price stated.

In connection with the street lighting matter the opinion was expressed, by President Moffett and others, that the Plainfield Electric Light Company deserved to be treated with especial favor, "since no electric light plant in the State comes anywhere near perfection so much as this."

The ordinance to macadamize Cemetery avenue, leading Park avenue to the main entrance at Hillside, was adopted on its third reading and final passage with no one voting against it but Mr. Hetfield, and he stated that the only reason for his opposition was that he favored macadamizing streets in the heart of the town before spending money on those in the outskirts. There was Third street, for instance, which was in a deplorable condition from Peace to Richmond, and which ought to have been put in shape long ago.

To this Mr. Smith suavely responded that the Street Committee, of which he was chairman, didn't macadamize Third street because they expected the new street railway to lay tracks along the thoroughfare and macadamize it inside and outside the rails, to the great economy of the city.

This made Mr. Hetfield say "Chestnuts!" and add that he had heard that chestnutty talk about postponing macadamization because of expected railway improvements till it made him somewhat tired. Mr. Smith smiled serenely, and voted in favor of the Cemetery avenue ordinance, with Councilman Dunham, Gallup, Jenkins, Johnston, Moffett, Newhall, Roberts, Rushmore and Spangenberg.

The matter was not dropped, however, without developing a bit of sensation. Stories had been afloat, it seemed, that the Trustees of the Cemetery Association were making money out of the city in having the city pay for macadamizing the avenue leading to the Hillside gates, and Trustee John W. Murray was given the floor to respond to such unpleasant charges as he saw fit to notice.

Going back to the inception of the Hillside Cemetery plan, Mr. Murray stated that the Board of Trustees had devoted a great deal of time and energy towards bringing the matter to perfection, and at the outset had spent $13,000 more than the purchase price in developing the scheme. They had assumed personal responsibility for heavy indebtedness, and had taken on themselves a great deal of care, all for the public benefit, with no hope whatever of financial benefit. The only adavntage the early projectors ever had in the matter was in being able each to purchase, as the charter stipulated they might, one family plot, strictly for their own family's use, at one-half price. Outside of this privilege the Trustees could not reap one cent's worth of benefit. The Cemetery was entirely a public project. It was the property of the lot-owners. Plainfield would always own it. The lot-owners could at any time remove the Trustees; the poorest lot-owners of all had just as much control over affairs and were just as much benefited by the income to the Cemetery as any others to the Association, and Mr. Murray regretted exceedingly that any charges of speculating in grave lots had been made. The Trustees could never, even if they desired, realize one cent through the Cemetery for all their services.

Councilman Jenkins asked if it wasn't true that the Trustees had been buying up the building lots on Cemetery avenue for speculative purposes. To this Councilman Smith replied that as he understood it the trustees had been compelled to buy the lots along the new thoroughfare from Woodland avenue to Park, in order to get the right of way for the street, but that all benefits from this property would go to the Association, not to the Trustees.

Mr. Murray stated that the Trustees had tried to get only what land was needed, but had had to buy other in order to secure the right of way, as Mr. Smith had said. But the land purchased belonged to the Cemetery Association, and the Trustees could obtain no private accruments through it, no matter what profits might result to the Association.

One other interesting matter came up before the Council adjourned, and that was concerning the maintenance of the news stand recently erected by the Union News Company at the North avenue station of the Central Railroad. The desire of the Company, as expressed in a petition, was to be permitted to erect the building already up, and Mr. Newhall was not long in entering vigorous protest. "I object"—he said—"to having these petitions come in this way after the building is already up. This building has been placed at the station contrary to law. It is not built in such a way as to warrant legal permission being given. This corporation ought to be taught a lesson. It ought to have ascertained the city's rights before begining work."

Considerable discussion followed. Mr. Hetfield said that the building had been brought to Plainfield already constructed in sections and had been put up in two or three hours as a completed structure. As it was only a wooden affair, and was in violation of the ordinances, T. O. Doane, Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, had ordered the News Company to tear it down, and an interview between the Company's representative and Mr. Hetfield had resulted. The Company disclaimed all knowledge of having violated the ordinance, and was willing to do what was right, even to pay a fine and tear the building down: but if a compromise could be arranged—such as leaving the building up and covering it with slate or corrugated iron—that would be preferred.

Mr. Newhall observed that the roof of the building was connected by a second roof, of wood, with the eaves of the telegraph and baggage rooms extension of the passenger station, which to his mind was very objectionable, as assisting the spread of fire. If it took—he said—only two hours to put the building up in sections, let the Company take two other hours, take it down in sections, carry it away out of sight and replace it with a less inflammable structure.

Mr. Newhall tried to get the matter referred to the Committee on Fire and Buildings without power, but had no supporters. It was then referred with power, and the building will probably be made moderately fire-proof externally.

"Just Hear That Child Scream!"

Said Mrs. Smith to her sister, Mrs. Davis, as the sound of a child's shrieks came across the garden from a neighbor's house. "What kind of a woman have you for a neighbor? Does she abuse her children?" "No, indeed," replied Mrs. Davis. "She is one of the most tender mothers in existence. But you see, she believes in the old-fashioned style of doctoring. When a child needs physic, she fills a spoon with some nauseous dose, lays the little victim flat on her lap, holds his nose till he is forced to open his mouth for breath, when down goes the dreadful mess. Then come the yells." "No wonder," said Mrs. Smith. "Why don't she use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets? They are effective without being harsh, and are as easy to take as sugar plums. I always give them to my children." "And so do I," said Mrs. Davis.

A Whole Company in One Man.

A newspaper man who interviewed Leland Powers, who is to interpret "David Copperfield" at the Crescent Avenue chapel, this evening, says; "With lightning speed Mr. Powers vanished. On the same square of carpet where he had stood was the oleaginous, cringing form of Uriah Heep. The hair was slightly disheveled, the head was drawn forward and down between the shoulders, with the chin pointing to the left, the eyes were rolled meekly upward, as though in silent prayer, while the hands became clinging, repulsive claws, affectionately caressing each other on a level with the chin. A moment, and Uriah or unpleasant memory left the room, ghost fashion, and his place was instantly filled by the confident, ease-loving Wilkins Micawber. He stood there waiting for something to turn up, just as the Dickens reader has always pictured him. The head was thrown back and inclined slightly to the right, the right hand was held aloft, palm upward in true declamatory style, while the left caressed the vest chain. Then came half a dozen characters from David Garrick, including Simon Ingot, and finally Mr. Powers himself came back from mysterious space."

Three Preparatory Meetings Next Week.

The Devotional Committee for the Mills' meetings have arranged for three union prayer meetings next week, on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings. The meeting on Tuesday evening will be held in the Methodist Episcopal church, and will be led by the Rev. Cornelius Schenck. The subject will be, "Search Me." Psalm CXXXIX, 1-12.

The Thursday night meeting will be held in the Trinity Reformed church, and will be led by the Rev. Asa Dilts. The subject will be, "What Can I render unto the Lord?" Psalm CXVI, 12-14. The Friday night meeting will be held in the Seventh Day Baptist church, and be led by the Rev. C. L. Goodrich. The subject will be, "Concern for Lost Men," Jer. IX, 1, and Psalm CXXVI, 5-6. The music each evening will be in charge of the church where the meeting is held. The sermons will begin promptly at eight o'clock.

A MATTER FOR WOMEN ONLY.

Something So Important That No Woman Should Skip This.

(From the Boston Traveller.)

A lady correspondent writes us: "If mothers would have healthy and vigorous children, let them first of all see to their own physical condition. I was at one time weak and nervous, exhausted alike in nerve and physical powers, always tired, and suffering untold miseries from diseases peculiar to my sex. Healthy children were an absolute impossibility, but by the aid of a most wonderful remedy, which I believe the best medicine ever discovered for weak, nervous, sick and exhausted womankind. I have been completely restored to health and strength, and have the healthiest, plumpest and best of babies. This marvellous remedy and friend of women is Dr. Greene's Nervura, and if any wish to be strong and healthy and have beautiful and vigorous children, they will not fail to use this wonder among medicines."

Women who suffer from difficulties peculiar to their sex, and who are in consequence weak, tired, nervous and run down in health and strength, and who suffer from dragging pains and aches, weak back and bad feeling head, to say nothing of the extreme nervousness and mental depression, should by all means use Dr. Greene's Nervura, the great nerve invigorant and restorer of health and strength to women. Our lady correspondent urges women to use it because of its marvellous curative effects in her case, and we can also heartily recommend its use to the thousands of women who suffer from those painful and exhausting diseases, because it is a purely vegetable and perfectly harmless remedy, and we have personally known of a great many cases it has cured. It is for sale by druggists at $1.00 per bottle.

RINGING WORDS OF HOPE.

I have been a great sufferer for seven or eight years. I used Dr. Greene's Nervura. It acted like magic. Why do women suffer when Dr Greene's Nervura will surely cure them? I think it is splendid. MISS PAULINE REISER
407 West 23d st., New York city.

Dr. Greene of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York, its discoverer, is the famous specialist in the cure of nervous and chronic diseases. The doctor has devoted special attention to the treatment of all forms of chronic diseases through letter correspondence, and will give by mail his opinion and advice in any case free of charge. The perfection of this system renders a complete cure almost assured, as his success in treatment by correspondence is wonderful and unequalled. # Colonel's Rabbit.

COLONEL is Willie's dog, and he is very proud when his master hitches him to the cart; but he can not be persuaded to carry any thing on his back.

If his master insists too much, Colonel will growl, and if he could talk, no doubt he would say: "Master Willie, you have gone far enough. It is now time to stop."

Willie has trained Colonel to perform many cunning tricks.

He is generally very dignified, and never shows any disposition to hurt dogs that are smaller than himself.

If they annoy him, he will show his teeth occasionally, but that is all. Willie says he is then laughing at them; but the dogs act as if they understood it to be a hint to keep out of his way.

I am sorry to say that Colonel sometimes loses his temper. He can not endure the presence of a cat.

One day Willie hitched him to the cart, and went down-town for some kerosene. After getting the oil he hung it on the back of the cart, climbed in, and started for home.

Colonel trotted along as usual, until suddenly a cat came out of an alley just in front of him, and ran across the street.

This was too much for the dog, and he started after the cat taking his load with him.

Willie tried to check him, but did not succeed.

The cat, in order to escape, jumped over the pickets.

The dog followed.

Willie got off just in time, but the can of oil remained.

The cart caught in the fence and held Colonel fast, tipping the can in such a way that his beautiful fur coat was thoroughly drenched with oil.

Poor Colonel was taught a double lesson: that it is undignified for a big dog to chase a cat, and that a shower of kerosene makes an exceedingly disagreeable bath.—Mrs. J. S. Lowe, in Our Little Ones.

STRENGTH OF INSECTS.

Some Very Interesting Experiments with Well-Known Specimens.

BROWN SNAPPER.

THE writer of this article enters upon a field seldom explored, the recording of experiments on the strength and agility of insects common to our fields and woods, says the Philadelphia Times' correspondent. Accurate tests have been made and fine scales used in order to arrive at correct results.

The insects upon which experiments have been made include beetles, bugs, flies, moths, hornets, grasshoppers, etc. Of all these the most sturdy and powerful have been found to be the hard-shelled, compact and heavy-limbed beetles, coleoptera. As the result of careful and repeated tests the foremost place must be given to euphoria inda, a beetle of medium size, not sufficiently abundant to have received as yet any popular name.

This little giant—shall we call him him the Samson beetle—is of a dull brown color, with fine spots of a darker brown. When on the wing he has a bee-like motion, and unlike many beetles, has the power of controlling the direction of his flight. He is often seen flying over ploughed ground or banks of loose earth, into which he burrows rapidly, and then calls into play his wonderful lifting powers.

A selected individual of this species, whose weight was found to be four and two tenths grains, sustained on its back small sacks of shot weighing eight and one-fourth ounces, or exactly eight hundred and fifty-eight times his own weight. If a man weighing one hundred and fifty pounds could do as well proportionately he would have little trouble in shouldering a locomotive engine weighing forty-five tons, and by putting forth his utmost strength, as the beetle did, he could stagger under a weight of sixty tons.

A larger and heavier black beetle, passalus cornutus, often found in old stumps and decayed logs, himself weighing eight grains, can sustain a weight of six ounces, making a mass of lead about equal to his own bulk and three hundred and thirty-two times his weight. A common lady-bug, the little round-backed red fellow, with two black spots on his wing-covers, moved five hundred times his own weight.

Among the larger beetles the gold-bug sustained ten ounces, his own weight being just one-five hundred and twenty-sixth of that figure, and the large, brown, long-legged pinching bug almost ran under a ten-ounce bag of shot, nearly six hundred times the weight at which he turned the scale. The great black water-beetle, dytiscus, fairly seemed to smile as the writer piled the little bags of lead upon his broad back, and not until more than a pound was reached did he acknowledge a weight that he could not budge. Though he lifted nearly twice as much as the euphoria, he was four times as heavy, and barely got away with three hundred times his own weight.

Leaving the beetles, the writer has found no such strength among the other orders. Yet the hard-shelled hymenoptera, the ants especially, are able to show considerable power. A common black ant runs almost as swiftly while holding a dead fly of its own weight in its jaws as it does without the fly. The red grass ant carries a piece of leaf three times as long as itself, and nearly as broad as long, held high in its jaws, and runs swiftly with it over obstacles of every sort, some of which are to the little fellow what a two-story house would be to a man.

Let us next consider the leaping and running powers of insects. The following test was make with the slim brown and green grasshopper commonly seen with full-grown wings in May and June. His wings were cut off close to his body, after which the average length of his hop was found to be seventeen inches, or just twenty-one times his own length. Another individual of the same species, but smaller, hopped twenty-six times his own length; and a third, still smaller, with wings just starting to grow, made a leap of thirty-eight inches, equal to fifty-two times his own length. The cutting of the wings of the first two may possibly have affected their performance.

CHAMPION JUMPER.

The best record on the part of the katydid family was made by a larva three-eighths of an inch long, which hopped thirteen inches, or about thirty-five times its own length. This shows that the leaping power of the katydids compares well with that of their cousins, the grasshoppers.

The hop of that little black pest, "the wicked flea," is not a far-reaching leap, but a standing high jump of great power. If the same exertion were put into a leap for distance the flea would doubtless outstrip all rivals except a few of the treehoppers and some of the podurides, whose magical performances rank them as the champion jumpers of the entire animal kingdom.

The treehoppers form a very large group, almost endless in the number of species and varieties. Among these the small, thick-set larva of the fluff-pug, pink and white, with ringed abdomen, makes a hop of seven inches, or one hundred and seventy-five times his length. A flat, blunt-headed tree hopper, a pupa without wings, shot from my hand and reached a grass stalk higher up at a distance of two hundred and forty-eight times his own length. I could not recapture him for another trial.

Finally a little champion, one-fiftieth of an inch long, cleared a distance of ten and one-half inches, or five hundred and twenty-five times his own length! This caps the climax and out-fleas the flea. If a horse seven feet long were possessed of proportionate agility he could make a flying leap of twelve hundred yards.

BIRD TALK.

The Little Feathered Creatures Have a Language of Their Own.

Do birds really understand each other? is the question that has often puzzled us as we listened to the chatter of the orchard birds. A correspondent of the Scotsman tells what he has noticed. "A brood of sparrows," he says, "had been hatched under the eaves of a house contiguous to mine, and on leaving the nest the family came en masse to my shrubberies for several consecutive mornings. One of the young birds, which had a singular grating and disagreeable chirp, was systematically boycotted for several days; but at last the parent birds, evidently taking pity on the poor, forlorn creature, came with the rest of the brood, and taking up a position in a fir-tree a few yards from the laurel, in which the desolate fledgling was sitting, all commenced to chirp most vigorously in perfect unison.

"The poor little fellow for some time tried strenuously, but vainly, to imitate the sound. At length he began to lower his notes by a most delicate system of semi-chromatics, till, in response to the apparently encouraging cries of his friends, he hit the real note. Then his tones became simply blatant, but continued perfectly correct, and he was at once welcomed into the family group, and all flew off in a high state of excitement and jubilation on a feeding expedition. I am sorry to say that on several occasions the sparrow has relapsed, but by the aid of his friends he always manages to get the correct family note, and the same rejoicings are repeated over the return of the 'one that has gone astray.'"

MODERN LIGHT AND HEAT estimates the capital invested in electric lighting plants in the United States has reached the enormous aggregate of $118,758,500, and there are at the present time in use 1,590,667 incandescent lights, 127,441 arc lights and 1,379 stations. These figures tend in a measure to show the importance to which electricity has advanced within a few years. This does not consider the thousand and one applications of the element other than lighting.

PAPER tough as wood is said now to be made by mixing chloride of zinc with the pulp in the course of manufacture. It has been found that the greater the degree of concentration of the zinc solution, the greater will be the toughness of the paper. It can be used for making gas pipes, boxes, combs, for roofing, and even it is added, for making boats.

SECRET SOCIETIES.

Masonic.

The fifty-first annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Illinois opened last Tuesday morning at Central Music Hall, Chicago. Nearly every lodge in the jurisdiction was represented, and nearly eight hundred Masons from every part of the State were in attendance. The Grand Lodge was opened in ample form by Grand Master John M. Pierson, and the report of the Grand Secretary, Loyal L. Munn, showed a decided increase in lodges and membership during the past year. The report of the committee on Masonic correspondence was presented by the veteran Masonic writer, Joseph Robbins, and was in print and ready for distribution among the representatives at the opening of the session.

The proceedings of over fifty-two grand lodges were reviewed, and in this way the representatives had an opportunity to know the condition of legislation in sister jurisdictions before undertaking to make laws in their own. This was an unusual feature of grand lodge proceedings, and gave general satisfaction. The business of the session was of a routine character, and all the Grand Lodge officers were re-elected, as is the custom in that jurisdiction, for a second term.

Freemasonry in Scotland has sustained a great loss by the death of the Earl of Rosslyn, who served as Grand Master since 1870. He was also Sovereign Grand Commander of the Supreme Council Thirty-third and last degree, and took an active part in the installation of the Prince of Wales as Grand Master of England in 1875.

The Masonic Relief Association of the United States and Canada has issued a list of eight hundred Masonic tramps and imposters who have been making the round of the lodges and procuring aid under false pretenses.

A list of banquet fiends is now badly needed in many, if not all, the jurisdictions.

The annual conclave of Knights Templar of New York was held last week at the city of Auburn, in that State. The parade and drill was the finest ever given by the order. Over 1,000 Sir Knights were in line representing seventeen commanderies from various parts of the State.

Knights of Pythias.

The members of the Uniform rank in Chicago are preparing for an elaborate church service this year which will be conducted by Rev. T. G. Milsted, the eloquent Unitarian preacher who occupies the pulpit of Unity Church, made famous by the ministrations of Rev. Robert Collyer.

The Uniform rank in Indiana seems to be growing in members and influence. A new division has just been instituted at Hammond, composed of a number of representative citizens, and another at Monon, with thirty-two members out of a total membership of fifty-five.

Grand Army.

A movement is on foot to erect a monument to the colored soldiers and sailors who were killed in the war of the rebellion. A society has been formed in New York under the name of the National Colored Monument Association, and steps will be taken at once to raise funds for the structure.

The public contributions to the General John A. Logan monument fund now amount to nearly thirteen thousand dollars. This is exclusive of the sum appropriated by Congress.

An effort is being made to raise funds for the erection of a suitable monument at Decatur, Ill., to mark the place where the first Grand Army post was organized in 1866.

National Union.

An interesting reunion and entertainment will be given by the order in Chicago, October 31, under the auspices of Cook County Cabinet. The purpose is to awaken an interest in the councils in that city and provide an opportunity to make the general public acquainted with the work and principles of the order.

Royal Arcanum.

A system of official visitations that has been organized in Illinois has been attended with excellent results. The council attendance has improved considerably and the membership appears to be increasing. Royal Arcanum night at the Chicago exposition October 4 was a great success. The order turned out in large numbers and made an excellent impression and provided a very good evening's enjoyment.

McDOUGALL.

Success of Vaccination in Germany.

Under the law of Germany making vaccination compulsory and providing for revaccination at stated periods of life, says the Sanitary Inspector, small-pox is almost completely disappearing from the German Empire. A late official report states that in 1888 only one hundred and ten deaths from small-pox occurred in the whole Empire, and that this number is fifty-eight fewer than occurred in 1887, and eighty-seven fewer than in 1886. Of the one hundred and ten deaths, eighty-eight, or about four-fifths of the whole number, occurred in those parts of the Empire immediately bordering other countries not well protected by vaccination, and in which there is constant intercourse between the vaccinated and the unvaccinated sides of the boundary. More than one-third of all the deaths occurred in the Prussian province of Posen. Comparing the small-pox death-rate of the large cities of other countries with that of the larger cities of Germany, it was one hundred and thirty-six times as great in the cities of Austria, thirty times as great in those of Hungary, sixteen times as great in those of England, twenty-four times as great in those of Belgium, and twice as great in those of Switzerland as in the German cities.

PASTOR KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

Had the Desired Effect!

CARROLLTON, GREEN CO., ILL., Nov., '88.
I highly recommend Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic to anybody that has suffered from headache as much as I did for 5 years, because 2 bottles of the medicine cured him.
M. McTIGUE.

Saved Her Life.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Feb. 8, 1888.
This is to certify that my mother has suffered from nervous weakness for over 20 years. We have tried innumerable remedies and physicians, she also went to Germany for her health, spending in all thousands of dollars with only temporary benefit. At last we tried Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic and Elixir of Iron, and I honestly and sincerely believe that she not only received more benefit from them than all others combined, but would have died before this without them, as she was getting weaker every day, before we began with the above medicine.

SWEPT BY FLAMES

Several Vessels and Ware houses Burned in Mobile.

THE LOSSES OVER A MILLION.

The Most Serious Conflagration in the South Since the War.

The Fire Department Helpless—Thousands of Bales of Cotton Destroyed—The Fire Extended Over Twenty Squares—For a Time All the Sailing Vessels in the Harbor Were Threatened.

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 27.—A fire during the morning in the cotton gin and shipping district destroyed eleven steamers and over one million dollars worth of cotton gins, wharves and shipping depots.

The local fire department was incapable of doing any effective work to check the spread of the flames. For a time all the sailing vessels in the harbor were threatened. The wind carried sparks a great distance, and many small fires were started where cotton was exposed.

The fire started in a shingle mill near the river front just outside the northern boundary of the city limits at 12:40 o'clock.

In Goodman's mill, near the shingle factory, were stored about 900 bales of cotton. They were soon ablaze, and the sparks from the cotton carried by the wind next communicated the flames to Brown's warehouse, and running back to Magnolia street to the southwest to the Mobile Mills and to the wharf front.

The flames swept on down the wharf of the city and before the fire was finally checked eleven vessels had been burned.

More than twenty squares were burned, bounded by Beauregard, Magnolia and St. Louis streets and the river. The tracks of all railroads centering here have been obstructed by the debris in the burned district and trains are delayed.

It was the most serious fire in this section of the country since the war. The loss amounts to over a million. The insurance is small in comparison.

A TOWN FLOODED.

The People of Temple, Tex., Watch the Destruction of Their Homes.

TEMPLE, Tex., Oct. 27.—Two hundred and eighty thousand gallons of water confined in the steel standpipe broke out and flooded the town. Immense sheets of boiler steel, hundreds of pieces of scaffoldings, houses, barns, fences and all the debris of the surrounding neighborhood went floating and crashing in every direction. The people of the town were awakened and stood in frightened groups watching the destruction of their homes and property. The house of C. T. Rigdon was crushed like an eggshell, and afterward took fire from an overturned lamp and was burned. Rigdon was seriously burned and his recovery is doubtful.

Lying out toward the street were sixteen sections of the pipe, a great hollow cylinder twenty feet in diameter, of the heaviest boiler steel. The lower portions were thrown in a different direction. They were torn, twisted and crumpled.

Several barns and sheds near by were washed away. The fences of the neighborhood are gone, and all over the streets, alleys and yard are scattered the contents of houses and barns. The damage is heavy outside of the standpipe itself. All the houses around were flooded with water. The accident cannot be accounted for. No flaws are apparent in any of the broken pieces and the workmanship appears to be first class.

The foundation is still there, solid and unharmed except in one place where a gash two feet long is cut through the bottom and two rocks are washed away.

Branch House in London.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 27.—Richard S. Waring, the inventor of the Waring underground cable, has just returned from a European trip. While abroad he arranged for the erection of a number of factories in Europe, made necessary by the new tariff law. The company, which has its headquarters in this city, is capitalized to the amount of $1,000,000. The English company just started has a capital of £2,000. Of this amount one-half has been paid in and the remainder is subject to ten days' notice.

Shot His Wife Accidentally.

MT. HOLLY, N. J., Oct. 27.—Effie Johnson was accidentally shot and probably fatally wounded by her husband, in their home at Vincentown. Johnson was in the act of disrobing, when a pistol in his trousers pocket was accidentally discharged. The bullet struck Mrs. Johnson in the side of the head and lodged in her neck. The physicians have attempted to extract the bullet, but without success. It is thought she will die.

Ben Butler Coming Home.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 27.—Hon. Benjamin Butler passed through Kansas City this morning on his way home from the Pacific Coast. To a reporter he said that he was very weary of his long trip. He said he was a back number now, and could not say anything that would interest the people.

An Axe Driven Into His Skull.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 27.—Andro Pedito was fatally injured by having an axe driven into his skull. He cannot recover. There was a race fight between Poles and Hungarians, during which several were wounded.

WILL POWDERLY WITHDRAW?

The Knights of Labor May Have a New Leader.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—In two weeks the General Assembly of the Knights of Labor will convene in Denver, and much interest exists as to the course that will be pursued by Mr. Powderly. Not merely are Knights of Labor interested in the subject, but trades unions and employers as well, for should Powderly decide not to be a candidate the whole policy of the order might be changed. Its relations to what are called "open unions" might be materially altered, and a closer bond might be established. On the other hand, a more aggressive course toward other labor organizations and employers might also be established, which would result in general chaos in the industrial field.

It is for these reasons that more or less anxiety exists on the approach of an election. This year there is a well defined understanding among the friends of Mr. Powderly that he will refuse to be a candidate to succeed himself. There is no doubt that he is almost tired of the eleven years' toil, and has expressed himself as willing to lay down the office.

A reporter saw Mr. Powerly here and put the question whether he would again be a candidate for general master workman.

"What I am going to do," said Mr. Powderly, smiling, "no one knows but myself; not even my wife. Nor shall I say until the time arrives."

INVESTED WITH THE PALLIUM.

Great Gathering of Bishops and Priests at Kingston.

KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 27.—Archbishop Cleary was invested with the pallium yesterday. Cardinal Taschereau conducted the investure. St. Mary's Cathedral was magnificently decorated and the audience packed every part of the great edifice.

There were eight bishops and over 100 priests in attendance, including Cardinal Taschereau, Archbishop Walsh of Toronto, Bishops from Rochester, N. Y., Trenton, N. J., and a number of priests from Brooklyn, Albany, Rochester and other points in the States.

After the investure Bishop McQuaid of Rochester, N. Y., delivered a sermon on the spread of the Catholic faith in America. A banquet was spread in the palace, followed by a reception by the Cardinal. Last evening Bishop Farrell of Trenton, N. J., delivered a vigorous sermon.

Explosion of a Fly Wheel.

LYNN, Mass., Oct. 27.—A large fly wheel, twenty feet in diameter, exploded at the power station of the Lynn Gas and Electric Company on Pleasant street. One section of the wheel went through a corner at the front end of the building, tearing out a large hole in the brick side wall and also in the roof. The large piece of iron wheel struck the wooden building adjoining, tearing out a section of the side frame. The other piece of the wheel went out through the opposite corner, making another big hole in the brick wall and roof and wiping out the power station office. The loss is about $12,000. No one was injured.

The Haytien Mission.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Ebenezer B. Bassett, secretary of the United States Legation at Hayti, sailed from here for his post at Port-au-Prince on the steamer Prinz Wilhelm III. The fact that Mr. Bassett returns to Hayti alone and that his chief, Minister Frederick Douglass, remains at Washington, has given rise to many rumors, the most common being that Mr. Bassett, on his arrival at Hayti, or shortly afterward, will receive the appointment as Minister, Fred Douglass having in the meantime resigned.

Boom in Pearl-Button Making.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 27.—Pearl button makers of this city are forming a company with New Jersey capitalists, in consequence of the new tariff on pearl. There are 100 pearl operators in Newark and they are working double time. The factories in Vineland, N. J.; Springfield, Mass.; Philadelphia, New York and elsewhere employ altogether 2,000 men. For twelve years the business has languished.

To Sell Ex-Congressman Scott's Horses.

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 27.—Hon. W. L. Scott, of this city, has notified Mr. W. Easton, of New York, that he will sell his entire stable of race horses in training and yearlings, thirty-five head in all, on Thursday Nov. 20, in New York. Among the lot are such good horses as Torso, Banquet, Chaos and the two-year-old Bolero.

Poison in Griddle Cakes.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Cora Van Hoosen, aged 22, of Yorkville, a suburb of this city, died from rat poison, eaten in griddle cakes. Her mother had mixed the poison with flour and meal in a basin and placed it on a shelf in the pantry to kill mice. While she was absent from home Cora and her sisters made griddle cakes of the mixture. After eating them all were taken violently ill and Cora died.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

Minister Mizner Upheld by the State Department.

HE DID NOT EXCEED HIS DUTY.

Reports Received by the Marines' Hospital Bureau from the Cholera Districts.

The Epidemic Increasing in Some Localities—The Proposed Methodist University—Iron and Steel Men Leave for New York—Mrs. Harrison to Visit Indianapolis—Voters Leaving for Their Homes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—It is understood that Mr. Mizner, our Minister to Central America, has received from Secretary Blaine assurances of the approval of the President of his conduct in the Barrundia case, and has been fully justified in the course he pursued.

This information comes from the City of Guatemala. According to the announcement Minister Mizner is held not to have exceeded his duty. On the contrary, he went further in the matter in the interest of General Barrundia and his family than he was required to do. He secured a written guarantee from the President of Guatemala and the Minister of Foreign Relations, made to the Government of the United States, that in no case would the life of General Barrundia be in danger. Minister Mizner so stated in his letter to Captain Pitts, which was read and translated to Barrundia.

CHOLERA REPORTS.

The Epidemic Continues in Spain and Is Increasing in Turkey.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Advices received at the Marine Hospital Bureau from the United States Consul at St. Helena reports the appearance of cholera at Meskene and Aleppo.

Advices from Spain state that the cholera epidemic continues, but its presence in Barcelona is not officially confirmed.

Reports from Abyssinia say the epidemic is intense in the localities occupied by Italian troops, and at Massowah about sixty deaths occur daily from the disease.

Reports from Russia state that the actual presence of cholera is not reported, but some cities in the south are suspected, but nothing definite is known.

Reports from France state that the sanitary condition is very satisfactory and no cases of cholera have been reported.

The report from Italy states that according to information received from private sources many fatal cases of cholera have occurred in Venice. The Italian Government has deferred the return of troops from the Red Sea colony.

Advices from Constantinople say that the late cholera reports are very unfavorable, and show that the epidemic is increasing in extent and intensity. The appearance of the disease at Aleppo, to which place it was imported from Meskene, is very serious.

Voters in Demand.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Considerable activity is displayed by the local political committees here in getting out voters, temporarily residing here, to vote in the November elections in the States. Many voters in far distant States left here to-day, and many others will leave during the week. In the departments there is a feeling of safety regardless of politics, and Democratic and Republican clerks alike, in large numbers, have arranged for leave of absence to go home and vote. The local committees, too, are engaged in drumming up voters in the close districts, and but few men entitled to the franchise in Ohio, West Virginia and Northern New York will be in Washington on November 4th.

Bishop Hurst Returns from Europe.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Bishop Hurst, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, has reached home after having crossed the Atlantic four times within as many months. The bishop is very enthusiastic over the proposed Methodist university which is to be located near Washington. The project will be one of the most important which will be considered by the bishops at their meeting which begins this week. Bishop Hurst believes that the money for the site, $100,000, will be secured during the coming winter.

The Late Justice Miller's Successor.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—It is believed that Secretary Noble will be appointed to the vacancy on the Supreme Court Bench, and that General Clarkson will be given the Interior Department portfolio. This is not the first time that General Clarkson has been spoken of as a possible member of President Harrison's cabinet, but up to the present there has been no vacancy to which he could be appointed. It is not believed that the President will name the new Associate Justice until the meeting of Congress in December.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.

FOUND IN A FODDER SHOCK.

Insane Mrs. Brannan Passes Seventeen Days Without Food or Water.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 26.—A dispatch from Clarksburg, W. Va., say that Mrs. Brannan, the St. Louis demented woman who jumped from the cars there on October 9 and ran to the hills, leaving seven children behind, was accidentally discovered hiding in a fodder shock near town. Brent Mead, a negro hostler, who was looking for a stray colt, heard groans in the shock, and on investigation discovered her. She was completely helpless. She had fallen and hurt herself in her flight, and had been without food or water, except rain-water squeezed from her clothing, for seventeen days. She was brought to the county house and cared for.

She still insists that attempts were made to murder her and believes that she was followed. She says that on the night she ran away she crouched down between two logs, and the crowd of hundreds, equipped with lanterns and torches, walked over her, but failed to see her. For eight days she had been endeavoring to attract the attention of persons passing the fodder shock, but was unable to make any one hear, although dozens passed her hiding place daily. She says she began to think they did not want to hear.

Her friends have been advised of her rescue.

TWO LIVES LOST.

A Heavy Coal Train Breaks in Two While Going Up a Steep Grade.

BRADFORD, Pa., Oct. 27.—At 4 a. m., near Beechtree Junction, Pa., on the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg Railroad, engine 82 was pulling a heavy coal train up a steep grade. The train broke in two, the forward end being carried over the summit of the hill and thence down to Beechtree, a distance of two miles. This section of the train was there side-tracked, and Engineer Casey steamed back after the other section. When half way up the hill, the cars he was after came down the grade and crashed into the engine. The tender and cab was wrecked, and Casey was caught between the tender and boiler. His left leg was ground to a pulp. Fireman Fitzpatrick and Conductor Crawford escaped by jumping. Brakeman Laird, who was riding on the engine, was caught and terribly mangled about the body. Casey died of his injuries at 12 o'clock. Laird lingered until 2 o'clock before death relieved him.

Forgot to Turn Off the Gas.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—A man and woman registering as "James P. Nelson and wife, Trenton, N. J.," took lodging at the Ridgeway House, this city, and were found unconscious in bed in the morning, having probably blown out the gas before retiring. They were taken to the Pennsylvania Hospital, where after hard work the physicians succeeded in restoring the woman to consciousness. She gave her name as Kate McCuen of Philadelphia, and said she was Nelson's wife. The man is about 50 years old, and it is feared he will die.

Governor Hill in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Governor Hill arrived in the city yesterday afternoon from his Western trip, accompanied by Colonel John G. McEwen. He felt no ill effects, he said, from the shaking up his party received in the railway collision at Moundsville, West Virginia. The Governor returns to Albany today. On Thursday he will be again in the city, en route for Connecticut, where he will address meetings of the Democracy. He declines to go to Rhode Island.

Killed by Runaway Horses.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—A team of spirited horses, driven by J. Adolph Mollenhauer, became frightened and ran away on Lexington avenue, Brooklyn, throwing out Mr. Mollenhauer and breaking his leg. The horses then ran into Mrs. Maria L. Robinson, aged 60, and her daughter Ida, aged 25, killing the former and fracturing the skull of the latter. The horses then knocked down Mrs. Helen Waite, fracturing several of her ribs. It is feared Miss Robinson is fatally injured.

Stabbed by a Boy.

BEVERLY, N. J., Oct. 27.—Howard C. Westlake, aged 14, employed in the Ketterinus printing house, Philadelphia, while attending the fair of the E. Burd Grubb Pioneer Corps here was seriously stabbed in the abdomen by Wynn, aged 15 years, a son of Peter Wynn, superintendent of the Soldiers' National Cemetery. The knife penetrated the bowels, and the doctor says the injury is of a serious nature and it may become dangerous. The boy was paroled to the custody of his father.

All Indicted for Manslaughter.

MOUNT MORRIS, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Daniel Keating, Jerry Keating, Sr., Jerry Keating, Jr., Fred Dygert and John Bickford, charged with the murder of William L. Joslyn of Mount Clemens, Mich., in this village on September 29, were indicted by the grand jury for manslaughter in the first degree.

Not Yet Under Arbitration.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—State Department officers say the published report that the Behring Sea fisheries question has been submitted to arbitration is untrue, as the arbitrators have not yet been selected. Correspondence is still passing between the United States and Great Britain on the subject, and a conclusion is not yet in sight.

Iron and Steel Men Leave Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The iron and steel men from abroad left here this morning via the Pennsylvania Railroad en route for New York. Members of the party express themselves as highly delighted with their entertainment in Washington, especially that part of it which included a hearty shake from the Chief Executive.

GERMANS HONOR HIM

Gen. Von Moltke Celebrates His Ninetieth Birthday.

SHOWERED WITH PRESENTS.

School Children Sing Patriotic Songs Before His Palace.

Emperor William Calls on the Aged Field Marshal and Presents Him With a Baton—Prince Bismarck Sends His Congratulations—Congratulatory Cable from New York Admirers.

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—The Von Moltke celebration was a magnificent success. Although it rained all the morning, the streets along which the Emperor was to drive were crowded at an early hour.

At 9 o'clock 300 school children gathered at the house of Marshal Von Moltke, where they sang hymns and patriotic songs. The Marshal came to the window and spoke a few words of thanks, telling his serenaders that music was an important factor in the education of the citizens.

The Emperor started for Von Moltke's palace at 12:30, driving in a coach drawn by six horses. He carried with him a rich field marshal's staff, which he personally presented to Von Moltke, whose palace was crowded with the most noted personages of the nation. The Empress Frederick and her daughters were prominent among those who tendered their congratulations.

The Grand Duchess of Baden sent the writing case that belonged to the late Emperor William I.

Prince Bismarck telegraphed his congratulations and Von Moltke answered in his own handwriting.

During the reception a congratulatory cable was received from New York, and was read aloud by the Marshal, who remarked that many of the former helpmates to his glory were now living in America.

During the day 5,000 dispatches and cables were received, besides a wagon-load of presents of all descriptions.

An announcement was made that Von Moltke's birthplace at Parchine had been bought by a committee, which also placed 100,000 marks at the Marshal's disposal, that he may endow the old homestead as a hospital.

In the afternoon Von Moltke took a special train for Potsdam, where he attended a state dinner at the castle, where he was seated at the right hand of the Emperor. The castle was surrounded with fireworks during the evening.

GLOOMY OUTLOOK IN IRELAND.

Churchmen Call on the Government for Immediate Relief.

DUBLIN, Oct. 27.—An important pastoral address just issued by the archbishop and the bishops of Ireland to the clergy and laity was read in all the churches of the country.

It deals with the failure of the potato crop, and says the bishops feel called upon to bear testimony to the seriousness of the impending calamity, having ample evidence of the disastrous crop failure over large districts throughout the country. They consider it an imperative duty to call upon the Government to take effective means for preventing the deplorable consequences. They refer to the railroad that is to be constructed, and say the relief that it will afford is inadequate to meet the exigencies of the occasion.

The address deals with the plan of campaign and boycotting, and reiterates that the Papal decree was a decision strictly on the question of morals, and had nothing to do with politics.

The pastoral concludes with an earnest expression of sympathy with the tenants who have been evicted, and expresses the hope that Parliament may devise means for the restoration of these to their homes. It protests against evictions in the distressed sections where tenants are not only unable to pay rents, but even to procure from the soil the absolute necessities of life.

An American Arrested in Turkey.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 27.—An American, who came to Turkey during the administration of President Hayes for the purpose of founding a college, but failed in the attempt, was recently arrested at his residence in the night time on the suspicion of being implicated in revolutionary plots in Armenia. He held a conference with the American Consul next morning and was released on condition that he would appear for trial. Minister Hirsch has energetically protested against the arrest as a violation of the right of domicile of an American citizen, and has demanded satisfaction from the Government.

War Clouds in Africa.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Advices from Southeastern Africa are to the effect that the expedition against Vitu will develop a war of considerable proportions, the Arabs, made desperate by the loss of the slave trade, having chosen that place as a rallying ground against the Europeans. The German forces in South Africa have been instructed to combine with the English against the Sultan of Vitu.

A Cigarette Maker Kills Himself.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The death of James Kelliher, a drunken cigarette maker, was at first supposed to have been caused by his wife, and the woman was arrested. It now turns out that the man quarrelled with his wife, and then went out in the hall of his home, 450 Washington street, and stabbed himself with a table knife. A neighbor's wife was a witness who saw Kelliher return to the room after cutting himself.

TELEGRAPHERS' TROUBLES.

The Western Union Making War on the Brotherhood.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—It looks now as though the telegraph operators employed by the Western Union might strike at an early date. That the operators of the country are preparing with all energy and dispatch for the struggle between them and the Western Union Company—which they evidently deem inevitable within a short time—is an open secret.

The Executive Council of the Brotherhood of Telegraphers has been in session in Chicago for the last week laying plans. There is a meeting of the local Brotherhood to-day, and it is possible a plan will be formulated for the restoration of the Brotherhood operators who have been discharged within the past ten days for belonging to the Brotherhood. The Brotherhood telegraphers have been stirred up recently by the summary discharge by the Western Union Company of a number of men at the principal Western offices. In every case the man dismissed without cause or explanation was a member of the Brotherhood, a steady man and an experienced operator.

The strike, if it comes, will involve the recognition of the union by the company, equalization and increase in wages, and relief from a system of fines for trifling errors now in vogue at the different offices.

Vice-President Clowry and Superintendent Tubbs when seen about the matter simply said that the men were discharged because the company saw fit to discharge them. Local Superintendent Lloyd of the Western Union paid a visit to Superintendent Patten of the Postal Company, and asked him to aid the Western Union in fighting the operators, but to this Mr. Patten would not consent. Business is extraordinarily good with the telegraph companies now, and operators are being employed who couldn't get work six months ago.

Decline in the Oyster Yield.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 27.—A prominent oyster packer in this city, a gentleman who has paid special attention to the future of the oyster industry in Maryland, says that the yield this year is less by 50 per cent. than that of October, 1889, and he thinks the ratio will hold good during the rest of the year.

Whitely & Co. Cannot Pay.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, Oct. 27.—Amos Whitely & Co. have issued a circular to their creditors saying they cannot pay their bonds and notes, over $300,000 of which is due, and they are likely to assign. The bonds and notes were given when the Whitely Reaping Works assigned.

To Increase Grain Inspection Prices.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The committee on grain of the Produce Exchange has decided to advance the price of grain inspection from 20 to 40 per cent according to the different grades. The new rates will go into effect November 3.

A Rumor from Rome.

ROME, Oct. 27.—It is reported that Cardinal Simeoni, by order of the Pope, has forbidden the bishops of the American hierarchy to give any official or overt approval to the Irish Nationalist campaign of Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien in America.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

A slight fall of snow was experienced throughout England yesterday.

Sir Charles Pearson has been appointed Solicitor General of Scotland.

A very prolific yield of petroleum has been discovered at Kilkeel, County Down, Ireland, and a company is being formed to develop the product.

George W. Cummings, the youthful stage robber, who stopped the Willetts and Ukiah stage a few weeks ago, has been sentenced to ten years imprisonment at San Francisco.

Several prominent bankers in Berlin, Germany, have received anonymous letters threatening them with death unless they make an attempt to advance the price of stocks.

The conference between the Mackey officials and the employes of their roads, including engineers, firemen, and the conductors of the Air Line, was settled at Evansville, Indiana, amicably to all parties interested.

John Petilliott, the wife murderer now confined in the county jail at Columbus, Indiana, on a charge of murder in the first degree, has had two hemorrhages of the lungs in the past two days, and his death is near at hand.

W. J. Birch, the Reading railroad employe who fled from Philadelphia with $1,000 of the company's money and was arrested at Montreal, has consented to return voluntarily and will be taken to Philadelphia this week.

Mrs. Catharine O'Connor, a victim of the Leland Hotel fire, died Saturday at St. Joseph's Hospital in Syracuse. This makes the seventh known death resulting from the Leland fire, and the body of Mary Doyle is now supposed to be in the ruins.

William Blaney, who has been on trial in Baltimore, Md., for murdering his grandmother and his aunt some months ago, has been adjudged guilty of murder in the first degree. It is thought that Blaney had an accomplice in the murder, but he stolidly refuses to disclose who he was.

It is announced that a million dollar hotel, to rival the Auditorium in Chicago in architectural beauty is to be built at the corner of Michigan avenue and Park row on the lake front. The lessees are to be Messrs. Breslin and Southgate of New York, the present tenants of the Auditorium.

Yale Students Robbed.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 27.—Otto Schrieber of Hoboken and Ernest Ryle of Paterson, N. J., Yale students, have lost $1,000 worth of clothing, jewelry and books. There is no clue to the thieves.

—The Twilight Social Club of this city will give a Hallow e'en ball at Amphion Hall, West Second street, Friday evening. O'Reilly will furnish the music, and Messrs Joseph Blimm, E. C. Searing, James Loughlin, Wm. Blimm and F. Moore constitute the committee of arrangements.

—The sixth annual ball of the Columbia Social Club will be held at Amphion Hall, Wednesday evening, Nov. 19. The grand march will begin at 9 o'clock. David Angerbuer, F. S. Moore, James Daly, William Howell, U. G. Force and Theodore Smith constitute the Committee of Arrangements.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. C. Sargeant, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting her sister Mrs. S. O. Doane, of East Fourth street.

The Rev. Robert Lowry, of Madison avenue, is expected to preach at next week's revival services in the East Baptist church, Elizabeth.

Miss Hattie Benedict, one of Newark's handsomest young women, is spending a week with relatives in Plainfield, including her uncle, W. R. Mattox.

Joseph M. Mather, formerly of Plainfield, but now of Wilmington, Delaware, spent yesterday in this city as the guest of his brother-in-law, ex-Judge Harper.

The Rev. George H. Stephens, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Berwick, Pa., with his wife and baby, spent Sunday at the home of J. P. Laire, 81 Broadway. Mrs. Stephens and Mrs. Laire, are sisters.

The marriage of Edward J. Connette, son of the late Samuel Connett, whose home was on Peace street, this city, for many years, to Miss Ida Alice Price, will take place Tuesday evening, Nov. 11, at eight o'clock, in the Sumner Avenue M.E. church, Brooklyn.

The Bound Brook Chronicle, announcing Saturday the services to be held in the Congregational church said: "The talented vocalists, the Misses Sarah and Harriet Manning, of Plainfield, will render some choice solos and duets. These ladies appeared in one of the Philharmonic concerts given here a few years ago."

The Rev. Samuel C. Kennedy, pastor of the Congregational church at Sandford, Fla., accompanied by Mrs. Kennedy, spent the Sabbath with Mr. and Mrs. T. A. VanZandt, of Crescent avenue, and other friends and relatives in Plainfield and the Borough. Mr. Kennedy is a brother of Mrs. VanZandt. He sailed for his Southern home this afternoon.

CHRIST TO COME TO EARTH AGAIN.

A Remarkable Sermon and Prophecy by the Rev. J. B. Cleaver—Bishop Vincent's "Conversion"—Protestantism and Catholicism Assailed—Plainfield's Drunkards and Christians.

"The conversion of Bishop John H. Vincent from Protestantism to Christianity" was the subject of a sermon that caused something of a sensation in Plainfield yesterday. The preacher was the Rev. J. B. Cleaver, who was formerly a Presbyterian clergyman of some note in Brooklyn, but who has cast aside denominationalism and has determined to devote his fortune and life to building up a "Church of Christianity." For several months he has held services in his "First Church of Christ" in this city, and with his free pulpit ideas and peculiar doctrine against all sects has attracted a considerable following. So much interest was aroused over the announcement of his subject for Sunday morning that a number of people stayed away from communion in their own churches, to hear him.

Mr. Cleaver first attacked the custom of "merchandizing the pulpit for hire"—the "preaching of false doctrines and heresies at so much a portion;" and then reviewed the history of Beecher's Plymouth church in Brooklyn and recounted the many remarkable things that had sprung from its pulpit.

"But no event"—he said—"ever occurred on that Plymouth platform so fraught with significance as was the declaration of Bishop Vincent, a former Plainfielder, last Thursday evening, before the adorers of his pet child, Pshaw-talk-away [laughter], 'that he was no longer a Protestant, but a Christian.'"

This—he continued—was an astounding, startling conversion, one that signified everything to the Christian church. Here was a man of remarkable acumen, of acute intelligence, of most logical mind, who had been compelled, by reason of years of study, research and reasoning, at the head of the great Methodist church, to acknowledge the claim of the 'First Church of Christ,' that there was no logical stopping-place between papacy and Christianity, that Protestatism and other makeshifts had no firm foundation. "Papacy"—he said—"laughs to scorn all sects of Protestantism. It knows that Protestantism has no place to stand on that cannot be swept away by the broom of destruction. The papacy is the most remarkable and splendid creation of the human intellect, but it is founded on the lie that Peter was the rock on which Jesus Christ would build his church. It was a vast human authority which controlled not only the morals of its subjects but held sovereign supremacy over all kings and nations and potentates of the earth." The papacy was the power of man; christianity was the power of God. There could be no compromise, no stopping-place between them. Protestantism was merely an attempt to compromise the two. Protestants admited that Catholics were just as good Christians as they themselves. Protestantism was but a branch of catholicism, the result of the protest against certain abuses existing in the papacy in the past ages. The Bible stigmatized the Catholic church, the papacy, as the mother of evil. Who were her children but the Protestants? Every Protestant party was her daughter. All were outside the pale of Christianity. Thoughtful men, logical men, see and recognize this, Bishop Vincent among them. "Bishop Vincent sees the handwriting on the wall. He has the manliness and the courage to declare his convictions—to say that he is no longer a Protestant. Splendid courage this—since the man himself is a Reverend Doctor of Divinity, and of Laws, holding high honor as a Bishop of one of the largest branches of the Protestant church, one of the oldest daughters of Catholicism, one of the most numerous and most splendid Protestant parties of the world. I see in this conversion of this Bishop one of the signs of the times—that points to the coming of that day when every knee shall bow, not to the Virgin or the Pope, or to graven images, but to the word and will of God as unfolded by his viceroy, Jesus Christ. This declaration of the Bishop is the noblest utterance he ever made, eloquent man though he be. He is no longer a Protestant, a pretender, a mistaken man. He is a Christian. Christianity is simply the teaching of Jesus Christ, the unfolding and developing of his plans subject to the magnificent system of divine philanthropy his first coming was destined to implant. Christ was the descendant of woman who would, according to prophecy bruise the head of the serpent Sin; He will come again, and that right speedily, to obtain the supremacy and authority, absolutely, of the word and will of God. I see in Bishop Vincent's conversion an indication that the time is at hand and now is when these things such as kissing Pope's toes and Bishop's hands and indulging in other graven-image worship shall come to an end. I see and prophesy the coming of Christ again, in fine raiment, in plentitude, in majesty, to put in order this disordered earth. To-day there is oppression on every hand, in every clime. Greedy monarchs are precipitating disastrous wars; capital is grinding labor to the dust. Right here in this queen city of New Jersey, with its many Protestant church spires pointing toward the blue, and with many more now building, are more saloons than churches, more drunkards than Christians, and the coffers of the rum-seller are being swelled by the defrauded pocketbooks of drunkards' wives. These things show the necessity of His coming, and come He will, and speedily. He will remedy these evils. He will purify the earth. He will restore it to an Eden. And then we shall no longer have these religions of men's creation, such as Catholicism and Protestantism; then no further need of policemen living on the purses of the taxpayers and ornamenting the corners and the drug stores. All such monuments will disappear. He will come, and restore us to honesty and decency; establish God's authority, not man's; Christianity, not denominationalism. I see Him coming. God will touch the electric button, and his Son will descend to earth a second time, and set up His kingdom on this earth. Protestantism will vanish. The papacy and its children, Protestant and what not, will be destroyed by the exceeding brightness of His coming, and consumed by the words of His mouth. Let us all follow Bishop Vincent's example, before He descends upon us, and embrace pure and simple Christianity, and no longer contend for isms and ologies."

This remarkable address was listened to with the closest attention, and Mr. Cleaver's auditors uttered frequent fervent "Amens!" and nodded their heads in token of approval. Several new members were given the right hand of fellowship in this new peculiar church, by its pastor, and many stayed after the sermon to partake of communion. In the evening Mr. Cleaver spoke on "Fashionable excuses for not becoming Christians."

Westfield Outclassed.

The Crescent Reserves, the second eleven of the Crescent Athletic Club of Brooklyn, played their first game this season with the Westfield Athletic Club at Westfield, Saturday. The game commenced at 4:20, with the ball in the possession of the Westfields, but they soon lost it, and after that played a defensive game in their own territory. After twenty minutes' play Terry made a touch down. The trial at goal, however, was a failure. Score, 4 to 0. In a few minutes the Westfields were compelled to make a safety, and the half closed with the score 6 to 0 in favor of the Crescents.

In the second half, Bush of the Crescents, by a brilliant run, made another touch down, from which he kicked a goal, and the game closed with the score 12 to 0 in favor of the Crescents. It was a very rough contest and the umpire seemed unable to stop the continual slugging of both teams. The Westfield team lined up as follows:

| Players. | Positions. |
|---|---|
| Brosser | Right end |
| Sanson | Right tackle |
| Darr | Right guard |
| Howland, Captain | Centre |
| Riggles | Left guard |
| Stevens | Left tackle |
| Hickox | Left end |
| Wells | quarter-back |
| Smith } | Halfbacks |
| Keay } | |
| Tierce | Back |

The Plainfield team will play the above at Westfield on Election day, Nov. 4.

Havoc of Plainfield Saloons.

In Reform Hall, last evening, the devotional services were lead by George H. Fountaine, who afterwards delivered a very interesting address, basing his remarks on Scripture testimony, and holding up to view the deplorable havoc wrought by the licensed saloon system now existing in the city of Plainfield. The next speaker introduced was Col. John Dietrich, who brought to mind the facts of national history, comparing the evils of slavery with those of the liquor traffic. He made the emphatic declaration that no nation ever prospered by compromising with sin. George F. Opdyke followed with a beautiful and appropriate poetic selection.

Mr. Vanderbeek and a full choir, with Miss Doremus as accompanist, conducted the music, and President Harper at the close of the meeting announced as follows:

An adjourned annual meeting of the Women's Temperance Aid Society will be held in Reform Hall, Tuesday of this week, at 3 P. M.

Next Sunday evening the platform of the Hall will be occupied by T. Richards, of Brooklyn, N. Y., an able speaker; and possibly at the same time, two of the young lady contestants for prize oratory will be present as reciters.

Bookkeeping and Penmanship.

At the Y. M. C. A. rooms to-night, Ezra Loomis, an experienced teacher, will meet the class in penmanship and bookkeeping for the first time. All members of the association desiring to join this class, should not fail to be present. A $2 membership in the Association entitles to this and all other privileges.

A good penman has a key to many a valuable situation, and now that the Y. M. C. A., offers free instruction in this branch to its members, a full class, it is expected, will avail themselves of this privilege. Penmanship, combined with bookkeeping, gives material for one of the most needed classes as well as one of the most popular.

Three Little Maids Earn $45 for the Children's Home.

An enjoyable time was had at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hockridge, 41 East Fifth street, Saturday afternoon, when a children's fair was held under the management of the Misses Nellie, Jessie and Mabel Hockridge, in aid of the Children's Home. The net proceeds derived from the laudable scheme were over $45, from the sale of tickets and articles by the three Misses mentioned.

Your Last Opportunity.

To-morrow will be the last opportunity to register before the election.

The various registry boards have used their utmost endeavor to get the name of every legal voter, but they may have failed in some instances.

Let the voter now see for himself that his name is on the list.

Mr. Powers, Miss Holmes and Miss Utter Favor Four Hundred.

The gratification of the 400 present in the Crescent Avenue chapel, Saturday evening, was general and complete. Leland Powers' impersonations of characters in David Copperfield, were in some cases far beyond the efforts of many farther famed elocutionists. His Heep and his Micawber are unequalled, and his Ham, his Betsy Trotwood, his Peggotty and other characters, are unexcelled.

The entertainment was given under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Mission Band of the Presbyterian churches, and the financial profit accruing will be even beyond expectation. Miss Blanche Fellows, the First Presbyterian church's contribution to the programme, did not sing, but this disappointment was overcome by the pleasure all took in the piano duetts of Miss Utter and Miss Holmes of the Crescent Avenue church.

Are Dunellenites Expected to Swim?

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:

The attention of the authorities in charge of the Borough of the pretty village of Dunellen, is respectfully called to the condition of the road and sidewalk leading from James Lowrie's house (just above Taylor's Hotel) to the Sandford place, a distance of 1,000 yards, which in very wet weather is impassable without going over shoe-tops in water. Being the main thoroughfare and considerably traveled, why is it that nothing has been done in that direction? It would be a good investment for some one to have boats to ferry up and down the street.

AN OLD RESIDENT.

MacDonald Makes Everything Right.

TO MY PATRONS—Anyone who purchased butter of me on Saturday that was not up to the standard, will kindly return it. During our busiest time on Saturday A. M., a tub of butter was opened in a hurry which was supposed to be all right, but proved to be off. I have too fine a butter trade to allow such an error to go unnoticed, and hope it may not happen again.

Yours respectfully,
J. F. MACDONALD.

—Robert Yatman, a colored coachman, was fined fifty dollars this morning for disorderly conduct and resisting an officer.

Symptoms of Catarrh.

Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; the eyes are weak, watery, and inflamed; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; the voice is changed and has a nasal twang; the breath is offensive; smell and taste are impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility. If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from Nasal Catarrh. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood, or more unsuccessfully treated, by physicians. Five hundred dollars reward is offered by the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for a case of catarrh which they cannot cure. Remedy sold by druggists, at only 50 cents.

A PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR'S PROTEST.

Plainfielders Listen to a Rousing Sermon Against Race-Track Evils.

The Rev. Dr. Kempshall, of Elizabeth, who exchanged pulpits with the Rev. Dr. Ketchum, yesterday, preached an able sermon last evening in the First Presbyterian church, having special reference to pool-selling and gambling at race-tracks. The subject announced was the bravery of King David's three men, who broke through the army of the Philistines to bring their monarch water from the well hard-by. As these men imperilled their lives for their King, he said, so should we, if need be, encounter danger to save the King of Kings. Many men in these days were too full of policy and prudence, and did not remember that principle was above policy, and right above prudence. We needed moral heroes, men who dared to do right, men who feared God rather than man. We were here and now confronted with a great evil, an evil that would disgrace the State as well as bring untold harm to thousands of our fellows. New Jersey was to be the dumping-ground of the two large cities near us, and gambling at the race-tracks was to be established by law, if these gentry could succeed. Should we submit to it? Never. Voters should break party allegiance and vote only for men pledged to crush this gambling business. Righteousness should be above party, and the commands of God superior to the appeals of party leaders, who had their own selfish ends to accomplish.

Plainfield and England Connected by Wire.

(From the New York Evening Post.)

The New Jersey Postal Telegraph Company, which is connected with the Postal Telegraph Company of New York and the Mackay-Bennett Cable Company, began business last night in Orange, where an office will be kept open in future night and day. It is the intention of the company to extend its lines throughout New Jersey; at present they run as far as Plainfield. The company has been unable to get permission to put up its wires in East Orange, and in order to make connection between Orange, Plainfield, and New York it was necessary to go around by way of Montclair and over the Eagle Rock Hill in West Orange. Everett Frazar, the Corean Consul-General, and President of the company, sent the first message from Orange last night. It was a private business message to England, by way of the Mackay-Bennett cable, and it reached London in good time.

Three Preparatory Meetings This Week.

The Devotional Committee for the Mills' meetings have arranged for three union prayer meetings this week, on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings. The meeting to-morrow evening will be held in the Methodist Episcopal church, and will be led by the Rev. Cornelius Schenck. The subject will be, "Search Me." Psalm CXXXIX, 1-12.

The Thursday night meeting will be held in the Trinity Reformed church, and will be led by the Rev. Asa Dilts. The subject will be, "What Can I render unto the Lord?" Psalm CXVI, 12-14. The Friday night meeting will be held in the Seventh Day Baptist church, and be led by the Rev. C. L. Goodrich. The subject will be, "Concern for Lost Men," Jer. IX, 1, and Psalm CXXVI, 5-6. The music each evening will be in charge of the church where the meeting is held. The services will begin promptly at eight o'clock.

Little Daughters Raise $50 for Grace Church.

The little people's fair held Saturday afternoon and evening at the home of H. T. Smith, 27 Bay street, was the scene of much enjoyment to both old and young. The rooms were gay with festoons of bunting, flowers and other decorations. The piazza was adorned with Japanese lanterns. In doors and out everything was bright and merry. The lemonade well was a marvel of beauty. The fancy articles were handsome, and not costly. The eatables were nicely served by little waitresses wearing white caps and dresses. The donkey show had to give performances repeatedly. Through the kindness of all present and many absent ones, the Misses Mabel and Elsie Smith were enabled to increase the Grace church building fund by the amount of fifty dollars.

At the Y. M. C. A. To-Night.

W. D. Murray will meet his class as usual at 8 o'clock.

The Finance Committee will meet at 8, and the Devotional Committee at 9 o'clock.

The trial under the auspices of the Young Men's Auxiliary will be continued to-night. Lawyers, prisoners and witnesses are requested to be present, as early in the evening as possible.

The classes in penmanship and bookkeeping will be organized at 8 o'clock. Accurate business knowledge, intermixed with honesty, will give but few disastrous failures. Bookkeepers writing a good hand are in demand, and when endorsed by a reputation for honesty are at a premium. Every young man who wishes to qualify himself for a business career will do well to avail himself of this opportunity.

Short-Hand People Want to Organize.

All stenographers in Plainfield or vicinity who would like to form a Stenographic Association, for mutual help and benefit in the practice of the art, are requested to meet together in the senior class room of the High School Tuesday evening, October 28.

A BIG DEBT, BUT LITTLE BURDEN.

County Road Bonds No Bugbear, Say Leading Taxpayers.

The New Jersey law which was passed two years ago permitting the various counties of the State to issue bonds for the improvement of country roads, and which was entirely the result of the lessons the good roads of Plainfield and its suburbs taught, has led to movements in that direction in other States. There is no county in New Jersey in which the law has been given a fairer trial than in Union county. Bonds have there been issued to the amount of $300,000, and the money obtained by this issue will be sufficient to put in fine condition some thirty miles of country roads, extending in one direction from Plainfield to Elizabeth and in another direction from Rahway to Summit.

The original estimate of expense for these improvements was $10,000 per mile, and to the credit of those who have had the improvements in charge it may be stated that this sum has proved sufficient for them. The roads are now nearly finished, and for the first time in the history of Union county they are in condition for all sorts of travel in every season of the year. It is said that in bad weather one horse can now draw a load which required the strength of four horses before the improvements were made.

Chauncey B. Ripley, after whom Westfield has been given the sobriquet of Ripleytown, and who was one of the projectors of the road law, is quoted as saying that it is the opinion of property owners in Union county that the issue of bonds for this improvement will really never be felt by the taxpayers. The taxes levied to pay the interest on these bonds are now lighter than were the expenses to keep the roads in repair under the old system. Since the law went into operation, moreover, real estate values in Union county have advanced nearly $1,500,000, exclusive of property advances in Elizabeth of nearly $700,000 more. While this increase is not claimed as all due to the improved roads, it is felt that this improvement may reasonably be credited with having already appreciated county values to the full extent of the cost of the roads, while general taxes are no higher than before the roads were laid.

Mr. Ripley quotes Warren Ackerman, of Scotch Plains and Glenside Park, who is probably the largest real estate owner in Union county, to the effect that the improvements cannot cost the present taxpayers a dollar, because by the time the bonds shall mature the increase of population and the appreciation of values will have been sufficient to pay for their redemption. As Mr. Ackerman expresses it, the bonds will be redeemed by taxes on valuations that do not now exist, and on persons who are not now residents of the county. Sheriff Glasby, who is also very much interested in the work, has expressed to Mr. Ripley opinions identical with those of Mr. Ackerman. He says that two years ago people were leaving Elizabeth because of the bad roads, but that the population is now increasing and that the city is becoming attractive to people who like to drive and who are now enabled by the condition of the roads leading to Plainfield and other pleasant points to enjoy that pastime.

The prominence given to Mr. Ripley in connection with this law and its execution has brought letters to him from various parts of the country which show an increased interest in this subject, and which promise to popularize the movement. Within a few weeks Mr. Ripley has received a letter from a gentleman for many years a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature. He wants a copy of the New Jersey laws and all printed matter relating thereto. He says that is his purpose to devote his chief energies during the coming session to procure the passage of a similar act in his own State. This gentleman is also the owner of a newspaper, whose columns he intends to devote to the championship of this movement.

In Massachusetts a chair has been recently endowed at the Boston School of Technology to be known as the Chair of Public Roads. Mr. Ripley says that he has reason to believe that not only in Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, and New York—a society having recently been formed in that State to promote the improvement of public roads—has interest been awakened in this subject, but that there is hardly an Eastern or Middle State that has not taken on new zeal in the matter of the improvement of roads.

In Tennessee the Vanderbilt University instructs free of charge one person from each county to supervise roads. During the coming session of the Legislatures bills for this purpose will be introduced in Ohio, Virginia, Maryland, and Rhode Island in addition to the States mentioned. New Hampshire has recognized the importance of good roads in the White Mountain district by making State appropriations for the construction and repair of the principal county and town roads. Mr. Ripley was glad to notice, during a visit to Maine last Summer, that increased attention is given to the condition of the roads in Bangor, and that at Bar Harbor the town authorities have become convinced that if they are to maintain that place as a favored Summer resort they must provide good roads for the Summer visitors. In fact, Mr. Ripley and other men of observation find that people everywhere are glad to get driveways like Plainfield's, and count the cost as nothing, compared to the blessings which accrue.

—The adjourned annual meeting of the Woman's Temperance Aid Society will be held in Reform Hall, Tuesday, October 28, at 3 P. M.

TREED BY RATTLERS.

The Quandary of a Connecticut Boy, and How He Got Out of It.

This season has been a remarkable one for snakes in Connecticut. Not only are they unusually plentiful, but they have behave queerly. A North Stonington lad had a singular adventure with rattlers the other day. He had been out huckleberrying and climbed an apple tree in a pasture for fruit. While eating an apple as he sat astride of a low limb he saw two big rattlers come up to the tree trunk, and it was evident to the boy at once that they wanted him. They couldn't climb the tree, so they camped out under it, and now and then lifted their ugly heads, crackled a little, and looked at him menacingly. The inference was, so the boy interpreted the look, that they had plenty of time and were going to wait for him to come down.

The North Stonington boy sat on the limb about half an hour, and in that time hatched up a plot that he fancied might circumvent the reptiles. He had a fish line in his trousers pocket and a sandwich in his jacket, and, baiting the hook attached to the line with a piece of the biscuit, he dropped the bait down toward the biggest rattler, which, with swollen neck and uplifted crest, was prancing about directly beneath him. With a skillfull twist of the wrist he dropped the hook and biscuit squarely into the serpent's maw, and the big snake instantly swallowed it. Then he pulled the line in, so that the rattler was left swinging about two feet from the ground, tied the line to the tree bough, and cut the string in two. To the severed piece of string he hooked on another hook, baited that, and began to angle for the mate of the suspended serpent. But that snake had reasoned out the plan, and as soon as the boy made his first cast he dodged out of the way of the hook. Then instantly he became very much alarmed, and, giving his rattles a farewell shake, turned and glided quickly into the greenwood. The boy shinned down the tree a moment later and scurried off home, leaving the hooked snake dangling from the bough.

One of the largest rattlers killed in the State in many years was slain by Dwight Monroe, hired man on the William B. Smith farm in West Hartford, a few days ago. Monroe was walking near the reservoir when a huge serpent suddenly reared up in front of him and shook out a warning rattle. Monroe hastily stepped back, then went and cut a stick, returned, and found the serpent exactly in the same posture as at the beginning of the encounter. With a single stroke Monroe killed the serpent, and then took him into Hartford. The reptile was three feet, ten inches long, six inches in girt, and wore eleven rattles. His color was a rich velvet brown. Monroe had a taxidermist stuff him.

At Berlin, among the country hills, M. R. Dunham's hired man killed a rattle snake at the foot of Berlin mountain, a day or two ago, that had thirteen rattles.—N. Y. Sun.

THE TWO BROTHERS.

Old-Time Rocks That Recall Valiant Winthrop and Dudley.

On the east bank of the Concord river, within the limits of the ancient town of Bedford, may be seen two bowlders, which for historic significance far exceed many monuments of New England unadorned by art.

They were doubtless deposited here during the glacial period, and centuries later were selected by John Winthrop, the eminent first Governor of Massachusetts, and Deputy Governor Dudley as the boundaries to their farms.

In 1637 the General Court, then so liberal with the unexplored lands, granted to the Governor 1,200 acres and to the deputy 1,000 acres. These eminent men came up to view the lands and locate their farms in the following spring.

After a short conversation they landed from their birch canoe and took possession of their lands.

By the incorporation of Bedford, 1729, the Winthrop farm came wholly within the town and by an addition of territory, in 1766, a part of the Dudley farm fell to Bedford.

Thus the "Two Brothers" belong to Bedford. They remain unchanged by the hand of time or man, though eight generations have moored their boats at the base when paddling up and down the Concord.

Thoreau was a frequent visitor to this spot in his studies of the historic river, and hundreds of Bedford's sons have stood in peaceful mission on the surface of the bowlders as did Winthrop and Dudley 252 years ago.

The tired city boys often pitch their tent on Winthrop farm, and revel in the luxury of quiet at the Two Brothers, with an occasional meal of bass or pickeral from the Concord.

The founder of Boston did not settle upon his farm, and it is probable that his early death in 1649 prevented a second visit.

It was purchased by Job Lane of Fitz John Winthrop in 1664 for £230, and paid for by building a home at New London, Conn.

The purchaser located upon it with other members of his family and built a garrison for their protection from the Indians during King Phillip's war, in which he bore a prominent part. At his decease (1697), the farm, found by survey, to contain 1,500 acres, was divided between a son, John Lane, and two grandsons, Samuel Fitch and Matthew Whipple.

Fitch became the founder of the numerous family of that name in Bedford and through the country.

I the pleasant village of Bedford may be seen a valuable collection of antiquities and relics of the Lane family, gathered by a descendant of Job Lane, who purchased the Winthrop farm and first subdued its acres.

There is also the deed of conveyance of the farm from Fitz John Winthrop to Job Lane. It is on vellum, well preserved and legible.—Boston Globe.

Women Dentists in New York.

There are now three female dentists in New York, all of whom are qualified to practice the profession. Only one of them is a specialist. She is a clever and handsome young Jewess, and she has studied the work of filling teeth with a great deal of care for several years. She is amply equipped with diplomas, is business-like and industrious, and it is said that her trade is almost exclusively among men. Formerly she was employed as a type-writer in an office down-town. Her hours were from 8 to 6 and her employment uncertain. It is said that she clears $4,000 a year now, has three months' vacation, and is seldom at her chair more than five hours a day. The number of women physicians in New York is, of course, very much greater than the number of female dentists. None of them thus far has attained particular attention as a specialist, though the names of at least half a dozen of them are known as being general practitioners of ability.—N. Y. Sun.

He Knew the Effects.

McFingle—How are you going to spend your vacation? You get a month I believe.

McFangle—Yes: I'm going to spend one week at the beach, one in the country, and the other two in the city.

McFingle—Why don't you spend all of it away? Why those two weeks in the city.

McFangle—To recover from the effects of the beach and country.—Light.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

A MODERN HOME.

A Tasty Frame Building Which Can Be Built for Eighteen Hundred Dollars.

This tasty frame building can be erected for eighteen hundred dollars, with rubble stone foundation. The size of the building is twenty-six by forty feet and consists of seven rooms.

There is a large porch along the front and side of the building six feet wide. The parlor is twelve by eighteen feet six inches and has light from three sides of the room. It is connected with the sitting-room by sliding doors and with the reception hall by an arched opening. The fireplace in the parlor is of a large size and has a tile hearth.

The sitting-room is twelve feet by twelve feet six inches in connection with the reception hall, this room is twelve feet six inches by eighteen feet six inches, thereby making it a large and elegant room. The sitting-room and reception hall are divided by an arched opening, to have grilled work above.

From the reception hall you can enter the dining-room or kitchen through the pantry or you can go to the second story by wide stairs built in the tower.

The second story consists of three chambers and bath-room, all of a good size with large closets. There are two fireplaces on this floor in principal chambers. All the rooms have excellent light and are ventilated by having transoms over all doors.

This house is piped for furnace and gas. The furnace room, laundry and coal bins are in the cellar.

REIGN OF THE CORSET.

Abstract of a Lecture by J. H. Kellogg, M. D., of Battle Creek Sanitarium.

The corset is not a modern institution, although supposed to be by many, for Galen, in a medical work written in the first century, disclaims against it. Greek physicians found fault with women for binding so many bands and girdles about their waists. This was not in the palmy days of Lycurgus when the physical culture, diet, dress and exercise of every man, woman and child were prescribed by law, but in later times. The idea still so popular, then began to prevail that the human female figure was not made right, and so mothers took to shaping the forms of their daughters by means of bands and girdles, not unlike Chinese foot binding.

When we consider the outside of the figure with reference to the inside, it is astonishing that women will so deform themselves. In making careful physical examination of about ten thousand men, I have found only two or three instances of displacement of the kidneys, unless from abcess or something of the kind, only about a half dozen displacements of the stomach, and but a single instance of a displaced liver. In these cases I invariably find that the man has, at some period of life, worn a tight belt instead of wearing suspenders. But among the fifteen thousand or more women whom I have examined, I have found these displacements exceedingly common. Is there any structural reason why women should not hold together as well as men? The organs constituting the internal viscera in both men and women are largely held in place by contiguity—the cavities are so filled that while each organ has abundance of room, there are no vacant spaces. Additionally, each is amply supported and fastened in place by ligaments and bands, it being very important that they stay right where nature puts them. Further support is afforded by the abdominal walls which are made up of numerous strong muscles. But women unhesitatingly destroy the integrity of these muscles by compressions which prevent their being naturally exercised and so they atrophy and become useless as supports. In consequence, the stomach becomes prolapsed and this in turn prolapses the colon; then the kidneys, liver, spleen, small intestines and other organs are displaced in various strange fashions until not an internal organ is in its true place, and all sorts of functional disorders naturally follow.

This wholesale derangement distorts the contour and throws the body out of balance. The chest is flattened or else unnaturally full; there is a hollow where the stomach should be were it not fallen down, and then an unsightly protrusion below caused by the general prolapsus, and the flabby condition of the abdominal muscles. The majority of women who have reached or passed middle life, have ungraceful, deformed figures, due almost wholly to bad dressing. Women should understand that nature has packed the body full, and that there is no way of making the waist smaller than it is naturally without squeezing something out of place. It is safe to say that ninety-nine women out of every hundred who wear corsets and bands have displacements to a greater or less degree of the various internal organs. Not every thing must be laid to the corset, for I have seen more harm come from heavy skirts dragging from tight bands than from the corset which distributes the pressure over a larger surface.

You ask how loose must your dresses be? Just as loose as my coat. If you have a dress fitted so as to keep the wrinkles out, it is invariably too tight. Flowing outlines are favorable to looseness, and are much more graceful than those which sharply define the figure. When you are measured for a dress take a deep breath, and then add two or three inches to that measurement. The corseted woman draws in her abdominal muscles and holds her breath to convince you that her dress is loose. The other day a lady assured me positively that her clothing was not tight. To test the matter I measured her outside her dress, and then had my lady assistant measure her next the skin, and the inside measurement was two and a quarter inches the most!

But the clothing need not be recognizably tight to be injurious. In proof of this note that the light pressure, long continued, of a finger ring invariably causes the tissues to waste away beneath and the muscles to atrophy. So bands and corsets, whether very tight or not, cause an atrophy of the muscles of the waist. The ideally correct dress is entirely without bands or strictures of any sort, and it is growing in favor as it is becoming known. Nature always makes her lines in beautiful curves, and the human body is no exception when allowed to develop naturally. But when a woman puts on a corset and crowds a mass of flesh above it and another below it, the figure is entirely out of shape and inartistic.

To bring about a reform, the first thing is to remove the pressure, and the next to strengthen the long-abused muscles. Massage and electricity, and a thorough course in physical training are among the best means. Deep abdominal and lower chest breathing must also be regularly practiced.—Reported by Helen L. Manning.

COLD DINNER DISHES.

Very Good Recipes That Every Housewife Ought to Have in Her Possession.

We are creatures of circumstance! In the cold, rainy dusk of a November day, or in the driving snow-storm of December, we feel that nothing is so good as something hot. In a roasting July noon we are sure that nothing is so good as something cold. For the intense summer heats of our changeable climate the good housewife will try to provide a list of cold dishes, both solid and light, suited to the requirements of the season, and at the same time so arranged as to make as light a demand as may be upon her own vital energies for their preparation.

COLD BAKED FISH.—Black fish, blue fish, bass, trout of large size and many other kinds of fish are excellent eating when baked and served cold. A fish weighing three pounds or upwards is best for this purpose. Clean carefully and stuff with a mixture of bread crumbs, butter, salt and pepper, and a little chopped salt pork or bacon, mixed with one or two raw beaten eggs. Bake from three-quarters of an hour to an hour, basting with a little butter and hot water. Squeeze a little lemon juice over it when nearly done. When cooled set upon the ice, and serve very cold with cress or horse-radish as a condiment. Fish makes a good salad also. Salmon is perhaps the choicest fish for this purpose, but any good white fish is also acceptable. Salmon and halibut are also very good plainly baked and served cold with cold potatoes and a spicy sauce of some kind.

BONED CHICKEN.—Not the showy dish of the French cook, offered in its original shape, but a good substitute for the country home. A fat hen serves well for this purpose, but it must be covered with cold water and simmer very slowly for a long time. Remove the meat and reduce the broth to a scant pint, by evaporation. Take off the skin and slip the chicken from the joints in smooth, solid pieces; if it has boiled until perfectly tender, this is very easily done. Have ready a few hard-boiled eggs, dropped in cold water when taken from the fire. Place a layer of chicken in a deep oval dish or other shapely mold, arranging it with some care to look attractive, and rejecting all skin and gristle as well as bone. Season each layer with a dusting of salt, cayenne, and if liked, a few sprigs of parsley. Cover with rings cut from the hard-boiled eggs or any slices or fancy shapes to suit the taste. Fill up the dish in this way; add a tablespoonful of gelatine to the chicken broth, and when it has dissolved strain over the meat. It should set firmly, so as to cut in delicate slices.

SNOW PUDDING.—Farina, boiled in milk in a double boiler for a long time, lightly salted and cooled in a mold, makes a tasteful and delicious snow pudding. Whipped cream and pulverized sugar, and perhaps a few fresh berries should be served with it. A more elaborate dessert may be made in this way: Dissolve half a box of Cox's gelatine in a large pint of water, soaking it first for an hour or more in cold water, then bringing to a boil. Add the juice of two lemons and a portion of the rind and two small cupfuls of sugar. Strain after mixing well, and set it by to cool. When it begins to stiffen add the whites of two eggs beaten to a stiff froth, and beat until the whole becomes a stiff, white mass. Mold and serve very cold with whipped cream, or a thin custard made of the yelks of the eggs and flavored with lemon.—Country Gentleman.

ENTERTAINING YARNLETS.

DANIEL O'CONNELL was at one time defending a man accused of murder at Clonmel. The circumstantial evidence was so strong against the prisoner that the jury had already determined upon their verdict of guilty, when the man supposed to be murdered was brought into court, alive and unhurt. The jury was desired to return their verdict at once, and they did so; but it was one of "Guilty." "What does this mean?" inquired the judge; "if the man has not been murdered how can the prisoner be guilty?" "Please, yer honor," said the foreman, "he's guilty; he stole my bay mare three years ago."

A JUDGE in a Western State once intervened to prevent a waste of words. He was sitting in chambers, and seeing, from the piles of papers in the lawyer's hands, that the first case was likely to be hotly contested, he asked: "What is the amount in question?" "Two dollars," said the plaintiff's counsel. "I'll pay it," said the judge, handing over the money; "call the next case." He had not the patience of taciturn Sir William Grant, who, after listening for a couple of days to the arguments of counsel as to the construction of an act, quietly observed, when they had done: "That act has been repealed."

A FEW years ago, two well-known writers in the neighborhood of Harvard College endeavored to evince a practical turn. They lived near each other—so near that when the water in the supply pipes in the house of one was frozen, they conceived the idea of introducing the much-needed fluid before the plumber arrived by conveying it from the house of the other in an ordinary rubber hose. The weather was of the zero kind, and the same cold that froze the water in the leaden pipes within the house, froze the water in the rubber hose which lay upon the snow without. It is hardly necessary to add that a mass of icy snow and a broken hose were the only results of this novel aqueduct.

A WESTERN man, who owned a great farm in Dakota, was obliged to cross the water for business purposes. For three months he heard nothing from the man whom he had left in charge of the farm, and at last he became somewhat disturbed. He was an illiterate person, though a capital farmer, and the writing of a telegram was a matter of some difficulty. At last he sent off the following comprehensive message: "Is things all right at the farm?" Impatiently he awaited the answer. But his trusty foreman was a man of few words and strict ideas of economy, and the envelope which his anxious employer received as soon as possible, contained simply this message: "Things is."

THE difficulty which boys and girls experience in expressing their ideas in writing is notorious. An examiner at a seminary for young ladies requested one of them the other day to give him her notion of what sort of telegram she would send to her father in the event of her having met with a railway accident. It was a thing that might occur, of course, and the lesson prove useful; but, in any case, it would give an idea of her mental resources. He threw out no hints, but, with the proviso that it should be as brief as possible, left the whole composition to the young lady's imagination. This was the telegram: "Dear papa: Dear mamma is killed; Jane (her sister) and I are in the refreshment room."

SCIENCE OF PLANTS.

A NEW albuminous poison of one hundred times the power of strychnine is extracted from the seeds of Abrus precatoria.

TOMATO leaves close regularly every night as soon as the sun goes down. Some begin as early as half-past four to go to sleep.

A MEDICAMENT more powerful than quinine in counteracting fevers is said to have been discovered in Mexico. It is a plant called the pompolano, the root of which contains a substance analogous to quinine.

INVESTIGATIONS in the Alps and Pyrenees have shown that height produces modification, not only in the shape of plants, but in thickness of the the bark, the color of the leaves, and even in the anatomical structure of certain organs. The leaves especially become thicker at great heights, and their faces often have a double layer of cellules.

THE flora of Europe embraces about 10,000 species. India has about 15,000; the British possessions in North America, though with an area nearly as large as Europe, have only about 5,000 species; one of the richest floras is that of the Cape of Good Hope and Natal, which figures up about 10,000 species; Australia also is rich in species, about 10,000 being now known.

IT has been stated that since the sunflower has been cultivated on certain swamps of the Potomac malarial fever has decreased. At the mouth of the Sheldt in Holland it is stated that similar results have been observed. The sunflower emits large volumes of water in the form of vapor, and its aromatic odor, as well as the oxygen it exhales, may have something to do with the sanitary influence in question.

THE Dutch Academy of Sciences in Haarlem has offered a gold medal for the best work on microscopic investigation of the mode in which different parts of plants can unite with one another, and especially the phenomena which accompany healing after the operation of grafting. The papers must be written in German, Dutch or Latin (not in the handwriting of the author), and must be forwarded to Dr. J. Boseka, Haarlem, by January 1, 1891.

A RELATION between the flora of Eastern Asia and of Eastern North America was pointed out, as to Japan, by Dr. Asa Gray thirty years ago. It has been illustrated since by discoveries of new species alike in both regions, but they have been for the most part unimportant herbs. Greater force is now given to the fact by the discovery by Dr. Augustine Henry that the Chinese and American tulip trees are identical. The discovery is significant in that it gives evidence that the climates of Eastern America and of China have continued to be alike since the Tertiary period.

MAY SAVE BIRCHALL

His Innocence Declared in a Letter from His Pal.

WHY BENWELL WAS MURDERED

He Threatened to Divulge the Swindling Scheme and Was Coolly Shot.

The Author of the Letter Acknowledges Himself the Murderer--Birchall's Lawyer Will Ask for a Reprieve for a Month—The Condemned Man's Wife Writes to the Minister of Justice.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Oct. 28.—The condemned murderer, Birchall, has received a letter which, if genuine, will probably go a long way toward saving his neck. The missive is postmarked "Jackson, Mich., Oct. 24, 4:30 p. m.," purports to have been written nineteen days previously, and is signed "The Colonel."

It tells how the writer set out with Benwell to Farmer Hersee's, and while in the Princeton swamp told the victim of the plot to swindle him, inviting him, at the same time, to join the conspiracy and take his revenge out of future dupes.

Benwell indignantly threatened to divulge the nefarious scheme, whereupon "The Colonel," recognizing the necessity of stopping such revelations, coolly shot him.

Death Before Exposure.

The author of the letter describes his talk with Benwell as follows:

"I reasoned with him and did all I could to get him around, but no go. We talked the matter over for perhaps half or three-quarters of an hour, sometimes quietly and sometimes otherwise. At last he jumped up, said he would expose the whole damned lot of us and started for the road. I followed, and knowing what exposing would mean, settled him there and then."

Sympathy for Birchall.

"The Colonel" concludes his letter as follows:

"Now you know it all. I am sorry I did it and never thought of getting you into trouble of the kind you are in now. Forgive me, Rex. His watch and revolver no one will see again. He didn't have much money with him. I should have thought that any darned fool of a lawyer might see for you to kill him would spoil your chances of getting the boodle. I do hope the Canadian people will treat you fairly and at least give you a reprieve. If so, I will write you again and give you my address and will expect to get a letter from you."

Will Ask for a Reprieve.

After reading the letter Birchall's face assumed a pleased expression, and he sent for his solicitor, S. G. McKay. Mr. McKay went to London and consulted with Mr. Hellmuth, another of Birchall's counsel, and it is likely that a reprieve of a month will be asked for at once.

Birchall's explanation of this letter, and it is to an extent borne out by the facts, is that the "Colonel" between whom and Birchall, it will be remembered, certain telegrams or letters have passed and have been made public, was a "pal" of his, and that his friend, the Colonel, was taking Benwell, the murdered man up to see William Hersee, a well known and wealthy farmer of Blenheim, who for a consideration was to pretend that Birchall owned the farm which they were going to see.

Mrs. Birchall's Petition.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 28.—A letter was received at the Department of Justice here from Mrs. Birchall asking if the Minister of Justice would receive her in person to present the petition praying for a commutation of her husband's sentence, and asking whether November 5 would be too late to present it. A reply was telegraphed that the petition would be received and carefully considered, and that Sir John Thompson would be pleased to receive it through the hands of Birchall's wife in person.

HIS DAY IS NEAR.

All Ready at Clinton State Prison for Wood's Electrocution.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Oct. 28.—The execution of "Cal" Wood for the murder of his father-in-law, Leander Pasco, in Warren County, which is booked for next week, if the prisoner's counsel is unable to procure a new trial for the murderer, is now the all-absorbing topic of conversation in and around Clinton State Prison.

Wood is confined in a double cell in the new portion of the prison, that occupied by Joseph Chapleau, the Clinton County murderer, whose sentence was commuted by Gov. Hill to life imprisonment. But Wood differs from Chapleau in many respects. Chapleau is a man of considerable intelligence, while Wood is ignorant and uncouth. The guards who are watching him day and night will be greatly relieved when something new turns up in his case. They apparently dread the coming of execution week more than he does, if appearances and actions count for anything.

A Hoboken Baker Suicides.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Charles Jacobs, a baker of 205 Willow avenue, Hoboken, committed suicide during the morning by shooting himself with a revolver. He has been suffering lately from softening of the brain. He was 45 years old and leaves a wife and seven children.

An Alderman Arrested for Bribery.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 28.—John McLennan, Alderman of the Eleventh Ward and a prominent lawyer, was arrested here on the charge of bribery in taking $100 in cash for putting a certain resolution accepting work on the sewer through the common council.

WORK OF THE MAFIA.

A Cold-Blooded Shooting that Will End in Murder.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 28.—A dispatch from Steubenville, Ohio, says that a cold-blooded shooting that will end in murder took place last evening on the West Virginia side of the river. Frank Cruse met Frank Gallo in Pittsburg last Saturday. Cruse offered Gallo work if he would come to Steubenville with him. Gallo accepted, came here with Cruse and both crossed the river, going up the road to the top of the hill. When near the top Cruse turned suddenly to Gallo, and said:

"Frank, you did a dirty thing to me once, now I'll kill you."

Cruse then pulled out a revolver and shot Gallo three times and fled, leaving Gallo for dead. Gallo regained consciousness and walked to the farmhouse of William Arthur, who brought him to this city in a wagon. Gallo will die.

Cruse's motive for the shooting could not have been robbery, as Gallo had $34 in his bootleg. Both men are Italians. Cruse belongs to the Mafia, which had sworn to kill Gallo. The police are hunting Cruse, who is supposed to be hiding in this city.

A WEDDING AND FUNERAL.

The Corpse of the Bride's Father in the Room When She Was Married.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 28.—Prof. Charles W. Fleming, a music teacher of this city, and Miss Blanche Lynn of Williamsport, Pa., were married at the latter place in the presence of the girl's father's corpse.

The couple had been engaged some time and were to be married in December. A few hours before the ceremony Fleming was summoned from Philadelphia, where he had gone on business, by a telegram stating that Judge Lynn, his intended bride's father, was dying at Williamsport. He arrived too late to be married before the Judge's death, but the latter exacted a promise that the marriage should be performed on the day of his funeral, before his coffin.

This programme was carried out, the same minister conducting the marriage and funeral services. Mrs. Fleming is still at Williamsport, but her husband is now in Pittsburg attending to his duties.

OPERATORS STRIKE.

St. Paul Telegraphers Resent the Discharge of Brotherhood Men.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 28.—All the operators, thirty-seven in number, in the Western Union Telegraph Company's office in this city struck at 8 o'clock last night, and all the wires leading into the city are idle. The walk-out is on account of the discharge by the company a few days ago of six operators, supposed to belong to the Brotherhood.

The discharged men called on Supt. McMichael in Minneapolis in the afternoon to try and effect an agreement, but were not recognized, and the strike is the result.

New Jersey Sends Ireland $20,000.

JERSEY CITY, Oct. 28.—Chancellor McCartie of the Newark diocese telegraphed to Ireland that a collection of $20,000 had been taken up in the 109 Catholic churches of the Newark diocese by direction of Bishop Wigger, and that the contribution would be forwarded to Ireland at once for the benefit of the poor of that country.

A Train Wrecker Sentenced.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Oct. 28.—In the Superior Court, William F. Murdock, of Lynn, pleaded guilty to placing a rail on the Boston & Maine track at Saugus. He did it in the hope of obtaining a reward, and immediately afterward notified the railroad officers. He was sentenced to nine years in State prison.

A Wicked Drummer.

WAYLAND, N. Y., Oct. 28.—A man registering as Riley, representing a New York paper house, was arrested here charged with attempting to criminally assault a young girl on Main street. He was considerably intoxicated when brought before Justice Zimmerman, who ordered him locked up.

McGonegal Secures a Stay.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Judge Pratt of the Kings County Supreme Court granted an order to show cause why a stay of proceeding should not be granted in the case of Dr. McGonegal, who is under sentence for causing the death of Annie Goodwin.

Yellow Fever on Board.

BOSTON, Oct. 28.—The steamer Aaisaig, from Havana, which has been detained at quarantine with yellow fever on board, is being fumigated, and will probably come to the city to-morrow. The steward, who is ill with the fever, has been taken to Calloup's Island.

The Von Moltke Jubilee.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The jubilee last night in honor of Von Moltke's ninetieth birthday was celebrated at the Metropolitan Opera House, which was packed to the doors. Chauncey Depew made a stirring address.

NEW YORK'S CENSUS

Secretary Noble Will Not Permit a Recount.

HIS LETTER TO MAYOR GRANT.

The Census Cannot be Amended Without Clear Proofs of Great Errors.

The State Department Forwards the Protests of the Italian Colony of New Orleans to the Governor of Louisiana—The Conscience Fund Increased—Jugigo's Case Before the Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Secretary Noble has made public his letter to Mayor Grant, denying the latter's application for a recount of the population of New York City.

The Secretary's letter is a document of nearly 3,500 words. In it the Secretary reviews the correspondence between Mayor Grant and the Census Office officials, and quotes the law under which he makes this decision. The Secretary says that the demand rested solely on the alleged supervision of the municipal enumeration by a representative of the United States Census, and devotes a large portion of the letter in discussing this question.

The Secretary says that the position that the United States Census is incorrect must be met by something more than an assertion that the municipal census is right; and that because it shows more inhabitants in New York city in the fall of the year than that taken in June, is not evidence enough to require a recount.

The Secretary says that the U. S. Census has been taken at vast expense and the enumeration of the whole population is about to be announced. The U. S. enumerators of New York were its citizens and deeply interested in its progress and distinction. They were intelligent, educated and industrious. They were paid all the law allowed, and there is no reason why their work should not have been done well. They did it, their proper returns were made. If this good work is attempted to be amended now for this and that, without clear proofs of great errors, its harmony and usefulness will be soon causelessly destroyed.

ITALIANS PROTEST.

Secretary Blaine Sends a Telegram to the Governor of Louisiana.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The State Department has forwarded to the Governor of Louisiana the protests of the Italian colony at New Orleans against contemplated harsh measures by the authorities of New Orleans against Italians of that city indiscriminately, because of the assassination of Chief of Police Hennessey.

The matter was brought to the attention of the State Department by Mr. George Levi, attache, in the absence of Baron de Fava, the Italian Minister. Mr. Levi handed the protest of the Italian colony, which was telegraphed to him by the Italian Consul at New Orleans, to Mr. Blaine, and explained the situation to him. The protest states that they view with horror the assassination of Chief Hennessey, but fear that injustice will be heaped upon the innocent in the clamor which has been raised to punish the guilty.

Secretary Blaine simply telegraphed to the Governor of Louisiana the substance of Mr. Levi's fears, and the substance of the protest, with the view of informing the authorities of Louisiana how the Italians and their official representative in this country felt on the subject.

Fourth Auditor Lynch's Report.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—In his annual report Fourth Auditor John R. Lynch of the Treasury Department, states that there is great need for an increased force of clerks in his office to enable him to meet promptly inquiries from the Pension office. His office, which had charge of the adjustment of accounts of the Navy department, during the last fiscal year disbursed $22,136,474.

Jugigo's Case Before the Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Daniel O. Callaghan and George K. French, of this city, representing the State of New York, appeared before the Supreme Court of the United States, and Mr. Callaghan made a motion to advance the case of Jugigo, the Japanese now under sentence of death by electricity in New York. No decision was made by the court.

Mr. Batchellor's Resignation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The President has received the resignation of George S. Batchellor as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, to take effect October 31. On November 1 Mr. Batchellor will take the oath of office as Minister to Portugal. He intends to sail for Lisbon on November 6.

Conscience Contribution.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—A conscience contribution of $3.50, in an envelope postmarked Holyoke, Mass., has been received by Treasurer Huston.

SHE LOVED THE COACHMAN.

A Society Belle a Victim to the Wiles of Fickle Cupid.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Port Dickinson is a suburb of Binghamton, and is noted for its many charming young ladies. Prominent among them for several years were the three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Phelps.

One of them, Miss Lizzie Phelps, has fallen a victim to the wiles of fickle Cupid.

Unknown to the family there sprang up an attachment between the young lady and her father's coachman, William Slaiterly, that was soon fanned into a flame of love, and they were plighted lovers ere the parents of the young lady were aware of the existing state of affairs.

All efforts to thwart the wishes of her heart were of no avail, and she made no effort to conceal her love and infatuation for the happy youth.

Finding that all efforts to change the mind of the determined and unyielding victim of Cupid's wiles were positively useless, the mother was won over, and is now in perfect harmony with her daughter.

Not so with the father and sisters. They are shocked beyond expression.

The father and Miss Emma have gone to New York to avoid being present at the ceremony, which is to occur in a few days. The youngest sister has also left home and is in Binghampton stopping with relatives.

The mother, however, remains at home with the daughter, and very sensibly looks upon it as an affair that belongs exclusively to the young lady, and as she is an heiress in her own right, she is at liberty to act at her own will and pleasure, especially in a matter that interests the future happiness of herself.

Miss Phelps is a social belle and one of the wealthiest young ladies in the State. She is a niece of the late Judge Phelps and has a cool $100,000 in cash that was left to her by her deceased relative. She is a lovely woman in all that the word implies.

IN A TRANCE.

A Female Prisoner at Batavia, N. Y., Cannot be Awakened.

BATAVIA, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Quite a stir was created here by the intelligence that Mrs. Andrews, who is in jail for illegally retaining from the lawful owners the will of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Ensign, had not been and could not be awakened.

After quite a lengthy examination the doctor said it was evident that she was not feigning. Not the faintest sign of life could be seen. He was of the opinion that it was a case of extreme nervous prostration brought on by great excitement and her surroundings, as he looked about the jail, which has, time and again, been condemned by different grand juries as a place akin to the "Black Hole of Calcutta."

The profound unconsciousness continued, and her lawyer demanded her removal to a better place. An order for her removal to a more healthful place was signed by the jail physician.

Thrown from a Wagon and Killed.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 28.—While out driving last evening two young ladies with their escorts were thrown from the wagon. Miss Mary Roche of 528 East street, was instantly killed, her neck being broken by the fall. Miss Josie Donohue was shockingly cut up and bruised. The men were only slightly injured, but were so badly frightened over the accident that they drove off leaving the women. Later on the men were arrested on suspicion of having purposely caused the accident.

Important Legal Question.

BROCKTON, Mass., Oct. 28.—The question of this city issuing bonds for the erection of a soldier's memorial hall is to be considered by the full bench of the Supreme Court, whose decision will be of wide interest. The Legislature has repeatedly empowered cities and towns to appropriate money for the erection and support of memorials, and the question as to the legality of such legislation has never before been raised.

A Boy Held on a Serious Charge.

DANBURY, Conn., Oct. 28.—William Lobdell the 16-year-old boy shot Clarence L. Osborn in the face, at Georgetown, was given a hearing before Justice Chichester, in Wilton, and bound over to the next term of the Superior Court under $5,000 bonds. He was brought here to the jail. Osborn is in a critical condition. Lobdell ran away from home three months ago to Brewsters, N. Y.

Austria and Our New Tariff.

VIENNA, Oct. 28.—The Austrian Cabinet will immediately consider the questions of taking decisive action regarding the McKinley bill; whether it would be better to wait and see if the American consumers themselves will ask for the repeal of the bill, or whether it would be better to withhold action pending observation of the practical effect of the act.

President Jewett's Sudden Death.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—John L. Jewett, president of the Irving National Bank, was suddenly taken ill in front of his home, 425 West Twenty-first street, at midnight. He fell to the sidewalk and received a severe scalp wound. He died during the forenoon.

Mark Twain's Mother Dying.

KEOKUK, Iowa, Oct. 28.—Mrs. Clemens, the aged mother of Mark Twain, is lying very ill at the home of her son Orion, with whom she has lived for many years in this city. Her death is hourly expected.

An Aged Minister Dead.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Oct. 28.—The Rev. Edwin Harley Rheinhart, for 43 years pastor of the Marshall Street Presbyterian Church, is dead, aged 79 years.

FAVOR RETALIATION

French Journals Bitter Over the McKinley Tariff Bill.

THE LONDON STANDARD'S VIEWS

The Civilized World Plunged Into Inevitable War on Account of Tariff Laws.

Conservatives Exulting Over the Coming O'Shea Divorce Trial—Parnell's Friends Believe He Will Triumph—Dramatic Incidents in the Eyraud Murder Case in Paris—Arrests in Russia.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The French political journals are bringing their utmost pressure to bear upon the Government in an endeavor to induce the adoption of retaliatory measures against the United States for the restrictive operation of the McKinley bill upon French products.

The Figaro, the most bitter of these journals, demands that the Government retaliate upon American insurance companies, of which there are many doing enormous business in France, by rigid enforcement of existing laws against foreign companies, and if these are not found adequate, by the enactment of new ones.

The London Standard in a long leader on the subject, declares that the French tariff and the McKinley bill have plunged the civilized world into inevitable war and predicts "that the entire continent will retaliate sooner or later in a way that will convince the high protectionists of the fatal gravity of their error."

PARNELL'S ORDEAL.

The Conservatives Believe the O'Shea Trial Will Injure the Irish Leader.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The Conservatives do not conceal the exultation with which they look forward to the O'Shea divorce trial, and openly proclaim their belief that the effect of the trial upon Mr. Parnell will be similar to that of the famous scandal in which Sir Charles Dilke was involved and which drove the latter out of public life.

Mr. Parnell's friends, on the other hand, assert that he has a full answer for every charge, and that, at the most, nothing more than indiscretion can be proven. Captain O'Shea states that he will push the case with energy, as he means to prove to the world the falsity of the allegations that he has been acting without just cause and with a malicious purpose to asperse Mr. Parnell.

TO TEST HYPNOTISM.

The Eyraud Murder Trial to be Full of Dramatic Incidents.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The Eyraud trial promises to be full of dramatic incidents. Maitre Henri Robert, the counsel for the woman, Gabrielle Bompard, having decided to make a test question of the issue whether his client was or was not hypnotized, as she claims, by her accomplice.

To decide the matter he will call Drs. Charcot and Voisin, the former standing at the head of specialists in nervous diseases here, and these gentlemen will make hypnotic experiments in open court.

The contention of Maitre Robert is that Gabrielle was not responsible for her actions, having been hypnotized by Eyraud, and so remaining during the entire period of their intercourse.

STANLEY SAILS.

A Large Party of Friends Bid Farewell to the Explorer.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Stanley sailed to-day for America. A large party of friends accompanied them to Euston Station to bid farewell to the couple. A crowd also assembled and cheered the illustrious traveler and his wife as they entered the station.

In order to annoy Stanley on the eve of his departure, the Globe here takes up the Barttelott family's complaint, and insinuates that Stanley must specifically deny the charges that he is responsible for Major Barttelott's death. It claims that the Major was a martyr to soldierly discipline and to the orders Stanley knew to be impracticable.

Wholesale Arrests in Russia.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Wholesale arrests of suspects are being made in St. Petersburg, Warsaw and Odessa. In Odessa most of the victims are Jews, and if no other evidence can be found against them they are deported to Siberia on the charge of violating the laws directed against that race. The police claim to have discovered an enormous conspiracy, involving at the same time a revolutionary propaganda and the forging by millions of the paper money of the Empire.

One Thousand Lives Lost.

WARSAW, Oct. 28.—The papers are full of horrible accounts of the foundering off Cape St. Vincent of a steamer carrying a thousand Russian immigrants, bound for Brazil.

Diamond Dealers Fail.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Messrs. D. H. Wickham & Co., dealers in precious stones at No. 2 Maiden lane, have made an assignment, giving preferences to John J. Monro & Co. Wickham & Co. were rated at from $50,000 to $75,000, and their credit was considered good.

Mr. Cleveland Leaves Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Ex-President Cleveland started for New York to-day. It is reported that Mr. Cleveland gets a fee of $50,000 for the case he argued before the Supreme Court.

EDITORS ARRESTED.

Libel Suits Instituted by ex-Governor Pattison of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—A hearing was given in the case of ex-Governor Pattison against James Elverson, president of the Inquirer company; Charles Huestis, editor of the Inquirer; Clayton McMichael, editor and proprietor of the North American, and W. F. Jordan and J. J. McClourin, of the Harrisburg Call, for libel, before Magistrate O'Brien. Mr. Elverson and Mr. McMichael are out of town, and the constable had not served the warrants on the Harrisburg editors.

Mr. Huestis was present, and after the testimony was held in $1,500 bail. Counsel for Mr. Elverson consented that the evidence offered against Mr. Huestis should also be considered as having been offered against Mr. Elverson, and bail for his appearance was fixed at $1,500. The hearing of Messrs. McMichael, Jordan and McClourin was set for to-morrow noon.

Ex-Governor Pattison, ex-State Senator Judge, J. G. Gordon and William S. Stenger, ex-Secretary of State, swore that every allegation published in the article complained of was false.

—The Elizabeth Wheelmen will indulge in a run over the new county roads, through Springfield to Plainfield, next Tuesday. Two weeks later, Nov. 18, the club will board the 7:40 P. M. train for this city, to witness the games of the Plainfield Bicycle Club, and to cheer their tug-of-war team in its contest against the Plainfield boys.

OBITUARY.

BUTLER G. NOBLE.

Ex-Governor of Wisconsin, Butler G. Noble, whose only daughter is the wife of Frank M. Underhill, formerly of this city, died at 12½ P. M. Saturday, at his home, 212 Ross street, Williamsburgh, from the effects of a fall down the basement steps of his house. He was standing at the head of the stairs talking to Mrs. Noble and fell backward. It was thought he had been stricken with apoplexy, but examination proved that theory incorrect. He was unconscious from the moment of his fall until his death. His wife and daughter were with him at the last.

Mr. Noble was born in Geneva, N. Y., in 1816. He was educated in the public schools and studied law. At the age of 40 he went to Wisconsin, where after a two years' residence he was elected Lieutenant-Governor on the ticket headed by Alexander Randall. In 1860 President Lincoln appointed Gov. Randal Minister to Rome, and Mr. Noble succeeded him as Governor of the State. During the civil war Mr. Noble raised and equipped several regiments of volunteers.

He left Wisconsin in 1864, and went to Brooklyn to live, purchasing the house in Ross street in which he died. A year after his arrival in New York he received an appointment in the department of weighers in the Custom House. For four years he was Harbor Master, and for nine years he was chief clerk in the seizure room. A widow, a son, and a daughter survive him. The husband of the latter is the son of Samuel B. Underhill, who still resides at 10 East Fifth street, this city.

ELINOR WEBSTER GREENE.

The death is announced elsewhere of Elinor Webster Greene, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Greene, which occurred at Las Vegas, Hot Springs, New Mexico. The little one's mother was formerly Mattie Snow Webster, daughter of the late Zachariah Webster, of this city, and her father is a son of Henry Greene, also formerly of Plainfield. Mrs. Green has a sister living in this city now, Mrs. S. A. Vermeule of Peace street.

THEIRS BUT A FLEETING HAPPINESS.

Youth Sacrifices Prospects, Age Banishes Home Joys, to be the Slaves of Drink.

Youth and age occupied cells together in the police station last night, and this morning appeared before Judge Codington to answer to the charges against them.

The old man bore the sturdy name of one of the prophets of old, and might have been venerable if drink had not made him a wreck; but his silvery locks were unkempt and tangled from a restless night, his gray beard trembled with the quiverings of his chin, and his whole nerveless form quaked in pitiful agitation. He was accused of uttering vile language against a woman, a neighbor, and her little boy, and of striking the boy in the face. The old man said that the youngster was a source of constant irritation, making his life miserable by frequent manipulations of his front door bell, and by other mischievous pranks. Because he had attempted, Sunday morning, when in a bad humor after a Saturday night drinking bout, to rebuke the child, its mother had stirred up his passion by calling him "everything she could lay her tongue to." He had responded in kind, with disgusting epithets, in an effort to "keep up" with her, and had slapped the boy. As a result, the woman had sworn out a complaint against him. The old man asked for mercy, as he was a poor man, with a large family. His good wife and faithful young daughters did what they could to help him, but he himself was weak, and could not cope against his old enemy, drink. The court said it would be lenient, and imposed the light fine of $5. The old man uttered his thanks, scraped his pockets, and counted out the money. As he shambled away Sergeant Lynch said, not unkindly, "If you'd let drink alone you'd be rid of half your trouble and sorrow." The old man said he knew it, and would try to stop.

The young man was unmarried, and in the twenties, and liked a good time and was familiar with the taste of liquor. He had been found on the streets intoxicated, and unable to care for himself. He said he had never been arrested before, and would not have been last night, only none of "the boys" had been with him to take him home. He had a good job, but would probably lose it now. He was fined $5. As his earnings, above his living expenses, all went for drink, he had no money, and had to send to his landlady to borrow the amount of the fine.

A Lucky Thirteen.

The publisher announces the appearance of Volume XIII of Alden's excellent Manifold Cyclopedia. It takes the work along from Electricity to Exclaim. The information is condensed, but clear, accurate, and brought down to date. There is no slighting of any points and the more important topics are treated with admirable fullness. Thus Electricity has 34 pages: Electric Light, 6 pages; Elizabeth (Queen), about 7 pages (with a fac-simile of her signature, which is interesting if not beautiful); Emerson, 4 pages; England, about 15 pages; Engraving, about 8 pages; Ethnology, 10 pages. A cyclopedia of some kind is needed in every home and every school. This costs but little, while for general use it is far more convenient and practical than the large and very expensive works. It presents just the kind of information which is needed in everyday life. Another valuable feature is found in the illustrations which are freely used where needed to explain the text. Thus far this series of volumes has been eminently satisfactory. Specimen pages free; sold on easy installments, if desired. JOHN B. ALDEN, Publisher, New York, Chicago, and Atlanta.

What's This?

(From the Railway Democrat)

We have just heard, by the way of Fanwood, of another specimen of the economy by the Republican management of the county road construction. An excellent piece of macadam was laid by the local authorities in that township some time ago, on Mountain avenue, from Park avenue, to Jerusalem road, at a cost of $3,000, fully as good as is laid by the county road system, and satisfactory to the residents. Judge of their astonishment, therefore, when the county road contractor comes along and tears up this good piece of road in order to lay it over again under a coun road contract. True economy would have been to save that much expense. King Kyte, however, is ruler in that township.

Almost Broke His Neck.

Alfred Compton, son of Halsey Compton, narrowly escaped death yesterday. He was walking about on the beams of the second story of the house he is having built at Evona, and to steady himself seized hold of a joist which a careless workman had placed in position but neglected to nail firmly in place. The joist gave way, and Mr. Compton fell to the ground floor of the cellar, striking on his head and shoulder. It was feared at first that his neck was broken, but after spending two or three hours' constant work over his body his friends restored him to consciousness. Then a physician was called, and found a fracture of the collar-bone. The sufferer's head swelled to a terrible size. He is now pronounced out of danger.

—"Necklets" and "throatlets" are two words coined for use at the present time.

—Mechanical Drawing classes will meet at the Y. M. C. A. rooms to-night.

A PLAINFIELDER TALKS TIN PLATE

And Has a Pleasant Time Developing His Rainbow-Hued Imagination.

That fine young canard, the great tin-plate industry yarn, arrived in Troy, Friday night, under the escort of Mr. F. X. Schoonmaker, of Plainfield, and was put on exhibition by that gentleman at a Republican rally in Lansingburg. Though showing some of the effects of the hard work it has been doing since its birth in Pittsburgh a few weeks ago, it was in fair condition, and when manipulated by Mr. Schoonmaker it awakened great enthusiasm. In the words of a Troy paper's report of the meeting, "a wild cheer went up from the throats of every one of the 500 men present." It is also recorded that there was "a great deal of uncontrolled and demonstrative joy."

Mr. Schoonmaker comments the Troy correspondent of the New York Times—is a gentleman with a reputation for veracity in his newspaper work, but when he gambols in the field of Republican politics he makes use of a vivid and richly colored imagination that is enchanting. He presented to the 1,000 ears that accompanied the 500 throats in attendance at the rally a dispatch saying that the Standard Oil Company, which controls the Troy Steel and Iron Company, contemplates turning the rail mill in the lower part of Troy into an establishment for the rolling of tin plate, the Standard being "the largest consumers of tin plate in the country." It was this information conveyed to the 1,000 ears that evoked the "wild cheer" from the 500 throats. A 500-throat-power cheer is really quite an imposing thing, and when to it is added a quantity of uncontrolled and demonstrative joy, you get a demonstration of considerable magnitude.

True, as yet the Staudard is only contemplating, but everybody knows that contemplation and action are closely allied, and the prospect thus opened is positively dazzling. The great Tin-Plate Industry, summoned into existence by the prospective blessings of the McKinley tariff, has had as many homes as a repeater on election day, but its real abiding place is, of course, Troy. It will be promised to other cities, but everybody in Troy has known all along where it would settle.

"On the Frontier."

The Boston Herald says of the play that is to be given at Music Hall, to-morrow evening: "The Howard Athenæum was packed last night by an enthusiastic and delighted audience, and 'On the Frontier,' a sensational and thrilling drama, was the attraction. The play was new to Boston, but not so the leading members of the cast, namely: James M. Hardie and Miss Sara VonLeer, and others, who are well known here. Mr. Hardie impersonates the role of Jack Osborne, a mountain hero, and succeeded in winning from the beginning to the close of the piece the sympathy and plaudits of the audience. Miss Sara VonLeer as Blueflower, came in for much of the applause. She always appeared on the scene when the hero was in danger, and her acting was justly applauded. The other members of the company gave creditable support. The piece will be given every night this week, and on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

A Destructive Deer.

Among the herd of deer at "Deerhurst," Scotch Plains, is a buck that, in beauty and authority, rivals Landseer's "Monarch of the Glen." At most times mild and gentle, he is at this season of the year a perfect terror to his mates and keepers. This morning his second victim, a doe, a noble creature, was found dead in the park, pierced by his antlers. The animal has now been placed in an enclosure by himself. "Deerhurst" is the residence of Dr. Abram Coles.—Newark Advertiser.

Where the Indians Will March.

Should the weather prove favorable, the parade of the Indian band that is to perform in the drama, "On the Frontier," to-morrow, will take place at 11:45. The line of march will be from Music Hall, Front to Peace street, to North avenue, to Park avenue, to Fourth street, to Central avenue, to Fifth street, to Liberty street, to Front street, to Music Hall. Evening parade with fireworks, through the principal streets at 7 o'clock.

Gave Double What Was Asked For.

The American Board, which is the foreign missionary society of the Congregational denomination, at the annual meeting in Minneapolis, Oct. 10, appealed to the churches for an increase of one-third in the contributions for this year. The Congregational church of Plainfield responded to the call last Sunday by an offering which was nearly two-thirds larger than that of last year.

Symptoms of Catarrh.

Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; the eyes are weak, watery, and inflamed; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; the voice is changed and has a nasal twang; the breath is offensive; smell and taste are impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility. If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from Nasal Catarrh. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood, or more unsuccessfully treated, by physicians. Five hundred dollars reward is offered by the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for a case of catarrh which they cannot cure. Remedy sold by druggists, at only 50 cents.

"RECKLESS EXPENDITURE" CHARGED.

The Republican Freeholders Won't Publish Their Financial Report in the Newspapers Where the People can Read it, but Here are Some of the Figures.

(From the Rahway Democrat.)

The committee of the Board of Freeholders to examine into the reports as to extravagance, etc., in relation to the engineer's department of the county road business, reported at the meeting last Thursday. Engineer Dunham is exonerated from receiving any more than his dues, but the report exposes a remarkable recklessness of expenditure in that respect, which cannot be justified by any fair reasoning. The idea of expending over $17,000 for the mere engineering and inspecting of the county road work is preposterous—especially such engineering and inspecting as has been done in a number of instances. The Republican county press is expressing much jubilation at what they call a refutation of the reports published against Engineer Dunham. We did not, in our criticisms, complain that Mr. Dunham had wrongfully appropriated any money to his own use—but of the large, and what we, as well as the public generally, as far as we have heard, deem to be an exorbitant expenditure for the purpose.

If the present Republican Board of Freeholders had not made such a great pretension of economy, probably this extravagance would not have attracted so much attention. But when they came into power in 1888, it was with a great flourish of economical intentions and the denouncing of the great Democratic extravagance by the previous board.

The old saying that "figures don't lie" applies in this case, and we have been enabled to get hold of some figures for the purpose of making a few comparisons. This has not been altogether an easy task, for be it remembered, for economy's (!) sake the Republican board has refused to publish their annual financial statement in the newspapers, as was the custom with Democratic boards, and we had to explore the Freeholders' room at Elizabeth last week to find a copy of a pamphlet, recently printed, of the report presented in May last, which enables us to have the figures of last year before us; and by referring to the report of 1887, the last year the Democrats were in the majority and had the officers of the board, a comparison can be easily made as to the true economy of the respective administrations, in reference to the remuneration received by the members of the board (including their expenses on committees) and by the various officers appointed by the board, which is, the proper test of their inclinations. We, therefore, give below the total amounts compiled from the reports referred to, taking a memorandum of every warrant, which memorandum, and the reports can be seen at this office, if any one doubts the correctness of the statement:

| | Dem. 1887. | Rep. 1890. |
|---|---|---|
| Members of the Board | $6,717 54 | |
| Eight livery stable bills charged to incidental act should be to committee expense account. | 391 50 | $7,109 04 |
| Members of the board, | $6,011 33 | |
| County Attorney, | 1,631 66 | |
| Frank Bergen, att'y | 150 00 | 1,781 66 |
| County Attorney. | 795 11 | |
| Clerk of the Board, | 522 75 | 728 90 |
| County Collector, | 1,100 00 | 1,602 39 |
| County Physician, | 515 30 | 595 76 |
| Engineering on bridge account, | 000 00 | 787 86 |
| Total on accounts 1890, | | $12,605 60 |
| " " " 1887, | | 8,944 49 |
| Increase of 1890 over 1887 in Board and its officers, | | $3,661 11 |
| Add amount of warrants paid County Engineer for engineering roads, a new account, | | $10,603 72 |
| | | $14,264 83 |

Percentage of increase of Republican board of 1890 over Democratic board of 1887: Members' increase 18½ per cent.; County Attorney 124 per cent.; Clerk 39½ per cent.; Collector 45 per cent.; Physician 15½ per cent. Total increase 32 per cent. or $2,873.25.

In order to further compare, we give below the amounts received by the respective members of the board for the two years. The amounts paid to some of the members of 1887 appears to be excessive, but as a whole, the members of 1890 "take the cake."

1887—Democratic.

It will be noticed that Mr. Kyte, the Republican candidate for Assemblyman in this district, flies pretty high—being next to the Director in figuring.

Voters, remember that Rankin, Clark, Kyte and the other Republican nominees represent this false economical (?) party, while Marsh, Hicks, Cook and the Democratic ticket as a whole, represents genuine economy and a respect for the welfare of the whole county.

Vote the Democratic ticket.

RANKIN'S ANSWER.

He Will Not Pledge Himself to the Clergy or the People, but the Hon. Mr. Marsh is Already on Record.

There are two candidates for the votes of the people on Tuesday next, who have already placed themselves on record regarding the legalizing of pool-selling and race track betting. The people can therefore make their choice without misunderstanding.

These two candidates are Mr. Rankin, the Republican nominee, and Mr. Marsh, the Democratic nominee for State Senator In the Assembly last year, Mr. Marsh worked and voted against the race track bill. He is so recorded in the official proceedings. On the other hand, Mr. Rankin records himself in the following extracts from a letter of last Friday, to the Elizabeth Journal:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of several letters from clergymen in different parts of the county asking me for an expression of my views about race track legislation.

It is my settled conviction that no candidate for legislative office should, in advance, tie his hands by any pledges with respect to his action upon any particular measure. And however unfavorable impressed with any bill that may come up for his action, I think his duty is to listen to debate, to hear the bill read, as provided by the constitution, and then give his decision.

I have yet to make the first pledge or promise to any individual as to what my official action would be. So in the present contest, I am absolutely without engagements, either expressed or implied, with any individual or corporation, as to what my action shall be with respect to the race courses or any other matter.

The only pledge I will make is that I will, on every measure, act conscientiously, without fear or favor, and will give my vote in the manner that will seem to me best calculated to promote the moral and material advancement of the people of the county.

Very respectfully,
JOHN C. RANKIN, JR.

That is Mr. Rankin's answer, how does it look alongside of Mr. Marsh's record? The race track men are loudly proclaiming they will defeat Mr. Marsh, and so they will unless the clergy and the decent people by their solid vote swamp the race track's power.

And those same threats are what impelled Mr. Rankin's refusal to pledge himself.

A Good Woman Makes Needy Children Happy.

In response to a query of The World, "What would you do if you were rich?" M. F. R., of Dunellen, writes as follows:

"Are not people usually richer than they think? If one has good health, no debts, a successful business, a happy home and congenial friends, surely that person is rich and may find opportunities for usefulness outside his own circle. Very rich people, when they set out to do good, generally follow some hobby. Of all the hobbies I have known I like that of my friend Olivia the best. Her income is far beyond her own needs, and she spends the surplus in supporting the most forlorn children she can find. She does not seek the prettiest or most attractive, but takes those whom many would reject. She finds boarding places for them with some kind-hearted woman who is willing to give them the same care and attention she does her own children. They are educated in the public schools, and after taking the full course, they—both boys and girls—are taught some trade or business, and have in each case become self-supporting.

"Many people call my friend odd, and think she is foolish not to spend her money on herself, but she keeps quietly on her way and finds her reward in the gratitude of those she has befriended."

The Good-Road Movement Spreading.

The State Board of Agriculture of New Jersey has become so much interested in the operation of the State law for the improvement of county roads that it desires to make an exposition of the subject a part of its records. To that end Secretary Franklin Dye has addressed an invitation to Chauncey B. Ripley, of Westfield, to read a paper before the board at the January meeting, to be held at the State House, Trenton. Mr. Dye has also invited Mr. Ripley to appear before the Mercer County Board of Agriculture at the Court House at Trenton at a meeting appointed for Nov. 16.

Mr. Ripley has accepted the invitation to address the State Board, and Secretary Dye intends that copies of the address—which will be a compendium of information upon road building—shall be sent into every State in which legislation similar to the New Jersey law may be contemplated. Friends of the movement for good roads are confident that every State will soon pass efficient road laws.

CURIOSITIES IN FLOWERS.

A WONDERFUL flower has been discovered in the Isthmus of Tehauntepec. Its chief peculiarity is the habit of changing its colors during the day. In the morning it is white; when the sun is at its zenith it is red, and at night it is blue. The red, white and blue flower grows on a tree about the size of a guava tree, and only at noon does it give out any perfume.

A FLOWER has been discovered in South America which is only visible when the wind blows. The shrub belongs to the cactus family and is about three feet high. The stem is covered with dead, warty-looking lumps in calm weather; these lumps, however, need but a slight breeze to make them unfold large flowers of a creamy white, which close and appear as dead as soon as the wind subsides.

THE fashionable enthusiasm of the hour is for a new perfume from a marvelous lily that grows in African jungles. Mr. Stanley found this flower and brought back a large jar of its leaves to his bride-elect. Mr. Stanley says that the natives call this flower Kanonga and that botanists call it Anona oderatissima. Those who have caught a whiff of this wonderful perfume say that it is a mixture of jasmine, lilac, lily of the valley and rose, and is altogether intoxicating.

THE smallest flowering plant in existence is wolffia microscopia, a native of India. It belongs to the duckweed family. It is almost microscopic in size, destitute of proper stem, leaves and roots, but having these organs merged in one, forming a frond. There are two species of the genus found growing wild in the Eastern United States. One of them, wolffia columbiana is about the one-twenty-fifth of an inch in diameter, and the other, wolffia braziliensis, somewhat smaller in size.

THE proceedings of the Canadian Institute for April, 1890, contain two papers upon the cruel plant (Physianthus albens), a native of tropical America. The flowers are provided with five pairs of jaws (leaflets) that close upon the proboscis of any moth which attempts to extract honey from the blossom, and the insect is held a prisoner until it dies. The plant belongs to the tribe of asclepiads (milk weed family). The plant is highly ornamental in culture, having pure white, fragrant flowers, much like the tuberose in appearance.

A SINGULAR phenomenon is described in a Scotch journal. A particular species of willow tree was in flower, and attached to these blossoms, which resembled an old-fashioned bottle brush, were a large number of the "big black bumble bees" with which every school boy is familiar. They remained a whole day sipping the extract of juice and then dropped helplessly to the ground, hardly able to move, and next morning were almost dead from exposure. One was observed to climb a vertical board of a few inches and when near the top to throw out his legs and fall backward after the manner of the ordinary inebriate.

AFFAIRS OF FOREIGNERS.

THERE are 527 members of the House of Lords, and 670 members of the House of Commons.

THE women of Anam wear a hat that is like a large barrel cover, being twenty-seven inches in diameter. Six or seven silk cords as thick as a quill are suspended on each side.

THE plans for making Paris a seaport have been deposited at the Hotel de Ville. The proposed canal from Rouen to Paris is to be one hundred and ten miles long and about twenty feet deep, to cost 135,000,000 francs.

WALLED up in the cellars of a brewery at Burton-on-Trent, there was discovered not long ago some beer that had been brewed in the year 1798. It resembled sherry more than it did a malt liquor, and was in good condition.

THERE are more public holidays in Honolulu than in any other city in the world. Among the days observed are Queen Victoria's birthday, Coronation day, all the French and Portuguese holidays, the American Thanksgiving day and the Chinese New Year.

EXPERIMENTS are being conducted in the English channel near Folkestone for the purpose of testing the geological structure of that portion of the sea bed upon which it is proposed to construct a bridge across the Strait of Dover. Thus far the sea bottom has been found very solid and suitable for the proposed structure.

THE Siamese telegraph service has lately been considerably improved. The department is under the control of a Siamese prince, and most of the employes are either German or French. A system of telephones has been laid down in Bangkok, with connections and exchanges on both sides of the river. All the large firms and trading houses and many private individuals are subscribers.

A WONDER of Peru when the Spaniards discovered it was the system of irrigation which made the arid land fertile. The conquerors destroyed this system because they found mining more profitable than farming. Recently an English syndicate was organized to carry on the work begun by the Incas. A dam six hundred feet long and eighty-five feet high is to be built across a valley to store the floods of the Piura river, and it is calculated that with this water the entire desert of Leahura can be made fertile.

AN association has been formed at Vienna for the purpose of carrying out the method of "natural healing" which a clergyman named Kneipp claims to have discovered. The treatment seems to consist in a process of "hardening." The faithful who submit to it are directed to wear the lightest clothing, to stand barefooted for hours at a time on wet grass, to walk about in newly-fallen snow and water, and generally to live in what may be termed a chronic state of hydropathic observance. If, as appears to be the case, this method is to be applied impartially to all sorts and conditions of men and women, and if it comes into any thing like general use, the death rate of the Austrian capital is likely to be materially heightened.

Jumped to His Death.

ITHACA, N.Y., Oct. 28.—Henry Frantz, a well known resident of this city, while temporarily deranged by drink, jumped from a bridge into the University Ravine and was instantly killed. Frantz was a veteran of the Civil War. He leaves a wife and family.

Whiskey and a Five-Year-Old.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 28.—Brady Cunningham, a child five years old, found a bottle of whiskey at home and drank enough to paralyze his brain. Doctors drew a pint of liquor from him with a stomach pump, but the child is still in a stupor and cannot live.

A MATTER FOR WOMEN ONLY.

Something So Important That No Woman Should Skip This.

(From the Boston Traveller.)

A lady correspondent writes us: "If mothers would have healthy and vigorous children, let them first of all see to their own physical condition. I was at one time weak and nervous, exhausted alike in nerve and physical powers, always tired, and suffering untold miseries from diseases peculiar to my sex. Healthy children were an absolute impossibility, but by the aid of a most wonderful remedy, which I believe the best medicine ever discovered for weak, nervous, sick and exhausted womankind. I have been completely restored to health and strength, and have the healthiest, plumpest and best of babies This marvellous remedy and friend of women is Dr. Greene's Nervura, and if any wish to be strong and healthy and have beautiful and vigorous children, they will not fail to use this wonder among medicines."

Women who suffer from difficulties peculiar to their sex, and who are in consequence weak, tired, nervous and run down in health and strength, and who suffer from dragging pains and aches, weak back and bad feeling head, to say nothing of the extreme nervousness and mental depression, should by all means use Dr. Greene's Nervura, the great nerve invigorant and restorer of health and strength to women. Our lady correspondent urges women to use it because of its marvellous curative effects in her case, and we can also heartily recommend its use to the thousands of women who suffer from those painful and exhausting diseases, because it is a purely vegetable and perfectly harmless remedy, and we have personally known of a great many cases it has cured. It is for sale by druggists at $1.00 per bottle.

RINGING WORDS OF HOPE.

I have been a great sufferer for seven or eight years. I used Dr. Greene's Nervura. It acted like magic. Why do women suffer when Dr. Greene's Nervura will surely cure them? I think it is splendid. MISS PAULINE REISER
407 West 23d st., New York city.

Dr. Greene of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York, its discoverer, is the famous specialist in the cure of nervous and chronic diseases. The doctor has devoted special attention to the treatment of all forms of chronic diseases through letter correspondence, and will give by mail his opinion and advice in any case free of charge. The perfection of this system renders a complete cure almost assured, as his success in treatment by correspondence is wonderful and unequalled. Send for symptom blank to fill out, or write him about your case.

For seven or eight years my wife has been troubled with some kind of kidney trouble. She tried many different remedies but all in vain. She continued to grow worse. Last fall I induced her to try the F. E. C. Remedy, and before using one bottle she began to improve, and now, after using six bottles, she is entirely cured. I have recommended it to many and it has benefitted in every case heard from.

POEMS PENNED OF LATE.

The Reason Why.

"When I was at the party,"
Said Betty (aged just four),
"A little girl fell off her chair,
Right down upon the floor;
And all the other little girls
Began to laugh, but me—
I didn't laugh a single bit,"
Said Betty, seriously.

"Why not?" her mother asked her,
Full of delight to find
That Betty—bless her little heart!—
Had been so sweetly kind.
"Why didn't you laugh, darling?
Or don't you like to tell?"
"I didn't laugh," said Betty,
"'Cause it was me that fell!"
—Mary E. Bradley, in St. Nicholas.

The Woodman and the Lion.
[From Æschylus.]

A woodman found, one summer day,
Asleep in lair—the dam away,
A lion cub—a gentle thing,
Untaught as yet to leap and spring,
Or roar, or show the pointed teeth,
Or glare upon the prey beneath
A cruel paw, whose claws revealed
The mighty monarch of the field.

The woodman to his cottage brought
The little creature he had caught—
Bestowed it on his children there,
To foster it with loving care—
And while 'twas young, 'twas soft and tame
And for caress, obedient came,
And frisked and frolicked on the floor,
And shared the porridge bowl at door,
Where sat the children, when the day
Was closing down on work and play.
There would the baby lion pet
Climb to the woodman's lap, and let
His fondling hand smooth down his fur,
Responding with contented purr—
Oft licked he then, with fawning tongue,
That kindly hand, as o'er him hung
The woodman, unforeseeing yet
The mischiefs he would soon beget.

But age increasing, now there shows
The lion nature as it grows
More firm, more fierce, till taste of blood,
Betrays his hidden savagehood.
His youth-protecting cottage home
He leaves, on ravening raid to roam—
Flies on the flock and herd, and rends
The sole support of trusting friends—
Nor spares one beast—all, all are slain—
Then to his lair returns again.

The hapless woodman now beholds
The mangled carnage of his folds,
With horror chilling every vein,
While heart, convulsive, throbs with pain,
And learns too late he bred the doom,
A priest of Até*—in his home.
*Até—goddess of evil—by the Latins termed the goddess of discord.
—N. C. Thompson, in Chicago Inter Ocean.

A Love Song.

If you have seen the darkness
Unclose its lashes deep,
That heaven's blue eyes might open
Afresh from evening's sleep;
If you have seen at twilight
One single little star
Come softly through the azure
And shine for you afar,

Then you have seen the curtains
That shade my lady's eyes,
And keep the blue from losing
That look of glad surprise
Which came to them with loving;
And you can surely see
That she came down from Heaven,
And shines alone for me.

The flowers bloom around her,
The birds come at her call,
Yet she's the sweetest blossom
And singer of them all.
If I be worthy of her
I know not, but I feel
Between me and all evil
Her gentle spirit steal.

And I half fear some morning
That I shall look for her,
And only find the dewdrops
Where once her white feet were;
And one pale, perfect lily
Where once was her sweet face,
And a white stone which sorrow
Has set to mark the place.
—Mary A. Mason, in N. Y. Mail and Express.

In a Country Churchyard.

'Mid waving grass the broken headstones lie;
The carven cross-bones show, the blades between,
And half-effaced, the once-known names are seen
'Neath bright-hued mosses, clinging tenderly.
No flower-decked mound here charms the passer-by;
The dead sleep lost below the exuberant green;
None cares to read what once their lives had been;
Their words, their deeds, have passed from memory.
It hurts our tender vanity to know
That time may bring us to the same cold plight,
When we and all we love have passed from sight,
And o'er our heads the untended grasses grow.
The daily tide of life may ebb and flow,
But we shall rest within oblivion's night.
—Chamber's Journal.

Too Late.

I bid him go, for his love was vain,
And he sailed away over the sea;
Sad at heart he went, and no earthly day
Can bring him again to me.
He went to the war, without word or sign,
But I saw his name once again,
All England read it, that sunny morn,
In the long, long list of the slain.

Shot while leading his men to the front,
Midnight, on the tenth of May—"
That is all I ever shall know of his death,
'Neath the Southern skies far away.
Did he think of the woman who scorned his love,
In her folly and her pride?
Has he known I have loved him all these years
Since that star-lit night he died?
Oh, my Love, my Love, dare I call you so?
Your forgiveness is all I pray!
I was not worthy the joy of your love
When I blindly threw it away!
But when we meet in the far-off Land,
God grant my heart's bitter cry,
That you, remembering, may say: "I forgive,"
Ere forever you pass me by!
—Violet M. King, in Once a Week.

A Snake Fence.

Softened by time and storm to smoky-gray,
Bronzed with mosses, sage and malachite,
Its airy course it zigzags out of sight
In the green vines that fringe the dusty way.
Beneath the rails the happy crickets play
Their wild extempores with keen delight,
And passing on it in his whirring flight,
The partridge gayly drums at close of day.
In billowy balm the clover round it nods,
And at its feet the milkweed's waving tree,
Where dragonflies dart o'er the wayside rill
And where the asters vie with goldenrods,
The Indian corn a rustling symphony
Murmurs responsive to the wind's sweet will.
—E. K. Munkittrick, in Travelers' Record.

The Social Hypocrite.

Men who extremely gallant are.
A damsel read
May claim their seat
Before she's scarcely in the car

They seem to live
That they may give
To women full surcease from cares,
The while their wives
At home—poor lives—
Lug coal up three long flights of stairs.
—Chicago Post.

DON, THE MILKMAN.

He Was Only a Monkey, But He Thought He Could Sell Milk.

DON wanted to drive a milk-wagon.

It was a gay life, he thought, and one that he meant to try. A hard life? No! Wasn't Jim, his milkman, big and happy? Jim would tell you 'twas a glorious life!

Hard or easy, Don meant to try it.

So one day he followed Jim to the garden door.

"Hillo!" said Jim; "want a ride? Well, in with you!"

Jim was rather silent as they rode along, so Don had plenty of time to discover just what a milkman's duties were. A hard life? No! a glorious life!

The next morning Don put on his hat, secreted himself behind a rose-bush and watched for Jim.

By and by Jim opened the gate and went into the kitchen.

Don stole quickly out from his hiding-place, out through the open gate, out into the alley, up, up with a leap into the big milk-wagon!

He took Jim's seat, he seized Jim's reins, he chirruped to Jim's horse.

"Now I'm off!" thought he; "now I'm a milkman!"

Pompey jogged slowly onward, and people, as they passed, looked in and laughed.

Presently Pompey stopped before a house.

"Hillo!" thought Don, "I must leave some milk here."

So he jumped off the seat, and grasped a gallon-can. It was too heavy for him to lift; so he dropped it, with a rattle and a bang, and picked up one of half its size; that, also, was beyond his strength.

In despair, for well he knew that Jim would soon overtake him, he seized a small glass-jar, and jumped from the wagon.

And, lo, the area-gate was closed!

Don knocked; Don beat a loud tattoo upon it; Don kicked!

"Now," thought he, "now what shall I do?"

He looked up and around. The gate! He must climb over it! In another second, with a quick, agile spring, he stood upon the narrow, flat top-board.

But, alas! alas! down rolled the glass jar! out streamed the milk! and—up the street dashed Jim!

"Now I'm caught!" thought Don. "Well, I've tried it! I've been a milkman!"

He made no effort to hide,—as Jim, flushed and panting, came up to the wagon. Instead, he looked at him with him with bright, gleeful eyes.

"Well," exclaimed Jim, "if you ain't the mischievlest monkey that I ever see. A running off with my team!"

Don grinned! Don danced! Don chirruped! and off started Pompey.—Mary A. Sawyer, in Our Little Ones.

MURIEL AND THE MOUSE.

The Soft Place in Which the Little Animal Secreted Itself.

Muriel is a dear little girl with blue eyes and golden curls. Last summer, while she was at grandpa's such a funny thing happened.

She was walking with mamma through a field not far from the house. Stooping down to pick a clover-blossom, she spied four bright little eyes peeping up at her from a tangle of grass and leaves. "O mamma, what's 'is?" she cried out. Mamma looked down to see.

"Little field-mice, dear," she said; "aren't they cunning?"

The little animals, alarmed by the sound of voices, started to run away; but, alas! Dick, the large gray cat, who had followed Muriel from the house, pounced upon one of them, and made short work of him.

Muriel almost cried. "Oh, dear!" said she, "I 'fraid he'll catch the other mousie! Don't let him, mamma!" Mamma looked all around, but could see nothing of the second little mouse.

"I guess he has hidden in some safe place," said she, "and we will take care not to bring Dick down here again."

Muriel had to be satisfied with that; but all the way home she talked about "the poor little mousie naughty Dick did eat."

Soon after they reached the house, mamma noticed that Muriel was very restless.

"What's the matter, darling?" she asked.

"Somesing tickles my back, mamma," replied the little one; "Muriel don't like it." Mamma unfastened the little dress and waist, and put her hand in to see what was making Muriel uncomfortable.

What do you think she found?

Why, that little field-mouse, cuddled down in the soft folds of her tiny shirt, as cosily as you please! Such a shout of delight as Muriel gave when she saw it!

"He did find a safe place, didn't he, mamma?" she cried. "Muriel wants to keep the cunning thing!"

"Oh no!" said mamma; "naughty Dick would soon catch it here; but Muriel shall hold it in her hand and carry it back to its own home in the field."

So they went down to the field again, and left the little mouse where they had first seen it, hoping its mamma would soon find it and take good care of it.

As they turned to go home, Muriel looked back and kissed her hand. "Good-bye, little mousie!" said she.—A. M. Keith, in Our Little Ones.

IT FAILED TO WORK.

A Little Boy's Experience at Catching Birds with Salt.

"Oh! oh! oh!"

It was nothing but a yellow-bird, a pretty bit of black and gold flying in and out among the plum trees, but it couldn't have looked any more precious to Benny if it had been pure gold and jet. For Benny was a city boy, and though ten years old had never spent a summer in the country before, and this was his first day there.

"Oh! if I could catch that beautiful bird!"

"You can," said Uncle Amos, who sat in the doorway smoking, "if you can get near enough to her to put some salt on her tail."

From that day on, Benny kept trying to see how near he could get to the birds, but they always flew away a little too soon.

One day when he was looking for the first ripe currants in the garden, he found the yellow-bird's nest, right on a low-hanging limb of a plum-tree, and there sat the little mother on her eggs. Benny could have put his hand right on her, but he only thought of salt. Like a flash he sped into the house.

"Oh! Aunt Jane! I want some salt, quick!"

Aunt Jane poured some into his hand, and he was off, almost as quick as a bird himself.

Carefully he crept up to the spot, and raising his hand sprinkled the salt on the yellow tail, when away flew the bird! And Benny sat down in the grass and cried.

"Uncle Amos," said Benny that night, "it isn't so about catching birds with salt, for I tried it to-day."

"Was you near enough to put salt on her tail?"

"Yes, sir, and I put it on, too."

"But why in the mischief didn't you catch her at first, instead of stopping to put on salt?"

Benny thought a moment. "Oh! I see through it now," he said.—Youth's Companion.

THE SPOOK BUZZER.

It's a Very Simple Contrivance, but It Makes an Unearthly Screech.

Residents of that section of the city known as "Swampoodle," up in the Twenty-eighth ward, have been greatly annoyed during the past week, says the Philadelphia Record, by the most unearthly screeches at midnight. Some thought that a wag had been pulling the rope on Dingee's brickyard whistle. Superstitious people declared that it was the ghost of a man who had been murdered. No bird could make such a shriek as went up like this:

"Wow-o-o-o-up! Wow-o-o-o-up! Wow-o-o-o-up! Zoo! Zoo! Zip!"

This was commonly repeated three times, with blood-congealing intensity,

THE SPOOK BUZZER.

then it would die away in the distance, only to be heard later in another quarter.

Finally Special Officer Ulrich was put on the case, and he worked for three or four days, when on last Saturday he caught three boys, and solved the mystery. The youngsters confessed that they were responsible for the hideous noises. Each had a stout, hickory cane, with about two yards of twine tied to the ferule end from the other extremity of the twine dangled a piece of basswood, shaved down very thin, oval shaped and about nine inches long. The noises, they explained, were produced by lashing the thing through the air. The harder the wind blew the more unearthly the sounds became. They had had lots of fun, and after a reprimand by Lieutenant Wolf they promised to destroy the things. The boys said that the affair was a spook buzzer, and that it was the best thing out.

When properly made and deftly weilded it will produce a volume of sound in the open air that is almost, if not quite, indescribable.

The Game of Bean-Bags.

The board for playing bean-bags shown in the engraving can be made of oak or of pine, stained to imitate cherry or walnut. It should be eighteen inches wide and thirty long. The opening is five and a half inches square. The piece which elevates one end and keeps the board in position when in use is eighteen inches long and nine wide. It is attached to the board with small hinges, and kept in position with hooks and eyes when ready for playing. The bags, which should be six in number, are made of scarlet and blue awning material, five and a half inches square; or rather five are that size, and the sixth, called "Jumbo," is twice the length of the others. The small bags should not be more than half filled with the beans, each holding half a pint. The amount to be played may be set by the players. They stand eight or ten feet away and try to throw through the hole. Each successful throw counts ten; if the bag lodges on the board, five; if it falls outside it takes ten from the count. If Jumbo goes through it counts twenty. Each player takes all five bags and Jumbo at once, and throws them, one at a time. The game is scored by an umpire. When it is played as an outdoor game, throw the bags through a suspended hoop, wound with bright colors.—American Agriculturist.

A CLUSTER OF BRILLIANTS.

HUSBAND—"Let us go to the lecture to-night." Wife—"I have nothing to wear." Husband—"Then let us go to the opera."

ETHEL—"So our Benedict is married at last. Cupid conquered him." Maud—"No. It was cupidity. He married an heiress."

HUSBAND—"When I made your acquaintance, you were quite a nice girl with only one fault." Wife—"What was that?" Husband—"You were not married!"

CHICKERING—"Some of the new houses up-town are so narrow that a piano can not be put in." Baus (excitedly)—"You don't know the rent of the houses next door to them, do you?"

IF there is ever a time in life when a man gets thoroughly disappointed, it is when he persuades somebody to get him up a dinner of the things he used to like best when he was a boy.

"I WISH," she murmured, "that you would tell me that story again; the one that you said was original." "Did you think I told it well?" he inquired eagerly. "Yes; I never heard it told better in all my life."

AN article is going the rounds of the papers headed: "How to Select a Wife." Its rules are very scientific and interesting, but when a young man falls in love he doesn't ponder over rules. He just shuts both eyes tight and grabs frantically in the dark.

"PAPA," remarked the Senator's daughter, looking at the clock. "What is it, Lou?" asked papa, who had lingered in the parlor with the young people. "It is nine o'clock. At this time George and I usually go into executive session." Then papa retired.

MRS. BJINKS—"Did you have a rough passage to Plymouth the other day, Mrs. Bjones?" Mrs. Bjones—"Well, I should say we did. I tell you, I have a sigh of relief when I set my foot on dry land once more. And frankly, Mrs. Bjinks, between you and me, that was all there was left to heave."

A GENTLE HINT.—Mrs. Binks (to her neighbor)—"Oh, I do so like your house: it seems so homelike." Mrs. Jinks—"Do you think so?" Mrs. Binks—"Yes, indeed; you've got so many of my cooking dishes borrowed, you know, that your kitchen seems ever so much more natural than mine does."

"ARE you an Odd-Fellow?" "No, sir, I've been married a week." "I mean, do you belong to the order of Odd-Fellows?" "No; I belong to the order of Married Men." "Dear me! how dull! Are you a Mason?" "No; I'm a carpenter." "Worse and worse. Are you a Son of Temperance?" "Confound it, no! I am a son of Mr. John Gosling." The querist went his way.

"WHERE are you going, my pretty little maid?" he softly inquired. "Should the weather indications continue of an auspicious character my intended destination is yonder inclosure, where my unswerving determination is to extract such an amount of lacteal fluid from the gently articulating kine as may be deemed necessary and advisable," calmly replied the rustic girl, who had worked for two weeks in a Boston family. And she passed on her way, leaving the dandiest drummer in New York.

THEORIES OF SCIENTISTS.

IT has been suggested that the study of the influence of diet and habit upon the color of the hair in different nations of men may cause discoveries by which the color of the hair in the human race may be modified by judicious treatment.

M. COBES, of Buenos Ayres, informed the French association that he had been led to conclude from experiment that all living animals have a surface of absorption and respiration which has the power of absorbing oxygen when hyperdemically injected in precisely the same manner as gas is absorbed when taken in by the lungs. If M. Cobes' theory be correct it can be applied to persons suffering from temporary affection of the lungs.

M. UNGERER expresses the opinion that flowers and the perfume distilled from them have a salutary influence on the constitution, and indeed may be regarded as a therapeutic agency of high value. He says that residence in a perfumed atmosphere forms a protection from pulmonary affections and arrests the development of phthisis; thus, in the town of La Grasse, where the making of perfumes is so largely carried on, phthisis is rare, owing to the odorous vapors exhaled from the numerous distilleries.

ACCORDING to Prof. Garrison, of Chicago, the crumpled and crushed form of the human ear was originally caused and is now maintained by the habit of lying on the side of the head, and that this habit has resulted principally from the great and increasing weight of the brain. The question originally seemed to be whether man's ancestors would profit most by large brains or by symmetrical and perfect acoustic apparatus, and nature by selection had promptly decided in favor of large brains.

RENEWED attention has been directed to some curious experiments made twenty-five years ago by M. Nicholas Wagner. It was then demonstrated that fixed electric currents exist in the wings of butterflies, and that the color of the wings is determined by these currents. Artificial currents changed the reds into orange, and blacks into red, and a constant battery produced spots varying in shape with the strength of the current. By means of electricity it was also possible to produce a kind of atrophy, and to change the shape of the wings.

M. J. DYBOWSKI, in an article in the Journal de l' Agriculture, ridicules the popular notion that the Sahara consists largely of shifting sands, and contends that this hot region might be colonized and utilized for agricultural purposes. All that it needs is water; and the main drift of M. Dybowski's communication is to show how abundant this is at small depths below the surface. In many parts palms, when once planted, can reach it with their roots. In others very shallow artesian wells suffice, and the water flows continuously. He advocates a system of irrigation from artesian wells.

TAKE as many different colored jellies as you can, mold into very small pyramids (tiny goblets will do for the molds), then arrange the contrasting colors on a dainty dish and it is a very beautiful dish for a tea table.

CORN CAKE.—One egg, one-half cup of sugar, one cup of sweet milk, one cup of Indian meal, one cup of flour, one teaspoonful of soda, two teaspoonfuls of cream tartar. Bake in a square loaf or in a thin sheet in a dripping-pan, cut in squares, or in small tins.

A HEAVY under-tablecloth of white cotton felting should always be used under the white damask. It throws out the pattern of the damask clearly and prevents the table from wearing the linen. Crocheted mats of heavy white cotton are the daintest choice for ordinary use.

RASPBERRY CREAM.—Take a quart of thick cream, the whites of two eggs, and half a pint of preserved raspberries, well bruised. Whip them all up for half an hour with a whisk, then put it in a hair sieve and let it stand all night to drain the whey from it, then put it in jam dishes or in glasses.

IS IT known that mixing the extracts of lemon and vanilla makes the nicest of flavoring? To a teaspoonful of the the former add a few drops of or one-third as much of the latter. The next whipped cream you make try it. If you did not know you would call it a new flavoring you had not tasted, much superior to either alone.

TO PRESERVE the crispness and flavor of green vegetables for salads, throw them in ice water for an hour, then dry carefully on a soft towel, being careful not to bruise them, and then put in a cold place until wanted. Never mix any salad with the dressing until you are ready to serve it. Use the coldest of dishes to serve it on, and, if garnished properly, it is one of the most attractive and wholesome dishes on the table.

STRAWBERRY CREAM.—Rub a pint of fresh strawberries or four tablespoonfuls of jam with a wooden spoon through a hair sieve. The fresh strawberries should be rubbed with sugar, and a silk sieve is the best for them. Whip up half a pint of double cream till it is stiff. You must previously have soaked two ounces of gelatine, and warm it gently. Add jam to the whipped cream, a teaspoonful of sugar, the juice of half a lemon, and four drops of cochineal to color it. Now add in the gelatine, straining it through a colander, and stir it well into the cream. In winter add it warm, in summer only lukewarm. Ornament the mold. Pour the cream in and let it set.

PASTOR KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

Had the Desired Effect!

Saved Her Life.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Feb. 6, 1889.
This is to certify that my mother has suffered from nervous weakness for over 20 years. We have tried innumerable remedies and physicians, she also went to Germany for her health, spending in all thousands of dollars with only temporary benefit. At last we tried Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic and Elixir of Iron, and I honestly and sincerely believe that she not only received more benefit from them than all others combined, but would have died before this without them, as she was getting weaker every day, before we began with the above medicine.
DR. ROBT. F. RHNI, 774 Chapel st.

Our Pamphlet for sufferers of nervous diseases will be sent free to any address, and poor patients can also obtain this medicine free of charge from us.
This remedy has been prepared by the Reverend Pastor Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., for the past ten years, and is now prepared under his direction by the

DUG HIS OWN GRAVE

A Doctor Crazed by the Loss of His Children.

HE TRIES TO END HIS LIFE.

An Overdose of Poison Saves Him for the Time Being.

Found Beside His Children's Tomb in a Pit Three Feet Wide—An Empty Bottle Marked Laudanum in His Pocket—His Physicians Have Little Hopes of His Recovery.

PLEASANTVILLE, N. J., Oct. 29.—Dr. C. C. Crosby, aged 40 years, who, besides being a physician, is also proprietor of a drug store here, attempted suicide in a peculiar yet most determined manner. Proceeding from his store to a cemetery some miles away, in which are interred the bodies of his children, he proceeded to dig a grave. Then lying down in it, he swallowed a quantity of laudanum and awaited death.

Dr. Crosby is about 40 years old and his domestic life had been most happy until the death of his children a year ago. His grief settled into a melancholy which seemed daily to grow deeper. Latterly he had exhibited signs of insanity and his friends kept him in sight as much as possible. Everyone that knew him understood that grief on account of his bereavement was destroying his reason.

Last evening he was missed from his store. He was traced to a livery stable, where he had hired a carriage, and thence to the cemetery at Chappaqua. It was his custom to make frequent visits to his children's graves, and of this those who were looking for him were well aware. But they were not prepared for the pathetic spectacle that met their gaze when they arrived there.

Dr. Crosby had dismissed the carriage on entering the cemetery. He was such a familiar figure there that the keeper paid little attention to him. What the searchers saw when they arrived made his motive as clear as daylight. He came to dig himself a grave beside those of his children and leave them no more. A gravedigger's spade was close at hand and he struck it into the sod beside one of the little graves. He threw up the earth until there was a pit deep enough to to hold his body. Then he took from his pocket a vial of laudanum, drank the contents and lay himself down in the grave which he had dug.

This was what his friends saw when they arrived on the scene. He was unconscious, though the size of the dose had produced nausea and prevented speedy death. He was taken home, where he lies at the point of death, and the doctors say he may never know that he was removed from the grave he dug for himself beside those of his children.

BARNUM'S SHOW WRECKED.

Two Men and Several Horses Killed by Trains Colliding

MACON, Ga., Oct. 29.—Barnum's circus train, in five sections, left Macon at 6 a. m. for Athens, on the Covington & Macon road. Five miles from Monticello the train men lost control of the third section on a long down grade and it dashed into the rear of the second section on the end of which was the cook's car, preceded by a car containing horses.

A man named Kelly of Kalamazoo, Mich., in the car, was killed, and another man, name unknown, was badly hurt. Eight horses in the forward car were killed. The two engines pulling the third section were derailed and badly damaged, as were six or eight cars following.

The fireman of the first engine, Lewis Glenn, was instantly killed. The engineers of both engines and the other fireman jumped. The show will lose two or three appointments.

Diseased Hogs Shipped East.

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 29.—Dr. E. L. Carter, State Veterinary Surgeon, who came here to investigate the disease now raging among the hogs, pronounced the disease hog cholera of the very worst form. It is said that four hundred head of fat hogs, fattened at Hamburger's distillery, died and were buried in a trench; also that the rest of the drove—some 700—had been driven through the streets of Brownsville and shipped East.

The Count of Paris in Quebec.

QUEBEC, Oct. 29.—The Count of Paris was tendered a banqet by the elite of Quebec's society last night. The Count was in excellent mood and conversed in a lively manner with those around him. A toast to the Queen was received with cheers. Toasts were also proposed to France and Canada and the Mayor. The banquet did not break up until long after midnight.

Better Buy Your Sealskins Now.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—A special from London says that the annual sale of sealskins there yesterday showed an advance of from 50 to 100 per cent. over the prices of last year. As this sale determines the market for the next six months those who desire to luxuriate in sealskins this winter must pay well for the privilege.

Engineers Will Meet Next in Atlanta.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 29.—The Convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers selected Atlanta, Ga., for the next international meeting on May 15, 1892. The year 1891 will be a blank year. Future conventions will be biennial and be held in the spring instead of the fall of the year.

THE TARIFF BILL IN COURT.

A Claim that Speaker Reed's Decision Invalidates It.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Proceedings were brought in the United States Circuit Court which will call forth from the bench an opinion upon the legality of Speaker Reed's ruling on the subject of quorums. They are brought by the importing firm of Ballin, Joseph & Co., and involve the legality of the imposition of duties at the rate of 35 cents a pound and 35 per cent. ad valorem on a consignment of cloths which arrived in this port July 10 by the steamer City of Richmond. Under the administrative act the appraisers taxed it as above, holding that it consisted of woolens, instead of taxing it as manufactures of worsted.

The contention is made by the petitioning importers that they come under the provisions of March 3, 1883, which placed the tax at 18 cents and 24 cents a pound, according to grade, and 35 per cent. ad valorem. It is set forth in the papers that the McKinley administrative act classifying worsted cloths as woolens is of no force, as it was never passed according to law, there being no quorum in Congress when it was said to have been passed.

Judge Lacombe granted an order requiring the appraisers of the port to file in court all the documents upon which they base their action in enforcing the duty complained of by the petitioners.

HE OBTAINED A WIFE.

A Cripple Secures a Life Partner by the Use of Printers' Ink.

BRIDGETON, N. J., Oct. 29.—The residents of this town are gossipping over the marriage of Francis Brewster Wilcox of Millville, a small village near this place. Wilcox, who is a cripple and the owner of a mill, is 39 years of age. Recently he published a notice that he was desirous of obtaining a wife. He received answers from nearly one hundred young women from different parts of the country.

One of his correspondents was Miss Ricard of Sussex County, Del. They exchanged photographs and then arranged a meeting. They were married in less than one day's time after meeting. The bride is 21 years old and is the daughter of a widow residing in Sussex County.

THE WRONG BODY.

Mourners in a Cemetery Hear Moans and Make a Discovery.

ROCHESTER, Oct. 29.—Yesterday the body of Roman Leach, a former resident of Genesee, was brought to that place for burial. During the funeral services at the cemetery the bearers and others who were around the coffin thought they heard moans proceeding from it, and after the friends had departed they opened the casket and were horrified to find that the remains were not those of Leach, nor did the body look like him in any way.

The bearers who knew the deceased well are confident that it was the wrong body. The body was shipped under the name of Fred Leach and probably it was a mistake in shipment. The body of Leach is missing.

Prohibitionists and Ballot Reform.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 29.—The Prohibitionists of the State held a conference here for the purpose of coming to a better understanding of the ballot reform law. Rev. J. B. Graw, D. D., occupied much time considering the ballot reform law. He denounced it as a scheme of the old parties to disfranchise the Prohibitionists. It was estimated that it would cost $8,000 for the Prohibitionists to have tickets put in all the districts. Only five counties were allowed official ballots.

Changes on the West Shore Road.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Mr. D. B. McCoy, who has for the past six years been Superintendent of the Buffalo division of the West Shore Railroad, has resigned to take service elsewhere, and will be succeeded by Mr. J. P. Bradfield, who has been for some time past Superintendent of the Hudson River division of the road. Mr. W. G. Wattson, who has been car accountant, will succeed Mr. Bradfield, and Mr. G. P. Conard will become car accountant.

The Report Unconfirmed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The report from Cincinnati that Calvin S. Brice and Samuel Thomas had secured control of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern Railroad Company could not be confirmed. At the house of Mr. Brice on Fifth avenue it was said that he is in Ohio, and it was not known when he would return. Mr. Thomas is also out of town.

Hard Blow to Iron Manufacturers.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 29.—The order of the Philadelphia Natural Gas Company, withdrawing fuel from puddling furnaces, which went into effect to-day, is a hard blow to the iron manufacturers. It is estimated that 500 furnaces will undergo enforced idleness by the order until they can be prepared for the use of coal

GRESHAM OR NOBLE

The Leaders for the Supreme Court Vacancy.

EX-CONGRESSMAN BAKER'S VISIT

Rumor Has it that He Was Sent for by the President.

Secretary Noble's Friends Confident of His Appointment — Attorney-General Miller's Name Also Mentioned for the Position—A Circular About the Anti-Lottery Law—Attorneys Instructed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The gossip about the possible successor of Associate Justice Miller has been revived by the presence here of ex-Congressman John H. Baker of Goshen, Ind. It seems to be accepted as a fact that he was sent for by the President, and that his visit is in relation to the vacancy on the Supreme Bench.

Rumor has it that the proposition unfolded to him by the President was the appointment of Judge Gresham to the Supreme Bench, the elevation of Judge William A. Wood of Indianapolis to the circuit judgeship, and the appointment of Mr. Baker to the district Bench for Indiana.

Mr. Baker was one of the delegates to the convention that nominated Gen. Harrison for the Presidency, and was also one of the committee appointed by the Chicago Convention of 1884 to notify Mr. Blaine of his nomination. He is an influential party man, and is the only Republican from Indiana who supported Gen. Harrison at Chicago who has not been rewarded in some manner by the present Administration.

Secretary Noble's friends are not daunted by this apparent boom to Judge Gresham and insist that the St. Louis man will succeed Justice Miller. Notwithstanding the bold front of Noble's friends and the claims of several lesser candidates, not to mention Attorney-General Miller, Judge Gresham is certainly in the lead to-day in the estimation of Washington onlookers.

THE ANTI-LOTTERY LAW.

Attorney-General Miller's Circular to United States Attorneys.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Attorney-General Miller has sent a circular to all United States attorneys, calling attention to the act of Congress approved September 19, 1890, entitled, "an act to amend certain sections of the revised statues relating to lotteries and for other purposes," with the suggestion that they carefully examine the same and spare no effort in its enforcement. He says:

"Every violation of this law, either by an individual or a corporation, in the dissemination of lottery literature, or in any other way, should be brought to the attention of the grand jury, and wherever indictments are found vigorous prosecutions should follow, to the end that this nefarious business may be suppressed. In the enforcement of this law there should be hearty cooperation on the part of the District Attorneys, the United States Marshals and the postoffice inspectors."

Similar instructions have been sent to United States Marshals.

New American Record for Jumping.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 29.—At the last outdoor meeting of the Boston Athletic Association E. B. Bloss of Harvard, in the running hop, step and jump, cleared 44 feet, 11¼ inches, thus establishing a new American record. Affidavits have been made as to this record, and they will be presented to the Record Committee of the Amateur Athletic Union in New York on Saturday. Bloss belongs in Titusville, Pa., and has just graduated from Phillips Exeter Academy.

Importers Discuss the McKinley Bill.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—A meeting of the importers of this city was held at the Metropolitan Hotel which had under consideration the McKinley bill. James M. Constable presided. The general sentiment was that the omission of section 30 in the engrossed copy of the bill which was signed by the President very possibly invalidated the entire act. A committee was appointed to devise some united mode of action and report back at a subsequent meeting.

An Editor Arrested.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Maurice Daniby, editor and publisher of the Sunday Star, was arrested by order of United States District Attorney Alexander, charged with sending obscene literature through the mail and advertising lottery drawings. Bail of $1,000 was furnished.

Nominated for Congress

TWO ENGINEERS KILLED.

Run Down by a Shore Line Train and Horribly Mangled.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 29.—Edward Cooper of New York and James Henderson of Ohio, civil engineers in the employ of the New York and New Haven Railroad, were instantly killed on the Niantic bridge at East Lyme during the morning.

The accident was a peculiar one. The two victims were employed in constructing a double track of the Shore line and were walking along the bridge evidently cognizant that the passenger train which left New London at 7:43 was running down upon them.

The train could be seen a quarter of a mile and the men evidently thought they had plenty time to get out of the way, but when near the end of the bridge they were struck by the pilot of the engine and thrown some distance on the side of the track. Both bodies were horribly mangled.

The men were young and it seem unaccountable that they should have taken such a risk of remaining on the track.

PARTLY UNDER WATER.

Newburyport and Amesbury, Mass., Submerged by High Tides.

AMESBURY, Mass., Oct. 29.—Never in the history of Essex County have the tides been so high. Water street is completely submerged, and a dozen carriage factories are under water to the lower windows. The Seaside Hotel at Salisbury Beach is in danger of becoming a total wreck, as the waves are lashing the building furiously.

The losses to property owners cannot be estimated, but will be many thousands. The heaviest losers are Miss May Tucker, John C. Evans, Charles H. True, Newell Lamprey, Charles Cammett, James K. Sands, Charles, Victorine and Theodore Johnson and Charles Jones.

Over 5,000 tons of fine meadow hay has been totally destroyed, and from this city to Boston, a distance of 50 miles, the entire meadow lands are one great sea of water.

The tides in Newburyport have never been so high. No loss of life has as yet been reported.

A LUNATIC IN THE CAB.

He Drives the Engineer from His Post and Takes Possession of the Train.

READING, Pa., Oct. 29.—At 1:30 a. m. a stranger, supposed to be insane, pistol in hand, compelled the engineer of a Reading freight engine to vacate his post while the locomotive was standing at the depot here.

The lunatic took possession and ran the engine for several squares, when, being pursued by officers, he deserted the engine and fled. For a time he kept his pursuers at bay with a pistol. The supposed lunatic made his escape, and has not been seen or heard of since.

Elm City Driving Park Attached.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 29.—The Elm City Driving Park, owned by Nicholas W. and Joseph E. Hubinger of this city, was attached for $20,000 by J. C. Hubinger of Keokuk, Iowa. The attachment resulted from alleged failure of the New Haven Hubingers to carry out their part of an agreement to transfer their starch business to their Iowa brother. The starch business is variously estimated at from $100,000 to $150,000. The New Haven Hubingers claim that the last installment of $100,000 due them was long overdue, and the Western Hubinger claims to have come to New Haven with the cash in hand ready to meet the obligation, but the New Haven Hubingers were absent and there was no one to receive the money.

Fish Dealers Combine.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 29.—The large fish dealing firms of this county and Kingston—five in all—have combined and formed the "Lake Ontario Fish company limited, Cape Vincent, N. Y." with a capital stock of $100,000. They will have practical control of the wholesale fish business along the St. Lawrence and Lake Shore in this section. The new company will go in business November 1.

A Stay for Murderer Wood.

TROY, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Counsel for Cal Wood, sentenced to death by electricity for killing Leander Pasco, his father-in-law, in Warren County, has served papers on the warden of Dannemora prison for a stay of execution. Wood was to have been executed during the week beginning November 3, but the stay will compel a postponement until the appeal is settled.

Trying to Buy the Ensign Car Works.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 29.—A dispatch from Huntington, W. Va., says that an agent of an Eastern syndicate, of which C. P. Huntington is said to be the principal backer, is in the city making estimates on the Ensign Car Works, on which the syndicate has an option. The works employ over 2,000 men, and the plant is valued at $2,500,000.

The Australian System of Voting.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 29.—The Supreme Court, in answer to questions presented by the aldermen of this city, has decided that crosses only at the right of the name, within or without the square, count in the Australian system of voting.

Ex-Gov. Pattison's Libel Suits.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 29.—W. F. Jordan and J. J. McClaurin of the Call of this city have been served with warrants in ex-Governor Pattison's libel suit. Both waived a hearing and furnished $1,500 bail.

Died of Heart Disease.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 29.—Darley Randall, died here last night of heart disease, aged 62 years. He had an office in New York and went there daily.

A STRIKE IMMINENT

The Liverpool Dock Laborers Give Warning.

PREPARING FOR A STRUGLGE.

Barracks and Troops Put in Use by London Shippers.

Series of Atrocities in Finland Like Those Committed by "Jack the Ripper"—Balfour Warmly Received in Ireland—Postponement of the Bishop of Lincoln's Case—Annie Pricely Held.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The Associated Steamship Owners of Liverpool, who employ a number of non-union laborers, have been warned by the Dock Laborers' Union that unless the non-union men are discharged a strike will be inaugurated. The executive of the Shipping Federation offers to supply the Associated Steamship Owners with a full force of non-union men if the Liverpool owners will join the Shipping Federation. It is believed that the Liverpool employers will refuse to discharge the non-unionists, and that a strike is therefore imminent.

"Tom" Mann, the labor leader, had an interview with the joint committee of the dock companies, with a view to securing some arrangement by which the work on the docks could go on without committing the companies or the workmen to any definite policy. No decision, however, was arrived at, and meanwhile preparations are being made to meet the struggle which will probably come next week. The Royal Albert and Victoria docks have secured the use of the barracks which were recently erected by the Beckton gas works, which are contiguous to these docks.

They were designed to meet the strike emergency, and they are now to be used for the accommodation of the non-union men and their protection against the violence of the union men in the event of a strike.

The dock company has also obtained from the Government a promise that it shall have the assistance of the military to guard its workmen. Every precaution is being taken to make the step contemplated by the dock companies thoroughly effective, and it is likely that extreme measures will be resorted to if they seem to be made necessary by the behavior of the union.

WOMEN STRANGLED.

Atrocities Similar to Those Committed by "Jack the Ripper."

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Oct. 29.—For some time past a series of atrocities similar to those committed by "Jack the Ripper" has startled society here. Several women belonging to the class of unfortunates have been found dead in their beds, having been killed by being strangled.

The police were for a long time unable to obtain a clew to the murderer, but the man has at last been found. His name is Haapaoja, and has been known to the police for many years as a criminal.

Patience Recommended to Englishmen.

MANCHESTER, Oct. 29.—At the quarterly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of this city, Mr. Lee, the president, in his address said that he thinks it is too soon just yet to form a correct conclusion as to the results of the McKinley tariff act; but, he said, Englishmen may look at the matter with great coolness. They are not likely to be materially affected by its provisions for some years, before which time "there will probably," he said, "be a strong reaction in favor of free trade in America."

Outbreak of Russian Prisoners.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—News has been received at St. Petersburg from Yakootsk of an outbreak of Siberian convicts which occurred on board a steamer on the river Lena. The inhabitants of a village which the steamer was passing came to the convicts' assistance and helped them to disarm and bind the guards of the escort. The vessel was then set adrift. The Governor of the province sent troops in pursuit, who killed two of the fugitives and captured five others.

Mrs. Hogg's Husband Suspected.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The murder of Mrs. Hogg is still unsolved so far as the real murderer is concerned. The police have little doubt now but the woman was murdered by her husband at the home of her supposed friend, Mrs. Piercey, during a quarrel which arose when Mrs. Hogg accidentally found out the liason existing between her husband and Mrs. Piercey. The coroner's jury has rendered a verdict of murder against Neilie Piercey.

Gladstone's Opinion of Free Trade.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Mr. Gladstone, in a speech to the workmen at the Pumpherston Oil Works, enlarged upon the benefits and advantages of free trade. The result of the last fifty years economic legislation, he said, had been that trade had multiplied fivefold, the population had doubled and there had been an enormous increase in the material, social, moral and political conditions of the country.

Canal Traffic Delayed.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Last night as the lift bridge over the Erie Canal, at John street, was being raised a cable parted, allowing the bridge to fall to the street level. A portion of the iron work also fell smashing a part of the flooring. Canal traffic will be delayed at least twenty-four hours. No one was injured.

BIRCHALL'S CONFEDERATE.

"The Colonel" Letter Created a Sensation at Woodstock.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Oct. 29.—The publication of "The Colonel" letter has created quite a sensation here, and many are now ready to believe that Birchall really had a confederate, as he has all along claimed, and that this confederate did the actual killing.

Taken in connection with some statements of Birchall's, there is some good grounds for this belief. For instance, Birchall says that when Benwell left him he had on a good strong pair of English boots, in perfect condition, and when the body was found the feet were encased in poor, worn out boots, broken at the sides, which had evidently been worn with rubber overshoes.

The "Colonel's" letter affords material which supplies the missing links to make Birchall's statements of the circumstances attending the death of Benwell highly probable. Birchall states that if he had had any suspicion that he would be arrested for a crime he did not commit he never would have remained in Canada. As many days elapsed between the death of Benwell and the arrest of Birchall, this fact gives considerable plausibility to Birchall's contention.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

All the steam fitting establishments of Chicago are idle, owing to a strike. Employers refuse to recognize the union.

Gen. Elias A. Brown, of Minaville, N. Y., is dead, aged 79 years. He was one of the best known men in the Mohawk Valley.

Rev. Francis A. Horton, D. D., of Oakland, Cal., has been installed as pastor of the Union Congregational Church at Providence, R. I.

Joseph Gowrie, 45 years old, dropped dead with heart disease in Commerce street, Newark, N. J., last night. He was a veteran of the late war.

It is generally agreed among the operators employed by the Western Union Telegraph Company here that a strike may be ordered at any time.

Thomas Taylor, a zealous member of the Salvation Army at Sandy Hill, Troy, N. Y., fell dead while parading in that village. Apoplexy was the cause.

The house, furniture, store and barn of Eliza Duncan in Phoenixville, Pa., were destroyed by fire early in the morning. Loss nearly $7,000; partially insured.

Jesse Scribbens and Joseph Bennett of Scranton, Pa., were arrested by the agents of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals for trying to force a mule to drink beer.

Charles E. Olds, of Norwalk, Conn., general freight agent of the Housatonic Railroad and of the New York and New England Terminal Company, is missing, and it is alleged his accounts are short.

The works of the Auburn Wagon Company, Limited, of Auburn, N. Y., have been seized by the sheriff on judgments aggregating $37,216.66. The company was formerly called the E. D. Clapp Wagon Company.

Dennis B. Sullivan, treasurer of the Father Mathew Total Abstinence Society of Newport, R. I., is believed to be short in his accounts about $1,300 and his property has been attached to recover the amount.

The Oyer and Terminer Grand Jury of Buffalo, N. Y., has found an indictment against John Ackermann of Grand Island for the murder of John Meissner, on Sept 10th, 1889. Ackerman has been out on bail, but is now under arrest.

The inquest in the case of Mrs. John O'Brien, of Tonawanda, N. Y., said to have died from an overdose of morphine administered by Dr. Murray, is concluded, and the jury rendered a verdict that she died while in a fit of delirium or insanity and under the influence of opiates or morphine, but did not incriminate Murray.

Captain Comiskey of the Chicago club has left with two baseball teams for the Pacific Coast. He will captain one team and Mike Kelly the other. The players include Mark Baldwin, Ryan, McPhee, Harrington and Raines. The team will play through Colorado, Utah, Oregon and Washington. Then they head for San Francisco, and after an extended stay go through Texas, and disband in St. Louis about January 20.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—For New England: Fair weather, followed by increasing cloudiness and rain; warmer; southwesterly winds.

For Eastern New York: Increasing cloudiness and rain; warmer; southwesterly winds.

For New Jersey: Threatening weather and rain; warmer; southwesterly winds.

For Western New York: Threatening weather and rain; warmer; fresh southwesterly winds.

BY THE WAY.

—Wet leaves on the sidewalks are dangerous to pedestrians.

—The newest, finest veils are irregularly dotted with beauty spots.

—Long cloth ulsters are trimmed in military style, with braid or frogs.

—The Scotch Plains Baptist church was founded in 1747. There are three older than it in State.

—The large elm tree that has for over half a century stood in front of the M. E. church, was yesterday cut down.

—Of the 4,121 teachers employed in the public schools of New Jersey, only 796 are men. The number is decreasing every year.

—Go to Amphion Hall to-night and take a look at the Hon. Fred C. Marsh, whom the pool-selling, race track gamblers threaten to defeat because he fought them.

—The Democrats are prepared for a grand rally at Amphion Hall, this evening. The Hon. Charles Winfield, R. V Lindabury, F. C. Marsh and others will speak.

—The Union News Company has agreed to cover its news stand at the station, with metal shingles, and to make the water shed over the front of corrugated iron.

—The regular meeting of the Plainfield Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will be held at the offices of the Secretary, 34 West Front street, to-morrow at 8 P. M.

—Harry Rich, agent for Ada Gray who is to appear at Amphion Hall, next week, is in town arranging the details in advance. He reports the star as playing to good houses all along the road.

—The anniversary exercises of the Woman's Temperance Aid Society are indefinitely postponed on account of the Union service to be held on Thursday evening. All other meetings of the Society, except for business, will also be suspended during Mr. Mills' stay in Plainfield.

—The weekly devotional meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, will be held in the rooms, 73 West Front street, Thursday afternoon at half-past three o'clock. Interesting reports of the State Convention will be given by the President, Mrs. Tomlinson, by Mrs. Dobbins, and by Mrs. J. M. McNaughton. All are cordially invited.

—The Pingry foot-ball team will meet the Leal team in this city Saturday morning. The Elizabeth Journal thinks that "the Plainfield men are smarting from the sting of their last defeat, and will doubtless make a strong effort to redeem themselves," but as a matter of fact the Leal boys acknowledge themselves outclassed against the Pingry heavy weights.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

The Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes was elected First Vice President of New Jersey Baptist Association yesterday.

Recent arrivals at Van Court Inn, Roselle, include Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Moore and Miss Charlotte Wotherspoon, of this city.

Under the Wreck but Uninjured.

F. E. Miller, proprietor of Hotel Nethervood, and his wife, were upset by their runaway team, Monday, but fortunately escaped with hardly a bruise. They were driving from Roselle to Plainfield, in a light buckboard, behind Mr. Miller's handsome team of young bays. Suddenly at sight of a heap of crushed stone, the horses sprang to one side and backed against a bank with such force as to snap the pole. They then plunged forward and started at a terrific gate down the road, but their driver swung them around by main strength into an embankment that stopped them but at the same time threw Mr. and Mrs. Miller out of the wagon and under the wreck The horses did not get away again, and only one of them was scratched.

Enthusiastic Democrats.

South Branch was ablaze with enthusiasm and red fire Tuesday evening, when the Democrats held a rousing ratification meeting, which was addressed by candidates for Senate and Assembly, William J. Keys, and James Bergen, also Plainfields brilliant orator, James E. Martine After the meeting a reception was tendered everyone at the handsome residence of Mr. Keys, the grounds about which were brilliantly illuminated. A brass band discoursed fine music, and the event was one long to be remembered by the voters of South Branch, who will give a good account of themselves on election day.

Had to Break His Wrist a Second Time.

Thomas O'Keefe, of West Fifth street, some weeks ago fractured his wrist by a fall. The break did not heal properly, and it was found necessary to put the patient under the influence of ether, break the wrist over again, and reset it. O'Keefe has suffered a great deal of pain, but the wound is now healing nicely.

Jack and Jill each took a pill,
Old-fashioned kind—full grown;
Jack's went down—but with a frown—
Jill died from "cause unknown."

Smiles will supersede many frowns, and many discomforts will be unknown, when Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets entirely supersede, as they bid fair to do, the large and less efficient pill of our forefathers. Every day they gain new laurels! Most popular when most ills abound!

A Merry-Hearted Little Woman Writes a Letter.

The November number of St Nicholas, that magazine which maintains high popularity among children of a larger growth as well as little people, contains a pleasant letter from a frisky little maiden who signs herself Edith and dates from Plainfield. She says:

"PLAINFIELD, N. J.

"DEAR ST. NICHOLAS: I am a little girl nine years old, and have taken you for some years, and like you very much. I have been up in the Catskill Mountains. I did not like it; it was too quiet. I like my own home better. I took lots of nice walks up the mountains. On Fourth of July, I had a jolly time; we could not fire off our fire-crackers before breakfast. We had a few showers during the day. I had so many fire-crackers that I had to give them away. One day my brother and I went fishing; he would not let me fish, but after a while I got him to let me. He said, 'What is the use of your fishing? You won't catch anything!' I caught three trout, and my brother caught only one little shiner.

"I remain, yours truly,
"EDITH."

Ellis Campbell Again a Victim.

The incendiary who burned the sheds and barns belonging to Ellis Campbell, who keeps the road house adjoining the track of the Gentlemen's Driving Park Association, is supposed to be the one that set fire to some of Mr. Campbell's property again last night.

The barn, barrack and corn crib on the farm of Frank Randolph, near Mount Pleasant, were fired and entirely consumed. Ellis Campbell had fifty tons of hay stored there with $400 insurance. It is a total loss. Randolph's insurance is $400. He is the owner of the team that is stabled in No. 2 Engine house.

The incendiary suspected knew the hay belonged to Campbell. A search is being made for him today. The mortagee of the Randolph property also had an insurance of $450 on the property destroyed.

The Revision of the Registry.

On Thursday the Court of Common Pleas will sit in each county of the State to revise the registry list. Under the new ballot law the court will have authority to order erased from the list any name of any person who shall be shown to the satisfaction of the court for any cause, not to be entitled to vote at the next election, provided that no name shall be erased in the absence of the person to be affected. Two days' notice shall be given to the person. The said court may also order added to said registry the name or names of any person who shall prove to its satisfaction, by affidavit or affidavits or otherwise his right to vote at the ensuing election, but whose name, through absence, sickness, inadvertence or other sufficient cause, has been omitted therefrom.

Scotch Plains Too Has a Revival.

The Rev. S. Hartwell Pratt, an evangelist from Springfield, Mass., began a series of gospel meetings in the Scotch Plains Baptist church last Sunday. He is preaching every evening this week, and will give Bible readings Thursday and Friday afternoons at three o'clock. Beginning Thursday evening, he will be assisted by the widely-known gospel singer, F. M. Lamb of New York. Mr. Lamb comes directly from leading the singing at the Massachussetts and Rhode Island Young Men's Christian Association State conventions, at Haverhill, Mass. But few singers sing the gospel so effectively, and but few are in so great demand.

Preparing for the Coming of Evangelist Mills.

A large attendance greeted the local pastors at the union prayer service in Vincent chapel, last night. The subject of the evening was "Search Me." The Rev. Cornelius Schenck led the meeting. The Thursday night meeting will be held in the Trinity Reformed church, and will be conducted by the Rev. A. R. Dilts. The subject will be "What Can I Render unto the Lord?"

HERE'S THE RECORD OF BOTH.

Will You Vote as Your Pastor Has Preached and You Have Protested, or Does Partisanship Smother Your Conscience and Swamp Your Sincerity?

Just five months and eight days ago, the Elizabeth Journal said:

It is to the lasting credit of Union county and her representatives, that not a single vote of all that were given to legalize gambling at horse races was cast by any of the members of the Legislature from Union county. Senator Miller was absent when the bill passed the Senate, but had his vote recorded as against this measure. Assemblyman Ulrich of Plainfield, was also absent when the vote was taken in the House on Monday night, but the Plainfield Press says he "was detained at home because of grave illness in his family; and he expressed his sincere regret this morning to a Press reporter, that he could not be present and recorded, as he would have been, against the bill." Speaker Marsh not only voted against the bill, but is reported to have done all he consistently could, in his official position, to permit those who opposed the bill to have a fair hearing. But Mr. Voorhees took the floor and fought hard against the iniquity. He implored the House not to disgrace the State by legalizing gambling, and said he was not surprised that no one had the courage to stand sponsor for the amendments. A powerful lobby pushed the bill through the Senate, although the Senators at first held up their hands in holy horror at the provision which provided for a State tax. Pass this bill, he said, and we bow down to the gambling element, an element which proudly boasts that it controls the Legislature and the courts of New Jersey. It was a fight against tremendous odds, and the World of this morning says: "the votes which were not bought outright were controlled by the party bosses, nine-tenths of whom are financially interested in some race track." It is to the credit of Union county that its representatives fought against this bill, and are not under the imputations which attach, in the public mind, to those who voted for it.

Yet when the time came to reward Mr. Voorhees by a nomination for Senator, he was blotted out and Mr. Rankin, a race track man, put in his place. That he is a race track man is proven by his own words of five days ago, taken as follows from the same paper that published the praise of Mr. Marsh and others quoted above:

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of several letters from clergymen in different parts of the county asking me for an expression of my views about race track legislation.

It is my settled conviction that no candidate for legislative office should, in advance, tie his hands by any pledges with respect to his action upon any particular measure. And however unfavorable impressed with any bill that may come up for his action, I think his duty is to listen to debate, to hear the bill read, as provided by the constitution, and then give his decision.

I have yet to make the first pledge or promise to any individual as to what my official action would be. So in the present contest, I am absolutely without engagements, either expressed or implied, with any individual or corporation, as to what my action shall be with respect to the race courses or any other matter.

The only pledge I will make is that I will, on every measure, act conscientiously, without fea or favor, and will give my vote in the manner that will seem to me best calculated to promote the moral and material advancement of the people of the county.

Very respectfully,
JOHN C. RANKIN, JR.

There you have the record of both men—Mr. Rankin, the Republican candidate, and Mr. Marsh, the Democratic candidate—taken from the columns of one paper, the Elizabeth Journal, the organ of the Republican party of Union county.

The race track men threaten to defeat Mr. Marsh for his brave opposition to them. But they cannot do it without the votes of the clergymen and other christians, and the votes of otherwise honest and decent people.

No Stanley for This City Under Such Conditions.

Those who had engaged Stanley to lecture in Plainfield, found that his contract is a conditional one. He is to fill so many dates in America subject to Mrs. Stanley's whims. The contract reads in effect that he will keep the engagements made for him if his "family" is so inclined after arriving in America.

The probabilities are, therefore, that after delivering about twenty lectures in the big cities where he will be most glorified, he will break all other engagements exactly as he did when last in this country. The Plainfielders who had engaged him for this city, have resolved to protect the people from being victimized here and so have refused to take him under such conditions.

An "Untenable" Polling Place.

The Board of Registration of the First Ward hereby extend their thanks to Messrs. Lyman & Anthony, for the use of their real estate office, for the purpose of revising the registry, owing to the untenable condition of the regular polling room.

Signed
R. E. Coriell, Chairman.
Elias H. Bird and Wm. T. Banks, Secretaries.

Balfour Cheered by Irishmen.

DUBLIN, Oct. 29.—Mr. Balfour received an ovation upon his arrival at Achill. He made a brief speech, saying he was glad to meet the people, and expressed his sorrow at the failure of the potato crop, which he knew would cause them much suffering. Mr. Balfour was cheered repeatedly along his route.

The Bishop of Lincoln's Case.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The death of the elder daughter of the Archbishop of Canterbury will make it necessary to postpone the pronouncing of the judgment in the case of the Bishop of Lincoln, which was expected next Friday.

Tables Turned on the Ice Dealers.

BANGOR, Me., Oct. 29.—A big drop in the price of ice has occurred. Four weeks ago men having ice here held it from $3.50 to $4 per ton. To-day these men hunt in vain for purchasers who will take the same stock for $1 per ton. But while the Maine men have lost much by disappointment, the great bulk of the big ice concerns are actually embarrassed, and dealers and brokers here say that many of them must go down.

Impaled on a Cow's Horn.

BURLINGTON, N. J., Oct. 29.—Francis Borden was fatally gored in a peculiar manner by a cow on his father's farm near Williamsborough last evening. One of her sharp horns caught him directly beneath the chin, impaling him in such a manner that he was unable to extricate himself. He was freed by some of the family and a doctor sewed up the wound. The lad's father was killed by lightning a short time ago.

Miss Marlowe's Illness.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—Miss Julia Marlowe, the actress, who has been lying ill at the home of Colonel A. K. McClure in this city, for several days past, is much worse and all her engagements have been cancelled up to January 1. She is threatened with brain fever.

SPOONS OF A PLAINFIELD TOURIST.

Each Has a History, and Some of Them Hint at Romance.

During her recent trip abroad Miss Clementine Yates, of East Seventh street, made two valuable collections—one of specimens of plant life, the other of spoons typical of the various nations she visited.

Her samples of the vegetable growth of foreign lands THE PRESS has already mentioned. They include many beautiful and interesting varieties. The leaves, blossoms and mosses she gathered in Palestine are especially noteworthy. Those she has selected to retain in her own home number about one hundred and fifty, and many of them are very rare. These have been mounted by Mrs. Mary C. Tenney, an amateur artist well-known in Brooklyn and throughout New England. Mrs. Tenney is a sister of Prof. Packard, of Bowdoin College, and is a personal friend of Miss Yates. The Telegraph, of Brunswick, Maine, the home of Mrs. Tenney, refers to the herbarium specimens as follows:

"The specimens are mounted with fish glue upon cardboard, and are arranged in the most natural manner imaginable, showing no sign of the mounting, but resting on the cards as naturally as though they had fallen there, yet showing every feature distinctly. This will make a valuable addition to the other collections of Miss Yates, as the plants are in an excellent state of preservation."

The spoons which Miss Yates has collected have been exhibited at Bowdoin College itself, and have aroused a great deal of interest. The Telegraph devotes an entire column to describing the collection, and remarks that it is a credit to the taste of the woman who made it.

Some of the spoons are of gold, and some of silver. Each has an interesting story. Most of them are exact reproductions of the spoons in general use in the countries they represent, but a few of the most expensive ones were made of costlier material, and in more intricate pattern, especially for the tourist.

Egypt is represented by two spoons. The handle of one is corrugated, with a miniature palm tree at the tip; the handle of the other bears a faithful engraving of the obelisk at Heliopolis. The spoon from Palestine is decorated with the Crusaders' cross, which forms the tip of the handle. That from Greece is adorned with the head of Athena at Athens. Three handsome specimens, each suggestive of romantic memories, come from Italy: that from Florence has Donatello's "David" engraved upon the handle; that from Venice the Lion of St. Mark's; that from Rome the statute of St. Peter.

Turkey is represented by two spoons: of one the bowl is a gold coin, and the handle bears the star and crescent. The bowl of the second is in the form of a spade, and has on its handle the monogram of the Sultan.

The spoon from Germany bears the Bear and Shield. That from Holland presents a picture of a windmill. The Denmark specimen has simply "Copenhagen" engraved upon the handle.

A spoon from Russia is a splendid specimen of the beautiful enameled work done in that country. Another from the the city of Moscow bears a fine engraving of one of the Mosques in the Kremlin.

From England come two spoons. One is 102 years old, and is a quaint little affair; on the other is depicted the Rose of England in all its beauty. The spoon of Ireland bears the shamrock. That of Scotland the thistle.

Finland's spoon is neatly but plainly fashioned, and has a ring attached. The significance of this ring Miss Yates was unable to discover, though it is the custom of the country to have one on every spoon, whether roughly made of wood, or fashioned of costly metal. Sweden's spoon has the head of Charles XII engraved on the handle.

The most curious spoon in the collection comes from Norway. The head of its handle is globular, and this globular form seems to have some special significance, which was not, however, ascertained. The head has delicately engraved on it four faces, but instead of there being eight eyes there are only four. Still, the work is so deftly done that as the spoon is turned and each face presents itself it comes up with two eyes, without the deformity one expects. This spoon is greatly admired by the friends of Miss Yates, and exerts a wondrous fascination over one examining it.

Though many countries are represented in the collection, it must not be inferred that spoons are in common use among all the nations mentioned. Many of the Eastern peoples use spoons only in the very highest circles of society, and some not at all. The lower natives of Egypt and Palestine, for instance, go back to pre-Adamite principles, and eat with their fingers from a common dish. This is usually the kettle in which their meats are cooked. In eating his soup the native takes a bit of bread, forms a kind of cup, dips it into the liquid, scoops perhaps a floating bit of meat for which his fellows have been greedily but vainly striving, and deftly transfers the succulent morsel to his mouth. All this is done with the fingers, and as many as can be accommodated eat from the same kettle at one time. Still, spoons are not unknown in even these countries, as the collection of Miss Yates testifies. It might not be uninteresting to know with what sentiments those people who are represented in this little museum of civilization souvenirs would receive the information that many of the inhabitants of the country to which their spoons were going use neither spoon nor finger, but eat with their knives.

Gossip Theatrical.

"Little Charlie" Frohman inaugurated his new stock company at the Twenty-third street Theatre, New York, Tuesday evening, Oct. 21. This youngest Frohman is possessed of the most energy of all the brothers. "Only four feet high and a six-and-a-quarter hat"—but results speak.

The big spectacle "Nero," now at Niblo's in New York, is a success. It will be retained there for the whole winter.

"New Lamps for Old" at Daly's, "Sunset" at the Garden Theatre, and "The Maister of Woodbarrow" at the Lyceum, would seem to indicate that Jerome K. Jerome is fast becoming a dramatic fad in the metropolis.

Just at present there is great dearth of vaudeville performers in this county. Four years ago the market was flooded, but within the past few years the public demand for farcical productions has been so great that the vaudeville field has been drained to supply the specialties of which that class of entertainment so largely consists. Variety performers who could not demand more than twenty-five dollars a week three years ago now easily secure twice that figure.

The crowds which flock to the big New York Academy every Sunday evening to hear the Rev. Dr. Talmage discourse are not less large than the multitudes which assemble in the theatre during the week to see Denman Thompson in "The Old Homestead."

The extensive structure, Nilsson Hall, adjoining the big Academy, New York, has been purchased by Messrs. Gilmore and Tompkins, the owners of the Academy. They propose to use the site to enlarge the scope of the Academy's stage, making it the largest in the world, with a depth of 101 feet and a width of 226½ feet, for coming years of "The Old Homestead." The business for the first fortnight of the fourth year has been equal to the prosperity won by the play in former seasons.

Besides an inherent, open-handed generosity, Denman Thompson, the Uncle Joshua of the original "Old Homestead," at the Academy, New York, is noted for his tenderness to members of the brute kingdom. He has been known repeatedly to have followed some overburdened or crippled horse for hours to have its owner punished for inhumanity. Two instances of this kind in one day, with the genial actor as complainant, are to be found on the police blotters of New York city.

Fagan is surrounding himself with a number of other bright stars of minstrelsy, and is making exhaustive preparations to deserve success in the new field he has chosen. Nine months are yet before him before he offers to his followers "A High Roller," the play Mr. Green is now writing for him, and considering the accepted capabilities of playwright and star together, with the many months of preparation in which to perfect his departure from the field of minstrelsy, there is every justification to predict a grand success for Fagan, and Messrs. Gilmore and Comstock, of the Academy of Music, New York, under whose control the new enterprise will be.

Mrs. Bernard Beere, the Sarah Bernhardt of the English speaking stage, will tour this country next season under the management of E. G. Gilmore and Alex. Comstock, of the Academy of Music, New York. Mrs. Beere brings a full English company, and ten complete sets of scenery from London for the presentation of a repertoire of excellent plays.

Many and uncertain are the ways of the theatrical profession. Emmet was content with earning fifty dollars occasionally for a week's service, before he made fame and lucre with his "Fritz in Ireland." Denman Thompson long ago was a performer in the vaudevilles until he hit on his world-famed character of "Uncle Joshua." The climbing of Nat Goodwin, Francis Wilson, DeWolff Hopper, Roland Reed and Jimmie Powers was slow, but they eventually got there. The struggles of Lawrence Barrett for public recognition were long and painful, but he is now reaping rich reward for his perseverance and energy. Out of 40,000 players in the country only about one-half of one per cent. clear above $5,000 a year; but fifty per cent. make a comfortable living, while the remainder may be said to suffer a hand-to-month existence. Even among the most luckless, though, there is strong ambition, coupled with the belief that they will some day win a place near the top. Taken altogether, stage folk are a generous, good natured, merry set of educators, to whom the world owes much, and would be a grave place indeed without.

The profits of the "Nero" spectacle at Niblo's in New York within the next twenty weeks will reach $100,000. In "Nero" there is a dramatic cast of thirty people, a ballet of one hundred and ten, two hundred and seventy-five extra men as senators, praetors, etc., two hundred women as Christians and Nazarenes, making over five hundred people actually engaged in the performance.

Plainfielders Entertain the Washingtonvillians.

At a sociable tendered the many friends of the Sunday school, held in the Washingtonville chapel, last evening, a number of Plainfield's most talented artists took part in a pleasing concert that was enjoyed by all.

An amateur orchestra consisting of Messrs. Sattels, Carpenter, Davis, Moore, Pollock and Stevenson, played a number of overtures, marches and waltzes. Miss Ketcham sang a solo, accompanied by Miss Remsen. Refreshments were served.

ADS. QUEER AND QUAINT.

THE following inscription appears on the board above the door of a New South Wales back-blocks bush inn:—"Meal, two shillings; square meal, half-a-crown; perfect gorge, 4 bob."

THE St. Joseph, Mo., Opera-House people are advertising for a young man to take a small part in a play who may be deficient in good looks and form, but must understand milking a cow.

SOME of the advertisements in the elevated cars in New York are funnier than was intended. One reads, "Kockroaches Killed Kontinually" (this is intended to be facetious): then it gravely adds, "Water-bugs, rats and mice for sale everywhere."

A CURIOUS advertisement which appears in one of the English papers states: "Philanthropist — A lady would be pleased to hear from any benevolent persons willing to assist her in procuring the necessary funds for the academical training of an intelligent young man who is compelled against his inclination to earn his living in trade. Please communicate," etc.

AN enterprising book-seller in the West has adopted as his sign a huge book, with lids ajar, and elaborate lettering in many colors. One side is inscribed thus:

ANY GETABLE BOOK, WHERE PRINTED, IN LANGUAGE, ON SUBJECT, BY BODY, AT TIME, FOR PRICE, SUPPLIED!

HERE is the work of a man who evidently believes that nine-tenths of the science of advertising lies in the construction of a catchy headline:

"DIG 'EM UP!

"Accidents will occur. Send stamp for interesting particulars. Illustrated. Don't take any chances. EDWARD D'ANGUERA."

So far as the information contained in the advertisement is concerned, the article advertised is quite as likely to turn out to be a cemetery as an insurance company.

SOME time since a hansom cab was driven at a very rapid pace along the Strand, and passers-by observed, to their horror, there were two men inside engaged in an apparently deadly conflict. Fearing that murder was about to be committed, they raised an alarm and some bold individuals rushed to the horse, and brought the animal to a standstill. Thereupon the two persons who, a minute before, seemed to be engaged in a life and death struggle, quietly leaned forward and distributed among the crowd some hand-bills inviting them to go to such and such a theater to witness a certain performance.

THE following advertisement appears in a San Francisco paper: "Any lady on sending her address and twenty-five cents inclosed will receive a letter, 'How to be happy;' is the absolute truth and no imposition; it tells you how to retain your husband's love, keep your youth and beauty, make home pleasant, get rich, and it does not cost; a little thought and effort combined will do it, which the letter clearly explains; it is worth hundreds of dollars, but follow the rule. It is by an old lady, who has made a close study of mankind for the last half a century and wants to do some good."

HOW AND WHAT TO COOK.

TENDERLOINS broil better if brushed over with olive oil.

WARM dishes for the table by immersing them in hot water, not by standing them on a hot stove.

CARROT and celery cooked in cream make a nice dish. The carrots should be cut in thin slices and boiled in salt water, the celery in inch lengths and then scalded. Add the milk thickened with corn-starch while boiling.

DEEP frying is loudly inveighed against by those who have not the inclination to discover that less fat is absorbed by pieces of fish plunged in deep fat than those which are turned from side to side in a limited quantity, and that the intense heat of the fat cooks it more thoroughly than is possible by any other method.

LEMON PIE—Two lemons, three eggs, one cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls corn-starch, one teacupful of raisins seeded and chopped, one quart of sweet milk. Grate the skin of the lemons and press out the juice, beat the eggs light and mix with the corn-starch and sugar, then stir all the ingredients together and bake in rich crusts.

TURNIPS are generally considered a coarse vegetable, but they may be delicately prepared. Boil them in plain water, then mash them, run them through a colander, and season them with salt, butter and cream; or they may be cut into little blocks, boiled in water which is drained off when they are done, and served with a dressing of white sauce.

STEWED fruit is far nicer cooked slowly in cold water than when put on in boiling water and cooked rapidly. Wash the fruit through several waters, as each successive washing makes it of a lighter and prettier color. A stick of cinnamon boiled with dried prunes improves their flavor, but peaches need no addition. Only wash them carefully and repeatedly, cook them slowly, add a few spoons of white sugar, and they will be nearly as nice as peach preserves.

HERE is a recipe for chicken in cream: Select a plump, young chicken; clean it nicely and divide into pieces. Roll or dredge in flour, and fry to a golden brown. Arrange neatly on a dish and pour over it a dressing made of a cup of cream, brought to the boiling point, into which are stirred the beaten yelks of two eggs, salt and pepper and a few drops of lemon, being careful that it does not curdle or get too thick. Garnish with parsley, if liked, and serve at once.

CHOCOLATE MARBLE CAKE—One heaping cup sugar, one-third cup butter, one egg, one small cup milk, two small cups flour, one and a half teaspoons yeast powder. Take one-half of the mixture out into another dish and mix one cake of melted chocolate with it; flavor the light with vanilla; put one spoonful of the light, then one of the dark, into the pan until used up. Frosting—One cup powdered sugar, one and a half tablespoons milk, half teaspoonful strawberry flavoring.

WRITER AND PAINTER.

PROF. CHARLES F. HOLDEN has written a life of Charles Darwin as a first volume in a series devoted to leaders of science.

AN "Ecce Homo" in oil, now on exhibition in Stuttgart, is believed by some critics to be the one painted by Albert Durer in 1512.

ALTHOUGH Rosa Bonheur is in her sixty-eighth year, she is constantly occupied, and says she has enough work in her mind to fill two life-times. Her last picture sold for over $10,000.

A MELANCHOLY author went to Dumas and moaned that if he did not raise 300 francs he was afraid he would have to charcoal-smoke himself and his two children. Dumas rummaged his coffers at once, but could find only 200 francs. "But I must have three, or I and the little loves are lost," said the author. "Suppose you only suffocate yourself and one of them, then," said Dumas.

CANON LIDDON left unfinished a biography of his friend and master, Dr. Pusey, on which he was engaged for several years. It is not known in what state the work has been left, but it may be assumed that Dr. Liddon, a most methodical worker, and one endowed with the valuable gift of a good handwriting, has left his papers in order, ready to be taken up by some faithful successor.

MR. HENRY TATE has offered to present to the English Nation fifty of the best paintings produced by National art during the last twenty years. Two other generous patrons of art guarantee $150,000 if the Government will furnish $125,000 more to purchase for the National Gallery three famous pictures: Holbein's "Ambassador," the largest of his works now in existence; the protrait of Admiral Pareja, by Velasques; and a portrait by Moroni.

THE National Gallery of England has bought three pictures from the collection shown by the Earl of Darmley in Manchester in 1857. One is a large painting by Tintoretto called "The Nursing of Hercules; or, The Origin of the Milky Way." Hermes, the messenger of the gods, brings the infant Hercules to Juno while she sleeps, hoping that the goddess will nurse him. But the jealous goddess wakes and repulses the baby, the milk falling from her breast and turns into stars. Two are by Paola Veronese and belonged to Queen Christina before entering the Orleans collection.

PEOPLES using four different languages are reading "Ben Hur," by reason of which General Lew Wallace is receiving between $4,000 and $5,000 a year royalty on his remarkable work. He is, of course, engaged on the book he began when Minister to Turkey, where the scene is laid. The theme is a contrast of the civilization of the occident and orient, or the influences of the different religions upon the growth of civilization. He has not christened it yet, and prefers not to do so till it is completed. The General is a slow worker, and works only when the inspiration seizes him. If it be midnight he will leave his bed and write till tired, then lay aside the manuscript till the spirit again moves.

ENTERTAINING CLIPPINGS.

A LARGE number of carriages in cities are now supplied with rubber tires to prevent violent jolting and deafening clatter.

THE struggle upon the question of opening the car window or not is characterized as the annual contest between the aerophobians and the aeromaniacs.

RUTGERS COLLEGE sophomores issued an order that their boots must be blacked by the freshmen. The latter collected the footgear and smeared the leather generously with green paint.

THEY have queer oyster suppers in Georgia. A Georgia paper says that a gentleman made a purchase of one hundred pounds of candy and one hundred pounds of fish for an oyster supper.

A CROOK at the Kansas State fair picked a woman's pocket and found in her purse three samples of dress goods, a recipe for making angel food, a hairpin, two bread tickets, a package of court plaster and a nickel with a hole in it.

A MAINE girl, finding it inconvenient to carry chewing gum with her, established stations in various parts of the the town, where she sticks her quids. One is a dry-goods store, one in the church choir, one in her own dining-room, one at a school and so on.

FOX-TERRIERS are the latest fashionable craze for young ladies' pets, and dealers are scarcely able to supply the demand. A famous New York belle has one which is snow white, and wears neck ribbons which are daily changed to harmonize with the costumes of his mistress.

IN an Episcopal church near Boston the other Sunday a lady in passing up the aisle caught her dress on the corner of a pew and tore it. As the process of tearing was very audible to the congregation, the feelings of the lady may be imagined when at that moment the clergyman began the service by reading the sentence: "Rend your heart and not your garments."

NO OBJECTION was made to the marriage of a young Louisville couple; yet, for the sake of romance, they executed a sensational elopement. They met by appointment at three o'clock in the morning and boarded a locomotive for a country town. There they routed a justice out of bed in the small hours and were quickly made one. They then returned to the city, where the bride roused her parents and introduced her new husband.

A YOUNG married couple who moved out of a flat in Chicago the other day left behind them the following laundry list: Baby's clothes—Five white dresses, 2 collared dresses, 3 white skurts, 2 flannel skurts, 2 skurts, 3 bibs, 1 shoulder cape, 11 dides, 1 bonnet and cloak, 1 blew apron. Lena's clothes—One white skurt, 2 white shurts, 2 night gowns, 1 apron, 2 white collars, 5 handkerchiefs, 2 napkins, 1 colared apron, 1 goss skurt, 1 suit undercloths, 2 wipe towels. Joe—One pair socks, 1 undershirt. The laundry bill tells its own story. Joe was the husband.

TROUBLE IN CAMP.

A German Satire on the "British Mutineers."

[Translated from the German for this paper.]

UNDER the circumstances it is not at all strange that the German comic papers are having a great deal of fun over the recent mutinies of the crack regiments of the British army. Accustomed as the Germans are to the iron discipline of Moltke the conduct of the English military authorities seems incomprehensible. The following telling satire is from a leading German journal: The scene is at Wellington Barracks. The Colonel of the Royal Grenadiers appears smoking a cigar, and accompanied by his adjutant. The bugler blows the assembly, but the soldiers fail to appear on parade.

Colonel—Adjutant, have you any idea where the men are? They usually fall in when the assembly is blown; that is, if they are in the neighborhood.

Adjutant—I can't imagine why they do not fall in, unless they have forgotten that you were to hold inspection this morning.

Colonel—These oversights are very annoying. Bugler, blow the assembly once more.

The bugler blows the assembly; several officers appear in undress uniform.

Colonel—Good morning, gentlemen. I hope you are all in good health. By the way, have any of you seen any of the rank and file this morning?

"I WONDER WHERE THE MEN ARE?"

Major—Colonel, I regret to inform you that the grenadiers have held a mass-meeting, at which it was unanimously resolved not to parade to-day.

Colonel—I regret very much that I was not consulted.

Captain—I don't think I ever saw them in such a bad humor.

Colonel—And yet usually they are so polite.

Lieutenant—They are a lot of vagabonds; that's what they are.

Colonel—Young man, don't make the situation any worse than it is by such improper remarks. Such remarks regarding her Majesty's grenadiers are altogether out of place. Instead of exasperating the men beyond endurance, let us try and find out what is the real cause of their complaint. I wonder why they did not come to me about it.

Captain—Private Tommy Atkins, who is on guard at St. James' palace, complains that his wife is dissatisfied because he is not able to spend more time in her society.

Colonel—That is a sentiment that does him credit. The English army owes its strength principally to the family instinct of her soldiers.

Captain—Grenadier Jones complains that he can not find time to take his little daughter to school, and Grenadier Robinson had an appointment to meet a lady, and owing to roll-call he was too late. Of course, he is in a towering rage.

Colonel—I don't blame him. That's the way I would feel about it myself. (Taking the Captain aside the Colonel inquires in a whisper if the lady is of very high rank, to which the Captain nods his head, winks, and says: "Jack Robinson is an awful lady killer. He is the pride of the regiment. By the way, bugler, would you be so kind as to blow the assembly once more.")

Bugler—I would like to accommodate you, Colonel, but as all the other soldiers have refused to obey your orders I can't bugle unless I have their permission. Personally I am your friend, but I can not violate the traditions of the army.

Colonel—Bravo! You have got the stuff in you out of which heroes are made. Go to your comrades and tell them that I am anxious to have a conference with them. I expect they object to having to drill. I don't blame them, for that's the way I feel about it myself.

Bugler (who has returned)—Colonel, the men positively refuse to come; but they say that if you have any proposition to make to them, and will come to their mess-room, they will listen to you.

Colonel (to officers)—That's just what I expected. I knew that this little offspell of bad humor would not last if I remained firm. Gentlemen, let us meet this encouraging proposition in the same spirit in which it is tendered. Little differences like this occur in the best disciplined regiments in the world. Let us go to the mess-room. Forward—march!

They enter the mess-room, whereupon the grenadiers sing in chorus—

For he is a jolly good fellow,
For he is a jolly good fellow,
Which nobody can deny.

ALEX. E. SWEET.

Not Needed.

She—Yes, love is blind.

He—Is it? Then what is the use of keeping the gas burning?—The Jury.

THE BRIDE WAS COY.

But She Had Sense Enough to Take Her Husband's Fortune.

At a small station on the Georgia Pacific road a bridal couple boarded our train. They were of the "cracker" variety and their greenness at once attracted attention. They had tickets for Atlanta and were going on a "tour." They hadn't been on the train ten minutes when the bride was noticed to be weeping, and pretty soon the groom came back to where I sat with the conductor, and said:

"Conductor, I wish you'un would go'n speak to Mary."

"What's the matter with Mary?" was asked.

"She'un's a-weepin' fur her ma. Says she'un wants to go right back home."

"She'll get over it," said the official, and the groom returned to his seat. It wasn't over ten minutes, however, before he returned to say:

"Conductor, she'un a takin' on like smoke. Says her can't abide to be mar'd, nohow, and her wishes her dun hadn't done it."

"Well, she'll have to make the best of it," replied the conductor; and the groom returned to console her. She turned away from him, however, and pretty soon he was back to say:

"Conductor, she'un declars she'll go home to ma on foot. I never dun see anybody so onery."

"Wasn't it a marriage for love?"

"Your shoutin' it was! We'uns hev dun luved for mighty nigh three y'ars."

"I guess she's a little coy. That will all wear off in time."

The groom went to the rear of the car after a drink of water and just then the train stopped at a station. The bride was up and out on the platform like a flash, and the car had not ceased its motion when she leaped to the ground, fell head over heels, and scrambled up and started back up the track on a run. The groom rushed out of the car and jumped to the platform, and as he caught sight of his fleeing bride he turned to the conductor and said:

"Dog-gone her, she'uns puttin' in her best licks to git back to ma, and I've got to foller! You'un dun said she'un was coy, and I dun depended on you and let her git away! Coy! coy! Why, she'un's got my fo'teen dollars an' is runnin' like a skeered rabbit."—N. Y. Sun.

Epicurus Is Out of Sight.

"Ichabod," said the Sultan to his Grand Vizier, "order the court servants to search the markets for the rarest of fruits and herbs; have my private cuisinier prepare repasts that in excellence have not been equaled since the days of Mahomet, the powerful; have my chamber resplendent with the rugs and laces of the finest makes; have thirteen maids with eyes of night and thirteen with eyes of sapphire ready at a moment's notice; and exercise your judgment to its best to have every thing ready for a grand and discriminating visitor."

"With pleasure, thou mighty son of a mighty gun."

"And, Ichabod, prepare for my couching with you these next two days, for I must temporarily relinquish my chamber."

"An unusual experience, thou mighty son; wherefore these preparations and discomforts?"

"Knowest not thou that a young drummer of a New York jewelry house is to visit me these next two days?"—Jewelers' Circular.

HIS FIRST SIGHT OF THE SASH.

Chico Dick—Don't say nothin' t' hurt his feelin's, Jerry, but jest look at th' bandage!

Sandy Jerry—Phew! That's a sufferin' ole locality t' git mule-kicked in, ain't it?—Judge.

The Begum's Son-in-Law.

Friend (to ex-missionary)—I heard that while you were in India you married the daughter of a Begum.

Ex-Missionary—Yes, I did.

"And in order to do it you had to adopt her religion."

"That's a fact."

"But afterwards you were reconverted to Christianity. How did that come about?"

"Well, the fact is that woman would reconvert anybody. She would, Begum!"—Texas Siftings.

She Could Vouch for Him.

Clara—So, Belle, you jilted poor Will at last. How cruel! And now he has entered the army, they say. It's a shame, for I don't believe he will make a good soldier.

Belle—Oh, yes he will.

Clara—How do you know?

Belle (sighing)—Because he knows how to use his arms so well.—West Shore.

THE ANTIQUARIAN'S CORNER.

A MILFORD, N. J., farmer wears a pair of spectacles that he claims are 150 years old.

A CHAIR 120 years old is in use in an office in Spring City, Pa., and it is said to be just as good as the day it was bought.

J. H. SALMON is a Brunswick, Mich., antiquarian. He has a valuable collection of coins ranging from 63 B. C. to A. D. 1422.

AT the National Library of Paris a MS. of the Bible has been discovered. It was written in 1259 in a suburb of Perpignan, and is richly illuminated.

MR. GOTTSCHALK, of New York, owns the only genuine and perfect holy shekel in the world. The interesting relic is about 3,400 years old and was used in King Solomon's Temple.

SOME very old relics were sold at the sale of the personal effects of the late Frederick Fox, of Reading, Pa. A waffle iron with long handle and tripod was supposed to be 150 years old. There was also a steelyard with weights, 120 years old; a handsomely ornamented waiter of unusually large size, over 100 years old, and many smaller articles. A "grandfather's clock" over 130 years old was kept in the family.

THE hat worn by Napoleon at Eylau was sold in Paris in 1835 for $400. The coat worn by Charles XII. at the battle of Pultowa brought over $100,000. A wig that once belonged to Sterne, the great English writer, was sold at public auction at London a few years ago for $1,050. In 1816 a tooth of Sir Isaac Newton was purchased by a nobleman for $3,550. The buyer had a costly diamond removed from his favorite ring and the tooth set in its place.

THE house of Deacon Bourne, of Cohasset, is now being taken down, and its site will be occupied by the new Osgood school-house. There is on the premises an old-fashioned horse block, about the last relic of this kind in the immediate vicinity, which ought to be preserved. In olden times, when traveling on horseback was more common than it is to-day, the horse block was one of the appointments of many estates, and was used by both ladies and gentlemen. By all means save this reminder of ye ancient days.

MRS. WARREN HILL, of Machias, Me., has in her possession an ancient chair once the property of her great-grandfather, Major-General David Cobb, of the revolutionary army. While this chair was recently being upholstered there was found on removing the leather covering of the cushion an inner covering, an original patch-work of silk and velvet, containing about twelve hundred pieces, in the center of which where the figures 1751. This covering was fastened to the chair board with handmade copper tacks.

A LEWISTON (Me.) gentleman is anxiously looking up an heirloom in the shape of an old Bible, printed with the German text and brought over by his Dutch ancestors. It was in the possession of an uncle who has lately died. Among the gentleman's earliest remembrances is that of a curiosity-seeker who once tried to buy the much prized Bible from his mother. She refused to part with it at any price. Thereupon the stranger had the audacity coolly to cut off a fragment of the leather cover as a relic. Hastily snatching it from him she exclaimed, haughtily: "I am able to keep it, sir!"

IN the window of a little old-fashioned clock store on Third avenue, New York, stand the solid brass works of a clock that was made by E. Lake in London, Eng., repaired by F. C. H. in the year 1797, and repaired the second time in New York in 1830. No other name or date appears on the movements, and while the time of its original construction is unknown, the clock has been ticking for more than a century. The original case and dial plate have disappeared, but the works are contained between two plates of brass, and the one at the back is quaintly graved with the figure of a funeral urn and a large number of flourishes.

THE SUN, MOON AND STARS.

A NEW illustration of the distances of the stars is that it would take all the Lancashire cotton factories 400 years to spin a thread long enough to reach the nearest star at the present rate of production of about 155,000,000 miles per day.

ALVAN CLARK is now constructing a telescope for a Los Angeles observatory that will bring the moon within an apparent distance of one hundred miles from the observer. It is expected that when this telescope is finished the question whether there are any inhabitants on the moon will be definitely settled, and also whether the supposed inhabitants of the planet Mars are signaling to us by means of certain lights which astronomers have noticed on that planet.

"AS THE sun's spots remain for two or three months on the average before disappearance, we have been able," says H. Clements, "to determine the time that the sun takes to revolve on its axis. These spots travel from the eastern to the western edge of the sun in such a way as to show that they form part of and are really attached to the sun's disc. The average time taken by a great many has been found, giving about twenty-five days as the period taken by the sun in making one revolution on its axis.

PROF. ASAPH HALL, who has used the big telescope at the United States Observatory in Washington for measurements of Saturn during the last fourteen years, finds the time of rotation of the planet to be about 10 hours, 14 minutes, 24 seconds. This is nearly fifteen minutes less than the period stated in most of the astronomical text books published in the latter half of the present century, but is remarkable as being only 100 seconds less than the period assigned to it by Sir William Herschel. That astronomer of a century ago obtained his results in this particular by the aid of an instrument far inferior to many of the so-called smaller telescopes of to-day, and the fact is testimony to the wonderful ability of the man whose name was for years given to the planet he discovered, now generally called Uranus.

CURED OF THEOSOPHY.

Startling Effect of a Demonstration on a Young Man's Mind.

My friend Abernethy tells a pretty good story at his own expense, writes William Wallace Cook in the Detroit Free Press, and below I give it to the reader in his own words, as nearly as I can recall them:

About ten years ago, I found myself racing neck-and-neck with savants, ancient and modern, in the hippodrome of philosophy. Throwing aside every system with supreme contempt I reared a cosmos to suit myself and gave the microcosm a commanding niche in my temple. "There," said I, "was chaos; such-and-such a power drew out the Universe and so-and-so sustains it. Yonder is God and here is man—lo! what a marvel I have wrought." I imagined how the great, throbbing world would one day receive my theory. I knew to a certainty I would be crowned with bays and that my disciples would be innumerable. I was assured beyond the possibility of doubt that I would go tearing down the ages—my features perpetuated in stone and marble and my name the signal for reverent prostration in every country. I believed all this—for I was but eighteen!

It was while dreaming after this bent that I met Miss H——, a venerable lady with a philosophical turn of mind. She was a well-read woman, a prominent figure in the Theosophical Society and a professed admirer of my hare-brained theories. Anxious to gain converts to the society of which she was an ardent member, Miss H—— strove to overcome the thousand and one objections which I urged against theosophy. She endeavored to persuade me for several weeks, but to no purpose; then she made me the following proposition:

"Your theories are theosophical to the core. Mme. Blavatsky has expounded many of them before you. You claim to desire a practical demonstration of some of our theories that differ from yours. Let me propose an experiment. Set your watch with mine, and to-night, at precisely eight, retire alone to your chamber, extinguish your lamp and center your thoughts upon me. At the same hour I will do likewise and think of you. This will be an interesting test, and if you are not startled by the result I shall be greatly surprised."

Dabbling in occult phenomena, so I fell in with Miss H——'s proposition without more ado.

Night came, and eight o'clock found me in my lonely study without a lamp and with only the spectral moonlight quivering over my books, marble busts and astronomical instruments. Subject to such conditions, my room was indeed a ghostly place, and I thought it just the thing for putting me en rapport with Miss H—— and making me a passive factor in our experiment. I centered my thoughts upon the venerable lady at the time specified. For five minutes nothing very startling occurred. In fact, it seemed very difficult for me to keep my mind upon my patroness. At the end of five minutes, however, I found myself in a state of very great nervousness. I pushed my feet about on the carpet and moved my hands incessantly. It was impossible for me to remain quiet. This mood gradually gave way to one of calmness, but it was a calmness such as I had never before experienced. It was like the foreboding stillness that precedes a hurricane, and I felt throughout my whole body that something supernatural was about to happen. In a few moments I thought I heard the voice of Miss H—— calling my name. I trembled violently and the perspiration stood out on my forehead. I remember trying to shake off my body, for I was terribly wrought up and believed such a thing was possible. Once, twice, I endeavored to obey Miss H——'s voice. It was in vain; but the third time, what a sensation I experienced! I seemed to float upward. Matter had no restraining power. My body could not keep me and I passed through the walls of my study like a sunbeam through clouds of mist. I left my body with its head on its hand, sitting at my desk. I had a peculiarly buoyant, immaterial feeling and I realized that I, the conscious entity, the ego, the soul, was no longer subject to earthly conditions. Was I dead in the sense that the world knew death, or was I merely playing into the power of Miss H——? I found myself at last suspended like Mahomet's coffin between Heaven and earth. I seemed to poise in a higher atmosphere like some bird. The sensation was too delightful to be described. Words fail me, and to cap the climax of my strange situation I beheld the venerable Miss H—— floating toward me in a white cloud. I was about to address her when, like a flash, I opened my eyes and found myself—in my study.

I was overcome with this strange experience and I decided then and there that if theosophy was a science fraught with such interesting phenomena, Miss H—— might claim me for a disciple. Certainly, in the whole range of my experience nothing could comyare with the wonderful experiment in which I had participated.

The next day I called upon my patroness. I was prepared for an unconditional surrender. Imagine my consternation when she met me with the following:

"Ah, Mr. Abernethy. Of course you are all prepared to declare theosophy a fraud. But I was unable to perform my part of our experiment last evening. The society sent for me at half past seven on some important business; consequently, at eight o'clock, instead of thinking of you, I was head-over-heels in some Hindoo—"

"What!" I gasped; "do you mean to say that you were paying no attention to me at eight o'clock last night?"

"Indeed, you mustn't scold. It was—"

I fear I left Miss H—— somewhat discourteously; but I was provoked to find myself the dupe of so vivid an imagination.

A Daniel Come to Judgment.

"Yes," said the philosopher. "You may judge a theatrical manager by the company he keeps, a legislator by his acts, a landlord by his deeds, and a tailor by his clothes."

Missionary Work--Not in Africa---In Plainfield.

We want to convert everybody to be of our views; that is to pay only the actual value for the goods they receive. This can be accomplished by becoming patrons of our store. We sell for cash, and you do not have to pay other people's bad debts. Glance over our prices and see for yourself how much you will reduce your housekeeping expenses by buying from the originators of low pr ces in this city.

We make a specialty of Teas and Coffees, handling all kinds that grow: New crop Tea, (all kinds) 35c lb, worth 60c; Coffee, way down! Try our combination (Nicarauqua, Java & Santos) 32c., worth 40c; finest produced Elgin and Phila. Creamery Butter, 28c lb; good Creamery, (as sold in most stores for best) 25c; fresh Dairy, (used for both table and cooking purposes) 22c; best Cocoa in the market 38c; Pearl patent flour, (has no equal) $6 75 bbl; Pilsbury's best XXXX, $6 75 bbl; best Kerosene, 150 test, 10c gal; strictly Virginia sweet potatoes, 40c basket, (½ bush); Granulated Sugar, 7c. Call and get prices on other goods. REMEMBER, we carry the finest line of Groceries ever offered to the public; and the reputation that we enjoy fully attests the success of our efforts. BEAR IN MIND—We do not advertise any one article in particular as a leader to mislead the public but our full line right through will be found to be at least 25 per cent. less than any other store in Union county. AND DON'T FORGET—That we call for and deliver orders promptly to any and all parts of the city, free of charge; on Saturdays till 9 P. M. Special attention given to mail orders.

GOING HOME TO VOTE

The President Ready to Leave for Indianapolis.

GENERAL EXODUS OF CLERKS.

Great Interest by Both Parties in the Congressional Elections.

Losers of National Bank Notes to be Reimbursed—Population of States to be Announced on Monday—Duty on Wedding Gifts—Sad Wedding of Congressman Butterworth's Daughter.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—President Harrison will probably go home to vote. He has all along desired to do this, but business of an important nature has kept him here. He has cleared up his desk, and unless unforeseen circumstances arise to keep him here he will vote in Indiana on election day.

Private Secretary Halford left Washington for Indiana to-day, and Attorney-General Miller and Marshal Ramsdell will leave to-morrow.

Numbers of department clerks and others who reside in Washington, who vote in the States, are leaving on every train. The number residing here who will vote in this Congressional election is greater than for several years.

Agents from both political parties have been here all week urging clerks to go home and vote for their candidates for Congress.

Secretary Proctor has gone to Montpelier, Vt., to attend a soldiers' reunion at that place. He will be absent a week or more.

STOLEN YEARS AGO.

The Treasury Will Reimburse the Losers of the National Bank Notes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Acting Treasurer Whelpley says that he is now prepared to redeem national bank notes stolen from the office of the Comptroller of the Currency by a messenger in that office from 1864 to 1868, the last Congress having provided $2,500 for that purpose.

The notes are as follows: Tens and twenties of the Third National Bank, New York city, bank number of notes, 9,414 to 9,428; fifties and one hundreds of the First National Bank, Jersey City, N. J., numbers, 671 to 750; fifties and one hundreds of the National City Bank of Lynn, Mass., numbers, 121 to 750. The appropriation is for the redemption of the notes described and no others.

Miss Butterworth's Marriage.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Miss Mary Butterworth, daughter of Representative Butterworth of Ohio, was married last evening to Mr. Hughwant Howe, an agent of the Department of State, at the Friends' Meeting House in this city. The ceremony had been set originally for to-day and preparations had been made to make it a social event. Mr. Howe, however, was taken seriously ill last Friday, and rather than have a postponement of the marriage, Miss Butterworth decided to have it take place quietly last evening. All formalities were dispensed with and the ceremony took place in the sick room in the presence of a few immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

The Seizure at Canso.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The State Department has not received a report from the United States Consul at Halifax in regard to the seizure for dues of the schooner Lizzie W. Hannum at Canso, N. S. Acting Secretary of State Adee says that he does not remember any United States Consul at Halifax who has been so active in protecting American fishermen as the present Consul, and he discredits the statement that no attention was paid by him to the protest of the Hannum's owners.

Duty on Wedding Gifts.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The Treasury Department has decided that certain wedding gifts which were used abroad about two months prior to their importation are not exempt from duty as household effects, such articles being entitled to free entry under the law only when they have been used abroad for a year or longer.

Population of States.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Superintendent Porter said to-day that the first complete bulletin of population statistics, that of States, would be made public next Monday morning. Others will follow at short intervals giving the statistics of cities, towns and counties as well as those of manufacturing industries.

Woman in the Conference.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—All the Methodist churches of this city voted on the question of the admission of women delegates to the General Conference of the Church. The voting was unexpectedly light, the total hardly reaching 1,000. In 17 out of the 20 churches voting the result was 375 for and 482 against admission.

The New Spanish Minister.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—A dispatch from Madrid says that Senor Miguel Suarez Guanes, now Spanish Consul-General in New York, has been appointed Spanish Minister to the United States in place of Senor Muruaga, resigned, who has represented Spain in Washington since 1886.

Over $7,000 for the Loss of a Leg.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Oct. 30.—In the Supreme Court here a verdict for $7,750 was rendered in favor of Harry A. Hannah against the Connecticut River Railroad Company. Hannah lost one of his legs on the company's road.

THE WESTERN STYLE.

An Oklahoma Representative Pulls His Gun and Demands Justice.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Oct. 30.—The Legislative Hall was thrown into an uproar over the action of Representative Terrill. The Assembly had been in session all night until 2 a. m., when the Representative demanded that Senator McCarthy, who was on the floor lobbying for the Kingfisher bill, be ejected.

The Speaker refused to comply with the request, when Terrill said he would then leave the hall. The Speaker then ordered the door locked, but Terrill kicked it open and went out, followed by so many members that the Assembly adjourned.

When the session convened again Terrill walked to his desk, and laying a revolver on it, said he would see whether the Speaker and others would be allowed to brazenly disregard the rules of the House. The Sergeant-at-arms after a struggle disarmed Terrill, who went out to hunt another gun. The bill was defeated.

PUGILIST SLAVIN COMING.

Upon His Arrival He Will Challenge Sullivan to Fight for $10,000.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—W. A. Brady of the firm of Webster & Brady, proprietors of the "After Dark" company, notified Arthur T. Lumley that he had closed a contract with Frank P. Slavin, the Australian heavy-weight pugilist, to appear in the concert scene of the play.

He will come to America in about one month, and will upon his arrival post $1,000 forfeit money to fight John L. Sullivan for $10,000 a side and the championship of the world. If Sullivan should refuse to meet him, Slavin says he will claim the championship. Just about the time of Slavin's arrival in New York Peter Jackson will arrive in San Francisco from Australia, and the three greatest pugilists of the day in the heavy-weight class will be in this country. Sullivan will most undoubtedly accept Slavin's challenge without delay.

BURNED TO DEATH.

An Italian Caught in a Blaze This Morning After Rescuing His Family.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 30.—Early this morning a fire started in the livery stable of B. F. Dyer on Grand street, and Antonio Gyatillo, an Italian, who with his family of five children occupied the upper story, was burned to death. His wife and youngest girl, Mary, were also badly burned.

The fire originated in the rear of the building and spread so rapidly that escape by the stairway was prevented. Gyatillo handed his wife and children out of the upper windows into the arms of officers Hanna and Richardson who stood on the next roof below. Returning to save his goods, Gyatillo was caught in the stairway and suffocated.

Foreign Missionary Work.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 30.—The general executive committee of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church will be in session in this city for the next few days. Delegates are present from all over the United States together with a dozen returned missionaries and a number of candidates for work in foreign fields.

Struggle With a Lunatic.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Royal Chapin, 37 years old, a civil engineer in the Dock Department, became violently insane as he stepped from an elevated car of the Sixth Avenue elevated road on to the station at Grand street. An officer had a desperate struggle with him before he could be subdued. Chapin was then taken to Bellevue Hospital.

Arrest of a Vice-Consul.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 30.—Otto Eberhard, who claims to be Austrian Vice-Consul, was arrested here while intoxicated for interfering with a policeman while making an arrest. In the police court he denounced his arrest as an outrage. He refused to plead to the charge against him and demanded his liberty. He was committed in default of $200 bail for an examination.

The Telegraphers' Trouble Ended.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 30.—The trouble between the Western Union Telegraph operators, members of the newly organized Brotherhood of Telegraphers and the Western Union Company has been amicably settled. The members of the St. Louis lodge announced that preliminary steps had been taken to dissolve the local lodge.

Speaker Reed in the West.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 30.—Speaker Reed spoke here last night before a large audience. He said: "The West is just now receiving the full benefit of the protective tariff."

Wesleyan Defeated by Harvard.

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—Harvard defeated Wesleyan at football, 51 to 0. The team work of Harvard was excellent.

KILLED NINE PEOPLE

Murderer Woolfolk Dies Protesting His Innocence.

SLOWLY STRANGLED TO DEATH.

The Drop Fell in the Presence of Nearly 8,000 People.

The Crime Committed More Than Three Years Ago—He Tried to Bribe the Watch Before Going to the Gallows. Closing Chapter of a Tragedy Which Stands Unequalled in This Country.

MACON, Ga., Oct. 30.—Thomas J. Woolfolk was hanged here for the murder of nine people—his father, stepmother, six brothers and sisters and another relative—more than three years ago. The drop fell at 1:31 in the presence of nearly 8,000 people, for the court had declared that Woolfolk must expiate his heinous deed in public. The fall failed to break his neck, and he died of strangulation.

The condemned man protested his innocence to the last, but those who have known him best and were first to discover the scene of slaughter at his father's house, in August, 1887, have not the slightest doubt of his guilt. The Supreme Court granted Woolfolk three trials, and each time a jury found him guilty.

Attempted to Bribe the Watch.

As soon as the murderer was dressed in the morning a number of newspaper men were admitted and he talked to them very freely, expressing no fear of his impending fate, but on the contrary, courting it as a relief from his long prison life. He did not want the Governor to interfere.

Woolfolk, it is believed, offered the watch $500 and a history of his life if he gave him a chance to escape. This being refused, he offered him $100 if he would give him a small phial of morphine.

After spending an hour in conversation with his spiritual adviser he breakfasted and donned a new suit of clothes, in which he manifested great interest. On his trip to the scaffold he was guarded by the Perry Rifles. On the scaffold he exhibited the same wonderful nerve that has characterized his actions all along.

Protested His Innocence.

Facing the crowd that surged around the scaffold he said: "Before the All Wise God, who reads all the secrets of our hearts, I do solemnly protest and affirm that I am innocent of killing my father or any member of his family, and that I do not know anything of the person who did commit the crime."

The three ministers present on the scaffold then offered up fervent prayers, at the conclusion of which the prisoner himself prayed. It was an eloquent plea for mercy and included an invocation in behalf of his sisters.

The prisoner then bade his friends goodby and was pinioned. The cap and noose were adjusted and the trap was sprung.

Strangled to Death.

The body shot downward six and one-half feet, it turned partially and in doing so, the noose slipped out of position and he was slowly strangled to death. The lungs filled several times and at eleven minutes the pulse was still beating. Life was not pronounced extinct for thirty-six minutes.

The body was then taken down and placed in a neat rosewood casket and turned over to his relatives for burial in Hawkinsville, according to his wish.

Has Found a Cure for Consumption.

BERLIN, Oct. 30.—According to the "National Gazette" Prof. Koch, the German specialist, has discovered a cure for consumption by inoculation, and in consequence has abandoned lecturing and will devote himself exclusively to experimenting.

Congressional Nominations.

LOCK HAVEN, Pa., Oct. 30.—The Republicans of the 16th district nominated A. C. Hopkins of this city for Congress. He is a prominent lumberman. The Democrats nominated Mortimer P. Elliott for Congress in the same district.

A Purse for Dixon and McCarthy.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The secretary of the Twin City Athletic Club of Minneapolis telegraphed here that his club had decided to offer a purse of $2,500 for a finish fight between George Dixon and Cal McCarthy.

Three Buildings Burned.

NEWTOWN, N. J., Oct. 30.—J. W. Lane's hardware store was burned during the morning together with its contents. The loss is estimated at $15,000. Two adjoining buildings were also burned.

Neither Side Able to Score.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 30.—The Amherst and Trinity football teams contested here but neither side was able to score. The play was sharp throughout.

REFUSED TO TIE THE KNOT.

A Nineteen-Year-Old White Girl Stopped from Marrying a Negro.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Oct. 30.—The new industry of splitting granite boulders into Belgian blocks has attracted to the neighborhood of Sumneytown, Montgomery County, a large number of negroes, who are well paid. Their relations with white girls of the neighborhood have become very notorious at recent courts. A striking instance has just occurred of shameless disregard for what may at least be called civilized conventionalities.

Wolford Vught and his daughter, Lizzie, applied for and received a license for the girl to marry Thomas Young, a very dark negro. The clerk of the court had no option but to give them the license.

The girl is only fifteen and fairly good-looking. She was dressed in her best clothing and evidently had the ordinary bridal delight in the prospective wedding. The would-be groom was a short, stumpy youth with gaudy striped trousers. When the trio applied to Justice Urner to perform the ceremony, and the girl's father admitted there was no negro blood in her veins, the magistrate promptly refused to degrade the dignity of his office by assisting the union, and soundly rebuked the father for conniving at it. The groom said the girl is the mother of a mulatto baby, and declared she lost nothing by marrying him, as no white man would have her, and he proposed to treat her as a "lady."

At last accounts the three were still hunting a minister who would be willing to perform the ceremony.

TWO MEN KILLED.

Steel Girders Strike a Passenger Train With Fatal Results.

PROVIDENCE, Oct. 30.—Two long steel bridge-girders loaded on a platform car on the Worcester division of the New York, Providence and Boston Railway became displaced near the Branch avenue bridge, and swung across the opposite track.

A Lonsdale train came along and the girders struck the smoking car killing Daniel McDermott of Pawtucket, and badly wounding Baggage-master Fred Bennett of Central Falls. The girder rebounded and struck the next car, killing N. G. Peabody. The train was stopped with one girder sticking through the car roof and another lying across it. Fortunately there were few passengers on the train or the death list would have been greater.

God's Will to Burn Children.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 30.—The Brooks arson case took a sensational turn when Mrs. Charles J. Brooks, stepmother of Charlotte Brooks, already under arrest for firing her father's store, was also apprehended. Charlotte declares that the stepmother deliberately planned the act, telling her that if she did not get the children out when the fire started it would be God's will that they should burn. Her motive, according to Charlotte, was to get a large insurance in order to meet bills.

Suicide Suspected.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 30.—Dennis S. Sullivan, Treasurer of the Father Mathew Total Abstinence Society, who was charged a few days ago with a shortage of $1,300 in his accounts with the society, died last evening. He had been sick only a few days, and his physician, not satisfied as to the cause of death, applied to Mayor Coggleshall for authority for an autopsy. It is suspected that he committed suicide to escape his trouble.

A Boy Falls to Instant Death.

TROY, N. Y., Oct. 30.—Willie Sickles, a carpenter's apprentice, fell from the second story of a building to the ground, a distance of 45 feet, and was crushed into a shapeless mass. In his descent he struck a fire-alarm wire, snapping it in two, and one end coiled around the body of the prostrate youth for a time. People who gathered about the body believed the wire belonged to the electric-light company and none dared to touch it.

High License for Vermont.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Oct. 30.—A high license, local option liquor bill, with provisions similar to those of the law now in force in Massachusetts, has been introduced in the Legislature; also a bill providing for the dedication of the Bennington Battle Monument and the centennial anniversary of Vermont's admission into the Union at Bennington, August 16, 1891.

To Build Another Crack Yacht.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 30.—Commodore Francis L. Burritt of the Cedar Point Yacht Club has announced that he is about to add to his fleet of crack yachts a boat that will match the world. Commodore Burritt now owns the rival and the Peerless, which have never been defeated.

Pittsburg to Have a Canal.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 30.—The Canal Commission will recommend that the Pittsburg and Lake Erie Canal be built. The Commission has decided upon building a retaining wall in the Ohio River and thus carrying the canal to Davis Island dam.

The Great Thanksgiving Game.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 30.—Yale and Princeton have agreed to play their Thanksgiving day football game on Eastern Park, Brooklyn, the management having guaranteed a proper handling of the crowd.

News from the Whaling Fleet.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Oct. 30.—Despatches received here to-day give the latest reports from the Artic fleet of whaling vessels, and state that the fleet has taken to October 6, 93 whales or as many as were taken last year.

AWAITING THE CALL

British Vessel Owners Ready for a Tie-Up.

THE SEAMEN'S UNION PREPARED

They Will Confine the Struggle at the Point Where it May Take Place.

Russian Peasants Start a Campaign of Murder and Arson—Dr. Peters' Charges Against Stanley—Minister Lincoln Coming Home With His Dead Son's Body—Mother and Daughter Murdered.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—An important meeting of the British Channel Committee of the Shipping Federation was held at Cardiff. There was a very large attendance of the principal ship owners in Great Britain.

It was unanimously resolved that upon an understood signal being given all the ships in the British Channel should be laid up just as they might come in, light or with cargo. In the latter event the cargo would of course be discharged.

The Seamen's Union is making great preparations to fight the owners. Their project is to fight in sections; that is, confine the struggle to the point where it may take place. The ship owners, however, say ships will be laid up everywhere if trouble occurs.

RUSSIAN CRUELTIES.

Peasants Forced Into a Campaign of Murder and Arson.

VIENNA, Oct. 30.—The Russian authorities at St. Petersburgh and Odessa are making every effort to suppress the circumstances connected with the outbreak of the peasantry in Southern Russia.

The revolt is said to have originated in the stringent enforcement of the conscription, from which the rich landholders find ways to secure exemption, and in the cruelties exercised upon the peasants by the petty officials with the view of breaking the spirit of the people.

The elders of villages, men held in veneration by their neighbors, have been brutally flogged for small alleged offenses and the knout has been used on the slightest sentence.

The outbreak originated near Zmiev, about fifty miles from Kharkov, being prompted by some act of judicial cruelty not fully known. The peasants not having firearms, seized any weapon at command, drove the magistrates from the place and began a campaign of murder and arson against the officials and the aristocracy. The first detachment of troops sent against them was defeated and forced to retire, and General Dragomiroff ordered six regiments of infantry and two of cavalry to the scene. These at last accounts had not yet encountered the peasants, said to be swollen to vast numbers and very resolute, though poorly armed.

CHARGES AGAINST STANLEY.

Dr. Peters Makes Accusations on the Authority of Emin Pasha.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The November number of the Contemporary Review contains an article written by Dr. Peters, upon the authority of Emin Pasha which asserts that Stanley more than once threatened to force Emin to accompany him to the coast.

While delivering King Leopold's offer to Emin, Stanley at the same time urged the Pasha not to accept, alleging that the Congo State was in a bad way, and to further influence Emin to decline, hinting that King Leopold had treated him (Stanley) badly.

Dr. Peters also accuses Stanley of having drunk wine at a dinner served in European fashion, while others of his party at the same table were served with negro fare and had no wine.

Minister Lincoln's Leave of Absence.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 30.—Minister Lincoln sailed to-day for New York, having been granted a leave of absence by his Government. He will return to London in January. A large number of friends assembled to bid Mr. Lincoln farewell and wish him a pleasant voyage. In the party were Consul-General New, Lieut. Emory, Mr. S. Dana Horton, Tom Ochiltree and scores of others, both English and American. The body of young Abraham Lincoln was placed on board the steamer to be taken to America for burial. The casket was enclosed in a packing case.

Seven Hundred Emigrants Drowned.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The reported foundering of a vessel somewhere near St. Vincent, off the southern corner of Portugal, has created great excitement in this city. It is said that there were 700 emigrants on board, and that not a soul was saved. No confirmation has yet been received of this awful calamity and it is hoped that the disaster will not prove so appalling as the first news indicates.

Irishmen Sent to Jail for Contempt.

TIPPERARY, Oct. 30.—In the court trying the conspiracy case against Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien and others Simon Gleeson and Alex. Sadler were to-day called for the defense. On cross-examination by the counsel for the Crown the witnesses refused to give evidence, whereupon they were committed to jail for contempt.

Martin Luther's Old Castle.

BERLIN, Oct. 30.—The Empress Frederick has purchased Kronbers Castle at Kronbers, in Hesse-Nassau, celebrated as having once been the residence of Martin Luther. She intends to convert it into a charitable institution in memory of her husband.

HIS SILVER JUBILEE.

An Immense Torchlight Procession Reviewed by Chicago's Archbishop.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—The celebration in this city in honor of the silver jubilee of Most Reverend Augustus Feehan, was the result of a spontaneous desire not only to recognize the anniversary of a most important event in the history of the Roman Catholic Church, but as a tribute to the popularity of the Archbishop himself.

Last night over 35,000 people participated in a grand torchlight procession which was reviewed by the Archbishop and his guests from the balcony of the Auditorium.

The procession was divided into four sections, the Foresters alone having 10,000 men in line. The first section was composed of Italians, military, colored people and French; the second of Germans; the third of Poles and Bohemians, and the fourth of English speaking citizens. Behind these came the organized societies. Every man carried a torch or lantern, and wore a miniature United States flag in the buttonhole of his coat. There were sixty bands in line and thousands of dollars worth of fireworks were sent up.

THE BIRCHALL LETTER.

The Document from "The Colonel" Regarded as a Clumsy Fabrication.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Oct. 30.—The Jackson, Mich., letter is regarded as the clumsiest fabrication Birchall has yet put forth.

An examination of the handwriting and comparison of it with Birchall's shows a very general resemblance between the two, and in some cases a very striking likeness.

A friend of Birchall [said: "I think the best defense at the trial would have been insanity—absence of all moral sense. The man is so given to lying that he lies even when he must be aware that he is cutting the ground from under the feet of those who are getting up the petition for a commutation of his sentence."

Among the communications recently received by Mrs. Birchall is one from an enterprising fellow who declares his willingness to take Birchall's place at the hanging for the sum of $1,000.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—George Benwell, brother of Birchall's victim, who went to Woodstock to testify at the trial, has arrived in this city en route to England. To a reporter he expressed himself as feeling that Birchall must have had a confederate in the crime. He said that if Birchall could not say who it was that fired the shots that killed his brother, the Government should stay judgment until the mystery had been cleared up.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

An earthquake shock was felt at San Jose, Cal., yesterday.

Jack Mason, the Boston actor, has been released. He says he will marry Marion Manola on his return from abroad.

The King and Minister of Marine will on Saturday visit the United States steamer Baltimore, which is now at Lisbon.

By a vote of 109 to 5 the Dutch Parliament declared King William III. of Holland to be incapable of longer exercising the governing power.

Miss Agnes McCarthy Moore, whose poems in praise of Erin have been read wherever the English language is spoken, is dead at her home in Boston, aged 50 years.

Henry Cassin, the New York city bell boy who stole $17,000, the property of two bookmakers, from the safe of the Hotel Vendome and recently convicted of larceny, was sentenced to State prison for nine years at hard labor.

The Jewish residents of England have united in preparing an address of congratulation which is to be presented to Cardinal Manning in commemoration of his recently celebrated jubilee marking his fiftieth year as a clergyman.

Benjamin Mehan, of Preston, N. Y., while laboring under the hallucination that a commission was about to send him to the Binghamton Insane Asylum, shot himself with a shot gun at his home last evening, tearing his head completely off. He was 40 years old, and leaves a wife and five children.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—For New England: Cloudiness and rains; winds shifting to colder northwesterly.

For Eastern New York and New Jersey: Colder; fair weather, brisk northwesterly winds.

For Western New York: Colder; fresh northwesterly winds; cloudiness and rain with flurries of snow.

THE DAILY PRESS.

W. L. & A. L. FORCE, Publishers and Proprietors.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - Managing Editor.

BY THE WAY.

—The St. George Cricket club will hold its first ball, Wednesday evening, Dec. 10.

—Union prayer meeting to-night in the Trinity Reformed church, led by the Rev. Asa R. Dilts.

—The Bible Class for ladies will meet as usual at the Y. M. C. A. rooms, Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

—The regular mid-week meeting of the Reform Club will be held in Reform Hall this evening at 8 o'clock. All are welcome.

—The picture that has been sold by chance at the office of Alex. Titsworth, for the benefit of a disabled fireman, will be drawn for this afternoon.

—The regular meeting of "The Young Ladies Mission Band," of the First Baptist church, will be held in the Bible class room of the church, to-morrow afternoon from two to five o'clock.

—The talk which was to have been given by W. D. Murray at the Young Men's Christian Association rooms, this evening, has been postponed owing to the union prayer meeting to be held to-night.

—The Democrats of North Plainfield will have their rally and ratification, to-morrow evening, in the Gesang Hall. Among the speakers announced are the Hon. John P. Stockton, Wm. Keys, Jas. J. Bergen, Edward F. McDonald and others.

—A meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society will be held Friday, at 2 o'clock, in the parlors of the Crescent Avenue church. All the ladies of the congregation are cordially invited. Contributions of money or clothing for the box should be sent in promptly, as it is desirable to send the box before cold weather.

—Westfield and Bound Brook are both crying for a lock-up. Westfield at present uses an old barn and hen-coop owned by Overseer Cox, while Bound Brook, it is said, has to furnish a constable to sit up with each prisoner over night on the post-office steps, till a train goes to Somerville, the jail-town, in the morning. Both methods have their unsatisfactory aspects.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

The Rev. Charles Bayard Mitchell will lecture in Jersey City this evening.

Harry G. Adams is recovering from a serious injury to his foot, the result of the first accident he has had in fourteen years' continuous travel.

Ernest O. Chamberlin of this city who was recently coaxed from the staff of the New York Sun to become city editor of the World, has given up that position to devote his entire time to the writing of the city political campaign. It is understood that when such work is ended, he will be appointed assistant manager of the World.

Edward DeRussy Gillmore, who up to a year ago was a resident of this city, died yesterday at his home, 133 Palisade avenue, Jersey City. Death resulted from an operation. He leaves two children and a wife who was formerly Miss Louise Coussen, of West Second street He is a son of the late General Quincy A. Gillmore. He was 39 years of age and a lawyer by profession. Interment will be made in this city.

Miss Kate D. Stout, principal of Bryant school, has accepted a position in the State Normal school. Plainfield's loss, however, will be fully supplied by the advancement of Miss M. Lillian Newman to the position. Miss Newman is the daughter of H. O. Newman, of West Fifth street. She is a graduate of the High School and has been trained at Framingham. The vacancy caused by her appointment will be filled by the return of Miss Florence A. Stowell.

Mrs. Anna M. Spencer, of Manning avenue, leaves Plainfield today to make her home hereafter on 91st street New York. She and her sons, Howard, Tiffany and Willie, have a host of friends who greatly regret their going. The young men, however, are so engaged in New York in business that their residence there is absolutely necessary. Mrs. Spencer and her boys are all members and earnest workers of the Holy Cross church, and there, also, will their absence be felt.

The Methodist Lesson Commentary for 1891 will have Robert R. Doherty, Ph. D., of Westfield, as associate author with the Rev. Dr. Jesse L. Hurlbut, of this city. Dr. Doherty has prepared an original series of practical notes to assist the teachers in impressing the lessons on the pupils, and in addition he contributes quotations selected by him from more than four hundred learned writers. Dr. Doherty was for many years assistant editor of The Christian Advocate, and at present is secretary of the General Epworth League founded by Dr. Hurlbut.

The sudden death has occurred of Mrs. Lillias Cuthbert, wife of the late William Cuthbert, of this city. She has been living at the home of her son, John H. Cuthbert, corner of Fifth and New streets. Yesterday afternoon intending to pass out of the room, she opened the cellar door by mistake and fell to the bottom of the stairs. She lay unconscious until this morning when she died. It may have been that she was seized with a paralytic stroke or vertigo, that caused her fall. A blood vessel was burst in her head. She was in the 71st year of her age, and leaves three sons.

A Bilious Attack at Seminary Hall.

The advertisement of the appearance of Marshall Wilder, Miss Maude Bowers, and others at Seminary Hall, to-morrow evening, is taken out of THE PRESS today because every seat is sold. This is not the only example of late, of the good results that have accrued to those who have advertised in no other daily paper but this.

Crescent Avenue chapel was crowded, Saturday evening, to hear Leland Powers, and the Ladies' Mission Band of the two Presbyterian churches who brought him here, did their daily advertising exclusively in THE PRESS. St. Andrew's Society, of Grace church, had the Dudley Buck quartette at Music Hall recently, and the Whatsoever Circle, of Trinity church, had Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wood at the Y. M. C. A. rooms the other day. They both did their advertising exclusively in THE PRESS, and the attendances were remarkable in spite of the weather.

The entertainment at Seminary Hall, to-morrow evening, will be under the auspices of the Guild of Holy Cross church. The programme will be as follows:

PART I.

Marshall P. Wilder.

Piano Solo.....Miss Jeanie May
"The Chariot Race," from "Ben-Hur,"..Wallace
Miss Maude Agnes Bowers.
Mr. Wilder.
"Still as the Night".....Carl Bohm
Miss Emily S. Thompson.
"The Ruggles Family," (by request).....Wiggin
Miss Maude Agnes Bowers.
Mr. Wilder.

PART II.

A Farce, Wherein are Seen Plainfield Amateurs in "A BILIOUS ATTACK."

Mr. Job Jinniwin, (a bilious subject)....William
[L. Saunders
Capt. Marmaduke Myrtle, (of the "Royal Berk[shire Plungers,")
Walter M. McGee.
Mrs. Jinniwin.....Miss Annie Murphy
Betsy.....Mrs. Geo. C. Evans

Sudden Death of One Who Left Plainfield to go to War.

Joseph Gowrie, a well-known baker, living at 82 Elm street, Newark, was passing through Commerce street about eight o'clock Tuesday evening, and was seen by some passing pedestrians to stagger and fall. As he was well-dressed, and had every appearance of being sober at the time, those who saw him fall carried him to Dr. Gillin's office, at No. 118 Mulberry street, where he died almost immediately after being laid on a lounge.

No one present knew him and the body was taken to Woodruff's morgue in the police ambulance, and there it was soon identified. He was about fifty years of age, and County Physician Wrightson, who was summoned, gave it as his opinion that Gowrie had died of heart disease. Later on the remains were taken to his late home. Gowrie was a well known baker in this city in 1860 when he was but a young man. He had a shop on West Second street opposite what is now the Trinity church. He enlisted in the civil war with a number of brave Plainfielders, and never returned here.

The Boys' Club Over the Brook.

The boys of the "Warren Mission Boys' Society, No 2," met last night in the chapel. There were 27 of the 35 members present, and 12 new members joined by signing the pledge. "The Boys" elected the following who will hold office till January 1, 1891:

President—F. Moon.
First Vice President—A. L. Drake.
Second Vice President—J. Bassett.
Third Vice President—J. E. Pangborn.
Treasurer—V. Christofferson.
Recording Secretary—G. D. Johnson.
Corresponding and Financial Secretary—E. Fluck.
Steward—H. Conover.
Marshals—J. Shephard, W. Pearson.
Sergeant-at-arms—F. Kesslering, C. H. Stahl.

The meeting hour has been changed to 8 o'clock. Boys will please bear this in mind.

Mark the Difference.

While the Democrats are holding open meetings, and discussing vital and important issues before intelligent audiences, the Republicans of Plainfield are holding what they term "Receptions," where only the candidates and a selected few are invited. This is the old "Parlor Circle" system, which was so severely rebuked in municipal matters in this city a few years ago. Are they afraid have their candidate for Senator come before the public as did Hon. Fred. Marsh last evening, and boldly define his position? It looks so, and the honest Republican voter should so remember it next Tuesday. Another of these Republican "Receptions" is called for next Saturday evening.

Business Men's Meetings.

Morning prayer services in connection with the Mills' union meetings, will be held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, every day next week, from 7:30 to 8:20 A. M. The subjects and leaders will be:

Monday—"First Gave their Own Selves."—2 Cor. 8-5—Wm. D. Murray.
Tuesday—"Come el Them to Come in."—Luke 14-23—A. C. LaBoyteaux.
Wednesday—"God's Love."—John 3-16—Seely Edsall.
Thursday—"Limiting God."—Ps. 78 41—E. L. Suffern.
Friday—"What Must I do to be Saved?"—Acts 16, 30-31.—H. B. Munger.
Saturday—"Prayer for Friends."—Job 42-10—F. H. Andrews.

Women's prayer meeting, with the same topics, will be held at 2:45 P. M., in the lecture room of the First Baptist church.

"A HOWLING SUCCESS."

Holy Cross Choir Guild Entertain Friends Right Royally.

The pretty Sunday school building of the Holy Cross church was more than crowded last evening, by the many friends of the Choir Guild who had gathered to enjoy a complimentary entertainment prepared for their amusement, and which turned out to be one of the most thoroughly delightful performances this town has ever seen. The programme, as published in yesterday's PRESS, was carried out in every detail to the Queen's taste and showed, beside attractive numbers, the most perfect of management. The arrangement of the stage was a tasteful and dainty work and merited all the praise it received; dark red hangings set off by handsome rugs and a whole garden of chrysanthemums produced a very handsome effect. The glees sung by members of the Guild were very sweet and begun and ended the programme very appropriately. The baritone solos by Carl Dresselt and the tenor selections of Carl Maas were exceedingly well rendered, and the duet by these gentlemen was much appreciated. William Holmes sang "Anchored" with the delightful taste and clear articulation that always grace his singing. His duet, with Mr. Douglas, was also finely done. Masters Ned Waring and Herbert Schutt's excellent duet was as pretty as two pictures and won much applause. Mr. Pollock's flute solo and the piano duet of the Misses Northrup and Fine were charming, and with the other numbers formed a musical programme not often excelled.

The hit of the evening, however, was an original one-act farce by George Taggart, entitled: "A Howling Success," and its name was most appropriate. Honors were equally divided among the actors, George Taggart, Howard, Will and Tiffany Spencer, and between them the audience was kept in continual laughter. The "plot" of the piece, as the programme put it, was "anything you like" and was simply the framework to show off four very good character sketches—Howard Spencer as a Bowery Hebrew in the disguise of a countryman was splendidly made-up and his walk and smile were inimitable. Will Spencer in the role of a newsboy played his part for all it was worth and made a strong impression, and Tiffany Spencer in black-face, as "Calamity White," was capital. His negro character work was exceedingly clever and one hardly saw enough of it. The responsible party, George Taggart, whom we have laughed at before, did the part of Oscar Bilde with just the right amount of sang froid, and introduced a rhyme of his, "The King of the Sandwich Isles," which tickled the people immensely.

The arrangement and direction of the musical programme was done by G. E. Hasselmann, and he deserves unbounded praise for its grand success. The whole affair was under the management of the Entertainment Committee of the Guild, Henry Williams, chairman.

When You Want Good Water, Ask for Mr. Moore.

Bill Moore, a farmer out in Atchison, Kansas, wanted to dig a well, so he plowed a lot of land and planted it in oats Every day he watched the oats, observing the spots that showed the greatest moisture. Finally he selected a spot and sank a well. At twenty-four feet he had a fine stream of water. It is said to be the best well in the country. Other farmers in the same neighborhood have failed to find water at a depth of 200 feet. This was the method of a farmer who knew and trusted nature.

When Charles K. Moore, of Fanwood, wanted to dig a well, he hired a mysterious Russian with an uncanny divining-rod which in a twinkling pointed out the best supply-spot in the shape of a vast underground river, and which resulted in the boring of the best wells in the county, for Plainfield's water-works. This was the method of a man who had faith in the magnetic theory of a wonderful foreigner whose workings one could not understand, but could only appreciate.

As to methods, it seems that one can take his choice, but the moral is, when you want to dig a well first get your Moore.

Stanley Will Not Appear in Plainfield.

The following letter was received by E. B. Moore, President of the Young People's Union, St. James' M. E. church, Elizabeth, N. J., from Major James B. Pond, Manager for Henry M. Stanley:

EVERETT HOUSE, N. Y., Oct. 28, 1890.

DEAR MR. MOORE:—Parties in Plainfield have applied for Stanley, but nothing has been settled, and after discovering that it would interfere with the date in Elizabeth, I have notified the Committee in Plainfield that I cannot give them a date, stating that it would not be justice to you, as you were first to make the venture. Stanley is so expensive an attraction, that I cannot afford to place him in all the towns that are so nearly grouped together. New Brunswick is the only city in your vicinity where Stanley will appear this season.

Yours very truly,
J. B. POND,
Manager.

The truth about this matter was published in THE PRESS of yesterday. If the people of Plainfield want to hear Stanley, they should buy their tickets at once. For sale at H. P. Reynolds' pharmacy.

—Manager Hall has booked the well-known actress Miss Ada Gray for three nights and a matinee, at Amphion Hall, November 3, 4 and 5.

—The Democrats of North Plainfield will have a mass meeting, Friday evening, at the Gesang Hall, Somerset street. The speakers announced are the Hon. John P. Stockton, James Bergen, the nominee for Assembly, Wm. Keys, the nominee for Senator, and others.

RANKIN DOES THEIR PRINTING.

That's Why He's the Willing Tool of Railroad and Race Track—Some Interesting Revelations at a Rousing Democratic Rally.

The facts and arguments which the orators at last night's public meeting of the local Democracy presented to the people opened the eyes of more than one voter who previously had been trusting blindly and confidently in the candidates whom the Republican party are seeking to elect in the present campaign.

Amphion Hall was well filled with men of voting age. Most of them were of course stalwart followers of the party under whose auspices the meeting was held, but there were others, and not a few, who were of opposite political faith. Even these latter, however, were not long in becoming deeply interested in the things which they then heard and carefully thought about for the first time, and more than one outsider was persuaded that the Democratic candidates had excellent reasons for being strongly supported in their race for office.

Some of the men were accompanied by their wives, who seemed to relish the speech-making, and the cheers, and the inspiring music of the band, as much as did the veteran politicians.

James Martine, Plainfield's farmer-orator, as President of the Democratic Association called the meeting to order. On his motion Rowland M. Stover was unanimously chosen chairman, for which Mr. Stover expressed his gratitude.

Also on motion of Mr. Martine, the following additional officers, who were given seats of honor on the platform, were elected by a lusty shout:

Vice presidents—The Hon. Joseph W. Yates, the Hon. James Clark, the Hon. Robert L. Livingston, Tell A. Beguelin, Elmore D. Mottett, Leonard Spangenberg, Dr. Chauncey M Field, Gen. William H. Sterling, Otto Arens, Joseph S. Cutter, Louis F. Wadsworth, Seymour Marsh, Edward Conklin, John Dayton, C. J. Feytel, Joseph G. Miller, William L. Force, Vincent L. Frazee, George M. Phillips, Sydney E. Flower, Augustus P. Hotfield, Henry Liefke, William K. McClure.

Secretaries—Alburtus Swalm, W. Duncan Morgan, Lewis H. Brown, Peter Flynn, Charles Stover.

Honorary Vice Presidents from North Plainfield—Chas. Lyman, John Vetterlein, John H. VanWinkle, Elisha Corieli, Fred. Slater, John A. Thickstun, John H. Jackson.

Mr. Martine mentioned the name of the Hon. Jacob A. Geissenhainer, Democratic candidate for reelection to Congress, at which cheers resounded, and then read the following letter:

J. E. Martine, Esq.,

DEAR FRIEND:—Your kind note inviting me to be present at your meeting upon Wednesday evening, received. I regret exceedingly that a previous engagement will prevent me from being with you on that occasion. I extend congratulation to the Democrats of Union county on the outlook. The people of our State are awake to the issue—that unnecessary taxation is unjust taxation, and on this issue are rallying to the standard of the Democratic party. Thanking the citizens of Plainfield for their courtesy and consideration, I subscribe myself,

Yours fraternally,

J. A. GEISSENHAINER.

When the applause accorded Mr. Geissenhainer's sentiments had died away the Chairman introduced the first speaker of the evening, the Hon. Frederick C. Marsh, the Democratic candidate for State Senator, who was greeted with cheers and loud applause.

After telling why he was a Democrat—because of Democracy's true Jeffersonian principles, Federal unity, State sovereignty and personal liberty—Mr. Marsh devoted his attention entirely to the important local issues of the campaign, and discussed the personality of the several candidates. He advised the reelection of Geissenhainer to Congres because Mr. Geissenhainer had faithfully and uprightly served his party and the people during his last term. He advised the election of Alford B. Cook to the Assembly because Mr. Cook was an upright and honest man who would represent his constituents with the most upright zeal. He advised the election of William Hicks as Sheriff because Mr. Hicks was an honest man and would conduct the public business with the same probity of principle that had characterized his own business methods for the past thrity-five years, and rescue it from the partisanship grasp which had held it during the reign of the present incumbent.

On the Senatorial question Mr. Marsh was plainly outspoken, and took a fearless stand which won him much applause and admiration. The one great issue of the present senatorial campaign, he held, concerned the race-track problem, and he then reviewed his own record and that of his opponent, John C. Rankin, Jr., on this question.

The original bill presented before the Legislature last Winter was to regulate horse racing during the Winter season: for that bill he as Assemblyman had voted. Later the bill had been returned by the Senate to the Assembly, greatly mutilated by amendments, and with a new object in view—that of legalizing pool-selling, book-making, and other forms of gambling, at the tracks,

"Against this bill"—said Mr. Marsh—"I fought vigorously, and I was one of the six who out of sixty voted not to pass it. My record then is my platform now."

Loud and continued applause greeted this manly statement. Continuing, Mr. Marsh ventilated Mr. Rankin's history in the matter. When public feeling was first aroused against the bill, and the people of Elizabeth endeavored to hold a public meeting, they had asked Mr. Rankin to preside, as Mayor of the city, and show by his presence that he was opposed to the bill. He had refused to attend. Later he was asked to sign a petition against the bill, and again refused. He shirked his duty when he didn't preside; he shirked it when he didn't sign. Then he was appointed a member of a committee to go to Trenton to plead with the Governor not to sign the bill and make it a law. Again Mr. Rankin failed And yet he posed as Elizabeth's Reform Mayor!

But not content with thus skulking away from his duty—the speaker continued—Mr. Rankin had actually given his consent to the running of a gambling ring on the race-track at Elizabeth, in that he permitted his policemen to go to the track and prevent the officers of the State from gathering information for the indictment of the gamblers. And now he came out with a letter and straddled the whole question. He helped the race-track people in the past, and now refused to say that he wouldn't help them in the future. He was, quoting from his letter, "absolutely without engagements, either expressed or implied, with any individual or corporation, as to what his action should be with respect to the race courses or any other matter."

Groans were accorded this quotation, and Mr. Marsh continued to tear to pieces Mr. Rankin's remarkable letter, after which he explained away the charges the Republicans had made against himself. The charge that he was the attorney of the race track people and would work to their interests he pronounced unqualifiedly false. When the Jockey Club had first become incorporated he had conducted their legal business, just as he would conduct any other honest affair; had presented his bill, had been paid, a year and a half ago, and was no longer in their employ. The race track itself was a legal affair, incorporated to promote the breeding of horses and extend the practice of manly sport. The gambling feature was what ought to be suppressed, and he would always do what he could to aid in that suppression. In the Assembly he had fought against all such evils and had worked so hard and so continously in favor of measures for the public good, and against measures which would bring disaster to the people, that he had finally dropped at his seat in utter exhaustion, and had to be carried out by his colleagues. If elected to be Senator he would try to be as faithful a representative in the past.

At the close of his speech, which was frequently interrupted with applause, Mr. Marsh was given ringing cheers as "Our Next Senator."

R. V. Lindabury also made a ringing speech on the race track question. With him, he said, it was a question of morals, not politics. The effort of the race track people and the railroads was to make New Jersey a gamblers' paradise—a dumping-ground for the people who had been driven from New York and elsewhere. The gambling den on the Elizabeth track was doing great harm to the people of the State—placing the homes of the land in peril of great disgrace. The people of Plainfield did not appreciate what a great public wrong the race track had become—did not realize how many of their own sons were being dragged down into the depths by the evil. The young men—and not a few of the young women too—were being ruined by the fascination of gambling den. The bright sons of the land, in numbers perfectly appalling, were visiting, in secret, this great foul den, and were wrecking their manhood and wasting their substance. And it was against this vast evil that Mr. Marsh had taken a firm stand, and in favor of which Mr. Rankin seemed to be working.

"A young man of brilliant promise"—continued Mr. Lindabury—"had justly aspired to Senatoral honors on the Republican ticket. His name was Foster M. Voorhees"—and mention of the name was freely applauded. "But the manly way in which Mr. Voorhees argued against the race track gambling bill cost him his political life. The 'boss' from Camden saw to it that his hopes were blighted, after he had taken that firm stand. The 'boss" wanted the race track bill to pass because it would help his railroad, and as honest young Voorhees, with honest young Marsh, fought against the railroad and race track combination, young Voorhes had to die, politically."

And what was Rankin's position in the matter? That of a straddler, from beginning to end. When the matter had first come up, for the public to fight against, some representative citizens of Elizabeth had tried to have Rankin meet with them at his office to proceed to the office of The World and enlist that paper's services. Rankin had utterly failed to help them. So he had failed in subsequent proceedings, as Mr. Marsh had told. Plainfield's grand old man, Mayor Male, and Rahway's executive, Judge Hyer, had with hundreds of others willingly signed the protest against the bill, but Rankin had refused. Further, it was Rankin's deciding vote which granted from the Elizabeth Excise Board, a license to the bar and gambling ring, under the flimsy guise of "inn and tavern," on the Dwyer race track, and it was Rankin's police force which kept order in the betting ring instead of arresting the gamblers. Rankin had said that he wouldn't take any stand in the matter, and had said that if Gov. Abbett refused to sign the race track bill it meant Abbett's political death. Well, Abbett hadn't signed. He had done his duty at the request of pleading Democrats and Republicans alike, and the Republicans didn't want to forget.

But why was Rankin so friendly to the race track and the railroad? Because he was the race track's printer, and the railroad's printer! That was the little joker! Considerable of his income was from the Jersey Central Railroad Company, and from the Jockey Club. His imprint appeared on much of their work, and if he assisted these people to get the law they so much wanted he would get more printing and more income.

Mr. Marsh had fought hard against the race track bill before any public clamor was raised about it. He had repeatedly asserted that under no circumstances would he vote for it. He had fought against it till his long and arduous duties made him fall at his seat. Then, too sick to arise from his bed, but with the people's interests still dear to his heart, he had written to Governor Abbett the first letter the Governor ever received from anybody asking him to veto the race track bill and keep ruin from the firesides of our homes. The second letter was that from Judge VanSyckel.

Mr. Lindabury's excellent speech was given unstinted applause, as was also a stirring Democratic address by Prosecutor Charles H. Winfield, of Jersey City, on the general issues of the day.

During the evening candidates Cook and Hicks presented themselves and made a very favorable impression.

THEY ARE MISSING.

A New York Paper Says That Republican Repeaters Fail to Appear in Plainfield.

(From the New York Times.)

Registration under the new law has effected surprising results in the local lists of voters, and the Democrats are hopeful of cutting down to a great extent the big majorities which for years have operated to make Plainfield nominally a Republican stronghold.

Pormer election times have brought forward what has always seemed an extraordinary number of colored voters, all of whom voted the Republican ticket with a suspicious eagerness and many of whom could not be found after election till the next voting day came to hand. The present registration pretty effectually establishes the fact that many former Republican voters have been generous repeaters, voting as many times as there were polling places, under different names and addresses, and a study of the registry lists tends to verify the suspicion that many a negro in the adjoining counties of Union and Somerset has been accustomed to serve as a voter in various parts of the different townships with fictitious residences galore. The house-to-house registration developed many interesting facts. Last year and for several years previous twenty negroes registered annually from 13 Cottage place. The dwelling is a small one in the colored district, and this year the canvassers found no one at the place but three old woffien, who said they wouldn't have a man around. Whole blocks, which heretofore gave an abundance of professional ball t depositors, this year have only an ordinary number, and some scarcely any. One neighborhood, which has never failed to furnish scores of Republican votes, turns out to be a servant-girl colony, with no men of age whatever. Things which were hitherto not even suspected now seem plain as day, and the Democrats archly open their eyes at one another and say: "What has become of all the Republicans?"

It is quite evident that skillful frauds have been perpetrated in secret in times past by those who fear to continue such practices now, and it is further evident that the ballot-reform law in doing away with them will give the Democrats a chance for signal victory in this black Republican spot.

The Prohibitionists Talk of Testing the New Ballot Law.

The State Convention of the Prohibition party met in Masonic Hall in Trenton Tuesday morning, T. W. Burger, formerly of this city, chairman of the State Executive Committee, presiding. Nearly one hundred delegates were present. The principal features of the morning session was an address on the ballot-reform law by the Rev. Dr. Graw, editor of the Temperance Gazette. He admitted that some of its features were good, but denounced the clause requiring the signatures of 5 per cent. of the voters before the State will print ballots for any independent party like the Prohibitionists.

Reports were heard from the different counties of the State, showing that the Prohibitionists had made nominations for Congressmen and Senators everywhere and for the Assembly in many of the districts. The convention adopted resolutions indorsing the temperance issue as presented in previous State conventions, and approving the general tenor of the new ballot-reform law, but condemning those clauses which make it difficult and expensive for voters not affiliated with the Democratic or Republican party to record their preference at the polls.

A committee was appointed to consider the advisability of testing the law in the courts, the convention believing it unconstitutional in that it interferes with a free vote. Another resolution adopted sympathizes with the Women's Christian Temperance Union in its efforts to introduce scientific temperance instruction in the schools.

Jack and Jill each took a pill,
Old-fashioned kind—full grown:
Jack's went down—but with a frown—
Jill died from "cause unknown."

Smiles will supersede many frowns, and many discomforts will be unknown, when Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets entirely supersede, as they bid fair to do, the large and less efficient pill of our forefathers. Every day they gain new laurels! Most popular when most ills abound!

A Warning Voice---Read!

Out of the flood of human misery—its infirmities, diseases and sufferings—there rises a sure rock of hope that sufferers from physical and nervous ills can again be restored to sound health and perfect vigor by using that wonderful medical discovery, Dr. Greene's Nervura, the great nerve, brain and blood invigorator. It is the greatest boon ever given to suffering humanity, and its timely use saves thousands upon thousands of weak, nervous and discouraged sufferers from those awful and fatal results—BRAIN EXHAUSTION, HEART FAILURE, NERVOUS PROSTRATION, PARALYSIS, INSANITY or PREMATURE DEATH.

Neglect is dangerous, and all who feel that their nerves are weak or their nerve and physical force, power and energies are impaired in the slightest degree, should heed the warning voice, and by using this marvellous remedy be made sound in vitality of nerve and strength of body before it is too late. Dr. Greene's Nervura, which is purely vegetable and harmless, will be found the very best remedy to save the sick from disease and death.

YE BONANZA.

The Story of a New and Seductive Drink.

It was a gallant stranger
Of goodly height and weight,
Who wore a bale of whiskers
Most fierce to contemplate,
And eke an air of freshness
Brought from ye Golden Gate.

He came into my sanctum
One pleasant afternoon,
And hinted that we visit
Some neighboring saloon;
I made a bad exception
And went with him full soon.

When we arrived, ye stranger,
Who hail-ed from ye Coast,
Drew forth a yellow eagle,

And shouted to mine host:
"Ho! mix us two bonanzas,
We fain would drink a toast!"

Then did ye skillful mixer
Two bottles set in line,
Ye one containing brandy,
Ye other yellow wine,
And these two pleasant liquids
Proceeded to combine.

Ye stranger eyed ye compound
With sigh of deepest bliss;
Then down his hairy gullet
It slipped with gurgling hiss,
And I did cast a bumper
Into mine own abyss.

Then forth again we sallied
Into ye outer air,
When lo! this world seemed glorious,
This life a boon most rare,
And that bewhiskered giant
A man divinely fair!

Quoth I: "This same bonanza
Puts fire into ye heart.
Return with me, I prithee,
Unto ye liquor mart,
And I, as doth beseem me,
Will play ye buyer's part."

When next again we sallied
Into ye crowded street,
'Twas arm in arm we wandered

And lifted high our feet,
Ye while ye gracious pavement
Rose up our soles to meet.

Ye third time that we issued
From that accursed den
A change was wrought within us,
Defying tongue or pen.
Each fire plug seemed a hogshead,
Each man looked like to ten!

And still a fourth bonanza
Each poured into his face,
Which caused ye mighty buildings
All round about to chase,
And made ye streets and alleys
Tie up and interlace.

Anon ye swaying sidewalk
Grew rife with wriggling things;
With lobsters, pterodactyls,
And toads with fiery wings,
With blue and greenish devils,
And snakes with twisting stings.

That night within ye prison
I slept as sleep ye dead;

My right arm for a pillow,
An oak plank for a bed;
And when I woke ye morrow,
I wondered at my head!

Since then within my pocket
I bear a monstrous gun;
Perchance I may encounter
Again that Native Son;
And if he says "bonanza"
I'll either shoot or run!
—George Horton, in Chicago Herald.

THE BOWSERS.

Mr. B. Undertakes to Do the Family Washing.

R. BOWSER came home the other day and wanted the hammer for something. He found it in the kitchen, where the girl had been using it as a poker for the range. Mr. Bowser gave expression to his outraged feelings. The girl replied with a good deal of spirit, and after supper she got her wages and walked off. Had I been the cause of her going Mr. Bowser would have read me a lesson forty rods long. As he was the cause it was all right. He'd like to see the hired girl who could run his house while he lived—didn't propose to take "sass" from anybody — wished he had discharged her outright, etc.

All this happened on Monday. Tuesday is our wash day. I didn't think of it until after the girl had gone. Then I said to Mr. Bowser:

"You'll have to hunt around in the morning and get me a washwoman. It would have been better to let the girl stay a day longer."

"SAY, OLD MAN, YOU'VE HIT IT."

"Not a minute longer!"

"But about the washing?"

"I'll find a woman or do it myself."

After breakfast he took a walk through the locality where washwomen abound, but his quest was a vain one. He come back to the house about nine o'clock and said:

"Mrs. Bowser, I have decided to do the washing myself."

"You wash?"

"I will. I'll do it as a matter of principle. I don't propose to have this house upset because one hired girl gets her back up and quits."

"Let the washing go and I'll find a woman to do it."

"Not by a jug-full! That washing will all be on the line before noon!"

"Mr. Bowser, you can't wash; you will only rub the skin off your knuckles, lame your back, and make a great muss of it."

"I will, eh? That's all you know about it. Now, then, I don't want you to come fooling around. Don't you show your head in the basement until the last rag is on the line."

Mr. Bowser got into an old pair of pants and a vest, changed his boots for slippers, and disappeared down-stairs and at once started a fire. I knew what the result of his efforts would be, and while he was at the barn for wood I ran down and rescued most of the fine clothes. He didn't notice the fact, and in a few minutes had the water heating. He had seen clothes boiling, and the water was no sooner hot than he filled the boiler helterskelter. I heard him at it and started down-stairs to tell him that clothes must be rubbed first.

"Go right back," he yelled as I struck the first stair.

"But you are making a great mistake, Mr. Bowser, you shouldn't—"

"I know my business, and you go back. If I don't know more about washing in one minute than you do in a week I'll eat these sheets and tablecloths."

He boiled the clothes about half an hour, and then came up and rummaged around the pantry. I suppose he had read of some substance to put into the boiler to save rubbing, but he wasn't clear as to what it was. He therefore took a half-pound can of baking-powder and sifted it in to the last pinch. I heard him upstairs, and half-suspecting what he was after, ran to head him off, but too late.

"Mr. Bowser!" I called from the head of the basement stairs, "are you putting that sal soda into the boiler?"

"Sal—nonsense!" he growled in reply. "When I don't know my business I will apply for information!"

Mr. Bowser knew that bluing was part and parcel of the laundry business. He had even seen a tub of blue water. At what stage of the game this blue business came in he didn't know and he was too obstinate to inquire. He took the clothes direct from the boiler and sozzled them into a tub of cold water, and, not knowing how much of the blue to use, he decided to empty in the whole bottle and be on the safe side. He had a pretty fair quality of writing-fluid when the water was stirred up. At this point I called to him:

"Mr. Bowser, how far along have you got?"

"Don't you worry about me, Mrs. Bowser. I'll have the whole shooting match on the line in half an hour."

He put the wash-board into the blue tub and began to rub the clothes in the cold water. He might have had a faint suspicion that something had been left off the programme, but he made up for it in energetic rubbing. He went wash! wash! wash! for about twenty minutes, and then there was an awful flopping and splattering, as if a dozen ducks were playing in the water. He was rinsing the clothes. He wasn't over five minutes about it, and then he appeared in the back-yard with a basketful of clothes to hang on the line. At sight of him I had to sit down. The clothes were plum-blue, and Mr. Bowser was plum-bluer. "The Great and Only Tattooed Man" couldn't hold a candle to him. Just as he appeared in the yard a farmer's wife, who sells us eggs, opened the back gate and walked in.

"Good Lor'! but what is this?" she ejaculated, as she stood with open mouth.

"It's only me," replied Mr. Bowser; "I've been washing."

"Washing what? Why, man, you've spoiled every thing there, to the last rag! Is your wife sick, dead, or run off?"

"Aren't these clothes right?"

"Man! Man! but even a heathen would know better!"

Just then one of Mr. Bowser's down town friends drove through the alley in a buggy. He could see over the fence and when he saw Mr. Bowser he pulled up his horse so quickly that the animal almost fell.

"Is that you, Bowser?" he called.

"Y-yes."

"Well, what in the name of past ages are you doing?"

"Oh, n-nothing."

"Nothing! I'll bet ten to one you're fitting yourself for a museum freak. Say, old man, you have hit it! Just file your teeth to a point and you'll pass for a genuine cannibal!"

He drove on and the egg woman backed out of the gate and said:

"I've been furnishing you three dozen a week, and I've never missed a Tuesday, but I give you notice that I don't come no more. It would be taking chances. A man as is light in the head may be all right one day and werry violent the next. Love to your excellent wife, and I'm sorry for her."

Mr. Bowser entered the kitchen in three jumps. I sat there laughing until I could hardly breathe. He towered above me like a mountain over a mouse, and after choking and gasping for a minute he roared out:

"Mrs. Bowser, you have finally done it, haven't you?"

"What have I done?"

"What have you done! Got me to do the washing and give myself away for an infernal idiot! Look at me! Look at them duds in the yard!"

"Mr. Bowser, didn't I tell you not to try it? Didn't I do my best to keep you from trying it?"

"No! Never! You encouraged me to go ahead!"

"Mr. Bowser!"

"Don't Mr. Bowser me! This is the end! The worm turns! We'll settle matters this very day!"

But Mr. Bowser is still with me, and I have no doubt we shall live and die together.—Detroit Free Press.

A Matter of Race Pride.

Scientific Parent (on a stroll)—You see out there in the street, my son, a simple illustration of a principle in mechanics. The man with that cart pushes it in front of him. Can you guess why? Probably not. I will ask him. Note his answer, my son. (To banana peddler). My good man, why do you push that cart instead of pulling it?

Banana Peddler—'Cause I ain't a hoss.—Chicago Tribune.

Experientia Docet Non.

Ned Bunco (in alarm, checking his confrere)—Hold, Bill! Skinned that duck once—last year. I remember him well.

Bunco Bill—Well, what's the matter? Don't you suppose the man has earned any money since?—Life.

POOR BUT PROUD.

Tramp—Will you kindly assist an old man who has seen better days?

Lady—Would you like a little work?

Tramp—No, miss, the memory of better days prevents me from doing any manual labor!—Munsey Weekly.

ABOUT CORN JUICE.

The elder sister of Tom Jones, a student, calls at his room, and being nearsighted, mistakes his Indian clubs for bottles. She exclaims: "Dear me, I hope those bottles do not contain whisky. It is not conducive to health."

Tom Jones—Look here, sis, you can call those Indian clubs whisky bottles if you want to, but for heaven's sake! don't spring that old gag on me about their not being corn-juice-ive to health.—Texas Siftings.

SECRET SOCIETIES.

Masonic.

At the recent session of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky the Cerneau controversy was practically buried and Charles P. Hill, the recognized head of Cerneauism in Louisville, who had been expelled from the Blue Lodge for his connection with the rite, was unanimously restored by the Grand Lodge to all the rights and privileges of Masonry. The Grand officers elected for the ensuing year were: Charles H. Fisk, Covington, Grand Master; James A. McKenzie, Deputy Grand Master; John S. Smith, Richmond, Grand Senior Warden; James W. Staton, Brookville, Grand Junior Warden; John H. Leathers, Louisville, Grand Treasurer, and Henry B. Grant, Louisville, re-elected Grand Secretary.

Peace and harmony were the prevailing characteristics of the late session of the Grand Lodge of Illinois at Chicago. There was no important legislation and no disturbing questions presented. Six new lodges were chartered, and the net increase of membership for the year was 893, making the total number of affiliated Masons in the State in good standing 42,369. During the past year $22,146 was disbursed for relief of distressed brethren and the maintenance of the Masonic Orphans' Home.

A special convocation of the coordinate bodies of the Scottish Rite in the valley of Lyons, Iowa, will be opened Tuesday, November 18, at the Cathedral of the Rite. All the degrees, orders and grades from the fourth to and including the thirty-second degree will be conferred. Those having petitions to present should send them to E. A. Wadleigh, Grand Secretary, at once.

Odd-Fellows.

The grandest celebration that the order has had in the East for many years was at the laying of the corner-stone of the Orphans' Home at Worcester, Mass., last week. Fully 15,000 members of the order and Patriarchs Militant were present and made a brilliant show in the parade. Grand Sire M. C. Busbee was present and delivered a stirring address. The business houses along the line of march were handsomely decorated, and the sleepy old town put on its holiday attire to receive the thousands of visitors that attended the ceremony.

The Daughters of Rebekah of Illinois will hold the sixth annual State convention at Springfield November 19. An attractive programme is being prepared for the entertainment of the Rebekahs and an unusually large attendance is expected.

Order Eastern Star.

The session of the Grand Chapter of Illinois recently held in Chicago was made lively and interesting by the sharp and eloquent tongues of some of the leading sisters present. The business was of a routine character and the interest of the representatives centered in the election of officers and the exemplification of the floral work of the order. The principal officers elected for the ensuing term are: Sue M. Simpson, Peoria, Worthy Grand Matron; George F. Howard, Paris, Worthy Grand Patron; Mary A. Beale, Chicago, Grand Secretary, and Sue A. Saunders, Delevan, Grand Treasurer.

Ancient Order United Workmen.

The Grand Master of Illinois, C. R. Matson, has organized the lodges of that State into districts for the purpose of holding a series of union meetings during the winter, to discuss questions pertaining to the good of the order and to cultivate fraternal intercourse among the members. The movement is meeting with general favor and promises to be a great success.

There was a great gathering of Master Workmen in Boston last week who came together to discuss matters pertaining to the good of the order in the Bay State. The lodges which were represented pledged over a thousand new members before January 1, 1891. But five deaths were reported in August and only four in September.

The largest lodge of any secret order in the world is Detroit Lodge No. 6 of the United Workmen. It has nearly one thousand six hundred members, and at a recent meeting two hundred and seventy-three candidates were initiated.

Rhode Island reports nineteen thousand members in good standing with no assessment levied in September and none yet called for October.

Knights of Pythias.

Among the lodges of the order in Missouri there is great activity preparing for the coming session of the Grand Lodge. The year has been one of great prosperity among the lodges in that jurisdiction, and the members are arranging for a brilliant entertainment for the Grand Lodge representatives. A unique and handsome invitation has been issued to many prominent members of the order, and the event is looked upon as a great social feature among the citizens and members of the order in St. Louis.

National Union.

This order, which was organized in 1881, has now a membership of nearly thirty thousand, extending through Ohio, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin. Arrangements are now being made to establish the order in Nebraska, and the first council of the order has just been instituted at Lincoln. McDOUGALL.

He Meant a Bonanza.

Intoxicated Tramp (stopping Jay Gould on the street)—I shay, Misser Gould, can't you let a poor fellow have (hic) haffa dollar?

Mr. Gould (trying to slip by)—I haven't that much about me.

Tramp—Come now, Jayey, don't try to fool me. You know you're a reg'lar (hic) bogandyl—Texas Siftings.

—Spanish Stew: Boil one and one-half pounds steak till tender—boiling gently. Save the liquor. Next day cut the beef into small pieces, put in a saucepan with one teaspoonful of butter, one-half pint highly seasoned strained tomato sauce, and the liquor in which it was boiled, and let it simmer one-half hour. Just before dishing mash fine the yelk of a hard-boiled egg, stir into it one-quarter teaspoonful of curry powder and add to the stew.—Boston Budget.

—Imperial Cream Nectar: First, to one quart of water add one and one-fourth pounds loaf sugar, one and one-fourth ounces tartaric acid, one-fourth ounce gum arabic. Second, in another dish, one teaspoonful of flour, the whites of two eggs, beat finely together, then add one-fourth cup of water. When the first part is blood-warm, put in the second. Boil three minutes. To prepare the drink, three tablespoonfuls to each two-thirds glass of water, add one-third teaspoonful carbonate of soda. Stir well. Drink at your leisure.—Housekeeper.

—An Omelette for Two: Beat two eggs, yelk and white, together in a bowl until very light. In a cup put one teaspoonful of corn starch and a scant half-teaspoonful of new milk, adding the milk very slowly, beating as you drop the mixture into the eggs also. A little chopped parsley and onion juice to flavor it; a scrape of butter in the frying-pan, and, when it "sizzles," pour in the mixture and shake until it forms. Turn the frothing sides of the omelette with a spoon, continually, into the center of the pan. In two minutes it should be done. Fold it over and dish, by covering the pan with a plate, and then turning the pan upside down.

PASTOR KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

Had the Desired Effect!

CARROLLTON, GREEN CO., ILL., Nov., '88.
I highly recommend Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic to anybody that has suffered from headache as my son did for 6 years, because 2 bottles of the medicine cured him.
M. McTIGUE.

Saved Her Life.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Feb. 9, 1889.
This is to certify that my mother has suffered from nervous weakness for over 20 years. We have tried innumerable remedies and physicians, she also went to Germany for her health, spending in all thousands of dollars with only temporary benefit. At last we tried Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic and Elixir of Iron, and I honestly and sincerely believe that she not only received more benefit from them than all others combined, but would have died before this without them, as she was getting weaker every day, before we began with the above medicine.
DR. ROBT. F. EHNI, 774 Chapel st.

Our Pamphlet for sufferers of nervous diseases will be sent free to any address, and poor patients can also obtain this medicine free of charge from us.
This remedy has been prepared by the Reverend Pastor Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., for the past ten years, and is now prepared under his direction by the

THE RIGHT TO GIVE

Commissioner Roosevelt Settles a Vexed Question.

CLERKS MAY AID THEIR PARTY.

Forced Contributions by Intimidation Will Cause Trouble and Arrests.

Haughwout Howe Lives Only a Few Hours After His Marriage—The President's Trip to Indiana—Troubles of an Arkansas Postmaster—First Comptroller Matthews' Annual Report.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Commissioner Roosvelt said to-day that government clerks have a perfect right to contribute money to whichever party they prefer, without fear or favor, but they should not be compelled to so contribute. "There is no reason," he said, "why under a Republican Administration, all the contributions should be made to the Republican campaign fund, and under a Democratic Administration they should all go to the Democratic fund.

"The clerks are as much at liberty to contribute to one party as to another, and are perfectly free to make no contributions if they so prefer. Within the classified service the employes are under obligations to no party. Governor Thompson is a Democrat serving under this administration. He made a contribution to aid his party. I am a Republican. I aid mine. If we did not want to contribute we would not. No one can force a government employe to contribute. Nor, if he desires to contribute, compel him to contribute to this party rather than to that.

"This is all there is in the question, except that no employe shall solicit, directly or indirectly, from any other employe, and none shall give political assessments to or take them from another employe.

"If there are political clubs of which government employes are members, there is no reason why they should not be Democratic as well as Republican; but any of them will be prosecuted if we have evidence of their trying to force contributions by intimidation."

CONCLUDED TO RESIGN.

An Arkansas Postmaster Who Had a Varied Experience.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The postmaster at Donladson, Ark., after a varied experience concluded to resign. The postmaster was objectionable to some citizens in the vicinity of the postoffice because he was a Republican. In a letter to the Postmaster-General he says:

"Yesterday I was knocked down and kicked and stamped. I began to think I was used up. We have compromised and I have agreed to resign. I am told that will settle the whole matter. I am truly glad to get away from here. These people know not what they do."

Colonel Whitfield, the First Assistant, will send an inspector to Donaldson, and if he finds that the postmaster has been driven out of the town, will direct the postoffice to remain closed.

The Spanish Minister's Recall.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—It is announced upon the highest authority that there is no truth in the report that Senor Muruaga, the Spanish Minister, was recalled at the request of Mr. Blaine. On the contrary, the relations between Mr. Blaine and Senor Muruaga have been of the very pleasantest character, and the Secretary of State was the first to express regret at his recall. The only reason for the recall of Senor Muruaga is the change of administration at Madrid.

The Request Denied.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—A decision has just been rendered by the Treasury Department denying a request to draw into smaller packages a cask of brandy now in bonded warehouse, to prevent deterioration and leakage, on the ground that the law authorized only the repacking of drugs, medicines and chemicals in bond. Permission was granted, however, to transfer the liquor to a single package.

The First Comptroller's Report.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—First Comptroller Matthews has submitted his annual report to the Secretary of the Treasury. The accounts of warrants received amounted to $589,997,228, while those for accounts and settlement aggregated $644,500,824. He recommends that some definite time be named when accounts against the Government may be treated as settled.

Million Dollar Capitol for Rhode Island.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 31.—The State House Commission has decided that Rhode Island needs a million dollar capitol. A prize of $500 is offered to each of the best three designs received from Rhode Island architects. These three architects will compete with not more than six architects outside of the State. Then the best plan of all will be accepted. Alfred Stone, William R. Walker and Howard Hoppin will arrange the conditions of the competition.

Sued the City for $40,000.

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., Oct. 31.—Papers were served on City Clerk Stevens by Deputy Sheriff Johnson of Salem, in a suit for $40,000 against the city of Newburyport, brought by John A. Douglass on an action of contract. Douglass recently completed the sewerage system in Newburyport. He alleges that the city broke the contract and claims days wages from the beginning to the completion of the job.

Shot Himself in the Head.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—Oscar Galinski, a member of a lithographing firm doing business at 105 Beekman street, New York shot himself in the head at Green's Hotel, this city. He died instantly.

CREATED A SENSATION.

Bishop Cleary Speaks for Separate Schools and Ridicules the Newspapers.

KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 31.—Archbishop Cleary, who has just received the pallium, created a sensation last night by his reply to an address from school children. He referred to the recent election, which was run on the separate school question, and said:

"The right to control the education of our youth we will never surrender to any man—to Premier, to Governor-General, to Queen, to any one. Never, never."

The newspapers he said, confounded religion with politics and seemed to rule the world, but he did not care a button what they said. The Archbishop in conclusion said:

"Catholics are being persecuted in pious, evangelical Ontario, by unctuous, evangelical, sanctimonious ministers who call themselves preachers of the Gospel, but who know nothing about it. In the Province of Ontario separate schools are in the constitution, and the constitution must go, confederation must go, the Dominion of Canada must go before we give up separate schools."

SEEKING A BIGAMIST.

Five Brothers of a Victimized Woman on the Warpath.

LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. 31.—Charles F. Mowry, a piano tuner, formerly of this city, is now being hunted by five Western men, who threaten to kill him on sight. Mowry deserted his wife something more than a year ago, went to Little Rock, Ark., and secured an excellent position with a musical instrument firm in that city. He associated with the wealthiest people in the place, and soon held a good position in society.

He won the good graces of Miss Wardlow, the daughter of a very respectable family, and persuaded her to marry him. Soon after the wedding the two left Little Rock and went to Fort Worth, Texas, to live. They were there some time and went thence to San Antonio, where Mowry secured a position. They lived in that place until two weeks ago, when Mowry fled after the story of his bigamy became known to his wife and her family.

The victimized woman has become a raving maniac on account of Mowry's perfidy. R. N. Wardlow, her brother, a prominent citizen of St. Louis, is in this city seeking information of Mowry's whereabouts. Four other brothers are on Mowry's trail, threatening to kill him. His legal wife has not heard from him for a long time.

BURIED IN A SACK.

The Body of a Murdered Child Found by Dogs.

SCRANTON, Oct. 31. — While George Breen and a companion were hunting with guns and dogs near Forest City, their attention was attracted by the barking of their dogs.

On investigating they found a large, flat stone turned up to cover a hole in the side of a hill, in which was a sack. Drawing it out they found inside the sack a body of a child. A mark on the head showed where the blow had been struck which killed it.

The body had evidently been in the hole about a week, and decomposition had set in. The authorities are investigating the mystery.

New York's Mayor Appeals Again.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Governor Hill, Mayor Grant and a number of prominent Democratic leaders held a conference last night at the Hoffman House on the city census question. Shortly afterward Mayor Grant forwarded a long letter to Secretary Noble, in which he says the enumeration made by the Federal enumerators does not do justice to New York city, and submits further proof to show that the figures of the Federal census are not correct, and hopes a recount will be made.

Increased the Price of Gas.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 31.—The directors of the Philadelphia Natural Gas Company decided to increase the price of gas to private consumers 50 per cent. The advance will go into effect December 1. The increase decided upon will make the rate 20 cents per 1,000 feet, with five cents off for cash payment, or 15 cents per 1,000 feet.

Cardinal Manning Very Feeble.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Cardinal Manning, in replying to the address presented to him by the Jewish bodies of Great Britain in honor of his ecclesiastical jubilee, impressed every one present with sorrow at his rapidly growing feebleness. The venerable prelate retained a standing position during the delivery of his reply with great difficulty, and his utterance was slow and tremulous. In the course of his remarks he declared that there were only three lasting elements—history, the man of Israel and the Catholicity of the world.

The President's Trip to Indiana.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—It is expected that the President will leave here Sunday night or very early Monday for Indiana. He will arrive at his home Monday evening, vote on Tuesday at the State election, and, as now arranged, will leave Indianapolis on Tuesday evening for Washington.

WILL NOT ARBITRATE

Every Prospect of a Strike in the Coke Region.

17,000 MEN MAY BE INVOLVED.

The Knights of Labor Say It is a Fight for Supremacy.

Their Action Causing Unfavorable Comment—The Reinstatement of a Foreman Demanded—Syracuse Workingmen Join the Tailors in Their Trouble—Telegraphers Receive Orders Not to Strike.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., Oct. 31.—The requisite six day notices have now all been served on General Manager Lynch of the Frick Coke Company from every one of the company's plants, and there is every prospect of a strike of 10,000 workmen if the Tip Top committeeman, Verostics, is not reinstated by Monday.

Master Workman Kerfoot said to-day: "If we are forced to a strike at the Frick works we will immediately call the whole region out. There are 16,000 ovens in the region, and it would involve about 17,000 men. This fight for supremacy between the Knights of Labor and the Frick Coke Company may as well come now as ever."

General Manager Lynch of the Frick Company says that Verostics was justly discharged, and offers to leave the question with a jury or judge to decide. The Knights decline the acceptance of this proposition, and their refusal is causing considerable unfavorable comment.

A STUBBORN STRIKE.

Every Branch of Organized Labor Helping the Syracuse Tailors.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Every branch of organized labor in Syracuse have taken up the cause of the tailors here who have been on strike about three weeks. The local union has sent nearly a hundred tailors back to New York after they had come here to take the places of the strikers.

This is the first time in years that all branches of organized labor, the trades unions and the Knights of Labor, have joined hands in supporting the individual trouble of a union or assembly. Up to a few days ago the tailors fought single-handed and did not ask for assistance. But the other branches of organized labor have made the cause of the strikers their own.

The strong opposition of the employers to organized labor has brought the trades unions and the Knights of Labor into harmony in standing by the strikers. It is almost impossible to get a garment promised by the merchant tailors here.

Telegraphers Will Not Strike.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—There will be no strike by the Brotherhood of Telegraphers at present. Grand Master Johnson of Louisville has issued an order that all members of the order must remain at work. Those who went on strike at St. Paul and other cities are commanded to return to their employment, and those who have been discharged for their connection with the organization are urged to regain, if possible, their situations with the company.

The South Hampstead Murder.

LONDON, Oct. 31. — Interest in the South Hampstead murder case is deepening, and Hogg, the husband of the murdered woman, is rapidly getting himself entangled in the circumstantial meshes which the police are knitting. The man has an unbridled tongue which he is using to its full capacity in criminating himself by the variety of improbable stories he tells. The statement that he has made a full confession is premature, but in a fragmentary way he has told enough to convince the police of his complicity in the crime and his arrest is hourly expected.

An Old Ship Broker Dies Suddenly.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—John Norton, senior member of the firm of John Norton & Co., ship and freight brokers at No. 90 Wall street, died suddenly during the morning. He was well known in shipping circles, and had been engaged in the brokerage business for the last 45 years.

Received a Light Sentence.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 31.—Stephen McDermott, found guilty of criminal assault on a six-year-old girl, was sentenced to nine months in the Providence county jail.

An Old Bank President Dead.

NORWICH, Conn., Oct. 31.—Franklin Nichols, president of the Thames National Bank, is dead, aged 95. He had been engaged in banking business for over half a century.

Mr. Blaine to Speak in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—Secretary of State James G. Blaine will address a meeting here to-morrow.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.

Royal Baking Powder
ABSOLUTELY PURE

LOOKING FOR THE COLONEL.

Steps Taken to Find the Man Who Wrote the Letter to Birchall.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Oct. 31.—The excitement over the letter from Jackson, Mich., signed "Colonel," still continues. At first it was thought that it was written by Birchall himself, smuggled out of the jail and mailed over the border, but several experts have examined the letter and say the handwriting is not at all like Birchall's. Jailer Cameron and Turnkey Forkes say emphatically that such a letter could not have have left the jail without their knowledge.

Steps will be taken to ascertain who the individual in Jackson who wrote the letter is, and samples of the handwriting of the prisoners in Jackson State prison will be obtained if possible, as it is suspected that the writer may now be doing time there.

Birchall's lawyers have asked Mr. Stevens of Montreal to give them as minute a description as possible of the man described by him as the "Colonel."

BOILER EXPLOSION.

Four Persons Fatally Injured and Several Others Slightly Scalded.

ALTOONA, Pa., Oct. 31.—A serious explosion occurred at the rolling mills of the Portage Iron Company, located at Duncansville, seven miles south of Altoona, shortly after 8 o'clock last night. One of the three large boilers in the ten-inch mill exploded from an unknown cause and the reports could be plainly heard for miles around.

Those fatally injured are: James Weaver, aged 28, badly scalded, skull fractured and cut about the face: Samuel Flick, fireman, aged 48, married, scalded about the face and body; William Miller, aged 30, married, badly scalded; Theo. Orth, puddler, scalded and horribly mangled. Several others whose names are unknown were slightly scalded.

RESENTS AN INDIGNITY.

Governor Campbell Resigns from the Well-Known Duckworth Club.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 31.—The Duckworth Club of this city, one of the most influential Democratic organizations in the West, passed resolutions censuring Governor Campbell for his action in demanding the abolition of the old Board of Public Improvements. The resolutions were mailed to the Governor and the following reply was received:

GENTLEMEN:—I have heard with surprise and sorrow that the Duckworth Club of Cincinnati has formally censured me for performing an official duty of the gravest nature. No self-respecting man desires to be affiliated with those who could perpetrate such an indignity upon him. I therefore tender my resignation as a member of your club.

JAMES E. CAMPBELL.

Probably Sunk With All on Board.

SOMERS' POINT, N. J., Oct. 31.—Fears are entertained that the schooner John Lingo, brick laden, from Haverstraw, N. Y., for Atlantic City, N. J., has foundered with all on board. Capt. Somers Ireland of Linwood, N. J., and mates John Milton and Joshua Smith are all young men and well known throughout Atlantic County. The vessel passed Sandy Hook outward bound more heavily laden than ever before on the same evening that the late heavy storm commenced.

Struck by a Whirlwind.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 31.—A whirlwind from the northwest struck Narragansett Bay off Cowesset last night. The schooner Maggie Cummins from New York, which had discharged her cargo of corn, was sailing down the bay light. The whirlwind struck her and she turned side up, but did not sink. The crew narrowly escaped drowning.

An Old Railroad Officer Dead.

RONDOUT, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Anthony Benson, treasurer of the Ulster & Delaware Railroad Company since its organization, is dead, aged 74 years. He had been treasurer and secretary of the Rondout Savings Bank for 20 years and also vice-president of the First National Bank of Rondout. Deceased was well known in banking and railroad circles.

Count D'Auxy Dead.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Edward Charles Femand Edouard Count D'Auxy, died in the apartments of the Duke and Duchess D'Auxy at the Pavilion Hotel, New Brighton, Staten Island. Count D'Auxy came to New Brighton from Belgium last May. He was suffering from gastritis, and his journey to America was principally for his health.

Public Bequests.

LYNN, Mass., Oct. 31.—The public bequests of Mrs. Lydia Rhodes of this city, widow of Amos Rhodes, are as follows: Second Congregational Society, Lynn, $3,000; Lynn Home for Aged Women, Lynn Public Library and the Lynn Hospital, $2,000 each; $30,000 for the erection of a Rhodes memorial chapel in Pine Grove Cemetery.

A Train Crashes Through a Hotel.

HUNTINGTON, Pa., Oct. 31.—A coal train on the Pennsylvania road ran on a misplaced switch at an early hour and crashed through the Hotel Brunswick, creating a panic among the guests, and landed in the yards of the Girard House and Jackson House. The loss to the railroad company's rolling stock is $25,000.

Died from Exposure.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 31.—Searching parties who were hunting for Captain William Shacklen of Copicut, who went gunning Tuesday and had not returned, have found his body. He was 70 years old and a large land holder in Copicut, and is thought to have died of apoplexy and exposure.

STANLEY EXPLAINS

Waiting for His Enemies to Tell What They Know.

THE REAR COLUMN WRECKERS.

His Charges Against the Officers Based on Their Own Reports.

Seamen Preparing for the Threatened Strike—An Opinion on the Behring Sea Question—Cardinal Manning Very Feeble—Mrs. O'Shea Will be Her Own Lawyer—Emin's Expedition Advancing.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The Times this morning has the following interview with Henry M. Stanley, who was seen on board the Teutonic at Queenstown.

Mr. Stanley was shown the second installment of Lieutenant Troup's interview in Boston. He read it carefully and said it contained only general charges which might have been expected, but which called for no further explanations from him.

The reporter asked if he did not desire to give the facts which the public was asking for.

"All I desire to say is if the reports which are about to be published by the officers differ in any important sense from the official reports which they furnished me, I shall feel bound to publish fully the official reports which are now in my possession."

"Does not the interview with Lieutenant Troup differ from his official report, Mr. Stanley?"

"Lieutenant Troup's statements are very general, and do not touch the real point at issue. He says he is waiting for me to bring the charges. I intend to make no charges until I find whether the officers of the rear column stultify themselves by publishing reports differing from their official statement to me. The officers of the rear column are at perfect liberty to publish any details of the expedition they think proper, but I do not think that Lieutenant Troup is explaining anything by these vague general charges, nor by the violent and intemperate language he has used will he exonerate himself."

"Do you know why the officers of the rear column appeared to be animated by ill feeling toward you, Mr. Stanley?"

"Yes, it is easy to explain. It must not be forgotten that the cause of the controversy is the violent resentment the officers of the rear column have against the general censure cast upon them in my letter to the Emin Pasha Relief Committee in August, 1888. It was written by me fresh after hearing the horrible details of the wreck of the column. I wrote that the rear column was wrecked by the irresolution of the officers, the neglect of their promises and their indifference to the interest of the expedition. I cannot now modify that censure. Now, the duty of one and all of the surviving officers is to tell their stories plainly and simply, and the public may have the chance of judging whether my view of their conduct is too harsh or unjust. That is all I have to say."

READY FOR THE FIGHT.

The Struggle Between the Seamen's Union and Employers Will Soon Commence.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Special meetings of the Seamen's Union branches are being held in London, Liverpool, Bristol and Cardiff. The men are determined to make a fight to the last against the refusal of employers to discharge non-union men, and they expect the sympathy and aid of the Dockers' Union in their struggle.

The Shipping Federation has been making active preparation for the strife, and now has free labor offices open in all the principal cities and towns, at which many applications have been received for employment.

Home Secretary Matthews has promised to see that the police do their duty in the event of any unlawful interference with non-union laborers.

Eleven unions, embracing 400,000 members, compose the new Dockers' Federation. The organization is complete in the matter of detail and the discipline of the men is said by the leaders to be admirable. The Federation intends to raise a fund by levying an assessment of sixpence upon each member, and the proposition has been received by the men with a degree of enthusiasm promising the speedy accumulation of a formidable financial bulwark against the assaults of the strikers' most potent adversary, destitution, in the event of a general revolt against the employers.

Stanley's Charges Against Barttelot.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Mr. Herbert Ward, the explorer, says he knows nothing about the alleged facts upon which Mr. Stanley based his insinuations against Major Barttelot, himself and others. He lived with Barttelot for many months and was not aware of anything that would detract from his character as an officer and a gentleman.

Behring Sea Question.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Commenting on the Behring Sea question, the Times this morning thinks the question of mare clausum, which Mr. Blaine appears to throw into the background, must be dealt with before any progress is possible. When this question is settled England is perfectly ready to co-operate with America.

Emin Pasha's Expedition.

ZANZIBAR, Oct. 31.—Matters have been received from the Emin Pasha expedition stating that all are well and that the expedition is making a steady advance.

Will be Her Own Lawyer.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Mrs. O'Shea, her friends say, has become strongly determined to conduct her part of the approaching divorce trial in person.

A BRIDE OF A DAY.

Haugwout Howe Dead and His Remains Taken to New York This Morning.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—A widow today and a bride yesterday is the sad story of the wedded life of Mrs. Haughwout Howe, nee Miss May Butterworth, daughter of Congressman Butterworth.

For several hours after the wedding Mr. Howe rested easily. Suddenly he became delirious and fancied he was on his wedding trip.

In the morning an attempt was made to quiet him by an injection of morphine, and this was accomplished only after a struggle.

Mrs. Howe, who, with Mrs. Roosa, Mr. Howe's mother, and Mr. Magruder had remained with him during the night, went to her home for breakfast, after her husband became quiet. She returned about half past nine and remained at his bedside until the end.

Nine years ago Haughwout Howe figured in a romance in New York which created a social sensation. He met and fell in love with Marie Vandyke, the pretty daughter of Professor Elie Charlier, a well-known educator of that city. The Professor was furious when he learned the facts and ordered Marie to leave the house.

The couple were married, however, and for a season were happy, but they finally quarreled and in 1888 Mrs. Howe secured a divorce on the grounds of cruelty and desertion.

Services over the remains of Mr. Howe took place this morning at 10 o'clock in the building leased for the use of the Pan-American Conference. Dr. Bartlett, who performed the marriage ceremony for Mr. Howe and Miss Butterworth, conducted the services. At 11 o'clock the body was taken to the railroad station and the funeral train left for New York.

The Poll-Tax Cases.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Oct. 31.—In the poll-tax cases in court defense claimed that the action was a political measure and asked a continuance until after the election which was granted. These are the test cases in which the Republicans claim that persons having their poll taxes paid by the Democratic City Committee are not entitled to vote.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Gov. Brackett of Massachusetts has appointed November 27 for Thanksgiving Day.

Owing to the new Tariff law of the United States one thousand weavers in Silesia are idle.

It is said that Count von Moltke has refused the dukedom tendered him by Emperor William.

The Count of Paris had a narrow escape from death by missing his footing on a moving train at Plattsburg, N. Y.

Tommy Miller of Indianapolis, has signed articles to fight Tommy Warren for $1,000 a side at New Orleans, November 22.

Charles Duncombe of Keeler, Mich., has filed suit against Congressman Burrows for payment of a $10,000 note which he holds against him.

The monument erected at the Annapolis Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., to commemorate the heroism of the officers and men of the Jeannette who shared a melancholy fate in the Arctic expedition of 1879, was unveiled during the morning with appropriate ceremonies.

A dispatch from Berlin says that Prof. Koch has fully perfected his plan for the cure of consumption by inoculation. The mode of treatment is said to have received the unqualified approval of many of the leading German physicians, who until very recently scouted the idea.

The Boston freestone cutters who have maintained a strike against the combined contractors and master builders for eight months, during which time they have raised and distributed $11,000 relief money and have had only five deserters from the 350 men who went out, last night met and voted to declare the strike off.

Capt. Comiskey of Chicago has been unable to get together his ball team and the California trip is off, for the present at least. Players who had promised to go kept the wires busy explaining how it would be impossible to get away. The result was that Comisky had no choice but to declare the whole thing off. His California partner, Jack Crooks, has gone to St. Paul.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—For New England and Eastern New York: Colder; fair weather; westerly winds.

For New Jersey: Fair weather and colder, westerly winds.

For Western New York: Colder; northwesterly winds, and occasionally light showers or flurries of snow.

The Presbyterian Synod of New Jersey recently unanimously decided to protest and vote against any Assemblyman or Senator nominated who would not pledge himself decidedly against all legislation to permit or protect race track gamblers. Consequently the Rev. Dr. Ketcham's and the Rev. Mr. Richards' people will understand that their two votes will not be cast for Mr. Rankin.

THE DAILY PRESS.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

A social party is to be held at the residence of George Shay, Terrell road, Fanwood, on Saturday evening.

The funeral services of Mrs. Henry A. Lee, who died Wednesday evening, will be held to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock, at 5 First place.

James E. Martine, Governor Leon Abbett, and Senator Edward F. McDonald were the speakers at the Democratic ratification meeting in Elizabethport, last night.

The Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, pastor of the First Baptist church of Plainfield, preached the annual sermon at the New Jersey State Baptist Convention at Camden, Wednesday.

Howard Gray, for many years a resident of this city during his connection with THE CONSTITUTIONALIST, is just now rejoicing over the coming of a baby boy to his home in Norwich, Conn.

Plenty of New Voters in Plainfield.

The complete registration in city and borough shows a considerable gain in the number of voters. Yesterday the Court of Common Pleas met at Elizabeth and revised the lists. A number of names were presented and by order of the court were placed on the books in the several districts. The court also ordered that several who were complained of as being legally entitled to vote be summoned to show cause why their names should not be stricken from the lists. The following gives the number registered in Plainfield in 1889, the number registered this year before the lists were submitted to the Court, and the number registered as legal voters after yesterday's revision:

PLAINFIELD.

| | 1889 | 1890 | 1890 Revised |
|---|---|---|---|
| First ward | 584 | 591 | 591 |
| Second ward | 545 | 592 | 593 |
| Third ward | 417 | 494 | 491 |
| Fourth ward— | | | |
| 1st district | 386 | 472 | 472 |
| 2d district | 348 | 396 | 413 |
| | 2,280 | 2,545 | 2,560 |

In North Plainfield 564 have been registered in the First District, and 438 in the Second, making a total of 1,002. The total vote cast in the entire township last year was only 729.

We May Have Street Cars Yet.

The projectors of one of the street railway companies who have applied to the City Common Council for a franchise to operate a line in Plainfield visited this city yesterday and drove in carriages from Roberts's stables over the route they have selected for their line. The trip was mainly for the purpose of exhibiting to their constructing engineer, who accompanied them, the distance to be covered and to give him an idea of what will be the requirements of construction. The company has not yet deposited with the Secretary of State the guarantee which must be given before the Council can take official action in the matter. It may be that the deposit will be made before Monday night, and it may be that on Monday night the Council will grant a franchise to another concern altogether. The company that visited Plainfield yesterday plans to operate its line by electricity, by the unsightly overhead wire system.

The Rev. Dr. Yerkes, of this city, at the Baptist convention in Camden, yesterday, was chairman of a committee to protest in the name of 38,000 Baptists of New Jersey against the re-enactment of the laws to legalize pool-selling and book-making. So his congregation will know that he votes for the Hon. Fred. C. Marsh who has already gone through one fight on just that side.

Councilman Smith Has His Shooting Clothes On.

E. E. Teeple of South Plainfield, having won the silver cake basket that was shot for several times at Campbell's club house, thought his new Ithaca gun was sure of holding all local championships, and under that delusion issued a challenge to T. H. Brantingham to shoot a match for $10 at 10 live birds (31 yards' rise, 50 yards' boundary, and one barrel), which Mr. Brantingham accepted. R. B. Manning was stakeholder and judge. The money was depositated the evening of the cake basket victory, and the match was shot yesterday. The following was the result:

|---|---|
| Brantingham | 1 0 0 0 1 1 1 1 1 x—6 |
| Teeple | 1 0 1 0 1 0 0 0 x x—3 |

Mr. Brantingham therefore won by killing his ninth bird. He also killed two which fell dead just out of bounds.

Then there was a small sweep shot, $1 entrance, two moneys, at three birds:

| | |
|---|---|
| Brantingham | 1 1 1—3 |
| Manning | 1 1 0—2 |
| Teeple | 0 1 0—1 |

The balance of the afternoon was spent by the club in sweepstake shooting at targets, 25 cents entrance, at six blue rocks. The following are the scores:

First Event—A. R. Soper won first money with six killed; Manning and Smith won second money with five killed; Teeple and Brantingham won third money with four killed.

Second Event—Soper and Brantingham won first money with six killed; S. G. Smith won second money with five killed; Teeple won third money with four killed.

Third Event—Teeple won first money with six killed; Brantingham won second money with five killed; Manning, Smith and Soper won third money with four killed.

Fourth Event—Soper and Smith won first money with six killed; Manning won second money with four killed; Teeple and Brantingham won third money with three killed.

Fifth Event—Brantingham won first money with six killed; Smith won second money with five killed; Teeple and Soper won third money with four killed.

Sixth Event—Manning, Brantingham and Smith tied for first money with six killed. They shot at six birds on the tie, and Brantingham and Smith divided by breaking five each. Teeple and Soper tied for second money with three killed. They shot off the tie and Teeple won.

A large gathering witnessed the shoot, and the occasion was very enjoyable to all.

No More Lottery Money by Express for Plainfield.

Harry F. Skiff, Manager for the United States Express company in this city, is a most affable gentlemen for his patrons or anyone else to meet. A PRESS reporter interviewed him yesterday on the order recently issued by the company to all of its superintendents and agents forbidding them to receive or forward any lottery tickets or advertisements, or any packages which they had reasonable ground to believe contained such articles or money intended for the purchase of lottery tickets.

The reporter learned that the Adams Express company has taken the opposite ground, that it has no right to inquire about or suspect the character of packages offered to it for carriage. The consequence of this is that nearly all of the lottery business today is being carried by the messengers of the Adams Express company, and its agents are receiving and distributing the money and lottery tickets of the Louisiana State Lottery throughout the Northern States. If the Adams Express company were to issue the same orders that have been issued by the United States Express company, the business of the Louisiana Lottery would be at once almost entirely confined to the city of New Orleans.

Manager Skiff says that to the company this step, it is said, means a sacrifice of $100,000 worth of business annually. This is a large sum, but undoubtedly the express people will, in the end, be amply repaid for whatever temporary loss they may sustain.

Brings Tears to the Eyes of All.

The Savannah News, one of the safest critics of the Southern press, speaks as follows of Miss Ada Gray, who is to appear at Amphion Hall Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week:

"The play of 'East Lynne' is one of the most pathetic and emotional to be found in the modern drama, and always attracts a good house. The theatre, therefore, was well filled last night with an audience to witness the play, and to see Miss Ada Gray in the leading parts of Lady Isabel and Madame Vine. From the first the interest of the audience was awakened, and kept enchained until the close. Miss Gray portrayed with great effect the beautiful, jealous and loving wife, and the repentant, heart-broken woman. At the close of the last act she received practical recognition of her genius by a copious flow of tears throughout the auditorium."

Charge your mind with the fact that Hires' Cough Cure is the remedy you want should you have a cough or cold. It is pleasant to take, harmless and effective. Always reliable. No opium or poisonous drugs in its composition.

The Rev. Dr. E. M. Bodman, rector of Grace Episcopal church, is one of the Plainfield clergymen who signed the war note against race track gambling that was read in all the pulpits in Union county, Sunday the 19th inst. Count his vote therefore for the Hon. Fred. C. Marsh, and also the votes of Dr. Hurlbut, Dr. Lewis and the Revs. Schenck, Taylor, Ditts, Goodrich, Simpson, and Leonard it is just to suppose.

ANOTHER REPUBLICAN APPEALS.

The Rev. George F. Greene Asks John C. Rankin to Speak Out.

The following is an open letter to Republican Senatorial candidate Rankin, from the Rev. George F. Greene, of Cranford, a life-long Republican. The letter was sent to the Elizabeth Journal which professes to be an enemy of the race track, but that paper declined to publish it. The Republicans are dumbfounded at the suicidal action of Mr. Rankin and the foolish course of the Journal.

Hon. John C. Rankin, Jr.:

MY DEAR SIR—Before deciding to vote for you though I am and always have been a Republican, I shall await a clear and direct declaration from you to the public concerning your attitude on the question of legalizing book making.

Everybody knows where Mr. Marsh stands. The public is not so enlightened concerning you. Your letter in last Saturday's Journal is very unsatisfactory in just this respect: It is neither fish nor fowl. And the precise objection to your attitude is this, not that you are a friend to the race tracks, or are opposed to them, but that you have not hitherto seen fit to take the public into your confidence and frankly say where you are.

You are now much like the wooden men sometimes seen before the tobacco stores, with two faces, one looking up the street and the other looking down.

I don't like a political "trimmer." I like to see a candidate boldly say what he believes and what he intends to do.

I know that your friends make much of your social and religious standing.

They say: "Mr. Rankin is church member, his father is a Presbyterian minister, and he would no more support a measure like that Governor Abbett withheld his signature from last winter than he would receive a bribe."

Well, then, why don't you say so to the public?

It is said that you are basing your refusal to declare your attitude on this question on your dignity.

O fudge! Mr. Mayor! You are after votes.

They say "It is an insult to ask Mr. Rankin to make a pledge on this subject, as it would be to demand a pledge that he would not accept a bribe." But in your letter you intimate that the race track question is an open question and that you wish to hear it debated before deciding upon its merits. So, then, at one time you think that voting to legalize book-making is like taking a bribe, and at another you are not certain whether you would vote for it or not. Aren't you trying Blondin's business here of walking a very slender tight rope?

What I think Republican voters want is an explicit answer from you to these questions: First, what do you personally think of that race track measure? and second, how do you propose to vote upon it in the Legislature? Here is a distinct issue. Unless I am mistaken scores of loyal Republicans will vote against you unless you choose to answer the above inquiries.

I have known you personally for ten years, and have always voted the Republican ticket, but before I vote for you next Tuesday I wish to know what your political creed is. What is your answer, Mr. Mayor, to the above questions?

GEORGE F. GREENE,
Cranford, N. J.

Mr. Balfour's Movements.

CORK, Oct. 31.—Chief Secretary Balfour and party visited the villages of Omay Island and completed their trip at Clifden, a proposed terminus of the new railroad. Here Mr. Balfour addressed an audience of 200 persons. After having been everywhere accorded a respectful reception by the people the party returned to Kilmare.

Hanged Himself in the Woods.

CARLSTADT, N. J., Oct. 31.—The dead body of Henry Holz, a wood carver, was found hanging to a tree in the woods near here. Holz had fastened the rope around his neck, then climbed the tree, crept out on the overhanging limb, tied the other end of the rope securely to the limb and jumped off.

Every City Interested.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—A decision has been rendered by Judge Gresham that involves nearly every city in the country. He has decided that the Indianapolis owners of the patent fire alarm gong device in common use by city fire departments throughout the country have cause for recovery of damages, where the alarm has been used without their permission. The patent is in the automatic feature of the alarm gong which at the time the alarm is given releases the horses from their stables.

State Board of Trade.

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—A State Board of Trade was formed here by the business associations of Massachusetts at a meeting of 99 delegates representing 33 associations. Charles E. Adams of Lowell was elected president.

A Political Leader Injured.

MT. CARMEL, Pa., Oct. 31.—Hugh McDonald of this place, well known throughout the entire country as a political leader, was struck by a Reading train last night and fatally injured.

Defeated Harvard's Champion.

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—S. T. Chase, the winner of the fall lawn tennis tournament at Harvard College, played Hugh Tallant, the present college champion, defeating him in three straight sets, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2.

The Comte de Paris Back.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The Comte de Paris returned to New York last night with his son, the Duc d'Orleans, and the members of his suite.

Burned by Molten Metal.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Oct. 31.—A large vessel in the converting department of the Bethlehem Iron Company, containing molten metal, tilted over and horribly burned Michael Dugan, who cannot recover. Osborn Crissman, William Souders, Louis Boyer and Augustus Schmick were seriously burned.

Shot His Eight-Year-Old Brother.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—John A. V. Anido, aged 15 years, shot and fatally wounded his younger brother, William L. Anido, aged 8 years, at their parents' home, 994 Park avenue. The boy says he did not know the revolver was loaded. He was locked up at the police station.

Snow Hurts the Grape Crop.

DUNKIRK, N. Y., Oct. 31.—About half an inch of snow fell here during the morning. This is particularly hard on the farmers back from the lake shore, as hundreds of tons of grapes are yet to be picked.

Another Case of Leprosy.

CHESTER, Pa., Oct. 31.—John Andersen, a Swede, was sent yesterday to the County Almshouse Hospital at Lima, near here, as a leper.

Woman's Modesty.

Many women are prevented by feelings of delicacy from consulting a physician in those disorders of her peculiarly delicate organism, and the most serious results are often caused by this neglect. To such persons Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is an especial boon as it offers a sure and safe cure for all those distressing disorders to which women are peculiarly subject, while it saves a modest girl or woman from the embarrassment of a personal consultation with a physician. "Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. See guarantee on bottle wrapper.

The Rev. Dr. E. M. Rodman, rector of Grace Episcopal church, is one of the Plainfield clergymen who signed the war note against race track gambling that was read in all the pulpits in Union county, Sunday the 19th inst. Count his vote therefore for the Hon. Fred. C. Marsh, and also the votes of Dr. Hurlbut, Dr. Lewis and the Revs. Schenck, Taylor, Dilts, Goodrich, Simpson, and Leonard it is just to suppose.

The first letter Gov. Abbott received petitioning him to veto the bill legalizing pool-selling at race tracks, was from the Hon. Fred. C. Marsh, and written on his sick bed. Will you vote for him or for Mr. Rankin who refuses to pledge himself or say a word against the race track gamblers? Remember also, Mr. Rankin's vote was the vote that granted the license to sell liquor on the race track.

SHALL GAMBLING ON RACE TRACKS BE LEGALIZED?

"THE PEOPLE HAVE A RIGHT TO CLEAR, POSITIVE AND UNEQUIVOCAL ANSWERS."—Elizabeth Daily Journal, Oct. 25, '90.

Read For Yourself and See Which of the Following Two Fills the Bill:

MR. MARSH'S POSITION.

ELIZABETH, N. J., October 30, 1890.

To the Rev. D. J. Yerkes, D. D., Pastor First Baptist church, Plainfield.

The Rev. E. M. Rodman, D. D., Pastor Grace church, Plainfield.

The Rev. W. R. Richards, Pastor Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, Plainfield.

The Rev. Everard Kempshall, D. D., Pastor First Presbyterian church, Elizabeth.

The Rev. Everett T. Tomlison, Ph. D., Pastor Central Baptist church, Elizabeth, and others:

Gentlemen:—

I believe that it is the duty of a candidate for the Legislature, when asked to give his views upon any question affecting the material or moral interests of the people he desires to represent, to honestly and frankly comply with the request.

If it is a clear case he can say that he is for or against the legislation proposed. If it is a doubtful case he can say that he will keep his mind open upon the question until he has heard both sides and then give his decision.

You and those whom you represent rightly desire to know how the candidates for Senator stand upon the bill passed by the last Legislature, known as the bill to legalize pool-selling and book-making on race tracks.

I do not need to listen to any debate upon this question. I have a clear and distinct opinion regarding it, and my record is already made. I opposed and voted against the bill when it was before the House of Assembly, and after it had passed I wrote to the Governor requesting him not to sign it. I was clear as to my duty then and am equally clear as to my duty now.

I am unalterably opposed to any measure which seeks to legalize pool-selling and book-making on race tracks in the State of New Jersey. I am controlled in this matter by my judgment and conscience, and I must continue to oppose any such legislation, no matter how such opposition may affect my personal fortunes.

I am, with great respect,
Yours very truly,
FREDERICK C. MARSH.

MR. RANKIN'S POSITION.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Oct. 24.

To the Editor of the Journal:

DEAR SIR—I am in receipt of several letters from clergymen in different parts of the county asking me for an expression of my views about race track legislation. The active interest recently taken by the clergymen of the community in matters of public concern, and their efforts to promote good order and respect for law are sure to create a wholesome influence on the electors.

With regard to this matter, there seems to be a somewhat persistent effort on the part of my adversaries to misrepresent and injure me in my candidacy.

The report that I have been identified with those favoring legislation legalizing gambling on the race tracks is utterly false. It comes from political enemies whose sole object in circulating the same is to attain their own selfish end in the election of their candidates.

It is my settled conviction that no candidate for legislative office should, in advance, tie his hands by any pledges with respect to his action upon any particular measure. And however unfavorably impressed with any bill that may come up for his action, I think his duty is to listen to debate, to hear the bill read, as provided by the constitution, and then give his decision.

I have been eight times elected to public office in the city of Elizabeth, and I have yet to make the first pledge or promise to any individual as to what my action would be. So in the present contest, I am absolutely without engagements either expressed or implied, with any individual or corporation, as to what my action shall be with respect to the race courses or any other matter.

The only pledge I will make is that I will, on every measure, act conscientiously, without fear or favor, and will give my vote in the manner that will seem best calculated to promote the moral and material advancement of the people of the county.

Very respectfully,
JOHN C. RANKIN, JR.

The "Central Times" Less Honest Than it Was.

Mr. Geissenhainer answered to the roll call 218 times, but where, oh where was he when the clerk struggled with that wealth of vowels 241 times? This is the record of the roll book.—Central Times.

That is not the record of the roll book, brother. It is merely a campaign lie that all the Republican mocking-bird editors are repeating. There were only 367 roll calls. At six of these Mr. Geissenhainer was absent on account of sickness and while attending Governor Abbett's inauguration. At 60 roll calls he refrained with his party from voting on obnoxious party questions. The record shows that he was paired at different times with Republicans who were necessarily absent, but when so paired, (although present and working faithfully for his District before the River and Harbor Committee, the Pension Committee and in the thousand-and one ways that so many of his constituents have reason to know about and be proud of), he was in honor bound to refrain from voting. Brother Runyon make a careful and truthful examination and find, if possible, a single member from New Jersey, Republican or Democrat, who was present as much of the time attending faithfully to his duties as was your own representative, Mr. Geissenhainer. He was present and voted on every important measure before the House and on every bill affecting his District.

Three Churches and Five Saloons.

George Kyte is nominated for Assemblyman in this district which has a majority of about 600 in his favor. There is therefore no doubt of his election in spite of the following facts:

Fanwood township has three churches and five saloons. Liquor licenses are granted by the township committee which consists of three Republicans of whom Mr. Kyte is the chairman. Mr. Kyte says that he will grant all applications for license that come to him in proper shape.

Now some readers will say—"But in spite of the 600 majority in his favor, Mr. Kyte will not be elected because the temperance people will not vote for a man who is responsible for five liquor saloons in his little township of only three churches."

You poor misguided child! Temperance people are no more holy nor honest than other politicians when the time comes to vote.

—William E. Lowe's coachman, Charles Barber, was kicked in the face by a horse, Wednesday. Some of Barber's back teeth were loosened and had to be taken out. Otherwise he escaped very fortunately.

—THE PRESS is authorized to say that the sentiments expressed by the Hon. Fred C. Marsh in his letter published in this issue, are warmly approved and endorsed by Alford B. Cook the Democratic candidate for the Assembly.

ALVAH CLARK FOR KEYS.

He Will Not Desert His Party for His Partner.

(From the New York World.)

The farmers in Somerset are slowly realizing how the new Tariff law affects them, and the conclusion thousands of them have arrived at and openly expressed bodes no good to the Republican party.

Gov. Abbett addressed a meeting in Somerset Hall, Somerville, Wednesday night. Fully a thousand people were present and for over an hour and half followed the convincing arguments of the Governor as step by step he dissected the McKinley tariff and proved that it was a disastrous blow directed at the agricultural interests of the county.

The meeting was one of the most enthusiastic Democratic gatherings that the town has ever known. Alvah A. Clark presided and made a graceful speech, in which he assured the Democrats that he was heart and soul with them, and pledged his support and influence to William J. Keys, the candidate for Senator.

Mr. Clark's speech pleased the Democrats because it gave the assurance that the ex-Congressman would work for his party notwithstanding the fact that his son-in-law and law partner, Charles Reed, is the Republican candidate for Senator against Mr. Keys. There were speeches also by ex-Assemblyman George Place and Mr. Rickard, of Jersey City.

Mr. Keys is making a most stirring canvass for the Senatorship, and there is no longer any doubt of his election. The Republicans realize that they are practically out of the race, and they simply keep up appearances by sending their candidates around like commercial travellers to solicit votes.

Mr. Reed's recent reception in North Plainfield was anything but cordial. His appearance there recalled the failure of a big builder in that town last Winter, for whom Mr. Reed was counsel. Instead of relieving the needs of the many workmen to whom he owed money, the builder made an assignment in favor of a rich merchant, and the poor laborers had to wait a long time for their just dues. Mr. Reed was the adviser of the builder, and the workmen of the town have given him to understand that they will remember his friendship for the laboring class, at the polls next Tuesday.

—Rogers Bros. will give away sheet music to every lady customer to-morrow.

—Rally over the brook to-night. The Democratic candidates will be present and a number of illustrious speakers. Go and see Wm. Keys, the nominee for Senator. You'll like him.

The Presbyterian Synod of New Jersey recently unanimously decided to protest and vote against any Assemblyman or Senator nominated who would not pledge himself decidedly against all legislation to permit or protect race track gamblers. Consequently the Rev. Dr. Ketcham's and the Rev. Mr. Richards' people will understand that their two votes will not be cast for Mr. Rankin.

Bromoform in Whooping Cough.

Dr. Hugo Lowenthal, of Prof. Senator's clinic in Berlin, has tried bromoform in the treatment of whooping cough, it having been recommended by Dr. Stepp, of Nurnberg, and he is disposed to agree with him in considering it a very valuable remedy. Dr. Lowenthal says that it exerts an almost specific action upon whooping cough, at all events, if it is used at the commencement. A hundred children were treated with it, varying in age from eight weeks to seven years. The doses given were from two to five drops three or four times a day. The liquid was simply dropped into a tablespoonful of water, and formed a bead floating in the water. The quantity dispensed at once was about a drachm. The parents were cautioned to keep the bromoform from the light, as otherwise it is liable to be decomposed. As a rule, the good effects of the medicine began to show themselves on the second or third day, the vomiting being arrested within a week after the commencement of the bromoform. In cases where complications, such as pneumonia, occurred, they ran a favorable course, and where there were relapses, a return to the bromoform soon arrested the symptoms. In a very few cases the drug appeared to produce sleepiness and lassitude, and in one case, that of a weekly child a little over a year old, where a drachm had been given in the course of three days, a semicomatose condition was induced. Subcutaneous injections of ether revived the child, who was found to have pneumonia. This, however, ran a rapid and favorable course, and afterward the whooping cough was successfully treated by renewed doses of bromoform.—Lancet.

Poison in Food Plants.

Dr. Harris, in a paper read before the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society recently, called attention to the fact that some of the most valuable productions, like the white potato, the tomato and the egg-plant, are the results of development in a family which produces the tobacco, the Jamestown weed and the deadly nightshade; and still more singular is it that edible innocence in a product may be intimately associated with a poisonous element in the plant. Starch-yielding tubers may even be in themselves an association of simplicity and venom, as we find in the cassava, from which tapioca is obtained, the soluble elements of the tuber being poisonous, and the insoluble starch edible. In the white potato we have a solanum which has poisonous sprouts and fruit, with a valuable and innocent tuber or subterranean root-stock. The poison, solania, is found in the white sprouts of the tuber and in the green seed ball or fruit, but not in the tuber as prepared by boiling or roasting. Solania is not a powerful poison, and is one of very uncertain strength; still, death has been produced in childhood by eating the balls. Very young tubers and old sprouted ones are unwholesome food, for these contain a fraction of the poison. The tomato plant contains solania, while the fruit, which has the same unpleasant odor, is free from it. Three deadly poisons, among the most potent of all active vegetable principles, are obtained from some of the solanacea—namely, nicotia, from tobacco; dataria, from stramonium, and atropia from belladonna. One drop of pure nicotia will kill a large dog in a few minutes, and the other two are fatal in minute quantities.

The Consumption of Salt.

According to some statistics recently published in France, the annual consumption of salt per head in England exceeds that of any other country in Europe. For while in France the amount is estimated at about thirty pounds, Italy twenty, Russia eighteen, Austria sixteen, Prussia fourteen, Spain twelve, Switzerland eight, the Englishman requires no less than forty pounds. The Hospital Gazette thinks that perhaps this is the secret of British thirst. If so, it offers an easy solution to the drink question, which the temperance party should not be slow in adopting.—N. Y. Medical Record.

[The large consumption of salt in England is due to the extensive manufacture of soda, bleaching powders, etc., which are made from salt.—Ed. S. A.]

Snakes in Banana Bunches.

Banana bunches brought from tropical America sometimes contain snakes of the family Boidæ tightly wound round the central stem. A specimen of this kind was taken in Savannah, Ga., and was sent the United States National Museum. I identified it as the Epicrates augulifer, a native of Cuba. More recently a snake was found in a similar situation in a lot of bananas in Chicago, and was sent by Dr. J. L. Hancock to the National Museum. Dr. Stejneger has identified it as the Boa imperator, the common species of Central America and Mexico. The specimens are always young, as adult boas of the genera named could not be concealed in so small a space.—E. D. Cope.

A Paste Which Will Stick Any Thing.

A paste which will stick any thing is said by Prof. Winchell to be made as follows: Take two ounces of clear gum arabic, one and a half ounces of fine starch, and half an ounce of white sugar. Disolve the gum arabic in as much water as the laundress would use for the quantity of starch indicated. Mix the starch and sugar with the mucilage. Then cook the mixture in a vessel suspended in boiling water until the starch becomes clear. The cement should be as thick as tar, and kept so. It can be kept from spoiling by the addition of camphor or a little oil of cloves.

The Rev. Dr. Yerkes, of this city, at the Baptist convention in Camden, yesterday, was chairman of a committee to protest in the name of 38,000 Baptists of New Jersey against the re-enactment of the laws to legalize pool-selling and book-making. So his congregation will know that he votes for the Hon. Fred. C. Marsh who has already gone through one fight on just that side.

LOVE IN A FLAT.

The Thin Young Man and the Shapely Young Woman.

If history simply repeats itself one can not help having a faint suspicion that the old mound-dwellers are having some sort of repetition in the blocks of modern New York flat houses, of the type which is multiplying so rapidly in the hitherto empty and rock bound streets of upper New York. Two series of box-like rooms constitute two flats for each floor, and thus a block of ten houses within their five stories shelters one hundred families. To watch for a few minutes daily from an opposite window the curious characteristics of such a throng of neighbors grows to be a fascinating occupation. A Tribune reporter has been studying incidents through open windows lately, and here are some of the results.

The young woman on the top floor opposite seemed extremely agitated. She hung a large portion of her rather shapely form dangerously far out of the window, until the on-lookers would have been alarmed had they not been convinced that somewhere within the room a pair of pedal anchors were securely holding fast. She looking anxiously up the street and down in a way significant of some one's coming, a waiting and watching that was soon rewarded by the appearance of a tall, thin young man on the horizon. The marvelous occurrences that followed the advent of the tall, thin young man in the parlor of the top flat, beginning with a series of torpedo-like kisses and the sudden disappearance of gas-light, defy description.

In about three minutes the tall, thin young man and his hostess appeared at the window. They thoughtfully provided against wear and tear on the furniture by using only one chair.

"Awfully glad to see you," he said, giving the other occupant of the chair an athletic hug.

"You sassy thing!" she screamed.

The thin young man disregarded this remark by administering another large hug, followed by a series of little tremor hugs and ten or a dozen pop kisses.

"Go 'way!"

"I won't."

Four toy-pistol kisses.

"I like your sass."

"I know you do."

At this juncture there was a dive and a jump, the external symptoms of a pinching match.

"O-o-ch!"

"Never do it again?"

"Never!" Bang, bang, depreciating into the long rattle of kissing musketry. The opportune arrival of a thunderstorm at this point compelled the shutting of windows, and incidents in the parlor of the top-floor flat no longer engrossed the attention of the opposite community.

WONDERS OF THE SEA.

THE cuttle-fish, which, among other strange things, always walks with its head downward, does not chew its food at all, but masticates with its gizzard.

LATE investigations have determined that the majority of deep-sea depressions come from other than volcanic origin, and that the coldest waters of the ocean stand in the deep troughs instead of running, as was formerly thought to be the case.

AN interesting fact just ascertained by Government observers is that at the extremities of Long Island sound the tide begins to flow inward near the bottom one and one-half hours before it begins to flow in the same direction at the surface of the water.

THE experiments of marine biologists in fishing up the dwellers of the deep by the aid of the electric light have shown that the light may be used in ordinary commercial fishing with profit. If an electric light is lowered into the sea inside a tow net more fish than would naturally be taken are attracted into its meshes.

AMONG the exhibits in the Edinburgh International Exhibition are some beautiful spoils of the sea, collected by the Eastern Telegraph Company. One of these, a specimen of hyalonema sieboldii, is particularly interesting. It was dredged from 1,500 fathoms in the Indian Ocean, and consists of the root or anchor by which the sponge fastened itself to the bed of the ocean. It is twenty-eight inches long, and it is believed to be the longest specimen hitherto secured.

SUBMARINE life, such as fish, lobsters, etc., have the habit at the very first apprehension of danger of darting rapidly away and of stopping equally quick. They seem to understand that a very few yards will get them beyond the vision of their enemy. The shading of the water varies from blue to greenish. Objects at a depth of thirty feet take a blue tinge, and at from seventy-five to ninety feet the light is such a deep blue that objects of a red shade appear black. The fact of the blue rays of light penetrating so much further than those of any other color renders it possible to bring photography to aid the submarine explorer in his investigation as to the real depth that light does succeed in making its way.

THE deep sea is full of wonders. There are fish living two thousand six hundred fathoms down, some blind, others almost eyeless, which are so compressed from the weight of the water that when brought to the surface their bodies expand. Three miles down there is no light and no change of temperature. Being no light there is no vegetable growth, and the fish feed on each other—at least so many of them as have teeth probably do so. Those without teeth, no doubt, feed on animalculæ. From Prof. Tait's experiments it seems that at a depth of six miles the sea is compressed about six hundred and twenty feet. May this compression long continue; for should it cease something like two million square miles would be inundated.

WE ARE SURE

This Will Be of Interest to You ALL.

During the past week we have added largely to our higher grades of shoes.

Men's shoes, made by Hathaway, Soule and Harrington, strictly hand made; they are the best shoe that can be made; we don't care how much you pay for others.

In Ladies' we have put in a line of E. C. Burt's welts, and Holbrook & Co., Lounsbury, Mathewson & Co's. fine shoes; and in Children's and Misses we have got the best that can be found, including some of the manufacturers. We have them in St. Goat, French Dongola, with or without welts.

And here is something for School shoes that New York people are advertising so strongly: It is made of calf-skin—made to imitate kangaroo, and has a protection welt. If you will come in and let us show you this shoe, we can explain it to you better. It is something altogether new; you have never seen it before. We will guarantee it to wear longer than any shoe you ever bought for your child; you should buy this shoe by all means, as it is impervious to water.

A FEW THOUGHTS.

I think a disposition that is happy and resigned
Adds greatly to the comfort and the health of human kind.
I think a sour temper or a bosom filled with spite
Brings trouble, and puts every sign of happiness to flight.
I think no individual, however high his station,
E'er gained the praise of worthy men by vice and dissipation.
I think no dainty dandy, ladies' favors suing,
E'er added perfume to his breath by smoking or by chewing.
I think that wicked cunning never met with much success.
I think if swindlers suffered more their number would be less.
I think if meddling gossips would cease to spy and talk,
That lawyers would be fewer and courts would have less work.
I think that many doctors would better blacksmiths make.
I think that clerks who gamble have more than gold at stake.
I think a man who marries, if he gets a proper mate,
Secures a fortune, though the bride may own no real estate.
I think if certain folks would let some other folks alone,
They'd find more leisure to attend to business of their own.
I think when stingy rich men chance from fortune's height to tumble,
And meet with little sympathy, they have no right to grumble.
I think that many ministers, renowned for fluent speech,
Would more consistent be if they would practice what they preach.
I think that true religion, when the tempter tries his art,
Throws a shield of triple power around the wavering heart.
I think that every soul that sins will meet with suffering,
Whether that soul belongeth to a peasant or a king.
I think all grades of people, from the monarch to the slave,
Are fashioned from one common clay, and equal in the grave.
—Francis S. Smith, in N. Y. Weekly.

A HARD FIGHT.

The Way a Plucky Girl Saved Her Brother's Life.

THE country around Limona, South Florida, is the hunter's paradise, says a correspondent in the Globe Democrat. Besides bear, panther, wildcats, deer, etc., there are 'gators by the million, plumage birds, etc., in quantity so that the most insatiable nimrod can be almost surfeited by sport in a month's stay here. Many times, though, the hunted turn hunters, and then the fun isn't quite so enjoyable—at least on the part of the "game." Then, too, in these wilds there is a species of wild hog that at times makes the hunter's life a misery, as they are savage and know no fear. These are the remains of droves of domestic hogs that used to be turned into these high hummocks to fatten. Many times scores would not be found at the branding time, and, from their long stay in these woods, large droves finally became wild and savage. Many narrow escapes have been reported from time to time, and many of the old settlers who were hunters have scars to show of the ferocity of these savage boars. The most exciting adventure of late years is one that happened some months ago, and it was related to the writer a few days after.

Down by Snake Bayou, some eight miles below here, lived a family named Herrickson, consisting of a father, mother, son, aged ten, and two daughters, aged twelve and sixteen. When in want of supplies the father and mother generally came up here in a team, leaving the younger ones to watch things at home. At this time the old folks started as usual, leaving the girls and boy at home. The latter in the middle of the forenoon took his gun, and, with his dog, went out hunting. An hour later the girls were startled by hearing the dog barking furiously and the loud shouts of their brother for help. Taking down a light shotgun, the eldest girl ran out at once, while the other, seizing a small hatchet, followed. Soon they approached the dense woods where they heard their brother's voice. He heard them coming and shouted out for them to be careful, as there was a drove of wild hogs after him. The dog heard them, too, and ran out to meet them, which brought out a half-dozen wild and savage boars in swift pursuit. These no sooner saw the girls approaching than they ran at them, grunting horribly and rasping their fierce jaws till the froth fell to the ground in great clots.

Mattie fired her shotgun at the leader, then turned and ran for the house.

SHE PUSHED THE GUN INTO ITS MOUTH.

The younger sister turned, too, and ran after her. As they approached the house the young girl slipped and fell right in the path of the pursuing beasts. She screamed frantically as she fell, and Mattie half turned to see what the trouble was. The sight froze her blood, and, as she said afterwards, she didn't know what to do, and felt as if turned into stone. The girl in falling fell over a sharp pine root, which penetrated her dress and pinned her to the ground. Close beside her was a big boar, its fierce eyes gleaming with rage and anger, its open mouth, with its hideous tusks, champing and raging. Close behind was another, also fierce in its aspect, but smaller in size. Mattie moved not until another scream for help from her poor sister roused her sinking energies. Then with a rush and a jump she placed herself in front of the savage animal. The dog, too, sprang at the boar and buried its teeth in its thick neck. The boar, though surprised for a moment, turned savagely, and with a thrust laid open the poor dog's side with a terrible gash from its tusks. With an angry shake of the head the beast then turned on its victim. As it approached Mattie bravely met it, and as its horrible jaws opened to grasp her dress, pushed the barrel of her gun into its open mouth and fired, sending the remaining charge into the boar's inside. He fell at once with a squeal of pain and ferocity that made the brave girl's flesh creep.

The other one, seeing the fall of its leader, hesitated a moment and then sprang forward. Mattie seized the hatchet that her sister had had, and aimed a blow at the beast. The latter dodged and the hatchet fell from her hand, falling far out of her reach, while the violence of the blow caused her to fall over in front of the hog. The latter champing its jaws till the froth stood all over its head, presenting a horrible picture to the poor girls, lowered its head and charged on them. It came up and seized her dress savagely, and tried to catch her leg in its mouth. Mattie, nerved to desperation, gave it a kick with all her power, hitting it in the tender portion of the throat. The boar drew back a second and this proved her salvation. As she lay on the ground her hands encountered a pine knot (dead wood), hard and sharp as iron. With every nerve exerted she sprang up and flung it straight in the boar's face. Happily it struck him across the eyes, blinding both temporarily, and he stood and champed for a second or two, turning in a circle and raising a big dust.

Mattie turned, and, catching up her sister, ran for the house. The boar, hearing her run off, started in pursuit, grunting and rasping its tusks in a manner to make the girl's heart turn cold. It was a race for life, and the girl's pluck won. Entering the house in advance of her foe, she shut the door and fastened it as the boar came rushing up against it. The girls fell to the floor and for several minutes could not raise themselves. But frontier life had made them brave and self-possessed in time of danger, and the recollection of the peril that their brother was in soon roused them. Glancing around for a weapon the sight of a kettle full of hot water caught Mattie's eye. Procuring a good supply she mounted the window-sill in the loft, right over the still raging boar on the outside, and as he looked up, being attracted by the noise she made, the nervy girl gave him a big dose of water in the eyes and face. All the ferocity was knocked out of the beast by this attack, and, with a loud squeal, it turned tail and fled.

Two others now came up, attracted by their companion's cries, and they, too, received a dose. This put them to flight.

After waiting some time and not hearing from any more of them, Mattie ventured forth. Proceeding cautiously to the spot where she lost her shotgun, she found it and loaded both barrels. Then, cautiously approaching the spot where her brother's voice had been heard, she soon found him. He was on a stump about ten feet high, and around him were half a score of savage grunters, their fierce eyes fixed on him, at times charging up savagely to the foot of the stump in impotent rage. The boy looked as if he rather had as much of it as he wanted, and Mattie, first securing her own safety by getting up on another stump, opened fire on the hogs. The first shot startled them, and as the second came, laying low another of their party, the others became panic-stricken and fled at once. Mattie and the boy then returned to the cabin at once, and took good care not to venture out again until their parents had returned. The boy said that as he was going along he saw this drove ahead of him, and, without thinking, shot at and wounded one of them. The others turned on him, and he had only time to get on the stump before they had surrounded him.

When the old folks returned their amazement was great to hear of their daughter's bravery. The neighbors made a heroine of her at once. A hunting party started out the following day to rid the neighborhood of such dangerous "critters," and they bagged some eighteen.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

HOME-MADE HAT-RACK.

It Is Pretty and Serviceable and Also Inexpensive.

I had a long narrow hall, and how to make room for the belongings that are almost a necessity in such a room was a puzzle to me. It was too narrow to permit me to use the hall-racks that are usually sold in shops. Finally I planned and made one that has been copied extensively. It may be as large, ornamental and expensive as fancy dictates or purse permits. Mine is thirty-four inches across the top. A gilt hook is screwed to each of the upper points and one to the center at the bottom. They are sold at ten cents per dozen at the stores. These are hung over similar ones, put in the studding at the proper height. Two or three boards must be glued together to shape the rack. Give plenty of time to dry and become perfectly hard. Have the surface dressed smoothly on each side. The illustration shows the form.

PRETTY HAT-RACK.

Wardrobe hooks are screwed in at the places indicated and a mirror twelve inches square is set in the center. The outer edges are beveled one inch. The whole is sandpapered and filled on both sides with a preparation called "wood-filling" that makes a solid, smooth surface. When dry give a number of coats of common white house-paint, the more the better; but allow each to dry and dress with sandpaper between each coat. Then paint any decorative design; flowers, or a flight of birds against the blue sky; a river scene with sky and hills in the distance, with roeds, rocks and grasses and water-fowl in the foreground. Directly under the rack on the floor is an ordinary drain tile, the end placed in a tin pan a little larger than the tile. This I painted inside and out, and after it was dry gilded the outside of the rim and also the top edge of the tile and an inch band near the top. The body may be decorated in any desired style. When done I set the tile in the pan and placed a large cheap sponge in the bottom to absorb the drippings from wet umbrellas, etc. This may be set upon blocks of different sizes so arranged as to make terraces or steps, and painted to represent white marble or stone. The entire cost is not one-third the price of a hall-rack bought from the furniture store; besides, it is out of the way in sweeping and occupies no space. One can easily be designed to fill a corner space by the joining of the boards in the proper way.—American Agriculturist.

DRESSING THE CHILDREN.

It Is a Matter That Interests Every Young Mother.

The fall is the season of the year when the greatest care should be exercised in clothing our little ones.

These October days with their fickle suns and penetrating winds are well adapted to the generation of colds, sore throats and other ailments that, once contracted, may linger throughout the winter. The feet must be well protected. Paper-soled shoes are not best for girls or boys at any season of the year. Neither are the heavy double soles. The latter style tires the feet and does much toward giving the wearer a heavy, disagreeable step. But there is a compromise between these two extremes.

It is a shoe made of Dongola for the top and foxed with straight goat. The sole is the thickness of the ladies' walking boot and it has a spring heel. The latter is something all mothers would do well to adopt. It prevents weak ankles and strengthens the muscles of the lower limb. Children should be kept in these flat-soled boots up to the age of thirteen or fourteen.

The children's dresses this fall are unusually beautiful.

The prevailing fashion seems still to be full skirts plaited on short waists with loose sleeves and sash belt.

Plaids are very popular and come in all colors and a variety of styles. Let us begin at the foundation of a child's wardrobe and consider what is the most sensible, yet inexpensive, apparel that a child can wear.

First of all comes the undervest. It is of ribbed stockinet, high about the neck, but sleeveless; for, until really cold weather is here, the long-sleeved vests are not a necessity. Nor should under-drawers be put on till the winter months. Select instead wool stockings with cotton feet. The all-wool stockings are often productive of chilblains, but this new kind of hose is a very good one.

There is one thing that one should be particular about, and that is the garter. Do not under any circumstances give a child the round garter. It not only spoils the shape of the leg, but oftentimes is worn so tight as to impair the circulation of the blood, which in time will lead to serious difficulties. The stocking supporter is the safest and best method of holding the stocking in place. Almost every mother is familiar with it. It is a piece of elastic fastened at the side of the underwaist and catching with a buckle into the top of the stocking. It not only holds the stocking most securely, but has a tendency to straighten the back of the child, who at an early age inclines to stoop.

A corset waist is undeniably a good thing. It takes the place of the boned waist, and can be laundered beautifully. The idea of this waist, which is of linen, heavily corded, is to keep the weight of the child's clothes from the back and hips. There are buttons woven with tape into the waist, so that to pull them off is almost an impossibility. These buttons are for fastening the skirts and under petticoats on. Very pretty flannel skirts can be bought. They are of blue and white worsted, hand-crocheted in the shell pattern. These take the place of the short flannel skirt and are much prettier and wear better.

Alpaca is so soft and silky that a skirt of it is very pretty and will be most serviceable for fall wear.

A tasteful frock is a combination of blue tricot and red and blue plaid. It is made exactly after a cut of an imported frock I was fortunate enough to secure. The skirt is full and of the plaid material, with a plaited front of the plain blue cloth.

The waist is made of blue, with the plaid laid in little plaits in the shoulder seams and gathered into the band at the waist.

Both the back and the front of the waist are finished in this way and the effect is very pretty. The sleeves are loose and fall from the shoulders into a band of plain blue at the wrists. Such a dress is very inexpensive, but quite attractive and artistic.

Dressing children has really become an art.

The latest thing in cloaks for fall wear is a little reefing-jacket in dark blue. It is of the fleece-lined Bedford cloth, made double-breasted and edged with a silk cord of white and blue. The collar can be turned up about the ears, and is lined with white Astrakhan. The cuffs are also of that and the buttons, of white pearl, are sewed through and through. It is a very stunning little coat and just exactly what is needed for fall.

A simple blue sailor is prettier for a young girl than a plain round hat. The sailor hats, in felt and tarpaulins, are more popular for school girls than any other style.

A fascinating school-bag is made of strong burlaps with a colored border of red, blue and brown. This burlaps is about fifteen inches in length and nine inches in width, and forms the body of the bag. On one side is the monogram and on the other, worked in dark-red silk, is a conventional design. The bag is lined with dark-blue surah and the handles are of leather. There is a very convenient little pocket sewed to the lining, which may be used for car-fare and stamps.—N. Y. World.

TWO USEFUL ARTICLES.

An Umbrella Case and a Writing Board—Any One Can Make Them.

The cuts accompanying this article represent two very valuable conveniences that can easily be made at home. No. 1 is a hanging case for umbrellas, canes or parasols. Make it of an oblong square of duck, linen, canvas or cretonne. If the material is very stiff no lining will be necessary, but if not sufficiently heavy to hang smoothly and hold the strain, line it, after you have made the pockets with something stiff. Cut your three pockets long and large enough for the umbrellas you have, and bind them round with fancy colored

Baste the pockets to the foundation, slightly gathering them at the bottoms, and stitch them on by machine along the edge of the braid. Stitch the same style of braid all round for a border, sewing the lining to the foundation with it, if there is one. Ornament with two handsome ribbon bows, and provide with two cord loops behind the bows, to hang up by.

Fig. 2 represents a neat little writing board which was invented by a young French lady, for an invalid's use. It consists of a plain, smooth board about thirteen by twenty-four inches. Cover it neatly with a piece of dark blue or green ladies' cloth, flannel or baize, on both sides, lapping the edges of both covers on the width of the board, and fastening them with small, brass-headed tacks. A blotting pad is kept in place by the four little corner pieces noticeable, which may be either of cloth or leather, tacked on by small brass-headed tacks. The other various pockets are also made either of leather or cloth, tacked on, and may be cut in size and shape according to the judgment of the maker, for holding envelopes, note paper, stamps, etc. The small ink-bottle is secured by means of straps of cloth or leather, and the pen-wiper may also be made fast. A strip of leather is tacked down to hold the pen, pencil, knife, etc., and thus a pretty, convenient and inexpensive writing board is completed, which any invalid could use either if able to sit in a chair or compelled to lie on a couch.—Ohio Farmer.

"OH, IF MOTHER WERE ONLY ALIVE!"

All through life she has known a mother's watchful care. She now is a young mother, and gains strength but slowly. She would "give worlds" to do everything for her precious baby, but cannot; the doctor is so strict, and does not sympathize with her, "as mother always did."

That baby has unfolded in the young mother's heart, new emotions. She has a living responsibility, and requires strength to enable her to perform a loving duty. At such a time, too much care cannot be taken, and the Vegetable Compound is indispensable.
